NAZIS BADLY WHIPPED AT ANZIO BEACHHEAD

Clyde Cleveland Killed When Plane Fell At His Home Northwest of Cisco

Flying low over his home and birthplace that he might salute his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland, seven miles northwest of Cisco, Lieut. Clyde Cleveland of the Marine air corps ferry command, late yesterday struck an air pocket and the heavy Corsair fighting machine careened into a live oak tree, stripped the tops from several other nearby trees and finally crashed to earth, killing the young man instantly.

The first tree struck by the plane was in the yard of Ray Clements, who lives about a quarter of a mile from the Cleveland farm residence, but the body was found about 200 yards from the fier's late home. Mr. Clements was the first to reach the remains, and was quickly joined by O. G. Lawson of Cisco, who was passing and also witnessed the accident. Mr. Lawson prevailed upon the parents to wait until Mr. Clements had a chance to identify the badly mangled body. Later, A. D. Anderson and Mr. Lawson informed the stricken parents that it was their son.

Lander Cleveland, brother of the lieutenant, an inspector at the Globe Aircraft plant in Fort Worth, was in Cisco this morning and said the funeral and burial would be in Cisco, probably Sunday afternoon. Definite day and hour however depends upon news from another brother who is with the air forces and now in California. Still another brother, who is also in the air service, is stationed in the South Pacific.

The body is at Thomas funeral home and Mr. Thomas informed the Daily Press this afternoon that the funeral would be held at the Church of the Nazarene when the time is finally determined, with burial in Oakwood cemetery. Officiating ministers will be Rev. L. H. Clegg of Cisco and Rev. Odell Brown of Grassland, Tex.

Lieutenant Clyde Cleveland was twenty years of age and joined the Marines at the age of 17. He was a graduate of Cisco high school, 1941 class, and was well known and popular here. When killed he was bound from Floyd Bennett airfield, New York, to the delivery station at San Diego, Calif. Two other planes were accompanying him.

He had written his mother recently that at the first opportunity he would fly over the Cleveland home and wave them a "howdy" from the air. He had not seen them for more than a year.

WAITING MESS CALL—Still able to smile, an old Italian woman, homeless and starving waits with her dinner pail at an Army food dump in hope of getting some leftovers from the soldiers' midday mess. Barbed wire keeps hungry Italians near Cassino from swarming over the dump and scrapping up food unfit for human consumption.

B. A. BUTLER BAPTIST MINISTER GOES TO BROWNWOOD

B. A. Butler of Eastland was guest speaker at Rotary luncheon, being introduced by J. W. Slaughter as the editor of Eastland county's most outstanding weekly newspaper, Dick Anderson was introduced by R. N. Clark as the boy Rotarian from Cisco high school for the month of March. Other guests were C. J. Prashaw, Dallas; Rev. Roger Hebard, Breckenridge; S. S. Stover, missionary from Brazil.

J. E. Hays reported 100 percent attendance for last week and one absentee for this week. President Lonnie Shockley urged Rotarians to keep up the good record that has kept them in the upper-ten bracket for almost the past year.

Rotarian Hays also proposed that Rotarians volunteer to paint and lay concrete floor for their new service men's waiting station. A number agreed to work Friday and Saturday afternoons. It was also announced that more funds were needed to defray expenses in moving and equipping the station.

During the meal many compliments were heard regarding the quality of the luncheon served by ladies of the Christian church organizations.

Mr. Butler said that he was glad to be in Cisco, where he had enjoyed living more than in any place he had ever called home. He was glad of the many friends he had here. He announced as his subject, "Turn Ourselves Loose."

It is a dangerous condition that is confronting us, he said; saying that while he did not speak against his government, yet we had allowed free enterprise to wane while a centralized government had assumed unusual prerogatives and capital was threatening to become dominant in economic affairs. He also stated that he had read that many soldiers were disappointed in the home front, but he had heard returned soldiers from the south Pacific say just the opposite.

Returning to his subject, Butler said we should appreciate each other more and speak freely, but not acrimoniously. The nation is becoming divided on the threshold of serious political and economic questions and he feared there were too many efforts being made to limit freedom of other actions.

Referring to post-war conditions of War I, the speaker said that prosperity followed and then, when a tightening came, many thought the government should provide the remedy, and thus the "give me" idea became popular. With this idea prevalent, he said he feared for the future, which presents a serious challenge for our best thinking. He asked the question, "How are we going to combat this?" but gave no answer.

Butler said that we complain about some system, but then go ahead and vote for it. He said that we must support the system of private enterprise, since pioneer opportunities for profit are exhausted and we must now make our own opportunities, adding that capital will always control, as it has the most energy and the most brains.

