NAZI DAYS IN RUSSIA THOUGHT TO BE FEW

BOOK 4 ISSUED TO 5,702 CISCOANS

Registration Book Four had been issued to 5,702 citizens when the registration closed at high school Saturday night.

This total is some smaller than at the registration for Book Three, the difference being caused by the fact that rural residents who registered here at the first registration, did so this time at booths near home.

Then, too, a considerable number of Cisco people failed to register. These, it is reminded, will now be forced to go to Eastland and sign up with the county ruling board before obtaining Book Four.

R. N. Cluck, superintendent of schools, said today that the registration went off very smoothly in Cisco and asked the Daily Press to thank all registrants for their fine cooperation.

Walter J. Leach of Los Angeles, former Cisco business man and progressive citizen, is here for a short visit with his many friends. He is at the Laguna Hotel. Mr. Leach, who is visiting Texas on a combined business and pleasure trip, will go to Fort Worth and Dallas this week for a few days and will later return to Cisco for a further visit.

This is Mr. Leach's first visit here since he sold the Leach Store and departed for California in June, 1942. His business plans are unknown, but personal friends and civic workers would welcome his return to Cisco. The municipal labeling is always available to Jake Leach.

J. V. Heysler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Heysler, who has been taking a special course in welding in a San Antonio government school, has been transferred to a school at Granite City, Ill., for two months' additional training, after which he expects to be sent overseas.

There were some 150 in the San Antonio class and those making the highest grades, sixteen in number, were sent to Granite City. The others will go overseas immediately.

The Cisco young man had the third highest grade in the class of 150.

PLENTY PAY—Carl Gustave Swabillius, with an average income from his gun and tool-making business in Hamden, Conn., three years ago, is now listed as second among the nation's highest salaried officials. U. S. Treasury lists his salary as $1,130,957.

6 YEARS IN ONE OFFICE IS ENOUGH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The people of the United States, Senator O'Daniel of Texas asserted last night, must unite in a campaign for "a thorough housecleaning in Washington in 1944."

He told a radio audience that the time is not distant when, through the power of vast government boards and bureaus, backed up by the public purse, state government will be destroyed.

The senator declared that local government would then become a meaningless term, free enterprise would be a thing of the past and "we will become the direct and regulated slaves of a highly centralized federal government, with the type of dictatorship which we are now fighting to destroy in Europe."

"And bear in mind this centralization of power has not all been done on account of the war. It started about 10 years before we got into the war."

"I want to say that I think the people of this nation are much displeased with the way the bureaucrats are handling our domestic affairs. . . . thank God, the war is being conducted by the generals and not the bungling bureaucrats."

"With a rapidly expanding population . . . now more than 130,000,000 people . . . with the facilities of education developed as never before developed in any other nation, surely we are not so short on good men that we must allow the same old cronies to stay in Washington term after term."

"The people have left control of affairs of government so long in the hands of pussyfooting politicians whose constant thought is reelection, reelection and reelection until the 'Banner of Re-election' has almost superseded the Star-Spangled Banner."

He said the best remedy would be to limit to six years the term of service of senators, representatives, the president and the vice president. He has offered an amendment to the constitution to provide such time limit.

"I am convinced that if you leave any man in Washington long enough," he said, "he will lose contact with the people whom he is supposed to represent; he will become subservient to the bureaucrats who are the dispensers of hundreds of thousands of federal jobs."

STUDY COURSE

The Sunday school study course of East Cisco Baptist church got off to a good start Monday evening and will continue through Thursday evening. The hours are 7:30 until 9 o'clock. Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Starnes of Eastland are the teachers. Mr. Starnes teaches "Personal Factors in Character Building" to adults, and Mrs. Starnes is teaching "Studies in Romans" by B. H. Carroll to the young people. There were 31 people present Monday night.

KARL SIMMONS DIES

T. Karl Simmons, 60, wealthy Tulsa oil man, died early this morning in a Fort Worth hospital. He had been in hospital eleven days and suffered from a liver ailment. Mr. Simmons had been a wild cat oil man for 30 years, operating in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas and was well known in Cisco, where he operated at one time in conjunction with the late Bob Gilman. He was a native of Red Wing, Minn., and is survived by a daughter, three sisters and a brother.

