NAZI RETREAT ROUTE BLOCKED

J. V. HEYSER WRITES HOME FROM INDIA

A 9-mail letter received by C. A. Shockey from his young friend, J. V. Heyser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Heyser, is interesting and another example of how Cisco boys are getting about the world these days. Heyser, who left home only a few months ago, is now in far-off India. The letter:

"Hello, C. A.: How is every one and yourself around Cisco? Do hope this finds you well and making out ok with that fishing. I have been intending to write for some time, but they have had me on the move; in fact, I couldn't even talk back to myself. I am seeing a lot of interesting things in India. The people all work over here, except the beggars, who are 4 to 6 years of age.

"The religion of the people is also interesting to study; 250 different kinds of language; about five classes of Indians and all of different speech and religion. I will know a lot about India and believe I will enjoy studying the beliefs of the people and their ways. Write and let me know the news. Your Pal, JIMMY."

The Cisco young man is with an engineering group.

LAWSON WITH DISTINGUISHED FLYING GROUP

From the Mediterranean Allied Air Force Headquarters comes the following news concerning Sgt. Victor Lawson, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Lawson, Cisco:

"Victor R. Lawson, 25, Cisco, Texas, has been promoted to the rank of master sergeant.

"Sergeant Lawson was educated at Cisco high school and Texas A & M. college, and is a graduate of AAF mechanics school at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss. He has been on active overseas duty fifteen months and is now in Italy with a 15th AAF P-47 Thunderbolt fighter group, which recently flew its 200th combat mission and has 270 victories over enemy aircraft to its credit.

"Sergeant Lawson is an airplane mechanic with a unit which has the outstanding record of having safely escorted more than 3000 medium and heavy bombers over every target in the Mediterranean theater of operations. His group scored the most sensational fighter plane victory of the Italian campaign when planes of the outfit shot down 36 enemy aircraft north of the Gulf of Venice on January 30, 1944."

SHE'S ALIVE—Pvt. Joseph F. Hollingsworth signed a confession of murder in Seattle, Wash., asserting that he had strangled his wife to death in a local hotel. Seattle police doubted the confession and investigated. Mrs. Hollingsworth, above, was found alive and well as a beauty shop employe.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION CLEAR-CUT

E. P. Crawford, W. J. Armstrong, R. L. Ponsler and J. Harry Reynolds, delegates from Cisco who attended the Democratic convention at Austin, returned home last night.

Mr. Armstrong said this morning that the state meeting was one of the most interesting and enthusiastic political gatherings he had ever attended. He was impressed, he said, with the high type of men and women he met—substantial farmers and business men from the small towns and big cities of Texas, all seemingly leaders in their various communities and each grimly determined to go all the way for what they deemed best for their party and the country as a whole.

"It was a great convention," Armstrong repeated, "with the issues clearly drawn between old-time Democratic ideals and New Deal ideologies."

The Ciscoan was deeply impressed with a statement made by former governor Pat Neff, who touched on the all-important matter of state's rights and local self government when he said:

"When the war is over, we are going to clean up things. We are going to magnify every state capitol over the dome in Washington, every courthouse in Texas over the state capitol and every precinct over the county courthouse."

Mr. Neff, now president of Baylor college, added: "I never bolt the Baptist church or the Democratic party. Don't worry about the bolters here today—they'll be back when milking time comes."

While Mr. Neff was speaking, pro-Roosevelt Democrats who had walked out when the vote showed they were in the minority, were holding forth in the hall of representatives at the other end of the capitol building.

With the secessionists from the regular convention went Alvin J. Wirtz, floor leader of the fourth-term faction, Congressman Lyndon Johnson, Mayor Tom Miller of Austin, and a group of Roosevelt Democrats, many of whom held no credentials as delegates to the main convention.

One of the many vigorous, clear-cut resolutions passed, none of which have yet been compiled and passed to the press, said in substance that if the national convention at Chicago should seat delegates from the Austin rump convention, all Texas delegates from the regular convention would be free to vote as they saw fit in the November election.

The following presidential electors were named by the regular convention:

District 1, Otto Atchley, Texarkana; District 2, J. E. Wheat, Woodville; District 3, Edward Lee, Tyler; District 4, Olen McWhorter, Greenville; District 5, Mrs. F. R. Carlton, Dallas; District 6, F. Afton Burke, Corsicana; District 7, T. G. Tilford, Nacogdoches; District 8, John H. Crooker, Houston.

