SCHOOLING.

Four hour work-shifts for the high school young people, and four hours of school make a good hard day. But it is a day most of these boys have been working eight hours in factories will find that they can stand. And it is far better to get the four hours of school than to get three previous years up by without finishing the education the young people so greatly need.

Far-sighted industrial and business leaders will agree with education and agree with a school superintendent in a crowded industrial section of the country. "That it is far more important that you return and continue your schooling rather than remain in full-time employment."

"After the war is over and jobs are harder to find, you will probably experience difficulty in even getting those employment cards for an interview unless you can present a high school diploma. Ten years from now, those who quit school will be hard to get. I'm sorry I didn't finish my school. I wish I had it to do over again. But then it is too late."

School has the first priority over everything else. Factory and school schedules can be adjusted to meet the need.

THE DANES.

The scattering of the Danish fleet at Copenhagen shows that the Danes have not forgotten. In 1801, Napoleon, trying to invade England, cruised in the harbor of the Danish fleet. The English, according to a hint they have in things that he get there first and destroyed it. The result was to France had to sign the 1814 Napoleon's final downfall.

The Danes have good cause to remember what almost every small fleet can do. Like the French at Toulon harbor, in this war they prefer to sink their ships than have them help the enemy.

It may be national, but honor and pride are preferable to a nation's dishonorable submission to a conqueror.

FREE PRESS.

Whether a nation has the free press, freedom has been a thing to fight for. The particular Washington, however, makes every American thoroughly glad to live in a country which has freedom of the press. Any American may tell any person, except in the matter how high a place, just where he gets it. The public servant doesn't have to get off, but the critic doesn't have to get it out either.

All American may be surprised to be ashamed when critics and public men lose their temper, but bad words may be only a safety valve over all. And it that power of free criticism for the safety of the nation.

RETRIBUTION.

The impression grows among many observers that the Allied Nations are resolved to destroy Berlin, the great German capital, as an effective counter move against Germany and as an act of retribution. Some of them think the western armies carrying the war to Germany now possess the power for such a tremendous feat, or will have it soon.

If done deliberately, as part of the general conflict, it will presumably be done by air. It would be the most tremendous feat ever accomplished by aerial warfare, and might in itself drive Germany to surrender.

To most people, no doubt, the possibility still seems absurd. But it cannot be so to those frightened Berliners, fleeing by hundreds of thousands while the smoke from their burning homes belows in the two miles into the air and makes a great pall by day and a sea of fire by night.

GOVERNMENT.

The people of every country are the only safe guardians of their own rights and are the only instruments which can be used for their destruction. It is an axiom in my mind that our liberty can never be safe in the hands of the people themselves, that too of the people with a certain degree of instruction. — From Mural in Thomas Jefferson Room, Library of Congress.

Church and State.

Liberty Magazine: Though the church is prohibited by the First Amendment to the Constitution from making any law "respecting an establishment of religion," an executive branch of the government has established a religion. We recognize that these are bold words and that they will be challenged, but the fact remains that "the Naval Chaplaincy Training Program Under Plan V-12" by which the Navy has undertaken to give prospective naval chaplains training both in college and in primary training as a union of church and state. Though allowing a great deal of latitude in the choice of colleges the Navy has chosen men the work to be done during the four academic years, and will determine "the academic preparation of the candidates." Primary military training will be given only during the college course, but during the time spent in the seminary the students will remain under the authority of a naval officer for purposes of naval discipline.

When the Navy undertakes to train men in civil subjects to prepare them for greater usefulness in the service, it is perfectly within its rights. But when it undertakes to pay for the ecclesiastical education of any men from tax money levied upon all the citizens, it has distinctly and directly departed from American principles. As far as our knowledge goes, no case involving the principle here at stake has come to the Federal courts for settlement. The State courts, however, have decided many similar cases, and almost uniformly have held that public monies cannot be so used. As an example, transporting children to private and parochial schools in public-school buses has been generally held to be a wrong expenditure of tax money. The Supreme Court of the State of Washington is the latest of which we know to decide that private and parochial-school children may not be transported in public-school buses. A little while ago Oklahoma ruled against such a practice. Recently Kentucky and likewise still other cases of this kind could be cited.

LAMOUR'S ALLURE is obviously not confined to a sarong. The delectable Dottie is gorgeous in a bathing suit and, as her current picture, "Dixie" proves, can be just as glamorous in crinolines and hoop skirts. In that film she's the heart throb of Bing Crosby who plays Donald Dewar Emmett, America's original minstrel man.

APPLIANCE TROUBLE?