WELL TRAINED—These are American-trained Chinese soldiers who quickly fashion rafts to carry them over a wide river in the Burma-India war theater, where they're ready to clash with the Japs. Thousands of these Chinese fighters have been trained and equipped under direction of Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell.

IN THREE ARMIES—When Cameronian Infantry of British Army entered Sicily, troops found this Russian gun. Obviously captured from Red Army early in Russian campaign, Nazis had adapted it and sent it to Sicily. Now, fitted with British tires, gun is fighting with a third Army, once more hurling steel at the Nazis.

TOJO THINKS THE WAR IS "COMPLICATED"

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Japan's two highest leaders — Emperor Hirohito and Premier Hideki Tojo —joined today in giving the eighty-third session of the Diet a sober appraisal of the war outlook, with Tojo asserting that the Allies, "defeated at the beginning" were now "overcoming many difficulties and dangers and the war is growing in intensity."

The Emperor, in one of his infrequent declarations on the war, termed Japan's present situation "truly grave." His imperial rescript was read in his presence at the formal opening of the Diet session, according to a domestic Tokyo broadcast reported to the Office of War Information.

"The present war situation is very complicated," Tojo said. "The enemy, who was defeated at the beginning is, in fear of the richness of our conquered territory, trying to overwhelm our nation. The enemy is overcoming many difficulties and dangers and the war is growing in intensity."

FUN ON THE GRIDIRON—New York football Giants, getting into trim for season's games, have fun with their backfielders Leland Shaffer, top, and Ward Cuff, are rolled into a barrel and then given what is called the old heave-ho.

EXCISE TAX LIKELY. WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. — House Ways and Means Committee adoption of an excise tax program in excess of $1,000,000,000 is forecast. Bulk of the additional revenue would be raised through increased postage and heavier levies on so-called luxury commodities.

NAZIS MUST PAY & PAY REDS SAY

MOSCOW, Oct. 26.—The semi-official Soviet magazine, "War and the Working Classes," asserted today that the Axis powers will have to pay for more than $200,000,000,000 worth of material damage caused in Russia, Poland and the war-ravaged Balkan states.

Advancing the demand significantly in the midst of the tripartite conference of foreign ministers in Moscow, the magazine published an exhaustive article outlining Soviet ideas on the reparations to be exacted from Germany and her allies.

The article, prepared by Yeu-genis Evgey Varga, once finance minister of the short-lived Hungarian Soviet Republic and now Russia's outstanding economic expert, demanded fool-proof measures to force payment of this huge sum by Germany.

WILLKIE ATTACKS FDR IN MAGAZINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Wendell L. Willkie, writing in the current Reader's Digest, says mismanagement prevails throughout the government "because President Roosevelt is zealous for the accumulation of power and loathe to disburse it."

Unless this condition is corrected, Willkie declares in the article, the war may be prolonged and the peace may be lost.

"The good manager does not give two men the same job or overlapping parts of the same jobs," the Republican party leader says.

He wrote: "There are many competent men in our government. But they are frustrated by bad management. They are not given clear-cut, outright authority which permits them to be as good as they are capable of being."

GERMANS ARE WHIPPED AND REDS MAY REACH POLISH-BALKAN BORDERS BY JAN. 1

Russian columns plunged almost at will through tumbling German defenses in the southern Ukraine today in a great offensive to clear the Nazis from Soviet soil in a matter of weeks.

Panicky German efforts to prevent disaster appeared failing everywhere along the lower Dnieper bulge and the approaches to the Crimea and the enemy retreat verged on a rout, with tens of thousands of Germans fleeing for their lives.

While Allied armies in Italy made a general but slow advance toward Rome, seizing six more towns and edging toward the outer fringes of a new enemy defense line, the Russians were bidding to reach the Polish and Balkan borders by the first of the year.

London sources said the Germans might be able to save half their 600,000 men in the eastward bend of the Dnieper if they could muster enough strength for a counter-attack.

