MUST WE BE FORCED TO KEEP CLEAN

The recent report of Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer, has aroused the City Board of Health to the dangers that are on the threshold of Cisco if immediate steps are not taken to put the town in a scrupulously clean condition and keep it so.

Dr. F. E. Clark, chairman of the board, reports that his board has been having conferences regarding conditions and to the best means to handle the situation. They have thought that perhaps an appeal to the people themselves for willing cooperation might be the surest and most efficient way to handle the matter.

Dr. Clark said that from his knowledge of Cisco people through the years, he has no doubt but what once the people realize the dangers now facing the city from a lack of effective cleaning measures, they will remedy the situation and at once.

One of the urgent dangers just now is the prevailing epidemic of infantile paralysis that is sweeping the country and is all too close to Cisco for comfort.

The best state epidemiologists now say that rats are purveyors of this dread disease, and that these dread pests are carriers of that most often fatal disease of typhus fever which breeds out of filth.

Also, the time of year for rats, mosquitos and flies is approaching, and the long, hot months ahead, preceding winter and months of equinoctial storms and weed decay, all of which demand that unusual precautions be taken to keep all premises clean, so that rats and flies may not find filth in which to wallow and spread from home to home.

Garbage breeds filth. Especially is this true of wet garbage not disposed of each day. Men have been engaged to keep the city free of both dry and wet garbage and all the citizen has to do is to place his dry garbage in a receptacle so that it can be handled, and the wet garbage in another, so the two do not become mixed. This is absolutely necessary, the health board says, and if the people who are to suffer or profit as the case may be, do not do it willingly, sterner measures must be taken for in this dangerous time of disease breeding the city must be kept clean of all hazards. Filth must not be allowed to collect and endanger the general health because of the laxity of thoughtless citizens.

"If typhus fever should become prevalent in Cisco it would be our own fault, because it is a disease which breeds from filth only."

Wet and dry garbage must be kept separate and must be placed so it can be carried away. Everything that is not burned must be removed from the premises; wet garbage cannot be burned and when mixed with dry garbage, it prevents the dry garbage from being burned.

Along the railroad tracks, not too far removed from wholesale houses and food stores, piles of cans and rubbish exist. These must be removed. Eating places must be strictly sanitary in all their handling and requirements, said Dr. Clark. All dishes and glasses must be sterilized after using, and the more filth there is in the city the more need there is for these precautions to be taken.

Clean-up campaigns must be staged and inspection must be low until Cisco once more lives up to the reputation it once had.

If the citizens themselves will do this cleaning up willingly and wholeheartedly, it is well, but regardless of how, our lives and health demands a clean town and the City Board of Health and the

HICKOK EMPLOYEES HONOR STAFFORD

Honoring Staff Sergeant J. L. Stafford of the U. S. air forces, who recently returned to Cisco from England for a brief sojourn with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don McEachern, approximately one hundred employees and guests of the Hickok companies held a thoroughly enjoyable picnic at Lake Cisco, Wednesday night.

The distinguished honor guest, who completed 25 successful combat missions over Germany and France before returning to his home town, related interesting experiences during his stay abroad and held the close attention of all during a brief summary of thrilling events. Sergeant Stafford expects to leave Sunday for Salt Lake City, Utah, for further military assignment. He has been a guest of both the Rotary and Lions clubs while here and also made a fine impression on the members of both clubs by the modest yet comprehensive manner in which he related his part in the wholesale destruction of Nazi strongholds by the great Flying Fortresses of the Allies.

Chicken and home-canned foods were included in all the numerous picnic baskets and rationed food was noticeably absent.

Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Tableman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Hart and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reynolds and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Hart and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ponsler, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond and family, Miss Betty Shicker, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Huffman, Miss Kathryn Sheppard, Miss Nadine Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bible and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jo Britain and son, Miss Inka Sherman and Lt. Wendell Russell, Miss Virginia Carter, Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clements and family, Mrs. John Preston, Mrs. William Hunterman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Armstrong and daughter, Miss Betty Lee Evans, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Graham and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Walker and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Horn and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Horn and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. M. Bassett and family, Mrs. D. D. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weiser and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aycock and son, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Nance and daughter, Mrs. Hugh D. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Don McEachern, and the following employees of the Hickok & Reynolds company: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fewell and family, Mrs. D. D. Lonnie Shoekley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark and family, Miss Esther Hale, Miss Rose Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Swink and family and Mrs. Smedley of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Horne of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Bufkin and family of Albany.