CALL YOUR REPAIRMAN!

Your repairman, if you stop to think, is one of the most essential workers around any industry today. You see, since the manufacture of appliances has stopped, the dealers' shelves are getting mighty empty. And that's where the repairman and you come in! The new ones that would normally be coming off the lines have gone to war. So, it's up to us to make the ones we have on hand last for the duration.

Electric appliances were made to last for many years—and they will if given proper care and servicing. By keeping your refrigerator, range, food mixer, iron, etc. in tiptop working conditions—by keeping them clean, shining, and fit—you can help win the victory on the home front.

And don't forget to call your repairman, when repairs are necessary. He's a busy man—in fact, he is already working overtime, but he'll be glad to help you, because he knows that it's up to you and him to KEEP 'EM WORKING!!

Bacon and Miss Willie Word gave talks on storing pumpkins, potatoes, dried beans and peas; Mrs. Ernest Schaefer was presented in a talk on "How to Store Green Tomatoes for Ripening" and gave the following instruction: In gathering the tomatoes, leave one inch of stem on each tomato. Cover with a solution of one ounce of paraffin and one ounce of beeswax, dissolved in two ounces of mineral oil; result will be gratifying.

Miss Gladys Martin, Eastland county home demonstration agent, gave instruction on placing home canned goods in cellars and closets. She showed why three 4-inch planks should be used instead of a 12-inch plank for arranging cans on shelves. A small space between the planks will permit air to circulate around the jars. She also stated that a cellar used for storing canned goods should have a front ventilator that reaches to the floor; instead of only one ventilator at the back. The two clubs held separate business meetings at the close of the joint session. Those present besides the above mentioned were Mrs. Ansler of Dallas, mother of Mrs. Ernest Schaefer; Mrs. D. P. King, Mrs. M. P. Farnsworth, Mrs. Blint Britain, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. John Hart and Mrs. Rudolph Schaefer.

WILD BRAHMAS BROKE UP ROPING CONTEST

Jim Sauls, who has been sponsoring a calf-roping contest on the Breckenridge highway near Cisco Sunday afternoons, was completely out of luck Sunday afternoon, but hopes to present the contest next Sunday.

Sauls stated this morning that after some 150 people had congregated Sunday afternoon for the exciting event, his Brahma calves found a weak spot in the fence, broke through and disappeared in the nearby brush. At 10 o'clock the morning the Brahmans had not been captured.

Entrance fees were refunded to all those who had paid.

SHACKELFORD COUNTY GOES DRY OCT. 9

Shackelford county, wet since 1934 with the exception of one county precinct, went dry in the election of Saturday by a majority of 86 votes.

The dry vote was 517, while the opposition secured 431 ballots.

The vote will be canvassed by the county court on Thursday of this week and the law will become effective thirty days later—October 9.

401 TEXANS AT AVIATION CADET CENTER

Public relations office at San Antonio aviation cadet center informs that two Cisco boys, Glenn Boyd and Billy C. Collins, are now engaged in the last phase of their training before they actually get behind the controls of any army plane.

Four hundred and one young men from Texas, including the two mentioned above, are now stationed at this army air forces preflight school for pilots.

Upon completion of their preflight studies Boyd and Collins will be sent to a primary flying field, there to take a new phase in their training as potential combat pilots. Basic and advanced courses will follow.

WHY?—This smiling Sicilian boy wears an Allied pamphlet in his hat which reads, "Why die for Hitler?" You can judge from his expression that he'd say "Why, indeed?"

SCHOOLS TO GET HUGE SUM

State School Supt. L. A. Woods announces from Austin that warrants will be mailed this week remitting a $6 per capita payment on the $25 state school apportionment—the largest single remittance in the history of Texas—and that another payment will be forthcoming early in October, the amount yet unknown.

The initial payment to the Cisco independent school district will total more than $9,000.

This first payment to the schools of Texas will be more than was paid the schools for each of the scholastic years from 1903 to 1908 inclusive, five times that paid in each year, 1874 to 1876 inclusive and one and a half times more than paid annually 1876 to 1901 inclusive.

The initial obligation to 1,540,000 enumerated scholastics is $9,240,000 but it will go out to a few less than 900,000 because payments are being withheld from the thirty-one counties and districts until they comply with the census and depository laws.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Coach Monroe Sweeney, who says his boys are taking hold in earnest and who has hopes of building the Cisco Lobos into a formidable fighting team this season, announces the following non-conference games:

Abilene Eagles, Sept. 18, 8 p. m., at Abilene.

Big Spring, Sept. 24, 8 p. m., Big Spring.

