ALLIES READY FOR GREAT PUSH

3 Young Women Entertained Rotary Yesterday

Rotarians expressed their delight yesterday at the program rendered by three young women when they gave popular songs in pictures drawn by one of their number, while another sang the song and still another played the piano accompaniment.

At the business session J. E. Hays announced a 100 per cent attendance for last week and said the probabilities were favorable for a perfect makeup for this week. Rotarian Hays also stated that more new magazines are needed for the service men's depot. He said gas had been installed, thus making the waiting room comfortable on cold days.

Rotarian O. L. Savage announced a program at the First Presbyterian church for next Thursday night.

Visitors at the club were Sgts. Walter Banks, Paul Goldstein and Isidor Silver, Vic Behrens, Abilene; Bobby Jo McNeely, Mesdames Ben Krauskopf, Troy Powell and Lonnie Shockley, the three ladies bringing the program. Miss Doris Jamison, in charge of the program, presented the ladies.

While Mrs. Shockley sang, with Mrs. Powell at the piano, Mrs. Krauskopf drew with crayons scenes to visualize the sentiment. Three songs were thus presented.

The first was "Coming In On a Wing and a Prayer" with the artist drawing a plane making its home port from out of the skies.

The second number was "This Grand Old Flag," while Old Glory grew out of the artist's treatment, waving to the breezes in all naturalness.

The cities—thirteen with populations of more than 500,000 each—gave Roosevelt a total of 6,356,859 votes and Gov Thomas E. Dewey 4,273,671, with soldier ballots still to be counted in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and St. Louis.

Four years ago Roosevelt received 6,152,096 in the thirteen metropolitan centers, compared with 4,238,162 for Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee.

New York, Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo, San Francisco and Los Angeles, the survey showed, were responsible for Roosevelt's 1944 big-city vote being larger than in 1940. Each of the six turned in larger totals for him than four years ago, while the other seven produced smaller totals.

Importance of the big-city vote in a presidential election showed in a comparison with state pluralities. The President, for example, received 769,849 more votes in New York City than Governor Dewey, yet carried New York State by only 316,013 votes. The President won Chicago by 415,129 votes but emerged with a lead of only 142,384 in Illinois.

The survey showed that Dewey polled larger totals in seven of the cities than Willkie did in 1940. They were New York, Boston, Detroit, Milwaukee, Cleveland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Death Penalty In All Cases Might Lessen Outrages

DALLAS, Nov. 17.—An 11-year-old Oak Cliff school girl pointed out James Johnson Neely, Jr., in criminal district court No. 2 as the man who forced her to submit to repeated physical abuses in a parked car in a field near White Rock Lake the evening of Feb. 22.

The girl was the first witness to take the stand in the rape trial of Neely, who came here from California. The state is asking the death penalty.