Good business conditions demand prosperity and hence capital is interested in making good times to perpetuate itself and keep itself in favor with the voter, he said, adding that he was opposed to centralized government with laws governing all actions of the people.

Summarizing, he said that there was no use cursing the government. We are mentally lazy and,

BAPTIST MINISTER GOES TO BROWNWOOD

Rev. Russell Dennis, who resigned as pastor of East Cisco Baptist church recently, has accepted a call to Melwood-avenue Baptist church, Brownwood, and with Mrs. Dennis and their two children left today to take up his new duties.

Mr. Dennis came to Cisco as pastor in May, 1939, and during that period the membership of the local church grew from 173 to approximately 300. A large annex was also added to the church building during that time. The minister was active in the Lions club and other civic affairs.

Mr. Dennis said today that his residence here of almost five years had been happy and pleasant and that he was leaving with regret. The congregation honored the minister and his family with a supper last evening and presented them with a handsome table.

RED CROSS SOLICITORS ON THE MARCH

Forty-eight people attended the Red Cross send-off luncheon at Laguna Hotel at noon today, each guest paying for his or her dinner and all departing immediately after the lunch on the treasure hunt that it is hoped will increase the national Red Cross war fund by $4,500, Cisco's quota. Rev. J. R. Wright gave the invocation.

Cisco folk are asked to be ready with their contributions when the solicitors call, in order that time may be saved for everybody. Mrs. George P. Fee, general chairman, said that in case some one is missed by the solicitors, such party may call her at 410 or Miss Helen Crawford at 482. It is hoped to complete the campaign not later than March 15.

TEXAS LEADS IN EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES

RANGER, March 3.—The Texas Declaration of Independence complained that Mexico had not provided public schools in Texas but now, said Governor Coke Stevenson, Texas has more state-supported institutions of higher learning than any other state in the union. This does not include the junior colleges and high schools, the governor explained.

The governor, speaking on an Independence Day program at Ranger high school, stated that through all his efforts to reduce state expenses and balance the budget, the funds for schools, for the unfortunates and the aged, had not been reduced. He made an earnest appeal for support of the current Red Cross drive.

He was introduced by Dr. G. C. Boswell, superintendent of schools and president of Ranger Junior College.

In the evening a banquet was tendered the governor at Ranger First Methodist church.

hence, few make a success. To be successful one must make the best of one's ability and opportunities. He wanted centralized government to give way to free enterprise, he stated.

SL. OVERTIME IN THE SOLOMONS—A dammed up jurgle stream at a Yank base in the Solomons gives Pfc. Miles Warner (left) chance to scrub his clothes and Pfc. Everett Crassi opportunity to use punctured can to deluge Pfc. Bill Ruby with a first class shower.

TO HONOR A CHAMP—Commissioned sculptor Man of War in bronze, Herbert Haseltine works on his statue of the champion race horse in his New York studio. Inability to obtain copper is holding up completion of the statue which will stand on Man of War's farm.

HITLERITES ABANDON THIRD MAJOR ATTEMPT AFTER BEATING BY U. S. THIRD INFANTRY

NAPLES, March 3.—The German 14th Army has abandoned its third major attempt to crush the Allied beachhead below Rome, it was disclosed officially today, after taking a savage, 36-hour beating from the veteran American 3rd Infantry Division and a record concentration of Allied planes and cannon.

Counting their dead in the hundreds, the three crack Nazi divisions that launched the offensive against the center of the beachhead Tuesday fell back to their initial jumping-off place yesterday as the Americans completed the liquidation of the 1500-yard salient won and lost by the Germans at a staggering cost.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, after an inspection of the battlefield during which he narrowly escaped death, announced that his 5th Army forces had regained all the ground lost under the first Nazi onslaught three days ago.

The beachhead is established firmly, Clark declared confidently, adding that the many German bodies strewn over the battlefield were ample evidence that the Nazis have suffered a real setback.

Clark paid tribute to the American 3rd Division—the "Rock of the Marne," whose doughboys smashed the last Hindenburg offensive in France in July, 1918.

The Third, supported by a number of other units, took on the full weight of the German attack and broke it in embittered, hand-to-hand fighting.

Clark identified the attacking German units as the 114th Light Rifles, the 362nd Infantry, and the 26th Panzer divisions. All three suffered heavy losses in the two-day battle, and lost more than 400 prisoners to the Americans alone. One American tank destroyer outfit was credited with destroying nine enemy tanks at the height of the German drive.

