CISCO, TEXAS, SUNDAY, APRIL 2, 1944.

NUMBER 148

FULLSCALE OFFENSIVE ON TRUK

OVERSEAS MEN APPRECIATE CIGARET GIFTS

Cisco citizens from time to time have contributed a total of approximately $500 to John William Butts Post 123, American Legion, to be expended for cigarettes to be mailed to overseas soldiers. Each package mailed contained the name and address of the local post and many, many letters and cards have been received from the four corners of the earth expressing thanks and gratitude to Cisco Legionnaires and citizens.

The latest communication is from Ensign John E. Price of the USS Sawfish. It was written March 20 and shows that while Cisco and the Legion have been rendering the men in arms a nice service, the latter in turn are giving this city and its people lots of favorable publicity. Said Ensign Price in his letter to Cisco Legion:

"As this ship prepared to depart on the next war patrol I overheard this remark come from one of the crew: 'Good old Cisco, Texas.' Wondering if I had run across an old neighbor because I had come from Eastland, I said 'Surely it is good but how did you know?'"

I found what occasioned this remark was the reception of a number of cigarettes donated by your Post.

As an old resident of your neighboring town, I was born in Eastland and graduated from high school there. I would like to thank you on behalf of this submarine's crew and officers for your generous contribution to the morale-recreation of this vessel. Also I thought you would be interested to know your donations were being distributed to armed forces.

I was proud to tell everyone aboard that I knew residents in, and was neighbor to such a city. Yours respectfully,

JOHN E. PRICE,
Ensign USNR.

The cigaret fund is accumulated through contributions placed in receptacles located in a number of Cisco business places and the Legion project has been handled by Messrs. W. R. Huestis, Rex Moore and Leon McPherson.

FRUIT TOTAL LOSS.

J. T. Anderson of Cisco, who has about 2,000 fruit trees on his farm near Romney, said Saturday that the recent freeze banished all hope of peach, pear and plum crops, but that he might have a few apples. It was a hard blow to the owner from a financial angle and to all fruit lovers of the area, since the killing freeze seems to have been general over Eastland county, with little hope of sufficient fruit being shipped in to meet local health needs.

COMMANDS AIR COMMANDOS—Unit that landed gliders bulging with Allied equipment for Yanks in Burma is under command of famed pilot Col. Philip G. Cochran whose real life adventures have inspired a comic strip.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES NIGHTLY

Under sponsorship of Cisco Pastors' association, Holy Week services will be held each night this week at 8 o'clock, this being the second year that such a program has been projected by the Cisco churches. The schedule for the week is as follows:

Monday night at First Christian church, with Rev. O. L. Savage preaching.

Tuesday night at Church of the Nazarene, with Rev. J. R. Wright preaching.

Wednesday night at First Presbyterian church, with Rev. L. H. Clegg preaching.

Thursday night at First Baptist church, with Rev. Leslie Seymour preaching.

Friday night at First Methodist church, with Rev. Cooper Waters preaching.

Other ministers will participate in the services each evening. The pastor and choir of the host church will be responsible for the music and order of worship.

As a climax to these pre-Easter meetings a sunrise service will be held on College Hill at 6:30 o'clock Easter Sunday morning. There will be no sermon for this occasion, music and prayer and scripture to be used instead as the means of worship.

JARRETT FUNERAL AT 3 P. M., MONDAY

Mrs. Della Louise Jarrett, who died in Baylor hospital at Dallas Friday morning, will be buried in Oakwood cemetery, Cisco, Monday afternoon, following funeral at 3 o'clock at First Methodist church, conducted by Rev. Leslie Seymour.

Mrs. Jarrett was born at Desdemona, August 15, 1895, but was reared in Cisco, being the former Miss Della Huddleston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Huddleston, the mother preceding her in death. Mrs. Jarrett had made her home here for the past five years, only recently going to Dallas for medical treatment.

Survivors include the father, Cisco; husband, T. F. Jarrett, Odessa; a son, Howard Shook, San Bernardino, Calif.; sisters, Mrs. J. E. Sullivan, Henrietta; Mrs. Dan Jarrett, Breckenridge; Mrs. W. M. Bowles, Odessa; Mrs. J. H. Hyatt, Cisco; brothers, W. E. Huddleston, Amarillo; James Huddleston, Byrd.

