ALLIES INCREASE STRENGTH

FEDERAL JUDGE TELLS HOW TO INSURE PEACE

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—For the solution to the problem of how to deal with the beaten Axis, a California federal judge offers this one of utter simplicity: Turn to the law books, and make the punishment fit the crime on the basis of American justice.

Offering the suggestion is U. S. District Judge J. F. T. O'Connor, former comptroller of the currency and presiding judge at the recent Mann Act trial of Film Comedian Charlie Chaplin.

He made his first public statement on the proposal at a dinner here a few weeks ago. Elaborating on it recently he said the application of American law would decrease this course:

1. Make no treaty at the end of hostilities. Germany and Japan, he declares, wouldn't keep a treaty. Germany wriggled out of the Versailles Treaty of 1919, and against Japan stands the "distinctive indictment" of Pearl Harbor atrocity.

CANNING CENTER TO OPEN HERE MONDAY

Cisco public school officials have completed arrangements for setting up a canning instruction center at 1008 D avenue, where facilities will be provided to process the major portion of the garden products of those who do not have adequate equipment or knowledge to do the job correctly.

The first opening of the center will be at 9 o'clock Monday morning and regularly thereafter on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. It was planned to open the cannerly sooner, but the opening was delayed because of non-arrival of machinery parts. Some of the needed parts have been received, but all of the equipment cannot be put into commission until additional repair parts have come in.

R. N. Cluck, public school superintendent, announces that M. D. Fox, vocational agriculture teacher, will have general supervision of the project, with Mrs. Betty Odum, home economics teacher, in charge of the center and to assist in canning operations. In this connection it is important that canning patrons give Mrs. Odum notice of their intentions, that a schedule of appointments may be established to avoid confusion.

Those using the canning facilities will furnish their own cans and produce. The equipment, heat water and other essentials will be furnished free. Food for canning should be cleaned and made ready for heating before it is brought to the center.

Funds for this service are made available through the state board for vocational education and it is hoped by school officials that this opportunity for saving food will not be passed up, and that Cisco pantry shelves will sag with the weight of canned food put up under the supervision of capable instructors, following intelligent canning budget plans.

FIRST AID—While murderous fire from enemy pillboxes and machine gun nests strafes the water, a first aid worker cleans and dresses the wound of fighter who has dropped on the wet sand. Other men in unit keep heads low to avoid being hit by enemy fire on Wakde.

FORCE MET FORCE—This is all that remains of Nazi mechanized column caught by Allied artillery barrage in drive for Rome. Two Yank soldiers examine German helmets which mark mass grave where crew members of luckless outmaneuvered tanks were buried.

Put on Probation.

"These nations are criminals. Put them on probation for a number of years, just as you would a criminal in one of our courts, until they have established to the satisfaction of the world that they are worthy of membership in a civilized society."

2. Establish courts of justice in each invaded country to punish every Axis murderer or wrecker, big or little, according to the laws of that country.

"Lidice! Bring back those Germans to Lidice, where they lined up and shot those men and women who were guilty of nothing more than enjoying the sunshine that God gave them!"

3. Keep the Axis armies in invaded countries to rebuild, under the supervision of an Allied military commission, every road, harbor and building they have destroyed. Require larger and better roads, harbors and buildings if need be.

ROTARY HEARD FINE TALK ON DEMOCRACY

Good interest is being manifested in the revival meeting now in progress at First Baptist church, says Rev. Cooper Waters, the pastor.

The revivalists have been received with high acclaim not only by the membership of this church, the pastor stated, but also by the Cisco Rotary club yesterday, when Joe Trussell the singer was applauded until he gave an encore number. Evangelist Miles was a Rotary guest, too, and is said to have made the best address on "Democracy" that the club has heard this year.

Services will continue through June 18, with a meeting each morning at 10 (except Saturday morning) and each evening at 8:30. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

28 WORKERS PRESENT.

Twenty-eight women completed 2,000 surgical dressings at the work rooms in the Reynolds building Thursday afternoon, 1 until 5. Those present were Mesdames J. J. Tableman, T. O. Thomas, Les Jenkins, W. W. Wallace, F. J. Borman, Austin Flint, G. P. Rainbolt, J. A. Jensen, James Moore, A. D. Anderson, L. H. Hampton, Paul Brashear, Jodie Baker, A. L. Gattis, W. B. Dunn, C. A. Williams, J. H. McArdle, Ed Aycock, E. H. Hester, Bob Latimer, E. A. Jamison, J. T. Anderson, Sam Kimmell, O. G. Lawson, W. J. Poe, Don McEachern and Miss Mayme Estes.

