FALL OF DNEPROPETROVSK, MELITOPOL NEAR

LOBOES LOST TO KANGAROOS, 27 TO NOTHING

In a game that failed to display the fire shown in the Mineral Wells bout by the Loboes, they went down in defeat Friday afternoon to the tune of 27 to 0. Weatherford Kangaroos held the edges over the Loboes throughout the game.

Cisco attempted six passes, completing four, while Weatherford attempted three, completing none and having two intercepted. Cisco made two first downs with Weatherford making 14. Cisco was penalized 15 yards, while Weatherford was penalized 35 yards. The Loboes, however, refused to accept one 5-yard penalty assessed against the Kangaroos.

Some color was added to the game by the presence of Privates Paul Mosley and H. F. Litchfield, Loboes of 1942, to whom the game was dedicated. They wore the forest green of the U. S. Marine corps.

Sgt. Dennis King, Lobo tracker, was present wearing his wings and Lieut. Wendell Russell was also in the group.

Dorothy Jean Anderson and Peggy Jean Gallagher of T. W. C. Fort Worth, yell leaders of 1942, led the pep squad in some yells. Local pep leaders were Winwood Tichenor, Gloria Henson, Betty Grist and Jeanette Myrick. They were dressed in black skirts and gold sweaters, wearing gold chrysanthemums tied with black ribbons.

Starting lineup for the Loboes were Hays, R. Ramsower, Cleveland, Posey, Reese, W. Baum, Sorenson, Tipton, Tompkins, Johnson and Rupe.

CEILING ON CATTLE MAY COME BOON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—An order establishing price ceilings on live cattle—long a highly controversial issue—is reported to be on Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson's desk today awaiting approval.

The order, drawn up by the Office of Price Administration, is said to embody a maximum price of $16 per hundredweight on beef cattle.

A ceiling on live beef would establish a second major producer-to-consumer program of price control on livestock.

A ceiling of $14.75 per hundredweight on live hogs is the only meat ceiling at the producer level to date.

WALLACE IS MAKING HIT WITH LABOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Watch Wallace! That's the word from Democratic politicians on Capitol Hill.

The vice president, long counted by the "experts" as a dead duck, with no chance to get on the party ticket in 1944 even of FDR runs, is executing a shrewd political maneuver, they believe.

He's making a series of regional speeches—Detroit, Chicago, Dallas, and next Cleveland—and is setting himself up as the only man high in government who's in there fighting for the "little fellows," labor and minority groups.

TAX ON SALES SUGGESTED BY SEN. GEORGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Congressional emphasis shifted Saturday to proposals for a national retail sales tax, after the House Ways and Means Committee turned thumbs down on any further increases in individual income taxes.

Senator George of Georgia, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, announced that "if the Treasury were willing to withdraw active opposition, I'm inclined to think Congress would accept a five per cent sales tax as a war measure."

The ways and means group, which originates tax legislation, voted 16 to 8 Friday against all proposals to increase burdens on personal incomes. It was decided though to repeal the victory tax and adjust normal income tax to pick up the $3,200,000,000 net now derived from the victory levy.

This threw out completely the Administration's proposal to collect $6,300,000,000 additional from individuals.

DEAN BUYS CLARK SERVICE STATION

The Texas Service Station, better known as the A. V. Clark station, has been purchased by W. E. (Dizzy) Dean from Jack Elkins and will be under the management of Mrs. Dean, who will be assisted by Bart Maxwell.

The business is located on Eighth street, opposite the Palace theater, and the official opening date has been set for next Thursday, October 28. Mrs. Dean and Mr. Maxwell extend a cordial invitation to their friends and all former customers of the station to call Thursday, inspect the station and get acquainted. They will specialize in washing and greasing jobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reeves have been notified of the transfer of their son, Pvt. Andrew P. (Jack) Reeves, 18, from Camp Claiborne, La., to Camp Sutton, N. C. He is with the engineer corps.

