REDS PUSH IN ON KRIVOI ROG FROM 3 SIDES

SPECIAL DEDICATORY SERVICES SUNDAY

Dr. R. T. Williams, Kansas City, Mo., general superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, will be guest speaker in special dedicatory services to be held at the Cisco church, Seventh and F avenues, at 8 p. m. Sunday. It is announced by the pastor, Rev. L. H. Cline. Also here for the occasion will be John L. Knight, district superintendent. Dr. Williams has served as general superintendent of his denomination for the past 27 years, and he led the church from a membership of 29,000 to the present total of 200,000. Under his leadership the denomination gained, and still maintains, first place among the denominations in annual per-capita giving. Nazarene mission stations have been established in fifteen foreign nations and Dr. Williams has devoted extensively in the interest of this cause.

JOHN L. KNIGHT.

Prove to his appointment to his present post, General Superintendent Williams was president of Selwyn-Peniel College in Texas and is well known here. He is one of the most popular speakers of his denomination and the public is cordially invited to hear him. The Cisco church, one of the most attractive and commodious in the city, is of native stone and a pasteur. A Sunday school room and a pastor's study have been added recently.

KLEBERG PREDICTS RECORD BEEF SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The nation's representatives in Congress predicted today that the government's new ceiling prices on live cattle would result in a beef shortage this winter "the like of which we have never seen." Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson established the ceiling last night, ranging up to 100 cents per hundred-weight on the Chicago market, as a further peg to holding down food costs. Among those voicing the prediction was Cong. Richard Kleberg of Texas.

LOBOES SEEM IN BAD SHAPE

Cisco's Fighting Loboes will go to Brownwood Friday for the game with the high school football team of that city, which will be called at 8 o'clock Friday night.

In commenting on the approaching contest, Coach Monroe Sweeney says Brownwood has a better running and passing attack than Weatherford has, which team defeated the Loboes last Friday, 27 to 0.

Continuing, Mr. Sweeney reminds that Brownwood beat Mineral Wells recently to the tune of 33 to 0, while we won from Mineral Wells by only 31 to 7. According to these scores, Brownwood is assumed to be four touchdowns better than Cisco.

The Loboes are badly crippled, the coach states. Hays has a bad hip, Walton Baum is probably out for the season with a badly sprained ankle received in the second play of the Weatherford game. Tompkins is still bothered with a bad shoulder and weak ankle and Tipton and M. Johnston have bad elbows.

Nevertheless, the Ciscons will face Brownwood Friday night determined to take advantage of any favorable breaks that may develop and acquire the best tally possible.

It is a well known fact that the Loboes of yesterday—who gained state-wide recognition for their accomplishments—achieving many of their numerous victories when teams possessing less fortitude would have quit because of seemingly insurmountable handicaps.

DOUBLE MURDER MYSTERY

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 27.—Money—$5,000 of it—was waiting in the bank today for anyone who would give information leading to discovery of the killer who shot Dr. Roy Hunt between the eyes and crushed his wife's skull by beating her with some blunt instrument.

Citizens of Littlefield, a Panhandle town of 4,000 persons, met last night and raised that amount for the apprehension of the killer, a person who was apparently as familiar with anatomy as he was with the weapons he used to kill the Hunts.

"We think this was the work of a professional killer," the sheriff added. "We don't expect to solve it in a few days—but it will be solved."

