JAPS HEAD FOR HOLLANDIA

ANTI-NEW DEAL DEMOCRATS TO FORM PARTY

CHICAGO, April 25.—Organization in every state in opposition to the New Deal is the purpose of the American Democratic national committee, which has established its national headquarters in this city. State committees have already been formed in seven southern, four eastern, and eight western states. It is expected that nationwide organization will be effected before May 1.

Part of the executive committee will call for a pre-convention caucus to be held in St. Louis, June 1 to 3. At this meeting candidates for president and vice-president will be chosen and a platform along lines of Jeffersonian democracy will be drawn up. In a statement concerning the aims of the national body, Archer said: "If the New Deal and its Palace Guard surrounding President Roosevelt were given four more years of political life, the shackles of regimentation would be affixed to American business and American life for generations. President Roosevelt is personally responsible for the machinations of this group and, with them, he must be eliminated. The American Democratic national committee is determined that millions of 'New Dealers' will have someone to go to this year."

PRECINCT CONVENTION BE HELD MAY 6

Oscar Lyster, chairman Democratic executive committee of Eastland county, has issued the following call to Eastland county Democrats:

"Democrats will hold precinct conventions Saturday, May 6 to elect delegates to the county convention, which will be held May 9 at the court house in Eastland, to elect delegates to the state convention to be held in Austin May 23, where delegates to the national convention will be selected. The national convention will be held in Chicago."

WEATHER IS HOT.
Pvt. William D. Brecheen, Jr., 19, serving with the navy in the South Pacific, wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Brecheen, on April 13, that he was well and in good shape generally, but that the weather was entirely too hot for comfort. He said he had just returned his Christmas presents, together with other mail, the first in three months.

KUEHNE HONORED.
WITH 13TH IN SOUTH PACIFIC—By direction of the president the oak leaf cluster in lieu of an additional air medal was awarded on April 7 by Lt. Gen. Mildred F. Harmon, commanding U. S. army forces in South Pacific area, to the following member of 13th AAF: Henry Kuehne, Jr., corporal, army air corps, as aerial photographer gunner from 13 February to 28 February, 1944. Home address, Coupland, Texas.

JIM BERRY HOME FOR A BRIEF VISIT

Capt. Jim Berry of the army air forces arrived in Cisco Saturday night to spend part of his furlough with friends and relatives in his home town. While here he is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Harrell. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Berry, now live in El Paso, and the young man came here from a visit with them.

Upon completion of his visit in Cisco, Captain Berry will report to the rehabilitation center at Miami, Fla., where he anticipates new overseas assignments. He was out squirrel hunting in the Harrell Hill area this morning.

On February 14, at 13th AAF headquarters in the South Pacific, by direction of the president of the United States, Captain Berry was presented with the air medal and the Oak Leaf Cluster. Later the army public relations office mailed the following communication to the Cisco Daily Press:

"Of all the Liberator B-24 crews in the 13th AAF which has been hammering the Japs over Rabaul, one of the most remarkable is that headed by Jim Berry of Cisco, Texas.

"Just recently Captain Berry's men completed their 34th mission in the South Pacific theater, a mission which was described as 'probably the best' ever thrown against Rabaul. Their formation had scored 37 bulls-eyes on the Lakunan runway while pummeling the strategic strip and areas with over 176 tons of bombs.

"When Captain Berry and his men logged this 34th mission, they added to a record of steady work that surely will be challenged by few combat crews. For before they started these 34 missions in this theater, they had completed 22 search operations in the Central Pacific.

"Another unusual situation is the fact that this unit was organized back in the states 14 months ago, drew its original Liberator, flew it to Hawaii, operated there for a number of months, came on to the South Pacific and flew one successful mission after another. The grand old ship was called the 'Cisco Kid.'"

"Five missions back 'Cisco Kid,' when the crew members speak of with affection that borders on reverence, was retired. It had done its job. It has been replaced with 'Cisco Kid II,' and there is every indication that the name will be preserved with honor."

