GERMANS CAPTURE 8,000 ALLIED SOLDIERS

"Some Powers Exercised by States Be Better in Federal Hands"

—GERALD MANN

DALLAS, Nov. 17.—Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann, probable candidate for governor next summer, lashed out at monopolies and selfish interests in a ringing new address which many observers believed would be the basis of his platform.

In what was obviously a bid for administration support, the sharp-tongued Little Red Arrow of Southern Methodist football fame told the annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation at the Jefferson hotel that "the people of America and its leaders have done the greatest job ever in the history of the world in training, equipping and supplying our armed forces throughout the globe."

Hitting indirectly at Gov. Coke Stevenson, whom he probably will oppose in the primaries, he charged that "if more people would quit their aching and get down to the job of thinking how we can win this war as quickly as possible—how we can make our limited supply of gasoline serve our needs—I think they would be doing a better job toward preserving the Constitution and the freedom of enterprise."

Stevenson has possibly been the strongest opponent in the nation of the new deal's gasoline rationing program.

In a defense of the Office of Price Administration and bureaucrats, who have been attacked by Stevenson, Mann said they were "very unpopular at the present time—unpopular because they have an unpopular job to do."

"Many mistakes have been made," he said, "but that does not mean hardships that men suffer today because of rationing and other war-time necessities in order to take your mind off the regulating and controlling their iniquitous practices."

"Our legislative halls have been filled with lobbyists maintained by monopoly to prevent our taxing sufficiently the oil and gas we produce," he said. "Texas people do not own most of our producing oil wells. Texas people do not use most of our oil and gas. It is elsewhere without bearing a sufficient Texas tax."

Revealing more of what may be his platform and of his political philosophy, Mann said he believed in state's rights but that certain powers once exercised by the states can better be exercised by the federal government.

Touching on the troublesome labor question, he said he did not know whether labor "will ever vote for me or not because I have filed several lawsuits against organized labor when I thought it was wrong." Then he added praise for labor's production job in airplanes, arms, guns, shells.

J. Walter Hammond, president of the federation, predicted in an interview that most Texas farmers despite criticisms of certain new deal policies, would vote for Roosevelt if he ran for a fourth term.

SWINDLE AT FT. KNOX.

The public relations office at Fort Knox, Ky., informs the Daily Press that a picked group of technicians from armored units all over the country has been enrolled in the armored school there for a course in tank mechanics. Among the students is Pfc. Billy R. Swindle, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Swindle of Cisco. The men will be trained for the important task of keeping army tanks in fighting trim.

CHAMPION KNITTER.

STAMFORD, Nov. 17.—Mrs. J. C. Bryant has clicked her needles over a lot of yarn in a year's time to accumulate 1,000 hours of knitting for the armed forces.

CHRISTMAS MAIL JAM POSSIBLE

Word from Washington to L. H. McCrea, Cisco postmaster, makes it very clear that Christmas cards and parcels, even when addressed to points in the United States, are more than likely to reach their destination after December 25 unless mailed immediately. Excerpts from the postoffice department statement are as follows:

"Mail in November, does not mean mail on November 30. Reports from large postoffices indicate that little Christmas mail has been started on its way, although press and business concerns are cooperating splendidly in spreading the word that November mailings are necessary this year."

"Mailing of a huge volume of gifts and cards the last two or three days of November will result in serious congestion and delays. Mailings should be spread over a longer period to avoid last-minute jams and to assure delivery by Christmas."

"Postal officials advise that all who can possibly do so should mail their gifts AT ONCE and mark them DO NOT OPEN UNTIL CHRISTMAS."

"Gifts cannot be permitted to interfere with the transportation of arms and supplies to our fighting forces."

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Pvt. Franklin E. Higgins was on his way back to Camp Crowder, Mo., today while a storm of criticism raged over the special furlough which permitted him to visit his dying 17-year-old dog, Pal, at home.

Parents of other service men who had been denied leave even in cases of births or deaths made strong objections to the Red Cross, which handled Higgins' trip.

ENVOY—R. Henry Norweb of Ohio, now Ambassador to Peru, nominated by President Roosevelt to be Minister to Portugal, with personal rank of Ambassador during his mission at Lisbon. He was born in England of American parents.

