REDS SMASH NAZI DEFENSES TO RUMANIA

COLLINS AND THOMAS TEAMS COP HONORS

The second meeting of members of Cisco Bowling league was held Friday night, when Collins Hardware met Cisco Gas Corporation and Thomas Funeral Home opposed Palace Theater on the local alleys. The teams bowled three games and Collins Hardware and Thomas Funeral Home, each winning two, copped the honors. Scores:

SOLDIER VOTING IS HIT HARD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Secretary Stimson and Knox dealt a heavy blow to the soldier-voting legislation recently passed by the senate, and now pending in the house, which would turn the problems over to the states with their complicated absentee-voting laws.

"The services are unable effectively to administer diverse procedures of 48 states as to 11,000,000 servicemen all over the world in primary, special and general elections," said a joint statement by the two cabinet officers to the council of state governments.

While the statement emphasized that "army and navy" departments do not advocate or oppose any particular voting legislation," the Stimson-Knox views may give impetus to compromise measures that will be considered when congress resumes next week.

The compromise, sponsored by Senator Lucas of Illinois and Rep. Worley of Texas, would set up a federal commission to supervise distribution and collection by the army and navy of a simple ballot for president, vice president and members of congress. The ballots would be turned over to the states for counting under their laws.

WORST TEXAS BLIZZARD IN MANY YEARS

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 8.—Reports of heavy livestock deaths in the Panhandle filtered out Saturday as that section dug itself out after one of the worst blizzards in 52 years. The mercury was down to 4 above zero at Amarillo.

North of Amarillo, at Perryton, one farmer said he counted 150 dead cattle along a 10-mile stretch of highway.

The Amarillo Globe said cattlemen are "most apprehensive over the lack of emergency feed."

At Amarillo, Miles Bivins, one of the largest range operators in the country, estimated that 20 per cent of the beef cattle would be lost on the Northern Plains of Texas, an area running about 150,000 head.

Both Braniff and American Airlines grounded their planes in Texas because of low visibility and icy conditions.

Snow stopped highway travel in the Panhandle and bus schedules north.

A special train was sent from Amarillo to pick up motorists stranded at Jeric, 60 miles to the east. State highway patrolmen at midmorning traveled southward on Highway 287 to rescue other motorists, stranded as the snow piled in drifts four to six feet deep.

Maximum snowfall in the Panhandle was approximately 12 inches.

LIGHT SNOWFALL.

Cisco people were greeted with snow-white lawns, a cold wind and thermometers ranging around 18 degrees when they came out Saturday morning. Because of the wind, it was difficult to gauge the snowfall, but some estimated it to be a half inch. The sun was out most of the day, but continued cold weather was promised by the weather man.

LEAFLETS SAID ZERO HOUR NEAR

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Increasing signs of Nazi invasion jitters were reported today as Swedish reports told of British bombers scattering leaflets over Germany warning that mobilization has been completed for the final defeat of the Reich and hinting that the zero hour for the opening of the second front was not far off.

The existence of the warning leaflets was disclosed, a London Daily Mail dispatch from Stockholm said, when some of those dropped during the heavy British raid on the Nazi port of Settin Wednesday night accidentally landed in Sweden.

