EIGHT-COLUMN DRIVE NETS BALLOT, NOV. 62 MEMBERS 7 ELECTION FOR C. OF C.

AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—Secretary of State Sidney Latham has completed his form for the official ballot for printing and distribution to the 254 counties by Oct. 8, thirty days before the Nov. 7 general election, to give the counties time to print and distribute the ballots among voting boxes.

This year's official ballot will carry eight columns with the party listings in the following order: Democrat, Republican, Texas Regulars, Socialist, Prohibition, America First, Independents and a blank column to write in the names of candidates not regularly nominated.

Two constitutional amendments appear on the official ballot, both Dallas-sponsored, one authorizing cities and towns to set up employment retirement systems and the other permitting County Commissioners Courts to vary the distribution of county tax funds.

Only the names of the state, district and local offices will appear under the names of the twenty-three Texas Regulars electors, as the new party made no nominations for these places. However, voters may write in names for any of these offices if they desire, as blank spaces will be available for each position.

LIONS COMPLIMENT HOTEL SERVICE

Lions yesterday voted to extend a hearty, unanimous expression of thanks to Mobley hotel for the splendid meals it has been furnishing and the special courtesies extended by the management and helpers who have made the meals so enjoyable during the time they have met there. At the same time, they decided to resume meetings at Hotel Laguna, provided certain questions were settled to the satisfaction of the committee in charge of the matter.

After much discussion, with many wanting to remain at the Mobley, it was finally decided that the quarters were too crowded for many of the programs that Lions expect to have, and if final conferences with the management of the Laguna Coffee Shop are favorable, the club will meet next week at 12:10 on the roof garden.

Lions N. C. Huston, O. L. Stamey, H. R. Garrett and L. W. Seymour were appointed by President Carlos Turner to complete the contract with Laguna.

Jay Garrett, chairman of the scrap paper drive, announced that gathering paper would be put off from September 28 to Thursday, October 5, on account of rainy weather.

H. R. Garrett was elected to the office of first vice president, made vacant by the removal of Harry Schmidt from Cisco to Las Cruces, N. M.

TWENTY-EIGHT WORKERS.

Red Cross surgical dressings women, twenty-eight in number, completed 1,598 4x8s and 113 4x8s yesterday afternoon. Present at the rooms in the Reynolds building were Mesdames Ed Aycock, E. H. Hester, H. H. Davis, J. D. Hitt, J. E. Burnam, W. J. Poe, L. A. Warren, Alex Spears, James Moore, Bob Latimer, R. C. McCarter, J. A. Jensen, Roy Fournelle, J. T. Anderson, Don McEachern, J. E. Hart, Lora Ford, J. B. Pratt, E. J. Poe, W. W. Moore, C. A. Williams, Willie B. Dunn, Harold McGowan, Les Jenkins, W. C. McDaniel, Paul M. Woods and George P. Fee.

The campaign for associate members in the Cisco chamber of commerce was being completed this week with a response that was highly gratifying to the committee in charge. The drive, Norman Huston, chairman, said, has already exceeded the expectations of the chamber and he expressed his thanks for the response that the business men of Cisco have made.

Letters have been sent to all new members and appropriate membership cards are being prepared. These will be sent out by the local office of the chamber of commerce within the next few days.

Meanwhile committee set-up for carrying on the year's program is being organized, including many of the new associate members. Others of the membership will be called on from time to time to take part in activities of the chamber of commerce.

"We expect to give every member an opportunity to be of service in the organization he or she has joined," said J. D. Lauderdale, president.

Since the first publication of new members, the following have been reported by the working teams:

Boyd Insurance agency, Edwards Cafe, Lone Star Gas Co., Cisco Gas Corp., Maner's Pharmacy, K. H. Pittard, Powell's Cleaning Plant, Schaefer's Radio Shop.

These make a total so far of 62 new members.

WOMEN BOWLERS PUT PEP INTO GAMES

Cisco Women's Bowling league opened the season last night with two fast, closely contested games. Fans packed the galleries and enthusiasm ran high throughout the evening.

