BAPTISTS OF 5 COUNTIES PLAN BIG MEETING

ELLSVILLE, April 27.—The first Baptist church here will convene a joint meeting of the churches of Young and Cisco Baptist associations at a workers' convention to be held May 6-7, according to Rev. Sam Malone, pastor of the local church.

Eastland county of the meeting will be held Thursday evening, May 6, at 8 o'clock, which will feature the church's Brotherhood work of the two associations. The main speakers in the program will be Rev. Malone, 9 o'clock, at which time the pastors and laymen will discuss the workers' convention.

The meeting is to be held at the fishing season, which is being extended to include some early Thursday morning and spend the day at the comfortable camping site to be prepared. At noon Friday the church will endeavor to entertain the visitors with an elaborate fish fry on the banks of the Fork river. Local churches are getting their equipment ready to make the big day and to feed the large group expected.

The operating associations of the district of Throckmorton, DeWitt, Eastland and Galloway counties.

EASTLAND PASTOR SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

The speaker at the Brotherhood meeting at Cisco First Baptist church tonight, 7:30, will be Rev. W. G. Starnes, pastor of the First Baptist church of Eastland, who is said to be a very interesting speaker.

Guests of special invitation have been invited and a hearty response is expected.

Light refreshments of ice cream and coffee are to be served, according to A. E. McNeely, chairman of the department.

Presidents W. W. Fewell and Rev. Charles Waters have charge of the program this month.

RED AIR FORCE

MOSCOW, April 27.—The Red Air Force pressed a bombing offensive against German airbases and communications on the southern front today while ground forces generally remained inactive. In the Ukraine, Russian bombers scored 12 direct hits on planes at an airfield and wrecked several military trains at a station in a series of raids south of Bukovina.

THREE-STAR—Lieut. General George S. Patton, commanding American troops closing in with other Allies on Rommel in North Africa, wears three stars, insignia of his rank, on his new-type helmet.

LAMOUR TO HEAD ROTARY

Cisco Rotarians report a very successful district conference at Abilene Sunday and Monday of this week, when M. W. (Bob) Lamour of Graham was chosen district governor. Dr. Charles Charles Peckham, Abilene, was in attendance and on the program which was varied and of interest. Bob and Mrs. M. W. Lamour will be the district officers for the year.

The district program of conferences for the district Monday night in Abilene, Mo., in addition to being a district speaker as a part of the program, Cisco Rotarians report.

The conference ended Monday night with the selection of the new district governor, who is to take charge July 1 of this year.

LOTS MILK, BUT NO ICE CREAM BE HAD

FORT WORTH, April 27.—Fort Worthers are doing without ice cream these days and drinking what is called "milk shake" while a surplus supply of milk in the city is threatened by spoilage.

It is all due to a local district administration ice cream restriction order issued Feb. 1. The ice cream order cuts production to 65 per cent of last year's output. Meanwhile, the milk producing season is reaching its peak production figure and large amounts of milk are being produced. The danger of spoilage is increasing daily.

DUISBURG IS AGAIN TARGET RAF AIRMEN

LONDON, April 27.—British four-engine bombers in great strength last night pounded the river port and steel city of Duisburg in one of the heaviest raids yet made on Germany, the Air Ministry announced today.

(A British broadcast heard by the United Press in New York said the raid was the severest ever made on Germany.)

Seventeen planes were lost in the raid, the third on Germany in less than 12 hours.

SHOT 4 DAUGHTERS.

BAY CITY, Mich., April 27.—A father of six children, going berserk following a difficulty with his wife, shot and killed a 5-year-old daughter, critically wounded two other children and then shot himself fatally despite efforts of police to stop him with tear gas. A fourth daughter also was shot.

SPECTATOR—President Roosevelt, arrow, watches maneuvers at Fort Benning, Ga., during second major inspection tour. Paratroopers, infantry and tank units in mock combat used real bullets and shells.

NON-BANK TOTAL NOW $263,316

E. R. McDaniel, former Ciscoan but now a resident of Abilene and owner and agent of the Coca Cola Bottling company serving this area, has notified R. L. Ponsler, Eastland county chairman for the thirteen billion war bond drive, of war bond purchases that have been credited to Eastland county.

In Mrs. M. McDaniel and Miss Mae Belle McDaniel each purchased bonds in the sum of $3,000 and this month have bought government securities in similar amounts, the total of $20,000 being placed to the credit of this county.

