HENRY FOY IS CITED FOR HIS FINE EFFORTS

Word from the public relations office at Mather Field, Calif., advised twin-engine and night fighter school, brought news that Staff Sgt. Henry Foy, 22, native Cisco, has been awarded the distinguished unit badge with one oak leaf cluster.

Foy is a son of the late W. L. Foy. His mother, Mrs. Ethel Foy, who lives in Cisco, is entertaining another son at her home here this week. He is Basil Foy, 31, an employee of the Santa Fe railroad in California, who will depart for home tonight.

The citation to Staff Sgt. Henry Foy read as follows: "The 17th Pursuit Squadron (provisional), U. S. Army Forces in the Far East is cited for outstanding performance of duty in action during the period January 14 to March 1, 1942. In the defense of Java and other South Pacific Islands and in the combined operations that checked the enemy and saved the Allied Fleet at Soerabaya, it repeatedly entered into combat against a numerically superior enemy while escorting A-24 dive bombers. In less than one month, under great difficulties, the 17th Pursuit Squadron shot down thirty-eight enemy airplanes. Its pilots exhibited the greatest bravery and resourcefulness: its ground units, in the face of heavy enemy fire, performed all duties with utter disregard of personal safety. The superior courage and devotion to duty shown by this squadron will always be worthy of emulation."

Other out-of-town visitors here in addition to Mr. Wagner and Mrs. Perkins were Mrs. Curtis Kimball, Red Cross production chairman, and Mrs. F. M. Kenney, camps and hospitals chairman, both from Eastland.

Wagner made a thoroughly practical talk and emphasized that while Eastland county Red Cross workers have established an enviable record of performance, future demands upon the county will undoubtedly be much greater than in the past. He said the call for all-out efforts would start with the coming invasion of Hitler Europe by Allied forces, when the county's quotas for soldier kits and surgical dressings, for instance, would be immeasurably greater. He warned that a let-down in this and other war work programs would be a serious threat to Allied success against Germany and Japan.

BLACK GENTLEMAN IN THIS WOOD PILE

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Declaring the "whole story of Pearl Harbor" has not been told, Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel again demands a "free, open and public" court martial at the earliest practicable date.

"For two and a half years I have waited for the navy department to bring me to trial. The report of the Roberts commission does not tell the whole story of Pearl Harbor," Kimmel wrote.

GRIM LOOK—Fuehrer Hitler, that German fellow on whom justice is slowly but surely descending, grimly studies war map, at headquarters of German High Command on invasion front. Battle reports are discouraging for him.

CISCO FIREMEN ATTEND SCHOOL AT A & M COLLEGE

Fred Grist and H. O. Anderson of the Cisco volunteer fire department left yesterday to attend the short course and fifteenth annual convention of Texas volunteer firemen at A. and M. college.

Sponsored by A. and M. College and the State Firemen and Fire Marshals' association, the school of instruction will continue through Friday.

George W. Downie, city secretary, calls attention to the fact that local representation at the annual meeting results in substantial fire insurance credits. Elimination of fire hazards and modern methods of combating fires after they have started are taught the delegates and they in turn pass the instructions on to fellow firemen upon their return home.

Cisco firemen have always participated in the instruction schools and that fact has undoubtedly had much to do with the better-than-average local fire record.

WAGNER SAID GREATER EFFORT NEEDED

With Mrs. Joseph Perkins, county Red Cross chairman, presiding, T. W. Wagner, national Red Cross field representative from St. Louis, spoke to interested Cisco people Monday afternoon at the chamber of commerce.

Other out-of-town visitors here in addition to Mr. Wagner and Mrs. Perkins were Mrs. Curtis Kimball, Red Cross production chairman, and Mrs. F. M. Kenney, camps and hospitals chairman, both from Eastland.

Wagner made a thoroughly practical talk and emphasized that while Eastland county Red Cross workers have established an enviable record of performance, future demands upon the county will undoubtedly be much greater than in the past. He said the call for all-out efforts would start with the coming invasion of Hitler Europe by Allied forces, when the county's quotas for soldier kits and surgical dressings, for instance, would be immeasurably greater. He warned that a let-down in this and other war work programs would be a serious threat to Allied success against Germany and Japan.

NOTED MINISTER IN CISCO THIS WEEK

Rev. J. D. Scheumack of Austin, active minister for over forty years, will speak each night this week from Wednesday through Sunday at Cisco Mission church, 405 east Seventh street, of which L. C. Anderson is pastor.

