NAZIS RUN FROM US. BAYONETS

Citizens to Remember Soldiers In U.S. Hospitals

Cisco post of the American Legion and the Legion auxiliary have undertaken as their foremost Christmas activity this season the collection of Christmas packages for wounded veterans of the present war now hospitalized in the United States.

Boxes for the reception of gifts have been placed at the Man's Store, Drumright's, Inc. and Laguna Cigar store. Givers have the privilege of placing a card bearing name and address with the gift. If the giver does not wish to wrap the article, it may be placed in the box unwrapped and the Legion Auxiliary will wrap it.

The gifts must be given before December 3, since on that date they must be dispatched to the hospitals. Suggested gifts include: Toilet articles, including razor blades, soaps, etc.; playing cards, small games of any kind, air mail stationery, air mail stamps (these are quite desirable), socks, handkerchiefs, books (preferably the 25-cent pocket editions), sleeveless sweaters, T shirts, bedroom slippers, pocket knife, identification bracelet, good sun glasses, bath towels, pipes, tobacco and other smoking supplies.

In the case of books, no war stories are wanted. Mysteries, classics, Bibles, dictionaries, western and humor are excellent. Maps of the United States and of the world also are suitable.

Included in each package will be a folder describing Cisco and furnished by the chamber of commerce.

COURT OF HONOR

A Boy Scout court of honor will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Dr. F. M. Oldham place, a half mile east of Cisco. O. L. Stamey will be in charge of the court, assisted by Scoutmasters C. M. Barnes of Troop 49 and S. E. Hittson of Troop 101. G. N. Quill, district executive and his assistant Guy N. Smith, are expected to be present. A group from Eastland Boy Scout troops will be present and give an Indian dance. A great barbecue will be served and relatives and friends of the scouts are invited.

HEN-HOUSE MAGIC

When a magician puts an egg within an egg he is only fooling, but when a hen does it she means business. The other day Mrs. Alex Martin, 603 Harris avenue, found an egg measuring about seven inches in circumference in her hen house. A Plymouth Rock hen had labored mightily to produce it and then had stepped on the shell, breaking it. Mrs. Martin poured the white into a dish and found, instead of a yolk, a perfectly formed second egg, shell and all, about the size of a pullet egg.

WALTHER PICNIC

Grace Lutheran Walther league enjoyed a wiener roast Friday night at the home of W. J. Prange, near Cisco. In spite of the dampness of gathered sticks and logs, a lusty fire was kindled, around which the leaguers and their friends roasted the wieners, sang songs and played games. Because of the recent rains complete plans for the party did not materialize, yet the host succeeded in making the affair thoroughly enjoyable.

Community Chest Drive Advanced To December 5

Because Thanksgiving will be observed in Cisco next week and also because the first of the month falls within that period, the time for the annual Community Chest campaign has been postponed until the following week. The drive has tentatively been set to start on Tuesday, December 5.

This appeal will be made to secure essential support for several community obligations, including the Boy Scouts, to which a major part of the fund will be devoted, the Welfare association, teaching of the non-sectarian Bible class in the public schools and support of the local USO. The letter asks only a small amount of the fund, principal of which will be devoted to the Boy Scouts and the Welfare association.

Normally, welfare work requires a considerable budget, but because of present good economic conditions the activities of this branch of civic service are concerned only with cases that are physically or mentally unable to work and without any other means of support.

Teams for the campaign are now being organized and an opportunity will be given every earning person in Cisco to contribute to this program.

84 Vital Texas War Plants Are Behind Schedule

AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—Eighty-four vital Texas war plants are behind schedule in production due to a serious shortage of manpower, says C. E. Belk, state director of the War Manpower Commission.

Declaring these production lags to be one of the most alarming setbacks to the war effort yet encountered, Belk stressed that necessary manpower must be obtained at once to keep all essential plants running at top peak of production until the final day of victory.

