332 TEXANS GRADUATE AS AIR PILOTS

Texas led all states of the nation in the number of her native sons who became army air forces pilots as the latest class was graduated at simultaneous graduation exercises at the 11 advanced flying schools of the central flying training command, says a communication from Randolph Flying Field.

There were 332 Texans in the consolidated class, which included men from every state and from Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, Cuba and Brazil.

Those of particular interest to readers of the Cisco Daily Press are as follows:

Billy C. Collins, Cisco (Blackland Field).

Frank C. Judia, route one, Cisco (Aloe).

Lynn P. Bishop, Rising Star (Aloe).

Jack F. Collins, Eastland (Altus).

Percy W. Howell, Breckenridge (Pampa).

Photos of Billy Collins, Frank Judia and Lynn Bishop accompanied the report mailed to the Press and have been added to this paper's picture gallery.

MRS. IRBY AND STAFF ENTERTAIN ROTARY

Mrs. Lucretia Irby and her library staff were guests of the Rotary club today, being introduced by Rotarian Edward Lee, who said that Mrs. Irby never failed to deliver the goods when she had a task or job to do.

At the business meeting, Jay Garrett of the Lions club mentioned that a telegram had been received by the Daily Press saying that scrap paper for the war department had not been gathered in Cisco in a satisfactory manner. Mr. Garrett suggesting that perhaps the Lions and Rotary clubs might co-sponsor a drive. After some discussion it was suggested that the boy scouts and schools had both made drives and much paper had been gathered, but before it could be sold, the demand market had failed and there was no place to store it, therefore, President Lonnie Shockley stated, the matter would be dropped temporarily.

In presenting her program, Mrs. Irby said that only a shadow of her staff could be present, but nevertheless she would do the best she could with those present. By supplying some of the parts, her program was very good and much appreciated.

Members of the staff were introduced and received a hearty applause from club members.

HAYNIE SOLO RECORD.

Through the courtesy of the Pepsi Cola company, Mr. and Mrs. James Haynie have received a phonograph record of a cornet solo, with band accompaniment, which was made at Camp McCoy, Wis., by the 76th infantry division band of 56 pieces, in which their son, Corp. John J. Haynie, was the cornet soloist. Title of the band rendition is "The Stars of the Velvety Sky."

ARRIVE OVERSEAS.

Word has been received that Charles L. Cotten, 18, and Estes Eugene Agnew, 18, of the navy, have arrived safely somewhere in the Pacific battle zone. Both of the Cisco boys joined the colors in March and were sent overseas together after five weeks' training. They are sons of Mrs. Charles L. Cotten and Mrs. Fannie Agnew.

COLLECTION OF WASTE PAPER TOO SPASMODIC

Cisco is not doing its best in the matter of collecting waste paper for the war department.

That is, there is not the steady flow of this critical number one war material that we are capable of assembling and dispatching.

Our efforts, apparently, have been spasmodic, which would indicate lack of organization.

Following receipt this morning of a telegram from the executive committee of the U. S. Victory waste paper campaign, New York City, the Daily Press telephoned Charlie Sandler of the Cisco Lumber & Supply company, who buys and ships all waste paper delivered at his place of business in condition to be shipped. Mr. Sandler said he was still accepting waste paper, when properly bundled, and estimated present local shipments to be about 5,000 pounds a week, which is nothing like the volume that should be shipped out from here each week.

The Press then contacted J. W. Slaughter, president-elect of the Rotary club, who offered to bring the matter up for discussion at today's Rotary luncheon. Mr. Slaughter agreeing that a permanent waste-paper collecting organization should be formed at once and continued for the duration of the war.

Jay Garrett, member of the Lions club, was also interviewed on waste-paper collecting. Both Mr. Garrett and his club are anxious to be of assistance in this important civic matter and Mr. Garrett, through the courtesy of Rotarian J. E. Hays, was invited to attend Rotary luncheon today and speak on the waste paper subject.

The New York Wire. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE U. S. VICTORY WASTE PAPER CAMPAIGN.