In the contest between Palace Theater and Dean Drug, rivalry was at white heat and the final re-check disclosed that Palace had captured all three games, but only by the narrow margin of eight pins. The Blue Blazers won two of the three games played with Firestone. Patsy Allen took high for the evening with 408 pins and Betty Surles was second high with 407.

Wednesday night schedule: Palace Theater vs. Firestone; Blue Blazers vs. Dean Drug.

R. W. CARLILE DIED AT MORAN HOME TODAY

R. W. Carlile, 66, died at his home in Moran at 7 o'clock this morning. The funeral will be held at the Pentecostal church in Cisco at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with burial in Oakwood cemetery, Cisco.

Mr. Carlile was a highly respected man, a native Texan and had resided in this area for more than 50 years. He was united in marriage to Miss Della Courtney about 41 years ago, was a retired farmer and lived in Cisco for a number of years.

Survivors include the wife and four children—Mrs. Hattie Sensing, Waco, Frank and Jack Carlile, Albany and Miss Margie Nell Carlile, who lives with her parents. Three brothers and four sisters also survive deceased, as follows: L. N. Carlile, Rising Star; J. C. Carlile, Lampasas; W. P. Carlile, Seagraves; Mrs. R. C. Farmer, Mrs. R. S. Weirman, Mrs. James T. White, Mrs. Carl King, all of Georgetown.

TEXAS FACES GREAT INDUSTRIAL ERA

DALLAS, Sept. 28.—Texas is destined to have an era of industrial development without parallel at the close of the war, declared John W. Carpenter, president of Texas Power & Light company, to 200 district managers and supervisors of the company meeting in Dallas to discuss company operations and map plans for the future.

"Our own country and the whole world have rediscovered the diversity and abundance of Texas' natural resources, her favorable climate and the alertness of her intelligent, native labor during the years when our efforts have been dedicated wholly to the war program," he said.

"We of the Texas Power & Light company, feeling our own strength and the strength of our Texas neighbors, look to the future with confidence and optimism," Carpenter continued.

Carpenter asked those present to stand for a brief moment of silence in reverence for the ten employees of the company who have been killed or reported missing in the present war and in tribute to the 493 now serving in the armed forces.

CHARLESTON SPEECH.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—When Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, speaks at a Republican rally in the municipal auditorium, Charleston, W. Va., Friday evening, October 6, his address will be broadcast nationally over the National Broadcasting company's network from 9:00 to 9:30 p. m. (EWT). The governor will be introduced by Walter S. Hallanan, Republican national committeeman and chairman of the committee on arrangements at the recent Republican convention in Chicago.

WANT SKILLED MEN.

With the stationing of 25 civilian navy recruiters in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi to supplement the work of civil representatives, final arrangements have been concluded to funnel southwest surplus manpower to the Pacific coast where U. S. navy yards are threatened with acute shortages of skilled tradesmen, helpers and laborers. T. N. Rathbun is the navy recruiter stationed in this territory, and he will be at the Eastland post office one week beginning Monday, October 2 through Saturday, October 7, to assist applicants for these positions.

CHURCHILL TELLS COMMONS HE FEARS TALK OF EARLY SURRENDER OF GERMANY FAR-FETCHED

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Winston Churchill warned the house of commons today that the war against Hitler might well continue into 1945.

"I deplore very much people being carried away into premature expectations of an early cessation of the fighting," he declared in a full-dress report on the Quebec conference and the war in general.

"I shall certainly not hazard a guess as to when the end will come. Many persons of the highest technical attainment and knowledge and responsibility have good hopes that it will all be over by the end of 1944. On the other hand no one—certainly not I—can guarantee that several months of 1945 may not be required."

"There is also the possibility that after the organized resistance of the German state and army is completely broken fierce warfare may be maintained in the forests and mountains of Germany by numbers of desperate men conscious of their own guilt and impending doom.

"We don't consider that the declared date of the ending of the war against Germany must necessarily be postponed until the last desperado has been tracked down in his lair."

The prime minister said the Allied invasion of Europe had cost Germany nearly 1,000,000 men killed, wounded and captured and said "there will be 200,000 of them in the coastal fortresses of Holland whose destruction or capture may now be deemed highly probable."