LION TIN-CAN ROUNDUP WAS REAL SUCCESS

The response of Cisco people to the tin can drive yesterday was most hearty and generous, says Harry Schmidt, chairman of the salvage committee of the Lions club, sponsors of the campaign. On almost every yard cans were waiting for the trucks which began the rounds at 5 o'clock, manned by Lions.

It was discovered today, Mr. Schmidt said, that a few cans were missed by oversight. He wants the people to know that their cooperation is appreciated and their cans are still needed. All whose cans were missed can either throw them on the pile at D avenue and Tenth street or hold them until the next pickup.

Information coming to the local committee is that the government is still interested in salvaging all cans, in spite of an announcement that tin will no longer be used in the processing of copper.

EASTLAND CO. 4-H BOYS WIN NICE HONORS

Floyd Lynch, Eastland county agricultural agent, announces that Billy Henderson of route two, Eastland—who has completed five years of work—is the state winner of the National 4-H leadership contest. This will entitle Henderson to a trip to the twenty-second national 4-H club congress, to be held in Chicago, December 21.

Donald Kinnaird, Jr., is one of six Texas winners in the national 4-H victory garden contest. This was Kinnaird's first year in club work and, according to Mr. Lynch's interpretation, he will be awarded a $25 war bond. Kinnaird's garden was a backyard plot from which he grubbed trees. Total receipts, $43.63; expense, $18.80; net return, $24.83.

CISCO WRITER GETS HONORABLE MENTION

"It gives me great pleasure," writes the editor of "Wings Over the Classroom," to Miss Doris Pyle, "to tell you that your work has been awarded honorable mention in the competition just concluded."

"Wings Over the Classroom" is an anthology composed of poems by the American teachers of today, and Miss Pyle, teacher of English in Cisco high school has four poems in the book, says Mrs. Alfred Irby, high school librarian. The letter further stated, "It has been a delight to read and publish your poems, and I take this opportunity to wish you continued success in your future literary endeavors." Such praise is prized, not only by Miss Pyle, but by her fellow teachers in Cisco high school. Her poems have been published in many papers and magazines for, with lyric lilt, she paints dainty, colorful word pictures and expresses with true womanly feeling all the emotions of the feminine heart—love, fear, hope, grief, joy—in lines graceful, charming, beautiful. Miss Pyle possesses many of the literary qualities of Sara Teasdale and Emily Dickinson, Mrs. Irby added.

THIS THANKSGIVING DAY—1943

We're thankful we live in the United States and for the ideals of liberty and freedom exemplified in our form of government. We are thankful for our free institutions and our way of life. We are thankful that we are able to buy War Bonds voluntarily, so that we may have a personal and direct hand in bringing him back to us sooner. God bless him and keep him safe for us.

WRECK NAZI AIRFIELD.

NORTH AFRICA, Nov. 17.—Hundreds of Allied planes, spearheaded by Flying Fortresses that wrecked a German airfield near Marseille, spread destruction along a 100-mile front from France to Greece yesterday in the mounting Mediterranean air offensive.

HOUSE MEMBERS WOULD PAY FOR ADS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—A house drive developed today to override the senate's halving of a proposed $25,000,000-$30,000,000 war bond advertising fund.

Use of from $12,500,000 to $15,000,000 a year for newspaper advertising in cities largely under 10,000 population was authorized in a bill which squeaked through the senate Tuesday, 49 to 35.

Chairman Cannon of Missouri, of the House Appropriations committee, declaring an attempt would be made there to restore the fund to the full amount, said: "England and Canada buy space to advertise their war bond drives, and there is overwhelming support for the plan in the house."

BARRED FROM CHURCHES.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17.—Soldiers in uniform today were prohibited from attending church services or other religious ceremonies in Mexico. "The rites of religious creeds do not conform with the dignity of the military uniform and insignia, nor with the martial personality of military men," a decree signed by President Manuel Avila Camacho and Sub-Secretary of National Defense Francisco L. Urquiza, said.

MANY OIL LEASES.

COLEMAN, Nov. 17.—Total of 4,115.29 acres have been leased in Coleman county, records in the office of County Clerk Smith show. Of that amount Dale Smith, Coleman oil operator, leased 3,322.59 acres with 3,082.59 being leased from Mrs. Mattie B. Miller of Coleman and 240 acres from Walter Sprinkles of Novice. Other leases in the county amounted to 792.7 acres.

