MONDAY LAST DAY FOR ALL TRANSFERS

All families with children of school age who have moved into the Cisco school district from some other place in Eastland county since April 1 should transfer their children immediately, Monday, July 31, being the last day to make this transfer.

Those desiring to make such transfer should go to the school board office Monday or call telephone 132.

Supt. R. N. Cluck adds that each transfer means an extra $25 for the school fund.

O'CONNOR WILL SPEAK TO RED CROSS AUG. 3

The general public is urged to attend the meeting of the Eastland county chapter of the Red Cross which meets at the 91st district court room at Eastland at 2:30 p. m., Aug. 3, at which time an election of officers will be held.

Mrs. Joseph Perkins, county chairman, announces that the principal speaker for the occasion will be Chris O'Connor, field director of the American Red Cross at Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells. He has been with the Red Cross 22 years and is said to be an interesting speaker.

Edward Lee, local Red Cross chairman, also calls attention to the meeting of the Cisco chapter which convenes in business session at the chamber of commerce building Monday at 3:30 for the purpose of electing local officers who will have charge of all local affairs, and who will at the same time be delegates to the county convention as mentioned above.

NORMAN GIVEN GOING-AWAY PARTY AND GIFT

Jack Norman, for the past five years in the service department of the West Texas Utilities company, was honored with a going-away party and gift by the Cisco Volunteer Fire department of which he was a member, Thursday night at the fire station.

Mr. Norman has volunteered for the armed forces and is expected to be inducted on Aug. 2.

Members of the fire fighting force, the city police force, Mayor Edward Lee and City Secretary Geo. Downie, were present. Mayor Lee presented Norman with a going-away gift. Refreshments of pie, ice cream and coffee were served. In order that the guest of honor might remember his old buddies firefighters, he was given a thorough soaking at the close of the party.

ALLEN BOYS MEET.
Cpl. Bernie E. Allen of the U. S. Marine corps and J. V. Allen of the U. S. Navy met recently for the first time in over two and one-half years. It is needless to say that the meeting was a pleasant one. Corporal Bernie Allen is stationed in the Pearl Harbor area and J. V. Allen is an electrician on a troop transfer ship. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen of Cisco. Corporal Bernie E. Allen has served two years overseas and is expected home for a visit in the near future.

STILL LICKING 'EM.
CORSIKANA, July 29.—The Corsicana Field Officers Softball club defeated the Mexia Prisoners of War Camp Officers at Mexia, 18 to 9, in a loosely played contest.

SWIMMING POOL DRAWING CARD FOR CISCO AREA

Major Reese, commanding 134th Maintenance Battalion of 12th Armored Division, Camp Berkeley, will celebrate the second anniversary of the battalion's present personnel, Saturday, August 12, at Lake Cisco according to Manager Monroe Sweeney.

"At least 500," said the Major, "will be here for the day and night at the lake, where we will pitch tents in the city park just below the pool."

They will bring their own band and will sponsor a dance at the pool pavilion which will be open to the Cisco public.

The big swimming pool is getting quite wide publicity, according to Mr. Sweeney. F. B. Clappitt of the post office was in Waco recently and two army aviation lieutenants he chanced to meet wanted to know if there was an emergency flying field at Cisco. They had heard much of the pool and desired to see and try it out.

SHERMAN GETS DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

Lt. Gordon Keith Sherman, who has been at the fighting front in the Pacific area, attached to the carrier, Lexington of Squadron V-16, will arrive at the Abilene airport this afternoon at 6 o'clock, where he will be met by his mother, Mrs. Louise Sherman of Cisco. Lt. Sherman has been absent about one year and is released for a temporary rest according to army regulations.

Some of the baggage belonging to Lt. Sherman arrived Friday and his mother noticed some papers tied with a string, which upon being opened proved to be a citation from the president of the United States for distinguished achievements in the Matiana Islands.

The citation reads as follows: In the name of the President of the United States, Commander, Fast Carrier Fleet, presents the Distinguished Flying Cross to Lieutenant (Junior Grade) Gordon Keith Sherman United States naval reserve for services as set forth in the following:

Citation.
"For distinguishing himself by extraordinary achievement while participating in an aerial flight against enemy forces in the vicinity of the Matiana Islands, on 16, 19 and 20 June, 1944, as pilot of a carrier based fighter plane. While escorting two of our torpedo planes in a long range search for enemy naval forces, he encountered two enemy search planes and shot both of them down in flames, thus materially hampering the search activities of the enemy. In addition, in the course of fighter sweeps over enemy airfields, he straddled and destroyed two enemy fighters on the ground. His courage and skill were at all times inspiring and in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

M. A. MITTSCHER, Vice Admiral, U. S. Navy, Temporary Citation.

THIRD PARTY GROWS.

Barr of New Orleans, chairman of the recent campaign to make Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia the Democratic presidential nominee.

