LEE TOOK OATH AS MAYOR

Edward Lee was installed as mayor last night at the regular city commission meeting and G. P. Miteham, retiring mayor, who administered the oath of office to Mr. Lee, was presented with a western type belt with silver buckle by Commissioner Charles J. Kleiner, the gift of numerous friends. Extra water for Victory gardens was made available beginning May 1.

In the reorganization of the commission by Mayor Lee, George Boyd was appointed mayor pro tem and members of the commission were reappointed to places they had held the previous term, as follows:

Charles J. Kleiner, finance commissioner; George Boyd, fire and police; J. J. Collins, water; H. S. Drumwright, sanitation; A. D. Anderson, street commissioner.

In voting to attempt to give growers of Victory gardens an extra 5,000 gallons of water each month during May, June and July, the commission did so with doubts as to the ability of the city's pumping facilities to keep plenty of water in the stamptaps, since something like 175 feet of gravity pull must be overcome to bring the water from Lake Cisco, and an additional handicap is a little neck of smaller pipe forming part of the system to the city.

However, the pumps will be kept working 24 hours each day in order to provide, if possible, sufficient water to meet the needs of gardeners and still keep proper pressure to combat fires that might occur.

Citizens are requested to cooperate with the city's efforts by using only the water actually necessary to keep gardens in growing and fruiting condition, so that the effort may not fail for lack of available water in the stamptaps. It is also asked that garden hoses be turned off during all fires.

The coming cleanup campaign was discussed and the city's truck facilities were ordered to be placed at the disposal of the commission heads to haul away trash that might be gathered and placed conveniently for carting away. The mayor will look after the trucks and work with the committee in the absence of Street Commissioner Anderson, who is serving on the federal grand jury in Abilene.

The matter of registration of boats at Lake Cisco was noted and the lake patrolman was given proper instructions. There is no charge for this.

Fishing permits and regulations were placed as they have previously been, with the provision that service men in uniform would be allowed free fishing privileges.

Present at the inauguration of the new mayor, in addition to members of the city commission and City Secretary George W. Downie, were Judge Eugene Lankford, Tom Stark, Yancey McCrea and A. B. O'Flaherty.

GILBERT URGES MORE NONBANK BOND SALES

War savings bond sales to non-bank buyers during the Second War Loan Drive in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District totaled $202,520,000 at the close of business Monday, says R. R. Gilbert, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas and chairman of the War Finance committee for the Eleventh District.

But while expressing satisfaction that the district had thus exceeded its goal of $200 millions in sales to non-bank buyers, Gilbert urged that through May 1 the 25,000 volunteer salespeople in the district continue their aggressive efforts to sell government securities to non-bank buyers, because every additional dollar put to work by these individuals, partnerships or corporations will effectively assist in the fight against inflation.

Pointing out that each week of aggressive warfare must mean thousands of casualties for our fighting men and that each week costs approximately 1 1/2 billions of dollars, Gilbert said:

"By quick victory on the fighting front we bring more of our boys back alive and at the lowest cost in materials and money—and by quick victory on the anti-inflation front we bring these boys back to a nation that can continue to give them the high standard of living, which is part of what they are fighting for and what we ought to make sure that they return to. By making sure that enough bonds are purchased—and are purchased by non-bank buyers—we help accomplish both vital objectives. Those of us on the home front must do two things for our sons on the fighting front."

FLYERS BEHEADED.

WASHINGTON, April 28. — Bishop Paul Yu-Pin, Chinese prelate who recently arrived in Washington today held the belief that all of the eight American flyers captured by the Japanese after the raid on Tokyo have been executed. A close friend of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the bishop said the death of the American airmen was made known in Chungking in February. He said their execution was by beheading.

Pfc. Wesley J. Lambright, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Lambright, route four, Cisco, has graduated from wing wiper to basic aircraft mechanic at San Angelo army air field bombardier school.

Nicknamed "wing wipers" at the start of their training, Lambright and classmates spent half their time in classes and half on the flight line, where they did actual repair and maintenance work under supervision of highly trained crew chiefs.

Private and Mrs. Lambright are now living at 125 South Jackson street, San Angelo. He has been in service since last October.

WEST WARDERS TRIPLE THEIR BONDS GOAL

West ward school has almost tripled its goal of buying $1,000 worth of war stamps and bonds by purchasing $2,613.95 since the opening of the campaign, Monday of this week, according to Alan Bunt, principal.

Mr. Bunt said the goal called for enough money to pay for one jeep which cost slightly under $1,000, but so great was the enthusiasm kindled by his corps of 14 teachers that by the time the week ends it can be well over $3,000.

The east ward campaign will not open until Thursday and will have only two days to end the month and the campaign, but Bunt said he expected the three teachers and pupils of that school to do their part in a big way.

CISCO CITIZEN IN 1881 IS A VISITOR HERE

Charles VanCleve, who helped build Cisco before and after the storm of 50 years ago, is here from his home in Stamford to spend a few days with his relatives—Cobb VanCleve, Hugh McCrary and Mrs. Lee Cook.

Born in Robinson county, Jan. 27, 1869, he was a resident of Cisco from 1881 until 1918, when he moved to Lubbock and later to Stamford.

