WORSE THAN INFLATION.

There are worse things than inflation. One is government tyranny, which can occur when people fear inflation more than they love freedom. We have reached the point in this country where fear of inflation is tending to force us toward tyranny. We may not be able to avoid inflation. It is the price of war. But we can avoid tyranny. The present rebellion against subsidies is an encouraging indication that the American people prefer to take their inflation straight. Subsidies would open the door to total government control of the private citizen.

The general attitude toward subsidies was aptly expressed by Fred H. Sexauer, president of the Dairyman's League Cooperative Association, when he said: "The last bulwark of freedom of our independent farmers may fall if the plan of subsidy in place of fair price now in process of application is put over as a permanent program."

Subsidies are used to bring about compliance by individuals with bureaucratic demands. The broad powers placed in the hands of more or less irresponsible subordinates to write the conditions on which subsidy payments will be made leads to the temptation to include restrictions on individual activities and compel subservience in matters only distantly relating to subsidies themselves. Subsidies will not increase production to the extent that equivalent prices would.

HOBBLES MUST GO.

Literally millions of individual enterprises are mapping plans for postwar operation. Not much is heard of these plans as most of them are buried in obscurity. But collectively they will decide the future of this country. The public should be told of these plans if for no other reason than to spike the assumption that planning is the private property of political officeholders.

Typical of the social alertness and hope controlling the thoughts of many business men is the statement of a member of the distribution industry, the president of a fifty-year old "hard goods" chain store system, who says: "... We realize that doing all we can in wartime to serve town homes and farms is not enough. We must take specific steps immediately to be ready to do our share when the war ends. It is our obligation. We face a great opportunity to make available to consumers at low prices millions of needed products."

Acting on his own advice, this merchandiser has developed detailed plans for expanded advertisements in the local press. He has placed tentative orders with manufacturers and has devised improved operating methods designed to cut costs to a minimum.

Mass distribution is the key to full production. Retailers carry a heavy responsibility and they know it. They must anticipate postwar consumer demand and be ready to the best of their ability to meet it, efficiently and quickly. They will be able to do their job best in a free competitive market, unhampered by paralyzing "official" restrictions.

Present price and rationing controls must be ended as soon as possible after the war—if consumers are to get maximum service from merchants who know that freedom of action is essential to low cost distribution of all products.

ASKS PLEDGE TO CONTINUE VICTORY FIGHT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—President Roosevelt asked in a New Year's Day statement Saturday that the people pledge co-operation to continue the United Nations' determination to carry on to final victory in the war. He asked further their co-operation behind an international organization "of all peace-loving nations to maintain peace and security in generations to come." "Our armed forces," he said, "are gathering for new and greater assaults which will bring about the downfall of the Axis aggressors." The president added that the United Nations also are giving attention to the postwar period to combat "disease, malnutrition, unemployment and many other forms of economic and social distress." Roosevelt remained in bed on orders of his physician as a precautionary measure against a reaction in his attack of grippe.

HALSEY SAYS JAPS MUST KEEP MOVING

SOUTH PACIFIC, Jan. 1.—Adm. William F. Halsey voices assurance that "1944 will be a year of great, decisive victories for the cause of Pacific freedom."

A year ago, he said, the Allies still faced the Japanese across the jungles and beaches of Guadalcanal. Since then, American troops have moved into the Northern Solomons and struck Bougainville "from the list of effective Jap bases."

Halsey, commander of South Pacific forces, added in his New Year's Day statement: "We can promise for the coming months so many staggering blows against the enemy in so many places and from so many directions that his reluctant retreat will be disastrously quickened as he backs up the road toward Tokyo. It is a pleasurable note that such retreats are difficult to halt. The Jap won't halt his."

