ALMUS FANNIN WRITES MOTHER FROM ENGLAND

Dear Mother: Here is the letter I have been promising you. I am well except for a slight cold. We don't hear that you are missing me a bit of fryers. I hope they won't be too old and tough when I get home. Really, I do not think I will be too long, the way things are going now.

I had a great time last week on my visit to St. Paul's. I visited the cathedral, the Duke of Wellington's monument and the old funeral home. It is about the size of five or six ordinary houses.

It was interesting in a way, but not very interesting. I don't think I will ever go through a war again as bad as they did during the "blitz."

Next we visited Westminster Abbey which was indeed very interesting. I saw just about every kind of statue made, but what really got me was the grave of the unknown soldier. This soldier was an Englishman, picked up on a battlefield on Armistice Day and buried in commemoration of all soldiers of World War I.

It was getting late, so we drove to St. James park, in the center of London. It is very beautiful and is centered by a lake. There is a bridge across the lake which, together with the other beautiful surroundings, makes an ideal place for a picnic, so they say. I don't know if it yet.

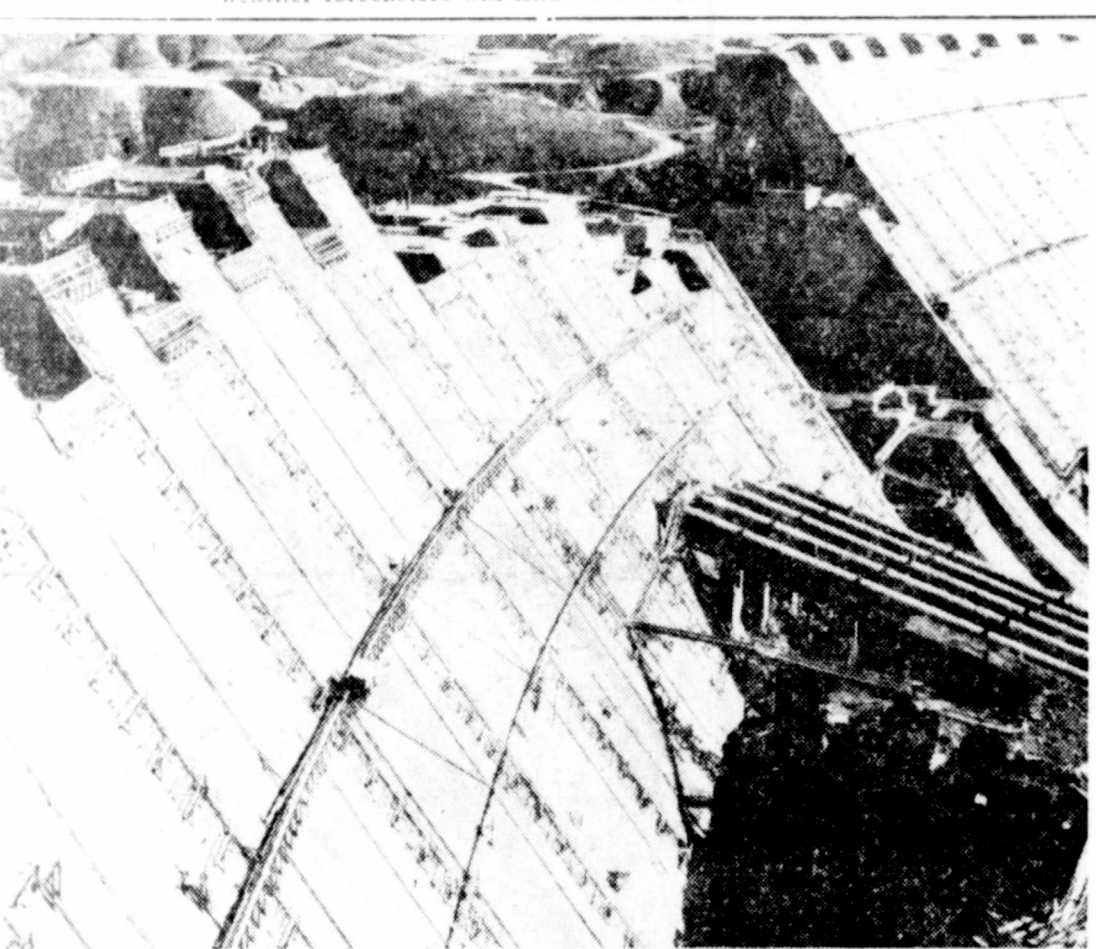

So all the folks howdy and another week. Your loving son, Al.

