UKRAINE NAZIS DISORGANIZED; ON THE RUN

THIEVES GOT $40 FROM A LOCAL STORE

Two grown white men entered Glenn furniture store about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, asked to use the telephone and while later it was discovered that the open safe, which is near the telephone, had been robbed of about $40 in cash and a check for $82.50.

A substantial amount of cash had been paid to employees a short time before, else the loss would have been heavier. Several customers were in the store when the men entered and the robbery was not noted for sometime after they had departed. Payment on the check, which had been issued by a Cisco woman, was stopped at the Cisco bank.

It is also reported that $20 in cash and a radio was stolen from the Cozy Cafe earlier this week.

4,412,725 BARRELS OF CRUDE OIL EACH DAY

NEW YORK, March 10.—The American Petroleum Institute says crude oil production averaged 4,412,725 barrels daily during the week of March 4, a decrease of 10,550 barrels from the previous week and compared with 3,887,206 barrels daily a year ago.

Refineries operated at 89.9 of capacity during the week and ran 4,344,000 barrels of crude oil to stills daily, compared with 90.6 and 4,377,000 barrels the week earlier.

Stocks of light and heavy fuel oils declined 621,000 and 212,000 barrels, respectively, from the preceding week, but gasoline supplies increased 843,000 barrels to 26,091,000.

Gasoline production was estimated at 12,267,000 barrels, compared with 13,183,000 last week. Production of heavy fuel oil was put at 8,590,000 barrels, against 8,952,000 the previous week and 7,023,000 a year ago.

Output of light fuel oil was 4,513,000, compared with 4,558,000 barrels last week and 3,809,000 a year ago.

BIG BOY—Look out for this bouncing bambino in another 20 years. Celebrating his first birthday, Donald Neri of Chicago, who weighed a modest eight pounds at birth, is now a 40-pounder. He proudly wears a size four suit, a telephone book with ease, when he's in the mood. He towers above low pieces of furniture.

HARALSON AND GRAF AT ROTARY

Preceding the introduction of Dean K. Haralson and Joe Graf of The Boss glove factory, Rotary guest speakers, President Lonnie Shockley announced that Rotary Ann night would be held the evening of March 23. He also named committees to be in charge of preparations.

J. E. Hays made announcements regarding the service men's ride station which he said was almost completed. W. W. Fewell stated that more funds were needed to pay for work already done or contracted for.

A. E. McNeely made a report on the teen-age canteen, saying it was out of debt and with a little money in the treasury, and that the average attendance was above 200 each night.

J. J. Callaway had charge of the program and introduced Mr. Haralson as the first speaker. Haralson gave a brief history of The Boss glove factory, which was first organized 55 years ago, as the outgrowth of the invention of a gadget used in husking corn. These gadgets, made to protect the hands, found ready sale and then the inventor found that women were making mittens out of sack cloth to use with them as a further protection to the hands. This gave the idea of making leather work gloves which was begun in a small way and grew until now this output is the largest of its kind in the United States.

In reviewing their decision to come to Cisco, the speaker said it was the intention to establish Texas factories only in towns of 10,000 or over, but finding Cisco so ideally fitted in many ways they changed to towns of 5,000 population and this included Cisco.

The speaker went on to say he was delighted with the cooperation received, especially commending the assistance of R. N. Cluck and Mayor Edward Lee, which had been big factors in locating and organizing the work. He went on to state that the trainees already employed were showing intelligence and aptness in their preliminary activities, adding that he entertained no fears of a failure in any line of the future organization.

Dallas has been a distributing center for these gloves for a number of years and Walker-Smith and Waples-Platter wholesale grocers of Brownwood were distributors for the local territory, but this is the first attempt to establish factories in Texas.

Cisco is in almost the exact center of Texas, and being located on two trunk line railroads, with plenty of available labor, fuel, water and good highways, made it an ideal location. He said the labor scale was commensurate with that which could be paid and maintained by the factory, hence it was natural that Cisco should be chosen as a site.

Mr. Graf was then introduced but outside of a few complimentary words for Cisco hospitality and cooperation, he declined to speak at length, owing to the lateness of the hour.

LAST TRAIN WEDNESDAY.

It is announced that the last train over the Katy branch railroad between DeLeon and Cross Plains will be run next Wednesday. It is presumed the tracks will be taken up soon thereafter. The Rising Star Record says the first train was run over this line and into Rising Star in November, 1910, serviced to Cross Plains being started a few months later. Lack of business caused discontinuance of the branch, but its loss will be felt by many.

SNIPING DAYS ARE OVER—Three members of the super-race, looking much bedraggled, are rounded up by American paratroopers near Acciaella, Italy. Yank at right carries bayonets and cartridge belts taken from Nazis. One sniper wears Red Cross arm band, but had fired his gun.