San Angelo, Oct. 18, 8 p. m., San Angelo.

Conference Games.

Oct. 1—Stephenville, there, night.

Oct. 8—Mineral Wells, there, night.

Oct. 22—Weatherford, here, afternoon.

Oct. 29—Brownwood, there, night.

November 11—Ranger, here, afternoon.

November 25—Breckenridge, here, afternoon.

Mr. Sweeney says an unofficial game between Eastland and Cisco will very likely be arranged for Nov. 4 or 5, at Eastland.

BRECKENRIDGE MAY HAVE ANTI BEER FIGHT

Breckenridge, where beer is sold, may be in for a red-hot local option election within the near future, but information from the county seat of Stephens county this morning indicated that by arrangement between leading citizens and business men the election may not be held.

However, a petition has been circulated by the bone-dry and the necessary number of names, 260, has been affixed to the document. Whether it will be presented to the county court remains to be seen.

'BLITZBURG' IS BLITZED—Trainees swarm into the supposed Nazi town of "Blitzburg," during maneuvers at Fort Lewis, Wash. Using live ammunition, they hit 36 out of 45 targets, hitting dummies that popped up in windows and peeked around corners.

FAST TRAIN WRECKED; 54 ARE KILLED

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Nine cars of the Pennsylvania Railroad's crack Congressional Limited, split in the middle by a derailed journal in an old-type day coach, were derailed last night in the nation's greatest railroad tragedy in 25 years.

Hundreds of rescue workers were still pulling bodies from the twisted wreckage today as the death toll mounted to 54. Many of the dead, some of them women and children, were mangled in the twisted wreckage as the seventh car of the speedy train hurtled into a steel signal girder and was split along its full length like a ripe melon.

The Pennsylvania Railroad announced this morning that 46 bodies had been removed from the wreckage, and eight more bodies were still to be recovered.

At least 100 others were injured, many of them so critically they required immediate multiple amputation of limbs. Blood plasma, speed to the wreck by the Red Cross and other agencies, was administered as surgeons operated at the scene.

The highest railroad wreck toll in the last 25 years was at Nashville, Tenn., on July 9, 1918, when 115 were killed.

English waiters, speaking of liver, heart or kidneys, call them "offal dishes." Sounds awful, too.

JR. COLLEGE OPEN SEPT. 13

Cisco Junior College will open its doors next Monday, the fourth year, with very bright prospects. This is especially true, says C. J. Turner, registrar, who says one remembers that many of the young men—who would otherwise be in college—are now with the fighting forces or, together with numerous young women, are actively engaged in some essential industry.

However, a fair enrollment is anticipated and the college will serve Cisco and the surrounding communities as fully and completely as ever. Students are coming from Eastland, Cross Plains, Pioneer and Rising Star.

The fact that students may stay at home and secure the same college training at very low cost makes the local institution unusually attractive this year, when the large saving may be placed in war bonds or otherwise kept in reserve for the unforeseen.

"We are proud of our Junior College," said one citizen this morning, "and are reassured when we remember that the people of Cisco have always backed up anything they have undertaken."

R. N. Cluck is president and O. L. Stamey is dean of this growing institution.

JACK McWHORTER IS WEST POINT CADET

John C. (Jack) McWhorter, Jr., son of Mrs. John C. McWhorter of Edinburg, Tex., and grandson of Mrs. W. E. McWhorter of Cisco is now a cadet at West Point military academy, New York, where he entered with the new class as of July 1.

Cadet McWhorter, 17, will spend three years at West Point and, upon completion of his work, will be commissioned a lieutenant in the army.

McWhorter was graduated as an "honorable" student from Edinburg high school and then attended three semesters at A. and M. College, where he was designated "distinguished student" in two of the three semesters in recognition of outstanding scholastic achievement.

ELLIOTT'S INCREASE THEIR LAND HOLDINGS

B. A. and Ray Elliott, Moran ranchers, have purchased what is known as the Wall Pasture, which was placed on the market recently. The tract of land consists of 3,650 acres on Battle creek, partly in Shackelford and partly in Stephens counties and is located near Ibex. It joins the Elliott ranch on the east.

Wall Pasture was patented to H. F. Gillette by the state of Texas. In 1880 the late Sam Webb of Albany was agent for the Gillette estate and leased this land to a sheep herder named Wall, who pastured sheep on it, and since that date it has been called the Wall Pasture. It was about this time that the land was fenced and no longer an open range.

In 1904 Edward Stephens, father of W. H. Stephens of Albany, purchased the pasture and in 1919 formed the Wall Pasture company, which owned the land at the time it was acquired by the Elliott brothers.

