Creager Says Way To Beat Roosevelt Is To Vote For GOP

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 19. — Texas Republicans shut the door yesterday on Texas Regular coalition proposals and made it clear that the only common ground for a united campaign is an all-out drive in behalf of Mr. Dewey and Mr. Bricker.

The statement was dictated from Brownsville by R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman for Texas, who said it was too late to consider a mixed ticket, as had been proposed.

"We ask all Texans who oppose Messrs. Roosevelt, Hillman, Browder to vote for Dewey-Bricker electors. That is the only way we can hope for success."

The statement was made public a few hours after a group of Texas Regulars in San Antonio gave up their independent fight and threw in their Bexar county support to the Republican national ticket. This action was similar to a recent decision at Texarkana, when Bowie county anti-fourth termers met to organize for the Regulars, then voted to join forces with the Republicans.

During a Houston conference, which lasted from morning until night Sunday, the Regulars proposed, according to Mr. Creager, "That the Dewey-Bricker electors withdraw entirely, Republican support to be thrown to the Texas Regular electors; or, that both sets of electors remain on the ballot, the Dewey-Bricker supporters to cease active campaigning and gradually drift over to support the Texas Regulars."

"Our answer to these proposals," Creager said, "was as follows:

1. There are quite a number of Dewey-Bricker electors who definitely would refuse to withdraw. No matter how earnestly I and other leaders might endeavor to throw Dewey-Bricker support to the Texas Regulars, a large element—the majority—would refuse. Other leaders would simply take over management of the Dewey-Bricker campaign in Texas.
2. The method by which the Texas Regulars were forced to nominate their electors is legally questionable. We think they are treading on thin ice from the legal standpoint. In the event suits were brought and adverse decisions rendered or even delayed by the courts, there is grave danger that both the anti-Roosevelt people and the Republican party in Texas would be without a ticket once a candidate, and, therefore, Roosevelt would win in Texas by default.
3. That the logical course would be for the Texas Regulars to withdraw their ticket, organize as anti-Roosevelt Democrats in Texas and support the Dewey-Bricker electors.
4. We offered to recommend the withdrawal of twelve or thirteen of the Republican electors, and by action of our state committee fill such vacancies with Texas Regulars of their naming, the only commitment to be asked of them being that they oppose Roosevelt.
5. A purely negative campaign in Texas for electors pledged to no one but simply against Roosevelt could not possibly win.
6. There is no such widespread prejudice against voting for the electors under a Republican heading, as was argued."

The only way to defeat Roosevelt is by the election of Dewey, Creager said.

"During the last twenty years, 75 per cent of the Democrats of Texas have on one or more occasions voted a Republican ticket," he continued. "A vote for the Texas Regular electors is a half-vote for Dewey. Why not a whole vote?"

October 28th Date of Lion Fun Carnival

Lions Wednesday set Saturday night, October 28, as the date for their halloween carnival of games, stunts, auctioning of pies and cakes and ducking stool events, following a musical program brought by Pop Garrett, who was in charge of the program.

After discussion of the event, it was decided to make the carnival strictly a Lions affair so far as financing goes, by not asking business men in general to donate prizes, but they did ask that all Lions donate whatever they wished, finally winding up by asking wives of Lions to cook a pie and cake each, to be auctioned during the program.

Lion Garrett introduced Miss Ethel Diserens, band instructor for the high school, who in turn presented Misses Anna Mae Diserens and Dorothy Nell Pugh, who began their program by singing a duet and encore with Miss Ethel at the piano.

Miss Anna Mae Diserens then played a saxophone solo with Miss Ethel Diserens again playing the piano accompaniment.

President Carlos Turner thanked Lion Garrett for his splendid treat and requested the young ladies to return for another such program.

Army Lifts Curtain on New High Speed Weapon

THE VEIL has been lifted on production of one of the latest and most powerful weapons to be hurled against the Nazis in the European invasion. Called the "Hellcat" of the Ground Forces, it is a 19-ton 55-mile-an-hour tank destroyer developed and produced by the Buick Motor Division in cooperation with Army Ordnance and the Tank Destroyer Command. Its high velocity 76 MM cannon can operate point blank at enemy tanks and pill boxes at several thousand yards and its high speed and maneuverability make it the most elusive target in tank warfare. Top: Line-up of Hellcats in the Buick plants ready for shipment to combat battalions. Left: M-18 tank destroyers by the trainloads leave the Buick factories for their battle missions. The new weapon has been in secret production for more than a year.

