HOLLAND TRAP IS CLOSING

RUSS PAPER THINKS JAPS ARE DOOMED WITH COUNTRY CLUB PUZZLES

MOSCOW, Sept. 30.—Three days after Berlin and Tokio observed the fourth anniversary of the tripartite pact, Pravda said Saturday that "the adventurous theory of the blitzkrieg has had a destructive influence" over Japan's military and political strategy.

Japan joined the Axis Sept. 27, 1940.

The official Communist newspaper indicated that the Japanese were in an almost hopeless position with United States production outstripping theirs; the war coming ever closer to the home islands with the Americans and British superior in the air and on the sea.

It was the most pessimistic picture the Soviet press has ever painted of Japan's chances of winning the war.

The long review made no mention of Japanese-Russian relations. Having started the war, the article said, the Japanese "seduced themselves" into believing that the early capture of large territories would so demoralize the opposition that victory would be won.

"Japanese propagandists have clutched at history to raise the faith of the population in the invulnerability of their country," the writer said. "They relate how a terrible storm in the Thirteenth Century saved Japan from the Mongolian invasion when an armada of enemy ships 500 strong was scattered and dispersed. This reference to a miracle can hardly be expected to reassure anyone."

DOVER SINGS AND DANCES IN STREETS

DOVER, England, Sept. 30.—Residents of Dover sang, shouted and danced through the streets of their battered city Saturday after they were told officially that their ordeal of gunfire was ended. It was just over four years ago that the first German shell crashed across the narrow Dover Strait.

Flags were flown from the windows of nearly all the houses. Men working on the hundreds of shell-damaged houses paused long enough to cheer.

It is expected that thanksgiving services will be held on beaches next Sunday with the archbishop of Canterbury presiding.

Shortly after 10 a. m., loud speakers in the town gave this message:

"The mayor has received official information that all the long range guns on the other side of the channel have now been captured."

The message was also broadcast in the caves, where many people have been sheltering the last month during the fierce bombardment of this little capital of the so-called "hellfire corner."

WHAT TO DO WITH COUNTRY CLUB PUZZLES

At a meeting of stockholders of Cisco Country club called recently to consider means of removing indebtedness against the club and putting the institution on a sounder operating basis, a committee was named which subsequently reported to the group its recommendation that the club building be sold as salvage lumber, the proceeds to be applied against the indebtedness.

According to estimates of salvage men, there is sufficient material in the building to return about $4,400 net at present prices, and it was believed that with this sum the club might satisfy obligations against the property and retain the golf course, which has considerable value apart from its recreational aspect.

"It is better," said the committee's recommendation, "to sacrifice some portion of a property in an emergency if you can thereby keep the other."

It was pointed out that the club building has not been in use for a long while and that its practical value is small. It was also pointed out that salvage values are at a peak now but are not likely to remain so, and that action should be taken quickly if the full benefit of such a project is to be realized.

No action was taken on the recommendation, and the committee itself explained that it was not "set in opinion" and was as reluctant as anybody to see the building razed. But the condition of the indebtedness is such, it explained, that something must be done at once.

Some of the stockholders and other citizens who do not wish to see a piece of property that cost $20,000 sacrificed, even to such a necessity, expressed the opinion that rather than lose the building there were enough citizens who would come to the rescue and help put the property on a sound basis without tearing down the building. There was also a suggestion that the city should take over the club and operate it as a municipal institution in conjunction with its other interests at Lake Cisco.

Fear that the club would eventually fall into private hands and be operated as an undesirable institution was also expressed. Such a private club would detract from the value of the other recreational facilities at Lake Cisco and must be avoided, it was declared.

As yet, no program has been adopted and the situation is still hanging fire. Meanwhile the matter is approaching a crisis in which something definite will have to be done.

WILL LIGHT 117 CANDLES FOR SOLDIERS

First Methodist church will observe World Communion Day this morning in honor of the 117 young men and women in the armed forces from the families of that congregation, said the pastor, Rev. Leslie Seymour.

The names of all of these will be on the bulletin and during the service a candle will be lighted at the altar for each one by some member of their family or a friend.

