RED DRIVE TO BERLIN GROWS

WRIGHT WILL PREACH AT UNION SERVICE

Rev. J. R. Wright, popular citizen and pastor of First Christian church, today begins his fifth year with the Cisco church. Mr. and Mrs. Wright and their two children, Miss Elizabeth Wright and James B. Wright, came here from Stuttgart, Ark., where he had served as Christian church pastor for a number of years.

Soon after their arrival here, and an officer of the church Saturday, the Wrights had won their way into the hearts of church members and the people of the city. Mrs. Wright working along with her husband in the church, and also with the music club, and the son and daughter being active in the social life of the young people. Both of the young people are now doing their part in the war effort. The daughter is an employe of Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corporation, Fort Worth, and the son is a cadet in the army air corps at Moody Field, Valdosta, Ga., an advanced twin-engine school.

DEMOCRATS MOVING IN ON CHICAGO

By GORDON SHEARER, U. P. Staff Correspondent.

AUSTIN, July 15.—Delegates to the Democratic national convention, named by the regular Texas state Democratic convention, will leave Monday for Chicago with practical assurance that they will be seated if they promise to support the party nominees.

National Committeeman Myron Blalock of Marshall, who has the endorsement of a rump pro-Roosevelt convention, as well as that of the regular state convention, left for the pre-convention meeting of the national Democratic committee after announcing he would recommend seating of the regular delegation on that basis.

Many of the other Texas leaders already were enroute to Chicago. Former Gov. Dan Moody, chairman of the regular delegation, left for Chicago today after issuing a statement for release Monday morning giving his views of the situation. Both Blalock and Moody were hopeful that harmony would be worked out.

Mayor Tom Miller of Austin, an active pro-Roosevelt advocate who helped nominate rival electors pledged to support the Chicago nominees, said nothing would be determined about how to get the names of these electors on the November ballot in Texas until after the national convention.

It was expected that if the electors of the regular Democratic state convention then were not going to support the Chicago nominees, that the national Democratic executive committee would try to certify a list of electors as the "real" Democratic electors.

An admitted confusing situation has these factual points:

The electors of the regular Democratic state convention are not definitely instructed to vote against the Chicago nominees except in event the delegation of that convention is rejected at Chicago.

Their voting is optional if the Chicago convention fails to go along with the demands of the Texas state convention on other principal demands.

