L. B. PLATT FORMER CISCO MAYOR, DIES

L. B. Platt, about 70 years of age and a former resident of Cisco, died at his home in Plainview Tuesday, according to information received here by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth. Burial will be held in Dallas, tomorrow.

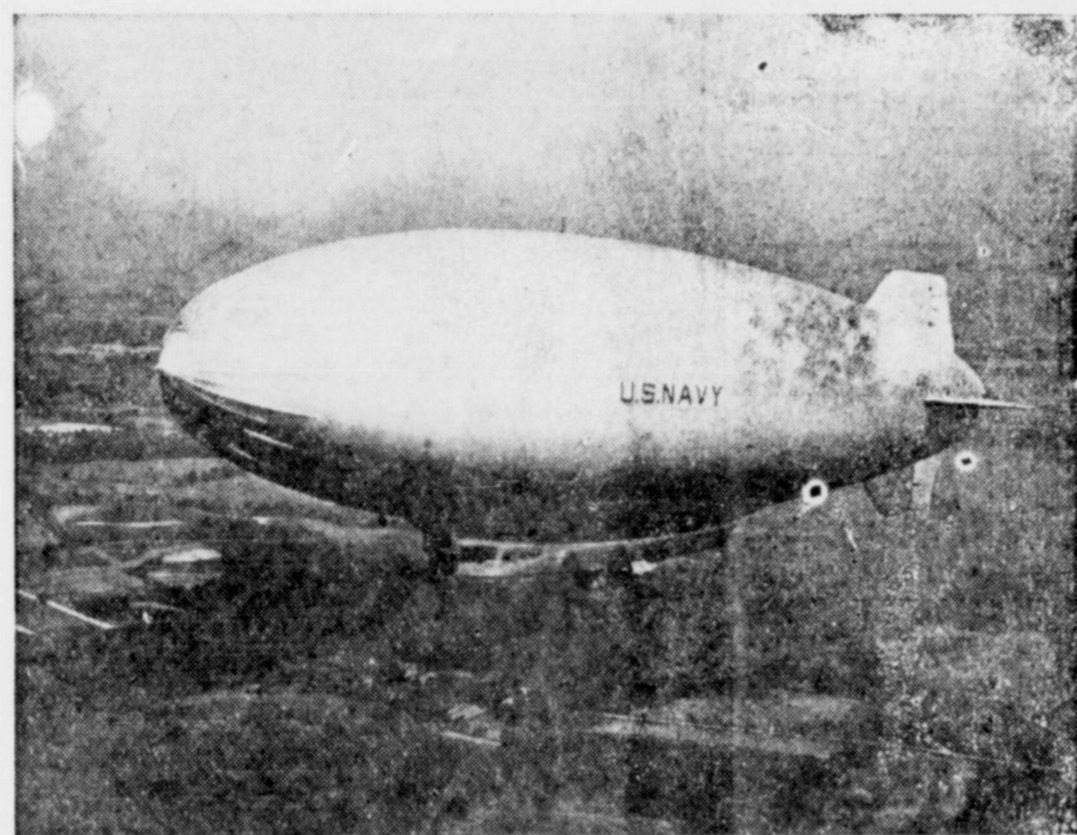

Mr. Platt, who was highly esteemed here and served as mayor of Cisco two terms, left Cisco about 1912, according to the best recollection of Howard D'Spain. The two occupied a building on the site of the present Moore Drug store for a number of years, Mr. D'Spain being in the drug business and Mr. Platt in the jewelry business. The building was destroyed by fire about 1910-11 and it is not recalled that Mr. Platt returned business locally after the fire. He has been in the produce business at Plainview for several years.

MICHAEL ON DUTY OFF THE FRENCH COAST

The Daily Press has received a large photograph of William F. Michael of this city, member of the U. S. Coast Guard and now serving off the French coast as motor machinist's mate of the third class. The photograph and communication came from the public relations division of the Coast Guard, Washington.

"Coast Guard Wm. F. Michael, motor machinist's mate of Cisco, Tex., is now serving aboard a coast guard-manned LST in channel waters off the French coast. His vessel, which participated in the initial assault in France, has been ferrying men and material from Britain to France since D-Day."