While the American infantrymen fought the Nazis to a standstill on the ground, the Mediterranean air forces threw virtually their entire striking power into the battle early yesterday in a shattering assault that proved the death blow to the enemy offensive.

Spearheaded by Flying Fortresses and Liberators, the Allied planes hurled 40,000 20-pound fragmentation bombs down among the German front-line troops and their reinforcements massing in the rear of the beachhead.

It was the greatest air bombardment ever launched in co-operation with ground forces in the history of aerial warfare.

Col. Thomas W. Steed, Etowah, Tenn., a Liberator group commander said the Germans had "a lot of heavy mobile stuff down there," and that the bombing was "doggone good."

REDS WON'T STOP.

MOSCOW, March 3.—Germany's whole elaborate defense system guarding the approaches to the Baltic states appeared to be crumbling today as Red Armies advanced to within 22 miles of Latvia and stormed the inner fortifications of Pskov. Once the Russians have completed the breaching of the Baltic states' defense line, only flat, easily-traversed terrain lies ahead as far west as east Prussia.

HEAVY REINFORCEMENTS.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, March 3.—U. S. troops, who landed on Los Negros in a reconnaissance penetration of the Admiralty Islands, have been reinforced with heavy ground forces to effect complete occupation of the tiny but strategic island, it was announced today.

J. S. LAWSON DEAD.

ABILENE, March 3.—James S. Lawson, resident of Abilene since 1908, died yesterday in a local hospital. He was 86 years of age. Funeral and burial were held here today. Survivors include relieving farmers' problems and four sons and two daughters. One aiding them to get their surplus stock on the market.

LIFT MEAT RATIONING?

WASHINGTON, March 3.—"Farm bloc" members of congress today favored "temporary" lifting of meat rationing as a means of relieving farmers' problems and aiding them to get their surplus stock on the market.

TEN MILLION PLEDGED TO OIL PROGRAM

MEXICO CITY, March 3.—An advance of $10,000,000 from the U. S. Export and Import Bank was pledged today by American Ambassador George S. Messersmith to the government-owned Mexican Oil Company Petroleos Mexicanos.

The money will be used for constructing refineries, a pipeline from the Pozarica fields and a high-octane gasoline plant. Messersmith said none of the funds may be used for exploitation or exploration, and the loan will be paid back in oil to meet American war demands.

OPA FREES LARD.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The OPA today removed lard from the list of rationed commodities, effective immediately, because of a sudden boost in supplies available for civilian use. Butter, margarine and other cooking fats and oils are still rationed.

HORSELESS TEXANS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Texas horsemen on boats stormed ashore on Los Negros Island, took the Japanese-held Momote airfield within an hour and a half, and won the commendation of their commanding officer. "Big, brawling calvarymen, trained on the rough and tumble Texas border," wrote Texan Olen Clements, "accomplished their brilliant move with notable success. Known Japanese casualties in the first few hours were 73 dead." At least one boatload of the attackers went into the fray to the tune of boogie-woogie music played on a harmonica, wrote Clements.

COTTON $62 PER ACRE.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Preliminary estimates indicate that returns to cotton growers from marketings of the 1943 crop of lint and cotton seed will average about $62 an acre of cotton harvested. This will be the third highest cash return to growers on record. This level was exceeded only in 1919 when the return averaged $69 an acre, and in 1942 when they averaged $63 an acre.

TELEPHONE GROWTH.

DALLAS, March 3.—Dallas now has more than 123,000 telephones, a gain of 30 per cent in four years, and 7,000 persons were on the waiting list for service at the end of 1943, the Southwestern Bell Telephone company's annual report showed yesterday.

Lona Meloche, owner of Del Rue cafe, had as her guest this week her niece, Miss May Beale of Longview; also a friend, Miss Treasure Short of Pampa.

PEACE POSSIBILITIES.

There is no more talk of the European war being over by mid-summer. The American people are fortunately growing more realistic, as they see how tough the Germans are in Italy, and how long it takes, and how much energy is expended and how much blood is spilled in taking even a small objective.

There is an allegorical poem of Christina Rossetti's in which a pilgrim asks, "Does the road wind up-hill all the way?" And the sad answer is, "Yes, to the very end."

That cannot be entirely true of the Nazi war. Yet obviously the Germans are tough enough, and have men and resources, in spite of the drains made by Russia, to carry on longer than would have been thought possible a few months ago.

If we ourselves continue to insist on complete victory and surrender, as we evidently shall, the Germans may continue to fight on desperately, not in hope of victory, but to avoid complete disaster as long as possible. In fact, that is just what is happening. In the face of such a prospect, American experts are now inclined to extend their German time-table into next year. It may be wise to accept that as a possibility, so as not to be disappointed.

