CAMP BOWIE OPEN TO CIVILIANS OCT. 1

What is termed a Civilian Tour, featuring the Army Service Forces, will be held at Camp Bowie, Friday, October 1, beginning at 8 a. m. of that day, says a communication from Col. Frank E. Bonney, who extended a special invitation to the Daily Press. The task of supplying and equipping the thousands of soldiers at Camp Bowie provides an interesting insight to activities of the Army Service Forces and first-hand inspection of these installations should be highly enjoyable and educational to all civilians.

M. H. SPOON DIED SUDDENLY AT NOON

M. H. Spoon, 73, Cisco resident for many years and a former employe of the city, died suddenly about noon today at the home of a daughter, Mrs. J. D. Strawn, on E. Sixteenth street. Mr. Spoon was taken ill earlier in the morning while down town. He walked into the Commercial Printing office and asked Floyd Shepard for a drink of water. Mr. Shepard seated him and procured the water. However, deciding that he was in a bad way, Shepard called Roy Huffmyer and the sick man was placed in a car and taken to his home by Mr. Huffmyer. Death followed soon after his arrival home.

The body is in charge of Thomas funeral home and no arrangements for funeral and burial had been made at 2 o'clock this afternoon, pending word from out-of-town members of the family.

Deceased leaves three daughters—Mrs. Jess Taylor and Mrs. J. R. Burnham, Lubbock, and Mrs. J. D. Strawn, Cisco—and one son, W. C. Spoon, who resides in the county near Cisco, but is at present employed on defense work at Houston. There are also 17 grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Mr. Spoon was regarded as an excellent citizen.

MUST ALWAYS FIGHT BATTLE FOR DEMOCRACY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 21.—When the roll call of the Grand Army of the Republic was read Sunday to open the 78th annual convention, only twenty men who marched with Lincoln's hosts could rise and answer "here."

National Commander John S. Dumsor, 96, of Oakland, Calif., called the Union veterans of the war between the states to order in the formal opening of a scheduled five-day convention — what may prove to be the final gathering.

Chief Justice Marvin Rosenbergy of the Wisconsin supreme court, speaking at memorial services for Union dead, told the veterans that now, more than 78 years after Appomattox, it is hard to realize the service they did the world by binding together the ruptured republic.

"But the battle for democracy was not won then and will not be won at the end of this war," Justice Rosenbergy said. "We must always keep fighting it."

SOCIAL SECURITY PLANS GO TOO FAR

FT. WORTH, Sept. 21.—Government plans for social security and government controls over business were attacked by De Loss Walker of Chicago, former associate editor of Liberty Magazine, in a Jaycee-sponsored appearance at Will Rogers Memorial auditorium.

"Life begins with a struggle," he asserted. "I believe the Creator intended for us to struggle for what we obtain in this world. I don't believe government should plan for my security, pension and funeral expense. We should not plan to take from the successful man's earnings to support those who are too lazy to work."

Walker cited free enterprise as the foundation of the American way of life. He called it "the fifth freedom."

FULL-FLEDGED SECOND FRONT A CERTAINTY WHEN THE TIME COMES, SAYS MR. CHURCHILL

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Surveying the entire war picture with confidence, Prime Minister Churchill today told parliament that:

1. Not a moment was lost needlessly in the operations against Italy and except for the failure of Italian guards to do their assigned duty Benito Mussolini would have been shot when Hitler's agents rescued him at Gran Sasso.
2. American forces have landed on the Island of Sardinia to assist Italian troops who drove the German garrison over to Corsica, now being occupied by French units.
3. A tripartite conference of representatives of the United States, Britain and Russia will take place "at an early date" and no question will be barred from discussion. Any differences will be set aside for a conference of President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and the prime minister himself.
4. The Allies are prepared to place large armies in Italy and to deploy a weighty and active fighting front against the enemy on whatever line he chooses, to resist and to maintain against him with increasing weight and vigor if need be through the fall and winter.
5. A French army of 300,000 to 400,000 is being steadily organized and the Battleship Richelieu will soon take its place in the French fleet.

Allied forces will steam into Nazi Europe from the west and open a gigantic second front to crush Nazism and Prussian militarism for all time, Churchill promised.

But, he added, this invasion will take place only when the Allied high command is ready for it. Great Britain "will not be led into taking vast measures in order to gain political unanimity or cheer from any quarter."

