Mr. Snoddy was born at Glasgow, Ky., April 26, 1867, and a few years ago returned to his native state to spend his remaining days. Burial was at Gamaliel.

NAZIS KNOW NO REST IN RED RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Feb. 2.—The Red army neared and perhaps crossed the Estonian border on a 10-mile front in a fast-breaking drive toward Narva, key to the enemy's northern escape corridor, today and front reports said "sensational" developments could be expected from this sector within the next 24 hours.

Premier Josef Stalin or the Soviet High Command may announce the crossing of the border and perhaps the entrapment and annihilation of remnants of the enemy's Leningrad's siege armies in a bulletin today—the first anniversary of the final victory of Stalingrad.

SEARCH FOR RAPIST.

FT. WORTH, Feb. 2.—A Negro man, believed to be the one who has struck previously in homes on the Southeast Side, early Wednesday choked a young mother into insensibility, attacked her, and escaped. The woman, Mrs. Frank B. Stahl, 24, 2201 Chelsea Road, wife of a war plant worker now in California, was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where she recovered sufficiently to give detectives an account of the attack.

BIG BOND PURCHASE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Purchase of additional war bonds totaling $103,889,600 was credited to New York Stock Exchange members today as their response to a plea delivered on the floor of the exchange by Lt. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, chief of the United States Marine Corps. That makes an even half-billion dollars' worth of bonds bought by exchange members in 322 cities and 42 States in the Fourth War Loan drive.

HICKMAN GOES WITH RADFORD AT BIG SPRING

C. E. Hickman, manager of J. M. Radford Wholesale grocery here for the past two years and a local employe of that company for the past 17 years, has been made manager of the Radford wholesale business at Big Spring, effective immediately.

Mrs. Hickman and their two sons, age ten and six respectively, will remain in Cisco for the present.

The Hickmans are popular in Cisco and their removal from the city will be regretted. Both have been active in Methodist church circles and Mr. Hickman has been a director in the chamber of commerce.

Oscar Clett, whom Mr. Hickman succeeded as local manager when Mr. Clett was called to Abilene to assume charge of the headquarters office, has returned to Cisco in his former capacity. Mr. and Mrs. Clett and their daughter, Mrs. Hagan McMahon, together with the latter's daughter, will occupy their former home at 704 W. Sixth street, soon. Ciscoans will be glad to welcome them home.

TO SAVE PAPER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Major New York afternoon daily newspapers plan to omit publication on Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, and on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, to save newsprint.

OIL FOR ITALY—Constructed and put into operation in one week, this pipeline conducts oil from an Italian seaport to point just behind the frontlines. High tension towers lend support and line is welded for strength and flexibility.

STOCK EXHIBIT AT EASTLAND

Cisco chamber of commerce directors last night voted to join Eastland, Ranger and other towns of the county in the stock show to be held in Eastland February 19.

Directors voiced the opinion that Cisco should cooperate at this time and also went on record as favoring one county stock show each year, rather than for each of the several towns to hold independent stock shows.

It is hoped, too, that a plan may be worked out whereby the annual event may alternate between the various cities of Eastland county that feel in position to qualify as host.

The one-day show of February 19 promises to be a first-class one. There will be a parade and it is now indicated that there will be 71 classes of stock for exhibition and classification.

The manufacture of clay products from valuable local deposits was discussed and it was brought out that a plant costing some $15,000 could make an advantageous, profitable beginning.

Resignations of two directors—T. J. McCarty and C. E. Hickman—were accepted and four names will be certified to the city commission for the election of two new directors.

Those present last night were J. D. Lauderdale, C. E. Hickman, A. E. McNeely, J. J. Callaway, R. L. Ponsler, Nick Miller, E. P. Crawford, N. D. Gallagher, L. A. Warren, A. B. O'Flaherty, M. D. Fox and City Commissioner George Boyd.

SMITH'S PICTURE IN PEARL HARBOR PAPER

Dr. Gary L. Smith, who recently resigned the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church in Cisco and accepted a call to the church at Rusk, was pictured in a Pearl Harbor paper of recent issue. The paper containing Dr. Smith's likeness was received here by Mrs. Isa Johnson from her brother, L. C. Drake, who is engaged in defense work at Pearl Harbor.

Under Ripley's "Believe It or Not" caption appeared the picture and the following wording: "Dr. G. L. Smith, Cisco, Tex., Presbyterian minister, has been preaching 34 years, but at no time has there been a Smith in his congregation."