STARK TRAGEDY.

We granted the enemy a quick and thoroughly complete victory of major importance in February when a two-and-a-half-million-dollar concern engaged in building engines for Liberator ships was demolished by fire on the West Coast. Twenty-four engines in various stages of completion were also destroyed. All of this did not cost the Axis a single bomb or plane. While the cause of this particular disaster is not known definitely, an overheated steam pipe was suggested. It is known, however, that the majority of such fires are preventable. A moment of carelessness in a vital war plant today can do the work of countless bombers. Day after day we read of the historic flights of American planes that fly hundreds of miles in broad daylight over enemy territory through hour after hour of relentless attack from above and below. Their objectives are often war plants. If they can destroy an important plant and get home again with a loss of a few hundred men and twenty to forty planes, their mission is considered justified. After a few flights like this, men are retired to easier jobs—if they live that long.

How must they feel these fighters, when they read about our war plants being destroyed regularly, with the flip of a lethal cigaret, a neglected pile of waste, overheated smoke or steam pipes, etc., etc.? One worker in a moment of carelessness, can accomplish for the Axis the same result that our flyers die by the hundreds to accomplish.

This is not irony. It is stark tragedy due to carelessness on the home front.

LET IT BLOOM AGAIN.

A merchandising authority writing in Nation's Business says: "Retail distribution in the United States after the war will be governed by a single, major objective: How to bring the greatest amount of goods at the lowest cost to the largest number of consumers."

"It will be an era of opportunity for manufacturer, distributor and consumer. Never before will so many business forces have combined to achieve a practical ideal, the employment of private enterprise in the service of the consuming public."

Whether the objective of the retail distribution industry will be realized depends more upon government policies than upon retailers. The ability of American merchants is well known. But that ability at present is smothered under a semi-dictatorial, centralized government. After the war it is devoutly to be hoped that the progress of liquidating government oppression will begin promptly. Not until then can opportunity, so long familiar to the United States, be counted upon to return in full bloom.

EATING HIS WAY OUT—Mr. Polar Bear of the Bronx Zoo, New York, is evidently anxious to leave his quarters. It looks like a good romp in the snow on the other side, but bars make awfully tough eating.

350 PLANES DAILY.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Aircraft production climbed to a new peak rate of 350 planes a day in February, putting the total deliveries in the month ahead of schedule with a total of 8,760 planes accepted, Charles E. Wilson, chairman of the Aircraft Production Board, announces. Although the total was 29 warplanes short of January production, the emphasis on heavier and longer-range aircraft gave a four percent increase in tonnage produced.

Let's Do Our Part
The National Red Cross Drive is on. The county has been given a quota and Cisco will naturally expect to do a big part by her county — not just because we want to show what we can do, but because we know the great work the Red Cross is doing at home and on fields of battles. This organization follows our boys across the seas and watches over their every need and worry. Our part is a big part. Let's do it.

Facts and Fantasies About Coffee

"MAKES ME NERVOUS"
NONSENSE! Why? Because "it contains caffeine." Sure it does! So do tea and cocoa and cola drinks. Have the same complex about them? Of course not. The fact is coffee gives buoyancy and composure to frayed nerves.

"CAUSES INDIGESTION"
NONSENSE! Not at all. Hospitals regularly serve it because coffee aids digestion. It increases flow of the gastric juices. Poorly made coffee sometimes upsets the stomach. So do poorly fried potatoes.

"HABIT FORMING"
NONSENSE—unless of course you mean a good habit, which it is, when it's Admiration Coffee. No one certainly would accuse an innocent chocolate bar of being "habit forming". Yet it contains more theobromine (daddy of caffeine) than a cup of coffee.

"KEEPS ME AWAKE"
NONSENSE! The oldest fallacy of all! Coffee simply relieves fatigue, thereby postponing the need for sleep. Pick-up from a cup lasts about two hours. After that you're back where you started—and might as well go to bed, and so to sleep.

Some People Still Believe These Fallacies
But don't blame them. There's a monument to the fellow who ate the first tomato. Until that historic moment the tomato was shunned as "poisonous". Historical misunderstandings and absurd rumors have existed from generation to generation about most of the world's foods and beverages.
The astounding fact is that no reputable scientist or physician has ever published any evidence to support the countless misunderstandings one hears spoken of coffee. That's because there is none. Coffee—Admiration Coffee, the finest, purest, richest coffee money can buy—sharpens the mind, enlivens the conversation, and increases endurance. Truly Admiration is the beverage of good cheer.