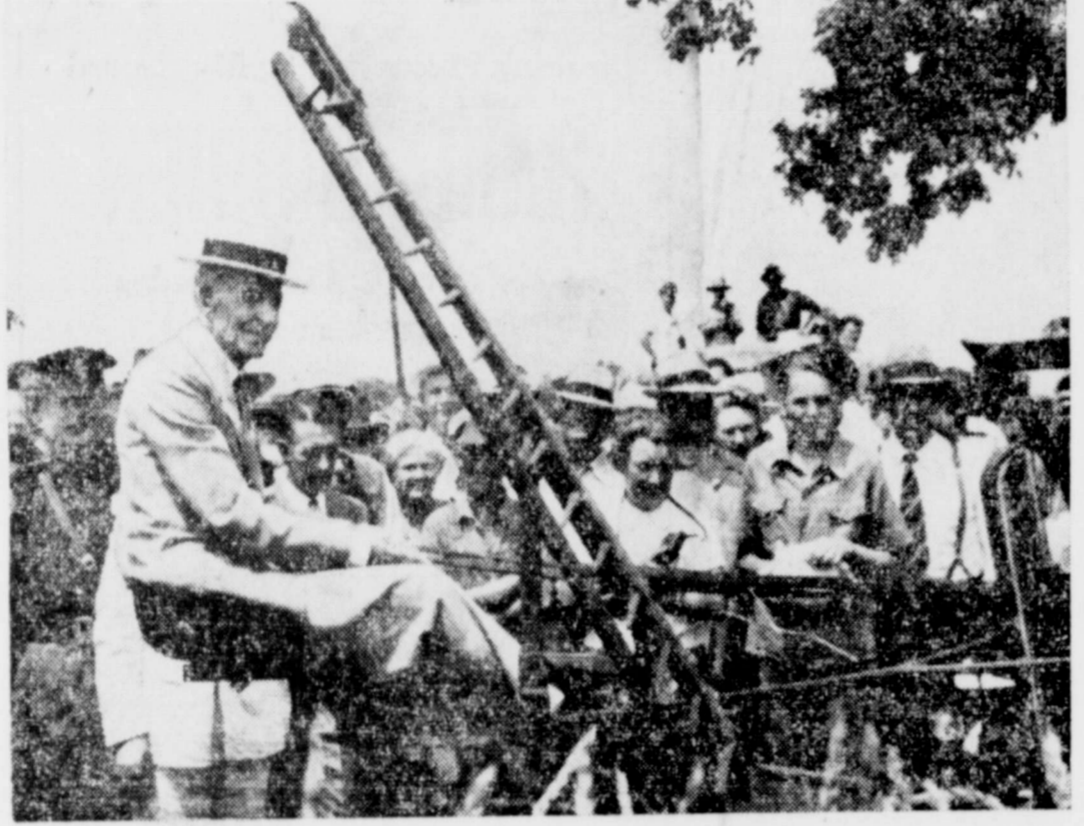

These are a return to selection of party candidates for president and vice president by two-thirds vote; declaration against tampering with Jim Crow provisions of southern states, particularly the segregation of whites and blacks in public schools.

Whether the Texas delegation will throw its vice presidential vote to U. S. Sen. Tom Connally, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, or some one from outside Texas, will not be known until the delegation caucuses after arrival in Chicago late Monday.

Connally has disclaimed a desire for the nomination. Rayburn was expected to issue a statement over the weekend.

CONNALLY TO CHICAGO.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Chairman Tom Connally of the senate foreign relations committee, left for Chicago today to assist the Democratic resolutions committee in drafting a strong foreign policy plank. The Texas, not a member of the resolutions group, emphasized that he had decided to go to Chicago at the urging of Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic chairman.

CAMP WOLTERS EDITOR BOOSTS LAKE CISCO

Sgt. Wm. Dub King of Camp Wolters, former sports editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and long-time friend of J. Monroe Sweeney, Lake Cisco Amusement Co. manager, writes Mr. Sweeney that he and a party of friends expect to spend a few days at Lake Cisco the latter part of this week.

Cisco football coach and former baseball umpire, claims it's a swell spot for fishing, swimming, boating, boat riding and sun-tanning. He's manager of the summer resort.

"Walters GIs who are looking for relaxation, escape from the heat and something to do in a sports way these weekends are reminded of Lake Cisco, called the 'Playground of West Texas.'"

"It's true enough that there is a definite shortage of good fishing and swimming spots, especially the latter, in and around here, but Lake Cisco isn't beyond the 'reach' of Walters fishermen and swimmers on weekends."

King, who puts in part of his time at Camp Wolters editing the camp's very creditable newspaper, "The Longhorn," had the following to say about Lake Cisco and the amusement company's big swimming pool in a recent issue:

"With all types of diving boards, bath houses, boats, cold drinks, it sounds like a swell weekend spot. Buses run through the town of Cisco. It also can be reached by riding the train, which leaves Millspaugh twice daily."

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lenz had as guests Friday Joe Holland and Van Peters of Camp Bowie. The young men are from Louisiana and were delighted at the hospitality shown them on their visit to Cisco.

WHEN WILL GERMANY BE LICKED?

WASHINGTON, July 15.—There are still two schools of thought here on the No. 1 question: When will Germany be licked?

First School: Hitler will be licked by November or December. They reason it this way: The Russians are playing hell with the Nazis on the eastern front. The other Allied fronts have forced the Fuehrer to spread his troops thin—in Italy, in Normandy, in Greece, in Norway, and in spots where they think we might land another army. To bolster the western front Hitler has moved some divisions away from the eastern battle line—probably one reason for the Russians' great speed toward German borders. This school of thought believes the Germans cannot take another winter; they think our bombings of oil refineries, storage depots and transportation facilities have been remarkably effective. They point to signs that Turkey will enter the war; to German peace feelers; to indications of German panic.