New York, June 1. The Daily Press, Cisco, Texas.

"The department of commerce has just released results of an inventory survey of waste paper lying idle in basements and attics in American households and farms.

"This study indicates that in April there were 850,000 tons of waste paper uncollected in this country. Figures indicate that there are 64,832 pounds in Cisco households, based on the average of 46.1 pounds per family.

"The average household has 17.6 pounds of newspapers, 20.5 pounds of magazines, 5.2 pounds of brown kraft and 2.8 pounds of waste basket paper on hand.

"Surrounding farms have approximately 57.5 pounds of waste paper per family. This proves that although waste paper is a number one critical war material, there is plenty still to be had and that we should establish regular collection days and improve our collection systems to get the 8,000,000 tons needed this year for essential military and civilian requirements.

"Collections are increasing and April figures are most encouraging, but demands for waste paper are increasing due to urgent war needs.

"Please urge your readers to bundle up their idle paper and send it to war at once. The waste paper jamboree described in a folder mailed to your newspaper recently would bring out a lot of this hidden paper.

"Figures on available flow of waste paper per week in your community will be sent to you soon."

MARITAL MISFITS.

DALLAS, June 1. — Domestic troubles continue to mount in Dallas county homes. Records released Wednesday by the district clerk disclosed that 706 more divorce suits were filed in the first five months of this year than the corresponding 1943 period, which was a record breaker.

Mrs. Betty C. Odom, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Clark, was the recipient this morning of a most welcome telegram from the war department at Washington, which announced that her husband, Lieut. Olin O. Odom of the air corps, is alive, though a prisoner of the Germans.

On May 2 Mrs. Odom received word from the government that her husband was missing in action.

Today's telegram said: "Report just received through the International Red Cross states that your husband, Second Lieut. Olin O. Odom, Jr., is a prisoner of war of the German government. Letter of information follows."

ONLY 9,000 NEW AUTOS THIS MONTH

DALLAS, June 1.—The national quota of new passenger cars available for June is only 9,000, smallest since the war began and less than the number sold in an average prewar day. The Office of Price Administration announces through its district office.

In addition to the national quota, each region will have 2,350 cars in reserve, with 1,260 set up as a national reserve. These new cars are available only for essential workers such as doctors, police departments and departments of public health.

At the same time the OPA said that a national quota of 17,500 bicycles has been set up for June, 45 per cent above the May quota.

WELL-PAID SOLDIER.

FT. WORTH, June 1.—His allotments and pay totaling $488 monthly, Tech. Sgt. Tully B. Bond, 32, Negro, is the highest paid man in the Fort Worth military unit. He is the father of 10 children, two of whom are in the army. Though new to military police duties, Bond saw service in Vera Cruz in 1912 and in France during World War I. He received the Distinguished Service Cross for patrol work in the Meuse-Arnonne area.

FORD COMPANY OK.

DETROIT, June 1.—The Ford Motor company reported Wednesday that its entire aircraft production program was "on schedule" during the month of May. Production of the 2,000-horsepower Pratt & Whitney aircraft engine has increased 70 per cent during the last six months and the B-24 Liberator bomber program at Willow Run continued ahead of projected schedules, the company announcement said.

DECISIVE ACTION NEAR.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Secretary of War Stimson said today that with 3,657,000 Army troops already overseas, the deployment of air and service forces is practically completed "and the period of decisive action is at hand."

ALLIED ADVANCE IS SUPPORTED BY THE GREATEST AIR BOMBARDMENT IN THE 3 WEEK OFFENSIVE

NAPLES, June 1.—The Fifth Army drove 3000 yards—nearly two miles—into the Alban hills defense line below Rome today, outflanking besieged Velletri and Lanuvio, and to the west pushed a spearhead to within 13 miles of the capital.

(The Rome correspondent of the Spanish Efe Agency said the battle had reached the "Roman castles" area with the thunder of heavy gunfire audible in the capital itself. The gunfire at times appeared to come from two directions, the correspondent said, indicating that Allied armies were closing in from two directions.)