Allied forces in northwestern Europe have swelled to between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 men, he said, and American losses in killed, wounded and missing, including those in southern and northern France have risen to 145,000. British troops in Europe, he added, are now in a proportion of two for every three Americans. Churchill opened his report by remarking on the change in the war picture during the period parliament was in recess.

The prime minister praised the American advances in Europe as a "model of the military art" and an example of "the propriety of running risks." British advances likewise, he said, have not been surpassed anywhere. Paying tribute to Allied airborne troops, he said "casualties have been grievous, but for those who mourn there is the consolation that the sacrifice was not needlessly demanded."

Turning to the far east, he declared the ten Japanese divisions which were sent against India had been repulsed and largely shattered. The campaign directed by Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten he described as the largest and most important ground fighting that so far has taken place against Japan. Between 50,000 and 60,000 Japanese have been killed in this campaign, he said.

Churchill reported that "complete agreement on every point" had been reached at the Quebec conference, adding that he and President Roosevelt had decided there would be no changes in the chiefs of staff charged with conducting the war.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF.—The British 2nd Army lunged out for the Arnhem gate today in a blazing bid to redeem the river crossing won and lost by the Red Devils of the 1st Airborne Division in their epic nine-day stand on the Rhine.

A field dispatch from United Press War Correspondent Ronald Clark revealed that tanks and infantrymen of the 2nd Army swung back to the attack above Nijmegen today, driving northeastward through the nine-mile corridor separating the upper and lower Rhine estuaries.

Fanatical Nazi Elite Guard units, whose tanks and guns finally overwhelmed the Red Devils little more than two days earlier, moved in to meet the new British thrust, and Clark reported that fierce fighting was in progress this morning.

South of the disputed corridor, other British columns moved eastward toward the Meuse river on a broad front, meeting bitter resistance from Nazi rear guards left to cover the retreat of the main German forces falling back across their frontier into the dubious shelter of the Siegfried line.

At the same time, Berlin reported that the long dormant American 3rd Army front around Metz had flared into furious activity, and fighting on a major scale was in progress between Metz and Gravelotte, seven miles to the west.

The American bombardment of the enemy lines north of Metz rose to "drumfire" intensity, the Germans said, adding that a full-scale 2nd Army offensive in that sector also appears imminent.

Allied headquarters offered virtually no information on the fighting north of Nijmegen, beyond confirming that the last of the 2000 survivors of the Arnhem paratroop band had been withdrawn.

The exhausted sky soldiers passed back through the 2nd Army lines, Monday night and early Tuesday, heading for rest camps, and, possibly, a reception in England such as no British fighting men have been accorded since Dunkerque.

PLAN TO RESTORE ITALY AFTER PEACE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill agreed at a Hyde Park, N. Y., conference to a series of political, economic and relief measures designed to speed the day when Italy can earn its proper place in the great family of free nations, the white house discloses.

The announcement said the two leaders, in a continuation of their Quebec talks, met at Hyde Park Sept. 18-19 and also discussed postwar policies in Europe. It said the result of the latter discussions cannot be disclosed now for strategic military reasons and because they also must be considered by other allies.

CROWDED CITIES.

Jacksonville, Florida, according to a staff writer of the Miami Herald making a Florida tour, is bursting at the seams. Its population, not counting any of the military personnel or the thousands of transients, has risen from 173,065 in 1940 to 246,840 in 1944.

"They're always running out of something here. One day it's beer, the next day it's whisky. Then it's food. Right now you can't hardly buy no cigarets. That bus ain't really loaded. Wait until you see 'em during the rush hours. They pack 'em in so tight, the straphangers are standing on each other's feet. If you ask me, there's too damned many people here."

Problems and headaches are the lot of all these cities. Their crowds and their shortages are difficult to bear. But what will be their lot when the war is over? Will they present the usual old-time appearance of boomtown blight? Or will their citizens take thought now and plan to make use of surplus buildings and facilities for their normal populations?

THANKSGIVING MATERIAL.

Be of good cheer. A lot of things may have been going wrong in this country, but Argentina is reported as sending us nearly 10,000,000 pounds of poultry. (That country can't be so bad after all. Not the farmers, anyhow.)