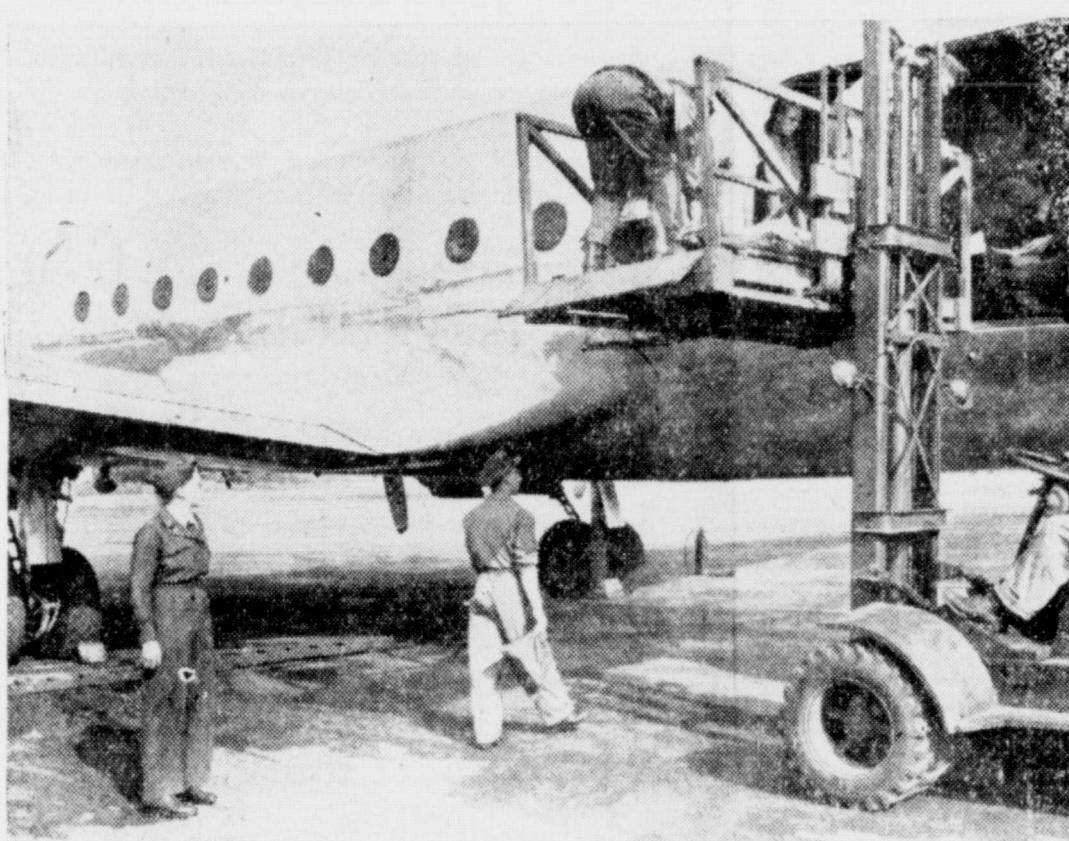

Dr. Watt W. Winn, second witness, told of treating the girl on Feb. 22 in the operating room at Baylor Hospital. He told the jury that his diagnosis revealed lacerations requiring several stitches.

The child told how Neely approached her at a bus stop and asked her aid in finding a lost boy. When she refused, she said he drew a long knife, threatened her, and forcibly led her to his automobile two or three blocks away.