AFTER-WAR DANGERS SHAPING

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The war has not only changed the lives of the men who fought it, but it has also changed the lives of the women who stayed at home. The war has brought about a new era of equality between the sexes. Women have taken over many of the jobs that were formerly done by men. They have become more independent and more self-reliant. They have also become more educated and more cultured. The war has also brought about a new era of peace and harmony between the nations. The world is now more united than ever before. The war has shown us that we are all in this together and that we must work together to build a better world for ourselves and for our children.

FAIR WARNER—These 900 men are studying the weather, an important factor in modern warfare, in the civic auditorium at Grand Rapids, Mich. After the war, throng of young weather forecasters will find wide field in civilian life.

MAN-MADE—Mighty monument to man's genius is Shasta Dam nearing completion on Sacramento River, near Redding, Cal. Dam is designed to provide irrigation and war power. On completion it will take its place with Grand Coulee and Boulder, making three greatest dams in world.

STAFFORD IS COMING HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Don McEachern received a telegram from their son, Staff Sgt. J. L. Stafford, Saturday morning, saying he had arrived in the United States from abroad and expects to be in Cisco within a few days for a visit with family and friends. The wire came from Syracuse, N. Y.

Stafford, tail gunner on various Flying Fortresses that struck repeatedly at strategic German war centers, is the possessor of a Distinguished Flying Cross and three oak leaf clusters; he has completed more than 25 combat hours and has been grounded. The young man, of whom all Ciscoans are sincerely proud, is 22 years of age and has been in the service about one and a half years. He was in the employ of Hickok & Reynolds when he resigned to join the American colors and previously was with the Cisco Gas Corporation.

BARNHILL AND WILLIAMS BOYS TO COME HOME

S. O. Barnhill received a telegram from his son, Carroll Barnhill, Saturday morning from Seattle, Wash., in which he stated that he and his brother, Wayne Barnhill, would arrive in Cisco August 24 for a visit of thirty days.

Both young men are in the navy and are attached to the USS Enterprise, which is said to have participated in some thirteen major battles.

FORMER LOBO STAR VICTIM SERIOUS HURT

Chester Tipton, Morenci, Ariz., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Tipton, 1402 K avenue, Cisco, was seriously injured recently when he fell and broke his shoulder while playing soft ball. The bones protruded from the injured member and he will be in hospital about eight weeks.

FORT WORTH INSANITARY STATUS BAD

FT. WORTH, July 24.—Eighty-seven known poliomyelitis cases were under treatment in the city and county today as funeral services were scheduled for the 11th fatality from the disease within two months.

Scheduled to arrive today to help remedy insanitary conditions in the county were five sanitary engineers from the state department of health, assigned here by Gov. Coke Stevenson.

U. S. TROOPS HAVE CAPTURED 40,000 PRISONERS AND MOPUP IN WEST MAY NAB 50,000 MORE

NORTH AFRICA, July 24.—The U. S. Seventh Army has captured Marsala, Sicily's westernmost port, and Allied forces swiftly are squeezing the Axis into the northeastern tip of the island after boosting the grand total of prisoners to 60,000, it was announced today as the campaign entered its third week.

"A rapidly diminishing portion of the island is all that remains to the Axis," Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique reported. British warships shelled the German troops holding off the British at Catania.

The seizure of Marsala sealed the doom of Trapani, big west coast port 15 miles to the north and the only remaining enemy base of importance in western Sicily. Trapani has a good harbor and controls a network of airfields. A Swiss dispatch said Allied forces have reached San Stefano in the north coast, half way between Palermo and Messina.

(Axis broadcasts already have reported the evacuation of both Trapani and Marsala, as well as Palermo, which was captured by Americans Thursday.)

All that remained for the Seventh Army in western Sicily was a mopping-up operation. Italian troops were surrendering by the thousands and at some places whole divisions laid down their arms.

American troops alone have captured 40,000 prisoners and the clean-up in the west may net them another 50,000.

(Radio Algiers said that Italian Gen. Giuseppe Molinero was captured at Palermo.)

Marsala, a commercial town of 30,000, fell to the American spearhead that slashed around the southwest corner of Sicily from the airfield town of Castelvetrano and its capture netted the Americans vast quantities of equipment and thousands of prisoners.

A special Allied announcement said that all airfields in Sicily now had been captured or neutralized with enemy air resistance now "ineffective."

Allied torpedo bombers joined in the parade of successes, sinking one enemy merchant ship, heavily damaging two others and leaving a destroyer in flames.

Two Allied destroyers, one of them Greek, damaged three German torpedo boats Tuesday night, two of them severely.