The photograph, now on display at this office, shows the Ciscoan at work on a huge motor.

NEW BLIMP—Navy's newest and largest blimp is first to use fully controllable-reversible propellers similar to those on huge flying boats. Electric propellers bring M-I blimp to virtual standstill in air and facilitate landings and take-offs.

MAJ. SURLLES CABLES HIS PARENTS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Surlles this morning received a cablegram from their son, Major Donald Surlles, announcing his safe arrival overseas. The parents have no idea where the Ciscoan is, he having departed from New York about two months ago.

Major Surlles is a member of the air forces and his wife is making her home in Salt Lake City, Utah. Recently the wife received 40 letters from the major in one day, which indicates he is constantly moving about.

SERVICE HONORING CLIFTON DOGGETT

There will be memorial services for Corp. Clifton Warren Doggett at First Baptist church Thursday night, 8 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Cooper Waters.

Corporal Doggett, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Doggett, former Ciscoans but now residing in Houston, was a member of the Marines and was recently killed in action in the South Pacific. He attended the Cisco schools, was a member of the Lobo football team and was regarded by all who knew him as an exemplary young man.

HAYS BE RETURNED

Sheriff John Hart, here from Eastland this morning, stated that Lawrence Hays, who was alleged to have stolen an auto from Sam Carmichael here about two years ago, and who escaped from the Eastland county jail a few days after his arrest, is now serving a six-month jail sentence in Los Angeles, Calif., and will be returned to this county to stand trial when he has completed his Los Angeles sentence. This was the first news of Hays since his hurried departure from this county more than two years ago.

LIONS WORK TO LIGHT FOOTBALL FIELD

Lions occupied their time at the luncheon today at Mobley hotel in business discussions which had to do with lighting the football field, selling wire and posts around the old softball field, setting a temporary time for the luncheon, reporting on the scrap paper drive and making it a permanent feature, and setting Sept. 14 as a 100 percent attendance meeting to honor the local club president.

The report on lighting equipment and the proposal to sell at greatly reduced price to the school board, was heard from the committee and reported favorably by the body.

The Humble company and West Texas Utilities company were given a vote of thanks for their splendid cooperation through donations to help Lions in their activity to light the football field.

Lion Jay Garrett reported around $80 as a result of the scrap paper drive and it was voted to continue the drives as long as the need for scrap is evident. The last Thursday in September (Sept. 28) was set for the next drive.

It was brought out in the discussion that any amount of scrap—only one paper or one magazine would be acceptable—if tied and placed at curb. It was also brought out that some housewives had paper that had not been gathered. If Jay Garrett at West Texas Utilities company or President Carlos J. Turner are notified, any neglected scrap will be picked up now.

On motion 12:30 was the hour set temporarily for the Lions luncheon.

3 GOVERNORS ASSAIL POLITICAL BOSSES

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 30.—Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin, joining Tuesday night with two other Republican governors in opening Thomas E. Dewey's presidential campaign, assailed political bosses and said Dewey "believes in honest government by honest men, honestly arrived at."

In a Blue Network broadcast the governor asserted: "I know you will feel the same pride I feel in knowing that Tammany Hall is against Governor Dewey—that Frank (I Am the Law) Hague is against Governor Dewey—that Boss Kelly of Chicago is against him."

Governor Baldwin delivered his speech from this city while Gov. Earl Warren of California broadcast from Sacramento and Gov. Dwight H. Green spoke from Chicago.

Because of his belief "in honest government," Governor Baldwin said, the "political bosses have staked all they've got to beat Tom Dewey. With them it's a matter of political life or political death."

Green said discussions of campaign issues "properly begins with a comparison of the national candidates and the organizations which have been set up for the conduct of the campaign."

"We in Chicago, where both conventions were held, will never forget them," Green asserted. "Every detail of the proceedings which nominated the fourth term candidate was dictated by the New Deal high command, and carried into execution by the bosses of the big city New Deal machines, Kelly and Hague and Flynn and Hannegan."

"The sorriest spectacle of all came with the nomination of the New Deal candidate for Vice President when delegates, who the night before had shouted in frenzy for Henry Wallace, obeyed the orders of Hannegan and Sidney Hillman and voted for Truman."

