FLAG OF TEXAS WAVES O'ER NEW BRITAIN

THREE OLD-FOOTBALL IS STERS KILL ONLY TOPIC EACH OTHER AT ANGELO

VICTORIA, Dec. 17.—A family brawl involving four pistols, a claw hammer and a pair of shears, which left three men dead and another wounded, climaxed three weeks of terror at his farm home.
Earl Walker, 47, lone survivor of the fight, told sheriff's officers yesterday.

Walker said his two bearded uncles, Alonzo Walker, 81, and Oliver Walker, 79, of Sulphur, Okla., and his father, J. H. Walker, 85, stalked one another about the house until Tuesday's free-for-all brawl which left all three of them dead.

He said his uncles carried pistols and one of them muttered about seeing the devil jump up in front of him.

Walker told Sheriff R. A. Rogan the fight started when his two uncles came in the back door of the house.

"Oliver had a gun in his hand, Alonzo had a claw hammer and a pair of tin snipes."

"Nobody said anything," Walker said.

Then, he said, his uncle Oliver, who wore his beard trimmed, raised a .45 single-action pistol and fired. The bullet grazed Walker's head and knocked him down. He jumped to his feet and ran to the bedroom of the house, where his father was seated in a rocking chair. His uncle Oliver and his uncle Alonzo, who wore his beard long and flowing, pursued.

"Father begged them not to do anything," Walker said, "but Oliver shot him, right above the heart."

Walker said he then grappled with his uncle Alonzo. He said while they fought for possession of the claw hammer and tin snips he heard gunfire.

Suddenly, Walker said, the fight was over, and his father and his uncles were dead. All were shot, Sheriff Rogan said, and the uncles were badly beaten.

Walker said he did not remember firing a shot.

The claw hammer and the tin snipes were blood-smeared. Three pistols were found besides the single-action frontier model revolver which was still clutched in Oliver Walker's hand.

Sheriff Rogan said the investigation would continue.

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 17.—It's sacredly pure and simple, to talk about anything but football in this West Texas city, home of the booming Bobcats.

War nor weather finds a place in conversations that spring up from sewing circles to domino halls. And if you are not in the know about such personalities as Milton Rathbone, Milford Taft, Jeep Graham or Joe Williams then you are marked down as a foreigner or a very uninformed soul who has failed to keep abreast with events of the day.

Now that the San Angelo Bobcats have gone into the semifinals of the Texas Interscholastic League race, they have been adopted wholeheartedly by West Texas, and fans from all parts of the cattle country began arriving as early as Thursday night for the Saturday afternoon tilt with the Highland Park Scotties of Dallas.

General admission tickets went on sale Thursday morning and winding lines of customers were waiting long before the windows were raised. Officials are preparing to care for a crowd of approximately 9,000, largest ever to attend a ball game in this football-minded city. Plans are under way to erect temporary bleachers to care for the crowd.

Quite a bit of rivalry has been weaved this week into the Saturday fray and fuel is being added to the fire each day. There's no doubt but what the action will be rugged and fierce.

MOSCOW, Dec. 17.—The Red Army beat off repeated German counter-attacks today and advanced into new positions within striking distance of Radomisl, key road junction 54 miles west of Kiev.

The Russians yielded Radomisl to the Germans several days ago, but with the arrival of reinforc-ments regained lost ground northwest of the junction and were developing a flanking threat.

BUS DRIVERS HIT PATRONS BELOW BELT

ATLANTA, Dec. 17.—A strike of drivers and maintenance men caused suspension today of all service by the Southeastern Greyhound Bus Lines on routes south

Tenn.

W. E. Arington, regional manager in Atlanta, said the "strike apparently is spreading," as he disclosed that 700 drivers and maintenance men had walked out. The line employs approximately 2,500 drivers and maintenance men on its 10,000 miles of routes.

PRESIDENT BACK AFTER 5 WEEKS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.— President Roosevelt returned to the white house this morning and it was announced immediately that the chief executive will make a Christmas Eve radio report to the world on Allied war and peace plans.

The president received an impressive ovation from the congressional leaders of both parties and his cabinet when he returned to the white house at 9:25 a. m. from his historic mission to the Middle East.

The joint congressional reception was seen as recognition of the fact the president was returning from the greatest series of international wartime conferences in which an American chief executive ever has participated.

Secretly notified that the president was returning to Washington today, some 100 of the nation's leaders hurried to the white house.

The president was deeply tanned and, despite the arduous weeks and the 25,000-mile journey, was in high good humor.

U. S. TROOPS MEET GERMANS HAND-TO-HAND

ALGIERS, Dec. 17.—American troops have launched a smashing attack to reach the main road to Rome, meeting the Germans in a hand-to-hand struggle at the village of San Pietro, a mile from the vital highway.

Large scale renewal of the Fifth Army offensive to break through to the road coincided with the second major blow in two days by Flying Fortresses against Germany's rail supply lines into Italy.

In their first powerful blow against Padua, 25 miles west of Venice in northern Italy, the Fortresses dropped 200 tons of bombs in less than six minutes, partially sweeping a rail bridge and the Padua yards. Five enemy planes were shot down and not a bomber was lost.

JAP AIRMEN MAKE HEAVY AT- TACKS ON U. S. INVADERS, BUT GET THE WORST OF IT

ALLIED ADVANCED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Dec. 17.—U. S. Sixth Army vanguards, opening an offensive to smash Japan's "Little Pearl Harbor" at Rabaul, are consolidating their Arawe beachhead on the south coast of New Britain despite vicious enemy air attacks.

Though resistance by enemy ground forces appeared to be collapsing on the southwestern end of New Britain, the Japanese time and again sent waves of planes against American jungle troops, mostly Texans, fanning out from their new beachhead some 250 miles southwest of Rabaul.