Churchill coupled his promise of a full-fledged second front in Europe with a blunt notice to Hitler that Nazi Germany has forfeited the right to lenient armistice terms such as granted to conquered Italy.

In a lengthy report on the war and its progress during which he characterized Allied blows in the Mediterranean as mere preludes to the main attack on Germany from the west, Churchill echoed the statement of President Roosevelt that Prussian militarism as well as Nazism must be destroyed.

The Mediterranean battlefield, Churchill said, is a "third front." A second front already exists potentially, he said, adding: "It has not yet been thrown into play. That time is coming."

"The second front is rapidly gathering weight but has not yet been engaged," Churchill continued.

"It is here where we are holding forces. No one can tell and certainly I am not going to hint as to the moment when this front will be engaged. But the second front exists and is the main preoccupation already with the enemy."

Churchill bitterly attacked the Nazis for turning Italy into a battleground for Nazi rear-guards "to be pillaged and terrorized in Hitler's-fury and revenge."

The Italian people, he said, "will be rescued from their state of servitude and degradation and will be enabled, in due course, to regain their rightful place among the free democracies of the modern world."

"I may be asked, would you apply this line of argument to the German people?" the prime minister continued. "I say the case is different."

"Nazi tyranny and Prussian militarism are the two main elements in German life which must be absolutely destroyed. They must be rooted out of Europe."

"Until this is done there are no sacrifices we will not make and no lengths in violence to which we will not go."

"I am sure the British, American and Russian peoples will this time take steps to put it beyond the power of Prussia or all of Germany to come at them with pentup vengeance and long-nurtured plans."

REDS OUTGENERAL GERMANS AT SMOLENSK

MOSCOW, Sept. 21.—German forces at the northern end of the central front battled desperately today to stem a surprise Red thrust northeast of Smolensk which has flanked and now seriously menaces the rear lifelines of that pivotal Nazi bastion. Sudden strengthening of the northern pincers on Smolensk was accompanied by advances all along

NEWSPAPERS.

There is a newspaper creed—an attitude toward the job—which I learned as a kid for I grew up in a small-town newspaper office in the last days of the era of "personal journalism" when Miriam Halstead was teaching the trade, and a newspaper was made great and famous by the character, gentleness and consistency of one man, William Allen White of the Emporia Gazette. It is not the last link in that tree," says Robert Quillen in Publishers' Syndicate.

The creed is something like this: A newspaper is not a mere private enterprise but a kind of public institution, and those who produce it through paid or private enterprise are executive servants of the public.

If a newspaper did not think that print the news, accurate and without bias it would render a great and necessary service. But readers who wish to be fully informed, ask something more.

The full significance of the news may not be apparent unless some competent person interprets and analyzes it and gives its background and tells why it happened and what the probable results will be. This is the job of the editorial page, and America has a lot of editors that are distinguished and truly enlightening.

The commentator, whatever his title, is no smarter or better educated than his readers, but he is a specialist whose job is to provide information. It is his business to know—and to let others be told.

The doctor may not be more intelligent or have greater knowledge than his patients, but he knows the science of healing, which they do not, and they go to him because of his superior knowledge that gives them the best of themselves.

As the big newspaper says in its secretary: "Get me all available information concerning the matter and the data I'll send to you as promptly as the results say to the newspaper." Give me the news and I'll be the only one to know what's going on in the world of my own time, to be up on the information, and to give you the news that will help you to know.

That is the kind of free press which Jefferson believed and which our government is based on. It is not a mere business, it is a public duty, and it is the responsibility of every citizen when it comes to the news.

FATHERS.

The nation is in a war, and the military men to be ready. The fundamental duty of every citizen is to support the war effort. The nation is in a war, and the military men to be ready. The fundamental duty of every citizen is to support the war effort.

Army authorities face facts and accept logic. The nation has imposed on them the task of winning this war, and they will do what the time and situation require. The experts say that an army of 7,000,000 men is required. There are not enough boys of military age available immediately for the job, and the job is urgent. So the army will go over the edge of boyhood and take what family men are needed, and fit for the job.

The army command will not merely be following examples set in previous wars. It will be doing what a great many of the men directly involved think should be done, even if they are not saying so.

It is impossible to believe that the mature men of this generation want young boys to do all their fighting for them.

WAR COSTS.

Uncle Sam is spending so much money on the war these days that it seems as if no country could spend more.