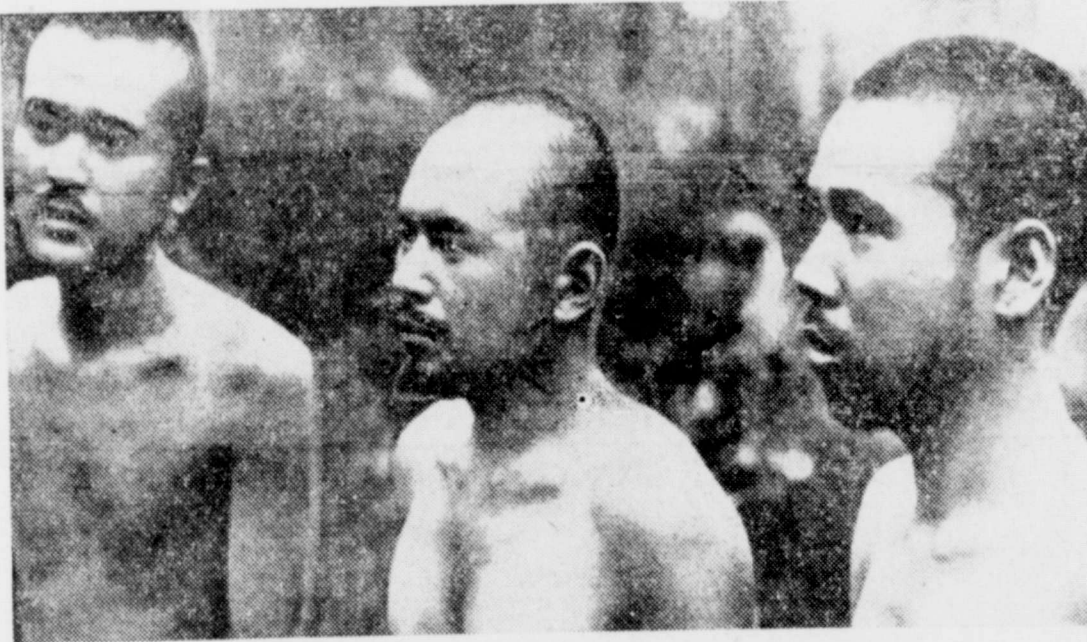

Mr. Scheumack's experience in conversion, says Pastor Anderson, was similar to that of the Apostle Paul. In spite of his 84 years, the minister is still very active, traveling almost continuously from coast to coast in answer to calls. His ministry is said to be especially blessed in divine healing.

TOO MANY CITY DOGS.

FT. WORTH, May 30.—More than 180 tickets have been issued to owners of dogs found running loose, even though vaccinated and wearing muzzles. The action was begun Saturday after five more persons had been bitten by dogs, two of which have shown signs of being rabid.

"WHAT HATH GOD WROUGHT!"—Samuel F. B. Morse's original telegraph tapped out that famed message again when joint Congress observed 100th anniversary on May 24. From left, front row: Sen. W. R. Austin, Vt.; Rep. A. L. Bulwinkle, N. C.; Ernest Norris, Southern Railway president, and Leila L. Morse, granddaughter of inventor.

PREFER TO LIVE.—Japs often commit suicide rather than be taken prisoner, but here is a trio that preferred to live. They were captured by Americans at Aitape, New Guinea, and stripped to the sure they had no concealed knives. Japs are tricky even to the last minute.

GAYLE BAILEY IS HERE FROM NAPIER FIELD

Lieut. Gayle Bailey, 20, arrived home Saturday from Napier Field, Ala., where he was awarded the silver wings of a pilot at that advanced flying school, along with a commission as second lieutenant of the army air corps.

Lieutenant Bailey is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bailey of Cisco. He attended the grades and graduated from high school with the class of '41. He also attended Cisco Junior college and was a student at Texas A. and M. college when he joined the air corps in February, 1943.

The Cisco flier, who called at the Daily Press' office Monday and inspected the paper's picture gallery of Eastland county soldiers in training and overseas, said he was glad to be home even for a short time and expected to visit his brother, Lieut. M. D. Bailey in San Angelo before returning to Napier Field by plane.

POPE SENDS REGRETS.

LONDON, May 30.—The German-controlled Paris radio broadcast a report that Pope Pius XII has written Bishop Count Konrad von Preysing-Lichtenegg-Moos of Berlin expressing sympathy in connection with the damage caused to the German capital by Allied bombers. The bishop on several occasions has protested Nazi totalitarianism and persecution of the Jews.