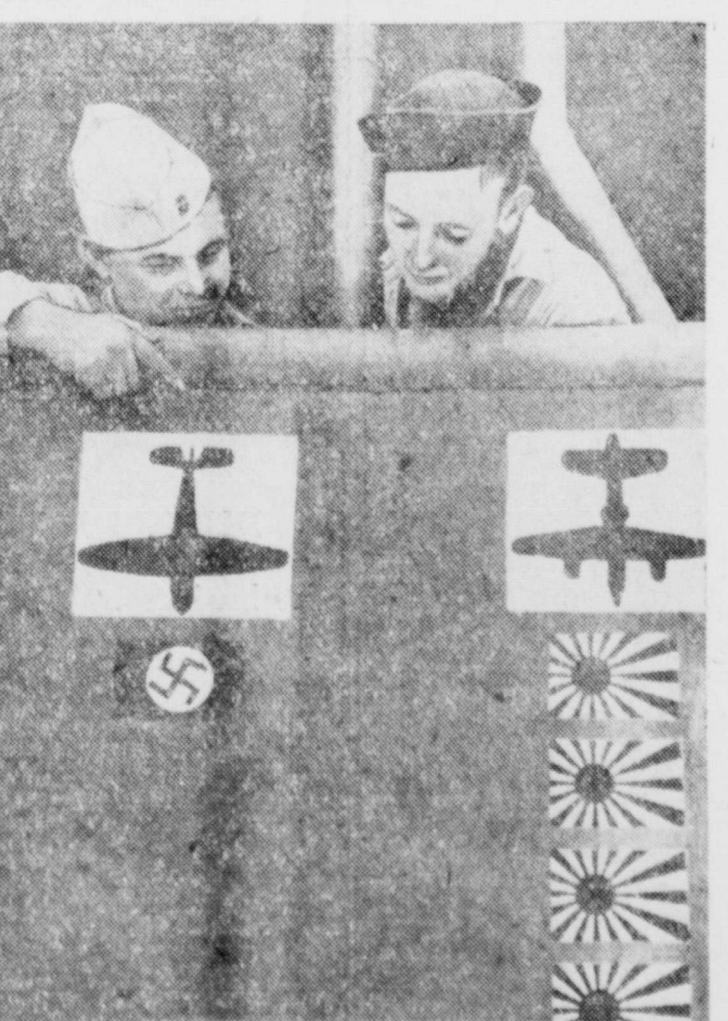

"World mobilization against Germany is now finished," the leaflets were quoted as saying. "Germany for a second time faces ruin. Shall the Germans escape the last minute before midnight? Time is short. The hands of the clock move on ceaselessly. The time is exactly quarter to twelve."

Radio Berlin, in what appeared to be an attempt to persuade the Allied command of the folly of attempting to invade western Europe, asserted that 7700 heavy guns had been mounted along the Atlantic coast from Narvik to the Pyrenees. In addition, the broadcast said, more than 3000 heavy anti-tank guns have been set up from Denmark to southern France.

Kin of General MacArthur Gives What She Asks For

Petite Beatrice "Muffin" MacArthur listened to Morton Downey's Blue Network radio program at the Walter Reed hospital near Washington, D. C., and then asked for an autograph. Morton asked the same of her. "Muffin" is the grand niece of General Douglas MacArthur and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bowman MacArthur.

FOR THE RECORD—Aboard United States cruiser somewhere in the Pacific, Marine and bluejacket proudly inspect ship's record of four Jap two-engined bombers and one Nazi fighter shot down.

BALKAN INVASION BEST BET

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A winter invasion in the Balkans, difficult though it would be, is a better bet than winter invasion of Western France and the low countries. Successful invasion of the Balkans, synchronized with Russia's winter offensive, would almost certainly knock out Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary; force the evacuation of Greece and probably Yugoslavia; and bring in Turkey—mortal blows to Germany.

Lock for Roosevelt to move soon to clarify the labor situation—perhaps in his message to congress next week. If he doesn't, congressmen talk of acting. They're returning from Christmas recess convinced it's the top issue back home, that public feeling against wartime strikes grows daily. Possibilities: Roosevelt may ask national service legislation or extension of criminal penalties to all wartime strikes. Latter is most likely. Or he may centralize authority over all labor matters in some new agency, call in new faces.

Willkie has decided to get in and mix it up rough with GOP politics trying to shut him off from nomination. Their technique: To keep him out of presidential primaries, tie up as many states as possible with favorite sons. Willkie's answer: To enter Wisconsin primary against Dewey, MacArthur and perhaps Stassen. And probably to enter Nebraska and California primaries. Stassen is entered in Nebraska; Gov. Warren is favorite-son candidate in California, but Willkie sentiment said to be strong. Ralph S. Cates, Republican national committeeman from Oregon will manage Willkie nomination campaign. He's a shrewd politician, knows organization machinery. And his choice tends to identify Senate Republican Leader McNary of Oregon, Willkie's 1940 running mate, with the drive.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck, new chairman of house republican congressional committee, went home to Indiana to tell its state committee not to be over-confident about electing any Republican as president if FDR runs again. However, bulk of soldier vote will go Republican, Halleck predicted. But a fellow Republican, Lt. Gov. Dawson, disagreed. And he has two sons in the service.