TURIN, MILAN AND BERLIN FELT THE MIGHT OF ALLIED FORCES AT THE SAME TIME

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Allied bombing fleets blasted both Axis capitals—Rome and Berlin—today, bringing the aerial offensive to smash Germany and Italy into surrender to its highest pitch of intensity.

A mighty all-American air armada, from North Africa, ranging from giant four-engined Flying Fortresses to twin-engined Mitchell and Marauder medium bombers, hit the San Lorenzo and Littoria railway yards in Rome this morning for the second time in less than a month. All aircraft were from the Strategic Air Force commanded by Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle.

And in the early morning bombers struck Berlin in the first raid in nearly three months.

While the Mosquitoes were over Berlin, the largest British-based force of four-engined bombers ever sent against Italy dropped tremendous loads of explosives onto the northern industrial centers of Turin and Milan.

Thus, within the short space of a few hours, the Allies served notice that it would bomb Rome and the rest of Italy with increasing might until it surrenders and at the same time were ready to launch shattering attacks on Berlin.

The Rome raid followed aerial reconnaissance showing that the city was being used as a military communications center despite all warnings and the previous raid. Trains carrying military supplies and reinforcements for German and Italian troops in southern Italy and Sicily are made up in the San Lorenzo and Littorio switchyards.

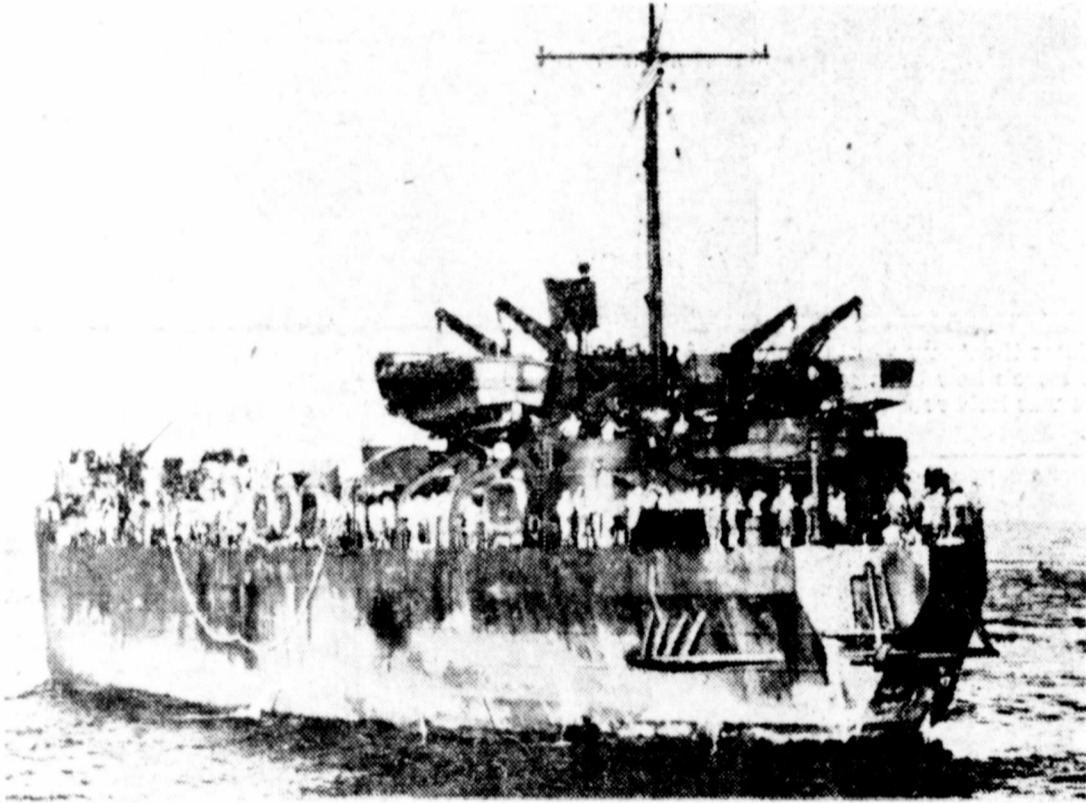

An Italian communique said the bombers attacked "Rome and surrounding air fields" and another Italian broadcast reported that Pope Pius XII left the Vatican immediately after the raid and began a tour of the bombed areas.