LEROS IS SECOND BRITISH-CONTROLLED AEGEAN ISLAND TO SURRENDER TO THE AXIS

CAIRO, Nov. 17.—British and Italian troops on Lero, next-to-the-last Allied-held island on the Aegean invasion route to the Balkans, capitulated last evening, in the face of an overwhelming German air and ground assault, a communique announced today.

The communique was issued by British Middle-Eastern headquarters a few hours after the official German DNB News Agency reported that the garrison of 8000 on the tiny Dodecanese island had laid down its arms.

The surrender of Lero, second of three British-controlled Aegean islands to yield to the Germans, came four days after Nazi sea-borne forces first swarmed ashore early last Friday and established four beachheads at heavy cost.

Despite stubborn Allied resistance by Allied warships that dared aerial attack to bombard the beachheads, relentless around-the-clock German bombing and strafing attacks and persistent German landings, doomed the outpost almost from the start.

The British and Italians fought with bayonets and hand grenades at close quarters before finally giving up the fight in the face of hopeless odds. The arrival of fresh German reinforcements decided the issue.

Unofficial observers expected the Germans would follow up the capture of Lero with a fullscale attack on Samos, Greek island 35 miles to the north, and the last of the three Aegean islands seized by the British in a lightning thrust soon after Italy's surrender in September. Greek paratroops recently reinforced the Anglo-Italian garrison on Samos.

The second island, Cos, just south of Lero, was captured by the Germans last month.

DNB said 3000 British and 5000 Italian soldiers laid down their arms in surrender on Lero. Considerable war material, including 130 guns, was captured.

M'ARTHUR DOES KOROSTEN, MUCH WITH FEW LAND GATEWAY MEN, MATERIAL UNDER SIEGE

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov. 17.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur is turning back the Japanese on this huge front by classic strategy with less than five per cent of America's war power, members of his staff said today.

The statements came from MacArthur's spokesman, Col. L. A. Diller, and his intelligence chief, Brig. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, and is what was viewed as an effort to put the Southwest Pacific fighting in a correct perspective, especially on the matter of supplies.

Diller said MacArthur was getting less than 10 per cent of America's current war shipments and even less than that amount in aircraft, although the amounts have been stepped up from former levels.

So far MacArthur's Southwest Pacific forces, which have driven a gigantic triangular front with the aid of South Pacific forces within striking distance of the big enemy base at Rabaul, New Britain, have received less than five per cent of all American military resources in 21 months since the campaign above Australia began, Diller added.

178 MEMBERS OF HOUSE ON OIL PETITION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The petroleum industry war council yesterday asked congress to bypass the executive branch of the government and enact legislation designed to increase the price of crude oil.

As Chairman William R. Boyd submitted the request to congress, the number of signatures on the petition which would discharge the House Banking and Currency committee from further consideration of the Disney bill reached 178 and it appeared virtually certain that the required 218 would be secured within the next week.

MOSCOW, Nov. 17.—Red armies chopping through the German transport network in the western Ukraine clamped a siege are against Korosten today, and front reports said the key railroad junction, a gateway to Poland, was about to fall.

The right wing of Gen. Nikolai F. Catutin's forces, which had carved a deep and broad salient out of the German positions west of Kiev, was pressing against Korosten from the south, southeast, east and northeast.

To the northeast 150 miles the Soviet assault on Gomel was in full swing, and the White Russian base became steadily less tenable as a Soviet column which had bypassed it and sped on 50 miles to the west, pressed heavily against the Nazi flank.

A gap of only about 50 miles separated the outriders of Vatuutin's northernmost units and those of Gen. Markian M. Popov's forces fanning southward from the Gomel-Rechtsa front.

MUTUAL AID.

The British have a good name for the process we call "lease-lend." They call it "Mutual Aid." That is what it is. Great Britain has even now given almost as much in proportion to her own wealth as we in proportion to ours. Among other things, she furnishes food, shelter and other things to our soldiers abroad, no small affair.

ods. They are fearless and daring, and seem to endure losses without flinching. Always they adapt themselves to the situation, with a flexibility suggesting frontier Americans rather than Europeans.