LOCAL POST-AGE RATES UP MARCH 26

Postmaster L. H. McCrea calls attention to the fact that effective March 26 sealed letters mailed locally for local delivery will require a three-cent stamp instead of two cents, as heretofore.

However, all sealed letters going out of Cisco will require only the usual three-cent stamp.

The price of money orders is increased slightly, as are parcel post rates, but special delivery rates are unchanged.

Airmail letters within the United States must now carry eight cents postage instead of six cents. But airmail letters to persons in the military service in a foreign country will cost but six cents per half ounce, the postmaster said.

MEXICO WAITS ON ALLIES TO GIVE SIGNAL

MEXICO CITY, March 10.—President Manuel Avila Camacho announces he will determine the date when Mexican fighting men—impatient to see action—are to be sent to war and promised they would be led by units of the Mexican air force.

It was the most strongly worded statement ever made by the President on the long-discussed question of whether Mexico should, or is prepared to, send men to active war theaters.

His remarks were directed at more than 100 members of the air force—officially described recently as ten times as powerful as it was a year and one-half ago—whom he had called together to honor at a luncheon.

His speech was interpreted here as meaning that Mexico has decided to take the initiative and that it will ask United Nations officials for the go-ahead to prepare an expeditionary force.

Three days after he watched squadrons of the Mexican air force in bombing and strafing maneuvers, the president told the fliers that they would be the ones to lead the Mexican force—if only a token one—into action.

He told the fliers—whose spokesman a few moments before had manifested their desire to go to war—that he, too, is impatient to participate in the war, and that he considers it unjust that only one group of nations defend the Allied cause.

Avila Camacho referred to a statement he made to his generals some time ago in which he said Mexico was ready to send men when the Allies asked for them.

"The military commanders of those nations (United Nations) know our attitude and, until now, they have not found it necessary to ask for this co-operation," he said.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM SOLVED—When lack of transportation prevented housewives of Cromwell, Conn., from working in war plant at Middletown, Russell Manufacturing Company set up hand looms in Main street store in Cromwell. Here, Julia Briggs (left) examines work made on night shift by Mary Smith.

ROUND AND ROUND—Composer of the once popular song, "Music Goes Round and Round," Red Hodgson now a PFC, with the 740th MPs puffs ompahs for Abe Winchester in Chicago.

MARINES NEARING TALASEA

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, March 10.—U. S. Marines, spearheaded by General Sherman medium tanks, have battled through stubborn enemy resistance on the east side of New Britain's Willaumez Peninsula to advance to within two miles of the Japanese base at Talasea.

The tanks, which knocked out several enemy pillboxes in the drive down the peninsula toward Rabaul, protected the flanks of the American forces as they penetrated to within striking distance of Talasea, already under attack by U. S. bombers and fighters.

A dispatch, which said the Japanese abandoned many dead as they fled southward, placed the American positions at within two miles of Talasea Tuesday night.

The escorted medium bombers in attacking Talasea, destroyed buildings and started fires, while air patrols gunned enemy barges off Cape Hoskins, 35 miles to the east, in direction of Rabaul, big enemy base lying only 170 miles from the new American positions.

In the Admiralty Islands, U. S. cavalrymen strengthened their hold on Los Negros with the aid of American warships and supply vessels which moved into Seadler harbor without interference.

FIGHTING AT ANZIO SAID BE FURIOUS

NAPLES, March 10.—Allied and German combat patrols battled with increasing fury all along the flooded and mud-bound Italian battlefronts, a communique disclosed today, while swarms of Allied planes struck at enemy supply lines north of Rome and the big German guns commanding the Anzio beachhead.

German skirmishers struck repeatedly at British and American defenses around the beachhead perimeter, and small formations of Nazi fighter-bombers, ranged over the battlefield to bomb and strafe the Allied positions. One low-flying enemy raider crashed in flames under a storm of rifle fire from the British ground troops.

Front reports said feverish activity still was in progress behind the German lines, indicating the enemy still was attempting to mass troops and armor for a fourth major attempt to drive the Allied invasion forces back into the sea.

There wasn't a prouder horse in the string than the big bay and white "Baldy." He was to bear Texas' rancher—governor, Coke Stevenson, who will lead the parade. The governor rode the same animal two years ago and apparently both horse and rider liked the combination.

GOVERNOR LED HORSEBACK PARADE TODAY

FT. WORTH, March 10.—Five hundred horses were groomed their best today as riders awaited the 2 p. m. signal that will start the opening parade for the Southwestern Exposition & Fat Stock Show.

There wasn't a prouder horse in the string than the big bay and white "Baldy." He was to bear Texas' rancher—governor, Coke Stevenson, who will lead the parade. The governor rode the same animal two years ago and apparently both horse and rider liked the combination.