MARY ENTERTAINS TOMMIES—Anti-aircraft men of British Royal Artillery meet former film star Mary Pickford, at "Pickfair," her Hollywood home. Seasoned veterans of Nazi air battles, these men are touring U. S. to instruct Americans.

RAIL ROAD MEN TO VOTE ON STRIKE

Railroad union officials prepared to order a strike vote by 350,000 operating employees Saturday as the spread of coal mine strikes accelerated in Alabama, Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, and Indiana.

A survey indicated that more than 35,000 miners were out of the pits in the five states.

Representatives of four of the "Big Five" railroad operating brotherhoods agreed to poll their memberships on whether to strike. Officials of the fifth and most powerful union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, indicated it would follow suit. All five unions rejected a four-cent hourly wage increase recommended by the government last month.

It will require a month to poll the vote.

WAR CHEST FUND IS SHY ABOUT $500

S. H. Nance, chairman of the local War Chest Fund drive, announced Saturday that approximately $2,000 of the $2,500 quota had been paid in.

Many of the committeemen could not devote time to the soliciting task Saturday, else the quota might have been reached. Mr. Nance said he thought that with intensive effort Monday and Tuesday the drive can be completed in fine shape.

CLINIC GAVE 118,943 FREE TREATMENTS

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—A total of 112,421 treatments for syphilis and 6,322 for gonorrhea were given without cost at the free clinic sponsored by the city health department at Parkland hospital during the year ended Oct. 2.

The clinic received 3,034 new cases of syphilis and 917 of gonorrhea during the year. Officials released 1,613 persons after arresting or curing cases of syphilis and 304 of gonorrhea.

In addition to treatments the clinic staff made thousands of examinations, and 7,251 visits to check up on cases.

MACARTHUR RETIREMENT BE BAD POLITICS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The political aspect of any attempt to retire General MacArthur is "loaded with dynamite," the Army and Navy Register, unofficial service publication, said Saturday.

MacArthur, commander of United Nations army forces in the South Pacific, reaches the statutory Army retirement age of 64 next Jan. 26.

The Register commented that under a recently adopted policy officers known to be physically and mentally capable of holding commands are retained beyond the age limit.

"Entirely aside from his military attainments," the Register said, "his success with inadequate personnel and material in directing operations against the armed savages of Nippon, and the fact that he is ready to proceed further toward the realization of his ambition to lead a victorious army into the Philippines, the political aspect is loaded with dynamite."

MacArthur, the Register says, has ranked high in recent polls as a potential Republican Presidential candidate and "enjoys widespread admiration and popularity at home."

"Nobody believes that the Administration in such circumstances, would bring him home at any time before the Presidential election in the Autumn of 1944," the Register said.

WALLACE AIDE VISITS GOV. STEVENSON

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—Harold Young of Dallas, assistant to Vice President Wallace, spent Friday in Austin on business and not to make any political explanation, he asserted.

An invitation to visit Wallace did not reach the governor until after Atty. Gen. Gerald Mann, prospective opponent of Stevenson, announced his acceptance to see the vice president, but the governor sent Wallace a welcoming telegram.

"I don't have to explain anything to Coke," said Young, who has been a strong friend of the governor's and still is, he indicated.

Mann, who fired a broadside at Stevenson and accused him of being out of step with the national democratic administration to such an extent as to disqualify him from continuing as governor of this democratic state, was thought to be angling for the blessing of President Roosevelt in a contest for governor of Texas, but said it positively had not been discussed with Wallace in Dallas.

Stevenson's record on rationing, sometimes critical of its application to Texas conditions, apparently has not alienated the friendship of Young for the latter declared "I like Governor Stevenson, Sam Rayburn and everybody." Young was taking no sides at least this early, in a torrid governor's race that might develop in Texas.

The governor and Young engaged in a friendly conversation at the executive mansion before Stevenson left Friday afternoon for Temple to visit McCloskey General hospital and fill other engagements there at the invitation of army officers.