Following this ceremony symbolizing the desire of all at home to keep the light of Christian faith burning while loved ones are away, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated.

HOMEWARD BOUND—Leading cattle and horse-drawn wagon bearing meager possessions, refugees slowly wend way toward homes in Fallaise. They will be long time repairing destruction wrought by German demolition squads who spared no effort in wreckage.

IMPORTANT MISSION—These grim-looking Allied paratroopers realize seriousness of mission as they board huge transport which will fly them over Holland for largest airborne invasion ever attempted. Additional landings supplement those of invasion day.

TIT FOR TAT—This mass of wreckage is former robot bomb launching platform from which deadly weapons left to bring havoc in England. Deep craters and debris surrounding concrete building show ferocity of air attack by RAF planes.

PACIFIC WAR THE BIG WORRY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Pacific war causes more worry here than had news from Europe. Latest estimates indicate Japan can increase its output of war equipment, military supplies; has enough raw materials stock-piled to last for years; can produce planes as fast as we can destroy them; has army of four million and a reserve of two million not yet called up. Amphibious operations in the war are at least three times as difficult as in Europe, military authorities estimate. Shipping problems are staggering, haven't been solved. As for China, the Burma-Ledo Road, when opened, will carry only about as much goods as are now being flown over the hump.

War Manpower Commission's plans for after V-E day are: 1. Retain 48-hour week and other controls in war-producing and critical labor areas.

2. Redistribute war contracts to level labor supply between abundant and scarce areas.

3. Discourage migration from war centers by emphasizing overtime pay factor.

Administrator McNutt's order freeing returning veterans from all WMC employment controls was forced by Selective Service Director Hershey and Veterans Administrator Hines, who sided with congressional critics' contention that Veterans' Placement Board, not WMC, should handle servicemen's job program. Board was created under G. I. bill of rights, with McNutt, Hershey and Hines as members.

Look for Gov. Dewey henceforth to go over Administration's domestic and war management records with a curbsome that will throw sparks. Having put himself on record on his western tour for New Deal social reforms and for an international peace organization, he's got that behind him, is free to turn his attention to other things. His research staff has been going through the record, item by item. And the Republicans have just begun with Senator Truman. The Democratic vice presidential nominee is going to hear his words in Truman committee reports read back to him constantly from now on by Dewey and others.

Democratic strategy is now being geared to offset possible loss of New York. Roosevelt handlers aren't conceding those 47 electoral votes but they're planning to intensify campaigns in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Ohio, New Jersey, as "insurance." FDR can win, they say, without New York; Dewey can't. But if Roosevelt loses New York, he'll need Pennsylvania and probably one of the other big doubtfuls.

Total farm mortgage debt of the country is down a billion dollars since 1940; farmers' equities in their land are highest in a quarter of a century, agriculture department reports. Farm bloc worries about talk of putting returning veterans on the land; foresees troublesome farm surpluses, if too many turn to agriculture for livelihood.

DALLAS SCOUTS AT LAKE. Scoutmaster Ralph Nance and 14 boy scouts from Dallas are spending the weekend at Lake Cisco. Scoutmaster Nance is a former Cisco resident and a nephew of S. H. Nance.

7TH ARMY TROOPS WADE THRU ROCKET-MORTAR FIRE, ENTER VOSGES BARRIERS TO RHINE

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Sept. 30.—The British 2nd Army drove an armored wedge deep into the German lines below Hertogenbosch today, advancing to within four miles of that rail and road center in a bid to trap possibly 200,000 Nazis pinned against the sea in northern Holland and the Channel Coast.

More than 200 miles to the south, American ground troops and warplanes teamed up in a spectacular tank hunt on the fringes of the Parroy Forest that wiped out at least 106 German panzers in the past 48 hours.

In the same general area, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3rd Army troopers rounded up and destroyed an entire battalion of Germans—possibly 1000 men—who infiltrated the American lines. Patton's men took 113 tanks in two days.

Seventh army troops pushed through rocket and mortar fire into the first two passes of the Vosges barriers to the Rhine, Saturday.