Second School: Germany still has very powerful armies. They are taking a beating in the east, of course, but the Russian supply lines are being drawn out longer and longer. That's bound to tell on the power of the Reds' drive. The time it took Allied armies to capture Caen is proof of the Germans' fighting power. We have been in France a little over a month and are behind schedule in our drive toward Paris. It may take from three to five months for Allied armies to reach the French capital. We have Cherbourg, but our forces must have another deep-water port — say Brest. They sum up: It will not be this year but well into next spring before Hitler falls — say April, May or June.

Congressional sources, pointing out that in the Pacific we're not waiting for Hitler to fold, say our subs are sinking Jap ships in numbers far in excess of the enemy's ability to replace them. Jap forces are thinned and extended even more than Hitler's. We have absolute domination of sea, land and air in the Pacific. The Japanese fleet won't or can't come out, therefore it cannot supply or protect its far-flung garrisons such as Saipan, where Admiral Nimitz's forces just took control. Next move after Saipan? Guessers here guess as follows: Why not Guam and Palau, then on to the Philippines first, but Admiral Nimitz is on record as aiming for the coast of China.

The Democratic convention this week will be livelier than the Republican, but the anticipated fight over the vice-presidential nomination may turn out to be synthetic. The odds favor Wallace. Washington talk is that the president has ruled out all southerners on the theory that if a traditional conservative of the Old South were nominated, Negro votes would be lost in eastern strongholds; if a liberal Southerner were selected, this would strengthen the Southern revolt.

SENATOR MARTIN COMING.

Senator and Mrs. Jesse Martin of Fort Worth will be in Cisco Tuesday morning and will be glad to see their friends. Senator Martin will speak at city hall Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. He is making a tour of West Texas in the interest of his candidacy for attorney general of Texas.

NAZIS ADMIT GREAT FORTRESS OF LWOW IS MENACED, BUT SAY THEY ARE READY FOR SOVIETS

LONDON, July 15.—The German High Command reported today that a powerful Red army on the southern front has joined the Russian "march on Berlin" with a smashing new offensive on the approaches to the fortress of Lwow, and a Nazi commentator warned his countrymen that the "days of the great storm have arrived."

The reported new assault, which German broadcasts acknowledged had achieved a "small number of local penetrations," would put the Russians on the offensive along an almost continuous front of some 900 miles from the Gulf of Finland to the foothills of the Carpathians with the avowed objective of smashing through to Germany.

Red armies on the north-central invasion route to Berlin were storming the ancient Polish fortress of Grodno from three sides with one column already within artillery range of the disputed 1939 border of East Prussia.

The German High Command communique said the Russians "went over to the expected attack" on the southern front yesterday between Tarnopol and Luck, 60 miles east southeast and 88 miles northeast of Lwow, one of the biggest communications hubs in Europe and key stronghold on the southeastern invasion route to Berlin.

"They were repulsed in fierce fighting and numerous tanks were knocked out," the communique said.

Even as German overseas broadcasts were telling the world of the new offensive, Karl Heinz Siegbold was warning his countrymen in domestic broadcasts that the "great storm" has arrived with the "enemy pushing against us with all his might."

The German Transocean Agency acknowledged that the great fortress of Lwow was "menaced."

"German defenses, however, were ready for the Soviet onrush," Transocean said.

On the central front, the Russians launched the battle of the eastern frontiers with columns pressing directly along roads leading to Konigsberg and Warsaw and no sign that desperate German measures of resistance will be able to slow the pace of the Soviet advances.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF.—American shock troops charged the defenses of beleaguered St. Lo at dawn Saturday and scored initial gains up to 600 yards, while other First Army forces advanced as much as three and a half miles on a 40-mile Normandy front to capture 16 towns and villages.