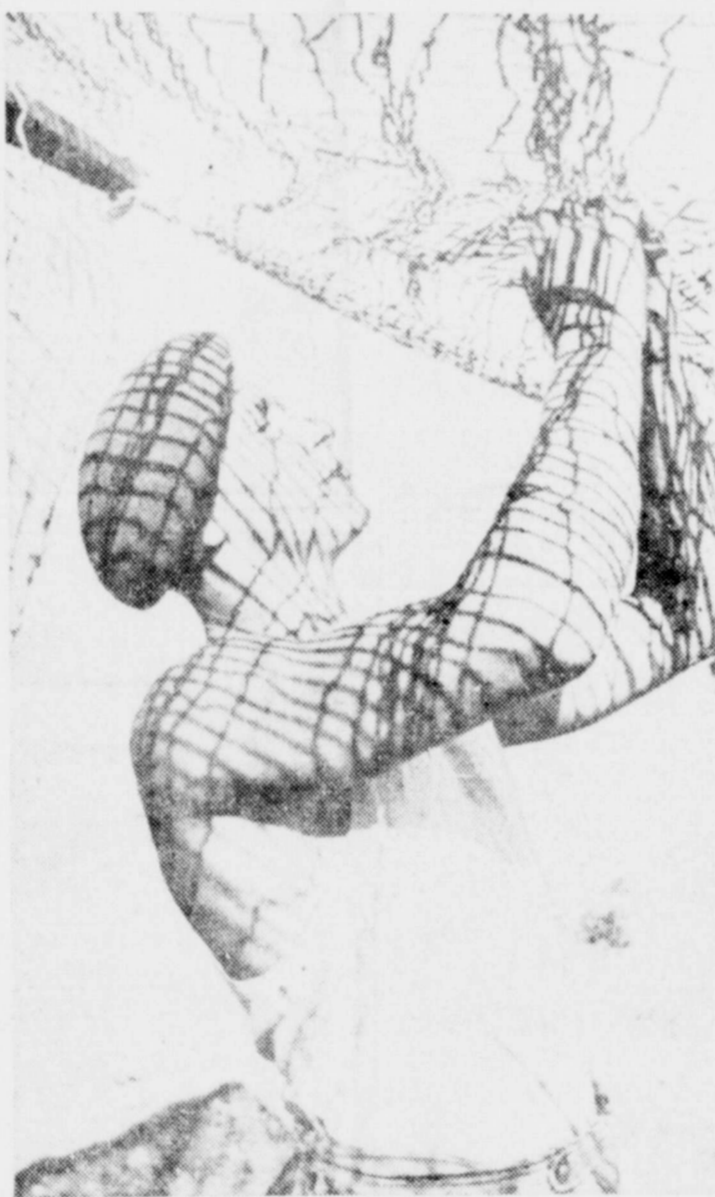

Immediately after 9-year-old Jo Ann Hunt ran to the home of a neighbor yesterday morning, carrying her 2-year-old sister, Jane, and cried that "my mother and daddy are killed." Officers began checking the whereabouts of Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron, who was convicted recently of an unexplained attempt to kill Dr. Hunt, his medical school classmate, on May 21, 1942. But Sheriff Hutson said today that Dr. Newton, who had been sentenced to several years in prison and then freed on bond pending an appeal, had established an alibi.

"He was in Cameron yesterday morning," the sheriff said, "and that's too far for a man to have gone between the time of the killings and the time that Dr. Newton was located unless there was an airplane involved." Cameron and Littlefield are more than half the width of Texas apart.