KARL SIMMONS ILL.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 23.—T. Karl Simmons, Tulsa oilman, was named principal heir by County Judge James P. Melone of the $80,000 estate of his wife, Mrs. Blanche O. Simmons, socialite slain March 25 in a Tulsa hotel, Mrs. Ella Howard, Fort Worth divorcee, was acquitted on a manslaughter charge in Mrs. Simmons' death. Simmons is now critically ill in a Fort Worth hospital.

VICIOUS COUNTER-ATTACKS BY GERMANS SLOW BUT DO NOT HALT REDS' ADVANCE

MOSCOW, Oct. 23.—The fall of Dnepropetrovsk, biggest industrial center in the south-central Ukraine, was believed near today as a Russian flanking column drove ahead six miles and approached the last escape railroad left in Nazi hands.

Military observers believed the Nazi garrison must abandoned the city immediately, if it is not already too late, or face annihilation.

The Russians already have outflanked Dnepropetrovsk from the rear in their thrust more than halfway across the Nazi bulge, posing a mounting threat of entrapment to a total force of 500,000 to 1,000,000 Nazi troops in the southern Ukraine and the Crimea.

The fate of Dnepropetrovsk was believed all but sealed yesterday when the Russians cut the Dnepropetrovsk-Krivoy Rog railroad and drove to within 25 miles of the Dnepropetrovsk-Nikolaev line, the only railroad from the city now in German hands.

Red Air Force planes hammered the Nikolaev line with hundreds of tons of bombs in an effort to disrupt any evacuation attempt.

Widening and deepening their bridgehead across the Dnieper bulge, the Russians captured more than 50 towns and villages yesterday.

Front reports said the Germans were fighting to the last man in some sectors. Comparatively few prisoners were being taken.

The reduction of Melitopol, German bastion guarding the northeastern gateway to the Crimea 115 miles below Dnepropetrovsk, likewise seemed only a matter of days.

ALLIES SMASH FORWARD TO-WARDS ROME

ALGIERS, Oct. 23.—The 8th Army in Italy smashed forward Saturday on the central sector of the battlefield to gain control of a new commanding height after American artillery repulsed a Nazi counter-attack and destroyed a number of tanks.

The enemy counter-assault was made in the Alite area where American troops are pounding the Germans in an effort to turn the Nazi west flank shielding Rome. The Germans also staged a small counter-attack against British forces at Montecitone, but were driven back quickly and with losses.

A new gain on the 8th Army front to the east was scored when British troops captured the town of Lupara.

MAC'S MEN KILL MANY JUNGLE JAPS

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 23.—Allied Liberator bombers flattened enemy positions and a force of several thousand Japanese troops concentrated northwest of Finschhafen, New Guinea, under the weight of 221 tons of explosives.

It was the greatest mass attack of the New Guinea campaign, and a spokesman at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters indicated that casualties ran high among the enemy troops cowering in their jungle positions.

OUT OF DANGER.

Capt. and Mrs. Theron J. Graves and his sister, Miss Martha Graves of Corcoran, Calif., will leave for home today. They were called to Cisco by the illness of his nephew, Jackie Graves, age two, who is being treated for infantile paralysis in a Ft. Worth hospital. Mrs. T. A. Graves, the child's grandmother, Mrs. C. B. Hopkins and little Juddie Jean Hopkins, just back from Ft. Worth, report the patient as out of danger.

LLOYD GEORGE MARRIES SECRETARY, 55

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Eighty-year-old David Lloyd George, Britain's prime minister in World War I, was married today to Miss Frances Stevenson, who has been his private secretary since 1913. She is 55.

Miss Stevenson became his secretary in 1913 after his daughters by his first marriage brought her home from school with them. She accompanied him to the peace conference after the first world war and was known as "the blond bewilderment" to Allied statesmen who could not understand how such a beautiful woman could be a secretary.

WRIGHT RETURNS HOME.

Rev. J. R. Wright, accompanied by Mrs. Wright, arrived home Friday night from Post, where he has been for the past ten days in a revival at the First Christian church of that 1,500 town. There were a number of additions to the membership and the interest was good, the Cisco minister stated.

PROGRESS.