As the assault arc tightened on St. Lo, the Americans closed in on Periers and Lessay, the other anchor posts of the German defenses facing the First Army, and official reports indicated that all three were "almost in the bag."

A dispatch from United Press Correspondent James McGlinchy said the attacking battalions "report progress" but the only specific gain announced was one of 600 yards northwest of the flattened town now more than half embraced by the siege arc.

Varying their tactics of the last few days, the Americans struck out in a surprise attack without the customary artillery preparations which would have tipped their hand.

WASHINGTON.—A Japanese broadcast reported by the Federal Communications Commission said several U. S. Airmen captured by the Japanese, apparently after the first Super-Fortress raid on Kyushu last month, had been executed.

The broadcast, beamed to American forces in the Southwest Pacific, said that "any Allied airmen who falls or bails out over Japan will be executed."

"Some of the B-29s in crashing," he said, had brought death to their "plundering crew," but other airmen, he said, had "parachuted, bailed out to meet with the same fate which was meted out to raiders of Tokio some two years ago."

American Army communique reported the loss of four B-29s on the first of the northern Kyushu raids, two by enemy action and two by accident, and none in the second attack.

The original execution of American airmen by the Japanese was revealed by President Roosevelt, who denounced it in the strongest terms.

The victims were members of Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle's force of medium bombers which took off from the Aircraft Carrier Hornet and bombed Tokyo and other Japanese centers. The Hornet later was sunk.

HEROISM.

This is what might be called the "heroic age" of the United States. We have been in tight places before, and have fought nobly and emerged handsomely on many a military and economic front. But this ordeal is different, and bigger than anything we could formerly have imagined.

We are fighting now literally around the world. And we are fighting not for territory or trade or special advantage of any kind, but for a free world in which we can go about our lawful occasions, and all law-abiding nations can do likewise. For this purpose we are pouring out money like a Niagara, and also pouring out blood unstintedly. One may well pity our political leaders if, knowing what's needed to secure lasting peace, they do not demand and secure it when that time comes.

We are making these great sacrifices because it had to be done. And we do it modestly, realizing that our two great Allies, Britain and Russia, have been fighting longer and have done more in some ways than we have—although we expect to make things even before we get through with the job. We do not overlook the endurance and sacrifice of China, who has done all she could, and, given arms and food, may yet break even with us.

But, the world wants peace, lasting peace and security for the men and women of tomorrow.

debt on the building will be paid in full in about six years.

During his four years in Cisco, Mr. Wright has been quite active in local civic affairs. He served one year as secretary and treasurer and two years as president of the Ministers' association; four years as chaplain of John William Butts Post, American Legion, and was recently elected post adjutant for the coming year. Two years ago he was elected chaplain of the Legion for the 17th district. In addition he has served almost four years as a member of the board of directors of the Cisco Welfare association and for the past two years has been home service officer for the Cisco chapter of the American Red Cross. Being an ex-service man, the minister knows the value of this type of work and hence has been able to render valuable service to the men of the armed forces and their families.

In recognition of the high type of his leadership, the Christian church has increased Mr. Wright's salary twice since he assumed the local pastorate, and the official board last week gave him another increase in salary as an anniversary present.

Since today marks the beginning of the pastor's fifth year as minister here, all members of his church are urged to attend the worship service of the church this morning, and a cordial invitation is extended the public to join with them.

Four years ago tonight Mr. Wright was presented to the people of Cisco and preached his first sermon at the union services held each summer on the lawn of First Methodist church. It is not customary to announce who will preach at these union services, but since this is the anniversary of Mr. Wright's coming to Cisco, both Mr. Seymour of the Methodist church, and Mr. Savage of the Presbyterian church feel that a special invitation should be given the public to attend tonight's union services and hear the anniversary sermon.

THE FARMER WITH THREE JUDGES AFTER HIM HAS HIS LAST SAY.