Supported by the greatest aerial bombardment of the three-week offensive, American troops virtually doomed Velletri and Lanuvio with the capture of important high ground above the two fortified towns in a surprise thrust deep into the Alban hills.

The advance carried to a point northeast of Lake Nemi, 15 miles southeast of Rome and four miles northwest of Velletri, and gave the Americans a foothold on the slopes of the Colle Laziale Mountain mass. Advance units were reinforced quickly, and a spokesman said positions have been consolidated on the dominating feature.

Armored units of the Fifth Army reached a point 13 miles from the outskirts of Rome with an advance into Fossa di Campoleone, a fissure-like valley three miles west of Lanuvio, and were reported exerting strong pressure against the German line.

British troops of the Eighth Army seized Frosinone, capital of the province of the same name and junction of the Via Casilina, and an enemy escape highway branching off to the north and west.

German forces still holding out along the Via Casilina and in the mountains to the south, faced encirclement as the British surged on toward Valmontone, 24 miles to the northwest, and already under attack by an American column from the south.

Supported by the greatest aerial umbrella of the three-week-old Italian offensive, American units of the Fifth Army breached the Velletri-Valmontone sector of the last enemy defense line below Rome in a surprise attack against surprisingly light resistance yesterday, James E. Roper, United Press correspondent, reported from the front.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.—American forces have repulsed two more strong enemy counter-attacks on Biak Island, it was announced today as the U. S. drive toward Mokmer airfield was halted until the Japanese are cleared from the flanking positions.

The invasion troops, who had driven to within two miles of the airfield with tanks and heavy artillery, turned back the new Japanese assaults on the coastal plain leading to the airfield, lying less than 900 miles southeast of the Philippines.

The action apparently was a continuation of the tank battle which began at dawn Monday. Eight enemy tanks were destroyed and three damaged in that engagement, but there was no disclosure of Japanese losses in the futile counter-attacks.

Although a spokesman said the American advance had been halted until the Japanese are cleared from the hills on the inland flanks, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique reported that U. S. infantrymen had penetrated into the high lands overlooking Biak Island coast in search of enemy snipers and artillery spotters.

MacArthur's communique said enemy opposition had collapsed east of the beachhead at Bosnek Village, while to the north patrols were clearing out small Japanese parties scattered throughout the hills.

CHUNGKING.—American planes entered the battle of Tung Ting Lake today as Chinese ground forces fell back slowly along a 60-mile front and prepared for a desperate stand on the approaches to Changsha.

A communique reported that U. S. 14th Air Force planes were moved in to aid the hard-pressed Chinese troops yesterday, bombing and strafing Japanese infantry columns and smashing at their supply lines.

Advanced spearheads of the Japanese striking force, estimated in Chungking at more than 150,000 men, were reported converging on Changsha from the north, northeast and northwest, and the semi-official Chinese Central News Agency reported that Changsha has been cleared of all civilians in preparation for a showdown battle.

All newspapers in Changsha suspended publication yesterday, and the city bristled with troops as it awaited its fourth siege of the war, the Agency said.

SLAUGHTER.

The mortality in this war doubtless exceeds that of any other war in history. It would be rash to guess at the number of men, women and children who have been slaughtered or starved to death. The deaths from military action alone on the Russian front amounts to many millions. The Germans are charged with killing millions of harmless civilians, especially Polish Jews, and they have obviously been the chief slaughterers in the European scene.

Add to these the slaughter perpetrated by the Japanese, especially against the Chinese, and all the mortality lists of the armies of the Allied Nations in Europe and Asia and the islands of the sea, and all the skills and talents possessed by them, and it seems almost as if the losses so far in this general war would be enough to people a new world. There will still be far more killing before it is over.

In all this slaughter, human life has hardly counted. That is, individual life. Outlaw nations have fought and bled and died to get possession of the earth and its wealth, and law-abiding nations have fought for the right to live and possess the fruits of their labors.

ROCKETS.