District 9, Ernest A. Bost, Schulenburg; District 10, Tom Nelson, Round Rock; District 11, John Mann, McGregor; District 12, Arch H. Rowan, Fort Worth; District 13, Fred H. Minor, Denton; District 14, H. J. Mosser, Alice; District 15, Henry Starr, McAllen; District 16, Thomas J. Pitts, Odessa; District 17, Fred Brown Eastland.

District 18, T. S. Jones, Canadian; District 19, Homer L. Pharr, Lubbock; District 20, John Wheeler, San Antonio; District 21, W. H. Rampe, Winters.

100 YOUNG TO ENLIST—Albert Caponetto, 29, of Chicago, had his 11-months-old son under one arm and two bottles of milk formula under the other, when he appeared at the draft board. He said his wife was too ill of a spinal complaint to care for the baby.

CHICKEN IN THE POT—Army cooks working on portable stoves fry up pans full of favorite dish of servicemen with the Fifth Army in Italy. Looking on are Red Cross unit captain and field man.

26 FARM MEN AND WOMEN MEET, NIMROD

Ed Townsend, Nimrod community leader, presided at a meeting of some 26 farm men and women at the Nimrod store Monday night, when group discussions were led by Floyd Lurch, county agent; L. K. Gregory, soil conservation work; and Misses Tankersley and Hearn, home demonstration agents.

Two teams of 4-H club boys and girls demonstrated the proper use and care of pressure cookers, desirable garden soils, conservation of foods and local conservation practices such as strip-cropping, peanuts, growing and fertilizing winter cover crops and summer legumes, proper handling of crop residue by cutting into the top soil layer, contour cultivation and other simple conservation practices now being used to add the necessary organic matter and nitrogen to the soil—thereby increasing production.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

DETROIT, May 24.—Mrs. Jean Long, secretary to the pastor of the Twelfth Street Evangelical Church, was found stabbed to death in the church this morning. Police said the pastor, Rev. N. C. Liesemer, reported discovering the body at 9 a. m.

ANOTHER MAD DOG.

FT. WORTH, May 24.—Death from rabies probably faces a boy bitten by a mad black Great Dane dog downtown Sunday unless his identity is learned and treatment is started immediately. Police and health authorities rushed all their facilities into a search for the mad dog. Dr. Harold Williams, city health director, called the hunt a "matter of life and death."

TRAGEDY MOTHER—Mrs. Helen Lundvall McMahon, 27, right, charged in Rockford, Ill., with drowning her two infant daughters in a cistern on her father's farm. Doctor said she had not been well recently.

MRS. WEINERT ELECTED.

AUSTIN, May 24.—The regular Democratic state convention yesterday chose Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin, now vice chairman of the state executive committee, as national committeewoman from Texas. Mrs. Weinert, who succeeds Mrs. Clara Belle Driscoll of Corpus Christi, is opposed to 4th terms for presidents and favored an unstructured delegation to the national convention. Mrs. Driscoll, who wired her resignation to the convention, favored a fourth term for President Roosevelt. Myron Blalock of Marshall was re-elected national committeeman by the regulars.

CADDO STRIKE IN STEPHENS; 7 BBL. HOUR

BRECKENRIDGE, May 24.—New Caddo lime pool has been assured Stephens county, two miles southeast of Crystal Falls, at the Northern Ordinance, Inc., No. 1 S. P. Robertson, 300 feet from the west and 1,000 feet from the south lines of section 1142, T&E.L. survey.

Originally contracted to 4,500 feet, the test was drilled to 3,236 feet, with the 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 3,222 feet.

When plug was drilled, the well filled hole in 12 hours and leaded oil. It flowed by heads at the rate of seven barrels per hour for a 10-hour period and was shut in for erection of storage. The flow was natural.

CRADDOCK IS BACK FROM HOUSTON MEET

W. H. Craddock, former Cisco postmaster and a delegate to the Republican state convention at Houston, is back home and said this morning he was well pleased with the meeting and hopeful of a Republican victory over the nation this fall.

As one indication of the revived interest in Texas Republican circles, Craddock quoted the secretary of the state convention as saying that more Texas counties made Republican convention returns this year than at any time during the past 25 years.

The Ciscoan was much impressed with the speech of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, who spoke to the convention for an hour. Another interesting speaker, Craddock said, was Oswald Heck of New York, personal representative of Governor Dewey of New York.

Approximately 600 delegates were present from the 254 counties of the state.