(British planes have wiped out an entire convoy of small barges ferrying supplies to Sicily, Radio London said today.)

(British military observers in London said that military operations in western Sicily could be considered at an end and indicated that an all-out assault on Axis positions in eastern Sicily was imminent.)

British warships steamed up the east coast of Sicily and turned their big guns on German troops holding off Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth Army on the approaches to Catania, Sicily's second largest port, where the bloodiest fighting of the entire campaign was under way.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique spoke of fierce resistance below Catania.

The U. S. Seventh Army rapidly was engulfing all that section of Sicily cut off by the capture of the north coast port of Palermo and was fanning out toward Catania, on the northeast, and Messina in Sicily's "coffin corner," where the Axis is expected to make its last stand.

LEGION PICKS AFL AND CIO NEW OFFICERS HEADS JOCKEY MONDAY NIGHT FOR CONTROL

Cisco American Legion will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Hut for what is considered a very important object—that of choosing new officers for the organization. This announcement was made by H. N. Lyle, post commander, who hopes for a good turnout of members.

Leon McPherson, present adjutant and finance officer, laughingly added that those who do not feel up to taking on official Legion duties, had better be present and give good reasons, else they might be picked for duty, even though absent from the Monday night session.

"You find the most sturdy people where there is the most hardship to overcome but a reasonably good living for those who overcome it."

EASTLAND FSA HEAD PLEASED

Long-term credit at low interest to low-income farmers who cannot get adequate credit anywhere else is not only paying dividends in 1943, but is also a safe risk if repayments on loans made by Farm Security Administration in Eastland county are an indication.

George I. Lane, county FSA supervisor, says that from the beginning of the FSA program to last April 30, $1,114,881.98 had been paid to farmers of Eastland county in the form of rehabilitation loans.

SUPPLIED NOW—Fearing that Mrs. Rose Radzinski of Los Angeles would run out of V-paper while trying to correspond with her 10 children in service, postmaster presented her with year's supply. Two of nine sons are reported missing. Daughter is a WAC.

CRAWFORD'S FATHER DIES.

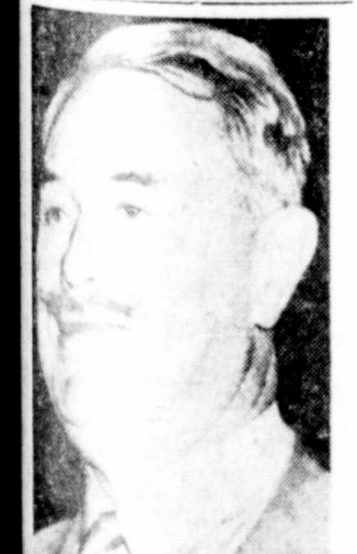

J. R. Crawford, director of the Cisco Ordnance Training Center, departed Saturday morning for San Antonio in response to a message received late Friday informing him of the death of his father, O. B. Crawford, in that city. Deceased was about 72 years of age.

FARM HOME BURNED.

The farm home of J. G. Calloway, who resides on the Eolian road, was completely destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. All household furnishings were lost and Mr. Calloway sustained a bad burn on one of his hands.

TWO SAFETY PINS WILL BUY A SWIM

Monday will be "free day" at the Cisco swimming pool, says Manager Monroe Sweeney, when only two safety pins will buy admission. Mr. Sweeney suggests that Ciscoans and others bring buttons and kodaks and make what might be termed a "family day."

CANDIDATE?—Col. Robert McCormick, publisher of Chicago Tribune, mentioned for Republican Presidential nomination. He is critic of New Deal domestic and foreign policies, opposed to ideas of Wendell Willkie.

REDS REACH OUTSKIRTS OF CITY OF OREL

MOSCOW, July 24.—How many and what kind of Russian counter-attacks against the 6000 infantrymen and 100 tanks assaulted a single point showed Russian advances on the Axis strong hold of Orel today.

The Russians already were through the last defenses outside Orel and were attacking the city itself from the west and northeast front yesterday.

More than 8000 German officers and men were killed in the bloody fighting around Orel yesterday, boosting the 11-day toll of Axis dead to nearly 60,000. Tank losses for the period jumped to 1249 and aircraft losses to 1012.

COURT VACATIONS.—The EASTLAND, July 24.—The eleventh court of civil appeals recessed today without making a report. The court will convene again about Sept. 15.

PEA-SHOOTERS TO SHOTGUNS.