The first waves ashore carried two Texas Lone Star flags.

Allied fighters and anti-aircraft guns successfully repelled each air attack, the report said, but the raids were continuing.

An earlier report from MacArthur disclosed that the American invaders, under Brig. Gen. Julian W. Cunningham of San Antonio, Tex., had seized the entire Arawe "coastal section," while front reports said the troops had captured the three-mile-long Arawe peninsula and the island network offshore in the first five hours.

The Sixth Army is commanded by Lt. Gen. Walter C.
Krueger.

(Washington sources said the whole Japanese defense position in the Southwest Pacific appeared to be crumbling, and asserted that Rabaul already had been rendered useless as a major operational base, forcing the Japanese to rely on Truk, 800 miles to the north. However, a stiff campaign appeared in store, since the Japanese were believed to have at least 40,000 troops there, Washington informants said.)

Front reports indicated the Americans were advancing at a steady pace through the shell-pocked palms on the southern approaches to the mountain backbone of the island, wiping out isolated pockets of resistance in their path. Overhead roared swarms of Allied planes that bombed and strafed all exposed enemy positions.

However, there had been no definite word of the extent of the invaders' progress since approximately eight hours after the first landing, when the Americans were said to be moving up the 200-foot-high palm-studded Amulet plantation ridge behind the Arawe peninsula and moving eastward toward the jungle village of Umtinjala.

The advance of Umtinjala was a march of vengeance, for it was there that a Japanese gun crew killed perhaps 80 of 155 Commandos who attempted to paddle ashore in rubber boats in a diversionary raid nearly two hours before the main landings.

The invasion, covered by a mighty sea and air bombardment in which warships alone fired at least 315 tons of shells, "completely surprised" the Japanese, MacArthur's report said, and put the Allies at one bound 200 miles north toward Rabaul from their former bases in New Guinea.

MacArthur said the landings gave the Allies "a base in New Britain which insures the surface command of the Vistaiz straits" between New Guinea and New Britain "and its contingent waters."

With the capture of Arawe, the Americans also cut the main Japanese supply line to Gasmata, 82 miles to the east, by isolating that key south coast air base and trans-shipment point from New Guinea. Any supplies henceforth would have to be shipped from Rabaul, which itself has been virtually cut off by an Allied air blockade.

Primary objectives of the Arawe forces were believed to be possibly Gasmata and Rein Bay, an important staging point on the North Coast 40 miles across the western end of New Britain. Capture of Rein Bay would cut the Japanese north coast barge-supply line from New Guinea.

The invasion set the stage for a giant pincers move against Rabaul. Other American troops already were entrenched firmly on Bougainville island, approximately 420 miles west of Rabaul.

The great invasion fleet for the Allies' return to New Britain, 22 months after it was occupied by the Japanese gathered some five miles off the island's south coast under cover of darkness Tuesday night.

WORKERS AND FIGHTERS Great is the power of American labor, Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, calling for nearly 3,000,000 more men and women, says there must be 60,000,000 workers mobilized in this country by the middle of next year. That will be the largest "man-power army" ever assembled or dreamed of. And although comparisons are not really called for, it might be said that this great working force, even more than the valiant fighting forces, will win the War of the World. For the men in the air, on the land, on the sea and under the sea will be winning, as one great, powerful team because they have the stuff to fight with, as well as the brain and brawn to handle the stuff.

MANN QUILTS AS ATTORNEY GENERAL

AUSTIN, Dec. 17.—A political bombshell exploded in the capitol late yesterday when Gerald C. Mann resigned as attorney general, effective immediately, to practice law in Dallas.

Mann, in his letter of resignation to Gov. Coke Stevenson said only that his resignation was effective immediately and that he would enter the private practice of law at Dallas.

Stevenson, at an extraordinary press conference called suddenly at mid-afternoon, simultaneously announced Mann's resignation, his acceptance of it, and the appointment of 51-year-old Grover Sellers, long time friend and first assistant to Mann, as attorney general.

The surprise announcement stirred up much speculation but shed no light on Mann's political future.

In a statement at Tyler, Mann said his resignation merely left him free to decide whether or not he would seek office.

Sellers, born in Louisiana, was reared in Sulphur Springs where he was a district judge. Later he served one term as an associate justice of the court of civil appeals at Texarkana. He was named first assistant attorney general in the spring of 1940.

Mann, 36-year-old former football star at Southern Methodist University, had been attorney general since 1939.

Recently Mann issued a statement saying if he remained in politics, it would be an honor of Texas. Since he is known from politics at this time it is out of the picture. Up to now he has been the only person to announce himself as a possible opponent of Governor Stevenson.

Christmas

REMEMBER THE SOLDIERS

As Christmas approaches let us not forget our soldiers—many of them in battle areas across the seas.

Remember that they are far away from home, and would like to be with their families Christmas. Although they won't be able to come home this year, we can help to bring them home next Christmas.

You can help bring them home by saving your used fats and turning them in to your grocer. It doesn't matter what kind of fat or how much you can give, every drop is precious. One tablespoon of fat will make five machine gun bullets or enough smallpox vaccines for seventy-three men. So, you see, our government can use these fats in more than one way.

Let's help back the attack by turning in used fats.

Insulate Your Ceiling Now With KIMSUL Winter blankets of snow remain longest on the roofs of insulated homes. Heat from inside the home does not escape through the ceiling to melt it, saving 80 percent of the heat and one-third the fuel. Summer heat cannot come through either, making your home warmer in winter and cooler in summer. Also it is DUST-PROOF — Dust cannot come through this blanket. For free estimate, CALL JOE CLEMENTS.