SO HE'LL BE HER HERO—Ambition of every fireman is to save lives. Fireman Stanley J. Horan of Washington, D. C., made a synthetic effort at that ambition when he carried this lovely lady to safety during a dress shop fire. Swooning creature that happens to be a wax dummy wears "My hero!" expression.

TRIPLE A COMMITTEE ENDS MEETING HERE

Seventy-six members of the Triple A committee from 19 counties comprising district seven completed a two-day session at Laguna Hotel today and left for their homes. R. H. Nelson of A. and M. college, who presided at the session, said it was a constructive meeting.

Purpose of the gathering was to discuss and formulate plans and organization for the rationing of farm machinery, lumber for the construction of farm buildings and loans on wheat and peanuts. The Triple A also secures permits for tires and gas for farmers.

Howard Kingsbery of A. and M. College, AAA state committeeman from district seven, was present at the sessions.

STAMEY FUNERAL SATURDAY

The body of Henry T. Stamey, brother of O. L. Stamey of Cisco, who died in a veterans' hospital at Palo Alto, Calif., early Wednesday, is expected to arrive in Cisco at noon tomorrow and the funeral is set for 3 o'clock at Thomas funeral chapel, with Rev. Leslie Seymour officiating. Burial will follow at Sipe Springs, the old home. Pallbearers will be J. J. Beck, Homer Bible, Felix Boland, C. J. Turner, Tom Stark and Joe Ed Hays.

PENTECOSTAL SERVICES.

The three Johnson sisters—Lillian, Rachel and Cleo—gospel singers and sisters of Evangelist Emma Lou Johnson and daughters of E. O. Johnson of Henderson, prominent song and music writer, will be featured in this weekend programs at the Pentecostal church in Cisco. The Johnsons are widely known throughout the southwest for their inspiring gospel songs and the public is cordially invited to hear them.

GOOD CITIZEN PASSES.

EASTLAND, June 9.—Funeral services for F. P. Dunnham, 79, retired farmer who had lived here 40 years, were held Thursday at the First Methodist church. Rev. Durwood Fleming officiated and burial was in the Eastland cemetery. Mr. Dunnham died Tuesday. Survivors are the widow, four sons and three daughters. One daughter, Sgt. Inez LeMond, W.A.C., is stationed at Bernard, Minn., and her home is Fort Worth. Deceased was widely known as an upright man and good citizen.

EGGS FOR ANIMAL FEED.

DALLAS, June 9.—Eighteen carlots of eggs had been purchased Thursday by feed dealers in five of the seven states of the War Food Administration's Southwest region under the shell egg diversion plan, L. J. Cappelman, regional distribution director, announced. Seven of the cars were purchased by Texas dealers in Dallas, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. Because of a shortage of sold-storage space, the WFA is buying eggs at the support price and converting them to animal feed, Cappelman said.

ALL SHOULD AID IN FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

John H. Kleiner, county salvage chairman, has received a communication from A. Patrick Flood, executive secretary of the Texas Salvage committee, requesting the Eastland county chairman to urge a speeding up of all war efforts by citizens. Excerpts from the communication are as follows:

"Let every American redouble his or her efforts on every war program. Only maximum tempo is sufficient to assure complete victory at the earliest moment.

"Buy extra bonds. Save and prepare every bit of waste paper. Don't waste even a spoonful of used kitchen fats. Add to your Red Cross Donation. Work harder! Sacrifice for God and country.

"There should be no grandstands in the grim game of war. No onlookers. Every man, woman and child is needed in the line marching to Victory and Freedom."

MOTOR VEHICLE STAMPS.

Federal motor vehicle stamps, which cost $5, will be on sale at the Cisco postoffice tomorrow, says L. H. McCrea, postmaster. These stamps are good for one year from July 1 and must be on all motor vehicles.

GERMANS SAY THERE ARE NOW 16 DIVISIONS OF ALLIED ARMIES IN NORTHERN FRANCE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, LONDON, June 9.—Reinforced Allied invasion armies stormed steadily deeper into Normandy against mounting resistance today and Nazi sources acknowledged that one armored spearhead was approaching St. Lo, 20 miles southwest of Bayeux and half way across the Cherbourg peninsula.

A Berlin dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said German military authorities admitted their forces were retreating under the pressure of Allied reinforcements and may be forced to abandon Cherbourg, one of the principal harbors on the French coast and railroad of a trunk line to Paris.

Gen. Eisenhower's seventh communique of the invasion reported that American, British and Canadian forces continued to "make progress in all sectors despite further reinforcement of German armor," but did not disclose the extent of the Allied penetration of the German defense.