In this, my last word to the voters before the primary, I want to say that I thank every one for his and her kindness to me. I realize I am not a politician and people I have met likely have realized this better than I have. Every time I have tried to be a politician I have in some way gotten out of character I am just Joe Fitzgerald in spite of all I can do. I thank all who have told me they were going to vote for me whether they do it or not and I thank all others for their extreme kindness.

I realize the great responsibility that voters have in choosing a congressman, it might even mean life or death and has meant just that. If one more congressman had have voted against extending the draft from one to two and one-half years the history of our country might have been changed. I do not want a single vote unless that voter thinks he is voting in the interest of his country. Put the interest of your country far out ahead of the interest of any office seeker. It is your duty to do this. Vote for the man you think will do the country the most good and not for him just because he wants the place. The individual will soon pass away but you and your children and your grand children will carry on. I do not know what will happen tomorrow and all I can promise is I will do the best I can.

Speaking of doing the best we can I have one man who has been working for me thirty-three years. When he starts away with a load of fruit he says I will do the best I can. When he starts to do any other work he says I will do the best I can. If he makes a mistake he knows I am for him and he does his best. Mr. Voter if you make a mistake in voting you will have to atone for it like we are now, we have made a mistake some where down the line. Decide which one of us fellows is the best then vote for him. We four fellows do not amount to much, we are a very small cog in a big wheel but the big wheel is your country.

The next few years is going to be one of turmoil. No one on earth can tell where we are going. Some of us dissenters may get hung, we do not know. It might be safer for some of us to float on down the river with the other dead fish. But heck, I like to be a live fish that can swim up stream. The whole country will be like a worn out farm. The land washed, the tools all broken and worn out, a mortgage on everything. It is going to take time to bring things back and we will have to change our way of doing. We must learn that what is in a bottle is more important than the label on the bottle. During the next three months they are going to want to change labels, have already wanted to change labels, but the same old stuff will still be in the bottle. Men who have been advocating going across the seas and being my brothers keeper are going to advocate that we stay at home and roost under our own fig tree. But will they be really changed. No one can tell. Politicians promise us again and again then change with the wind. They are timid souls. What we need is men that are not afraid of the next election.

When the first primary happens, if I am not one of the two survivors, I am through. I will not try to throw my influence to any one. A man who will do that is a bad loser.

In writing my little pieces to the papers I have tried to spread a little laughter along the way. Also I have tried to tell you what I think. It is better for you to know what we fellows think now than have to find it out after the election. I have observed the judges have been careful about telling just what they think. They have told you what they think about things no one gives a whoop for, but on the important things, the things you want to know, I suppose it is none of our business what they think. As I predicted in the beginning they have put in their time puffing themselves. I have worked diligently to put my case before you and all I ask of you, Mr. and Mrs. Voter is to vote for the interest of your country.

A thousand thanks and with best possible wishes,

JOE E. FITZGERALD

The farmer with three judges after him.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE COURT OF CIVIL APPEAL

To the People of the Eleventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas:

In these times when there is so much sorrow and sadness in your hearts I hesitate to ask for your consideration as a candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals but under our system of government you have the right to select your officers.

This office which I seek is an important one. It has to do with the proper administration of the laws of the land.

I was born on Paluxy Creek in Hood County, Texas, October 23, 1893. While teaching school and working on the farms and ranches in Shackelford County, I studied law at night and in the law offices and passed the Bar examination in 1916. The people of Shackelford County elected me, without opposition, as their County Attorney, and I was thereafter elected three times District Attorney of the 42nd Judicial District, composed of Callahan, Shackelford and Taylor Counties, going from that office, by appointment, to District Judge of that District, which position I now hold and have held continuously for the past seventeen years.

In my law practice and during the time I have been District Judge I have tried many important law suits and I feel that my long experience as a lawyer and trial judge qualifies me for a place on the Court of Civil Appeals.

To you who do not know me, I refer you to any practicing lawyer in the 42nd Judicial District and in the neighboring Counties where I have held Court and to the people who know me for my standing as a citizen.

If you feel that my services merit a promotion I sincerely solicit your vote and influence in the coming Democratic primary and regardless of the outcome of the election I will be forever grateful for the many fine friends that I have throughout the District.