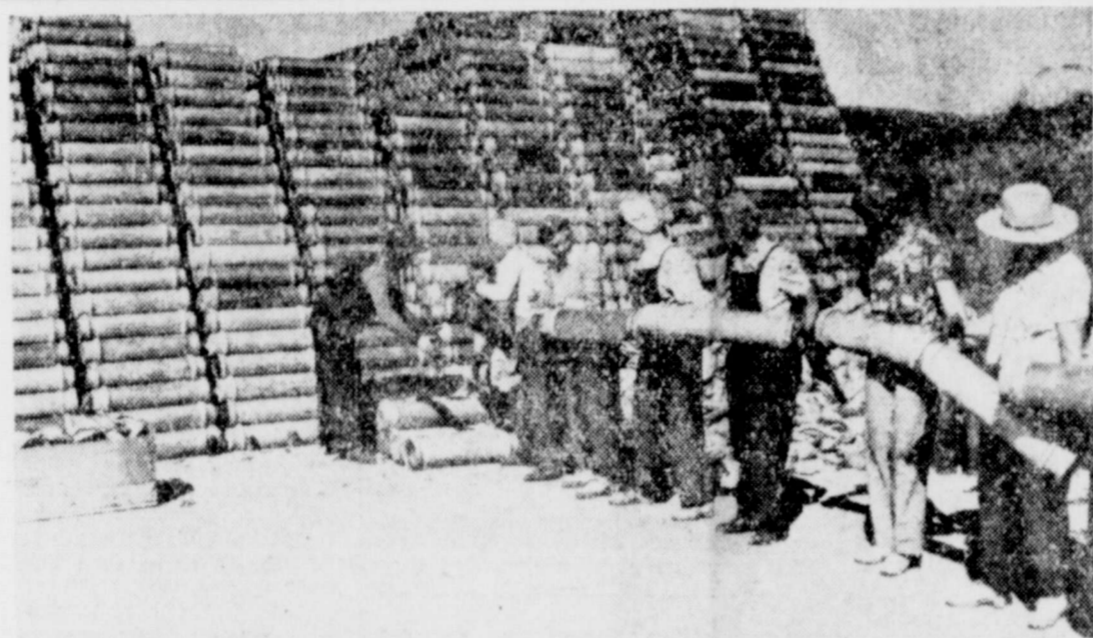

Green funeral home is in charge of the remains.

DEDICATION POSTPONED.

Mexican mission dedicatory exercises scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon have been indefinitely postponed, said Rev. Cooper Waters, Saturday afternoon. Abandonment of plans was caused by the absence of the Mexican pastor and some of his students, who are attending a school of missions in San Antonio.

JESS DOWDY ILL.

Mr. and Mrs. Holman Dowdy of Dallas, former Cisco residents, are here to be with his brother, Jess Dowdy, who was stricken Friday and is said to be in a serious condition at Graham Sanitarium.

SHELLS FIGHT AGAIN—Ammunition is being passed back for refill at Naval ammunition depot, Fallbrook, Cal. Women employes stack five-inch shell casings, which have already blasted Japs, for trip to factory for remelting, reforming, refilling and return to action. (U. S. Navy Photo)

WASH-DAY BLUES—Mrs. Housewife isn't one having washing trouble. Marine Maj. H. R. Koip, does wash in contraption made by placing a 10-gallon fruit can over a fire built in a pit. An agitating plunger—can at the end of wooden rocker—moves up and down to get clothes dirt-free.

MONKEY-BUSINESS TO LEARN—Mary, San Francisco zoo's prize chimpanzee, is all agog at discovery that offspring is a boy and not a girl as first thought. She advises young son to grow up before he starts aping his father.

FT. WORTH BANKS. $162,159, against $32,392,760 in FT. WORTH, April 1. — Bank February, the Fort Worth Clearinghouse for March totaled $56,119,000, House Assn. reported today.

EXPECT TOO MUCH FROM AIRPLANES

WASHINGTON, April 1. —

Growing pessimism about victory in Europe before 1945 is based on disappointment at results of air warfare. Feeling grows that its part in eventual victory is more limited than advocates hoped; that it is taking longer than schedules allowed for accomplishing its share. Luftwaffe is not yet destroyed. War Department explains that German aircraft industry has been found to possess "tremendous recuperative powers." It makes clear, also, that only after destruction of Luftwaffe can destruction of Germany's war industries proceed at rapid pace. Failure at Cassino taught another hard lesson regarding airpower.

Battle for Philippines may start as early as next December, some congressmen believe — and they say Navy men back them in it. Since our Navy didn't find the Jap fleet at Palau, expectation is that the bulk of it has withdrawn to Nip home waters, with a portion still based at Singapore. If this is so then the Japs won't match their fleet against ours until we get much closer to Tokyo than we are now.

Another government agency fades into limbo from inaction: War Mobilization Committee. It was created nearly a year ago as half-answer to demands for a real war cabinet. Chairman: OWM Director Byrnes. Members: Stimson, Knox, Nelson, Hopkins, Vinson. Committee started out meeting about once a week, soon fell into habit of meeting only when some big problem had to be solved. Last meeting was about a month ago. None scheduled for future.