PASTOR AND WIFE WARMLY WELCOMED

Rev. Evan Holmes is the new pastor of East Cisco Baptist church, succeeding Rev. Russell Dennis. The new minister comes from Brownwood, where he was located for five years. He was reared at DeLeon and has been in the ministry about five years.

Members of the congregation gave a social and shower at the church last night and Rev. and Mrs. Holmes received a nice array of gifts and a warm spiritual welcome, for which they request the Daily Press to extend their deep appreciation. Members brought generous baskets of food and all enjoyed supper together. Approximately 100 people were present.

SCHOOL BUSES BLOOD DONORS TO EASTLAND

R. N. Cluck, chairman of the committee on transportation for Cisco blood donors, says arrangements have been made for school buses to make hourly trips to Eastland Thursday, leaving promptly on the half hour beginning at 9:30 a. m., and returning on a similar schedule. This is for the convenience of those who do not have their own conveyance.

Buses will leave from Service Men's club next door to West Texas Utilities office on D avenue and will deliver passengers to First Methodist church in Eastland where the Red Cross receiving station is established.

All who have appointments at the center from 10 to 11 will have to ride the 9:30 bus and those from 11 to 12 will ride the 10:30 bus, and so on through the schedule, the last bus to leave Cisco at 1:30. All passengers must be ready to leave exactly on schedule to avoid delay in the carefully arranged program at Eastland.

It is suggested that those who may be going in their own car might lend assistance if they could drive by the Service Men's club and pick up any who may be waiting.

Rev. Leslie Seymour, chairman of local arrangements, says all donors must take their notification card with them. He calls attention to the fact that these cards give certain instruction about diet before going to Eastland and states that these regulations should be carefully observed.

Approximately 30 Cisco women will be in attendance at the center as assistants to the regular government staff of doctors and nurses.

PVT. THEO BURKETT.

The public relations office at Camp Chaffee, Ark., informs the Daily Press that Private Theo Burkett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Burkett of the county, has been assigned as a laboratory technician at the station hospital there, which is part of the army service forces. She completed her basic training at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., and this is her first assignment. Private Burkett, formerly a laboratory technician in the state hospital at Austin, is a graduate of Cisco high school, later attending Randolph college and Texas Christian.

SERVICE MEN CLUB TO ELECT 3 OFFICIALS

Mrs. Philip Pettit, chairman of the Men's Service club, has called a meeting for 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the club, when three officers will be elected to serve one year. Positions to be filled are those of chairman, vice chairman and secretary-treasurer. The present incumbents are Mrs. Pettit, Mrs. W. W. Wallace and Mrs. E. H. Muller.

There are no paid memberships and all interested citizens are invited to attend and hear detailed reports of the work the organization is doing. The room has been open every weekend during the year and many services have been rendered visiting soldiers.

TRAVIS CRABB AT HOME.

Staff Sgt. Elvis Nelms of the army infantry has been transferred from Camp Robinson, Ark., to Camp Rucker, Ala. Nelms is 23 and joined up in June of 1942. His wife and baby son are now living in Cisco with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Archer. Corp. Travis Crabb, a relative of Sergeant Nelms by marriage, has been honorably discharged from the army signal corps and is now at home here after serving eight months overseas.

WILLIAMS COMMISSIONED.

Public relations office at Atlanta, Ga., announces that Bennie Burns Williams, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Williams, Cisco, has been commissioned second lieutenant in the Marine corps. He will now begin a two-month advanced course at Quantico, Va., Marine corps school. Lieutenant Williams has two brothers in the navy—J. N. and R. L. Williams. A late photo of the Ciscoan has been added to the Daily Press picture gallery.

GALLUP SAYS GOP CHANCES LOOK BETTER

PRINCETON, N. J., April 25.—Although events of the next five months will be all important in deciding who is elected president this fall—as they were in 1940—Republican chances of winning the election look better today than most observers are inclined to believe.