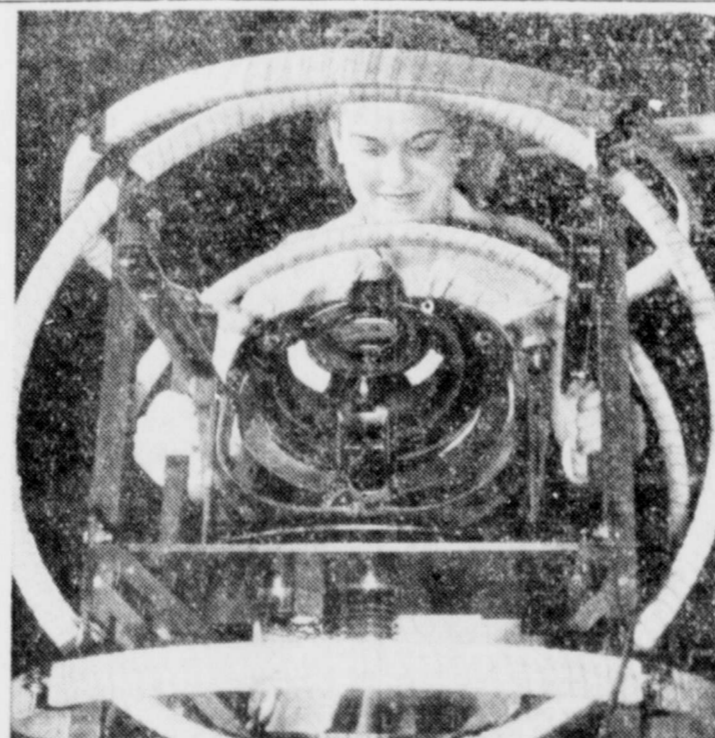

Jo Ann had waked while the killer was still in the house. He threw something wet on her and put her in a closet, where she went to sleep. She said the liquid he threw on her "felt like water and smelled like gasoline," and investigators believed it might have been some kind of anesthetic. When she woke again, she found her parents lying in bed, dead.

ALBANY, Texas, Oct. 26.—Southwestern Throckmorton county saw one of its largest shallow gas wells this week when Roy Sharrock No. 1, Putnam Heirs drilled thirty-two feet of sand from 605 feet and heavy gas flow was made, testing in excess of 4,500,000 feet of gas, and showing a light spray of oil. Operator is setting anchor on casing to control the flow and is preparing to drill deeper, as there is no market for the gas. The well is about five miles west of Fort Griffin on McKinney & Williams Pre-emption survey.

PLEASANT VACATION. Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Stephenson returned last night from a vacation of ten days, most of which was spent at the Dike Ward place in Brown county, where they were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ward. They fished in the south prong of Lake Brownwood and had fine success, each securing the daily limit of 15 crappie. Jack Stephenson, their son, flew over from Coleman Saturday and remained through Sunday.

CITY PAYS ALL BOND INTEREST

Consideration of grass leases on city-owned lands consumed most of the time at last night's city commission meeting, but several tax matters were gone into and adjustments made. City Secretary George W. Downie stated today.

There were 18 bids on the seven tracts of land now open to yearly contract and from which the city treasury is upped about $500 annually.

No contracts were made last night for the reason that present grass leases have until November 9 to renew their leases for another year at the high figure bid by another on his particular tract.

Secretary Downie also announced that all interest obligations due November 1 on outstanding bonds have been provided for, as usual. The total of this interest approximates $9,000 and is for a period of six months.

Present last night were Mayor Edward Lee and Commissioners J. J. Collins, Charles J. Kleiner, Henry Drumwright and George Boyd. Commissioner A. D. Anderson was out of the city. It was the intention of the mayor and commissioners to open a keg of nails, or something, in honor of a former commissioner, Walter J. Leach, here on a brief visit from his home in California, but Mr. Leach could not be present.

IMPORTANT WORK FAR BEHIND

In order to wind up the September Red Cross surgical dressings quota, which was far behind because of the scarcity of help, 32 Cisco women put in the major portion of Tuesday and finished the job. About 1,250 2x2s were completed and taken to the headquarters at Eastland. Regular working hours are from 1 until 5 o'clock Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

Work started this afternoon on the October quota—26 days behind schedule. All Cisco women who may be interested in Red Cross war work, and who are sufficiently competent to cut, fold or sew the rather simple dressings, can render real service to their country by devoting a few hours to the work.

Those participating in the labor Tuesday included Mrs. Cora Plumlee, Mrs. Sykora, Mrs. Lancaster, Mrs. Babers, Mrs. W. C. Clements, Mrs. George Atkins, Mrs. Dave Waters, Mrs. J. S. Mobley, Mrs. John Garrett, Mrs. Harold McGowan, Mrs. L. S. Jenkins, Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Mrs. Oliver Thomas, Mrs. J. R. Slaughter, Mrs. J. W. Slaughter, Mrs. Sam Kimmell, Mrs. H. J. McArdle, Mrs. F. GERMANS MAKE GREAT FIGHT TO RETAIN CITY, BUT RUSSIANS SEEM ALL-POWERFUL

MOSCOW, Oct. 27.—Red armies in the Dnieper Bend have invested Krivoi Rog from three sides, apparently sealing the doom of the big mining center, and have encircled a big German force in its environs.