A few years ago discussion of public debt and taxation revolved around the issues of administrative efficiency and good government. Except for a few taxpayers, no one evidenced much interest in these discussions. Today the situation is greatly different. Debt and taxation are not merely obstacles of good or bad administration. Today debt and taxation may determine what kind of government this nation will have in the future—a republic, or a bureaucracy which will rapidly degenerate into dictatorship.

As Business Week has pointed out, "The effects of government taxing and spending always tend to shift the balance in an economy. Inevitably they take income from one group and give it to another. As long as the government operates on a comparatively small scale, this shift passes unnoticed, but its importance grows with every increase in the state's share of national income. Fiscal policy is neutral only when it is negligible."

At this stage of the game it is impossible to tell much about the government's revenue requirements or the size of its debt after the war. One thing is certain, however. They won't be negligible.

The public debt is growing at the rate of sixty or seventy billion dollars a year. Taxation is at a rate many times greater than a few years ago. Both taxation and spending are being used in repeated attempts to level opportunity and to change the nature of our government. With every passing day these twin weapons become more potent in the hands of socialistic planners.

We can no longer afford the luxury of using taxation merely to "soak the rich" and spending to socialize industry. Neither are the peashooters of days gone by. They are double-barreled shotguns now. If we allow prejudiced eyes to align the sight principle of equality and justice for which this country stands will be wiped out along with freedom.

BEACH HEADS.

Major knows his war stuff, as he apparently does the Japs have already so talked about their beach heads. He knows the Japs have already so talked about their beach heads. He knows the Japs have already so talked about their beach heads.

SOO CANAL.

Americans do not always appreciate the wonders they possess. The Soo Canal is one of them. Through the Panhandle and West Texas are some of the finest waterways in the world. The Soo Canal is one of them. Through the Panhandle and West Texas are some of the finest waterways in the world.

INEPT JAPS.

The amazing peculiarities of the legendary "Heaven" China, made famous by Bret Harte long before the present war, were nothing to the weird ways of the modern Japanese, as revealed now. The discerning Maj. George Fellingham Eliot, foremost commentator of the present war, comes right out with it, calling pointed attention to the Japs' "ways that are strange and tricks that are dark."

For example, ever since the fighting started on Guadalcanal a year ago, those Jap supernumeraries have been sending task forces against the Americans taking a toehold in the south Pacific, but have never sent enough men to do the job. They just seem to fiddle and mess around, and lose their men and ships and planes, and wear themselves down, for lack of concentrated and effective power where power is needed.

This might be a rash thing to say, on the supposition that it tends to arouse the Japs and spur them to make a real, all-out effort in the Pacific. But if the WARNING!

We have had three fires within the last 24 hours that might have been prevented.

Hereafter, no citizen must light a grass fire until he has first informed the fire department of his intention. This does not mean the department will burn your grass for you, but that the department will come and stand by and give aid should the fire threaten to spread.

When garbage can fires are lighted, extreme care must be taken to prevent destructive spread of fire.

All alleys in the city must be cleaned up, in order to remove fire hazards and create better sanitary conditions. In cleaning alleys this order does not license one to start fires in the alley—the trash must be hauled off.

Fire Marshall and Sanitary Inspector.

Celebrating birthdays of Mrs. W. Frank Walker and Mrs. Alice Skiles, the D. O. Anniversary club met for covered dish luncheon in the Walker home Thursday. Invocation was offered by Mrs. J. R. Burnett.

Following the meal the honorees were felicitated and a short business session was held. The afternoon was spent in conversation and needlework. Those present were Mrs. Milton Gormley, associate member, Mrs. E. J. Poe and Mrs. J. O. Skiles, chaperones and Mrs. W. D. Hazel, Mrs. F. E. Shepard, Mrs. Buelton Philson, Mrs. J. R. Burnett, Mrs. Leon McPherson, Mrs. Willie Bogan Dunn, Mrs. Cooper Waters and daughter, Anna Lake Waters, Mrs. W. I. Gormley, Mrs. Mack Stephens, Mrs. W. D. Brecheen and the honorees.

NIGHT SPOTS DANGEROUS IF STAY TOO LATE

FT. WORTH, July 24.—A nervous punter and a gun-smitting woman companion roamed F. F. Terrell and Mrs. Veda B. Johnson, both 932 East Hattie, of cash checks, jewelry and Terrell's car, at 4:30 a. m. Saturday after kidnapping them as they left a North-west Highway night spot and drove driving them to an isolated spot in Indian Oaks.