Warren declared that "the Republican party does not propose to buy this election," and added it would insist "that Mr. Sidney Hillman and his committees be barred from doing it also."

"We know that they do have in mind lavish and uncontrolled campaign expenditures in behalf of the New Deal candidates," Warren said in a radio address. "Their real purposes have not been fully disclosed."

REDS TAKE CONSTANTA, MAIN NAZI BLACK SEA NAVAL BASE; BULGAR BORDER 29 MI. AWAY

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 30.—Rampaging American forces, surging at least 12 miles beyond the Aisne river, broke into and reportedly captured Laon, only 36 miles from Belgium, today and Berlin simultaneously conceded the fall of the medieval city of Rouen guarding the approaches to the robot coast.

(A British broadcast heard by CBS said the Americans north of the Aisne had captured a village "almost exactly 30 miles from the Belgian border.")

The twin victories came as other Allied armies raced more than 100 miles east of Paris to within 90 miles of the German border, and linked their bridgeheads across the Seine northwest of the capital along a 50-mile front in a frontal smash toward the robot bomb sites along the channel coast.

Unofficial reports reaching supreme headquarters told of the fall of the four-way highway and railway hub of Laon, 60 miles northeast of Paris, cutting another network of escape highways and railways leading from the robot coast to Germany.

While headquarters was unable to confirm the report immediately, the mile-an-hour pace of the fast-rolling American tanks and infantry columns spearing toward Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany indicated that it was true. The Americans were within a mile and a half of Laon last night.

A German communique announced that Nazi forces had evacuated Rouen, on the Seine 65 miles northwest of Paris, after destroying all harbor installations and "other objectives of military importance."

The Germans apparently pulled out of Rouen, where Jeanne d'Arc was burned at the stake in the public market square May 30, 1431, to escape encirclement by Allied armies closing in from the south and east in a drive toward the robot coast.

The fall of Rouen was expected to speed the Allied march on Le Havre, 45 miles to the west, and Dieppe, 37 miles to the northwest.

HART IS HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. John Hart received a letter Sunday from their youngest son, First Lt. Billy B. Hart, co-pilot on a late type bomber plane. He is in England and in good health. The Eastland countyman, 21 years of age, joined the service in October, 1942, and has been overseas since April. Recently he sent his mother an air medal and an oak leaf cluster he had been awarded, but gave no details. He was formerly attached to a B-24 bomber.

WONDERFUL RAINFALL

Three and nine-tenths inches of rain fell in Cisco on Saturday morning until 2 o'clock this afternoon, according to the gauge at city hall. One of the hardest downpours came this morning and the deluge is thought to have been pretty general over this area, which would seem to mean that all water tanks are now well supplied. Indications this afternoon were for more rain tonight.

LIEUT. KING DECORATED

Lieut. Walter S. King, son of Mrs. J. G. Stuteville of route four, Cisco, who is with the air forces in the south Pacific, was recently decorated with the air medal for meritorious achievements while participating in aerial flights from January 24 to June 4, 1944. King's bomber group was active in the Hollandia Isles area, it is said.

POLITICAL COOPERATION.

The present political situation at Washington seems to offer a good example of the American principle that "politics stops at the water's edge." Both Secretary Hull and Governor Dewey have shown a patriotic disposition not to muddy the waters unnecessarily in either foreign or domestic issues. As John Foster Dulles, a Republican adviser, has announced, both sides feel that the world peace consultations in progress are nonpartisan in nature, and devoted to a common purpose.

Undoubtedly, as Mr. Dulles adds, there will be "plenty of political discussion on many aspects of foreign affairs, especially in regard to past conduct of foreign policy." But the important thing is a genuine effort of the two political groups to get together so far as possible, so as to present a united front to the world at a time when international problems are vitally important. If this attitude can be maintained on both sides, it will mean a big step forward in American unity and influence.

NEW NONSENSE.

There is a saying, attributed to Thomas Carlyle, that "man shall live not by bread alone, but largely by catchwords." This seems especially true in recent times. One of the most notorious examples has been the so-called "New Order" imposed on a large part of Europe by Adolf Hitler.