Anybody guessing that idea is wrong. Russia has spent more, though we are catching up. It is figured that Russia has spent $106,000,000,000. Her war expenditures began back in 1931. She is estimated as now spending $30,000,000,000 per year.

Our own figures are $125,000,000,000 up to date. With current expenditures figured to hit the $100,000,000,000 mark during the present fiscal year alone, we shall soon pass Russia like an arrow leaving a trail.

These are business, not war costs, because money. When Russia's vast assets in human life are considered, our own are considered as they have been so far seem like a trifle.

ITALY.

Who will take Italy after the war? It is easier to say who will not. If there should still be a king, he is not likely to come of the present ruling house of Savoy.

King Victor Emmanuel III was recently described by a Roman historian as worse than Mussolini. He is a cynical, selfish, dirty old man. Having tagged along after Mussolini for 20 years, he naturally shares the Duke's unpopularity. His son, Crown Prince Humbert, has given up all of the qualities necessary to restore a demoralized and devastated land.

Since the House of Savoy ranked among Europe's crowned heads, Victor Emmanuel II, under whom Italy was freed and united, has some claim in history as "Il Re Giustissimo," which might be translated "The king who was a regular guy." His successors have taken badly away from his standard.

Finally, the French Bourbon dynasty began well, and ended as usual. The Russian Romanovs is pictured in the same way. Other royal things, eventually come to the end of their vitality and are out. That may also be true of royal houses.

J. C. PENNEY SOLD A HUGE AMOUNT BONDS

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has just telegraphed the J. C. Penney company congratulations on the magnificent job of bond selling when the company's 1941 sales turned in during July last July the Penney company sold $1-2 million dollars in war stamps and bonds. This year, in an attempt to surpass the 1942 figures, a quota of ten million dollars was set. The complete report for July, which was forwarded to Mr. Morgenthau last week, announced the amazing total of $42,335,816.85, or four times the quota set for the campaign, and very nearly five times the figure of the preceding year. In this one month, Penney stores sold 25 percent more in bonds and stamps than in merchandise. In terms of war equipment, this means 300 fighter planes, 200 light tanks, a destroyer and 5 submarines.

News of this July achievement, together with telegram of congratulations, were released at a time when the Penney company was engaged in an all-out endeavor to go over the top again this September in the Third War Loan Drive.

While the company average of bond sales for July amounted to 125 percent of its merchandise sales, individual stores and individual states turned in far greater percentages.

Army, navy, coast guard and marine men and women, governors, senators, mayors and stars of stage, screen and radio appeared at Penney stores from coast to coast during the campaign. One store auctioned off baseballs for bonds, autographed by the New York Yankees, the Brooklyn Dodgers, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Washington Senators!

Many of the Penney company's own 4674 men and women in service appeared, among them such outstanding heroes as Lt. Bob Smith, of Stephenville, Texas, pilot of the Flying Fortress "Dearly Beloved," that accounted for eleven German fighter planes on one bombing raid.

Not only Penney window space, but advertising space as well, was given over generously to the Bond sales cause. Tens of thousands of column inches of newspaper advertising urged the purchase of bonds.

DALLAS FEARS BOOTLEG BEER IF PRICE CUT

DALLAS, Sept. 21.—If Dallas beer prices are cut back to the same levels now enforced in Fort Worth, there will be a widespread outbreak of bootlegging.

This warning was left with the OPA Tuesday by an attorney for a group of wholesale and retail beer dealers.

Most beer is now sold in Dallas at prices ranging from 15 to 21 cents, while night clubs charge a quarter a bottle regardless of brand, it was brought out. The OPA has indicated it would like to roll back prices to the Fort Worth ceilings of 13 and 18 cents.

Why covet gadgets and luxuries that will be obsolete after the war? Well, we may be obsolete by that time, too.

OK HUMBLE CONTRACT WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Defense Plant Corporation announced today it had authorized a contract with Humble Oil and Refining Company, Houston, to provide facilities in Texas at a cost approximating $2,750,000.

MINOR RAIDS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Japanese planes raiding American positions on Guadalcanal in the Solomons caused slight damage and minor casualties, the Navy reported today. The raid the third in a week upon Guadalcanal, apparently was of the same variety and probably was carried out by bombing planes on a reconnaissance mission.