Capture of Dnepropetrovsk and Dneprodzerzhinsk, on the eastern end of the bulge, gave the Soviets complete control of a 600-mile stretch of the Dnieper except for Kiev. Beyond the river, three columns were speeding ahead. They were heading down the Crimean railroad from Melitopol to cut off the Crimea, southwestward past Krivoi Rog toward the lower Dnieper and southwest along the Kremen-Chug-Odessa rail line.

Germans still held out in the mining center of Krivoi Rog, about halfway across the bulge, but the town was by-passed and of little importance. Kiev appeared doomed to fall soon.

The offensive already topped the Red army push of last winter and the collapsing enemy defense system forced the Nazis into rapid retreats in several sectors to avoid encirclement.

In Italy, Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Anglo-American Fifth Army moved along both banks of the upper Volturno River to reach the approaches to the German Mondragone-Venafro defense line. American troops took three of the towns captured. They were Francolise, Raviscanina and Roschitta. A six-mile gain was registered.

The British Eighth Army in the mountain country of central and eastern Italy had tougher going but took Bojano four miles west of Vinchiaturo on the main road to Isernia, an important point on a trans-Italy highway.

Allied planes, raided along the Italian battlelines and north of Rome in aid of the ground troops, attacked southern Yugoslavia again to support the fighting partisans and guerrillas in that occupied land. Their objective was the Podgorica airfield.

Meanwhile, the Yugoslav partisans claimed the capture of Vares Majdan, 30 miles north of Sarajevo and the last major industrial center in Bosnia, after a 12-hour battle with the Germans.

The partisans admitted, however, they had been thrown out of the river town of Broekko, 80 miles west of Belgrade, where they fought 25,000 Axis troops.

The British acknowledged evacuation of Cos Island, in the Dodecanese off Turkey, which the Germans attacked some time ago in the opening phase of a struggle for control of the Aegean.

"DESERT FOX" 3-DAY RAIDS OUSTS GEN'L KESSELING NET MANY JAP SHIPS, PLANES

LONDON, Oct. 26. — Marshal Edwin Rommel, erstwhile "Desert Fox," has been given supreme command over Axis forces in Italy and the Balkans following a clash that resulted in the recall of Marshal Albert Kesselring, former German commander in southern Italy, it was learned today.

Reliable sources in London said Kesselring's command on the southern Italian front was taken over by an officer identified only as Lieut.-Gen. Wittinghoff.

Kesselring, who for some time had been reported quarreling with Rommel over their divided command in Italy, was believed to have been assigned to an air force command on the Russian front.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 26.—Allied war-planes have destroyed 131 and probably 203 enemy aircraft in a three-day series of raids that temporarily knocked out the main Japanese air base in the northern Solomons and crippled a new enemy attempt to reinforce his shattered aerial squadrons at Rabaul, New Britain.

The victories, revealed today in front reports from the Solomons and in a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters, were scored at a cost of only five of the hundreds of Allied fighters and bombers sent into action.

A Japanese destroyer and five coastal vessels were added to the enemy toll during the battles, which raged from Friday to Sunday, and two cargo ships and a number of barges were damaged.

THE JUDGE IS STUMPED.

Bewilderment caused by the action brought by OPA against the leading chain dry goods and variety stores of the nation, prohibiting them from selling women's and children's dresses, coats, blouses and skirts at current prices, if they sold them at lower prices in the spring of 1942, still prevails. Judge Alfred C. Cox, of the federal district court in New York, after listening to arguments, said to the attorneys for the OPA: "Why doesn't Prentiss Brown take this whole bunch of regulations and orders and rewrite them so that the average man can understand them?"

The OPA can say that no seller of women's and children's coats, suits, and dresses can sell at a higher level than its top price line in 1942, but how is a store which sold a dress at $1.98 in 1942 going to buy and sell a dress at that price in 1943 if no dresses are manufactured at that price? The store that did not sell the $1.98 dresses in 1942 is allowed by OPA to sell at the currently higher prices.

This ruling will work a hardship on the big stores, but they can probably weather through until common sense again prevails. But it is a blow to the small town merchant. He is forced to choose between taking a chance on being sued and branded a law violator, or sending his customers to stores that did not sell the cheaper lines in 1942, and are therefore allowed to sell the higher price lines now. People in small towns will be forced to go to cities and buy at higher price line stores, thus burdening on tires and gasoline. Both the customers and the established merchant are injured while price regulation, ostensibly enforced to reduce the cost of living, actually causes loss and waste on all sides.