It was not a really new order, but an ancient tyranny. Millions of men have been fooled by novel words, phrases and promises, combined with an intolerant fanaticism reminding history-minded people of the Arabian prophet Mohammed, who set the world aflame in the sixth century.

Hitler is now tottering to his fall. But even in his passing, so malign a figure may still pour out vials of evil that will continue to poison large groups of mankind. Such combinations of hatred, envy and ruthless ambition are to be expected from time to time, even in a world mostly given to common sense.

Perhaps they should be handled like medical cases, with their symptoms carefully observed, their aberrations analyzed and appropriate treatment given them. Such procedure with Hitler might have saved this poor old world a lot of trouble.

DEATH OF A MOVEMENT.

The National Union for Social Justice is dead. Once it reputedly had from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 members, though its business secrets were well kept. Now it has given up the ghost, and for some years Father Coughlin has confined himself to his religious duties.

This ends what once bade fair to be a formidable political movement. It was not a political party, but hoped, like the Ku Klux Klan and the Anti-Saloon League, to gain its ends by swinging millions of votes to its favored candidates. In 1936 Father Coughlin even ran his own candidate for president. Had he run himself, the familiarity of his name would certainly have caused the ticket to do better; but Coughlin was ineligible, having been born in Canada. Congressman William Lemke of North Dakota, his little-known substitute, polled only 222,000 votes. Father Coughlin promised to go off the air if Lemke polled less than 5,000,000, and kept his promise.

Whatever the intentions of its founders, the National Union for Social Justice attracted many Fascists, anti-Semites and downright hoodlums. Its weekly, "Social Justice," was frowned on by the government after Pearl Harbor and suspended publication. Father Coughlin has ceased his political activities, and now his movement has ceased to be. It will not be widely mourned.

OPEN FORUM

Editor Daily Press:

Mr. Myron G. Blalock, National Democratic Committeeman, states through the press, that James Wheat of Woodville, Fred Minor of Denton, Homer Harr of Lubbock, W. H. Rampey of Winters, and "four other electors who asked that their names be kept in confidence" have written him that they would vote for Messrs. Roosevelt and Truman.

If these gentlemen are not willing to carry out the instructions of the convention that nominated them, they should resign; and that goes also for Mr. Blalock.

The New Dealers complain that the people are denied the privilege of voting for Messrs. Roosevelt and Truman. Let them put out an electoral ticket at the State Convention in Dallas, as they threaten to do, and include on it the eight recalcitrant electors and Mr. Blalock. We will then see whether the people of Texas favor the New Deal, communistic, bureaucratic government, or wish to return to the constitutional government of our forefathers.

Looking Ahead

Mortgage Money.

National Resources Planning Board, in a booklet by Miles Coleman, predicted last January that residential building in the United States would approximate a million new dwellings each year for ten years after the war. There was an "if" in the forecast: If the price could be held down to an average of about $4,000. Well, ten million $4,000 units represent 40 billion dollars, which is a lot of money.

The vision of a million people planking down $4,000 each for a house in a single year is a pipe-dream. People able to make such cash outlays have houses already. These new houses will be sold on credit. Buyers will sign installment notes. Debts will be protected by mortgages in the hands of life insurance companies, loan associations and certain kinds of banks. Uncle Sam may insure the mortgages.

Unfit to Repeat.

There is an old bromide about history repeating itself but some history is not good enough to repeat. We told last week why 94% of government-insured mortgages defaulted, and cost the national treasury more than $600 apiece. If that should be repeated on ten million homes to start building soon after the war, government's loss alone would amount well above half a billion, and that's the small part.

Suppose 9% of ten million new, post-war homes are lost by foreclosure; that would be 900,000 homes. Hopeful owners usually pay 20% down, which is $800 on a $4,000 house. Few buyers, living in such a house a year, could escape a loss of $1,000 at least. This profitless payment for vain hopes would total 900 million dollars. Worst of all, it would come from frugal, self-reliant, home-making people.

Need Not Happen.

The foregoing simple arithmetic would seem pretty gloomy if it absolutely had to happen, but it does not. It offers an idea of how much tax money will be wasted if pre-war methods are used in financing post-war houses. The danger is real. All the controls affecting the quality of building today existed during the boom that followed World War One. Sorry houses may still be built and sold on payments.