The Four Freedoms and the Atlantic Charter to some of us appear rather vague and unrealizable. For such people the Rev. Herbert Hitchen of West Newton, Mass., has a question to consider. "Do you think," he asks, "that the Declaration of Independence was the statement of something fully grasped? All we have yet accomplished, after all these years, is but a rough working accommodation to the principles yet involved?"

McKENNA.

Reginald McKenna, dead at 80, was a highly successful London banker with a liberal viewpoint. Before World War I he was a pillar in the great reforming administration of Herbert H. Asquith.

Asquith had his faults as a war leader, but in one respect he led them all: the appointment of brilliant officials. Sir Edward Grey, the peace-loving Foreign Minister; Lord Haldane, whose reorganization of the army enabled England to go successfully through the war; Lloyd George and Winston Churchill—all served under Asquith. Not the least among them, in English opinion, was McKenna.

It was England's loss that the quarrel between Asquith and Lloyd George lost McKenna to public service.

AUTOMOBILES

How many automobiles does a family need? This may soon become a serious question. Cars still in service are estimated at more than 20 millions, but they are wearing out rapidly. A real scarcity exists, and it will grow steadily worse.

So, it is rumored, people with two cars in the family may soon be faced with a demand that they prove their need of such abundant transportation. It is even suggested that a "squeeze play" may be invoked, in the process of refusing gasoline to people who have cars they don't need. It would often be a delicate problem, however, to decide whether the extra car was needed. In many cases an old car is used thriftily to save a better one. What would a disinterested person say about that?

HULL'S WARNING.

Diplomats are traditionally supposed to hide their meaning behind clouds of words. The plain man often cannot tell what a given diplomatic document means.

Refreshingly different are the notes sent by Secretary Hull to the French government in June, 1940, according to official announcement just given out. France was surrendering to Germany at the time, and apparently about to yield all her resources, even her fleet. To stiffen the French backbone Secretary Hull wrote:

"Should the French government fail to take steps, and permit the French fleet to be surrendered to Germany, the French government will permanently lose the friendship and good will of the government of the United States."

Pretty plain speaking that, but it did the work. The fleet was not surrendered. In October 1940, when there seemed near likelihood that the Germans might get the French ships after all, Mr. Hull told the French ambassador that if that happened, "the United States could make no effort, when the appropriate time came, to exercise its influence to insure to France the retention of her overseas possessions."

All this, too, while we were still at peace with Germany. The clearly foreseen certainty that some day soon we would not be, was of the greatest benefit when war came. The pressure on France before we entered the war was one of the most important of all our war measures.

DEFEATISM.

"What do I care about the war?" This question, startlingly enough, appears in a German newspaper, the Nationalzeitung of Augsburg. It is put in the mouth of "stupid people," who are apparently numerous enough in Germany to make it worth while to denounce them.

The full quotation is even more revealing: "What do I care about the war? I didn't want it. Let those fight who asked for it. What do I care? I have nothing to lose and nothing to gain." This passage appeared as far back as August 21, before the Russians had reached the Dnieper. What must these people be thinking and saying now? For the Nationalzeitung's final remark is absolutely true: "The longer the war lasts, the more people waver and weaken."

AMERICAN HEROES BY LEFF

As our guns groped blindly for vital enemy targets in Tunisia, Sergeant Donald V. Peterson of South Minneapolis crept beyond our lines. Snipers and machine guns raked the ground, but he pushed on, soaked forward into view of our targets. Sheltered from withering fire by one small bush, he radioed fire commands and our guns battered the enemy. His country recognized Peterson's bravery with the Silver Star. You can recognize it with another War Bond.

MAN IN SERVICE

Does this sign hang in your window?

It does hang in many windows over the nation signifying that there is a son, husband or brother fighting the battles for the perpetuation of our liberties. Where that is true, that household will do all it can to provide food, medical attention, and what few personal luxuries that may be sent across to him.

If you do not have this star in your window, just think of the fact that your neighbor does have it. Help for that neighbor's sake.