Sincerely yours, MILBURN S. LONG,

Candidate for Associate Justice Court of Civil Appeals, Eleventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas.

OMAR BURKETT

Asks for Re-election Based on His Record.

Dear Friends of Cisco and District 107:

I ask that you consider what I have done for Cisco and surrounding communities when you go to cast your vote next Saturday, July 22.

I have given you something as your Representative and that "something" is concrete evidence at hand, a few of which I list below and which are well known to all the citizenship:

Co-author and sponsor of the law establishing the Cisco Junior College with funds provided for the past two bienniums, making it possible for us to have a first class college in Cisco; legislation favorable to the needy aged, blind and dependent children, aid for our rural and high schools, teacher retirement fund, reduction of the state tax rate thirty cents on the $100 valuation—a great benefit to every taxpayer in the county and especially to the business man; increase in the 7,000-pound-load limit which has meant so much to those in the transportation business by truck; ample care of all our county's insane, making it possible for all to be taken care of promptly and without placing anyone of them in jail. Also much other important legislation. My opposition has NEVER attacked my record. Do you know why? Do they approve or disapprove the above?

This election is very important to Cisco and the district, so if you know I have worked for you as you know your representative should, I ask that you give me a vote of confidence approving my service, and for your confidence in returning me as your representative another term, I guarantee to safeguard the interests of all the people as you know I have done in the past.

I have done my part by my home town and the district and I ask your vote of confidence as an indication of your approval.

Sincerely yours,

OMAR BURKETT.

EASTLAND COUNTY'S VOTE IN THE CONGRESSIONAL RACE

We believe that the best interests of Eastland county will be served by casting our vote for Bob Wagstaff, of Abilene, for Congress.

Eastland county is under strong obligations to Bob Wagstaff for two reasons:

FIRST: Eastland county is an oil county with many small wells operated by independent operators. Their income and the salaries of their employees and the royalty paid to the landowners depends upon the price of oil. Thirteen years ago when the East Texas oil field was running wild and oil was down to 10c per barrel, Bob Wagstaff was a member of the Texas legislature, and through his efforts the conservation and proration laws were passed in 1931 which resulted in the price of oil being raised from 10c up to $1.25 per barrel. Many independent oil operators from this district went to Austin in behalf of this legislation, and as a result of Wagstaff's efforts and the passage of his oil and gas conservation bill, Eastland county profited to the extent of many thousands of dollars.

SECOND: Eastland county, during the oil boom, spent several million dollars on good roads and bonded itself for the building of such roads. After the deflation of the Eastland County oil boom, it was impossible for this county to pay the interest and principal on its road bonds. Bob Wagstaff was a member of the Texas legislature and took an important part in the legislation whereby a large part of the Eastland county road bonds were assumed by the state and paid off out of the gasoline tax. Wagstaff was a member of the house committee on highways and motor traffic, and he was appointed chairman of the house committee which wrote the committee bill, and was a member of the conference committee which drafted the final bill, this being the act under which the state now operates for the assumption of the county road bonds. Under this act the people of Eastland county have been saved many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Not only should Eastland county be appreciative of what Wagstaff has accomplished for this county in the past, but we should consider what it will mean to Eastland county to have in congress a man who is thoroughly familiar with the problems of the oil industry in this area. This district probably has more independent operators and small wells than any other district, and Wagstaff has represented many of these independent operators in oil and gas matters and is familiar with their problems and the importance of their business to this district. His work in the Texas legislature has made him thoroughly familiar with all of the laws relating to oil and gas in Texas, and he is well qualified to become a leader in such matters in the national congress.

This county is primarily interested in oil and agriculture. We need a man in congress who will work actively for the benefit of the oil interests and agricultural interests of this county. We think that a congressman from this district should concern himself primarily to matters relating to oil and agriculture, and not waste his time on extraneous matters.

The other gentlemen in this race are good men and of excellent character, but the outstanding candidate and the one who can be of real service to Eastland county and this district is