As of Monday afternoon, all non-bank sales of the county totaled $263,316.53, said Mr. Ponsler, as follows:

Cisco bank, $27,822.50; Cisco postoffice, $9,164.33; Eastland bank, $62,000; Eastland postoffice, $7,500; Ranger bank and postoffice, $45,000; Gorman, total sales, $47,325; Rising Star (Sold Saturday afternoon) $53,500; Texas Electric Service Co., $12,000 (of this total, Eastland and Ranger offices contributed $5,000 each and the Gorman office, $2,000).

Eastland county's non-bank goal is $376,900.80, while the full county quota is $628,168.

COLLEGE BILL TO GOVERNOR

The Junior college bill has passed both the lower house and the senate to become a law when signed by the governor according to R. N. Clark, president of Cisco Junior college.

Senator Pat Bullock and local representatives, Omar Buckett of Eastland and L. H. Flewitt of Ranger, were leaders in the drive to put the bill through against some strong opposition, especially from the senate.

The bill renews for two years the bill passed two years ago to grant $50 per pupil as aid for junior college students in the 22 such institutions of the state.

Last year this meant about $8,200 for Cisco college, and will mean slightly less this year, since the enrollment as of last November was slightly less than the year before, that date being the basis on which the appropriation is made each year.

Mr. Clark said the college summer school will begin June 3, immediately following the close of the present session.

HURTFUL STRIKES CONTINUE

PITTSBURG, April 27.—A rash of new strikes flared in the Western Pennsylvania soft coal fields today as miners, resenting submission of their wage demands to the War Labor Board, "jumped the gun" on their 30-day truce with operators.

At least 25 captive and commercial mines employing 15,000 men were idle, cutting off thousands of tons of coal and coke needed to keep steel mills in this vital war production area in operation.

The new walkouts began in spite of an appeal by the WLB that the men remain at their jobs pending efforts to obtain a peaceful settlement of their demands.

Offsetting the new strikes somewhat was the fact that men at three other mines, which had struck yesterday, returned to their jobs today.

Hard hit by the last outbreak was the Pittsburg Coal Co., one of the world's largest commercial producers, which reported six mines employing 2,360 men down completely and two other operations partially affected.

POLES MUST PURGE

LONDON, April 27.—Britain and the United States began discussions today on means of restoring diplomatic relations between Russia and the Polish exile government, but a Moscow dispatch said only a purge of Polish anti-Soviet elements would satisfy Russia.

SAVE $3,419,540.

AUSTIN, April 27.—The house appropriations committee today reported favorably a bill calling for $19,469,540 to operate state colleges and the State University for 1944-45. The amount is $3,419,270 less than the appropriation for 1942-43.

U. S. FORCES SNAKE WAY UP ROCKY SLOPES, SEIZE MORE HILLS AS THEY NEAR MEFAH

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, April 27.—Allied armed forces advanced on all Tunisian fronts in savage fighting Monday and today, knocking out 20 more Axis tanks for a total of 80 destroyed in the drive toward the plains leading to Tunis.

The heaviest battle continued to center around Sebket-El-Kourzia, a little salt lake northwest of Pont do Fahs, where the British First Army mechanized spearhead of Churchill and Sherman tanks was wearing down the main enemy armor and had wrecked five more big Mark 6 tanks, as well as 15 smaller units.

American forces again fought their way eastward on the northern sector less than a dozen miles from the junction of Mateur, snaking their way to rocky slopes and seizing several more hills as they approached Djebel Sidi Mefah which looks down into the flat, horse-shoe-shaped plain.

The British also cleared all enemy forces from Longstop Hill, dominating the road to Tebourba and Tunis, and the French advanced on the southwestern front to take a height overlooking the Pont do Fahs junction, seizure of which would gravely endanger or collapse the entire Axis southern front.

(The German Transocean Agency reported from Berlin that the "Great Anglo-American attack against the western flank in Tunisia has failed.")

British First Army infantry captured 260 more prisoners in clearing the last Germans from Longstop Hill, a vital height six miles north of Medjez El Bab which dominates the road to Tebourba and Tunis, the latter 30 miles to the east.

Southeast of Medjez El Bab, British tanks edged forward in a bitter tank battle, into which the Germans were reported to have thrown most of their remaining armored strength.

The 2nd U. S. Army Corps, with co-operating French forces, continued to advance over difficult country within 12 miles of Mateur, 20 miles southwest of Bizerte and 33 miles northwest of Tunis.

At some points, front dispatches said, the Americans were only nine miles from Lake Garaet Achkel, which is joined to Lake Bizerte by a canal.

The main French forces, pushing rapidly in the Axis southwest flank, seized a hill overlooking Pont Du Fahs, 33 miles southwest of Tunis. Once the Allies break through the Pont Do Fahs area and cut the road to Tunis, the entire Axis southern defense position will be endangered.