FORMER CISCO MAN ILL AT LOS ANGELES

H. A. Courtney left today via bus for Los Angeles, Calif., called there by the serious illness of his brother, W. W. Courtney, 67, who has been ill for several months. The sick man was in the cattle business at Pecos, Tex., for a number of years.

The Courtney family moved to Cisco from Hamilton in May, 1884, and W. W. worked with the Reynolds Land & Cattle Co., of Albany for many years. H. A. Courtney is a stone cutter by trade and two other brothers, Jake Courtney of Cisco and J. E. Courtney of Breckenridge, are boot and shoe makers.

The round trip bus fare from Cisco to Los Angeles is about $47.50, which includes all meals going and returning.

LAWYERS' INSTITUTE.

DALLAS, May 24.—More than 150 Texans and Oklahoma lawyers prepared today to attend a three-day institute in Dallas starting Monday. Randolph Paul, resigned treasury counsel, will address the gathering. The institute is part of a national program sponsored by the taxation section of the American Bar association in co-operation with the practicing law institute.

ONION GROWERS PEEVED.

SAN ANTONIO, May 24.—Farmers in the San Antonio area are not receiving a fair price for the current onion crop and some of the producers are threatening to plow under remaining acreage.

US. FORCES SMASH THROUGH GERMAN RING AT ANZIO AND BOTTLE 17 AXIS DIVISIONS

NAPLES, May 24.—American troops smashed more than a mile through the breached German ring around the Anzio beachhead and cut the Appian Way southeast of Cisterna, primary retreat route for 17 Nazi divisions being battered back in blazing battles on the main Italian front.

Allied troops fanning out in generally northeastern direction little more than 20 miles below Rome slashed through the maze of German defenses at several places in a swiftly developing threat to trap the hard pressed Nazi forces bearing the brunt of a full scale offensive by the Fifth and Eighth Armies to the southeast.

United States armored forces bending back the coastal wing of the German defenses on the main front captured Monte Groce, which dominates the anchor base of Terracina and teamed with the French to capture the key towns of Pico and Leonola to the north.

At the northeastern end of the main front the Canadian Corps of the Eighth Army, in action as a unit for the first time, blasted a breach in the last segment of the Hitler Line in violent fighting against the stiff opposition.

Robert Vermillion, United Press correspondent, in a dispatch from the Anzio beachhead, disclosed that tank-led and specially trained American troops had advanced in bitter fighting to cut the ancient Appian Way in the Cisterna sector.

(The British Radio reported that the Americans held more than a mile of the Appian Way just below Cisterna, German bastion anchoring the defenses before the northeast corner of the beachhead, and one U. S. unit was within half a mile of the town square.)

(A German war correspondent was quoted as reporting that the thunder of guns in the beachhead battle was heard clearly in Rome, but "the people are calm.")

Within a few hours of the launching of the beachhead offensive at Dawn yesterday, the Americans forged ahead 2000 yards into strongly fortified German positions.

British beachhead troops on the northwestern flank struck out Monday night in a diversionary move preliminary to the main American offensive, their tanks and armor crossing the Moletta river emptying into the sea some three miles behind the last announced Allied positions there.

Lt. Gen. Mark Clark's U. S. units of the Fifth Army beachhead force chopped their way through a concentrated network of mine fields and barbed wire, aiming the main weight of their assault in the Cisterna direction.

Besides cutting the Appian Way, the American vanguard reached the Rome-Terracina railway northwest of Cisterna after fierce tank and infantry battles.

Front dispatches said the Germans were massing tanks and infantry for an expected counter-attack southeast of Cisterna in an attempt to smash back the Americans and guard their transport line which with the Via Casilina some 15 miles beyond comprises the channels for withdrawal from the main front.

LONDON.—A confident Churchill looked today toward the Balkans as a theater of coming victory and told Commons:

The Allies will decide whether Germany must undergo territorial changes and the Atlantic Charter "in no way binds us about the future" of that country.

"We intend to set up a world order equipped with all necessary attributes of power in order to prevent the breaking out of wars or long planning of them by restless and ambitious nations."

"We have great hopes that Rome may be preserved."

In his speech of 85 minutes opening a foreign policy debate, the Prime Minister said the Allies had "suspended" efforts to bring Turkey in with them, but "it looks probable... the Allies will be able to win the war in the Balkans and throughout Southeast Europe without Turkey, although the aid of Turkey would be of great help and acceleration in that process."

Churchill spoke kindly of Spain, criticizing those who "insult and abuse" the Franco government. Spain's internal policies, he asserted, were a matter for Spaniards alone.