NAZIS READY TO MEET 3 MILLION YANKS

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The German high command expects to meet between two and three million United States troops in the coming invasion of Europe, the Berlin correspondent of a Madrid newspaper reported.

The correspondent said the Nazis also are planning to meet the possibility that Allied troops may attack from some sector of the Russian front at the same time as the blow from the west falls.

BRICKER TO TEXAS

DALLAS, Jan. 8.—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, an avowed candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will visit Dallas Jan. 17, to speak at a public dinner, according to an announcement by John W. Philp, Republican state committee secretary.

STREET BATTLE NOW IN PROGRESS AT KIROVOGRAD; SWISS SAY RUMANIAN EXODUS BEGUN

MOSCOW, Jan. 8.—Victory-flushed Russian troops rode roughshod through German defenses on the approaches to Rumania today, chopping up Nazi armies in a series of flanking and encircling maneuvers for piecemeal annihilation.

While the First Ukrainian Army slashed 24 miles into pre-war Poland and pushed a three-pronged advance toward Bessarabia from the north, the Second Ukrainian Army to the east ripped a 60-mile gap in the enemy defenses, stormed into Kirovograd and engaged the enemy in street battles and the city's early fall is certain.

The breakthrough into Kirovograd, which sent five German divisions into disorganized retreat, smashed the last natural barrier from this direction before the Bug and Dniester rivers, neither of which was expected to prove a serious obstacle to a winter drive into Bessarabia by troops who already had hurdled the far more formidable Don and Dnieper rivers.

The left wing of Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's First Ukrainian Army completed the encirclement of an ever larger German force—once estimated at 10 divisions—by linking up with another Soviet bridgehead across the Dnieper at Rzischew 43 miles southeast of Kiev.

Swinging wide to the southeast the combined forces headed for a junction with the Second Ukrainian Army below Cherkasi in an attempt to shut off escape for thousands of additional Germans arrayed along the west bank of the Dnieper.

The Ukrainian column striking across the plains of old Poland advanced to within gun range of Sarny, key to the only north-south railroad still in German hands east of Brest-Litovsk, with the capture of Klesov after a 12-mile advance from Rakitno in 24 hours.

BERN, Switzerland, Jan. 8.—Rumania has begun a hasty dismantling of factories in the frontier towns of Cernauti, Chisinau and other places in the northern province of Bucovina and the eastern province of Bessarabia, a Budapest dispatch to the Basler Nachrichten said Saturday.

Increasingly threatened by Soviet advances the Rumanian government has ordered the machinery of as many factories as possible to be moved to the interior behind mountains, the dispatch said.

The evacuation measures extended throughout Bessarabia and Bucovina with peasant carts, loaded high with goods, blocking the roads. The peasants were said to be driving long columns of cattle before them.

Civilians have been forbidden the use of the highways, apparently to facilitate the use of transport for withdrawal of troops and the carrying out of defense measures in the east.

The Basler Nachrichten said cadets at the Chisinau school who were home for Christmas holidays were told not to return and to await further orders.

Wealthy Rumanians abroad were said to be convinced that the Russian advance means the end of their fortunes, but their fears were as nothing compared to those still in Rumania where there was panic selling of real estate.

Meanwhile Hungarian frontier guards were said by the Basler Nachrichten to have refused entry to 1,600 Ustachis (Croat puppet troops) and about 100 German militarized Elite Guards fleeing from Yugo-Slav Partisans and attempting to escape across the frontier from Yugo-Slavia.

The Partisans had cut these troops off from their units.

ALGIERS, Jan. 8.—American forces have smashed 1000 yards north from captured San Vittore into the village of Giusto and engaged desperately-resisting Germans in a new "Stalingrad" battle on the approaches to the Roman plains, it was announced today.