HE CAN WALK AGAIN—Happy smile lights face of Gene Autry, 6, as he realizes he can walk again, after months in a Newport News, Va., hospital. With left leg seriously burned in accident, he obtained 18 transfusions and 9 skin grafts through newspaper appeal. He's relative of screen star.

FORT WORTH MAN IS NEAR MASONIC TOP

FT. WORTH, May 30.—Jewel P. Lightfoot, Fort Worth attorney, had advanced another step today toward the highest office in Masonry's most exclusive organization by being elected national chamberlain of the Imperial Order of Constantine.

He was elected at the national convocation of the order in St. Joseph, Mo. By order of succession, Lightfoot is slated to reach the highest office—grand sovereign of the order—in another six years. He has been an officer of the national body for four years.

The order is composed of Masons of 32nd degree or higher in Scottish Rite who are also Knights Templar in York Rite Masonry and members of the Shrine. Membership in each chapter is restricted to 50.

The Fort Worth chapter, organized in 1931, is one of three in Texas.

BILLS HIKING PAY DISABLED VETS SIGNED

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The president has signed two bills increasing compensation payments to disabled veterans of World Wars I and II or their widows or dependents.

One bill raises by 15 per cent the present compensation payable to disabled veterans, their widows or dependents, in cases where the disability was service connected.

Another measure boosts from $40 to $50 per month the compensation payable for non-service-connected permanent and total disability, with an increase to $60 per month for veterans who have been in continuous receipt of the present compensation for 10 years or more or who are over 65 years of age.

5 US. FLIERS ARE LYNCHED BY NAZI MOBS

STOCKHOLM, May 30.—American airmen who parachuted into three unnamed places in central Germany Monday were "killed by agitated people," the newspaper Aftenbladet's Berlin correspondent wrote today in a dispatch which was passed by German censorship.

The article gave no details, but the correspondent said he received the reports from "a traveler from Leipzig" with whom he talked in Berlin. A later report said that five American airmen had been killed.

"German police were unable to save them," Aftenbladet's correspondent wrote.

He said "a storm of rage" broke out Sunday "among German civilians" when American fighter pilots allegedly shot women and children during sweeps over Germany.

Aftenbladet's report recalled German Propaganda Minister Goebbels' article in the Saturday issue of Nazi newspapers, declaring that Allied airmen bailing out over Germany no longer would have police and military protection against German civilians.

UNNECESSARY DEATHS.

CHICAGO, May 30.—The nation's toll of violent deaths at the three-quarter mark in the four-day Memorial holiday was 216 today. Soaring temperatures in most sections of the country sent thousands to the beaches and the number of drownings—60—ranked a close second to the traffic fatalities, which accounted for 72 of the total.

GEN. MARK V. CLARK SAYS ITALIAN CAPITAL TO FALL BEFORE MANY DAYS ELAPSE

NAPLES, May 30.—The Fifth Army battled its way into the last German defense line below Rome today and its commander, Lt. Gen. Mark V. Clark, predicted that the Italian capital would fall "before many days have passed."

Front dispatches said American troops and tanks had wedged into the enemy's Alban Hill defenses with a drive across the Valletri-Valmontone road, but stiffened German resistance limited gains to yards instead of miles in most sectors along the front curving to within 16 miles of Rome.

The Americans also pushed to the outskirts of Lanuvio, four miles southwest of Valletri, and pounded Valletri and Valmontone, the two keystones in the enemy line, heavily with artillery and mortars from advance positions less than a mile away.

"Satisfactory gains also have been made southwest of Valletri despite some of the fiercest enemy resistance yet encountered by the Fifth Army, an Allied communique reported.

(A German communique acknowledged that the Fifth Army had made "local breaches at a number of points" in the German line between the coast and the Alban Hills, but said these later were sealed off or eliminated.)

Clark predicted the early fall of Rome in an address at Memorial Day services at the American cemetery at Nettuno, first port captured by his beachhead forces last January.

"We stand on the threshold of Rome," he said. "Before many days have passed, we shall have freed this first of the European capitals from Nazi tyranny."

An official spokesman disclosed that the Germans apparently have halted their general retreat on the Fifth Army front for a desperate defense of their new line—the last before Rome—hinged on the Alban Hills and based on Valmontone, Valletri and Campo Jemini, the latter 11 miles west by southwest of Lanuvio and two miles inland from the Tyrrhenian coast.

Here the Germans were resisting with tanks, flame throwers, artillery and machine-gun nests. The Fifth Army stabbed repeatedly into the line and at places dented it, but apparently was gathering strength from the rear before attempting a full scale assault on Valmontone and Valletri.