United War Chest Drive Looks Good

The drive to raise $2,700 for the United War Chest in Cisco started off with a rush at a breakfast at the Laguna hotel Wednesday morning when about 60 workers assembled under the leadership of Austin Flint, Cisco chairman, to carry the appeal to the citizens.

The meeting was addressed by W. B. Pickens of Eastland, representing County Chairman Fred Brown, and by R. A. McDaniel, Eastland, county special gifts chairman.

Following their brief talks Mr. Flint gave instructions to the workers and distributed drive material to the teams. The campaign, beginning at that moment, was in full swing today with a response that Mr. Flint said was very pleasing. "The money is coming in well," he said, "and there are very few among those contacted who have not responded liberally to this opportunity to have a part in making the life of our soldier boys abroad and at home more endurable and in sending relief to our fighting men who are confined in the prison camps of the enemy." He pointed out that some 21 relief agencies having to do with war relief and morale-building among the soldiers, sailors and marines, are combined in the United War Chest.

"If there is any person who is missed in this opportunity, they are requested to get in touch either with some member of the working teams or with N. C. Huston, treasurer, at West Texas Utilities and make a gift," said Mr. Flint.

Further particulars of the campaign will be announced in later issues of the Press, he said. Meanwhile, he urged that every worker continue his or her efforts to complete the drive speedily.

"Cisco has made a splendid record in the war effort," he said. "From the response that we are receiving it looks as if this campaign will not be an exception."

Lt. Sarah T. Barker, sub-station commander of the Women's Army Corps recruiting office, Abilene and Corp. Irene Rumsy were in Cisco Wednesday night and this morning, interviewing eligible women for the corps. Medical technicians are needed at once and those between the ages of 20 to 49 inclusive are asked to contact Cisco chamber of commerce for further information. They received three applications this morning.

It is stated that Corporal Rumsy will be in Cisco every Wednesday and appointments can be made at the Cisco chamber of commerce. Transportation, board and room will be furnished applicants to Abilene to take the physical at Camp Berkeley. This will take about two days.

J. D. Lauderdale, president of the chamber of commerce, will be chairman of a committee composed of civic clubs and others to be named by him, to foster a plan in this emergency crisis to enlist women as medical, X-ray and laboratory technicians, Lieut. Barker said. She added that 20,000 women are needed immediately for this work.

TOKYO SAYS AMERICAN FLEET ACCOMPANIED BY TRANSPORTS IS BOMBARDING SHORE LINE

Missing Ciscoan Awarded Silver Star

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—Staff Sgt. George N. Strawn, son of Mrs. B. Strawn, east 16th and Beach streets, Cisco, Texas, who is reported missing in action, has been awarded the Silver Star by the commanding general of the First cavalry division. The decoration was given him for gallantry in action on the Admiralty Islands, March 13, 1944.

The citation awarding Sergeant Strawn the decoration reads: "Leading a reconnaissance patrol into a densely wooded and hilly area, Sergeant Strawn successfully exposed himself in an effort to draw enemy fire and disclose the enemy positions. Succeeding in this effort, he boldly and aggressively moved forward and firing his submachine gun into an enemy machine gun nest, made a further effort to gain information of the enemy required by his commanders. Although shot down by the enemy machine gun in its next burst, he achieved his objective and his patrol was able to withdraw and deliver the required information to the command post. Sergeant Strawn was himself unable to withdraw due to wounds, and a searching patrol which entered the area in an attempt to evacuate him was unable to find him."

Cisco Made 120 Air Combat Journeys Army Needs 20,000 Women at Once

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 19.—Just returned to his country after flying 120 combat missions in which he shot down two enemy planes and one probable, Capt. Charles C. Bodvison is now awaiting reassignment at Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 3, here.

Pilot of a Spitfire and a P-51 Mustang, he was stationed in England, Africa, and Italy during his two and one-half years of overseas duty. In a recent air battle over occupied Europe, Capt. Bodvison's fighter group shot down more than 100 enemy planes and seven probables, while losing only four of their own. Awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Purple Heart, and the Air Medal with 11 oak leaf clusters, the captain served a year in the RAF before transferring to the USAAF in September, 1942.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Bodvison, Cisco, Tex., he attended Abilene Christian college for two years before joining the RAF in November, 1941.