TAKES DIP IN SURF—This P-38 fighter took a dip in the Pacific en route to its base at Van Nuys, Cal., forcing pilot Lt. H. E. Walmer to swim ashore to beach at Santa Monica. Walmer, who escaped with minor injuries, surveys result of crackup.

CITY COUNCIL ORDERS DOGS VACCINATED

Under a campaign sponsored by the City Council, Dr. C. M. Barnes will hold clinics for the vaccination of dogs for rabies throughout the city beginning Wednesday morning from 10 a. m. to 12 noon at Humboldt on the tennis courts there. Wednesday afternoon the clinic will be held at the high school from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. Dr. Barnes will be at the City Hall all morning Thursday.

It is felt that this is a timely campaign due to the increased prevalence of rabies in Texas this year and the price for vaccination has been reduced to $1.00 per animal so that all may have their dogs vaccinated.

POLISH CAPITAL DUE TO FALL SOON; U. S. TANKS CRUSHING GERMAN FORCES IN FRANCE

MOSCOW, July 29.—Soviet tanks and cavalry reached the southern outskirts of Warsaw and were storming the defenses of the Polish capital today after a 25-mile dash up the east bank of the Vistula river.

(A London Daily Express dispatch from Stockholm quoted a German spokesman that the German army "will make no stand east of Warsaw.")

Front reports said German resistance southeast of Warsaw had evaporated as never before on the eastern front as Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky hurled his powerful 1st White Russian army against the capital on a 20 mile arc curving from the east bank of the Vistula to the northeast.

While one column speared through to the southeastern outskirts, another drove to within a few miles of Minsk Maz railway station, 18 miles east of Warsaw on the railway from Siedlce. Rokossovsky appeared to be concentrating the entire strength of his assault on Warsaw along the east bank of the Vistula.

His immediate objective presumably was the east bank suburb of Praga, controlling all railways running into Warsaw from the east. Two bridges span the Vistula from Praga to Warsaw proper on the west bank.

The fall of the by-passed stronghold of Brest Litovsk, 115 miles east of Warsaw, to elements of Rokossovsky's army yesterday released huge additional forces for the assault on the capital and its early capture was anticipated.

Thirty-four generals were commended by Premier Marshal Josef Stalin in an order of the day for their part in the seizure of Brest Litovsk.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, July 29.—American armor defeated the Germans in a big tank battle in western Normandy today and resumed the powerful drive which had captured Coutances and carried to the sea, trapping thousands of Nazi troops in a pocket to the north.

The U. S. column then drove eight miles south from Coutances.

Employing the famous leap-frog tactics used and perfected by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., in Sicily, the west coast armored column and at least three others inland swept across the Sienne and Soule rivers—previously mentioned as possible enemy defense lines—and engulfed or by-passed scores of towns and villages in what was developing into one of the greatest American victories of the war.

Though the early stages of their retreat were chaotic, the Germans now appeared to be conducting an orderly withdrawal along the entire western half of the front so rapidly that indications were they may not halt for a stand short of Avranches, at the hinge of the Normandy and Brittany peninsulas 25 miles south of Coutances.

The German-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau said the Americans were attacking with 10 to 12 tank divisions—an estimated 2500 tanks—in an offensive apparently designed to smash into the heart of France in an attempt to split the German armies in two and clear the southern flank for a drive on Paris.

STB also reported that the American and German armies were engaged in a "gigantic tank battle" between the west coast of Normandy and the Vire river south of St. Lo, but American field dispatches said the advance was meeting only sporadic resistance.

LONDON, July 29.—A force of 1,100 American heavy bombers struck Germany's Leuna synthetic oil plant at Merseburg for the second successive day Saturday morning, and also attacked the north-western port of Bremen.

The blow was in the wake of an attack by 1,100 heavy British war-planes which blasted Stuttgart, Hamburg, Frankfurt and buzzbomb bases in France at a cost of 62 planes.

American bombers also raked Nazi airbases at Juvincourt and Laen-Couvion northeast of Paris.

A heavy escort of Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings, accompanied the bombing force.

A German occupied village in the Brest peninsula believed to be a German headquarters was wiped out by RAF Spitfire fighter bombers in an attack at breakfast time Saturday morning.

The village of Scrignac, consisting of between 300 and 400 houses, had been evacuated of the civilian population and a German garrison had been installed.

The only building left standing after the bombing was a church, which pilots reported remained amid a great heap of rubble.

An air ministry communique said the night bombers were engaged in numerous combats over the Reich by German night fighters and that the British shot down at least 21 German planes and many more probably were destroyed or damaged.

BOMBS POUND JAPAN'S BIG IRON CENTER

A SECRET SUPERFORTRESS

BASE, July 29.—American Superfortresses pounded the vital manufacturing city of Aushan in Japanese-held Manchuria Saturday, gutting intricate installations which official sources predicted will take 12 months to rebuild.

It was the first blow of the war at Aushan, 75 miles south of Mukden and the second largest producer of pig iron in the Japanese empire.