WIPED OUT—Twisted wreckage and driftwood are all that remain of a stretch of Redondo Beach, Cal., homes, ground to rubble by fiercely lashing tides. Two apartment houses and more than a dozen beach homes collapsed. The whole area was cleared in time to prevent loss of life or injuries.

TODAY'S WAR MAP—Red forces, smashing to within sight of Estonia, menace Narva. Nazi escape gap, while capture of Divenskaya threatens Luga corridor.

DELIVERS HOGS WEEKLY.

G. W. Wilcox, well known Cisco cattle and hog buyer, delivered 100 head of hogs to Globe Laboratory in Fort Worth, Monday. Mr. Wilcox is under contract to the laboratory to deliver approximately the same number of hogs each week and seldom fails to do so. The animals are used for experimental purposes and also for the manufacture of various serums. W. D. Brecheen accompanied Wilcox to Fort Worth, 1943.

LT. PRANGE INVADERS COMPRISED MARINES AND ARMY TROOPS NUMBERING 30,000 MEN, ALL AMERICANS PLANE FELL

Word was received in Cisco today of the death of Lt. Bill Prange, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Prange of route two, Cisco. The young man was killed yesterday afternoon when his plane crashed near Fresno, Cal., where he was taking final training before being assigned to overseas duty.

Lieutenant Prange married a California girl about a year and a half ago and the two visited his parents and his many Cisco friends, two weeks ago. He attended the Cisco schools and was well liked by all who knew him. The body will be buried in California, the Press is informed.

LOBOES ENJOY FRIED CHICKEN AND DANCING

Mothers of the Cisco Lobo football squad entertained the local pigskin warriors Saturday night in a banquet in the former Huey building on D avenue. Fried chicken and everything good that goes with it was served, after which the Loboes and their girlfriends enjoyed dancing and games.

Coach Monroe Sweeney introduced the Loboes and they then introduced their girlfriends and the mothers. Co-captains for the past season were elected, captains for each game having been appointed by Coach Sweeney. The two receiving this honor in recognition of good work were Homer Tompkins and Jay Hayes. The banquet was a fine success and the room was beautifully decorated with the school colors of black and gold.

Mothers assisting at the banquet: Mesdames Carl Armstrong, Roy Williams, Don Rupe, Floyd Harrelson, W. W. Donohoe, W. L. Baum, A. L. Farley, A. L. Miller, Barton Philpott, Dock Isenhower, Bernice Hays, H. H. Tompkins, W. W. Milner, O. N. Ramsower and Poyner.

BROWN TO A. & M.

James Losson Brown, seaman of the second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim L. Brown of Cisco, has completed a course in radio training at San Diego boot camp and has been selected for special radio training at Texas A. & M. naval training school. Brown, 18 years of age, was born in Cisco and attended school here. He entered the navy in November, 1943.

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Feb. 2.—More than 30,000 U. S. Marines and Army troops, in a 500-mile amphibious jump along the invasion route to Tokyo, have seized 10 islet beachheads in the Marshalls and begun major assaults on the main strongholds of Kwajalein, Roi and Namur Islands, front dispatches announce.

Swarming ashore under the protective fire of the largest naval striking force ever assembled, assault troops quickly established their footholds in the Kwajalein Atoll Monday against light or non-existent resistance. More than 40 Japanese were slain and a number captured, while American casualties were extremely light.

The Japanese, stunned and decimated by a record 14-495-ton aerial and naval bombardment, rallied all available forces and began a desperate defense, however, as the Americans turned their full might against the Kwajalein Island naval base at the southern end of the 66-mile-long atoll and the Roi-Namur air base at the northern end.

Scores of guns hauled onto the newly-established islet beachheads joined the 16-inch rifles of America's newest battleships, other naval artillery, and swarms of bombers, in blasting at Kwajalein, Roi and Namur islands.

The 4th Marine Division under Maj. Gen. Harry Schmidt, swept ashore on five islets flanking Roi and Namur, Monday, and the last of the beachheads was reported secured by 8:12 p. m. Virtually the only opposition came from scattered snipers, who quickly were wiped out.

Eighteen Japanese planes which attempted to intercept the invasion forces were shot down and 51 more were destroyed on the ground. The main Japanese air base for Kwajalein Atoll, the largest lagoon atoll in the world, was situated on Roi, which was connected with supply dumps and other installations on Namur by a narrow causeway and sandbar.

The other five islet beachheads in the atoll were seized by Attu veterans of the Army's 7th Infantry Division on the approaches to Kwajalein Island, 40 miles south of Roi, at one of the two principal entrances to the lagoon anchorage.

The combined air-sea bombardment had been so effective that not a single enemy plane was sighted during landing operations in the Kwajalein Island area.