The Germans hurled hundreds of tanks and planes into a desperate battle to save Krivoi Rog, northern prop of the escape gap through which upwards of 500,000 fleeing Axis troops in the Dnieper bulge hoped to reach safety.

(Possibly preparing the German public for the loss of Krivoi Rog, the official German News Agency DNB said the "ever-recurring 'elastic defense' of the German command" would frustrate the Soviet attack.)

Battling their way through the streets of Krivoi Rog, which lies half way across the Dnieper Bend, the Russians captured all suburban railway stations and cut all railway lines except a southern spur line.

The Army organ Red Star said the German command was sending fleets of transport planes through Russia aerial gauntlet to parachute gasoline drums and supplies to the encircled force in Krivoi Rog's outskirts.

At the same time groups of 50 to 70 bombers bombed and strafed narrow sectors of the encircling Russian line in an effort to ease pressure against the trapped Germans.

On the ground, German motorized infantry and tanks, including one Panzer division from Italy, were counter-attacking as many as 10 times daily, but were being pushed back steadily through the streets of Krivoi Rog.

German prisoners said reserves were thrown into battle immediately after alighting from trains.

The government newspaper Izvestia said the Russians already have captured part of the great iron ore mines in the Krivoi Rog basin, the richest in European Russia.

Inside the Dnieper bulge, the Russians were overrunning German positions everywhere, breaking through the Nazi rear guards covering the retreat almost at will. The German front on the approaches to the Crimea, to the south, also was reported caving in.

(The official German news agency DNB in a Berlin broadcast acknowledge that the Soviets had enlarged their breaches in the Melitopol area above the Crimea in "violent, bitter fighting.")

Russian tommy gunners rescued a column several kilometers long of thousands of old men, women and children being driven westward from Dnepropetrovsk by the Germans.

A dispatch said the column was trudging along the road when a young girl sighted the tommy gunners and began to shout. Thousands took up the cry in a hysterical demonstration as the tommy gunners closed in and shot the German guards before they could intervene. The refugees returned to Dnepropetrovsk.

LOOK AT THE RECORD.

One social planner recently expressed the opinion that socialized medicine, as advocated in legislation now before congress, would be as logical as our publicly-operated, tax-supported educational system. He is wrong in at least two respects. In the first place, control of the school system is in the hands of local citizens and is supported by local tax funds. Control of the medical system, as envisaged by the socialistic planners, would not only stem directly from the central government, but from one man in that government—the Surgeon General—who, backed by more than $3,000,000,000 (three billion) of public funds, would reach into the smallest community with authority as complete and compelling as that of any dictator.

Secondly, the assumption of the planner in question that the educational system has been a resounding success, while the medical profession has been lacking in accomplishment, is certainly NOT BASED ON FACT.

The growth of bureaucracy, strife between labor and capital, tragic lack of statesmanship in both public and industrial life in this country, are all traceable in a great measure to the FAILURE of EDUCATION from the first grade up.

It is a fatal mistake to assume that public education is a success because of the simple fact that most people can read and write.

Any doctor who had the temerity to suggest that medicine reached eternal perfection with the discovery of anesthesia, would be laughed off as a lunatic. The medical profession, under the stimulant of private incentive, never rests on its laurels. In spite of the doctor shortage due to war demands, the death rate of the nation in 1942 was the lowest on record, 10.3 per thousand. And its accomplishments in saving the lives of American soldiers are miraculous and have outstripped all past records.

Measured by service to humanity, the private medical profession need not take a back seat for any other activity. Its constant research has resulted in uninterrupted progress. The most ardent advocates of socialized medicine cannot deny these facts.