Dressing plants are swamped, but few people seem to worry about that. Turkeys are being given right of way for shipment overseas, and from all appearances the men in the armed forces will be more amply supplied than any former outfit of fighting men ever were in human history.

UNDERGROUND WARFARE.

War, in spite of its evils, is one of the foremost promoters of resourcefulness and invention. It is imaginable that some day a decrepit civilization, dying on its feet, might start a war to revive its energies. This is not said in praise of war—which God forbid—but in recognition of facts.

Germany, the chief war-maker of these times, naturally took the lead in military and industrial innovations, although now surpassed by Britain and America. One of the most ingenious and unexpected products of the Nazi mind, just revealed, is a gigantic bomb factory established in a French iron mine near Luxembourg, 330 feet below the surface.

H. G. Wells in his prime might have been delighted with such an enterprise, as a masterpiece of scientific imagination. And working for such a realistic start, it is not difficult to imagine a time, if warfare is not abandoned, when whole populations will have to burrow underground like animals, to escape their enemies. From which necessity may the Lord deliver us!

(Files of Cisco Roundup)

Among the old-time residents who have visited Cisco in the past few days are Mrs. James Reed, of Spur, Texas, with her daughter, Mrs. Howard, who are visiting Mrs. Reed's two daughters, Mrs. Pelfry, and Mrs. Hazel Mrs. Reed (nee Mrs. Sallie Groer) has the distinction of being one of the first teachers in the first school taught in Cisco, assisting Prof. Frank Hynette—thirty young minds of the then little town of Cisco, who have grown to manhood and womanhood. She sees the sons of many of her pupils returning from overseas, where they have carried out the principles she imbued into their minds when under her instruction.

During that time she has raised her family of eight children, all of whom have followed the vocation of their mother in teaching the young minds to love their country, and helping humanity. Mrs. Reed, after a few days visit with her daughters, will go to Meridian and visit her aged mother. Her memory wanders back to the days when Cisco was just a little village, made up of people from many states, all living in tents and small houses, trying to bring the results that Cisco now enjoys. It is the old settlers that have laid the foundation for this magnificent structure to be built upon. The solid rock of Cisco was laid thirty-eight years ago. Only a few are left who are the builders of the foundation to the progressive city of Cisco.

The initial meeting of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, under the new administration, met in the secretary's room Monday evening. A quorum of the board was present, and the consideration of business was taken up. The new officers of the chamber recently elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, W. E. Morris. Board of directors: W. E. Morris, Wm. Reagan, J. J. Butts, Walter Ray, George Ames, J. M. Williamson and R. Q. Lee. Advisory directors: B. S. Huey, John H. Garner, H. M. Anderson, A. L. Mayhew, W. A. Cunningham, F. E. Harrell, J. O. Sue, Mrs. A. A. Webster, Mrs. Wm. Reagan, Mrs. R. Q. Lee, Mrs. Susie Webster. The following directors were present at the first meeting of the chamber: W. E. Morris, Wm. Reagan, J. J. Butts and Walter Ray. President Morris announced the following as chairmen of the various standing committees, who were instructed to name their associate members to be approved by the president. Good roads committee — Walter Ray, chairman. Finance—J. O. Sue, chairman. Membership — J. M. Williamson, chairman. By-laws—J. J. Butts, chairman. Entertainment—F. D. Pierce, chairman. New Enterprises — Wm. Reagan, chairman. Civic improvement — Mrs. Arthur A. Webster, chairman. Publicity — Mrs. Wm. Reagan, chairman.

OVERSEAS MAILING SCHEDULE SEPT. 15TH TO OCT. 15TH

Don't Let Your Army or Navy Boy Down!

You can only imagine the terrible suffering and embarrassment that would come to your boy in service if Christmas time comes and he receives no package from you. Words could not describe that feeling of loneliness and pain when other boys are receiving their packages and he looks but in vain. The fact that you mailed it to him but too late for Christmas will be little relief to him. So observe the above dates and be on time.

During these dates overseas Christmas packages may be mailed without written requests from men and women in service. Try your best to mail packages before September 30.

Let's keep up the morale of the fighting front by showing the support from the home front.