GERMANS FALLING BACK SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, PARIS. — American and British armies followed eastward through hub-deep mud today in the wake of German forces falling back toward the Meuse on a 25-mile Dutch front, and the Yanks were closing in on the village of America, one of the pocket's strong points.

Supreme Headquarters announced that the Allies had driven two miles beyond the Venray-Duerne road in the concerted push toward the Meuse and Germany's Ruhr beyond, and front dispatches said the Nazis were yielding ground steadily behind a stiff rear guard action.

American Seventh Army assault forces stormed the key road junction of Bruyeres on the lower western front in France, smashing half way through the stronghold barring the way to the Bonhomme Pass through the Vosges in the house to house fighting.

CROSS PRUSSIAN BORDER MOSCOW. — Powerful Soviet forces of the 4th Ukrainian army, smashing across the northern borders of Czechoslovakia on a 170-mile front, linked with the 2nd Army today for a momentous drive toward the heart of Czechoslovakia and the strait-torn Hungarian capital of Budapest.

Reports from official German news agencies today said the Red Army has cracked over the East Prussian border and driven beyond the important rail junction of Eydkubnen, about 40 miles east of Insterburg, on the main Kauna-Konigsberg line.

The bombers concentrated on the communications center of Goldbach, 21 miles east of the East Prussian capital of Konigsberg, hitting Nazi military trains parked in the rail yards.

The big drive toward Budapest and the open gateway westward through former Austria to Germany proper was being carried by the 2nd and 4th Ukrainian armies.

SANDLER PROMOTED GAINESVILLE, Ga., Oct. 19. — Appointment of commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the regiment of cadets at Riverside Military Academy here has been announced. Special importance is attached to these promotions, since Riverside is the largest military school and has won the war department's highest official rating as honor school annually since 1923. Among those promoted was Melvin G. Sandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Sandler, Cisco, Tex., who now holds the rank of corporal in Company G.

WAR EMERGENCY Beginning tomorrow and probably continuing for ten days, Cisco public schools will begin classes at 8 a. m. and carry through without activity or noon periods to dismiss at 12:30. This will make possible for children of farm families to work in the peanut, cotton or other crops during the afternoon, with children of city families also free to do harvest work. Our crops are vital war materials, hence this action.

Double-Talk.

FT. WORTH PRESS: We can not make out the President's appeal to Latin-American diplomats and to the American public for creation of the world peace organization "without further delay and without waiting for the end of hostilities." Assuming that his hearers agree, they cannot do anything about it. Mr. Roosevelt himself planned the delay—he and Churchill and Stalin; and only the BIG THREE, who are in complete charge, can change it.

Under the Roosevelt plan announced last Monday the tentative Dumbarton Oaks draft has to be considered by the big three and an agreement reached by them before a United Nations conference can be called. As the president remarked yesterday, "There must of course be time for discussion by all the peace-loving nations—large and small." He neglected to add that the big three could not agree at Dumbarton on the main issues—such as the proposed veto power of any league action by one of the big three charged with aggression—and that this deadlock continues.

If the president really wants quick action, why has he never called the United Nations into a political conference and why does he still delay that call? Is it because he is determined to keep the smaller Allies in a rubber-stamp position, where they have no choice but to accept Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin decisions? And if the president really desires American public discussion of the incomplete Dumbarton draft, which he requests, why doesn't he give the public the facts regarding the controversial issues instead of hiding them in secret diplomacy? The only information the public has on these decisive issues—which dislodged Dumbarton—is of the bootleg variety; information the press obtained IN SPITE OF FDR.

What is Mr. Roosevelt afraid of? The election?

NIMROD, June 11, 1919.—The wheat and oats harvesting has started here, but rains, which are falling nearly every day, are damaging the crop considerably and delaying the work.

Berry picking is occupying the average Nimrod citizen at this time, all being desirous of gathering a quantity to consume fresh, and can for winter, as well as supplying the Cisco market. Ben Westerman has been kept busy since the berries came in, carrying the berries picked by the community to market. The crop this year is not as large as most would desire, but Westerman generally carries quite a load daily, sometimes as many as 90 gallons. Nimrod people are glad to see Cisco on such a boom and furnishing such a splendid market for all we have to sell.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simpson returned Sunday from a pleasant trip to Fort Worth.