American 1st Army skirmishers and artillery harassed the Germans all along their front from the Echterbosch Forest down to the southern Luxembourg without important changes in the opposing lines, while Seventh Army forces on the southern flank hammered out small gains in the mouth of the Belfort Gap against furious German opposition.

On the Channel Coast, the battle of Calais was suspended for 24 hours to permit the evacuation of 20,000 French civilians who had been living under fire inside the besieged port. Canadian troops just west of Calais captured Cape Gris Nez and its small garrison and silenced the giant coastal batteries with which the Nazis had been bombarding Dover since 1940.

The fighting in Holland, meanwhile, settled down into an unspectacular slugging match for possession of Hertogenbosch, which controls one of the main lines of supply—and escape—still open to the Germans west of the British salient.

LONDON.—The Red Army opened a third front against Hungary today with a thrust into the Carpatho-Ukraine that carried to less than three miles of the Tartar Pass, eastern gateway to the Hungarian plains.

Swinging abreast of other Soviet forces advancing through the chain of mountain defiles linking Poland and Slovakia, Red Army infantrymen breached the main German defenses south of the Tatar Gorge and threatened to spill across the frontier into the Carpatho-Ukraine section stolen from Czechoslovakia by Hungary.

The new offensive, extending to more than 170 miles the Soviet assault lie on Hungary's northern and eastern flanks, came as Russian and Rumanian troops moved against the Southern Hungarian border on a 100-mile front.

Axis reports said the Soviets had crossed the Southern frontier at a number of points and hinted that they had entered Szeged, second largest city in Hungary.

At the same time, Moscow announced new gains in the attack on Riga, capital of Latvia, and reported that 30,000 Germans were killed and 15,745 captured in the 10-day campaign that liberated all of neighboring Estonia.

PEARL HARBOR.—American invasion forces extended their conquests to eight of the Palau Islands today while Southwest Pacific bombers intensified the offensive on shipping in the Philippines and the East Indies by sinking or damaging 12 more Japanese vessels.

Pushing north toward Babelthup, main island of the Palau group units of the 1st Marine Division swept through three more islands off the northern tip of nearly-conquered Peleliu Wednesday and Thursday. Chester W. Nimitz said all were secured.

The Marines who landed under cover of a heavy bombardment, quickly overran Ngesebus Island. They encountered ineffective opposition on Kongauru Island. Nimitz' communique did not identify the third island.

In occupying Ngesebus, which is connected to Peleliu by a causeway, the American forces obtained another airfield within easy bombing range of the Philippines, 560 miles to the west. Peleliu's airdrome, seized early in the invasion of the Palaus, already is in operation.

ROME.—German counter-attacks forced the British Eighth Army to withdraw from a bridgehead across the Fiumicino river in the Adriatic sector today, but further inland American Fifth Army troops repulsed a similar enemy attack at Manté Battaglia, 10 miles north of Marradi.

Heavy rains flooded the battle areas of both the Eighth and Fifth armies, making some roads impassable, even by mules, and swelling the Rubicon and Marecchia rivers into great, fast-running streams which were most difficult to cross.

ORDER OR CONFUSION?

We are better at fighting with material weapons than with ideas. Politics may roar and rumble, often producing more smoke than fire, but the war goes on with directness and simplicity, in spite of its vast scope. Militarily we know exactly what we have to do. We have shaped the weapons and the technique for doing it, and have the unity that is no less important. But politically, in the realm of economics, ambitions, rivalries and passions, everything grows more complicated.

It is an old story. Life would be much simpler and easier if it were not for human nature. Or so we think—especially in times of controversy like the present dog fight into which the national election campaign seems to be developing. Personalities tend to take the place of principles, and people seem to talk and think and decide more and more with their emotions, and less and less with their intellects. Instead of unity there comes division.

Thoughtful people wonder sometimes whether it might not be better to discipline thought and politics as we discipline armies. But that cannot be done without losing our freedom. And freedom is the pearl of great price, whether in peace or war.

PRECOCITY.

Another genius has appeared. Or perhaps it is better to say another precocious youngster. The University of Cincinnati, an Ohio institution, has a 13-year-old student said to be the youngest freshman enrolled in the 125 years of that college's history. His name is Darwin T. Turner. He began his studies in the nursery at the age of two, reached the first grade at 4, and at 7 had finished the sixth grade.