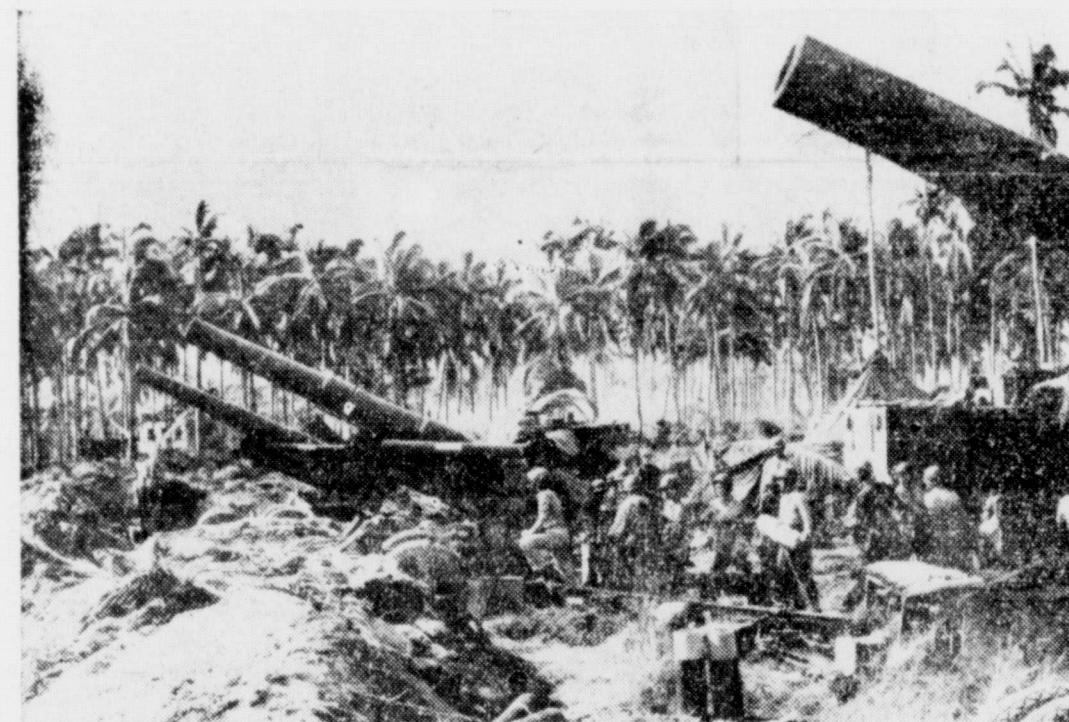

Driving past White Rock Lake, he stopped the car on a bridge, she testified, and made her drink from a tall green bottle. Late, he drove her into a field remote from the highway.

After attacking her several times, the girl said, Neely drove back to town and let her out about one block from her home, warning her against telling her parents what had occurred.

LOADING WOUNDED—Lt. Irene H. Wisti of Houghton, Mich., watches the loading of an evacuation aircraft (C-47) in which she accompanied wounded American soldiers who were being evacuated to U.S. Specially designed lift hoists men into plane somewhere in Scotland.

JAP-BLASTERS—Crews of long range guns of American artillery unit on Leyte quickly reload their pieces for another salvo at Jap positions. Guns continually blasted away at enemy.

DREAMS COME TRUE—This is comfortable atmosphere boys dreamed of during many weary months in German prisoner of war camps. After arriving home on Swedish liner Gripsholm soldiers are recuperating at Halloran Hospital, Staten Island, N.Y. From left are Pfc. Paul Stevenson of Canton, O.; Sgt. Don Garrison of Eldorado, Ill., and Cpl. Charles F. Quigley of Somerville, Mass.

Texas College Set-ups Frighten Mr. Rainey

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—Homer P. Rainey, discharged president of the University of Texas, today proposed that a senate committee before which he was testifying investigate the "interlocking interests" among various boards of directors of state colleges.

Rainey who had been explaining his differences with the board of regents of the University of Texas, which he described as due in large measure to the question of attitudes, broke off his explanation to declare:

"I suggest that the committee investigate how the members of various college control boards got there."

"There's an interlocking of boards of A. & M. college, Texas Tech, Texas, and Texas A. & I. and you ought to investigate it carefully."

"It is such an interlocking that the whole thing frightens me."

Sen. A. M. Aiken, Jr., of Paris, asked Rainey specifically what frightened him.

"Just take the membership of the boards. See who they are and what they represent," said Rainey.

"There is a linking of interests business and financial," he replied to another question.

"Is this a recent trend?" Aiken wanted to know.

"It's been apparent since the summer of 1940," Rainey asserted.

"Has there been a studied attempt in this direction?"

"Yes."

"Is it part of a plan or system?"

"I think that's true."

Rainey reiterated that the committee should investigate carefully how the board members concerned "got their appointments and why they got them."

He injected the matter of personnel of other boards of regents and directors after he had declared that for the past three years there had been many violations by the board of regents of the University of Texas of what generally was considered proper administrative relationships with the president.

"Back of everything is the question of attitudes," he summarized.

NEFF WOULD BE OK

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—Three names had been mentioned today as possible next president of the oil rich University of Texas. They are War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, President Pat M. Neff of Baylor university and President D. M. Wiggins of the Texas School of Mines at El Paso.

SNOW AND SLEET

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17.—Snow continued to fly in Guadalup Pass today, along with sleet and a dense fog, and a light coating of snow lay over Lubbock and the South Plains after intermittent falls Thursday and Thursday night. El Paso reported rain and snow Thursday, the snow melting as it fell. The snow at Lubbock never reached more than an inch or two. Most of it melted quickly. It was sleeting there this morning. The coldest place in the state early today was Guadalupe Pass, with 29 degrees. Dalhart had 35, Lubbock 34, Amarillo 36.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—Assisted by several state departments, a group of local government representatives today began drawing a bill intended to collect some of the estimated $110,000,000 delinquent ad valorem taxes in Texas.