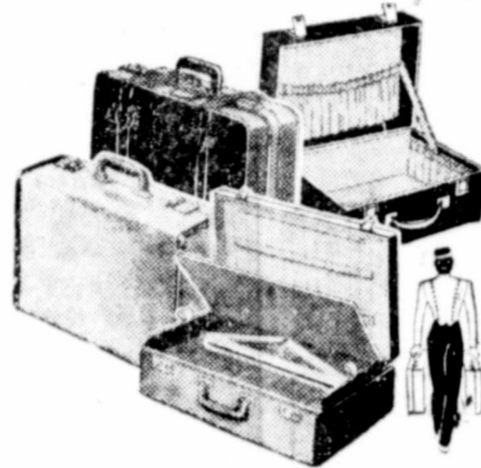

ODESSA VISITOR

Miss Ruby Nell Lockhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Lockhart, wife-in-law of Cisco on the Range Star highway, is visiting from Odessa over the weekend. Another daughter from Odessa, Mrs. Willard Hill, has just returned home after a few days' visit with her parents.

Mother sometimes gets mad at father because she longs for youth and romance as she sees Highway night spots and goes.

ALMUS FANNIN WRITES MOTHER FROM ENGLAND

Almus L. Fannin, son of the Joe Hale route two, Cisco, writes from England that he is right and then tells of a recent visit when he visited historic places in London. Fannin is 21 years of age and a graduate of Cisco high school. The letter, dated July 16, said:

Dear Mother: Here is the letter I have been promising you. I am well except for a slight cold. I was glad to hear that you are enjoying a lot of frivers. I hope they won't be too old and tough when I get home. Really, I do not think it will be too long, the things are going now.

I had a swell time last week on my way off. Toured London, taking with a visit to St. Paul's cathedral. It was one of the most beautiful things I ever saw. It was almost destroyed by a couple of bombs, but they did not explode. I saw the Duke of Wellington's statue of granite and weighs 18 tons. I also saw an old funeral carriage coach. It is about the size of five or six ordinary cars.

After a short time at St. Paul's, I visited a bombed area, which was interesting in a way, but rather terrible, too. I don't think we will ever go through a war anything near as bad as they are having the "blitz."

Next we visited Westminster Abbey, which was indeed very interesting. I saw just about everything of statue made, but what really got me was the grave of the unknown soldier. This soldier was an Englishman, picked up from a battlefield on Armistice Day and buried in commemoration of all soldiers of World War I.

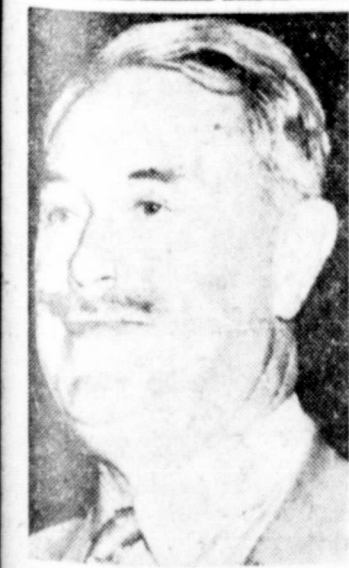

It is getting late, so we decided to visit St. James park, in the center of London. It is very beautiful and is centered by a large lake. There is a bridge across the lake which, together with the other beautiful surroundings, makes an ideal place for evening—so they say. I have tried it yet.

Try to get the folks howdy and answer soon. Your loving son, Al.

TWO SAFETY PINS WILL BUY A SWIM

Money will be "free day" at the Cisco swimming pool, says Manager Monroe Sweeney, when the fee for admission will be two safety pins. Mr. Sweeney expects that Ciscoans and others bring lunch and jodaks and make it what might be termed a "family day."

The manager states that the safety pins are needed to pin identification and claim tags to swimming suits. The pins cannot be bought, it is explained.

CANDIDATE?—Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of Chicago Tribune, mentioned for Republican Presidential nomination. He is critic of New Deal domestic and foreign policies, opposed to ideas of Wendell Wilkie.

AFTER-WAR DANGERS SHAPING

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Music Shards, fight multiplied 1500 times may be shaping up for after the war. Government will own the entire synthetic rubber industry, more than half of the aluminum industry, steel capacity for making 20 per cent of the peacetime output, nearly half the machine tools industry, ten-elevenths of the aviation industry, 8 per cent of the magnesium industry. Will the government stay in business, operate these plants? Or will they be given to private operators? Jesse Jones, whose RFC owns the 1500-odd war plants, warns they must be used to destroy private initiative. Others worry about later German home-front propaganda telling mothers to produce babies for soldiers 24 years from now, urge necessity for keeping plants ready for national defense.