American tanks and infantry on the west flank were battling fiercely in an effort to capture Carentan, hinge of the German line, and key points along the Carentan-Cherbourg highway, while British Empire forces were slowly gaining control of Caen, beleaguered communications hub 40 miles to the east, front reports disclosed.

Canadian forces alone were credited with capturing a dozen Normandy towns in a southward drive across the Bayeux-Caen stretch of the main Cherbourg-Paris railway and highway. Landings continued on both the American and British-Canadian beachheads and by-passed enemy strongpoints were being reduced steadily.

The Berlin dispatch to the Stockholm Aftonbladet said the Germans feared a linking of the two beachheads—the Americans between Carentan and Cherbourg and the British between Bayeux and a point west of the Orne Estuary—was imminent.

Such a junction, the dispatch quoted the Germans as saying, would make the Nazi situation "very difficult," and perhaps force the abandonment of Cherbourg.

Radio Vichy reported "new massive landings" by Allied paratroops and glider-borne forces near Falaise, some 20 miles south of Caen, and the Nazi DNB Agency estimated that the arrival of additional reinforcements by both air and sea last night had boosted Allied strength in Normandy to between 15 and 16 divisions, possibly 240,000 men.

A total of 10 German divisions—150,000 men—have been identified in action, and reconnaissance reports indicated these steadily were being reinforced by railway and highway, despite day-and-night Allied aerial attacks on enemy communications.

NAPLES.—Allied tanks and infantrymen pursued the fleeing German 14th Army along the broad front extending more than 40 miles above Rome today and a communique said that the Nazis have begun a general retreat from their Adriatic coastal line south of the Pescara-Rome highway.

Striking over roads littered with wrecked tanks and trucks abandoned by the retreating enemy, 5th Army spearheads raced almost unopposed along the three main highways leading north and northwest of the capital in an effort to bring the Nazis to battle.

American units were reported far beyond Civitavecchia, 40 miles above Rome on the Tyrrhenian coastal road, and pounding ahead toward the next major city objective on that route, Orbetello, 38 miles to the north.

Front dispatches said the modern harbor at Civitavecchia, the seventh largest in Italy was almost completely wrecked by Allied bombers.

Further inland, other Allied forces rolled through Caprara, 35 miles northwest of Rome on the east shore of Lake Vico, and 10 miles further east another armored column occupied Civita Castellana and pushed on along Highway 3.

The twin thrusts threatened both Viterbo and Herni, two key junctions on the main railway lines tunnelling down from northern Italy.

MOSCOW.—Red Army troops continued small-scale attacks along the Romanian front today after capturing the third important height in two days north of Iasi and seizing a series of enemy trenches south of Tiraspol on the lower Dnester river.

The Germans made an unsuccessful attempt to retake a position captured by the Russians yesterday in the fighting north and northwest of Iasi and 200 enemy troops were killed and 150 others captured. Another 200 Germans were killed when Soviet patrols stabbed into the enemy lines below Tiraspol and occupied a group of trenches.

RUSSIA AND AMERICA.

Ten little words spoken to American flyers in the briefing room of the United States Air Force in Italy on June 1 were historic. They were preparing for another flight, and the American officer giving them their instructions said: "In case you don't know where you're going, it's Russia."

It was historic because they were flying to Russia as partners and allies of the Russian people. That was the beginning not only of shuttle bombing against the common enemy Germany, but of a genuine cooperation between the military forces of Russia and the United States. And on both sides there is a desire that close relations shall continue not only during the war, but thereafter. Strange as it seems, these two nations, so long at opposite extremes in mode of life and government, seem to be drawing steadily closer. And it seems unexpectedly easy for them to understand each other.

The Russians have come far from the tyranny of the old czars. They are not yet so free and equal politically as we are. But their constitution calls for such freedom and they will eventually attain it. With the war over and Russia free from fear, that may be the next step.

Home-front Americans have two jobs and both are necessary to victory. They are: Keep food and war materials moving to our fighting men throughout the world; watch closely for attempts by power-mad political "nuts" to change our form of government and way of living, both here in the southland and throughout the nation.

CAN'T EAT COMPLIMENTS.

"You know it's remarkable how many friends have turned up recently for our good old American tradition of 'free private enterprise,'" said C. F. Mason, president of the United States Telephone association, in addressing that organization in Chicago. "Only a little more than a year ago, you could count on your fingers the outspoken friends of private enterprise. . . . But now Senator George's postwar planning committee turns up in favor of free private enterprise. Senator Truman's committee is in favor of free enterprise. The president's own official postwar advisor, Mr. Baruch, is in favor of free private enterprise. . . . And . . . I almost fell out of my chair when I read that Earl Browder. . . head man of what used to be the Communist party—said he is in favor of free enterprise."