FUTURE FLYING.

It is stimulating, in this time of waste and destruction, to talk to imaginative industrialists and get a line on future developments. Glen L. Martin, a pioneer air transportation man, in a recent interview, foretells progress of absorbing interest after this war. His forecasts are based on a conference of airplane company presidents and 25 top aeronautical authorities. Here are some of the advances expected after the war.

Air cargo transport will be greatly increased. Orchids and bananas will be shipped everywhere rapidly without loss of odor or flavor. "Territories of the world never considered tributary to the United States will be joined to us by air."

Ten years after the war we may expect $250 air ferry service between New York and London, with planes leaving every two or three hours, says William A. M. Burden, assistant secretary of commerce. Domestic air line passenger traffic will be greater than present railroad Pullman traffic.

Private planes will not approach our automobile traffic with the foreseeable future, but there will be a large expansion, with good planes selling maybe for $2,500. Most remarkable of all, says Lawrence D. Bell, who attended the conference, and whose Bell Aircraft made the first successful American "jet propulsion" outfits, the "age of J. P." is arriving. Passengers can be jetted at high atmospheric levels where today's propeller is inefficient. That will provide smooth and vibrationless motion, somewhat like glider flight. The jet propellers have good fuel efficiency at high speed.

LITERARY CENTER.

The death of George Ade recalled this humorist's heyday, around the beginning of the century, when Indiana led the United States in the number and quality of its authors. Besides Ade, Booth Tarkington, Charles Major, Meredith Nicholson and James Whitcomb Riley, to mention only a few, made Indiana the literary capital of the United States.

Before Indiana, New England, in the days of its flowering, enjoyed this honor. Longfellow, Lowell, Whittier, Holmes, Emerson, the Alcotts, Hawthorne and Thoreau set the literary pattern for the country. After Indiana's prowess slackened off, Chicago led for a time, boasting writers like Edgar Lee Masters, the poet, and the novelists Robert Herrick and Theodore Dreiser.

Now it is hard to say what section leads. New York must always be considered, for its habit of draining off literary talent from other parts of the country. Thus J. P. Marquand, who made his literary reputation in New England, has of late been living in and writing about New York. But New York is almost a country by itself, not always qualified to speak for the rest of the United States. The position of literary center of the country must be considered open.

The Telephone Lineman

maintains the network of telephone wires and cables that links the nation together.

Day after day, in storm and fire and flood, up in the air and underground, he's on the job — knowing that every circuit is needed for war.

These days it is important for everyone to make the best use of telephone equipment.

You can help by not talking over 5 minutes when Long Distance circuits are busy with war.

... and should be drawn by one who is thoroughly familiar with land titles, descriptions and the laws of conveyance. Do not make a new deed from an old deed unless the maker has an abstract before him with correct descriptions, names, plats, etc. Loose and cheap advice never pays dividends. In buying real estate be sure that your deed is drawn correctly and that the seller has furnished you a dependable abstract.

I was some pest.

I bothered the life out of auto service men after the curtain went down on new cars. I knew I'd be in some pickle if this car wouldn't last, so I kept quizzing the fellows. Every man-jack of them had a good motor oil or some other life-saver, if I could judge. By good luck I paid real attention to one chap who had his reasons why to OIL-PLATE this engine with Conoco Nth oil. He said every explosion in your engine makes acids, which corrode bare metal. Sounds straight, eh? But with something synthetic in Conoco Nth oil keeping the metal OIL-PLATED, you'd say the fine finish receives special protection to fight the acids off. When you see you're not needing a trade-in nearly as soon as usual, you can give real credit to OIL-PLATING. New cars will be going some if they're half as far ahead as you can be right now by switching to Conoco Nth oil.

BUY WAR BONDS

THE War Cry IS FOR "OIL—MORE OIL"

AT THE outbreak of war, and as the conflict progressed, our war machines on land, sea and in the air demanded oil and more oil. Private industry shouldered the responsibility and met the challenge by increasing the production of old fields and by "wildcatting" for new pools.

Here again private industry, under a system of free enterprise, was in position to throw all its resources behind our Nation's war effort and make available increasing quantities of vital supplies.

In 1943 the Humble Company completed twice as many "wild cat" wells as it did in 1942.

As a result of a careful 25-year accumulation of reserves, Humble upped its crude oil production 54% in 1943 over 1942. This compares with a 21% increase for all operations of all companies in Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico, and 8% for the entire United States during the same period.