General Eisenhower has placed the answer to the speedy conclusion of the war directly on the shoulders of workers and industry, Belk said. We on the home front cannot and must not sacrifice the life of a single American soldier because of a lack of sufficient ammunition or supplies. There can be no thought of rationing when this is involved and it is an obligation in which we cannot fail.

The rapid advance of our armies on all fronts both in Europe and the Pacific has necessitated the use of shells and supplies which were not thought would be needed until some time in February.

To meet this emergency 13,145 Texas workers, both skilled and unskilled, are needed immediately to maintain full production flow and this number will be increased to a net demand for 16,000 workers within the next 60 days.

Manufacture of all types of ordnance, especially in production of rockets and 105 mm shells, chemicals and synthetic rubber are the categories in most urgent need of workers to boost production back to its high standard.

Conference Personalities at TSCW

THE FIRST TEXAS CONFERENCE on "Recreation in the Community," to discuss organization and administration of programs in city, town and rural communities, will be at Texas State College for Women, Denton, Tuesday, Nov. 28. More than a thousand interested Texans have been invited. Headliners include Mark McCloskey, Federal Security Agency, Washington, D. C.; Ben Ivey, Denton civic leader; Dr. Anne S. Duggan, TSCW chairman; C. L. Juliana, Wichita Falls; and Harry J. Emigh, San Antonio.

ST. LO SURVIVORS—Members of crew of the escort carrier St. Lo, sunk by Jap planes in the Battle of the Philippines, make a victory sign on deck of a rescue ship shortly after the battle. U. S. victory in this naval encounter was overwhelming, and may prove one of decisive battles of the Pacific theater of war.

An honor seldom accorded a civilian was given Matthew S. Sloan, Chairman of the Board and President of the M-K-T Lines, when he was invited late in November to stand with the commanding officer of the 746th Railway Operating Battalion as that Katy-sponsored Army railway organization passed in review. The photograph immediately above shows the battalion colors being dipped in salute as they pass the reviewing group. Old Glory, of course, remaining proudly aloft. Inset is a close-up of Chairman-President Sloan and Lt. Col. W. C. Pruett, battalion commander, in the reviewing stand. Colonel Pruett, in private life, is superintendent of the Katy's Northwestern district, with headquarters at Wichita Falls, Texas, and a number of officers and many of the men of the 746th are Katy employes. In agreeing to sponsor the 746th, the Katy's President Sloan equipped the organization's band with a complete set of new instruments and also provided needed photographic equipment for its public relations department.

Baptists' Annual Offering to Orphans at Buckner

The annual Thanksgiving offering of clothes, foodstuff and cash to Buckner orphan home in Dallas will be transported from First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon as a gift from churches in the Cisco Baptist association, comprising three counties.

For the past several years this offering has amounted to around ten thousand pounds and is delivered free of transportation charges by Johnson Motor Freight Lines, through the courtesy of W. E. Dean, local manager of the company, says Rev. Cooper Waters, chairman for the offering.

Members of Cisco Baptist churches and of Baptist churches in the surrounding territory are urged to take their contributions to basement of First Baptist church not later than Tuesday noon. It is also requested by Mr. Waters that all articles be packed for shipping and the value determined before bringing them to the church.

BASEBALL, AUTOCRAT DIES

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, stormy but always fair commissioner of baseball, who has ruled America's No. 1 sport with an iron hand since 1921, died this morning at St. Luke's hospital. The 78-year-old Landis, who was named commissioner shortly after the notorious "Black Sox" scandal, had been ill since October.

Mrs. Hattie Tune Was Buried Saturday in Oakwood

Mrs. Hattie Tune, 70, wife of the late J. A. Tune, died Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Shelton Royall, in Haskell.

Funeral services were held at Cisco First Christian church at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with burial in Oakwood cemetery beside the husband. Rev. J. R. Wright was the officiating minister and Green funeral home was in charge of the remains.