His career will naturally be watched with interest. But people should not expect too much of such freaks. Usually they seem to peter out and are frequently less successful in life than ordinary people.

PACIFIC TRIO.

The Philippine situation is reassuring and consoling. It was a bitter pill when Americans were driven out of those islands at the beginning of the war, with many left behind as Japanese prisoners, in bondage and suffering. There was never any doubt as to the eventual outcome, but the task was necessarily long and hard. Now redemption is under way, and every day adds to its progress.

The Japanese are being driven out, and scattered troops and air forces remaining in the islands are destroyed or expelled. More than 400 Japanese vessels and small craft have been sunk or damaged and nearly a thousand Jap planes destroyed.

In this record General Douglas MacArthur, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and Admiral William F. Halsey must find large satisfaction. The former, who was so greatly saddened by the enslavement and torture of his Filipinos has seemed somewhat removed from the active operation of winning back the islands. But he probably has borne a larger share in their redemption than most observers realize. The Nimitz job speaks for itself. There is honor enough for both. As for Admiral Halsey, his naval operations are winning highest praise.

WEISER-STROEBEL WEDDING SUNDAY.
 Miss Ruth Weiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Weiser, became the bride of Clarence Stroebel, son of Henry Stroebel, in a double ring ceremony held Sunday, September 24, 8:15 p. m., at Christ Lutheran church, south of Cisco. Rev. Rudolph Weiser of Eola, brother of the bride, officiated before an altar of greenery. Candles were lighted by the ushers, Paul Weiser and Norman Weiser.

Music was furnished by Miss Meta Weiser, sister of the bride, who played Lohengrin's chorus as the bridal party entered. She wore a becoming aqua blue taffeta gown with corsage of pink carnations. Martin Luker of Wichita Falls, brother-in-law of the groom, sang "O, Perfect Love."

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a white satin gown, fashioned with fitted bodice, buttoned at back, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. The gown and train was trimmed with lace insertion. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet trimmed with sequins. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her attendants were her sister Miss Lillian Weiser of San Angelo, maid of honor and Miss Elsie Barnhardt of Olney, brides-maid, who were dressed in blue and pink taffeta gowns and carried bouquets of pink asters. Ben Weiser, brother of the bride, served the bridegroom as best man. The groom was escorted to the altar by Norman Luker of Wichita Falls, where he joined the bride.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Rudolph Weiser of Eola presided at the bride's book. The dining table, covered with lace cloth, was centered with a three-tier, decorated wedding cake and refreshment plates and coffee were served to approximately fifty friends and relatives.

The young couple received a number of lovely wedding gifts from those attending and also from other friends who could not be present.

What language is that?

Prof. Tsk is a philologist. Words are his meat: Chinese, Sanskrit or Aztec. He can even understand his freshman daughter and soldier son! But the talk he's hearing now has him baffled.

You, too? . . . Well, it's simply the every-day speech of the line crews who keep your home and community supplied with electricity—come what may. A "shoo-fly," for example, is a temporary line built around a tree fall, wash-out or construction job.*

These men don't coin curious words just for the fun of it. They use them, as a kind of oral shorthand—to speed their work and help bring you better electric service.

Lots of folks take the linemen's work for granted. But they are an essential part of the industry which—under experienced business management—has met every war demand for electricity—without shortage or rationing—at low pre-war prices.

That's an accomplishment in any man's language.

*A "clumb some" is an apprentice lineman. A "gandidancer" is a laborer. A "how eye" is a dead-end eye. "Snoble goble" is anything you can't remember by its name.

Don't Let Your Army or Navy Boy Down!

You can only imagine the terrible suffering and embarrassment that would come to your boy in service if Christmas time comes and he receives no package from you. Words could not describe that feeling of loneliness and pain when other boys are receiving their packages and he looks but in vain. The fact that you mailed it to him but too late for Christmas will be little relief to him. So observe the above dates and be on time.

During these dates overseas Christmas packages may be mailed without written requests from men and women in service. Try your best to mail packages before September 30.

Let's keep up the morale of the fighting front by showing the support from the home front.