The week's best tip: Keep an eye on Hitler and Mussolini. Desperate men, cornered, will do anything. If they don't do something, something may be done to them—by their followers. Axis press agents warn the Allies to watch out for "surprises." But nothing would exactly surprise the Allies. Washington and London are aware that a trapped rat may even try to bite a lion. Hitler may be planning a last desperate blow at England. Experts say he may have been conserving men and material, including planes, tanks, oil and even U-boats, for the past ten months, for just such a final gamble. Reasoning would do something like this: "As matters stand, I'm sunk. I'll throw in everything I might win. At least I might force a negotiated peace. If so, it would be worth 5,000,000 men to me." Question: Would Hitler's general staff go along with him in so desperate a try? Traditionally, they've chosen to live and fight another day. If they refused, Hitler would be liquidated and the army would take over. Then, as in 1918, we'd get a "peace offer."

REDS REACH OUTSKIRTS OF CITY OF OREL
MOSCOW, July 24.—Heavy rains and intensified German counter-attacks, in some of which 6000 infantrymen and 150 tanks assaulted a single point, slowed but failed to halt converging Russian advances on the Axis stronghold of Orel today.

The Russians already were through the last defenses outside Orel and were attacking the city itself from the east and northeast, front dispatches said.

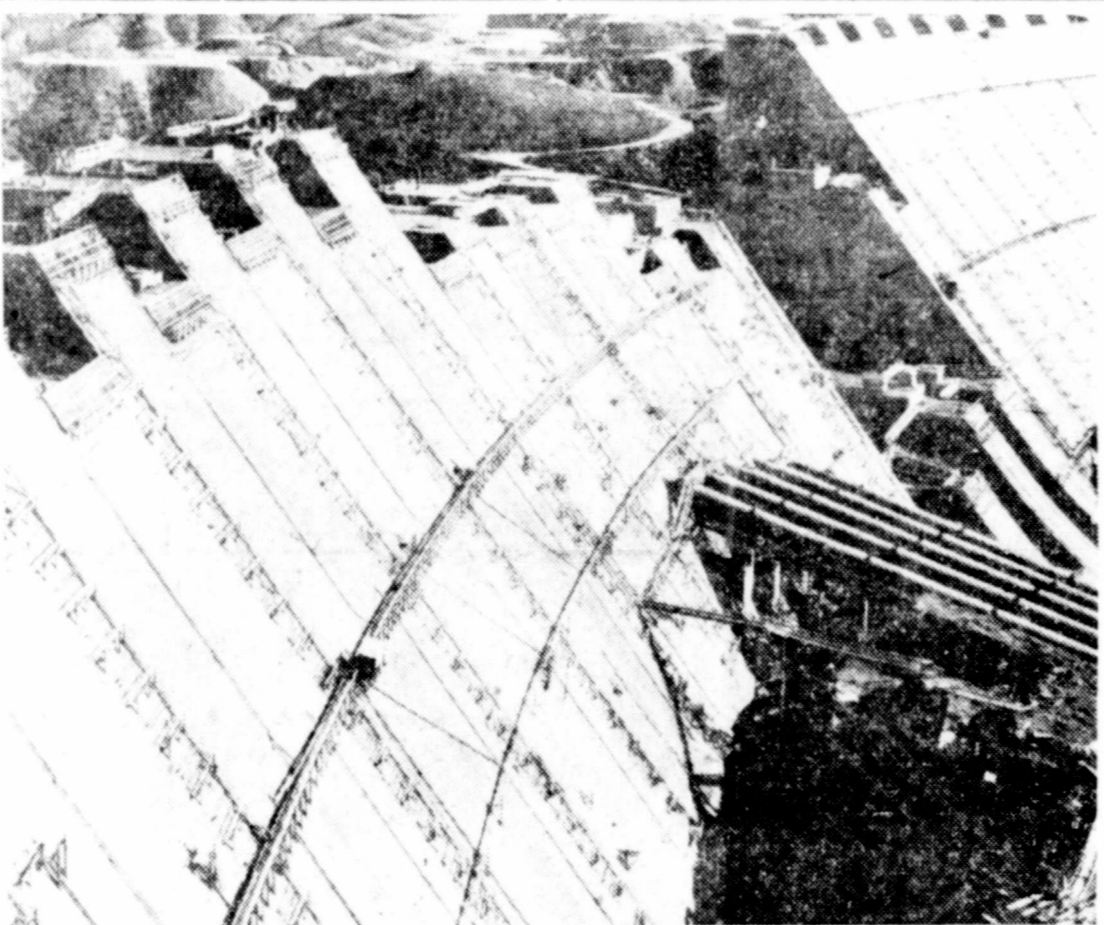

More than 8800 German officers and men were killed in bloody fighting around Orel yesterday, boosting the 11-day toll of Axis dead to nearly 60,000. Tank losses for the period jumped to 1249 and aircraft losses to 1012.