GERMANS SAY RAIN WILL SOON CHECK REDS; THAT NAZI WINTER QUARTERS ARE PREPARED

MOSCOW, Sept. 7.—Virtually all organized resistance collapsed in the Don's basin and the Russians swiftly are pushing the battered German armies toward the Dnieper.

What may have been the last German defense position along the Dnieper river bend collapsed with the fall of the railroad station of Slavyansk, Kramatorsk, and Konstantinovka, with a line stretching 60 miles north from Stalino.

More than two-thirds of the Donets Basin, Russia's richest agricultural and mining area, already has been freed and Slavyansk, 12th city in the Soviet Union and the Basin's industrial capital, was almost within grasp of the Red Army following the capture of Makeevka, only 1 1/2 miles to the northeast.

A Swiss report published in the Stockholm newspaper Nya Dagligt Allehandan said the Germans already have begun to evacuate Stalino, while a Moscow broadcast heard in London placed Russian troops within the suburbs of the city.

The Nazi-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau reported from Berlin that the Germans were continuing their "elastic" withdrawal along the entire length of the central and southern fronts in Russia, but quoted a German military spokesman as saying that autumn rains within a few weeks would impede operations in Russia. Winter, he said, would find the Germans in well-prepared positions.

With the smashing of the Stalino-Slavyansk line, the Russians surged out across open plains in close pursuit of the enemy.

Midway on the vast front, the Russians seized Konotop, one of the main defense bastions guarding the German stronghold of Kiev, 127 miles to the southwest and the capital of the Ukraine. The Communist newspaper Pravda said the rumble of artillery already could be heard in Kiev.

The capture of Makeevka doomed Stalino, for Makeevka virtually is a suburb of the larger city and controls most of the railways radiating from it. The German garrison already has fired Stalino in apparent preparations for evacuation.

20,000 JAPANESE DEMOCRATIC ARE TRAPPED BOSSES SAID BY ALLIES TO FAVOR FD

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 7.—Allied paratroopers who closed a trap on 20,000 Japanese on the New Guinea coast have captured an airport in the Markham Valley deep in enemy-held territory, it was announced today.

The landing strip, one of several in the area, was seized soon after the Americans and Australians parachuted into the valley Sunday under supervision of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who accompanied their transports in a Flying Fortress.

The maneuver hemmed in the Japanese troops along a stretch of coast nearly 50 miles long. They face annihilation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—When President Roosevelt called Columnist Drew Pearson a chronic liar, the chief executive was thinking and talking about the Hull-Welles feud and how Mr. Pearson accused Secretary of State Hull of having an anti-Russian attitude.

In his broadcast, however, Mr. Pearson flatly predicted that "President Roosevelt positively will not run for a fourth term."

Applying the FDR yardstick of chronic liar to that prediction would make the fourth term attempt almost inevitable.

Even some old-line Democrats now are urging it, for they believe that President Roosevelt's renomination is the only chance the party has of winning in 1944. So there may be a far more sincere "draft Roosevelt" movement next year than the one cooked up by Harry L. Hopkins and other New Dealers in 1940.

City Democratic bosses everywhere are for the fourth term—Kelly of Chicago, Hague of Jersey City, Crump of Memphis, and so on down the line.

Church and State. Liberty Magazine. Though the congress is prohibited by the First Amendment to the Constitution from making any law "respecting an establishment of religion," an executive branch of the government has established a religion. We recognize that these are bold words and that they will be challenged; but the fact remains that the Naval Chaplaincy Training Program Under Plan V-12, by which the Navy has undertaken to give prospective naval chaplains training both in college and in seminary courses, is a union of church and state. Though allowing a good deal of latitude in the choice of colleges, the Navy has agreed upon the work to be done in the four academic years, and will determine the academic preparation of the candidates. Purely military training will be given only during the college course, but during the time spent in the seminary the students will remain under the authority of a naval officer for purposes of naval discipline.

When the Navy undertakes to train men in civil subjects to prepare them for greater usefulness in the service, it is perfectly within the bounds of its duty.

FREE PRESS. Whether a fellow likes the way Drew Pearson has been cutting up or not, this particular Washington bull-over makes every American thoroughly glad he lives in a country which has freedom of the press. Any American may tell any public servant, in no matter how high a place, just where to get off. The public servant doesn't have to get off, but the critic doesn't have to go to jail, either.

An American may be viciously ashamed when critics and public men lose their tempers, but but words may be only a safety valve after all. And in that power of free criticism lies the safety of the nation.