The Italian communique reported "huge damage" in Milan and Turin. The German Transocean Agency said all districts of Milan were hit. The Marine Palace opposite La Scala Opera House was destroyed by fire, the agency said, and one spire of the cathedral was hit, but the agency said only slight damage resulted.

Exercising the same precautions to avoid hitting church and historical monuments as they did in their first raid on Rome July 19, the Flying Fortresses confined their precision bombing to the San Lorenzo yards while the Mitchells and Marauders hit the Littorio yards.

The first wave of American planes arrived over the Italian capital shortly after 9 a. m., and other waves swept across the Eternal City for at least two hours.

P-38 twin-engined Lightning fighters escorted the all-American formations.

UGLIEST SHIP—This ship was not built for beauty but for the sole purpose of carrying invaders ashore. It's U. S. Navy's LST boat, headed for Gela, Sicily, during Allied landings. It's loaded with fighting men who mean business.

EASTLAND PILOT MISSING IN ENGLAND

Lt. Cecil Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walters of Eastland and pilot of a Flying Fortress with the U. S. Army bomber command in England, is missing in action in a raid over Nazi Europe, his parents here have been informed. There were no details.

Lt. Walters was a veteran of 14 missions over Germany, participating in the celebrated raids on Hamburg and other Nazi strongholds. He had had one plane so badly shot up that it was grounded and was flying his second Fortress when he was reported missing on June 29.

His first plane was "Little Caesar." It was badly damaged on one raid, but it was repaired and refloated by Lt. Walters, only to be so badly shredded with enemy gunfire that it had to be grounded. His second plane was dubbed "Little Caesar II."

Walters wrote his family on the night of June 28, after he had returned from a raid in which his bombardier was wounded. The next night he was unreported.

The target of the raid from which his plane failed to return was not named. Members of the family are hopeful that the Fortress was merely forced into a landing at some remote point, or at the worst that Lt. Walters and his crew are prisoners.

city commission must cooperate to make it so, the Health Board emphasizes.

The question is: Must we be forced to keep clean?

NOT SO GOOD—Young Nazi fighter ace of Hermann Goering crack air squadron registers disappointment when he finds Luftwaffe isn't so good. He was captured in Sicily by Allied airmen.

MAKE READY FOR FEEDER AIR LINES

BRECKENRIDGE, Aug. 13.—Copy of application made to the Civil Aeronautics Board for feeder airlines has been made by three Texans and one Kentuckian that if granted will blanket much of Texas, particularly West Texas, parts of Oklahoma and New Mexico, with Breckenridge on one route.

Several routes are mapped in the application, that including Breckenridge to extend from San Angelo, Tex., to Enid, Okla. Cities named along this route are Balminger, Winters, Abilene, Albany, Breckenridge, Olney and Wichita Falls, thence into Oklahoma.

Stockholders, with no stock offered to the public, were named as Houston Harte of San Angelo, Bernard Hanks of Abilene, J. Lindsay Nunn of Amarillo and his son Gilmore Nunn of Lexington, Ky. All are well known newspaper publishers and West Texans of high financial standing.

The application stated the routes are to be feeder lines for the transportation of persons, property and mail.

OTTO COZART KILLED. GRAHAM, Aug. 13.—Otto Cozart, connected with the Grater refinery here, was found dead alongside his car at a bridge near Ivan yesterday morning. Death was apparently the result of an accident, as the car showed signs of having hit the bridge while Mr. Cozart was enroute from Breckenridge to this city.

VISITOR TELLS TEXAS MOTOR HOW ATWELL GAS CUT FROM GOT ITS NAME 4 TO 3 GALS.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Howell and W. C. Darden, former residents of the Atwell area, were callers at the Daily Press office today. All three are patients at Brown's Sanitarium. These people are now living on the Plains. The postoffice of Mr. Howell is Morton, while Mr. Darden gets his mail at Loraine.

"We left the Cisco country a short while before the oil boom and of course noticed many changes since we lived here," Howell said. "But Cisco was a good town at that time, with good crops and good markets, but not as large as it is at present. However, I believe Cisco was really a better town then than at present," he said.