At the same time, other squadrons of B-29s carried out a diversionary raid on the Chinghsien railway yard, a bottleneck on the Peiping-Hankow line which the enemy now is trying feverishly to rebuild.

First Daylight Blow.

The big planes in the Manchuria raid executed their first daylight attack.

They took off from this secret base at dawn, and a few hours later they broke their radio silence to flash the code word for which everyone had been waiting, the word which signalled:

"Bombs away over the target. Formation now on homeward run."

NEW YORK, July 29.

In its best whining voice, the Tokio radio complained Saturday that American flyers now are bombing innocent countries such as Manchuria—a mere bystander in this conflict which "has not declared war" on the United States. The announcer said: "Manchuria has not declared war on the Anglo-Americans and this is the first raid by the American Air Force on Manchuria."

PHILIPPINE FAITH.

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick, but the desire, when it cometh, is a tree of life." And if the much-enduring Filipinos, penned in as they are by the Japanese, are aware of what is going on in the outer world, they must be rejoicing because the United States has kept its word to them, and their complete liberation before long is certain. The President recently signed the congressional act, to be effective as soon as possible after we have driven out the invaders. Presumably that will be sooner than July 4, 1946, the date originally set for independence.

Thus will end a historical chapter at the same time tragic and generous. We shall have more than made good our promises, and we shall have set an example to the world in the realm of international affairs. It is something which land-grabbing powers would never be able to understand, but it is in line with the humanity and progress really operating in this suffering world, in spite of all the cruelties and stupidities.

THE MAN OF WORDS.

Harper's Magazine, way back in March, published an article called "Wendell Willkie, Man of Words," in which Fred Rodell tried to prove that Willkie had talked his way up in life and had nothing to offer but words. Mr. Willkie objected to a few statements, and there were some letters back and fourth. Willkie-admirers got mad, and Willkie-dislikers were pleased. But the basic implication seems to have escaped most of the controversialists.

Granted that Willkie is a man of words, and not of executive directing power, are not words important? The writers of the Bible were men of words. Shakespeare was a man of words. So was Socrates. So have been all the great teachers of the world.

A serious mistake of democracies, and especially of our own, is to believe that if a man is good at one thing he's good at something else. But Beethoven would have been a poor fish trying to write the plays of Shakespeare. Ability is not always translatable into strange fields.

If Willkie is only a man of words, he's a good one, with the interests of his nation at heart. Why not keep him at his word job? He might inspire in Americans a stronger sense of their duties and their power to fulfill them.

NEW SOAPLESS SUDS MAKE A BIG HIT

Something in the nature of a miracle has come to town, and offers blessed relief from hard water washing problems. It is said to be a better, faster, safer than soap. It's called Soapless Suds and much magical qualities are claimed for it that even the armed services are using it for laundry and baths in the salty water of the South Pacific.

Not only does it thoroughly clean everything from dishes, linens, hosiery, sweaters, baby clothes, and all other washable apparel but it does it even in the hardest, coldest water. What's more, it leaves no ugly scum or soapy residue ring around your wash basin or sink. Better still, it requires no water softener and gives seven times more suds than the purest soap flakes.

It's said but true that frequent washings in most soaps remove natural oils from rayon, nylon, silk, linen, wool—and from hands that do the washing! This removal of the oils results in tough, brittle fibers, loss of elasticity, and the primary cause of disintegration of hosiery and fine fabrics. And hands get red, chapped, old-looking before their time. Inquire at your favorite drug or department store.

WAR - TO-PEACE CONVERSION IS ORGANIZED

WASHINGTON, July 29.—A man with as varied a background as the demands his new job will make on him took over one of the biggest, and perhaps the most vexing jobs, of the war-to-peace conversion era Friday—that of director of the office of contract settlement.

Robert H. Hinckley, 53-year-old Ogdon, Utah, corporation executive, took the oath at a white house ceremony, a new milestone for the onetime instructor in languages, automobile dealer, airways organizer, state legislator, regional and federal relief official, chairman of the civil aeronautics authority, and assistant secretary of commerce.

It's anybody's guess how many billions of dollars will be involved in war contracts which Hinckley will be responsible for terminating.
John M. Hancock, former chairman of the point contract termination board, says that if the war should end now, the value of materials acquired and work done on pending and unfinished contracts would be somewhere around $25,000,000,000 or $30,000,000,000. Others think that is too high and the minimum should be $10,000,000,000 or $15,000,000,000.
"I'm here to get a job done," was Hinckley's approach to the task after he was sworn in by Associate Justice Harold M. Stephens of the United States court of appeals in the white house offices of James F. Byrnes, war mobilization director.

Hinckley's newly created office is independent of other agencies, but he said he will co-operate and work with Byrnes as a matter of practical administration.
Hinckley, a familiar official figure on the Washington scene back in the mid-thirties, said he had resigned as assistant to the president of the Sperry Corporation in New York to take over his new post.