Front dispatches indicated that the Marines and Army troops were preparing to hurl everything from flame-throwers to new-type weapons never before used in the Pacific against fortifications built by the Japanese during the past 20 years to protect Kwajalein Atoll, their greatest naval base east of Truk.

Rear Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner, commander of amphibious forces, warned that the operation was "going to be tough," and we must expect losses, while other high sources said all evidence argued against any such quick victory as was achieved in the Gilbert Islands, which were conquered in three days last November at the highest cost of lives in Marine history.

The conquest of Kwajalein alone, the world's largest lagoon atoll, would give the United States a naval operating base capable of accommodating a huge fleet, and air bases within bombing range of Truk, Japan's "Pearl Harbor." It also would advance the United States' Pacific war timetable by at least six months, qualified naval sources estimated.

ALLIES RIP THRU NAZI STRONGHOLDS

ALGIERS, Feb. 2.—French and American troops ripped through a four-mile gap in the Nazi Gustav Line in central Italy today, collapsing the main enemy fortifications north of Cassino.

Climaxing weeks of costly mountain fighting against the German's long-prepared hedgehog defenses, tank-led American and French infantrymen surged westward through the Rapido river valley and captured a number of fortified heights overlooking Cassino.

Official reports said the Allied spearheads had reached a point only a mile from Terelle, a village at the base of the 3570-foot Mount Cairo which dominates the entire area.

Samuel Dillon Jackson, 48, above, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., former Indiana attorney general and lifelong friend, was appointed by Governor Schrieker to the U. S. Senate to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Sen. Frederick Van Nuys.

FREEDOM WITHOUT TRIMMINGS.

The wish that seems to be expressed most often by American service men throughout the world is that after this war they want to come home to the same kind of a country they left. They don't want a streamlined, regimented society. Before the war there was freedom, and this is what our men hope, above everything else, to find when they return.

At present the feeling that freedom is in deadly peril hangs heavy over the land. Seldom, if ever, in the history of the U. S. A. have the people talked so much of freedom, while never has their freedom been so restricted. Today the energies of every THINKING person are devoted to preserving liberty.

The president of a leading oil company recently voiced the thought of many people when he said: "It is important to remember that the oil industry, like all American business, has been able to accomplish the extraordinary war job, because, in time of peace, the companies were competing with each other to make better products by better methods. Spurred on by this competition, the skill of the American worker and the ability of American business management combine to make this country the industrial leader of the world. What this means to us today, in war, is dramatically demonstrated by the fact that three years ago the United States was the weakest in armament among the great nations, and now has become the strongest in armament. With this kind of support, our military forces and those of our Allies are now moving steadily toward victory."

Competition depends on freedom, just as does the privilege of attending the church of our choice. Yes, plain, unadorned freedom is our most precious possession.

CHENAULT AND JONES.

This cosmic fracas operates on so many fronts that Americans sometimes overlook what is happening on our Chinese sector. Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chenault is still rampaging around there with his little "14th Air Force" and keeping the Japs worried.

The latest report is inspiring. Gen. Chenault, with his American and Chinese air men, has reported the sinking of 17 enemy ships totaling 30,000 tons in December, and he probably sank four others and damaged six, adding 22,000 tons to the estimate. This list would not be regarded as exceptional, perhaps, on the Atlantic front, but considering the handicaps of this outfit it is doing very well indeed.

Chenault vividly suggests another notable American hero, known to every schoolboy. He does in the air what John Paul Jones did on the sea.

GLOBAL AIR TRANSPORT.

The United States has always been a nation of movement — transportation. In the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812, American sailing ships made historic records. Later came our development of the clipper sailing ships, the steamship, and the steam locomotives and the railroad train; then came the automobile.

The first World War saw the practical application of the next great means of transportation—aviation. Its progress has outdone a tale of Horatio Alger.

When the second World War broke, three factors were predominant—production, transportation and speed. Failure of either meant failure for all. Our airplanes stepped in with speed before undreamed of. They spanned continents and oceans in hours.

Each war, from the day of the Revolution, has promoted transportation and speed. After the present war, the story can be told of the advancements in our air arm of transportation which will help America hold her rightful place in global air transport.

American air lines are already planning to invest hundreds of millions of dollars in the newest type of equipment for service at home and abroad, thus providing work and opportunity for tens of thousands of fighting men when they come home.