Howell recalled a number of people living in and near Cisco while they were residents of this section, among them being W. W. Foster of Atwell, who is still living and nearing the century mile post of life. He said Foster recently stated that he intends to live until the Allies win the war.

Mr. Howell expressed regret at the passing of J. M. Williamson, with whom he was well acquainted.

"Williamson was our school teacher when the postoffice at Atwell was established and he named the postoffice. Before offering a name, Williamson asked about the principal resources of the area and was told we had plenty of well water. 'That's a good name,' he said, 'so we will call it Atwell-at-the-well—' and the name was approved by the postal department and the community is still known as Atwell."

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The Chicago Tribune said today that gasoline rations for motorists in Central and Midwestern States would be cut 25 per cent at midnight Sunday.

Paul M. O'Leary, fuel rationing chief of the OPA in Washington, was said by the newspapers to have disclosed the size and plans of the reduction in a memorandum to regional OPA administrators. Details as set forth by the Tribune were:

A, B and C coupons now worth four gallons each will be cut in value to three gallons each, starting at 12:01 a. m. Monday.

The reduction applies to all motorists between the Eastern Seaboard and the Rocky Mountains but will not affect the Far West.

Harold L. Ickes, petroleum administrator for war, who said last week in Chicago a reduction was forthcoming, will broadcast reasons for the slash Sunday.

The OPA is expected to extend the restricted gasoline area from the Eastern Seaboard to Districts 2 and 3, established by the PAW. Districts 2 consists of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas, Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

District 3 embraces Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

AXIS PRISONERS—This hastily erected stockade serves as a temporary prison camp for Axis soldiers taken in the Italian invasion. Here are a few of the tens of thousands of the men from Sicily and Mussolini's armies. American military police are Capt. Alex J. Brown, Richmond, Tenn., and Sgt. Russel Snyder, Stratton, Pa.

READY-MADE FERRY—Sometimes the Army wants to go where it wants to go, in a hurry. So it sends for the Engineers. They build the go-ahead out. Here's how they carry an Army truck across water on a pontoon bridge ferry. Demonstration of Engineer equipment was held recently in New York. It was shown the ferry could be towed almost anywhere.

MUSICAL ACCOMPANIMENT—Italian prisoners arriving in London after they were captured in Sicily seem assured of music as they are checked in preparation for journey to prison camp. That fellow in center has a violin, or maybe a guitar. In front of him is an Italian sailor, who was included in this batch of captives. How he got in was not stated.

HEADED FOR MORE VICTORIES—British patrol party trudges through captured Sicilian city of Melilli, en route to more victories. Soldiers carry their equipment in packs on their backs. Sicilian city fell quickly, as Allies attacked. Red Cross marks where emergency hospital has been set up.

MRS. LILY BAUGH HONORED BY FRIENDS.

About 88 friends of Mrs. Lily Baugh assembled at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Fox on the Broadmeade highway last night to honor her retiring from the Cisco postoffice after a service of 23 years, and to bid her goodbye since she leaves there she will care for her granddaughter, Sarah Ayres. The event was planned and directed by the women's auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church.

The party was held on the lovely lawn of this modern, rambling ranch home, where every modern convenience is present, including air, electricity, cold storage unit and greenhouse. Punch was served while the honoree and guests chatted and mingled with each other.

Besides the guest book signed by all present, the honoree was presented with a lovely gift of toiletries, while Mrs. E. P. Crawford read a poem written especially for the occasion by Miss Alice Johnson, longtime friend of Mrs. Baugh. The group were called to attention by Mrs. C. H. Fee presiding at the ceremony.

It was a very congenial gathering, and the honoree said she felt honored by the expressions of friendliness of this fine group of Ciscoans, adding that she would treasure the memories of service to these people the remainder of her life. Punch was served.

Those present and registering were as follows: Mrs. C. R. Baugh, Mrs. F. F. Parish, Mrs. John Sheen, Mrs. Rex W. Moore, Mrs. Homer Stoker, Mrs. B. E. Moehardt, Mrs. Sam P. Baugh, Sam P. Baugh, H. C. MRS. TROY POWELL GROUP HOSTESS.