The "sky rocket" at last has come into usefulness and fame. After generations of service confined mostly to Fourth of July celebrations, it has become an instrument of war. So rapidly has this occurred that such usage has hardly got into the lexicons yet.

According to the office dictionary, a rocket is "a cylindrical tube containing combustibles which on being ignited liberates gases whose action propels the tube through the air; used for pyrotechnic effect, signalling, carrying a life-line, etc."

Rockets are used now to locate hostile war planes, illuminating them in the upper air and providing light to shoot them down. They make a wonderful scenic effect. One of the finest bits of writing in this war was a description by Ernie Pyle, during the great German "blitz" of London, portraying the celestial assault and the accompanying aerial defense, at their height.

That was a night of terror, and there have been many such nights since, and will be many more. When will the world take pleasure in rockets again?

WAR AND WORSHIP.

Here is something a little different from the current news, but interesting, and maybe important. Columbus, O., says Sunday school attendance has decreased steadily in these last few months. On the other hand, church attendance at morning worship has increased as much as the Sunday school has lost. This is no mere local condition, but it is found throughout the state. And it naturally raises the question whether it is a national situation. And if so, how does it come about?

One minister explains it in this way. The decline in Sunday school attendance, he says, comes partly from increased social life on Saturday night. Additional causes, he suggests, are lack of religious interest, uninteresting teachers, poor leadership and unconcerned parents.

Ordinarily people tend to grow more religious in war time, as they face sterner realities. A real understanding of the war might tend to affect children likewise.

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON

Federal Aid.

School teachers are influential people. They choose their calling as a rule because they love children, and love influencing children. Youngsters, in turn, control their homes and parents more than they realize, in ways they don't know about. Thus a good teacher is a power in the community. Any politician could cut quite a splash if only he could line up all the teachers behind him.

The idea is not new. Starts are made in that direction often. Plans to better the public schools of America in a bureaucratic treadmill have come before Congress four times since 1937. They have failed every time but each new attempt shows more strength. The most recent one, discussed in this column exactly a year ago, gained enough momentum to get talked about from Bangor to Bourbon.

Maybe Nine Lives.

This latest sally on the public school system was led by Senator Lister Hill of Alabama, helping Senator Elbert D. Thomas of Utah. The bill, (S. 367) as finally rejected by the 78th Congress, is dead but the senators' ambitions can still wiggle. Hill is campaigning now for re-election on a platform of "federal aid to education," and that's been a hobby of Thomas' for a long time.

The issue will be revived. Political problems have a way of coming to life repeatedly until they are cured, and this one is not cured. Teachers have a right to earn as much in the classroom as they might get for manual labor in a factory and, until teachers pay is adjusted, state school authorities will have their troubles born of somebody's mistakes; maybe their own.

Money Has Power.

Federal aid to education, if it comes, will be federal control of schools eventually, whether the author of the bill wants it or not. Whoever signs the checks can compel obedience to orders, even from teachers. Obviously most public school systems need, not federal support, but better state support. There are at least six good reasons. Three are plain and practical, the others basic.

(1) Federal control would cost taxpayers more for the same results than state control; an extra handling charge. (2) Federal control of schools would make one more huge bureau with an army of henchmen in a maze of pyramiding salaries. (3) Federal control will ride down traditions. How the South will fester at the first successful effort to seat white and colored children together at school. It might easily result in wide-spread violence.

Wrong in Principle.

The foregoing objections are practical ones. But it is wrong in principle to rob parents of their influence in public schools. (4) Concentrating school funds in the hands of far-away strangers is saying to all parents, "Hands off school!" (5) It is also fruitful of racketeering. (6) Worse yet, it violates the principle of state sovereignty which is the backbone of American freedom.

Any time rich Washington sets up a W. P. A. for teachers, local school revenue will start drying up. Soon the U. S. Treasury will be footing all bills and that suggested 200 million dollars a year increase in pay for teachers will not be a drop in the bucket. In many states, teachers need and deserve more pay. If it comes the people will pay it and they'd better handle it locally. A local solution to the problem is possible anywhere.