Among persons working on the bill are J. W. Kinne, assessor-collector for a Beaumont school district, T. B. Marshall, assessor-collector for the city of Austin; John Crudgington, Potter county auditor; and Ralph Agar of Brownsville, county assessor-collector.

EISENHOWER THROWS 6 MIGHTY ARMIES INTO WHAT MAY BE THE SUPREME BID TO CRUSH NAZIS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Six Allied armies, staging what may be the supreme bid of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to crush Germany this year, battered out new gains today along a muddy, 400-mile western front. The engagement could become the last massive battle of the war in western Europe.

Two million men may be engaged in the struggle on both sides. The Nazis were believed to have 500,000 men in the line. Prime Minister Churchill said two months ago Allies had between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 troops in France.

The American attack in the Aachen sector of Germany, heading toward Cologne and the Ruhr valley, heart of Germany's war industry, seemed to have caught the Germans off balance. The assault was spearheaded by a massive onslaught by almost 6,000 planes. The Yanks, pouring through a five to ten-mile breach in the Siegfried line, were from 28 to 31 miles from Cologne.

Four powerful American armies

battered through rain and snow toward the German Rhine land

today after first day gains of up to two miles in a great new offensive, while to the north the British Second army flattened the Maas bulge west of the Maas reaching the river with the capture of Wessem.

British vanguards now are only

4½ miles from the Reich frontier at the nearest point in the Venlo-Roermond sector. The triangle formed by the Noord, West-and Zij canals was cleared almost entirely of Germans, and the enemy was taking up positions on a main defense line east of the Maas.

The U.S. Ninth army, thrown suddenly yesterday into an attack

now being pressed by six great armies along a 300-mile front

before the German homeland, registered gains of "several thousand" yards inside Germany through the Geilenkirchen sector north of Aachen, driving to within four miles of the Roer river.

Each of the American armies

now in action has its own supporting air unit. The offensive had opened under one of the greatest air and artillery assaults of the war. Resistance at first was lighter than expected and prisoners seemed stunned by the terror of the air and big gun attacks.

Bergen was believed to be the German headquarters, the dispatch said, with a crack submaniner commander, formerly in charge of overseas attacks on

Allied shipping from bases at Brest and Lorient in France, assigned the task of directing the new offensive.

MINIMUM PAY RATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The CIO today endorsed a proposed minimum pay rate of 65 cents an hour as a "valuable first step" toward development of a sound American wage structure, but declared that it "must be succeeded with higher minima."

DESTITUTE WIDOWS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 17.—The national commander of the American Legion today had charged that thousands of widows and orphans of veterans of the First World War are "living on the verge of destitution in the midst of war prosperity."

FBI AT MEETING

HOUSTON, Nov. 17.—A law enforcement conference of more than 400 peace officers, auxiliary officers, judges, and others, will be held in Houston tonight, under the supervision of Washington agents of the FBI.

BAPTISTS CHOOSE HEAD

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 17.—Dr. E. D. Head, president of Southwestern Baptist theological seminary at Fort Worth, was unanimously re-elected president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas for the coming year. Thos. J. Pitts, Odessa, was elected vice president and Earl W. Collier of Abilene was chosen second vice president. The convention selected Waco as the place for its next meeting, scheduled to be held Nov. 13 through Nov. 15, 1945.

ALBANY MAN FALLS DEAD

ALBANY, Nov. 17.—Jesse F. Nixon, 59, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon from a heart attack while at work. Funeral will be held at the local First Baptist church this afternoon, with burial in the Albany cemetery. He was a son of the late J. M. Nixon, pioneer citizen, was born in Albany and had lived here all of his life. He married Mrs. Mattie Pools at Cisco, Dec. 23, 1917. His wife and three sons survive him.

JAPS HARD MASTERS

LONDON, Nov. 17.—War Minister Sir James Grigg told Commons today that at least one of every five British prisoners, captured in Singapore and Java, died under horrible conditions in Siam's jungles while constructing railroads for the Japanese. His statement was based on information furnished by prisoners who survived the sinking of a Japanese troop transport and subsequently reached Britain.