"Gene" McDaniel was chairman-toastmaster when Rotarians with their ladies met at the Rotary-Lions club room Thursday evening at 7:30 for "Rotary Ann's Night" which incidentally fell upon St. Valentine's day. The regular noonday luncheon of Rotarians Thursday was dispensed with in favor of the evening meeting. Mr. McDaniel, himself a bachelor, presaged his brilliant remarks with the assertion that he would take advantage of his position as chairman of the meeting and endeavor to learn something of what married people really think of married life.

The Presbyterians hope to be in the new church by March 9. Contributions have come in nicely all along and now they are ready for last payments, and those donations that good friends have so generously volunteered. Some few have even borrowed a little that they might meet their obligations. E. J. Barnes is treasurer of the building fund. It is a great pleasure to live in a city where people help each other as they do in Cisco in any good enterprise for the betterment of our people. When we open the new church we shall extend a cordial welcome to every citizen and hope to do more for Cisco. GAINES B. HALL, Pastor.

Cisco has probably the best street maintenance equipment of any city in this section, also a modern electrically driven rock crusher and an option on an almost inexhaustible amount of rock to use for paving and road building, reports Crigler Paschall street commissioner of Cisco. The equipment which has been entirely motorized, consists of a 5-ton Monarch tractor, a 10-ton road roller and a Fordson tractor, with combination road drags and equipment and also wagon trailers.

atrocities was to have been expected. But the protests will have their very substantial effect because they are following up the protest that is being made by force of arms on the fighting fronts in the Pacific.

There is a significant comment in the London Daily Mail, Transatlantic edition, of Jan. 19: "As Germany's military difficulties increase, the treatment of British prisoners improves." There follows a brief report from British prison camps in Germany where prisoners have recently been given even the privilege of seeing motion pictures. In our practical way we would call this "beginning to hedge against the fate that they see coming to them." A deeper interpretation can be given it. In adjusting their treatment of prisoners to the fortunes of war, they are running true to the basic ethical concept of the aggressor nations that "might makes right." According to them, there is actually moral justification for giving better treatment to prisoners of a powerful nation than to prisoners of a weak one, even aside from practical considerations of their own future position. This principle has been stated repeatedly by Hitler. The American public realizes these things in a general way, but the citing of one more example of how well the Nazis and Japs have schooled themselves in this philosophy may bring us a little nearer to full realization of the menace we face.

Several explanations have been made by the government of the long delay in releasing the atrocity stories. One explanation might be that the government realized the futility of protesting until such time as the protest could be backed by demonstrated military power. Secretary Hull's protests are getting full consideration in Tokyo today.

It is not always wise to take the short cut. At first thought it may appear convenient and cheaper to do so, but that depends on the risk involved. For example, it is both dangerous and costly to take the short cut and purchase lands and town properties without knowing something about the title. Play safe. Buy only good titles proved to be good by the abstract.

THEY'RE FIGHTING... ARE YOU BUYING?

The kid who lived next door... the girl up the street... Sister Sue's oldest boy... your son... they are doing the fighting in this war. And are doing it well. But YOU—you're the guy that has to do the buying.

YOU are the only one who can decide how much EXTRA you should put into War Bonds as your part of the Fourth War Loan Drive. Remember, as you figure it out, that—

Time to a soldier is a commodity of life and death. He cannot sell it or buy it. He cannot cash it in at the nearest bank. He has to endure it. Each day longer that a soldier must fight lessens his chance of survival. Your purchase of EXTRA War Bonds should shorten his fighting time.

Modern warfare is often a question of logistics. Victory—men being equal—goes to the side which is best supplied and equipped. Your purchases of EXTRA War Bonds will give you more rights to insist that it be properly spent to equip those fighting for you.

Yes, as you figure it out remember... They're doing the fighting—it's up to YOU to do the buying.

IMPORTANT as heat in maintaining healthful winter living conditions....

VENTILATION MOTION OF AIR

When the temperature drops to 65 degrees, heat is needed for comfort. And when heat is needed, it is important that it should be held constant and at a uniform temperature throughout the house to avoid chilling drafts or hot spots. Where UNvented, open flame heaters are used Ventilation and Motion of Air are also needed to maintain healthful conditions and reduce "wall sweating."

Without ventilation, inside air becomes stale and oxygen content is lessened because of breathing of occupants and combustion of UNvented, open flame heater. Slightly open window to provide necessary ventilation.

Air in motion favors evaporation where there is a condition of too much moisture. Moving air helps keep atmosphere fresh and heat evenly distributed. Keep doors open between heated rooms for this circulation.

When the war is over and the peace is won

—you'll want to carry out your plans for stepping up your house heating to luxurious circulating heat as supplied by VENTED floor furnaces and circulators. Until then, continue to buy more war bonds.