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS OF UMAN, STRONG BASE; REDS KNOCKING AT BLACK SEA OUTER DEFENSES

LONDON, March 10.—The Nazis admitted today the loss of Uman, one of their strong bases in the western Ukraine, and the Russians said they were storming the rail junction of Tarnopol and knocking at the outer defenses of the Black sea ports of Nikolae and Kherson.

Moscow said the whole German line on a 340-mile front in southwest Russia was folding up as Cossacks rode into seas of mud and water. The army newspaper Red Star said the German retreat was "disorganized." Uman lies 25 miles east of the Russian Bug river and about midway between Vinnitsa and Kirovograd.

It is fully apparent that the last Nazis are being chased from the southwestern corner of the Soviet union, but only under tremendous difficulties, front line dispatches to the Moscow newspapers Red Star and Izvestia said. They reported the whole area was one great inland sea of mud and water.

The German garrison in Odessa was said to be feeling the pressure of growing offensives as remnants of battered German divisions commenced falling back upon Nikolae, Kherson and the opposts of Odessa, where only speedy evacuation can save thousands of Nazis from entrapment.

From the Third Ukrainian front commanded by Malinovsky came reports emphasizing the use of cavalry and small groups of infantry with light mortars. In many places Red army horsemen charging through the mud and flooded streams, have isolated large German units from their headquarters staffs, these advices said.

Red Star dispatches said bluntly that the German retreat had become "disorganized."

The Nazis were still holding one escape route westward from the Dnieper bend—the railway running from Novo Ukraine and Pomoshnya just below Kirovograd to Pervomais.

But strategically the Germans have lost the Dnieper bend and their purpose now is to see what they can save in men and equipment.

LONDON.—A shakeup of top men of the German airforce has been precipitated by the past week's American raids on Berlin, a Swedish dispatch said as official announcements disclosed a descending scale of U. S. losses and destruction of at least 324 Nazi aircraft in the series of daylight attacks.

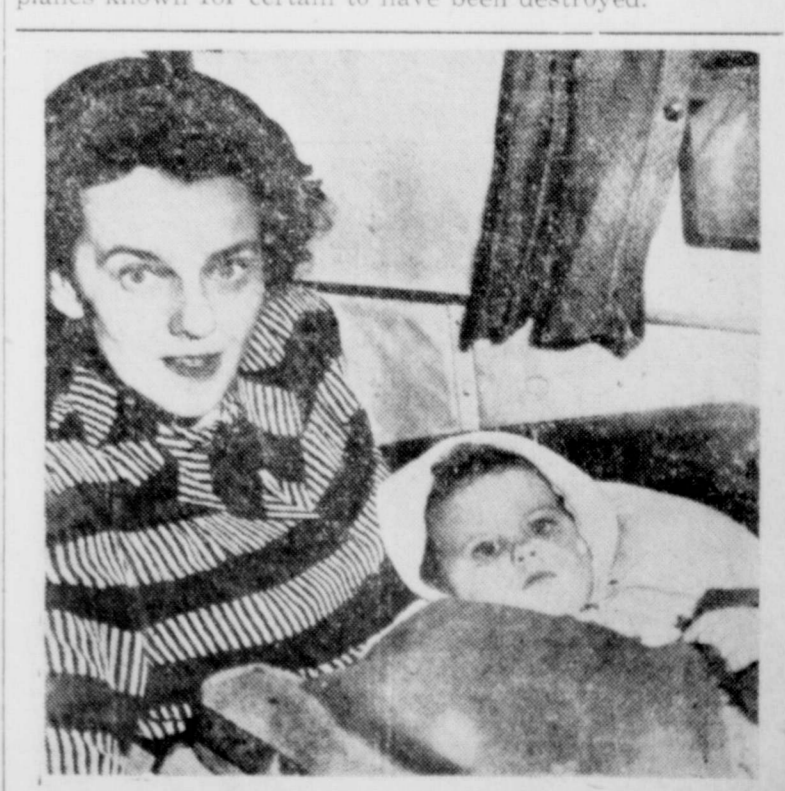

A U. S. statement last night said yesterday's blow against the Reich capital and a coordinated raid on unspecified objectives in central Germany—identified by the Berlin radio as Hannover—cost seven heavy bombers and one fighter, figures that contrasted sharply with 68 bombers and 11 fighters lost Monday.

Although the Flying Fortresses, Liberators and their escorting Mustangs, Thunderbolts and Lightnings plunged through heavy anti-aircraft fire to reach yesterday's targets, most of the German airforce apparently was grounded.

The Swedish dispatch, published in the London Daily Mail and quoting neutral sources, said that under a reorganization of Hitler's air command now in progress Reichsmarshal Heerman Goering would take a back seat and younger men with more specialized knowledge of fighter defense would come to power.