It generally had been believed the reduction of San Vittore would bring a rapid advance to Cassino, six miles to the north and previously regarded as the next bastion before the Roman plains, but news that the enemy had converted the tiny village Giusto into a fortress indicated another protracted struggle.

A new house-to-house struggle approaching the fury of the two-day clash that led to the capture of battered, smoking San Vittore Thursday midnight appeared to be developing, front reports said.

The Fifth Army advanced as much as a mile all along its 10-mile offensive front in the interior of Italy and on one sector captured a 4000-foot mountain.

Across the Apennines, Eighth Army patrols engaged in sharp clashes with the Germans despite bitter cold and deep snowdrifts, the daily communique said.

The ferocity of the German resistance on the Fifth Army front indicated that the Nazi command was committed to stalling an Allied breakthrough into the plains leading to Rome as long as possible and regardless of cost.

American troops captured San Vittore after a classical encirclement maneuver and killed all but 85 of the German garrison trapped inside. The last elements of German resistance were hand-grenaded out of existence Thursday night.

STILL SMILING—Chief machinist's mate Rene Pincetl of San Diego, Calif., last man to be taken off the destroyer which blew up outside New York harbor, manages a smile on arrival ashore. Fifty of crew died.

TWO COUNTRIES.

A good many people dislike President Roosevelt, but they don't demand his exile. In his day President Hoover was rather unpopular, but he didn't have to flee the country in fear of his life with the coming of the New Deal.

Herein lies the difference between a democracy and a lawless totalitarianism like Nazi Germany. The highest political post in Germany is the chancellorship. Hitler had to become chancellor before he could seize absolute power. Accordingly Hitler's predecessor, Schleicher, was murdered by Nazi partisans; and two former chancellors were well advised to flee from Germany. Heinrich Wirth is now in Switzerland, and Heinrich Bruening is in this country, teaching political science at Harvard.

The whole German government thus rests on a lawless basis. That is why it will have to be torn out root and branch.

A WOMAN'S WORLD.

Today's most famous prophet is a woman, Madame Genevieve Tabouis, French archaeologist, columnist and confidante of statesmen. For her predictions that Hitler meant France's ruin, she was forced to flee to the United States.

Here she continues to prophesy. Her latest is that the new emancipation of women will lead to a condition, not far off, when women will be not merely men's legal equals, but their superiors.

That will suit many men and some women. Considering the mess a man-made world has become, perhaps the males should drop out of the picture and let the women run things. Then some day the world might see parades of men with banners saying: "Women Can Vote—Why Can't We?"

RAILROAD PROBLEM.

There is a good deal of discussion now as to how long the government will hold and manage the railroads. Its control so far seems merely technical rather than practical. It has done little, but is in a position where it might exert drastic control. The president has hinted at restoring the roads to their normal, free status before long; but that doubtless depends on the war situation.

There are other facts, too, which the public may well bear in mind. This is one of a very few countries in the world where railroads have remained in private ownership. The normal thing abroad is government ownership. And it is obvious that there has to be at least a large measure of control in war time even in this free-enterprise country. Any citizen who has traveled on the trains lately, or tried to, comes to understand the importance of railroads. And in such matters, habits are easily formed and hard to get rid of. The government might keep them.

Still, Woodrow Wilson seized the railroads in the name of the government in the last war, and they were eventually restored—though in a somewhat depleted condition. Public opinion in this country now obviously regards federal operation as temporary, and would oppose public ownership.

AUSTRALIAN GENERALS.

The United States has its Eisenhower, and Australia its Rowell. Maj. Gen. Sydney Fairbairn Rowell, who fought the Japanese in New Guinea and has lately been serving in the Near East, is now called to London for an un-named important military assignment. He is likely to be heard from later.

Rowell is not the first Australian to win military fame outside of his own country. In the last war Sir John Monash, an Australian, commanded a corps in France, and was thought by competent critics to be the equal of Marshal Haig himself, the British leader on the western front.

Genius knows no boundaries of time or space, and this war is a splendid testing-ground for military ability.

OPEN FORUM

Weekly Prayer Band.