Bailey Hutton, who has been in the navy for the past two years, came in Monday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Ben Westerman. He was granted a twenty-day furlough.

Bill Hall, Buford Sharp and Charles Simpson left Sunday for the harvest fields at Putnam.

Mrs. Haywood of Amarillo who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Mann, for the past two weeks, left Sunday to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Stovall at Sipe Springs. She was accompanied by Master Merilee Mann.

Bill Ferguson from Caddo is visiting his grandmother.

Oscar Broyles of Tipton came in last week for a visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Westerman.

Mr. Marshall Broyles of New Orleans, who with her husband will make their home in Eastland, is spending a few weeks in Nimrod.

Miss Alma Townsend of Cook went last week with her brother Ed Townsend.

PUBLIC OPINION

A FREE LAND.

Cisco Daily Press:

Wouldn't it be grand if there were some states left—Colorado say, or Texas—in which old-fashioned Americans could emigrate, as our pioneer fathers did in covered-wagon days? A state where elbow grease is honored and sweat earns its own reward; one where monuments are still erected to men who treat federal hussies as Ethan Allen did with his great beech; a state where a man can blow to suit himself; where a man does not have to join a union in order to eat, but can if he wants to; one that has a legislature of its own to write laws (correction: a state whose wealth is not drained off in taxes to buy the votes and voters in distant parliaments; a state where industry and mining live hand in hand; where men believe that health comes from work and not from the barrens of engineering; a state free from the evil way of vast pressure groups fighting to despoil each other; where the Constitution says no one can hold office for life; where out of debt is a badge of honor; where the fear of exactions by government does not hang like a black cloud over the land; a state where free men despise the sycophants of refugee royalty; a state where men grow tall.

I am not suggesting secession or anything. All I hope for is the old American doctrine of state's rights, home rule, and a free society that will prevent men from injuring one another, but leave them otherwise FREE to follow their own pursuits of industry and employment. Jefferson said that and it still suits me to a T.

I wouldn't swap Tom Jefferson for all the Hillmans, Browders, Berles, Frankfurters, Perkinses, Hojkineses, Tugweils, Wallaces, do-gooders, pay rollers, social wellfarters, uplifters and bleeding hearts in the United States, Britain, Russia and Austria. You can have them all.

I want to keep America American, or at least some of its 48 states.

I am fed up with socialism, nazism, fascism, communism, burocratism, Stalinism, Big Government and MR. BIG.

All I crave is an equal chance with other men, and they wish me, to earn our daily bread. I don't want them to tax my children's bread away to perpetuate their power.

As against the compulsion of centralized power I want the spontaneous co-operation of a free people.

I want another generation to say that Liberty still has a continent to dwell on—or part of a continent.

I know that we have a capitalistic union to walk the beat against international gangsters and some at home, and I am willing to pay a fair price for that service.

But let that union be a limited government BY LAW and not an unlimited government BY MEN.

I want the security of being able to know how far government may control my life, and then plan my life accordingly. I can't plan how bureaucrats will run my life.

I want government to set the rules of the game and not move the goal posts every time I gain a yard.

I am perfectly willing that those who want to be well-served by bureaucrats, who are afraid of life, who want to cling to Mama from the womb to the tomb should have that pleasure. They may fence off whatever space they need and try their experiments—on themselves. I won't bother them.

All I ask is a land where free men can bring new Jeffersons and Lincolns and Nancy Hanks. We once had such states. We could have them again, if we had them now and they were thrown open to settlement, how MEN would stampede across their borders to breathe free air once more.

—SAMUEL PETTENGILL.

One Elephant, Issue, O D

Perhaps you didn't know it before but they are issuing elephants to the troops in the China-Burma-India sector. Elephants complete with mahout. Here you see a Signal Corps lineman repairing a wire while a "sidewall superintendent" on the big beast's rump gives advice. In the jungle and swamplands the elephants are indispensable. Your Army gets the best of everything from chow to elephants, and it is all made possible because you buy War Bonds to buy these supplies. From U. S. Treasury