Goering was described as "utterly bewildered by the strength of the Allied aerial blows."

Those raids have cost 193 American planes—137 bombers and 56 fighters—as against the minimum of 324 German planes known for certain to have been destroyed.

OUR WAR MACHINE.

The Navy is spectacular and romantic, along with its effectiveness, but the Army arouses more and more interest. Not much is said about it, but Washington reports indicate that it grows steadily more powerful and takes over more and more of the land effort necessary for the Big Push. The immensity and variety of an organization of 10,000,000 or 11,000,000 men, with all the equipment and materials required for modern warfare extending over half the world, are almost inconceivable.

Inevitably the nation's military arm takes over virtual control of the nation's life. War production in industry grows as great as civilian production, or greater. Mars becomes not exactly first in the hearts of his countrymen, but the most far-reaching and expensive factor of the big war. And because the rude war god has to come first in practical operation, he may step on many toes, and crowd out many people and institutions, and even cities, as he moves into action.

Such things cannot be helped. Where seeming wrongs are done, they will be righted, and eventually the difficult and disturbing details will be seen in their proper perspective.

HELPING THE NATIVES.

Even in the midst of the war the British have found time and money to help their colonies. Only this year half a million dollars have been granted to set up a West African Institute of Arts, Industries and Social Sciences. This will encourage the already existing manufacture of tiles, pottery and stoneware, and will start a textile industry.

The West African natives have for many centuries made serviceable and artistic handicraft products. The new institute will increase their market, and suggest new products which outsiders need.

Much is heard of the exploitation of natives by their white overlords. The creation of this institute suggests that there is another side to the white man's rule in the tropics.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS.

There will be exams on March fifteenth for all of you who have reached the age of seventeen, and have been graduated or are very close to graduation from high school. These exams are for purpose of finding out what you can do best. If the Army or Navy finds that you will be benefitted by more education, you will be put into one of their reserves, and will be sent to college for the year before you reach eighteen.

When you have reached draft age, you will have one good, solid year of college education behind you. The advantage you will get from this free year will be much more, even if counted in dollars and cents, than any take-home pay you may get in the meantime. Money is easily wasted. Education sticks.

By all means try out for these exams.

KICKING IN.

Slowly and inexorably March 15 draws near, the Day of Doom to millions of Americans, when they are surrendering more of their hard-earned money to the government than ever before in their lives. It is tough on many people.

Yet somehow as time creeps on and the fatal day peeps around the corner, it doesn't really seem so tough. Thousands of people even find themselves cheerful and resigned about it. Some will confess, rather shamefacedly, that "kicking into" this vast jackpot of funds to crack the Axis gives them a real glow of satisfaction. It's something they themselves can do to win the war, and if anybody offered to redeem their contribution and give it back, they would be indignant about it.

May, 1922

(Cisco American Files)

Armed with shotguns and declaring vengeance against the illicit manufacturers of corn "licker," farmers in the communities of Scranton, Hobart and Dothan have taken advantage of the excessive wet season in which they can do no work on their farms and have been successful in uncovering two stills within the last week, their latest capture being Wednesday when they took charge of one in the Kennedy pasture north of Scranton. No arrests were made in this last haul. The Kennedy pasture is owned by a man of that name who resides at Putnam, and the farmers are convinced that he had no knowledge of the still being on his property. It is said that the farmers kept watch in the vicinity of the still Tuesday night, but its owners did not put in their appearance. A half hundred or so farmers have been engaging in these drives during the last two weeks, according to reports received here. It is said that they are armed with shotguns which they use about their farms to kill rabbits and other pests, loaded to kill. Several of the farmers instrumental in the seizing of the still yesterday, passed through Cisco today enroute for Eastland where they will place their evidence with the proper authorities. The farmers in the vicinity of Scranton do not want a booze making industry in their neighborhood, as evidenced by the coming together last week of a body of three dozen of them for the searching of the countryside, after sending to Cisco for the "law" to help in the drive.

The Lions club met in their regular weekly luncheon Wednesday and discussed several movements which the club is sponsoring, giving their endorsement for the campaign which is being waged by different organizations in the city for the securing of the 1923 K. P. grand lodge meeting. The club has favored the movement to perfect plans for the establishment of a tourist camping park in the city, and authorized its committee to conclude the details for its location and equipment.

A Little Lesson in Abstracting—

The abstract is a written history of the title chain. If carefully prepared it will (1) definitely locate the tract under search. (2) Reveal, if possible, the true ownership. (3) Show liens, if any, and (4) the defects in the deed or other written documents. It may or may not prove the title to be good. This is the reason for the abstract and why it is necessary in every real estate transaction.