Installment home-buying is practical economy. Discounting notes is sound banking. Government insurance of loans has been a blessing; saved many a family from calamity and many a lender from ruin. But shoddy construction blights all this. It makes neither good homes nor good security for a bank loan. Lending is the cue. Mortgage money is the key to better building.

Houses Warrantable.

Buildings under construction need competent and impartial supervision and rating, somewhat as steamships are rated, or as a business firm's credit is rated. This is to protect lender and borrower both against mortgages far out of line with a building's actual worth. Such an agency exists, relatively little-used, but known to lending associations of architects, engineers and general contractors.

Few money lenders are qualified to judge structural fitness. Many a home buyer never sees his house until its inner defects are hidden by decorative enticements. Yet buyer and banker both deserve the protection of a rating that means (1) a home worth the price in working men's money, and (2) security for the bank that holds the paper. Speculative builders in post-war America should have to provide ratings for houses and stand good for them.

REMEMBER THE DAY YOU DROVE THAT BRAND NEW '39 INTO JIM'S STATION?

What a beauty she was... all gleaming with chromium and new paint! Jim was as proud of her as you were and the boys on the wash-rack used to polish the fenders 'til you could see your face in them.

Well, the old buggy isn't quite so rakish looking today—but the motor is still sweet-running for Jim has done a good job of keeping her young.

As you drove less, Jim watched the motor and battery more, knowing that idleness could be more harmful sometimes than wear. He preached the gospel of abiding by the ration program, he cross-switched the tires and kept a constant eye on the little troubles that could grow to big ones.

There is a Jim in every Humble station. The war has taken most of his help and lots of his business away from him. But he carries on because he feels that his most useful job today is to keep vital transportation rolling. And he looks forward to that happy day when you'll drive up in your next new model and say, "Well, Jim, what do you think of this one?"

HUMBLE

OIL & REFINING COMPANY

Serving your essential war time needs today to hasten your motoring pleasures of tomorrow.

Tetra-ethyl lead, when added to gasoline, raises the octane number of the gasoline and reduces or eliminates motor "ping." But tetra-ethyl lead has recently become a critical war material... so critical that the Petroleum Administration for War has directed all refiners of premium grade fuels to limit their production of such gasoline to one-half the amount produced during the six months prior to June 1944. This reduces drastically the amount of premium gasoline available to civilians.

Also in the interest of conserving war-vital tetra-ethyl lead, P. A. W. has directed that less of it be used in the manufacture of all Regular gasoline. Consequently the octane number of this product has been reduced from 72 to 70.

So, if your Humble Station is temporarily out of Eco Extra, or if Humble Regular does not perform in your car like it did in the past, please remember that tetra-ethyl lead is really at war... just one more of those small sacrifices all of us at home are asked to make in the interest of an earlier Victory.

SEGT. AND MRS. BAILEY HONORED FRIDAY.

Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. Parks Bailey of San Francisco were entertained Friday night by a group of relatives who met at Lake Cisco for a picnic honoring the newlywed couple. Sergeant Parks has recently returned from a two-year stay on the battle fronts of Europe.

A sumptuous picnic supper was heartily enjoyed by all. Following the meal a program of music was played on stringed instruments by members of the group.

ELECTRONICS---
THE SCIENCE OF TODAY
THE SERVANT OF TOMORROW

Progress cannot be stopped. It is sometimes temporarily blocked. Occasionally, its course is obstructed and frequently it is slowed. But it is never stopped!

The electrical industry is an example of progress in bringing the benefits of scientific research to you promptly and economically. The wonders of the modern electrical world... the everyday services which you take for granted... are the results of private research by individuals and companies instituted and conducted on their own private initiative.

Today, under the impetus of war, the science of electronics is being explored and developed as never before. In the peace of tomorrow, those developments will be adapted for your use. Your electric service company, the West Texas Utilities Company, will bring those new and improved services to you.

If progress is ever slowed down or stopped, it will be because private initiative and free enterprise have been intimidated, hampered, or destroyed.

Electronically Yours