YANKS ARE BUSY. July 24.—Allied planes sank a 900-ton Japanese seaplane tender, damaged a destroyer and wrecked or damaged 28 enemy planes and 27 barges in wide-ranging operations in the Southern Pacific, a report said today. The action covered a 36-hour period.

COURT VACATIONS. EASTLAND, July 24.—The eleventh court of civil appeals recessed today without making a report. The court will convene again about Sept. 15.

FAIR, WARMER—These 900 men are studying the weather, an important factor in modern warfare, in the civic auditorium at Grand Rapids, Mich. After the war, throng of young weather forecasters will find wide field in civilian life.

MAN-MADE—Mighty monument to man's genius is Shasta Dam nearing completion on Sacramento River, near Redding, Cal. Dam is designed to provide irrigation and war power. On completion it will take its place with Grand Coulee and Boulder, making three greatest dams in world.

EASTLAND FSA HEAD PLEASED

Long-term credit at low interest to low-income farmers who cannot get adequate credit anywhere else, is not only paying dividends in food, but is also a safe risk if repayments on loans made by Farm Security Administration in Eastland county are an indication.

George I. Lane, county FSA supervisor, says that from the beginning of the FSA program to last April 30, $1,114,881.98 had been paid to farmers of Eastland county in the form of rehabilitation loans.

SUPPLIED NOW—Fearing that Mrs. Rose Radzinski of Los Angeles would run out of V-paper while trying to correspond with her 10 children in service, postmaster presented her with year's supply. Two of nine sons are reported missing. Daughter is a WAC.

CRAWFORD'S FATHER DIES.

J. R. Crawford, director of the Cisco Ordnance Training Center, departed Saturday morning for San Antonio in response to a message received late Friday informing him of the death of his father, O. B. Crawford, in that city. Deceased was about 72 years of age.

FARM HOME BURNED.

The farm home of J. G. Calloway, who resides on the Eolian road, was completely destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. All household furnishings were lost and Mr. Calloway sustained a bad burn on one of his hands.

STAFFORD IS COMING HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Don McEachern received a telegram from their son, Staff Sgt. J. L. Stafford, Saturday morning, saying he had arrived in the United States from abroad and expects to be in Cisco within a few days for a visit with family and friends. The boy came from Syracuse, N. Y.

Stafford, tail gunner on various Flying Fortresses that struck repeatedly at strategic German war centers, is the possessor of a Distinguished Flying Cross and three oak leaf clusters; he has completed more than 25 combat hours and has been grounded.

The young man, of whom all Ciscoans are sincerely proud, is 22 years of age and has been in the service about one and a half years. He was in the employ of Hickok & Reynolds when he resigned to join the American colors and previously was with the Cisco Gas Corporation.

BARNHILL AND WILLIAMS BOYS TO COME HOME

S. O. Barnhill received a telegram from his son, Carroll Barnhill, Saturday morning from Seattle, Wash., in which he stated that he and his brother, Wayne Barnhill, would arrive in Cisco August 24 for a visit of thirty days.

Both young men are in the navy and are attached to the USS Enterprise, which is said to have participated in some thirteen major battles.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams of Cisco, also attached to the Enterprise, will accompany the Barnhill boys home for a similar vacation. It has been two years since the three young men left Cisco.

FORMER LOBO STAR VICTIM SERIOUS HURT

Chester Tipton, Morenci, Ariz., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Tipton, 1402 K avenue, Cisco, was seriously injured recently when he fell and broke his shoulder while playing soft ball. The bones protruded from the injured member and he will be in hospital about eight weeks.

The young man was born in Stephens county but was reared and schooled in Cisco. He played on the Lobo football team for three years and was considered a backfield star. He is 22 years of age, married and drives a truck for the Philip Dodge Mining company at Morenci.

FORT WORTH INSANITARY STATUS BAD

FT. WORTH, July 24.—Eighty-seven known poliomyelitis cases were under treatment in the city and county today as funeral services were scheduled for the 11th fatality from the disease within two months.

U. S. TROOPS HAVE CAPTURED 40,000 PRISONERS AND MOPUP IN WEST MAY NAB 50,000 MORE

NORTH AFRICA, July 24.—The U. S. Seventh Army has captured Marsala, Sicily's westernmost port, and Allied forces swiftly are squeezing the Axis into the northeastern tip of the island after boosting the grand total of prisoners to 60,000, it was announced today as the campaign entered its third week.