It is a sad commentary on humanity, but the ordinary man al-

Wheat Will Invaade Europe When Victory Comes

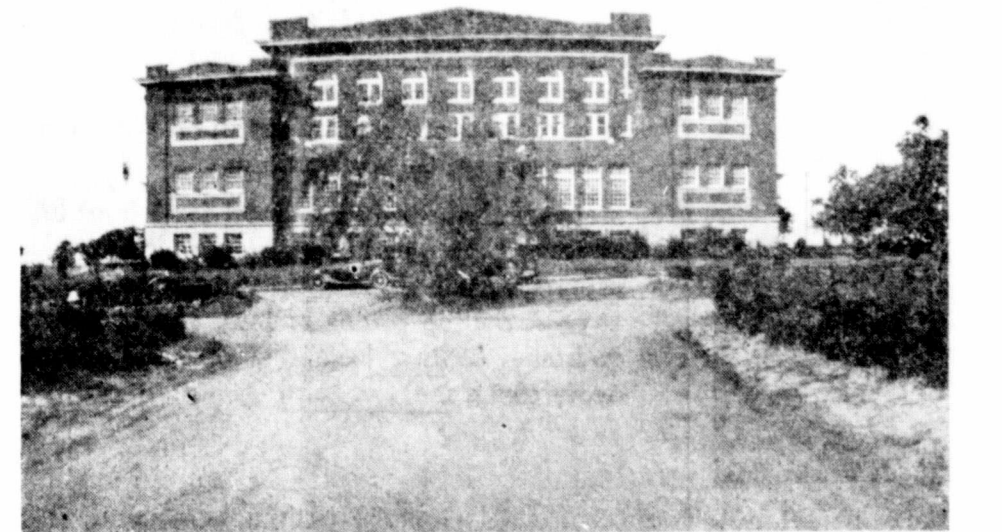

Other countries will draw upon the Dominion's huge surplus which is now close to 800,000,000 bushels as a result of the heaviest crop in Canadian history in 1942—592,700,000 bushels—and another large crop in 1943; but much wheat is needed in wartime and will be required even more urgently in the post-war period.

The gross value of Canadian agricultural production, estimated at more than $2,000,000,000 in 1942, has reached its highest point since 1919. The war has been the means of showing what Canadian and American farmers can do in the way of record-shattering production when given the "full speed ahead" signal.

Canada has given to Greece 5,476,211 bushels of wheat. As a gift of the Canadian people fifteen thousand tons of wheat go regularly to that country every month. In addition, the Dominion has extended a $10,000,000 credit to Russia covering purchases of Canadian wheat and flour.

NOTICE TO MOTORISTS

We Have PLENTY MECHANICS. We have been fortunate in securing the services of three new mechanics to add to our staff, which enables us to offer a more prompt and efficient mechanical service to our patrons.

The recent additions are Mr. Pete Clements, formerly with the Cisco War Training School; Mr. Walter Wright, formerly employed by Shobal Houston, and Mr. H. C. Ables, of Carbon. Old shop employes are Fred Hays, E. S. Townsend, Reed McKeen and Milton Cook. Mr. Alvin Wende, formerly with the U. S. Armed Forces, is parts room supervisor.

The fact that we still have the most needed parts, also aids in this service to you.

If your car is going to require some mechanical repair, or tuning for the winter, it would be well for you to have it done now while workmen and parts may be had. Every day you use the car that needs attention, serves to make the need for repair greater and the expense more.

"I'm Not Dreamin' of a Utopia!"

"Indeed, I'm not!" the soldier said, as he lifted his head high and looked into the future.

"I'm dreaming of something much more real and much more American than that! I'm dreaming of an OPPORTUNITY," he continued, "of the chance to make a living the American way—working till I'm tired, but very happy, the way my Dad always has.

"That's what all of us soldiers are dreaming about. Honest, we don't want dole or charity. We just want to be back in our own home towns in the little yellow houses on Main Street making a living down at Joe's garage, while we're saving money to buy one of our own.

"This American way of living, this system of free enterprise, has certainly done a wonderful thing for the war—take the electric industry for example—90% of all the electric power supplying the munitions is being produced by companies like the one in my home town. That same company serves lots of home towns, and it's doing a big job for all of us soldiers by perpetuating freedom of enterprise.

"That's the opportunity we soldiers are dreaming about. It's bred into the very soul of American life. It means that any man or woman is free to create a business that fills a particular need in my town or any other community, just so long as they give the best possible service at the lowest possible cost to the most people.

"That's what I'm fighting for!
"That's what I'm dreamin' about!"