"I am glad they all are turning up for the system which has brought much happiness to the human race, but . . . private enterprise can't live on compliments any more than stage actors can eat roses and fan mail. We have to protect it and provide an atmosphere in which it will thrive and flourish. Every time the federal or local government passes a law which discriminates in favor of tax-eating government enterprise, it puts another burden on taxpaying private enterprise. Given a sufficient accumulation of such burdens, the balance of our national economy can be swung toward socialism. . . ."

"Most of us take pride in our ability to pay salaries and wages which make available to our employees the dignity and satisfaction of relatively high living standards. . . . If these standards cannot be maintained under present revenue conditions, it probably has become an obligation upon all of us to secure the necessary revenues to provide such benefits to our employees. . . . The time has come for those companies operating under the handicap of inadequate rates and ever-mounting operating expenses, to move aggressively for higher rates. We can make the job easier—and probably more effective—if we prepare our case in a thorough manner and then present it to the proper authorities with frankness, candor and friendliness. As we believe in the American system of government, so we must have confidence in the fundamental fairness and integrity of the regulatory bodies."

FORMER PRISONER OF NAZIS TELLS OF THEM

By LARRY ALLEN
Just Repatriated From a German Prison Camp.
NEW YORK, June 8.—(Intercom)—"The American people do not know the horror of the day in Nazi Germany. Her press and radio poured it into the war-torn brains of the German people constantly. Leading the campaign is Robert Ley, chief spokesman for Hitler. Ley's job as chief of the Labor Front is to keep every able hand working for the war machine. But he travels over all Germany with his cry of hate and bloodthirsty in the Berlin newspaper, 'Der Angriff.' This is typical. 'Hate! Hate! Every German must hate the gangsters, the murderers, the assassins who come from the center of world Jewry and capitalism—the United States of America. 'It's luftwaffe's murder your women and children, they destroy your homes. 'In this war, there can be no compromise with these half-breed Americans who come across the sea to stay in a war that does not concern them.'"

NOT EXACTLY LIKE HOME—Scrubbing up in a bathtub made of half an oil drum. Cpl. Howard F. Evans, specialist in heavy bombardment squadron of Army 15th Air Force based in Italy, grins cheerily, not minding a bit that facilities aren't as deluxe as back home in Missouri, Iowa. (U. S. Army Photo)

Farmers Adopt Military Building Techniques To Speed Construction

Above, a farm building with exterior walls and roof deck, built of gypsum board under fire. The picture at left shows gypsum board under fire. The board's core is composed of incombustible process gypsum. It can't burn even when a blow torch is applied and so provides effective fire protection to the wood framing.

Farmers all over the country are adopting military construction techniques to speed the erection of needed farm structures by using weather resistant laminated gypsum building boards which have been used in the building of countless army and navy supply depots and warehouses. These heavy duty building boards have in many cases replaced lumber for exterior walls and roof decks and provides fire protection. They were developed by National Gypsum Company to meet wartime building needs.

Let's not let it become a place where we can only do as some bureaucrats tell us. Let's think and vote right and keep free.

"To us, this war is life or death. To you Americans, it is just another episode in a Hollywood film. And, of course, as long as your prison camp officials treat Germans like guests, they accept it, but secretly they think you Americans are soft and foolish." In Innsbruck a German captain dragged me out of a cattle car in which I had ridden for 48 hours with only a slice of black bread and a ring of German wurstmeat to eat. "Why did you come over here to fight?" he stormed. "Why don't you Americans live up to your Monroe Doctrine of America for Americans and stay out of Europe?" You Americans want all the oil and gold in the world!" "You forget," I answered, "that you first declared war on America. The United States doesn't want anything in Europe. We fight only to preserve the right to live our lives the way we want to live it."

"Schweinhund! American dog!" he screamed, "you will someday live under the Deutsches Reich. We will win this war, because all you Americans think of is money, getting back home to your women, whisky and leg-shows." I shrugged and climbed back upon my pallet of straw.

We've Come A Long Way Since This!

Look at your brightly-lit living room. It seems a far cry to the era when father read by the uncertain flickering of the kerosene lamp. Yet, actually, it was not so long ago that electricity was still an untried marvel. What strides have been taken since then! Today, with electric power at work all about us, it seems common-place—is taken for granted. This company, with the rest of the electric industry, is in the foreground of today's progress-makers. Your interests are our interests, and the steps that we have taken are but an inch to the miles of progress we have yet to traverse.
