WHAT MAKES AMERICA?

"The Epic of America" by James Truslow Adams is a book every American may well read. It is not a "history book" in any ordinary sense. There is nothing in its style to repel or discourage anyone who would like to know how Americans got to be the way they are. It merely picks the reader up into its sweep from the first settlements by England, France and Spain, through the first tide-water attempts at living, over the first mountains into the middle west, out across the great plains to the northwest and the southwest.

The reader finds out why the south got to be the way it was and is, the mid-west, the upper and lower sections of the farthest west. "Moulded by the wilderness" is one of its striking phrases, used again and again. Our loss of the older culture to the wilderness, our gain in strength, courage and ingenuity because of the wilderness, our later cultural gains—all this becomes plain in the sweep of one small volume.

Our money-grubbing, become a virtue, or disregard of law, these too, with their causes and sad consequences, show up. But never, through all of our troubled three centuries, have we lost sight of our American dream—our vision of something better, always better, for ourselves and for our children.

CODDLING ENEMIES.

The Russian newspaper, Izvestia, which is given to plain speaking in both domestic and foreign matters, has been criticizing American prison camp authorities for coddling German prisoners of war. Not only do our camp administrators fail to resist an insistent attitude on the part of the Nazi prisoners, says this publication, but they actually "cultivate" such an attitude among the Nazi war prisoners, even while Allied war prisoners are mistreated and killed.

In evidence of the extent to which such coddling is carried, Izvestia quotes statements from the American press telling how German prisoners at Fort Lewis, Wash., were allowed to raise the Nazi flag and carry out other demonstrations on Adolf Hitler's birthday. The International Review of Moscow says we Americans put German prisoners on the head, and "they retaliate by putting their feet on the table."

Frank newspaper accounts published in this country have shown repeatedly that there is enough truth in these charges to demand a general overhauling of such practices. No decent American wants to inflict cruelty on enemy prisoners, but extreme laxity and indulgence only gives the enemy contempt for this country. And this is just as true of our insistent Jap interests.

FRENCH REVIVAL.

One of the most essential of international policies now is friendly understanding with the French people. At present they are in bondage to the Germans, and their fortunes are at a very low ebb. But with the friendly interest of Britain and America—which is really to our own interest as well as theirs—they might soon rise again to dignity and power.

The French people have been tried by fire, and their frivolous and irresponsible elements must be pretty well burned out by this time. The cowards and Hitler-lovers left in France do not count. Gallant young Frenchmen—and many not so young—are found today fighting alongside of our own troops throughout the world. The French "underground" which includes millions of patriots eager to strike for freedom, may soon burst its bonds.

They should be welcomed as equals and treated with honor. We ourselves have been weak and erring enough, before we saw the light and marshaled our strength, to understand them and sympathize with them, avoiding any airs of superiority.

With fair treatment, they will play an honorable part in the world again. Our nation should never forget the help they gave us freely, in times when it was greatly needed.

EAST NIMROD

The Busy Bee sewing club met May 30 at Mrs. L. D. Stanford's. Present were Mrs. Jack Cozart, Mrs. Wiley Cozart, Mrs. Ed Townsend, Mrs. A. N. Simpson, Mrs. Oliver Harrelson, Mrs. Stiles, Mrs. Joe Holleman, Mrs. Lou Allen, Robert Bell, Wayne Cozart, Jeanette Lindley, Virginia Stiles. Some of the women worked on a service flag for our boys who are serving Uncle Sam. We were sorry Mrs. J. N. Brezhears was unable to be with us this week. While working in her garden she hurt her side and is now in bed. Bethel had a nice singing last Sunday. Several from Nimrod attended. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Simpson, Mrs. Jack Cozart, Mr. and Mrs.

Ed Townsend and grandson Robert Bell, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Brezhears and the Baptist pastor and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Allen. The Allens are from De Leon. Robert Bell is planning a nice vacation for this summer. He is planning to go to the west coast with his mother and two sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hall are the parents of a baby girl—Nancy Ellen. Mrs. Hall is getting along nicely, but the baby hasn't been doing so well. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sibley and daughter Mrs. Gilbert and grand-daughter Mary Elizabeth were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holleman Wednesday night. Everybody is busy canning, but we would like to see every one out next Tuesday, June 6, at Mrs. Ed Townsend's. If you have canning to do when we meet at your home bring it out and it won't take long for the Busy Bees to have it sorted in the jar.

Miss Dorothy Garcia is visiting with Beulah Simpson this week.

A party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Latson, Jr., Friday celebrated the sixth birthday of their little niece LaNell Nichols of Baird. A number of games were played on the lawn and at the close the gift packages were opened and gifts viewed by all.

The guests encircled the birthday cake and sang "Happy Birthday to LaNell." Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the group and cut-out books were given as favors.

MRS. CHARLES WHITE WAS COMPLIMENTED.

S. L. Cook. Several friends, who seemingly called to pay a visit to the honoree, were asked to remain for the meal.

When the group went into the dining room they found a lovely array of gift packages at the place marked for Mrs. White, who was greatly surprised at this turn of affairs. The honoree opened the packages and displayed them after which the excellent meal was enjoyed by all partaking.

Those present were Mrs. Charles

STRIPED DASH

Stripes are more plentiful than polka dots this season, and shoulders are more frequently T-square than normal. Although bright colors abound, many New York designers show the usual number of navy and black dresses with white trims, or, as in the dress pictured, striped with white. This black crepe has the season's flattering, soft bow neckline, and is gathered on each side of the skirt, rather than across, for a flat midriff look. The red bouquet and black patent leather belt are typical of dressy touches used on spring's tailored fabrics.

White, Mrs. Cy Chance, Mrs. Bill Jackson, Miss Erdeen Clegg, Miss Betty Jane Farmer, Miss Ruth Cook, Dale Cook and Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Cook.

SERVICE MEN HONORED WITH DINNER MONDAY.

Honoring two service men who were visiting relatives in Cisco and another who will soon go into service, Mrs. Jody Baker entertained with a dinner in her home Monday night.

The table centerpiece was a miniature airplane on a reflector, flanked by red candles in white holders. All appointments and arrangement carried out a patriotic motif.

Those enjoying the dinner were Dorothy Nell Pugh, Bonnie Jean Wilson, Jo Ann Baker, Pic. Dick McPherson, Pfc. Norman Ball and Bobby Poe.

HOSTESS CHIC

Entertaining is fun, however restricted your menu, if you look fresh and pretty in spring's hostess costumes. These smart pajamas in red crepe with white stripes, cleverly combined, are two-piece with a wide waistband on the trousers. For more formal home parties, the same New York designer shows a three-piece suit of tuxedo-styled trousers with jacket in black wool and a crisp-cross white pique gilet. Still another, even dressier idea, is the short, flared black satin coat which doubles as a tunic over a slim black satin skirt, for dinner at home.

"I'm sticking to MY JOB!"

It's Your Job and Mine

To Keep Him Supplied With Bullets

The fight for Victory in Europe is mounting toward a decisive intensity. The money you've invested to date in War Bonds, is blasting a path toward the heart of Nazi tyranny.

It is time for the infantry to move in and do that delicate job of finishing off the Fascist locusts who must be rooted from the occupied lands of Europe before the world can be free of fear again.

That takes a never ending stream of bullets, of supplies, of food, of transportation that men need to fight with.

Some of those men will never come back. More will... if they never lack support from you.

Every dollar you put into War Bonds will come back with interest... the dollars you already have invested in them... the dollars you still must invest.

The intensity of the fight is doubling. Double your support by buying twice the Bonds you bought last time... During the Fifth War Loan Drive.
