Cisco's Fame Climbs As Playground For Texas, Southwest

Lake Cisco is steadily gaining fame—slowly but surely—as a recreational center for both civilian and army personnel. This is shown by recent guests who have been astounded at the facilities at the swimming pool and by the fact that each week Monroe Sweeney, manager of the pool, makes engagements for dates by army officials who want to bring their groups here to recreate and enjoy themselves.

such a magnificent outdoor pool in Texas. Sgt. Wm. Dub King and wife, former sports editor of the Star-Telegram, now with public relations department of 63d battalion at Camp Wolters, and sports editor of Camp Wolters Longhorn, spent the weekend at Lake Cisco. Sergeant King said he much preferred the lake and swimming pool to Atlantic City or Virginia Beach, near Norfolk, from which he recently returned after a visit east on official business. King expects to get a furlough soon and will return to Cisco for a further visit, Sweeney said.

NEW OFFICERS FOR RED CROSS CHOSEN MONDAY

At a meeting at the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon of a representative group of Cisco men and women, Red Cross officers were elected for the year, resulting in the re-election of Edward Lee as chairman of the local chapter and Mrs. W. W. Wallace as production chairman. One or two new officers were created and filled.

The meeting opened with Mr. Lee in the chair and Mrs. Alex Spears as temporary secretary. Mrs. Wallace gave a very interesting report of the year's work, following which the nominating committee brought in its report for new officers. After the reading of this report, Mr. Lee yielded the chair to Mrs. W. C. Hogue, who announced that nominations would also be open from the floor. The final vote resulted in the following staff:

Edward Lee, chairman; R. L. Ponsler, vice-chairman; Mrs. R. C. McCarter, secretary; O. L. Duckett, treasurer; Rev. J. R. Wright, homes service chairman; Mrs. W. W. Wallace, production chairman; Mrs. Jewel Poe, sewing chairman; Mrs. A. D. Anderson, surgical dressings chairman; Mrs. Simon Coplin, knitting chairman; Mrs. Gaston Alford, Junior Red Cross chairman; Mrs. George Fee, war fund chairman; Mrs. J. J. Tableman, special service; Fred Grist, first aid chairman; Jack Farley, water safety chairman; Mrs. L. A. Harrison, nutrition chairman; Mrs. Ed Aycock, home nursing chairman; Mrs. Edward Lee, camp and hospital chairman; Mrs. Jack Anderson, public information chairman; Rev. Leslie Seymour, blood donor chairman; W. J. Foxworth, disaster chairman.

The production report showed: 108 individual workers, 5,917 hours worked, 101,530 dressings made, 40 knitters making 106 garments in 1940 hours. In the sewing department 33 women worked a total of 599 hours, making 382 garments.

MRS. EDMONDSON DIED SUNDAY, EASTLAND

Mrs. Winnie Edmondson, wife of A. A. Edmondson, employe in the county tax collector's office, died at her home in Eastland Sunday night after a long illness. Funeral will be held at the Methodist church in that city at 6 o'clock this afternoon, with burial in the Eastland cemetery.

Deceased was born in the Carbon community and was a most excellent woman. Besides the husband, immediate survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Maynell Gilkey, Eastland, and a son, Edwin Edmondson, member of the armed forces. There are also a number of brothers and sisters, one of the sisters being Miss Ruby Rae Swift, Cisco public school teacher, who spent much time with Mrs. Edmondson during her last illness.

FAMED WRITERS COME TO CISCO FOR HEALTH

The delightful climate and mild atmosphere of Cisco often claims the attention of persons who otherwise would never stop at this small but aggressive and ambitious city, and today it harbors two celebrities under the roof of the Laguna Hotel in the persons of Mary Austin and her mother, Mrs. Maye Van Ness, writers of fame in Texas and the West.

These charming women have temporarily lost nature's greatest boon—abounding health—and stepped over in Cisco because they thought it might be the kind of climate best suited to guide them back to the robust condition characteristic of the west they both love so well.

Miss Austin was born in the great old state of Virginia, was educated at Leland Stanford university, California, but came to Texas when a mere school girl. She and her mother both love Texas and the west and all their writings breathe of that atmosphere.

The young authoress has written a number of books in addition to her feature articles which so often appear in the New York Times Sunday editions to which she is a regular contributor. Among the books are Black Gold, Mud-Moon (rechristened to War, S. Hart), By-Ways to Mexico (foreword by Sen. Tom Connally who placed a copy of the book in the congressional library at Washington), and a number of other stories and features of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and other western states.