Mr. and Mrs. Tune, highly esteemed citizens, moved to Cisco from Rising Star some 25 or 30 years ago and all of their children were raised here, two of whom, Mrs. Vada Fleming and Mrs. Jack Elkins, preceded her in death. Surviving children and step-children are Mrs. Jack Winston and Mrs. Dudley Hutton, Coppus Christ; Mrs. Shelton Royall, Haskell; Mrs. S. A. Jackson and Mrs. H. S. Dossert, Dallas; Clarence Tune, Cisco.

Pallbearers were J. D. Lauderdale, W. R. Winston, Guy Ward, C. R. West, Lonnie Shockley, Troy Powell.

Giant and Liliputians Tangle Here Thursday

The Giant and the Liliputian will tangle on Chesley Field's historic sod Thursday in the main event of Cisco's annual Thanksgiving holiday, and there is no chance at all that the story of David and the Philistine will be re-enacted in that event.

Once the roles of the Breckenridge Buckaroos, green-clad perennial champions of the Oil Belt district, and the Cisco Lobos were reversed. Once it was the Lobos who were feared throughout the western territory of high school football. To them, perhaps more than to any other one team in the west is due the great impetus that was given this popular sport in the golden days of the middle twenties. It comes as something of a poetic injustice that for the past 15 years the Lobos have been the victims of the development in high school football which the great Gold and Black teams of another decade helped to dramatize and to lift into the class of thrilling spectacle.

The indignities that the Lobos have suffered, particularly at the hands of the Buckaroos, during these recent years may not be avenged for several seasons on the basis of a comparison of present teams, but no matter how big the Buckaroos have become of late the Cisco teams have always risen to gallant endeavors against them. With the improvement shown by the Lobos in the last two games, the Buckaroos may not find them so easy an opponent next Thursday as the statistics indicate.

The game will begin at 2:30 p. m. and, as one Cisco Lobo fan said, "will last until it is completed—if any Lobos are left."

PATTON COMMENDS 90TH WITH THE U. S. 3RD ARMY

DALLAS, Nov. 25.—The 90th Division, a Texas-Oklahoma outfit commanded by Brig. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, won a commendation today from Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., for bravery and efficiency shown in establishing a bridgehead across the Moselle river in the Koenigsmaacher area.

YANKS EMERGED FROM HURTGEN FOREST IN FURIOUS DRIVE AND SENT ENEMY REELING BACK

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Bayonet swinging Americans burst out of the Hurtgen forest southeast of Aachen today in a furious charge which sent the Germans reeling back in panic and broke the stalemate on the Rhineland front west of Cologne.

The 10-day battle of the Hurtgen forest, one of the grimmest and bloodiest of the war in which thousands of men on both sides have fallen, came to a resounding climax when U. S. First army troops slashed their way out onto the Cologne plain a few miles southwest of Duren.

"We have got the ball rolling now," U. P. War correspondent Henry T. Gorrell said in a dispatch from the forest. "The Germans are yielding ground, and we aim to keep them reeling back on their heels."

Lt. Gen. Hodges' victory on the rim of the Hurtgen forest turned the tide of battle on the Aachen front eastward again after counter-blow by massed German forces had edged the Allies back in some sectors and stalled the three-army push toward the Rhine.

At the south end of the battlefront, American and French troops virtually completed the conquest of Strasbourg and pushed half way through the Vosges mountains on a 55-mile front while lightning their grip on 50,000 Germans pinned against the upper Rhine.

The break on the Aachen front came with an improvement in the weather. High clouds rolled away and the sun broke through after a morning rain. Waiting Thunderbolt dive-bombers smashed German transport and gunned the Nazis in the front lines.

The Yanks in the northern tip of the Hurtgen forest went over the top with bayonets gleaming and closed with the Germans in an attack that panicked the Nazi ranks which had been reinforced overnight.

Striking without artillery preparation, the Americans engaged the enemy hand to hand, put them to flight, and United States guns mowed them down by the score as they broke from the woods into the open.