The Americans made the closest Allied approach to Rome—16 miles—a mile and a quarter east of Lanuvio. The Germans counter-attacked strongly with tanks in this sector Sunday but were thrown back.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.—Steadily advancing American invasion infantrymen have pushed to within one mile of Biak Island's Mokmer airfield and are closing in on the Japanese who abandoned Bosnek village but who seem determined to defend Mokmer to the last.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's report said U. S. forces on Sunday advanced six of the seven miles separating Mokmer from Bosnek, scene of the Saturday invasion of the Geelvink Bay Island, passing Pari village, and now were advancing against the strongest Japanese resistance yet encountered in the current Northern New Guinea Allied invasions.

Australian troops Sunday occupied Bunabun Harbor, 55 miles west of Madang in a move to cut off an estimated 60,000 starving Japanese.

MacArthur's message said that the Americans fighting behind smashing tank attacks toward Mokmer were facing fire from prepared enemy positions.

Liberator bombers hit five airfields in the vicinity of Biak Island in Geelvink Bay. Blasting Ransiki airdrome, north of Moemi, the Kamiri and Namber strips on Noemfoor Island west of Biak and Serol airfield on Japen Island to the south.

Mitchell bombers struck at Babo, an important oil port on the northwest coast of Dutch New Guinea. A 1000-ton transport was sunk.

KANDY, Ceylon.—Chinese jungle troops, striking behind the enemy lines in Northern Burma, have cut the Mogaung Valley road below Kamaing in a daring bid to capture that stronghold before the arrival of a Japanese relief column from the south.

The Chinese burst out of the jungles six miles south of Seton and turned back along the highway to attack the enemy-held village.

The surprise blow appeared to have doomed the remnants of the Japanese 18th Division at Kamaing, cutting off their last practical route of escape or reinforcement.

Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stillwell's main Chinese forces in the Mogaung Valley north of Kamaing were reported within nine miles of the base and a direct assault on the Japanese garrison appeared imminent.

PERSONALITY AND ABILITY.

From the chorus of discussion that is being heard from educators a vast deal of attention is being paid, and will continue to be paid well into the postwar era, as to what are the proper goals to be sought in primary and secondary schooling, says a contributor to the Scottish Rite News Bulletin.

If there is one general aim at this time more prominent than another, it is the emphasis being placed on how to live rather than just how to make a living, on how to think rather than on what to think. The thought behind this procedure is to awaken a pupil's interest in the pleasures of the mind so that he will want to continue to study all through life and to apply the habits of methodical approach to the problems of life, whether it be his own personal problems or the larger issues of the community in which he lives.

It is believed that if these objectives can be attained, not only will the individual get more out of life for himself, but that he will also become a better and more useful citizen.

In former years many a boy was compelled to quit school at the end of the fifth grade and go to work. Those who were able to continue on through the seventh grade were found in later life to have outstripped those who, through the vicissitudes of the family's low income, had been compelled to leave school at the end of the fifth grade.

Recent years have seen one change which the older generation did not know, and that is the junior high school which comprises the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. The school life is laid out to cover twelve years from the first grade through senior year of high school. Many who would have stayed on for a year or two more, and could have done so, so far as the family income was concerned, dropped out after sixth or seventh grade because they felt abashed in attending as "big boys," a school that also housed small children. It was to solve this problem that school principals hit on the plan of the junior high school. This combines the seventh and eighth grades of the former grade school with what used to be first or freshman year in high school. But this plan, in addition to keeping boys and girls in school three years longer who might otherwise have dropped out of school, did one other important thing. It made the approach to high school that much more gradual and a good many pupils who had no intention of going to high school once they had finished junior high school, developed an interest in their studies that made them want to go on through high school.

In the larger cities of the country, and Washington, D. C., is an example, the work of the grade schools is carried out on an exceptionally high plane. This is in large part no doubt attributable to the general high level of the teachers employed. No matter how elaborate the buildings, no school or college is any better than the quality of its teaching staff.

The old saying about "Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and a student on the other, made a college," still holds true.

Just as that great educator stamped his personality on many generations of students at Williams College, so today, whether in grade school, high school, college or university, the personality and ability of the teacher is vital in arousing in a pupil or older student his latent abilities and in teaching him to exercise self-discipline.

The tact, ability and enthusiasm of a teacher is contagious and many a man in later life has looked back and cheerfully acknowledged the influence which such a teacher, man or woman, has had on his life. And this holds today as much as ever it did.

Democracy in Action. San Antonio Express: Those Texas citizens who long have wondered where the State's Democratic Party organization was headed, now are given their cheering answer: It still is on the straight path down which lies veritable democracy, Texas independence, and the proper functions of an organization truly representing the state's people.