JAPS WARNED US. MASSING PLANES, MEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Tokyo newspapers have warned the Japanese that the Americans are massing invasion forces, including 1,000 airplanes and six divisions of troops, in Alaska and the Aleutians, the Berlin radio declared Friday night. Quoting the Yomiuri Hochi Haimbun, the broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission said armament was piling up at Dutch Harbor "while masses of planes, especially bombers, are being assembled at Dutch Harbor, Kodiak, Nome, Kiska and Attu. These are estimated to number 1,000 aircraft. In Alaska itself, about six divisions are concentrated. They comprise motorized units, tank forces and parachute troops. The fleet is also represented and two especially constructed aircraft carriers and a number of cruisers and destroyers are reported in northern bases." Another paper said there were about 30 U. S. air bases in China that might be used in preparing for air attacks on Japan.

3 LEADERS MAKE PLEA VS. BIGOTRY

FT. WORTH, Jan. 1.—A plea for united efforts to stamp out bigotry in the world was voiced Friday before the North Fort Worth Kiwanis club by a Jew, a Catholic and a Protestant. The speakers were I. E. Horwitz, president of the Fort Worth Jewish federation; Rev. Ernest Langenhorst, pastor of St. Alice's Catholic church, and Rev. Granville Walker, pastor of University Christian church. The luncheon was held at First Methodist church.

A Flaw in the Title---

... has been costly to many honest and sincere purchasers. Unlike the precious stone, the title with a flaw, in most cases, may be cured by means of the abstract and the attorney's opinion. A flaw in your right of ownership not only impairs the value of your investment but sooner or later is almost certain to cause you loss of time and money. In buying real estate, always demand an abstract.

More than 200 members of the football teams and pep squads of Cisco high school and Randolph college and the high school band feasted on barbecued chicken Thursday night as the guests of the citizens of Cisco. Crowding the banquet room of the First Methodist church, the young people dined while citizens lined the walls and listened to the program which included music, talks, and toasts in which the skill and spirit of the high school and Randolph players were praised. The climax came with the presentation of the famous "Lobo quilt" to Coach W. B. Chapman of the high school and his recent bride. The quilt, made by the Science club of Cisco high, contained the names of Cisco high athletes of other years, as well as the names of prominent fans, embossed in the black and gold bed piece. Presentation was made by Dr. E. L. Graham who purchased the quilt at the auction held during the football season for the Rotary club, in whose name the spread was presented.

H. N. Pardee, L. M. Pardee, and Dorn Holland have made a record trip from Cisco to Los Angeles, Calif., according to a message received by Mrs. L. M. Pardee. The three left at 4 a. m.

New Year's Day, and arrived at Los Angeles at 2:30 a. m. yesterday, after 39 hours of driving. Mr. Pardee reported. The trip was not without a mishap, however, since at El Paso Mr. Pardee's handbag was stolen, and he had to buy a complete new wardrobe. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Rosenthal of Humbletown, who have been spending the holidays with Mrs. Rosenthal's parents, at Mansfield, were robbed of three suit cases filled with clothing Tuesday night, while their automobile was parked on Jarvis street in Fort Worth. The money value of the stolen articles totaled about $300.

Henry Stubblefield, former county commissioner, has joined the fast growing "ground meat" group in Cisco. Mr. Stubblefield, at home from Stamford where he has been employed in building a new highway, has had his teeth extracted in order to cure ailments suffered for the last five years. He is accepting invitations to dinner only where the meat has been ground or oyster steat is served.

Cisco high school basketball team will play its first official game of the year Friday night when Eastland high team comes here for the opening game. Coach W. L. Golightly will probably start his regular line up as follows: B. Pippen and Purvis, forwards; Andrus, center; Yeager and Huestis, guards. Teddy Huestis, star guard on the Lobo five, will be playing one of his few remaining high school games when