By the same reasoning, OPA might just as well say that a grocery store that sold a line of canned goods at a certain price in 1942 cannot sell at a higher price in 1943, even though there are no canned goods at the 1942 price.

FAMINE.

A famine is reported in India again, the worst for decades, with 100 people a day dying in Calcutta alone, and the number growing. Crops are bad, over large areas, and war conditions add to the food scarcity.

And it isn't only in India. Now it is hunger alone that is afflicting the nations, and will do so increasingly while the war lasts, and longer. The Four Horsemen are riding again, and trampling down the village where the grapes of wrath are stored. It is not wise to take the Book of Revelation too literally, but it has a tremendous power of suggestion, especially in times of widespread danger and affliction. And there need be no doubt about the pale horse whose rider's name is Death, and who kills with sword and hunger and plague.

Yet this devastated world will continue, and most of its people. And out of the wreckage, as it were, will come "a new heaven and a new earth," in which men may realize the possibilities wrapped up in them when they were created.

JUSTICE.

Murder already seems like a figure of the past, but no cover

Series of Public Relations, U. S. War Department
PREPARING FOR ARMY DUTY—These 17-year-old boys who face induction when they become 18 are learning about military life while still at school. An appreciation of the global aspects of the war is highly desirable for the modern fighting man. School officials and educators throughout the country are cooperating in affording pre-induction training for American youth. This is a characteristic schoolroom scene for the present term.

still has a lesson to be remembered. He was applauded by some Americans of positive opinion because "he made the trains run on time." In that feat his regime was supposed to find its perfect summary. The answer to such naive notions was given by Captain Salvemini, formerly a member of the Italian Parliament and now a lecturer at Harvard. He pointed out:

"Casual visitors in Italy, in the presence of a great moral tragedy, find that the trains run on time and thank God for Mussolini. They do not ask if justice also runs on time, if liberty also runs on time, if human dignity runs on time. Justice, liberty, the guarantee of human dignity; these are the public services of civilized nations."

Today some people fear that the post-war world may leave us with the trains and planes running on time, but with the vehicles of justice, liberty and human dignity usefully behind schedule. That would be a perversion of the hopes of all civilized mankind. Fortunately there is no reason to believe that such a catastrophe would willingly be tolerated by the leaders of the United Nations.

THANKFULNESS.

People have started thinking about Thanksgiving — what day is best for this festival, and what they have to be thankful for. Some seem inclined to be a little bitter about it. What reason have they for gratitude, they ask, when there is death, terror and destruction almost everywhere?

This is largely a personal problem, in which everyone has a right to his own conclusion. For them there can be only sympathy and an effort to relieve their grief or fear.

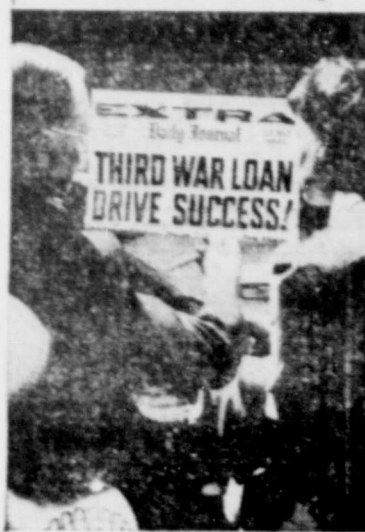

But in general, when the afflictions of this comparatively fortunate nation are honestly compared with those of most nations in the world's present plight, fair-minded people may conclude that there is more reason than usual for honest gratitude. There is so much bitter tragedy that so many of us escape.

Why be surprised that Germany and Japan are growing stronger and better armed as the need develops. Aren't we?

Stalin respects successful men—not because they are successful, but because they talk turkey instead of baloney.

Let's not kid ourselves. Figures on plane production sounds good, but everywhere the generals plead for more planes.

We Must Keep On Backing the Attack With War Bonds—

Mr. and Mrs. America thrill at the news that the fifteen billion dollar third war loan went over the top indicating that the American people at home are backing the attack on Hitler's European fortress. But the attack goes on, night and day, with increasing intensity.