November, 1920

(Files of Cisco Daily News)

Many matters of mutual assistance cannot be figured in terms of money. Britain's dogged resistance in that terrible winter of 1940-1 is one. Without it, where would the United States of America be—all of the Americas? Russia's slaying of thousands of Germans, her wearing down of great German armies—can that be measured in money? What about China's resistance for five long years? America does what she can. Britain, China, Russia, and other nations give and do according to their powers. Working together, they will win. But none of them should let Hitler's last desperate attempts through propaganda weaving in and around the Allied nations get them down.

It would be well for Americans of today to keep firmly in mind that little interchange between two of the Founding Fathers.

"Gentlemen," one said as he signed the Declaration, "we must all hang together."

"Yes," replied another, "if we don't, we shall all hang separately!"

RUSSIANS.

The immense military successes of the Russians arouse natural eagerness to learn how they are won—what the methods are, and whether they can be applied by other nations. There doesn't seem to be much accurate knowledge of their strategy and tactics, because Stalin is secretive about military plans and procedures. But some things are now pretty well known, and are interesting.

Everybody realizes that the Russians have great military power, but the thing of special interest to smaller nations is their tactical skill. Experts say it is mostly new and not in the books. The Russians are fearless experimenters in modern warfare and modern weapons. They use big guns and tanks even more than the weight of men. Their battle lines seem always in motion. Their artillery ranges rapidly from one line to another, and keeps the enemy guessing. They are continually starting attacks and changing them.

In forests they use Indian meth-

A luncheon that cemented the friendship of the people of Cisco and the residents of Humbletown, and which will be remembered by all attending at the gala event of the membership campaign for an enlarged chamber of commerce, was the sumptuous spread given yesterday in the dining hall at Humbletown. More than fifty of the leading citizens of Cisco were present, all of whom thanked sincerely S. P. Farish, John L. McMeans and others for the opportunity of getting better acquainted with Humbletown and its people and also for seeing the really wonderful industrial establishment. A reception committee consisting of Mr. McMeans, Walter Hayden and W. J. Armstrong, met the guests as they arrived by motor at Humbletown. A few minutes later the party adjourned to the dining hall where the lunch was served. Among the guests were Mrs. J. J. Butts, Mrs. C. F. Faith, Mrs. C. H. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Percival, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Wild, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Campbell, Rev. C. G. Howard, Rev. L. N. Stuckey, and Messrs. E. T. Gunther, J. J. Godbey, McMeans, D. G. Hunt, Jr., B. S. Huey, F. A. Blankenbecker, Theo. Harrell, W. J. Barnes, L. M. Drown, Owen D. Barker, A. B. O'Flaherty, J. O. Sue, Benjamin McClinton, M. Palsky, Geo. Conner, L. V. Carroll, Geo. Radecke, Evan Jones, Carl Daniels, Sam Fowlkes, Edward F. Trefz, Z. B. Edworthy.

Judge E. A. Hill of the Eighty-eighth district court, charged the grand jury specially to investigate persons in the county who are running and operating gambling houses, and said in the course of his charge: "The gambling house in Eastland county is the source of more crime than any other. It is there that other crimes are committed. The high-jackers have been there. Men who do not engage in an honorable livelihood and do not work gathering. The unsuspecting boys of the county are found there and are caused to engage in gambling. I want you to indict the men who are getting the "rake off" at these places. It is all right to indict men who commit crimes at these places, but I want you specially to indict the men higher up, the men who are responsible for the existence of these places."

There was a change in the police force today. Chief Wiley Hittson said he had let out W. E. Grimmsinger and J. W. Hennessee, effective at once. Grimmsinger has been in charge of the night force since the resignation of the assistant chief, some time ago and Hennessee has been working with him. A man named Hicks, from Tennessee, whose first name the chief had not yet learned, but who is an officer of twelve years experience, has been appointed on the force. The other vacancy caused by these removals has not yet been filled.

Our Merchant Marine

THROUGHOUT OUR HISTORY OUR NAVY AND MERCHANT MARINE HAVE BEEN MUTUALLY DEPENDENT.

This was well demonstrated in the Spanish American war. The American passenger liner, St. Louis under fire for 45 minutes at Santiago, Cuba, succeeded in cutting the cable to Madrid.