That much is clear beyond cavil from the unflinched, but expeditious action lately taken at Austin by delegates to the regular Democratic party's state convention to name delegates to the national convention in July. Completely unflinched by the spectacle of a bolting Roosevelt-or-die minority contingent, the regular organization named its delegates and stipulated certain definite conditions which they are to follow at the national meeting. Said the Texas democratic party: The delegates will go to the national convention without strings or instructions. Even beyond that, they will not be bound to support the convention's nominees (1) if the convention refuse to restore the "two-thirds rule," requiring a two-thirds vote of the convention for nomination; (2) if it seat the Texas pro-Roosevelt delegates named by the "rump" State convention; (3) if the convention officially refuse to disapprove efforts to nullify State laws affecting race-segregation and State control over qualifications for voters.

To those citizens who value democracy in the genuine, broad sense; who stand by the state's regularly constituted party organization, the fact comes with refreshing assurance that Texas retains its old-time freedom of thought and action. Every aspect of the regular state Democratic organization's decision is in the highest tradition of a free people moving to nominate freely the national leaders whom they desire to guide the nation's course.

More than that, of course, it is as essentially a declaration of natural democratic insistence that the delegates they have elected to represent the state's voters at the national convention be in no wise bound to vote for or support a candidate merely because he has occupied high office for several terms past. It is not repudiation of any such man; it merely is refusal to have him rammed down their throats by a power-hungry machine.

SURPRISE SHOWER HONORED VISITORS.

Mrs. Bill Childers and Miss Octava Jones honored Corp. and Mrs. Conrad Alexander with a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Culp.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Culp and Miss Jones and were directed to the table where Mrs. Childers presided at the bride's book. The group was seated in the living room for the program, which was as follows: "Wishes for Conrad and Edith" and "A Rest Cure in the Hospital" were read by Mrs. James Moore; "Compliments on a Wing and a Prayer," was sung by a trio composed of Mrs. Alpha Elder, Miss Oleta Huestis and Miss Octava Jones; "A Colored Lady in Society," by Fairy Lynn Huddleston; a medley of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "I Love You Truly" was sung by the trio. The program closed with an interesting feature by Rev. Leslie W. Seymour.

A "wishing well" was brought in and all wrote a wish for the couple; the last wish was a request that they raise the lid and look into the "well." Upon doing this they found a lovely assortment of gifts.

Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served to the group after gifts had been viewed by all present. The guest list included Mrs. T. E. House, Mrs. John Shertzer, Rev. and Mrs. Leslie W. Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth, Miss Marilyn Shertzer, Mrs. J. J. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Burnam, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Mrs. James Moore, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Phippen, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. ## Here are the FACTS about your GASOLINE SUPPLY

Miracles of production for war have been accomplished by the oil industry. Supplies of crude and refinery output have exceeded all past records; our nation is producing more gasoline than all other countries combined. But the war machines need gasoline in fabulous quantities, and this has eaten into the usual civilian supply.

- ➔ From 1942 to 1944, military needs for gasoline stepped up almost four fold.
- ➔ In the same period, supply for civilian passenger cars has been cut almost one-half.
- ➔ Ratio of military demands to gasoline available for civilian use increased eight fold from 1942 to 1944.

Your Gasoline is Powering the Attack

It takes more than a ton of gas to "deliver" one ton of bombs.

Over half of the total of all supplies shipped to the front is petroleum in one form or another.

From 1942 to 1944, output of 100 Octane aviation gas stepped up eight times.

Training one pilot uses more gas than the average car owner uses in 18 years.

In one hour, a Flying Fortress burns up enough gasoline to last the average car owner about six months.

You can make only a little more than half as much 100 Octane gas as you can regular automotive gasoline from a barrel of petroleum.

Fighting forces must come first and will get what they need. As a result, the home front gets less than it wants. The biggest part must go to the essential home front—farms, trucks, buses, industry, your doctor. Needs of this group are imperative; they are the supply line to victory.

Rationing is not an Arbitrary Plan to Deprive anyone of Gas

Gasoline rationing is designed to make the limited supply go around. It is a plan for dividing available gas fairly among all users. Every irregularity, every black market deal upsets this plan. Every gallon that goes through improper or illegal channels means somebody must do without.

Here's Your Part . . .

Don't apply for more gas than you really need. . . . Get into a ride-sharing club and stick to it. . . . Endorse all your coupons now. . . . Don't take extra coupons from or offer them to anyone.