LANDIS A SICK MAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Rumors that Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis was ready to retire were ripe today as a group of major league officials met to consider the big league agreement which, among other things, provides for procedure to be taken in event of a vacancy in the office. Mr. Landis has been confined to a hospital for some time. He assumed baseball's highest office in 1921.

RAINS SLOW YANKS

SAN FRANCISCO.—Tormenting rains slowed up American infantry closing in on bitterly resisting Japanese in the Philippines today, while 900 miles to the southeast other Yanks encountered little trouble cleaning up enemy remnants on the newly invaded Mindanao islands.

GOVERNMENT AND LABOR

Labor unions in this country are said to be worrying a little about the growing governmental control. And the President who for war purposes has so greatly strengthened the unions is said to be worried likewise. Each apparently is afraid of being taken over by the other. Indeed some commentators suggest that this very thing is occurring right now, or has already occurred.

There is more collaboration now between government and labor than ever before. The unions depend on the government and the government depends on the unions, in a degree that has been steadily growing throughout the war. There is much question as to whether this collaboration will continue when the war is over.

Pressure groups could very easily become a greater menace than the war itself. But the main fact is the toughness of man, his ability to build once again after bitter knockout. That is one of the proudest humanity can hang on to in this war. One of the humancism may yet make fruitless in the peace.

SCHEDULE AND SUPPLY
"Ahead of Schedule" The

TOUGHNESS OF MAN

"Man is tough. Time and again he has shown the capacity to rise out of catastrophe and tragedy. He cannot be defeated. He fights on. Substantially this is the chief news sounds fine to the reader. It is fine. If our army and navy were behind the time tables laid out by the master strategists, it would certainly be time for anxiety.

But being ahead of schedule is a dreadful headache to the Services of Supply. The fighting services forge ahead with their necessary supplies not quite catching up with them.

The fact that big shells are being rationed on certain fronts does not mean that the supply as a whole is weaker than expected, but simply that the flow of materiel is too slow for the army's forward march. It means that more shells are needed right now, this month, than the plan called for. The war can be materially shortened if supply can keep up with the progress of the fighting services. This calls for more, not less, making of shells and ammunition of all kinds today.

It calls for more blood, both in the plasma and in the whole blood forms. Some men are being wounded now who might not have needed plasma for several months, if we were not ahead. The need for blood is desperate on all fronts and in the hospitals at home.

It calls for more buying of bonds, and less cashing of those already bought.

More blood, more money and more hard work are the order of the day at home. The fighters are going right along. Can we keep up? We can and will.

8th RWLB Handled 37,236 Cases In Less Than 2 Years

DALLAS, Nov. 17.—If you are a member or official of a labor union, or an executive of an industry with a cause pending before the National War Labor Board, Eighth Region, just be patient and your business will receive prompt attention, it is pointed out by Chairman W. H. Madden of the regional board. As evidence of the dispatch with which cases are handled by the Eighth Regional War Labor Board, a compilation of statistics by the information division from the reports of the several divisions shows that a total of 37,236 cases have been submitted to the Texas-Oklahoma-Louisiana organization since its start in February, 1943. That is a monthly average of 1,773 placed in the hopper each of the 21 months to date.

Of this great number filed only 787, or a fraction over 2 per cent were on the total backlog as of Nov. 10, 1944. Of these 500 are in the wage stabilization division, 52 in the disputes division, 234 in the enforcement section of the legal department and one in the ruling section of the same.

"We believe this record in handling 37,236 separate transactions by one concern compares favorably with any other business institution having a like volume," Madden declared, "and it might be well to point out that the time involved includes that required in the process of establishment and organization of the agency. Under our present schedules much greater rapidity is evidenced in the handling of all types of applications coming before this board."

Admiration - Where All Tastes Meet

Dear Son:
I know it all too well. She called you a mouse and you called her a moose. Twenty five years ago your Mom and I started every breakfast the same way. It went on for months. I had to sift a lot of sand to find the flea but I found it. It was the little things of married life-like squeezing the tooth paste tube in the middle, cold flabby pancakes, uncombed hair, and others. We both were guilty and admitted it. After that compliments replaced criticism and well, Mary and I agree that life without each other would be like wandering in deserts. We still do.
