LOBO BANQUET AT THE LAGUNA HOTEL TONIGHT

A program of jokes that ended in N. D. Gallagher and L. W. Seymour being declared winners, was brought by Austin Flint as program chairman of the Lobo luncheon at Hotel Laguna, Wednesday. President Seymour made a short talk, as did Warrant Officer E. L. Jackson, at home on short leave.

Lion O. L. Stamey announced that the senior play would be given at the high school Friday night. It was also announced that the Lobo banquet would take place Thursday evening with Dr. Tom Taylor, president of Howard-Payne college, as the speaker. Lobs were each given three tickets to sell to men guests.

Visitors were Lt. Paul M. Amer-son of Fort Worth, who is vacationing for a few days at Lake Cisco; J. L. Bigler, guest of W. E. Dean; Bob Donohoe and E. L. Jackson.

Lion Flint announced in presenting his program that each Lobo could tell a joke of his own or make one from the material which he distributed. It was difficult to make the decisions, but five were selected in the first elimination and the two final winners were selected as a tie and Lion Flint presented a story book to each.

HILLSBORO MAN PRAISES CISCO SCHOOL HEAD

HILLSBORO, March 23.—R. N. Cluck, superintendent of Cisco public schools and president of Cisco Junior College, will be active in the program of Texas Junior College association when it meets in annual convention at Baker hotel, Dallas, April 4.

Cluck is vice-president of the organization and has aided in setting up the coming program, says Loy W. Hartsfield, secretary-treasurer.