Ninth army headquarters announced that Bourheim, one and a half miles southwest of Julich, had been completely occupied after at least two days of bitter street battles. Capture of the town put American tanks and infantry 24 miles almost due west of Cologne.

One Mark IV and four Mark V tanks were destroyed in the final phase of the battle, bringing the Ninth army's bag for the current offensive to 125 enemy panzers destroyed.

Three miles to the northwest, however, the Ninth army fell back slightly under a German counter-attack that carried into Merzenhausen, eight miles southeast of Gellenkirchen.

The American First army also was forced to yield hard won terrain, giving to counter attacking Germans control of high ground nearly two miles southeast of Weisweiler on the Aachen-Cologne military highway 10 miles northeast of Aachen.

FIERCE OPPOSITION

LONDON.—Berlin reported that 800,000 Soviet infantrymen and the bulk of the Red army's armored reserves were battering against the German pocket in western Latvia today in a massive winter offensive to clear the Baltic states and pave the way for a drive into East Prussia. Far to the south, other Soviet armies slogged painfully over the mud-clogged mountain roads of Hungary and southeastern Czechoslovakia, hammering out gains measured at most points in hundreds of yards against the fiercest kind of opposition.

Moscow, as usual in the initial stage of a new offensive, had no confirmation of the reported drive in Latvia, which Nazi propagandists said was resumed yesterday after a brief lull.

Striking for a quick knockout that would reduce the German hold on the Baltic states to a slim pocket around the Lithuanian port of Memel, 52 Soviet infantry divisions and huge tank forces were reported pushing in from the south on the remnants of 30 Nazi divisions trapped on the Courland peninsula in western Latvia.

UNDER OUR BOMBSIGHTS

TWENTY-FIRST U. S. BOMBER COMMAND, Saipan.—Mighty Super Fortress bombers left industrial sections of central Tokio in flames as American commanders Saturday proclaimed the Friday bombing as the opening blow of a relentless campaign to knock out Japan's war plants.

Flying 3,000 miles round trip from Saipan bases captured only five months ago, the armada flew in high above the capital at more than 400 miles an hour and placed their bombs with deadly skill.

Reconnaissance photographs showed fires still burning several hours later with smoke rising to great heights.

Two of the Super Forts were acknowledged lost in this first land-based raid on Tokio, a city of nearly 7,000,000.

The bombers approached Tokio through a hazy overcast but found a clear area over the city. They funneled a substantial portion of their bombloads on the Masshina aircraft plant, a principal supplier of Japan's army and navy planes. Other choice targets were ripped and razed.

Lt. Gen. Millard S. Harmon, interviewed at Saipan, said "we have the whole of Japan under our bombsights now."

"We are not bombing people; we are bombing the Japanese war machine," he said. "When we have seriously crippled the war industries, all the toughness in the world won't save the Japanese."

ADMITS MURDER

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 25.—The week-old mystery death of Sgt. Tully A. Tribble, 35, of Washkom, Tex., was solved today with the confession of Henry F. Mauldin, 38, one-armed civilian employe at Barksdale Field, who admitted that he slugged and robbed the Texas soldier who was in Shreveport visiting his mother.

PECAN WEEK SET

AUSTIN, Nov. 25.—Governor Coke R. Stevenson today proclaimed pecan week in Texas beginning tomorrow. At this season of the year when Texans are reaping the bounties of this gift from nature, it is fitting that the public attention be directed to the outstanding merits of this important crop," his proclamation declared.

CANADIANS PROTEST

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—Canadian Home Defense soldiers billeted in British Columbia paraded in defiant protest Friday night after Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King staked the life of his government on his new policy of partial conscription for overseas service. The policy already had precipitated violent demonstrations and political defections in Quebec.

NO TRICK PEACE

Invading Germany is like chopping through logs of seasoned oak. Even if the ax is sharp, it's a tough job. There is a tremendous lot of Nazi Oak to cut through along the German borders. And even with all the chopping, it will probably take quite a while.