The present survey sought to find the civilian voting strength of President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the two most popular candidates of their parties, under three sets of conditions—if the war is still on, if the war is completely over and if the war, at least in Europe, is likely to be in its final stages at election time.

While all of these situations, as well as other important qualifications, have to be taken into account, the last is the situation which the majority of voters themselves expect will prevail this November.

Significant Finding.

The most significant finding based on this final alternative is the sectional strength of Governor Dewey, who emerges with a small lead in the East Central and Far West areas and a good lead in the West Central area.

In the Middle Atlantic and New England areas the two men show about equal popular civilian support, while the President retains a marked advantage in the states of the South.

Here is the series of questions asked in the present survey, with results:

1. "If the war is still going on and President Roosevelt runs for the Democrats against Governor Dewey for the Republicans, how do you think you will vote?"

Roosevelt	55%
Dewey	45%

2. "If the war is over and Roosevelt runs for the Democrats against Dewey, how do you think you will vote?"

Roosevelt	42%
Dewey	58%

3. "Now suppose the war is still going on in Europe, but it looks as though it might be over in a few weeks or a few months, how do you think you will vote—for Roosevelt or Dewey?"

Roosevelt	51%
Dewey	49%

By Sections.

On the basis of the final question, posing a situation which most observers, as well as voters themselves, are inclined to think will prevail in November, here is the present strength of the President and Dewey by sections:

	Roosevelt.	Dewey.
New England and Middle Atlantic	50%	50%
East Central	48	52
West Central	45	55
South	68	32
Far West	48	52

A clearer picture of the sectional shifts which take place in civilian voting preferences in question three—if the war looks as though it may soon be over—is revealed when the Dewey vote under this condition is compared to the 1940 Willkie election vote. This percentage comparison is made in the following table:

	1940 Willkie Dewey	Vote. Today.
New England and Middle Atlantic	47%	50%
East Central	49	52
West Central	51	55
South	27	32
Far West	43	52

Although replies to question three show Roosevelt with a slight advantage among civilian voters throughout the country as a whole, it should be noted that the Democrats normally need about 52 percent of the popular vote in order to have a majority of the electoral vote. This is because the heavy Democratic popular vote in the South does not spell a proportionately high number of electoral votes.

MANY FIGHTER PLANES JOIN AMERICAN JUNGLE TROOPS IN NORTHERN NEW GUINEA AREA

NEW GUINEA, April 25.—Fighter planes, flying from a newly-captured airstrip at Tadiji have joined American jungle troops expanding their three beachheads in northern New Guinea.

Disclosure that fighter planes as well as transports were using a Tadiji airstrip, four miles from Aitape, came as the troops moved to within striking distance of the village and closed in on the three airfields at Hollandia.

Use of the new field gave the ground forces their first effective support from fighter craft. Previous air bases on New Guinea were below the Allied lines south of Madang and at least 300 miles from the new beachheads.

While a message from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters did not mention the presence of any Japanese troops in the area, it was reported that the enemy garrison at Aitape had fled the village.

Front dispatches continued to report thousands of Japanese were pushing northward in a do or die thrust from the by-passed Wewak area, 85 miles south of Aitape. In the Hollandia area 125 miles above Aitape, three airfields in a valley behind the high Cyclops Mountain range.

Troops which landed at Tanahmerah were reported five miles from the main airbase, while forces from Humboldt Bay, 20 miles to the east, rapidly were moving up a motor road connecting the two bays with the Hollandia, Cyclops and Sentani airfields in between.

A possible explanation for the lack of enemy opposition in the area was contained in a communique by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz which disclosed that swarms of carrier-based planes and guns of the U. S. Pacific fleet swept 300 miles of the northern New Guinea coast Thursday and Friday in a prelude to the invasion, and then moved in to cover the landings of MacArthur's troops.