In World War I American coastwise vessels led the great, minelaying squadron that bottled up the German Fleet...

A U.S. merchant ship, the Mongolia, fired America's first gun in World War I at a submarine on April 19, 1917.

World War II has impressed the lesson of our former wars. Recent Allied gains have coincided with the growth of our Merchant Marine. Never again must America be unprepared in merchant shipping.

CONTRARY CAT—New Orleans, La.—Hilda, a Buma at Audubon Park zoo here is very proud of her three baby offspring, but keeps them in the back part of the cage and lets no one get near them. A certain look in Hilda's eye when they approach her has convinced keepers that cats are really contrary.
DRESS UP THE REGULAR MENU—It's a patriotic must this year to dress up a thrifty family menu rather than serve a feast on Thanksgiving. Flowers and fruit supply a gala background and cranberries and other holiday standbys are good even without turkey. It's wise hostess tactics to serve decaffeinated coffee so that guests can relax taut nerves over sociable extra cups without worry over sleeping problems. Remember that decaffeinated coffee needs slightly longer brewing to bring out its rich coffee flavor. Frozen fruit sherbet is a toothsome desert.
WANT TO GET TOUGH?—Camp Davis, N. C.—Sergeant Tony Colosi of the Anti-aircraft Artillery School here demonstrates the variety of deadly weapons available to men in this branch of the Army. Seventeen guns, knives, grenades and assorted lethal weapons, including the famed Bazooka, are standard equipment in the field.
FILM-LESS FILM ACTRESS—Hollywood, Calif.—With plenty of time to relax between pictures—what pictures!—Jane Russell takes it easy in her backyard. Of course, she could use a glass, but this makes a better photo.
SINGLE SHOT DANNY—Sgt. Daniel Vina (Single Shot Danny), of Salt Lake City, stands beside his guns in the tail of a Flying Fortress. Danny has been on sixteen missions and shot down an ME-109 over Frankfurt. He is also credited with three "probables."

CHINA'S FIRST LADY BECOMES AUTHOR—Madame Chiang Kai-Shek has joined the ranks of authors, having written "The Wife of Chiang Chow," a story based on a Chinese folk tale. Her first story, it appears in the December issue of American Magazine. Income from her writings are to be divided between Chinese and American charities.

HOW TO STRETCH QUICK-FROZEN TREATS—The fine art of stretching the family's favorite delicacies is a "must" course for successful wartime homemakers. Quick-frozen golden sweet corn, for example, is delicious combined with one small head of green cabbage, a cup of white sauce and a teaspoon of minced onion; and by this savory trick you stretch the sugar-sweet flavor of the corn into six helpings instead of four. Quick-frozen vegetables are a good choice for meatless menus because they can be counted on for farm-fresh flavor as well as an extra quota of vitamins and minerals. They are time savers, too, for they are all ready to cook just as they come from their cartons.

SMOOTH AND SMART—Chic is the word for this mulberry wool New York creation with its frog beaded closings on the hip length jacket. Green, yellow and mulberry huckle beads are effectively used. Colors are picked up by the green silk-jersey blouse worn under the suit.

THESE DELICIOUS SANDWICHES ARE THRIFTY TREATS—With the ration cost of butter so high, it's winning strategy to use cream cheese as a sandwich spread. One six-ounce wedge cut of cream cheese calls for only one brown ration point and will make fillings for a whole trayful of sandwiches to serve for supper on Thanksgiving. Being made of whole milk and cream, cream cheese is so rich in butter fat you won't need to use any butter. Since the wedges come in chive, pimiento and relish flavors, it's an easy matter to achieve variety in these ration-wise spreads.

CANADIAN ALPINE TROOPS TRAIN IN ROCKIES—Under the instruction of American and Canadian Alpinists, Canadian Alpine troops use the vast area of the Rockies as a training ground. New techniques of rock and ice climbing are learned. The men become accustomed to high altitudes and learn to advance over icy surfaces of glaciers. Above, roped together, soldiers travel across dangerous terrain.

MAKING GLIDER WINGS—Mineola, L. I., N. Y.—Arlene Lewis (left) and Sue Hadfield perform the gluing operation on a rib section. There are seventy complete ribs in a glider wing. Girls readily learn this delicate type of work and they comprise about eighty percent of the personnel.