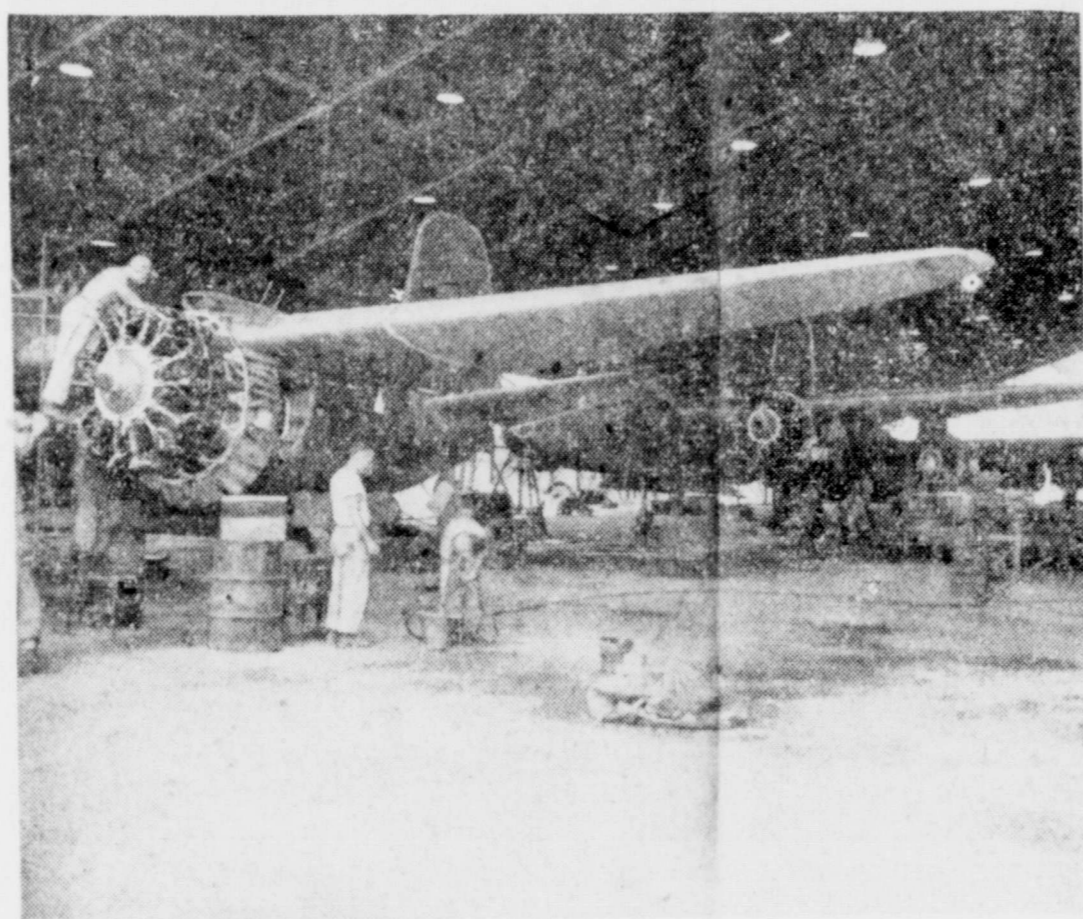

"Mr. Cluck is recognized by his co-workers in the junior college field as having done outstanding work in setting up and maintaining Cisco Junior College in spite of the tremendous decrease in enrollment suffered by all Texas colleges because of the war," Hartsfield added.

ANOTHER HOLLYWOOD MESS TO BE AIRED

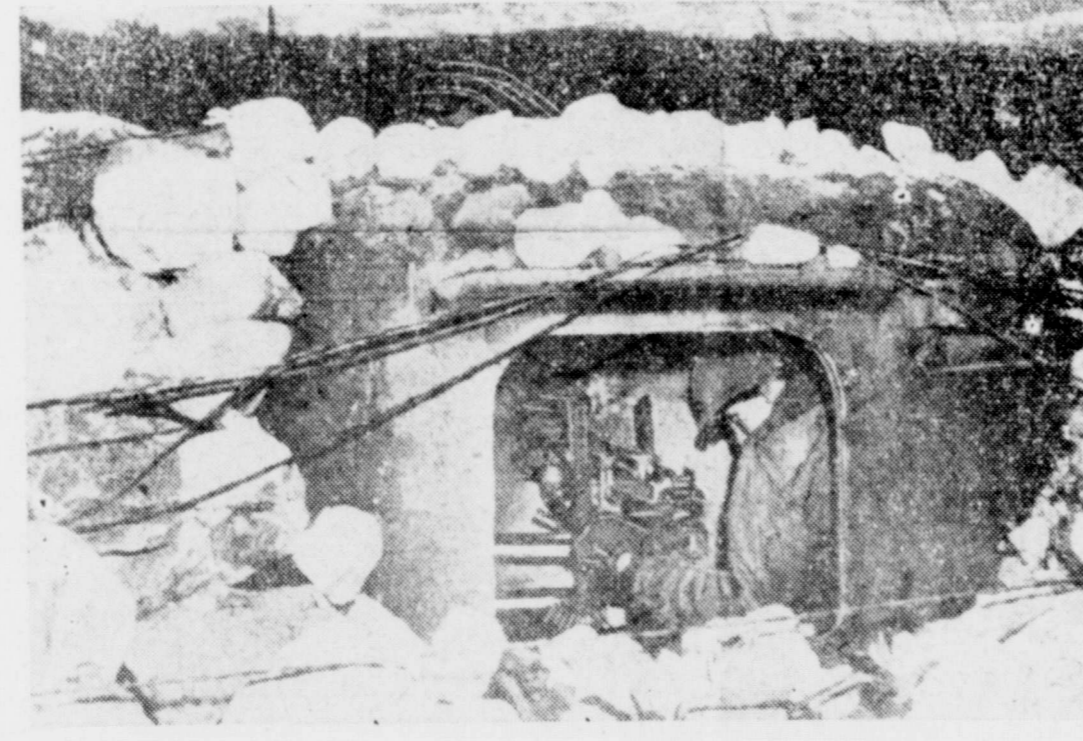

HOLLYWOOD, March 23.—A jury of seven women and five men, all old enough to remember when Charlie Chaplin was the funniest man ever to stumble across the silent screen, settled down today to hear the story of his adventures with Joan Barry in New York and to decide whether they would be justified in sending him to prison as a white slaver.