The job is made harder, of course, by the stern insistence of the Allies on "unconditional surrender." But that is necessary. The Germans have hoped, and still hope, for a deal which would let them yield on rather easy terms. A time may come, perhaps, not far ahead, when the besieged and theoretically beaten Germans will start fishing for such a settlement. That may be the crucial point of this war. It is well to watch for it and to be steed against it.

BACK TO NORMAL

It is well not to be too sure about what Johnny is going to do when he comes marching home. You can't take millions of people away from their normal life, and teach them camp out, and teach them to kill people, and make their job primarily one of destruction, without wrenching their souls and changing their outlook. Many are not very adaptable to such changes. Many others may accept their new way of life so completely, at a highly impressionable age, that it will be hard for them to change back.

It need cause no surprise if it takes months or years for such people to re-adapt themselves to civilized, indoor living. Shops and offices will seem strange. Many will want to change their mode of life and work. Many, for a long time, will not want to work at all, or may not be able to change back to normal. For civilization itself, when you look facts in the face, is not really a normal, natural thing. It has to be taught to every human being; and when the teaching of a different, conflicting mode of life is imposed, it is hard to get back.

It will be necessary to deal very gently and wisely with the misfits, and still more so with the wounded and crippled. This is a special and very important task for the people who remained at home. They must learn their job, and do it well.

TREASURE TROVE

The riches discovered by Sgt. Robert Awe of St. Paul, in a German castle, the other day, were certainly something to write home about. On the border near Holland he was nosing around the wreckage caused by a recent bombardment, when he noticed a suspicious piece of black cloth behind a book case. He thrust in his hand to feel around. And lo and behold, he hauled out a lot of gold chalices and jewelry, Chinese art trinkets and fur capes, coin and stamp collections, finally a sparkling tiara of diamonds and pearls. With him was Corp. Charles Triggs of Delphi, Ind. It took the two of them to round up and carry off that loot.

They handled the matter wisely. Instead of concealing the jewelry, and thus probably losing it, they went to their captain for advice. He called a civil affairs officer, who saw that the wealth was safely stored. And it was a big relief to them when they got it off their hands. The story is unfinished, but they will probably get a liberal reward for their honesty and intelligence.

Their story, very likely, when it spreads around, will send hundreds of other G.I.'s browsing around for hidden wealth in foreign parts.

A Cisco young man, Sgt. L. Howard Mayhew of Pueblo, Colo., and Miss Daphne Rayner of Houston were married November 15th at Pueblo, in the Presbyterian manse, with Rev. Mr. Olson, church pastor, officiating in the double-ring ceremony. The couple was attended by Sgt. Mayhew's mother, Mrs. L. B. Mayhew of Cisco and Lieut. Gayle Bailey of Pueblo.

Sergeant Mayhew was born and reared in Cisco where he graduated from high school in 1941. While a grammar school student he was one of the carriers of the Cisco Daily Press. He was later employed in the Moyer welding shops here and at Houston, where he served in defense work prior to entering the service of his country.

Let's Keep the Bullets Flowing

The Sixth Bond drive has started. And coupled along with the bid for Uncle Sam to borrow your money and pay you good interest on it, comes the news from the front that ammunition has been short for many weeks, and it would be nothing short of a calamity to run out of bullets just as we are driving into the borders of Germany.

It would appear from the news from the European front that all six armies are headed for an all-out drive to try and end this war before Christmas. If that is the plan then certainly we should show our cooperation here at home with profits from farms, business and wages higher than ever before by buying war bonds. Invest all surplus for the war effort and still you have done nothing to speak about. Our soldiers are making sacrifices greater than any financial loss—they are giving and risking their whole lives, not just business profits.

Cisco has not failed on any undertaking within the memory of man, so why not concede that fact and put our quota on the barrel head the first day without hesitating about the matter.