Cisco Daily Press:
I was much impressed by the unselfish spirit of the Thanksgiving prayer of one of our precious boys in the muddy trenches of Italy, as recorded in the Press by our good friend W. B. Starr. I feel that this attitude of heart poured out to God in prayer will be heard by Him who once said: "Love your enemies." We know that many Axis soldiers are fighting us only because they are forced to by that awful spirit of militarism.
I think our president was right when he said this military spirit must be rooted up and destroyed and all mankind given the right to live respectable lives. In order to emphasize the respectable life, I feel this boy's prayer should be our prayer. I am wondering if we should not organize a prayer band and meet each week and hold real heart-to-heart prayer services and talks that would help us get closer to Him who can and will help us fight the battle against this foe of civilization.

Jesus fought sin, yet loved the sinner and died to redeem the world from this awful monster. I would like to hear from any one who feels we should form a prayer band and pray for our boys together, one night each week.
Yours for freedom,
J. B. F. WRIGHT,

Frank Harrell is recuperating from the effects of an impromptu bath he received late Tuesday afternoon at Lake Cisco when he fell overboard from a motor boat. He and D. J. Moss had been up the lake and were returning to the boat house. A short distance from shore, Harrell lost his balance and fell overboard, according to Mr. Moss, who said he immediately ran to the back of the boat, the motor of which had stopped, and called to Harrell to grab an oar which he held out to him. "I can't make it," Harrell exclaimed as he neared exhaustion from the icy waters and the struggle to keep afloat with his clothing on. "You can make it, too," Moss replied, as frantic efforts were made to reach the struggling man. Finally Harrell was able to grab the oar and was pulled to the side of the boat. Moss would not permit him to attempt to climb in, for fear of upsetting the boat, and Harrell said he could not hang on any longer. Finally Manager P. G. Berry of the Lake Cisco Amusement company got another motor boat and came to the rescue. "And you know, doggone it," Moss declared, "when we did nearly get Frank to the shore, he turned loose of the side of the boat and swam on in by himself."

dent; H. S. Drumwright, vice president; Guy Dabney, chairman board of directors; G. B. Lundy, secretary. Directors B. S. Huey, A. D. Anderson, J. M. Williamson, R. Q. Lee, P. W. Campbell, Dr. Charles Hale, George B. Kelly, D. J. Moss, W. W. Wallace, C. A. Whitfield.

A new business enters Cisco today. J. P. Courtney, whom all old residents of Cisco will remember for the past twenty years as a shoe workman at various stands in Cisco, has returned and installed new machinery for a shoe shop. Mr. Courtney decided a few years ago that Ranger would be the best business location in the Oil Belt and so located his business there. But now since seeing the prosperity coming to this town and finding the old longing for his former home too strong to resist further, he has again cast his lot here and says he is here to stay. He says the eyes of the whole country are on Cisco and her spirit of progress.

Getting rid of surplus money will be easier, as employees in war industries learn about income taxes. On the other hand, the unsung war-time hero is the salaried man who uncomplainingly tries to make both ends meet on the same amount of money he received before living costs doubled.

Yes, there will come a time again when a man will not be ashamed to admit openly that he drives for pleasure.

YOUNG AMERICA MAKES MORE AIRPLANES

No people in the world enter into necessary tasks with greater enthusiasm than do the people of America. When they found that they must build more fighting planes and better planes than their enemies were building, no time was lost in getting into the job.

Millions were spent in establishing factories and in training men to do it. The best machines that man could build were put into production just as soon as factories could be set up and men began training on a scale so vast that the mind of man could hardly understand it. The world could not believe that such production could be made in so short a time.

Why? because the idea and determination to do just that, became fixed as a point to reach. Boys began building their toy planes as a result of the all consuming task. And that is why America can do such gigantic jobs that astound the world. We enter into these tasks with the enthusiasm of a boy, and we just keep on building and improving with no thought of stopping until our enemies are overwhelmed.

Whatever your task, just keep doing it with the same enthusiasm as the boy puts into building his toy planes.

Keep doing it better every day and victory will come all the sooner.