The red-haired Miss Barry insisted they do and charged that Chaplin took her to the big city two years ago for sexual indulgence alone. She demanded that he be put behind bars for the next 10 years.

The white-haired Chaplin admitted he took the woman to New York, but contended that he was only the picture producer looking out for the interests of his starlet.

JUNGLE PRODUCTION LINE—Fifth Air Force in New Guinea operates jungle production line. Planes arrive from States in parts, are put together at rate of one fighter plane a day, one A20 Havoc every two days, and are test flown from air strip.

CAPTURED NAZI PILLBOX—To inspect gun mounts, Pfc. Theodore Streeter climbs inside Nazi portable pillbox captured in Italy and rumored to have been brought from Mannerheim line.

7 SOLDIERS KILLED AT CAMP BOWIE

BROWNWOOD, March 23.—Seven enlisted men are dead and seven others suffered minor injuries as the result of an explosion during gunnery practice with a mortar at Camp Bowie's rifle range yesterday. Some of the injured returned to duty after first aid treatment at the camp hospital.

"We deeply regret this accident on the firing range," said a statement issued by headquarters. "All safety precautions had been taken prior to the beginning of firing. An investigation by a board of officers has been started."

All men killed were members of an armored infantry battalion of the 13th Armored Division. None of the dead or injured are Texans.

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES FOR SECOND TERM

AUSTIN, March 23.—Governor Stevenson today announced his candidacy for re-nomination.

The governor, who became 56 this week, will be seeking his second elective term. As lieutenant governor he became governor in succession to Lee O'Daniel in August, 1941, when O'Daniel took his seat in the United States senate. Stevenson was the Democratic nominee for governor in 1942 and was elected to a full term that year.

TEXAS BOY AND NEGRO STAGE FIGHT

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Edgar G. Brown of Chicago, Negro candidate for a Republican nomination for representative from Illinois, who recently publicly demanded the impeachment of Secretary of War Stimson, was beaten outside the capitol here Wednesday by a husky 17-year-old house chamber door-keeper from Texas, police reported last night.

Brown, who represents Negro organizations before House and Senate committees, was taken to a hospital, where he was treated for bruises and lacerations. His condition last night was described as "fair."

DALLAS CANDIDATE

DALLAS, March 23.—Rev. W. H. Jackson, a Negro minister, is a candidate for a place on the Dallas Board of Education. Three members of the board will be elected April 4.

BATTLE IS ON FOR BLACK SEA NAVAL BASE OF NIKOLAEV AND NAZI DEFENDERS ARE DOOMED

NAPLES, March 23.—Bitter hand-to-hand fighting continued in the wreckage of Cassino today while German forces in the surrounding hills launched a series of strong counter attacks in an effort to relieve the pressure on their embattled paratroopers inside the town.

Battling with knives, guns and grenades, the New Zealand infantrymen were reported slowly beating down the wearied German units holding out for the ninth day in a narrow pocket of ruined houses on the southwestern corner of Cassino.

The New Zealanders littered the town behind them with anti-personnel mines to prevent infiltration by enemy snipers and managed to hurl the Nazi "Green Devils" from a few more rubble heaps around the Continental Hotel.

The Nazi paratroopers fought back savagely, however, and German guns emplaced on the lower slopes of Mount Cassino continued to rake the Allied lines. Both sides appeared to have withdrawn from the ruined hotel after a burst of Nazi mortar and shellfire struck the building, hitting as many Germans as New Zealanders.

While the stalemate continued inside the town, the Germans struck heavily against the Allied hill positions to the north, aided by scores of low-flying attack planes.

One Nazi unit charged again and again at Allied positions on Castle Hill, just above Cassino, moving up the steep slopes in the face of machine gun, rifle and grenade fire. After five hours of incessant attack, the Nazis were driven back, losing a number of killed and wounded.