NYA IS DEAD; LEAVES CASH, WASTE PAPER

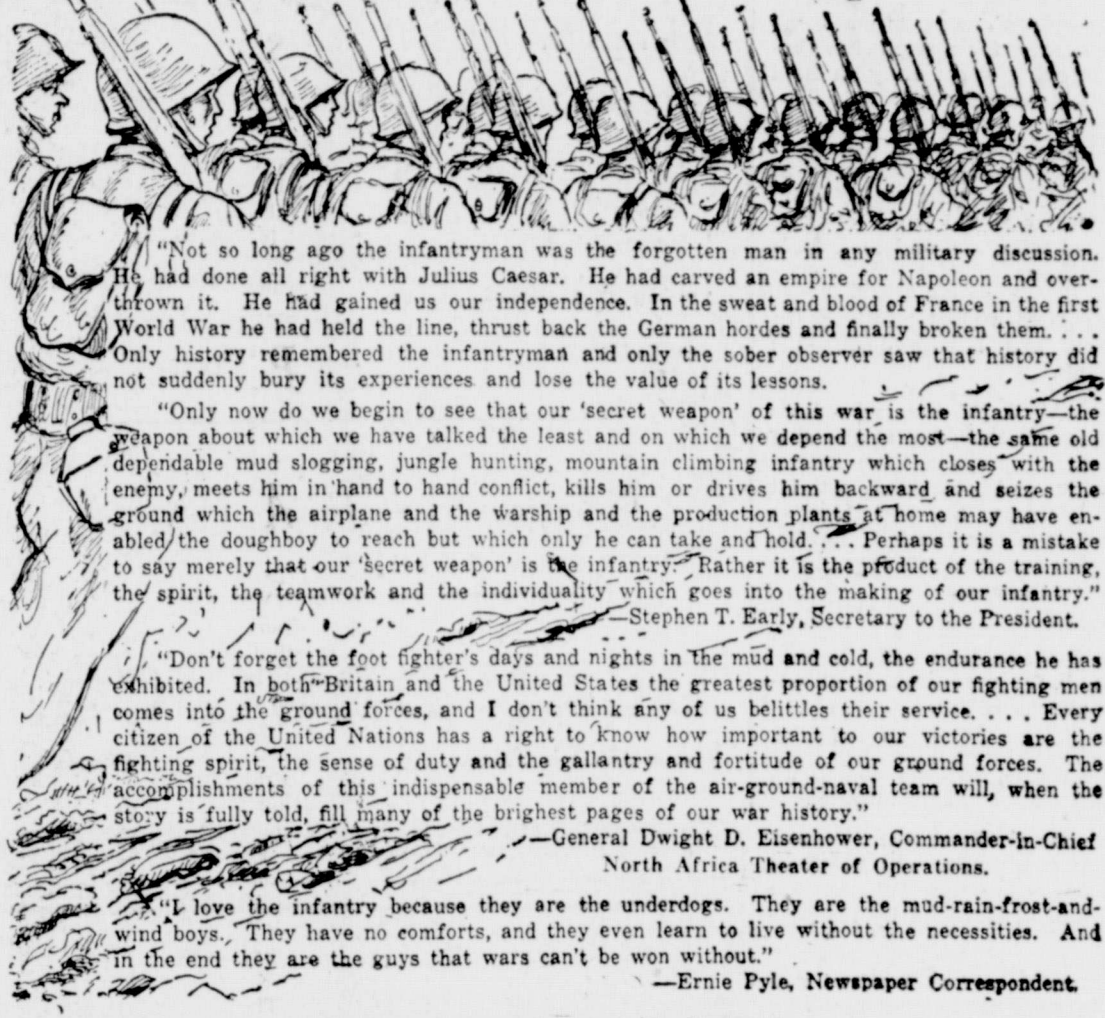

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The once-bustling National Youth Administration, down now to 46 employees and 300 tons of old records, died Saturday night after eight years as an integral part of the New Deal.

NYA was abolished by congress last July 1, effective at the end of this New Year's Day.

It will leave to the treasury $700,000, the unused portion of $4,500,000 congress provided for the job of liquidation.

It also has given to the treasury its 300 tons of old records, to be sold as waste paper.

Our Secret Weapon

Not so long ago the infantryman was the forgotten man in any military discussion. He had done all right with Julius Caesar. He had carved an empire for Napoleon and even thrown it. He had gained us our independence. In the sweat and blood of France in the first World War he had held the line, thrust back the German hordes and finally broken them. . . . Only history remembered the infantryman and only the sober observer saw that history did not suddenly bury its experiences and lose the value of its lessons.