SISTER ACT GETS "BREAK"—Hollywood, Calif.—Martha and Patsy Brown, 17-year-old twin swimming stars, have been signed to a film contract despite Martha's broken leg. John Murray Anderson saw Patsy in a swimming exhibition and when he learned she had an equally talented though temporarily handicapped sister, the twins were signed to a contract. Their first picture will be "Mr. Co-Ed."

GERMANS' TANK DESTROYER TURNED AGAINST THEM—This German tank destroyer, captured by American troops in battle against the 10th Panzer Division in Central Tunisia, can work both ways. Equipped with a 75 mm. gun and dual controls, it operates both forward and backward. And after a U. S. Ordnance salvage crew reconditioned it and painted a star on it, the tank destroyer was used by the Yanks against the Germans.

KIND PEOPLE PROVIDE GIFT FOR ORPHAN

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 17.—Seven-year-old Patrick Huey will receive an electric train for Christmas—the train his daddy promised him three years ago. That was the year his mother, Mrs. Edison Huey, dropped dead as she was decorating the Christmas tree for Pat. There were no Christmas festivities in the Huey household that year.

Meanwhile, Pat's daddy, a naval reservist, was summoned to active duty and Pat went to live with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Huey.

Seven days after his sixth birthday Pat received a telegram from the government—"We regret to inform you. . . . His daddy had been killed in action."

This year his grandparents searched everywhere for an electric train. None could be found. Finally they appealed to a Seattle department store. Last Sunday the store took full page advertisements in Seattle papers asking for a train for Patrick Huey.

All Monday and Tuesday grown-ups and children called the store and begged for the opportunity of donating their train to bring a small boy happiness.

Some of the twenty-eight offers came from parents of boys who've outgrown trains and are in the armed forces overseas; others came from children who loved their trains but thought Pat deserved their trains. Most of the sets were incomplete.

Then Clayton Peterson, one of those who offered a train, agreed to collect all the trains and repair and reassemble them in the best possible railroad system.

13 Per Cent of Our Food Goes to Our Armed Forces

Your Government says a soldier or sailor needs 5 1/2 pounds of food a day, or 1 1/2 civilian rations. To make sure that the right food is always available at the right time, the armed forces need a 90-day reserve for men quartered in this country—and a nine-month supply for men overseas. The right foods are the "protective foods"—meat, fats and oils, milk, canned goods, citrus fruits, dairy products—foods which are "short" in the civilian supply.

THE BIG JOB

is right in your daily homemaking routine

The Controlled Heat of your Gas Range will help

CUT FOOD WASTE

1. Know the seven basic food groups and plan your meals from them.
2. Plan by the week so that two or more protein foods will not be included in the same meal.
3. Plan a vegetable plate or a nourishing soup as the main dish for several meals during the week.
4. Use fresh foods in season. Cook most vegetables in a small amount of water; using only about one-half inch in a covered utensil.
5. Cut down your grocer's waste. Don't pinch fruits. Don't handle vegetables.
6. Serve smaller portions with the provision for seconds. Establish a rule for eating everything served.
7. Don't buy rationed foods for the sake of using stamps. Don't give away or trade stamps.

Buying bonds, working for the Red Cross, helping with Civilian Defense—of course you are helping! But the big job is making the food our farmers are producing go just as far as it will. • Cook only the amount of vegetables needed. Serve left-overs creamed, in casserole dishes, or cold—in salads. • Cook vegetables and fruits in their skins wherever possible—and over a low gas flame. • Roast meats at low temperature in your gas oven to reduce shrinkage. Use left-overs in stews, meat pies and hash.

Our Home Economics Department will be glad to help you with specific information on how to cook and process food for wartime meals. Be sure to pick up each week at our office your free copy of our Modern Homemaking Bulletin.

Helpful Tricks in Saving Used Fats

TAKE ANY TIN CAN and tie cheese-cloth loosely over top. Or set an old strainer on top, and leave it there. Add every drop of kitchen fats you can no longer use for cooking. Or just throw fats into can unstrained, and when can is full, strain the whole lot at once into another can.

PLEASE HELP! Used fats no matter how black are needed desperately for ammunition and for medicines. Save them in a tin can, not glass. Any kind of can will do. Rush them to your meat dealer. Start doing it today, won't you?