"A rapidly diminishing portion of the island is all that remains to the Axis," Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique reported. British warships shelled the German troops holding off the British at Catania.

The seizure of Marsala sealed the doom of Trapani, big west coast port 15 miles to the north and the only remaining enemy base of importance in western Sicily. Trapani has a good harbor and controls a network of airfield. (A Swiss dispatch said Allied forces have reached San Stefano on the north coast, half way between Palermo and Messina.)

(Axis broadcasts already have reported the evacuation of both Trapani and Marsala, as well as Palermo, which was captured by Americans Thursday.)

All that remained for the Seventh Army in western Sicily was a mopping-up operation. Italian troops were surrendering by the thousands and at some places whole divisions laid down their arms.

American troops alone have captured 40,000 prisoners and the clean-up in the west may net them another 50,000.

(Radio Algiers said that Italian Gen. Giuseppe Molinero was captured at Palermo.)

Marsala, a commercial town of 30,000, fell to the American spearhead that slashed around the southwest corner of Sicily from the airfield town of Castelvetrano and its capture netted the Americans vast quantities of equipment and thousands of prisoners.

A special Allied announcement said that all airfields in Sicily now had been captured or neutralized with enemy air resistance now "ineffective."

Allied torpedo bombers joined in the parade of successes, sinking one enemy merchant ship, heavily damaging two others and leaving a destroyer in flames.

Two Allied destroyers, one of them Greek, damaged three German torpedo boats Tuesday night, two of them severely.

(British planes have wiped out an entire convoy of small barges ferrying supplies to Sicily. Radio London said today.)

(British military observers in London said that military operations in western Sicily could be considered at an end and indicated that an all-out assault on Axis positions in eastern Sicily was imminent.)

British warships steamed up the east coast of Sicily and turned their big guns on German troops holding off Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth Army on the approaches to Catania, Sicily's second largest port, where the bloodiest fighting of the entire campaign was under way.

The U. S. Seventh Army rapidly was engulfing all that section of Sicily cut off by the capture of the north coast port of Palermo and was fanning out toward Catania, on the northeast, and Messina in Sicily's "coffin corner," where the Axis is expected to make its last stand.

LEGION PICKS AFL AND CIO NEW OFFICERS HEADS JOCKEY MONDAY NIGHT FOR CONTROL

Cisco American Legion will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Hut for what is considered a very important object—that of choosing new officers for the organization. This announcement was made by H. N. Lyle, post commander, who hopes for a good turnout of members.

Leon McPherson, present adjutant and finance officer, laughingly added that those who do not feel up to taking on official Legion duties, had better be present and give good reasons, else they might be picked for duty, even though absent from the Monday night session.

You find the most sturdy people where there is the most hardship to overcome but a reasonably good living for those who overcome it.

CHICAGO, July 24.—The CIO sought a political alignment with New Deal supporters in the AFL today, while John L. Lewis and his miners were seeking entrance into the AFL under sponsorship of its anti-Administration elements.

Some labor sources believed that the CIO's latest overture in the off-on-again moves to consolidate the labor movement was intended to counteract Lewis' intention for affiliation with the AFL. While Lewis has not confirmed the belief, many observers agree that he is seeking to consolidate anti-Administration sympathy in the AFL.

KEEP COOL Mister!

This is indeed a time for men and women to keep cool in their thinking and in their actions—politically and in their every-day relations with each other.

In this time of the world when it is the part of the government to spread propaganda of intense partisanship as regards patriotic ideals and hate for enemies of civil liberties in foreign countries, we are prone to lose our coolness and sense of balance mentally and become hasty in decisions that affect our relations, one with another.

While perhaps a nation must don a spirit of hate for an enemy in time of war, and the people of that nation must become necessarily of that same fighting mind, yet we must think of things in a cool manner when they are not of a military character, for in becoming wrought up against our country's enemies, we may become too wrought up regarding other matters.

It behooves us as citizens of a country to whom the world looks for guidance, to keep cool in our relations and reaction toward that world of nations. We must plan for them, most especially for that period when we shall have ousted despots from seats of government and it becomes necessary to supplant them with proper rulers according to our tested ideas of free government.

And in dealing with our own problems at home, made more complex by a state of war in this nation, we must think carefully, and be just in the criticisms, which are a part of our liberties. Sentiment makes principles of government, whether they are good or bad. Strong propaganda becomes party platforms, sooner or later. Keep cool.