"Mother, we've done what the government asked in the third war loan, but we cannot stop there," says Dad. "Jim is in Italy and John is with MacArthur at Salamaua and you know what that means. We've got to keep on backing the attack with War Bonds."

"You are right, Dad, and I've figured how we can keep on buying an extra War Bond. The boys would want us to do it and we must put every cent we've got over and above our living into Uncle Sam's Bonds. Let me get our budget book and show you what I mean."

"See there, we can cut out some of our recreation. We can get along very well without that trip we planned. We can cut out so much that's unnecessary, and you know, Dad, we're not so young as we once were. This additional saving will help us when peace comes."

"Yes, Mother, we've bought those extra Bonds and haven't missed the money, so there's no reason why I cannot increase my Payroll Savings deductions down at the plant and then we'll be sure of getting those extra Bonds. Keep on backing the attack with War Bonds."

Where trusts and unions control business and women own 80 percent of wealth, your only chance is to get a little job and marry a rich widow.

Can You Do This?

INDIAN AQUA-POISE. Bet your next paycheck on this one (if you're sure the other guy has never seen it done.) The trick is to balance a glass of water on the bridge of an Indian's nose. It CAN be done! Supply yourself with a Buffalo nickel that is not badly worn—use a flat-bottomed glass, one-third to one-half full. Place the edge of the glass in the depression between the word "Liberty" and the ridge of the Indian's nose. Now tilt the glass slightly over the coin until you find the angle at which it will balance. Steady there! Now withdraw your hands—take a bow—and collect! This neat trick was invented by Reginald S. Leister of Toledo, O.

AMERICAN HEROES BY LEFF

High on a Tunisian cliff a Free French soldier lay wounded. A litter squad started up. Enemy bullets spat against the cliff. The squad went on. In a whining hail of lead they brought their ally down. For that exploit Staff Sergeant Roy L. Bates of Fairfield, Ill., and Privates Robert Beaumont of Delta, Ky., Anthony P. Coll of Johnstown, Pa., and William B. Griffin of Sylvester, Texas, won Silver Stars. They deserve your War Bond backing.

STIEYER SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Sunday evening Rev. and Mrs. E. Steyer were surprised on their silver wedding anniversary by the congregation of Christ Lutheran church and friends from neighboring congregations. The committee in charge had perfectly arranged the surprise.

The group consisted of about 150 people and gathered at the church house for a brief service in which Rev. W. H. Symank addressed them briefly on the words of scripture: "Hitherto hath the Lord Helped Us." 1 Sam. 7, 12. In this service members of the ladies aid and Waltham league sang hymns. After the service the congregation presented their pastor and his wife with a beautifully decorated box containing twenty-five silver dollars and other mementos in silver. Mr. Steyer responded with a few words.

Following the service at the church the group met at the parsonage and enjoyed the evening in a social way. After refreshments were served gifts were opened. There was only one regret and that was that none of their four children were present. Rev. and Mrs. Steyer have three boys in the armed forces. They are Vernon, Edward and Richard. The fourth, a girl, Lorna, is working in Hobbs, N. M. She is employed by the Western Union Telegraph company.

A Good Job, Well Done--

Those of us who have lived in Eastland County for a long time are not surprised at anything that may happen. When the September bond quota was announced, the size of the figure and the magnitude of the undertaking, made us dizzy. But intelligent leadership and perfect co-operation from the ranks did a great job. There will be future quotas, and with the same kind of leadership and loyalty by us who follow, we cannot fail.

New Route to China—U. S. Army Service Forces are extending their line of supply four by four from Assam in Eastern India, across the northern Burma border, toward the heart of China. Army Engineers have cut and hacked a highway through the lush, green jungle, blaving hillslides and bridging rivers, streams and chasms. Above, this native bridge on the Leda road was crossed by 21,000 refugees fleeing from Burma in 1942. These primitive spans are giving way to substantial structures erected by American Engineers. Right, a new river bridge in India. As an integral part of the Leda road, this bridge will figure in the future United Nations plans to retake Burma and reopen the Burma supply line to China. (U. S.