Committee was supposed to resolve conflicts among government agencies, determine uniform policies. Its failure to function largely accounts for failure of Administration to develop coherent manpower program. Lacking Administration policy line, McNutt, Hershhey, Patterson, et al., go their separate ways.

3 INCOMBENTS RETURNED TO SCHOOL BOARD

In the school board election of Saturday Mrs. P. R. Warwick, Mrs. N. A. Brown and G. R. (Pete) Nance were re-elected trustees.

The vote in detail was as follows:
Mrs. P. R. Warwick 337
G. R. Nance 329
Mrs. N. A. Brown 269
Mrs. D. Ball 125
W. E. D. Johnston 1
Mrs. Joe Wilson 1
C. R. Hightower 1
Bob Winston 1
W. J. Armstrong 1
James Flournoy, Mrs. Sam Kimmell and Mrs. J. S. Mobley conducted the election.

MASKED RUFFIAN.

DALHART, April 1. — Several suspects were being questioned Saturday in the beating and robbery of Mrs. Mildred Peoples, 38, bus driver. A masked white man in uniform kicked and stomped Mrs. Peoples after she had driven a bus to Dalhart army air field, she reported to officers.

FIFTH ARMY LAUNCHES THREE-PRONGED SURPRISE ATTACK IN ITALY; MT. MARRONE TAKEN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—A full-scale offensive to neutralize Truk and other Japanese strongholds along a 1400-mile front in the Carolines is believed under way by American air forces from the Central and Southwest Pacific, which completed at least eight attacks in 36 hours on the enemy bases.

Two additional raids on Truk and new attacks on Woleai, Eauripik and Ponape Islands were disclosed in communiques from Pacific fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Australia.

The Japanese said 20 American bombers made three "ineffective raids" on Truk Wednesday and 30 bombers attacked in two raids Thursday. Damage was described as negligible by the Japanese who claimed they shot down three Liberators and damaged seven others in the two-day period.

The heavy U. S. naval force of battleships, aircraft carriers, cruisers and destroyers which began assault on Palau islands, 1044 miles west of Truk and 460 miles east of the Philippines, at dawn Wednesday still was silent and the result of the attacks may not be known for several days.

NAPLES.—The Fifth Army has smashed forward a mile and captured 5840-foot Mount Marrone in a surprise three-pronged attack that threatens to outflank the stalemated Cassino front, 16 miles to the southwest, it was announced today.

Ending a months-long lull on the mountainous central front, Allied troops attacked under cover of a heavy artillery barrage and overwhelmed strong German defenses to score the most important Allied victory in Italy since the Fifth Army reached the out-skirts of Cassino in February.

The assault indicated that Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in Italy, and Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, Fifth Army commander, may have decided to shift the main weight of their offensive to the north following their failure to crack through the Cassino bottleneck on the main road to Rome.

From Mount Marrone, the Allies were in a position to mount a grave threat to German positions just behind both Cassino and Monastery Hill. The snow-peaked mountain dominates the German-held Atina-Colli highway and lies three miles west of Rocchetta.

In addition to Mount Marrone, the Allies also attacked nearby San Michele and Pizzone, but the outcome of these thrusts was not announced immediately.

The fighting was over some of the toughest terrain in Italy.

On the Cassino front, German patrols totaling about 40 men each penetrated New Zealand positions south of the railway station on three occasions Thursday night and Friday morning, but were driven back to their original lines after confused fighting.

MOSCOW. — Upwards of 100,000 Germans in the southern Ukraine, suddenly abandoning their stubborn defense, broke and fled toward Odessa and Bessarabia today in a race to escape a Soviet trap that threatened to cut their last land routes of retreat.

Converging Soviet armies, advancing up to 20 miles in the 24 hours in pursuit of the withdrawing enemy, closed to within 35 miles east and northeast and 42 miles north of Odessa, Russia's biggest Black Sea port.

The German retreat in some sectors became a panic-stricken rout and it seemed possible the entire Ukraine, including Odessa, would be cleared of the enemy within a matter of days.

The long-anticipated Axis withdrawal from the southern Ukraine began without warning as the Soviets shifted the main weight of their offensive south and west toward Odessa and the few remaining railway lines over which the enemy could escape to Rumania.

AIR CREW TRAINING.

AUSTIN, April 1. — Air crew training programs in five Texas colleges will be terminated June 30, the war department says. Affected by the order will be Texas A&M, Southwest Texas State Teachers at San Marcos, West Texas State Teachers at Canyon, Austin College of Sherman and Texas Tech at Lubbock.

OPA LOSES COUPONS.

BATON ROUGE, April 1.—Authorities in this area searched Saturday for thieves who pulled what police described as a "smooth professional job" in escaping with OPA gasoline coupons worth more than 29,000,000 gallons, enough to supply Louisiana for a month and a half. The coupons were taken Friday morning from a safe at the ration board office.