She is a member of the National Federation of Press Women and chairman of the contest committee of Texas Women's Press Association, of which she is also a member of long standing.

Like most authors who write because they love it, Miss Austin is very modest and unassuming. She ingeniously endeavored to turn the limelight away from herself to her mother by showing us a little poem written by Mrs. Van Ness, and published in "Dritwind." This poem, "Nostalgia," breathing the romance of the Old West, portrays their love for Texas and her early history and will be reprinted in tomorrow's Daily Press.

DEMOCRAT IS CRITICAL OF PRO ACTIVITY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Rep. Andrew J. May (Democrat, Kentucky) chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, today deplored efforts on the part of anyone to try to put over prohibition while so many young men are overseas, and other young men and women are in the armed forces in this country, removed from their homes and unable to vote.

He was told of efforts being made in Tarrant and Dallas counties in Texas to put over local option in an election scheduled for Saturday, August 5.

"All I want to say is this," Rep. May declared "I don't quite understand those who want to wait until we get into a war—until 10 or 12 billion of our young men are out of the country, fighting for the life of the country and for the liberties of the individual—why they want to wait until that time to try to carry on a prohibition election in the absence of these young men.

"Any decision on such a question involving such important questions of personal liberty should be delayed until the young men get home and have a chance to vote their own views."

PALL OF SMOKE COVERS WARSAW AS GERMANS PREPARE TO ABANDON THE POLISH CAPITAL

MOSCOW, Aug. 1.—The government newspaper Izvestia reported today that the Germans apparently were setting fire to Warsaw preparatory to abandoning the city, which was clouded by a pall of smoke.

Russian tanks, self-propelled guns and mechanized infantry stormed through the northeastern, eastern and southeastern suburbs of Warsaw today behind a mighty air and ground bombardment that pulverized Nazi strong points.

Marshal Rokossovsky's 1st White Russian Army was pouring across the immediate approaches to the Polish capital on a 30-mile arc after cutting virtually all its communications lying on the east bank of the Vistula River.

London sources estimated that Rokossovsky had thrown 1,000,000 men against Warsaw, while Berlin reported that the industrial area of Praga, directly across the Vistula from Warsaw proper, was under assault.

One of the most powerful of Russia's armies began the climactic battle yesterday with the capture of the suburbs of Wolomin, seven miles northeast, Radziman, nine miles northeast; Debe Wielke, 12 miles east, and Otwow, 11 miles southeast, and pressed on toward the capital itself without pause.

Swarms of Russia's famous Stormovik attack planes, roaring out ahead of the ground forces, bombed and strafed troops gradually falling back toward and across the Vistula under the relentless pressure. Shells from mobile artillery and advancing tanks further disrupted the defense, and long-range guns already were pounding the capital.

The stage was set for the final assault by the toppling only yesterday of three of the most formidable strongholds on the eastern and southeastern approaches to Warsaw, Siedlce, 50 miles east; Lukow, 16 miles south of Siedlce, and Minsk-Mazowiecki, 18 miles east of Warsaw.

SAN FRANCISCO.—A successful American landing on Sansapor on the North Dutch New Guinea coast put Gen. Douglas MacArthur 200 miles closer to the Philippines today while predictions were made in London that Britain soon would send a large proportion of her naval strength to the Pacific for the gathering battle with Japan.

Allied forces under MacArthur, in a brilliantly executed amphibious operation, landed on Sansapor Sunday, by-passing 15,000 Japanese troops at Sarong, 69 miles down the coast.

The movement was undetected by the enemy and little opposition has developed, MacArthur said in his communique which disclosed his forces had secured their beachhead, advanced to a strategically important river and had started construction of an airport, 600 miles from the Philippines.

Other American forces, in the same operation, seized the nearby islands of Middleburg and Amsterdam.

An Allied spokesman said the operation brought all of New Guinea under Allied control and removed for good the threatened security of Australia.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF.—American armored forces pushed 4½ miles south from Avranches across the Selune river into Brittany against only sporadic resistance today, rupturing another possible German defense line in a drive aimed squarely at the heart of France.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley sent one armored column rumbling across the Selune river, separating Normandy from Brittany, at Pontaubault, 3½ miles south of Avranches, and another spearhead across at Ducey, 4½ miles southeast of Avranches.