DANGEROUS.

The ways of underground movements are queer. Here, in this free and lovely land, there are unpleasant and dangerous undercurrents trying to serve our enemies. They break the surface of the stream with efforts to arouse anger against our government; with efforts to divide us from our Allies, Britain and Russia; with murmurs about the instability of China.

Criticism of governments, national or local, by friendly comrade or foreign stranger, is the breath of life to democracies. Soldier criticism, the saying goes, can be summed up in one word—"Everything." So ordinary knock-knocks are as nothing to the American. But when they seek to separate fighting allies, they must be taken seriously, not in what they say, but in the fact that they are being said.

Not so serious is the form in which anti-Nazi Germans are expressing approval of Americans. The women are being reproached in public prints for waving at war prisoners. That, it seems, is bad enough. It is worse if a woman throws kisses.

But if it's disagreeable to know about the subversive movements under our own surface, it is certainly pleasant to know that there are enough German women of the anti-Nazi underground approving our soldiers to merit a public rebuke from German newspapers.

BERLINERS.

Every historic city has a character of its own, and its own form of behavior in crucial times. Everybody knows, for example, how the British behaved when it looked as if London would be destroyed. They did not give way to hysterical fright, but were calm and steady, as they had been in their perilous flight back home across the Channel with their materials all lost. And Americans, we hope, would conduct themselves in the same way. Both nations are inclined to rise in emergencies above their normal selves.

The Chinese, as they have proved again and again, can "take it." The Japanese are not so good at that, but more easily upset. Well, what of the Germans?

Their psychology under great strain is sure to become a big factor in this war, sooner or later. There is not much doubt about the steadiness of German soldiers in uniform and in battle, but what of the German people at home?

An article by Gunnar T. Pihl of the North American Newspaper Alliance, written from Stockholm, next door to Germany, says Berlin is always a nervous, temperamental city. The western Germans endure bombing pretty well, but the Berliners seem like a different breed. They are inclined to sullenness and apathy, says Pihl. There have been no riots in Berlin, he declares, and there will be only one—the last! And this verdict, if accurate, forecasts an easier occupation than many people expect.

PUBLIC OPINION

Says Yankee's Don't Braz.

To the Press: We hear from soldiers who have been stationed in your state that Texas boys have been doing a lot of bragging about what they have been doing in this war. Perhaps your Texas boys have not heard that the illustrious state of Michigan and America's top city—Detroit—are known throughout the world as the arsenal of democracy, which has never been said of Texas. It is the arsenal of democracy that is today saving the world, just as our glorious Michigan boys once saved the Union, which is also a historic honor that Texas cannot claim.

I suggest that your Texas boys read the history of the great state of Michigan from the Seventeenth Century to the present year and they will learn who has given the most heroes to the present war as well as past wars. They will also learn that Michigan and other northern states saved this country when southern states tried to tear it asunder.

There would not be a United States today for you Texans to fight for if it were not for Michigan heroes in 1861. Besides, don't you Texans know that only small minds brag, and that broad-minded, cultured men who do the really big things in this war say little or nothing about it? That is why Michigan men do not brag. They do not need to, for history records their great deeds and outstanding number of heroes.

WAR'S DIAPASON—Bomb-wrecked church in London was hit during recent Nazi raid, heaviest in two years. Chancel was completely destroyed and pipes of organ are seen scattered in irreparable disarray. Raid was met by heavy barrage that brought down at least two of the enemy planes.

Scouting on foot in Tunisia, Pvt. Charles H. Evans was captured by 30 Italian infantrymen and marched to the rear. A bayonet at his back, Evans whirled, disarmed his guard, and escaped. Although wounded by rifle fire, he hid in a cactus patch till nightfall, slipped back to our forces with valuable information picked up as a prisoner. For this he wears the Purple Heart and the Silver Star. Celebrate Evans' escape with another War Bond.