Only now do we begin to see that our 'secret weapon' of this war is the infantry—the weapon about which we have talked the least and on which we depend the most—the same old dependable mud slogging, jungle hunting, mountain climbing infantry which closes with the enemy, meets him in hand to hand conflict, kills him or drives him backward and seizes the ground which the airplane and the warship and the production plants at home may have enabled the doughboy to reach but which only he can take and hold. . . . Perhaps it is a mistake to say merely that our 'secret weapon' is the infantry. Rather it is the product of the training, the spirit, the teamwork and the individuality which goes into the making of our infantry." —Stephen T. Early, Secretary to the President.

"Don't forget the foot fighter's days and nights in the mud and cold, the endurance he has exhibited. In both Britain and the United States the greatest proportion of our fighting men comes into the ground forces, and I don't think any of us belittles their service. . . . Every citizen of the United Nations has a right to know how important to our victories are the fighting spirit, the sense of duty and the gallantry and fortitude of our ground forces. The accomplishments of this indispensable member of the air-ground-naval team will, when the story is fully told, fill many of the brightest pages of our war history." —General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Commander-in-Chief North Africa Theater of Operations.

"I love the infantry because they are the underdogs. They are the mud-rain-frost-and-wind boys. They have no comforts, and they even learn to live without the necessities. And in the end they are the guys that wars can't be won without." —Ernie Pyle, Newspaper Correspondent.

SIZZLE Japs and Nazis With Your Waste Kitchen Fats

TWO pounds of waste fat will produce the glycerine required to fire five anti-tank shells. As the attack expands our soldiers need more and more shells for killing Japs and Nazis. This means the need for more and more waste kitchen fat is urgent. Homemakers must provide it. They will. For isn't killing about all our enemies understand? Their brutal savagery in beheading allied prisoners and annihilating whole towns can be stopped only with shells and more shells. Save every ounce of waste fat!

- 1. Strain into a clean wide-mouthed can and keep in a cool place like inside the gas refrigerator.
2. When you have a pound of waste fat, take it to your nearest butcher or grocer who now pays you for it with brown meat stamps.
3. Do not send any fat along to help kill Japs and Nazis that is still being used or which might have to be replaced.

Best Wishes For 1944.

As 1944 replaces 1943, many of us will try to peer through the veil that shrouds the future from our view and wonder what the new year may bring to us and to our friends and loved ones.

To millions of human beings throughout the world the year just ended brought only death and suffering as the global struggle waged fiercely day by day and the future seemed ever to grow darker and more forbidding. At last, however, doubt of the final outcome vanished and now the forces of right and justice are sure of victory in the end, although we realize fully that much sacrifice still lies ahead.

So, let's stand together with our government during this new, unknown year and do our full duty—with hope and faith that normal and happier times may soon come to the entire world.

We desire to convey our best wishes to all friends and patrons and thank them for their loyalty and patronage. At times we have not been able to meet all your needs, but we did our best and hope to do better this year. Sincerely Yours,

NORVELL & MILLER,

C. B. NORVELL, Manager.

BEST WISHES to All Our Friends and Patrons

The sands of time have run through another year and brought many changes ---it has been a year of struggles and accomplishments for America and the friends of liberty on the fields of battle.

On the home front it has been a struggle to do our part which has included giving up sons to fight those battles on land, on the sea and in the air. But it has been done and the fight and sacrifice goes on with the hope that the year 1944 will bring victory, at least from Germany, if not from Japan.

It has been a hard year on business with all the scarcity of commodities and materials with which to work.

But we are not complaining, and neither are you. We will turn the year with renewed determination to accomplish more --- much more --- during this new year. We have learned much in this past year of experience and it will aid us in carrying on to further accomplishments.

It has also taught us closer cooperation and the value of friends. We want to stand a little closer to our friends during 1944 and have the inspiration of their friendliness. We wish you happiness and success.