The enemy suffered its biggest losses at Hollandia, where U. S. fliers destroyed 67 planes on the ground at the three airfields and heavily bombed buildings, ammunition dumps and fuel storage facilities. Twenty-one more planes were destroyed on the ground at Wakde Island, 110 miles west of Hollandia, and at Sagar, 11 miles further west. The Japanese planes were shot down in combat over the area.

Australian troops continued their advance northward from Bogadjim, passing through Ermi plantation. There had been no enemy opposition through Friday as the Australian jungle fighters moved to only a few miles of Madang, capturing enemy equipment and supplies en route.

Central and South Pacific airforces joined again to carry out extensive raids on the Caroline Islands during the week-end.

LONDON.—Virtually all travel overseas from Great Britain was stopped today under what the Daily Press flatly termed "invasion eve regulations."

The Home Office announced late last night that only those engaged on business of "urgent national importance which cannot be postponed" would be permitted to leave Britain until further notice.

The ministry attributed its action merely to "military considerations," but the travel ban obviously was another step to prevent invasion secrets from leaking to the Axis in the critical days or weeks before Allied armies land in Western Europe.

Nazi-controlled radios in Europe continued to speculate the invasion would come some time this week, and Berlin Radio was heard broadcasting that "every member of the German western army knows that the big test lies ahead."

"The German soldier is ready to accept the challenge for decisive battle," Berlin said.

HOME TOWN GREETES COMMANDO KELLY

PITTSBURGH, April 25.—Shawano Street and "Mom" Kelly took "Commando" Kelly to their hearts today.

Tech. Sgt. Charles Edward Kelly, back on furlough from his exploits in the Italian campaign which won for him the congressional medal of honor, rested in the comforts of home after a wild demonstration of greetings that lasted late into the night.

The slight, shy, ruddy-faced hero, credited with eliminating 40 Nazis in one of this war's most sensational actions, dodged friends and admirers "just to catch up on some sleep and see my mom."

Police guarded the entrance to his unpretentious home in Pittsburgh's "Dutchtown" section while he did so.

Mayor Cornelius Scully met the fighting Irishman at his home and offered him and his family an expensive suite in a downtown hotel, but the "commando" replied, very courteously: "This is good enough for mom, and it's good enough for me."

BRIDGING THE CHANNEL.

The Russians have done their part—and a tremendous job it was—cleaning up a vast strip of eastern Europe from the Arctic Ocean to the Black Sea and the Mediterranean. Soon they will turn west, driving directly against Germany. And we shall meet them there.

Meanwhile the historical spotlight turns to the western bastion of European freedom, which has played an immense role in history and is still, in some ways, the center of the world.

The English on their "right little, tight little island" are poised to swing across the famous Channel that has been so many times a dividing line between freedom and tyranny. On that famous island, Americans, perhaps half of them offshoots of those "good yeomen whose limbs were made in England," along with Continentals of more recent baptism, wait to show "the mettle of their pasture." The situation recalls, to history-minded people of the English tradition, the famous address of King Henry to his troops as they faced aggression from the Continent. The Channel will now be literally bridged with ships.

Everything in this situation is dramatic and historic. The British-American Alliance, with their friends on the Continent awaiting liberation, have no fear of the outcome.

JOE'S JOB.

Apparently it may be said of war, as of so many other things, that "the more it changes, the more it remains the same." Look, for example, at the immense mechanization of this war. If there has ever been a war fought by machinery, surely this is it.

And yet the experts rate as of first importance not the planes, tanks, artillery, and so on, but the common soldier with his gun and pack, who in our last war was known as a "doughboy" and in this war is merely a "GI Joe," the GI standing for Government Issue, and the man called Joe' for short.

Joe's the fellow who, after a million dollars' worth of steel and dynamite has been thrown at the enemy, goes dodging and squirming into the fracas with merely a GI shooting iron and a few grenades, and cleans up and takes over.