Three miles to the northwest, other German forces struck heavily against French positions on Mount Castellone. Beaten off by heavy gunfire, the Germans came back to the attack a second time, only to be riddled by Allied field guns and dispersed.

At the same time, the Nazis tried repeatedly to knock out the Allied bridges across the Rapido river but headquarters spokesmen said all the attempts were smashed.

Only minor patrol clashes were reported on the left flank of the main Fifth Army line, in the lower Garigliano Valley.

Heavy artillery exchanges continued on the Fifth Army beachhead below Rome and on the British Eighth Army's Adriatic front, but ground action was limited to skirmishing.

American Flying Fortresses and Liberators went back into action for the first time since the big attack on Cassino a week ago yesterday, striking a devastating blow at the Verona, Bologna and Rimini railroad yards in northern Italy. Returning crewmen reported their bombs crashed squarely across all three yards.

MOSCOW.—The Red army cut a 60-mile-wide swath to the Bessarabian approaches of Rumania today and 200 miles to the southeast stormed the defenses of Nikolaev, big Black Sea port and eastern anchor base of the hard pressed German salient in the Ukraine.

(A Moscow broadcast recorded in London said Soviet assault forces now were driving the Germans out of Nikolaev after over-running many strong points in the hedgehog system of defenses rimming the city).

Charging half way across Bessarabia, a broad phalanx of the Second Ukrainian army was reported fanning out along the north-south railroad, its left wing probing in the direction of Balti, railway hub of all northern Bessarabia.

Front dispatches said the steam roller push had disrupted the efforts of German and Rumanian units to regroup for a stand on the Prut, the border of Rumania and Bessarabia, and now threatened the Rumanian city of Iasi, where Marshal Fritz von Manstein was reported to have established his headquarters.

The closing of the assault arc on Nikolaev, at the mouth of the Bug river and last major Black Sea port east of Odessa, followed the toppling of Pervomaik to the northwest, where field reports said a "huge" German evacuation column was cut off and smashed up.

LONDON.—Powerful forces of American bombers smashed at Germany for the second straight day today in a broadside attack on the northwest Reich and the Brunswick area, where the Nazis reported violent air battles, after a 1000-plane British night bombardment of Frankfurt.

U. S. army headquarters announced that strong fleets of Liberators and Flying Fortresses, probably 500 to 750 bombers, swept back over Germany with an American fighter escort in "very great strength" for an attack by perhaps 1500 U. S. warplanes.

The daylight aerial siege of German war production centers was reported by the Nazis finally to have succeeded in luring Reichsmarshal Herman Goering's fighters into battle, in contrast with yesterday's attack which was not challenged by a single enemy plane.

WHERE RUSSIA FAILS.

Russia produced great literature under the czars. Will she do so under the present Communist regime? So far, at least, there is not much indication of it. Why should this be so, when there is much progress in other ways? Dr. Joseph Remenyi, an American professor of literature, explains it this way.

Literature is a creative expression of personal experience and thought. But Soviet literature is handicapped because it is not free to express experience. The literature of a totalitarian system of government is regimented, as its other activities are.

Since the beginning of the Russian revolution, all Soviet writers and poets have agreed that poems, stories, plays and essays must be handled "socially" and thus agree with Communist thinking. Thus the free spirit of true literature is destroyed at its source.

So there is the curious situation that less real literature is produced now in Russia than there was under the old czars. They were tyrannical politically, but they left the Russian creative spirit free. Free, that is, as long as authors touched no political question. When one did, the Siberian mines were apt to get another worker. Only musicians were able freely to express the people's hope. Neither condition spells real liberty. But it may come in time.

A RURAL BOOM?

Maybe it's the country, not the city, that will provide the big business pick-up when the war ends. According to the Wall Street Journal, farmers are waiting to launch their biggest building boom then. The country, like the city, is far behind in building construction and will start catching up. There will be "pre-fabricated units," new building materials, functional designs, and all the rest.