LONDON.—Hundreds of German nationals fled from Turkey today and their embassy staff prepared to follow them, as Allied sources predicted that the Turks, defying Nazi threats of reprisals, would break relations with Germany within the next 24 hours.

ROME.—British and German forces locked in a swaying battle of tanks and infantry almost in the outskirts of Florence today and official reports said the 8th Army veterans were slugging forward yard by yard against some 50,000 to 75,000 crack Nazi troops manning the last hill defenses below the city.

(London dispatches intimated that the fall of Florence was imminent, reporting that Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander, Allied commander in Italy, had appealed to patriots inside the city to prevent the retreating Germans from blowing up bridges and communications.

COPS AND ROBBERS.

Despite all the comment which has pursued the nomination of Senator Truman as President Roosevelt's running mate next November, nobody seems to have hit on the reason why he is a natural for the role.

Many have suggested that Dewey's rise owes much to the public's fondness for the game of "Cops and Robbers." Roosevelt knows this as well as anyone.

What better way to combat this than by enlisting a countersleuth? Senator Truman's performance as Chairman of the Senate Committee investigating the war effort has commanded national attention and approbation.

If Tom Dewey wants to play Sherlock Holmes, Harry Truman can give a good imitation of Ellery Queen.

As a matter of fact, sober-minded American thinkers of the politically independent type will welcome all information based on fact that either of the two gentlemen can furnish.

KILLING BEAUTY.

The Germans like to use monuments of historical or aesthetic value to hide behind, to signal from, to set up artillery in. The Allies, as at Cassino, hesitate to shell buildings or positions of interest to the world.

It's a maddening state of affairs. The world held its breath about Athens. The Acropolis, with its historic buildings, was spared, for which the world is glad.

At Cassino, the monastery had to be reduced by Allied artillery fire, to the world's great loss. Rome was taken without much disaster to historic treasures.

For Florence is probably the city with the greatest amount of man-made beauty in the world. It was the center of Renaissance literature and art.

To kill such beauty is to leave scars on the soul of the world.

RUTH CLASS ENJOYED PROGRESSIVE SUPPER.

A group of young women of the Ruth class of First Baptist Sunday school entertained class members with a progressive supper Monday evening. Guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Joseph L. Kreps where the first course was served. Mrs. Cooper Waters presided in the absence of the president. A song "Love Lifted Me" was sung by the class with Mrs. G. M. Stephenson, mother of the hostess, playing piano accompaniment. Mrs. Ben Crawford read Colossians, chapter three, as a devotional and gave a comment which was well received. Mrs. C. R. Stricklin offered the invocation. The class then proceeded to the home of Mrs. Cooper Waters for the main course. The dining table, overlaid with linen cloth, held a pretty centerpiece of roses and other seasonal flowers flanked at the sides by tall lighted white tapers. The meal was served buffet style from the dining table, following which guests were seated on the back lawn while eating. The menu consisted of potato salad, pressed ham, salad wafers, cheese, beets and pickles with ice tea.

A business meeting was held and Mrs. Waters appointed a committee to nominate a vice president to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Jack Norman moving from the city. Mrs. J. T. Richardson is chairman of the committee, with Mrs. Rowland and Mrs. Bledsoe assisting. An offering was made to the class general fund. The final stop was made at the home of Mrs. Charles Clark where the group was served a lovely dessert of peach ice cream and cake. Guests were seated on the lawn of this well appointed home.

Those present were Mrs. Cooper Waters, Mrs. M. D. Fox, Mrs. Chester R. Stricklin, Mrs. F. B. Clappitt, Mrs. Richard Turknett, Mrs. Sones, Mrs. Joseph L. Kreps, Mrs. A. G. Where were you on the night of August 1, 1929?

Could you remember, if you were squirming on the witness stand? Probably not. 15 years is a long time. Maybe, being August first, you were writing checks to pay the monthly bills. Do you remember how much you paid for electricity? That's a tough one, too, isn't it? Actually, if yours is an average household, your electric bill may have been a little less than it is now. But today you're getting twice as much electricity for your money! How come? Well, while the price of electricity was coming down, your use of electricity was going up. You have a lot more electric appliances in 1944 than you had in 1929. But you enjoy all these added comforts at little, if any, added cost! Even if you're hazy about everything else that's happened in the last 15 years, remember this wartime bargain. It's due to hard work by all our people - and sound business management.