The British Eighth Army gained further ground northwest of Enfidaville in its heavy assault on the Axis defenses in the Atlas Mountains some 45 miles south of Tunis.

Allied planes supporting the ground forces continued their attacks on enemy positions and airfields on a constantly increasing scale. Enemy vehicles were destroyed and large fires started. Eleven enemy planes were destroyed yesterday and two the previous night. Flying Fortresses went back into action and bombarded the Axis airfield at Grosseto in western Italy, 400 miles north of Bizerte. Direct hits were observed on airframe buildings. In night raids Sunday, Wellington bombers touched off large explosions at an enemy air field on Sardinia. Eleven Allied planes were missing from all operations.

About 28 people were killed that night and some of the many who were injured died later. The five Hickman children were killed in the rear of the building just north of the P. F. Weston street. They had a roller stove there and lived in the back end.

people. When it got dark in the night in late afternoon, the cows would come running home, bellowing and almost frantic—they knew all about the cyclone.

The Katy railroad was then in the Central and there was an engine on the track north of the freight depot. The engine was blown from the track and every track was wrapped around it. Just like you might find a ship about a telephone pole. Two men with the engine had stepped up town to get a job to eat. They had started in the back door of Perry Pesehall's business house. The wind took the top floor off and the two men were killed before they could get into the house. One of these men was a Mr. Bilbe.

Had the cyclone arrived Tuesday night instead of Friday night, the death list might have totaled 1,000 as the famous Cisco Silver Jubilee Band gave a free concert at the opera house Tuesday night. The building, a 2-story stone structure, stood where the Rawson station is today.

We had borrowed a piano for the occasion, but could not find one of the keys. J. W. Carter, from whom the piano was borrowed, would not let us pay him for it. His home was also destroyed, and the piano would have gone with the wind, anyway. Carter lived on the site now occupied by J. E. Spencer's home.

"In which we serve"

THE achievement of American industry and American agriculture in the war to date is one of the miracles of modern times.

In factories, offices, farms and laboratories in every State in the Union... in aircraft plants, steel mills, shipyards and railroad yards... in coal mines, lumber camps, wheat fields, textile mills... in oil fields, power plants, canneries, distilleries—labor and management are pooling the might of an aroused people prepared to give, as our men on the fighting fronts are giving, their "full measure of devotion" for victory.

They know, as our men in arms know, that we are fighting the gravest threat in the history of this nation—a threat to those freedoms which we call our American way of life. Freedom to have and to hold the things that are our own. Freedom to worship according to our beliefs... to educate our children as we choose... to think what we please, say what we please, do what we please.

Not all of us can carry guns. Not all of us can even make guns. But we've learned one thing so far—there are no civilians in an all-out war.

There are war jobs for all of us to do on the home front. Check the column on the right and see how well YOU are serving your country. Do it now.

In the tremendous contribution to the winning of the war that is being made by American industry, National Distillers is doing its part. This organization, like the rest of the distilling industry, is devoting 100% of its production facilities to the manufacture of alcohol for war purposes—for munitions, rubber, medicines and other essential war needs.

Check this list and ask yourself:

"HOW WELL AM I SERVING MY COUNTRY?"

- I regularly buy War Stamps and Bonds—at least 10% of my income.
- I avoid unnecessary expenditures in order to help prevent inflation.
- I cheerfully observe all rationing regulations and do not hoard.
- I budget my ration points carefully and don't waste food.
- I work where I can do the most good for the war effort.
- I get to work on time and am never avoidably absent.
- I do my best to stay healthy.
- I do my best to avoid accidents, especially if I work in a war plant.
- I watch what I say and spread no rumors.
- I conserve tires and gasoline.
- I share my car with others.
- I travel only when absolutely necessary.
- I carry my own bundles when shopping to save manpower, gas and tires.
- I contribute to the Red Cross and all War Relief funds.
- I save and turn in scrap metal, used cooking fats and other needed materials.
- I do Civilian Defense work.
- I work with the Red Cross or other volunteer groups.
- I am a regular blood donor.
- I volunteer for Nurse's Aide work.
- I pay my taxes on time and in full.
- I do community social service work.
- I am prepared to quietly cooperate with the F.B.I. in apprehending suspicious persons.
- I am planting a Victory garden.
- I contribute books to the men in the service.
- I write to friends and relatives in the service.
- I observe dimout and black-out regulations to the letter.

This list, of course, is not complete. Every man, woman and child will find many other ways to help. Check this list with your neighbors and find out what they are doing. But get going! Do all you can! And do it now! Consult your local Civilian Defense Council for further information.