There is plenty of room for such improvements. A survey made three years ago indicated that 82 per cent of American farm dwellings had no running water, 89 per cent had no indoor plumbing, and 69 per cent lacked electric lights. Electricity is leading the progress parade, but sanitation may be even more important than lighting and electric power.

It isn't merely a matter of comfort and respectability. Experts say that run-down farm buildings are a threat to necessary food production for war-time requirements. One of them maintains that the output of foodstuffs could be increased about one-third by better facilities for livestock and better handling and storage of farm products.

MEN ARE TOUGH.

Of all the animals we are acquainted with, man himself seems the most persistent and enduring. He is more delicate in some ways, but makes up for it in intelligence and determination. Newspaper readers are moved to such philosophizing by war stories, and especially by recent news from Sicily.

At Cassino it seemed as if men reached the extreme limit of physical endurance. The Germans had burrowed into the earth like ground-hogs, for shelter against the most terrific bombardment in the history of warfare. A city one square mile in extent, built on solidly with stone houses, was leveled to the ground by an assault apparently more terrific than the ancient destruction of Pompeii and Herculaneum by earthquake and lava. The defenders seemed to be buried in their cellars and dug-outs under an avalanche of debris.

When that man-made thunder, lightning and earthquake subsided, and apparently nothing was left but fire, smoke and dead men, the Allied troops moved in to take over the ruins. But to their amazement, many defending Germans emerged from their debris, strengthened their dug-outs with material from the wrecked homes, and continued to fight.

In the light of such exhibitions of human will and endurance, the Allies are naturally saying less about an early victory.

Ely, of Abilene, member of Governor Dan Moody's state highway commission (hence probably in a position to know what he is talking about as pertains to the governor), says Al Smith, of Texas, will be the nominee of the Democratic party for president and vice president. RED CROSS FILM, AT HIS SIDE, PALACE

Grim battle scenes and tender moments of mercy combine to make the gripping story of "At His Side," a short feature opening today at the Palace and ushering in the national Motion Picture Theaters Red Cross Week which extends from March 23 through March 29. "At His Side," the motion picture industry's tribute to the Red Cross, is distributed by the war activities committee and will have country-wide showings beginning tonight and continuing for a week in advance of Red Cross Week. In addition to "At His Side," scenes of which were filmed on the actual "fighting fronts," the Palace will also present a brief screen commentary, "Report from the Front," featuring Humphrey Bogart. The actor returned recently from an extensive tour of the battlefronts, where he entertained our troops, and he brings first-hand news on the work the Red Cross is doing. "Report from the Front" will be shown at every performance of the Palace for the entire week of March 23 through March 29.

THE AFTERWARD.

When this war is over
And guns have ceased their fire,
The lonely American boy
Is home beside the fire.

Then shall all mothers
Embrace their sons with love
And kindness unknown to all Except those who have given one of their own.

The fathers will be very proud
Of their sons
Who for victory have fought
And for freedom have won.

They will remember when
Their sons were very small,
And they taught them how
To play fair with all.

Families will be together once
more,
With love and joy as before.

Free men, free women and children,
all,
Will join in saying: Our freedom for all.

A Little Lesson in Abstracting—

The abstract is a written history of the title chain. If carefully prepared it will (1) definitely locate the tract under search. (2) Reveal, if possible, the true ownership. (3) Show liens, if any, and (4) the defects in the deed or other written documents. It may or may not prove the title to be good. This is the reason for the abstract and why it is necessary in every real estate transaction.

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Frequent or empty passages with stinging and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

We Must Produce.

Uncle Sam says we must produce abundantly during 1944. Millions of soldiers, our allies and ourselves must be fed. America and her farms and ranches must be the backbone of any heroic production.

The shortage of labor makes this a hard task but Cisco farmers will do their part as heroically as their sons are fighting across the seas.