Group two of First Christian church council met in the home of Mrs. Troy Powell Tuesday night with Mrs. Lonnie Shockey presiding. The meeting opened with a devotional by Mrs. Randolph Lee Clark. The first psalm was used as a scripture basis and an interesting discussion of the "Happy Christian" was given.

The business session was then held and routine work was transacted. The meeting closed with the missionary benediction.

Mr. Powell passed refreshments of ice cream and cake during the social hour to Mrs. Randolph Lee Clark, Mrs. Ida Painter, Mrs. H. H. Davis, Mrs. J. R. Wright, Miss Alice Bacon, Mrs. Theresa Weddington, Mrs. George Swartz, Mrs. J. T. Waddell, Mrs. J. S. Mobley, Mrs. D. G. Alford and Mrs. Lonnie Shockey.

MRS. C. E. HAILLY HOSTESS TO CIRCLE.

Mrs. C. E. Hailey was hostess Tuesday afternoon when circle two of First Methodist women's society of Christian service met in her home on East Sixteenth street. The meeting opened with group singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," after which the meeting was turned to Mrs. Philip Pettit, program chairman, who brought the afternoon devotional from the Book of Ephesians, chapter 4, verse 6.

Mrs. Pettit passed out slips on which were written the name of a returned missionary and what he is doing. The slips were to be used as a roll call response. An interesting Bible game was played and members were asked to tell of something useful they had learned during the summer. Mrs. A. B. Byrd, vice chairman, presided during the business session in the absence of Mrs. C. A. Shockey, who was out of the city.

Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were passed to Mrs. Philip Pettit, Mrs. Sam King, Mrs. Charles Flaherty, Mrs. D. P. King, Mrs. Jimmie Allen, Mrs. T. J. Dean, Mrs. A. B. Byrd, Mrs. D. M. Carr, Frances Carr, Mrs. Bailey and a visitor, Mrs. J. M. Witten. Next meeting will be held at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Jimmie Allen on west Ninth street.

VISITOR HONORED AT TWO PARTIES.

Lucile Ricks, of Shreveport, La., granddaughter of Mrs. Inez Ricks, was honored at two parties Monday and Tuesday of this week. Monday morning Patsy Ruth King was hostess from 9:30 to 11:30 in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam P. King. Outdoor games played by the children, were pleasant diversions. Mrs. King passed a Sandwich plate with drinks to the group at conclusion of the games after which a song, "Goodbye Lucile, Goodbye," was sung to the tune of "Goodbye, My Lover."

The guest list included Lucile Ricks, Patsy Ruth Nance, Jane Huettis, Janet Ferguson, Lovell

Paul, Susie Flaherty and Patsy Ruth King.

After an hour spent in various games refreshments of ice cream were passed and favors of small evening from 6:30 to 8:30 in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ferguson, 1105 Sixth street.

Giant "Weapon" on Production Front

This huge machine set-up (above) is the installation required for the 6,000,000-lb. press in a Chevrolet aluminum forge plant, from which comes volume production of aluminum aircraft parts and propeller blades. The press itself, which is served by all the other equipment in the picture, becomes almost incidental to it in this night scene. In the foreground is the manipulator, on which an operator rides from furnace to press, transporting 1,500-lb. aluminum billets which are squeezed, or "cogged down," in the "Vee" dies of the press. In the background are the "air bottles," "air-over-water bottles" and the storage tanks which comprise the accumulator system necessary to develop and maintain the tremendous pressure for the press. The close-up at the right shows the claw of the manipulator inserting an aluminum billet into the "Vee" die.

So you can't balance your budget?

Well, it may surprise you—but the cost of electric service hasn't gone up one cent! Most everything else has, we know. And lots of other things are rationed. Not electricity, however. In fact, the average home today is getting two or three times as much as just 10 to 15 years ago for the same amount of money you used to pay.

West Texas Utilities Company

Electric Rates Are Still Low!

HOLD THAT LINE!

With Sicily almost conquered and Italy next in line, while our Flying Fortresses are bombing Germany and conquered countries by day and the R. A. F. doing nightly duty over the continent, the home front must hold the line steadily - we must not waver.

Millions of dollars are used daily in defraying that expense. We at home must furnish the cash, and bonds are the answer.

We are told that some of the rationing will be eased up. That will be well if it can be so, but the big thing is to work and sacrifice, in order to keep the line intact.