They keep well, too, and have the advantage of being good either crisp or soft. Another point in their favor is that they require no egg. STRUCTURAL FAULTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27. - Two earthquakes, their centers about 150 miles apart, bring renewed interest in structural faults beneath the coastal areas of California.

The first, extending intermittently for three minutes, apparently was centered at San Jose 50 miles south of San Francisco. It started at 10:49 p. m. Monday night and was felt in varying degrees within a radius of 100 miles. The second came at 5:59 a. m. Tuesday at Ukiah, 100 miles north of San Francisco, where Astronomer H. C. Wrooklage of the International Observatory described it as the heaviest there in recent years. Its center was estimated at 30 miles from Ukiah.

WHERE DOES ELECTRICITY COME FROM?

SOURCE: BITUMINOUS COAL INSTITUTE. GRAPHIC BY PEEK.

Bureau of Public Relations, U. S. War Department. GRANDMOTHERS IN THE WACS—Private Josephine Bennette, Women's Army Corps, stationed at Fort McClellan, Alabama, is one of many grandmothers recruited from all parts of the country to relieve soldiers for combat duty. Mrs. Bennette's enlistment is outstanding, however, because she is the fourth member of her family to engage in active military service. She has three sons in the armed forces of the United States. Before joining the service she resided at 1009 East Third Street, Fort Worth, Texas.

There's No Priority On Planning!

Of course, there isn't! And there never should be! Americans should always be free to dream and plan of tomorrow—they always have under our democratic form of home-rule government. The all-electric home of tomorrow that you're dreamin' and planning today waits for you. Right now, we're sorry when we have to say, "Yes, we have no refrigerators today, or irons, or sweepers, or washing machines!"

But after the war, electric servants should again be ready for you. See this dream come true by insuring the future with the greatest investment in the world, a United States War Bond! And see that it is properly spent.

"While we wait for the manufacture of appliances to start again be sure to take extra good care of what you have—make it last for the duration! It's a crime to waste anything during the war period!"

Reddy Says:

"Our service men are busier than a one-man band these days! They're dashing here and there—they've got their hands full filling the gaps left by employees now in war service. But they're still concerned that you get the very best service available. Therefore, they'd appreciate it if you wouldn't ask them to make special calls except in the case of genuine emergency. Call during regular working hours. They're doing the very best job they can under present conditions!"

Plan Now Your WINTER COMFORT

Lone Star Gas Service costs so little. But this is no reason why in these wartime days some thought shouldn't be given to its wise use. By planning ahead there are many little things you can do to eliminate waste and thereby get full benefit from the economy of whole house heating. The eight suggestions below are insignificant in themselves, but all together they add up to quite a saving over a period of months. But more important they mean the wise use of a fuel which is so important to Southwestern war industries.

HOW TO USE GAS WISELY FOR HOUSE HEATING

1. Avoid overheating. Keep the house temperature around 72 degrees.
2. Keep all heating equipment in good operating condition; keep it clean and free from all dust particles.
3. Flame on radiant-type room heaters should not be allowed to lick out top of radiants.
4. If you have a gas heater in your fireplace, seal the flue to the extent that the room heat will not go up the chimney, yet leave sufficient space for venting heater.
5. See that windows and doors lock tightly; if possible they should be weather-stripped.
6. Where unvented equipment is used, a small opening at the top of the window is recommended to help reduce "wall sweating." Window openings should be no wider than necessary for an ample flow of fresh air, otherwise they become heat wasters.
7. At night when windows are open in bedrooms, shut off rest of house to prevent temperatures from dropping so low that more fuel will be needed to build up warmth during the morning hours.
8. When properly used, insulation can reduce consumption of heating gas 20 to 25 per cent in one-story houses and 15 to 20 per cent in two-story houses of standard type construction. Insulation materials are plentiful.

Gas Floor Furnaces are available for you who can qualify under WPB ruling. Gas room heaters are rationed by OPA. Let us help you in making out necessary application forms.