He was a carpenter when he first lived here, but was working on the ranch of Dr. Almus Owen, Cisco dentist at that time, when the devastating cyclone of April 28, 1893, struck this city.

Mr. VanCleve, still hale and hearty, called at the office of the Daily Press this morning.

LAKE CISCO FISHING BE GOOD—JUDIA

Two very interesting talks were brought by the program chairman, S. H. Nance, today at the Lions luncheon when he presented Ray Judia, game warden at Lake Cisco, in a talk on fishing regulations, and a talk by L. W. Seymour on the Four Freedoms and the tragedies resulting from the conditions of children of the conquered countries of Europe.

Lion Judia told of the exceptionally good fishing that may be expected from the lake when the season opens, Saturday, especially since there appeared to be a good hatch of fish, and of some of the regulations that would be in force to keep the lake a drawing card for sportsmen who come this way.

Lion Seymour showed the posters depicting the Four Freedoms that the allies are fighting to perpetuate. These were Freedom from Want, Freedom of Speech, Freedom of Worship and Freedom from Fear.

In connection with the last named of these, the speaker told of some of the outgrowths that were already cropping out in the youth of those countries, endangering the future morale of those people, even after the conquerors may have been driven out.

Both talks were highly interesting and provocative of serious reflection.

HEAVY BOMBERS ACTIVE.

CAIRO, April 28. — English heavy bombers, following up a record American daylight assault on the same target, hammered the Italian Adriatic port of Bari, 600 miles north of the African coast, Monday night and started large fires. The daylight raid Monday was made by the biggest fleet of bombers ever sent against an enemy base by the Ninth U. S. Air Force.

DAMNABLE TRICK WOULD CUT STEEL PRODUCTION 59,000 TONS A WEEK IN PITTSBURG

WASHINGTON, April 28. — The possibility of immediate Presidential intervention in the bituminous wage controversy developed today as pre-deadline strikes spread to a fourth state, and led to a warning that a general walk-out by the 450,000 miners would close the nation's steel mills within two weeks.

The War Labor Board is expected to turn the dispute over to President Roosevelt if it decides at a meeting today that there is basis to a report that John L. Lewis plans to call his United Mine Workers out on strike at midnight Friday.

WLB Vice Chairman George W. Taylor said he had been informed of Lewis' alleged strike plan and that the board will discuss it as soon as it convenes today.

The prospects of a general walkout were supported by Lewis' guarded statements in New York and the fact some 41,000 miners already had left their jobs because of resentment over delayed settlement of their $2-a-day wage increase and other demands.

The threat of a general strike brought a warning from Irving S. Olds, chairman of the U. S. Steel Corp., that a complete shutdown of the bituminous mines would close America's war-vital steel industry within two weeks.

A strike, he said in New York, would "cause a 20 per cent cut in operations immediately and we would just have to quit at the end of two weeks."

Olds said the steel companies have a very small reserve supply of coal and coke, because of operating at close to 100 per cent of capacity.

With almost 10 per cent of the bituminous miners already on strike, soft coal operators estimated that production had decreased more than 100,000 tons daily.

The wildcat work stoppages affected 24,000 miners in Western Pennsylvania; 3500 in Kentucky, 7500 in Alabama, and 6000 in West Virginia. The West Virginia miners voted last night to stop work.

There were no strikes in the other coal-producing states — Illinois, Oklahoma and Ohio — but union officials there indicated that their followers would join a general walkout Saturday unless a new contract was signed.

The threats also extended to the smaller anthracite industry, which is in the midst of new contract negotiations. For the first time, the hard coal contract and the extended bituminous agreement expire the same time.

Lewis has refused to say whether he will call a general strike, but after a meeting with his policy committee in New York yesterday, he said:

"It's still safe to assume that the mine workers will not trespass on mine property."

He referred to the fact that the month's extension of the old miners' contract expires at midnight Friday—and that coal miners do not work without a contract.

If the War Labor Board decides to turn the case over to the President, Mr. Roosevelt first is expected to appeal personally to the miners to continue work, and, as a last resort, to order troops to the mines. In the case of complete defiance by the miners, the government has several possible moves, although the major obstacle in that event is the fact that soldiers cannot mine coal with bayonets.

WILL HITLER BE ELECTROCUTED? "Buy War Bonds and help turn the heat on Hitler!" A DOLF may not live long enough to pay for his mass murders by actually sitting in the "hot seat." But electricity is already hastening the day of his doom! Electricity drives delicate machines that turn out time fuses—and thundering presses that forge tank armor. Electricity is a basic part of every bayonet, bomber and battleship — of all America's roaring war production. Even when war began, America had more electric power than all the Axis countries combined. It's no military secret that today our power supply is far greater. And it's no secret, either, that the electric companies under experienced business management supply about seven-eighths of it! Free Americans set world production records primarily because they are free—because they have grown up under a business system that encourages initiative and invention — instead of reducing them to the ranks of Axis slaves. Free Americans are freely giving billions of dollars to help put Hitler in the chair. But once he's there, a cent's worth of electricity will finish the job! Which goes to show what BIG things penny-priced electricity can do! West Texas Utilities Company
