AMERICANS CAPTURE HURTGEN

Furse, Eastland Tomorrow's Football Game Will Be Interesting

A. H. Furse, 45, president of the Duquesne Oil Corporation with headquarters in Eastland and also secretary of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas association, died suddenly yesterday from a heart attack while on a business trip to Midland. Mr. Furse had checked out of his hotel at Midland and was enroute home in his automobile when stricken. He was found some five hours later.

With business houses and public schools closed for the day, a large turnout is expected at the Breckenridge-Cisco football game at Chesley Field tomorrow afternoon. The play will begin promptly at 2:30.

This is the last game of the season for the Cisco Lobos and they are certain to give the jaunty visitors a warm welcome.

Breckenridge has played in fine form throughout the season and is a much heavier team than the locals. Nevertheless, the Cisco spirit is running high and Lobos fans will be present in large numbers to give the home team their best support.

M'Corkles Have Four Sons With The Armed Forces

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCorkle and their son, Lt. Boyd McCorkle of Nimrod, were Cisco visitors today and the parents called at the Daily Press office. They have been residents of Nimrod for some 19 years.

The McCorkles have four sons with the armed forces. Lt. Boyd McCorkle of the infantry will depart for the Pacific coast soon to report for overseas duty; Lt. Glenn McCorkle is with the air forces in the Hawaiian Isles area; David, chief petty officer in the navy, is in New York and Elvis of the army military police is now stationed at Artesia, N. M. A fifth son died after entering the service.

Paul High Kegler Monday Night Instead of F. Urban

The statement in yesterday's Daily Press that F. Urban had rolled up an average of 182 for three games at the local bowling alleys Monday night was an error, the champ on that occasion having been D. C. E. Paul, to whom apologies are due. However, Mr. Urban is a very dependable kegler and always turns in a nice score.

BALLINGER AND EASTLAND
BALLINGER, Nov. 29.—Ballinger's Bearcats, defending regional champions, are to meet the Eastland Mavericks, 10-A titlist, in a bi-district football game here Dec. 8. It was announced here Tuesday. Representatives from the two schools met in Abilene Monday to make arrangements for the game.

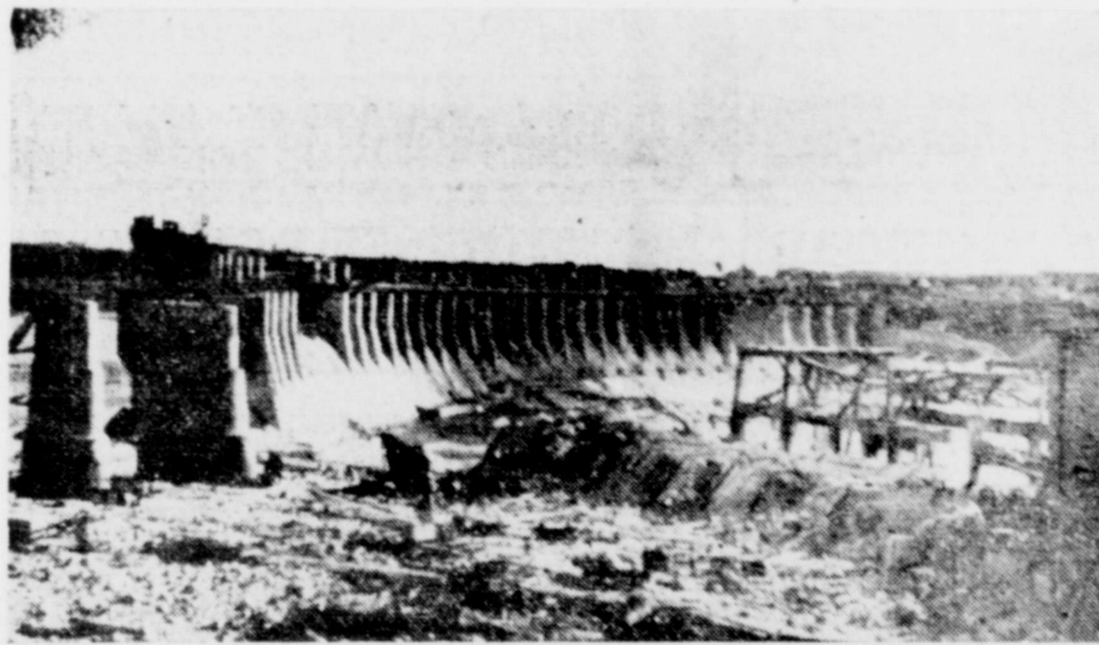

U. S. PAYROLL DROPS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The number of paid civilian government employees declined 2,282 in October to a total of 2,878,947. October was the third consecutive month in which the payroll slumped.

BROTHERS MET OVERSEAS

James Ed Agnew, 21, naval motor machinist's mate, has completed his training course and was awarded a certificate of merit on October 25. The young man, a son of Mrs. Fannie Agnew of Cisco, has been in the South Pacific since July. He met his brother, Eugene Agnew, 18, recently in the Hawaiian Isles, the latter also being attached to the navy. The boys were born at Rising Star but were schooled here.

DAILY DOZEN—Army's Vaughan General Hospital at Hines, Md., is getting 1500 wounded veterans ready to rejoin civilian life. Here men practice their "daily dozen" under direction of physical instructor. Exercise is fundamental in their recovery.

RUSSIANS REBUILDING DNIEPER DAM—When they lost this dam to the Germans the Red Army demolished it by removing vital parts. Germans later did the actual destruction shown. Now Russians are busy rebuilding it, a job that will take about 18 months.

Operation Lifted Mummified Baby Carried 18 Years

PALMDALE, Cal., Nov. 29.—Dr. H. H. Snook, owner of the Palmdale hospital in this small desert community, said today that he operated on a 36-year-old woman and removed a calcified or mummified baby that she had been carrying, without knowing it, for 18 years. Dr. Snook told the press that the operation was performed in his hospital Oct. 23. He said X-ray pictures, taken before the operation, disclosed, in a well-defined manner, the bony structure of the fetus. The physician said the baby had never been in the uterus but had developed in the pelvic region of the abdominal cavity. Dr. Snook, who is a member of the outpatient staff of the Los Angeles County General Hospital, said he performed "a laparotomy, similar to a Caesarean section, to remove the fetus from the abdomen." TOUGH LUCK

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—Although she asked for $5,000 temporary support monthly pending her separate maintenance suit, Mrs. Roy Del Ruth, wife of the film director, will have to get along on $1,200.

Rainey Sobbed As Legislative Inquiry Came to End

AUSTIN, Nov. 29.—Comparing the tactics of the regents who fired him to those employed by Fascism, Homer Price Rainey appealed to the state legislature and the people of Texas to override the regents and return him to the office of the University of Texas, presidency as the senate investigation ended at least temporarily here at 12:50 a. m. today.

Sen Penrose Metcalf, of San Angelo, announced the Senate Educational Investigating Committee was recessed subject to call from the chairman, then said he wasn't sure the committee would meet again until the legislature convenes in January. After hearing almost every complaint against him disputed or explained by friendly witnesses including Dr. Ralph Hamstead of Washington, general secretary of the American Assn. of University Professors, Rainey, openly sobbing at times, said:

"I do not believe any adequate changes have been sustained against me to justify my dismissal. You (the senators) and the people of Texas will have to decide this ultimately." The picture of an O'Daniel-led, anti-New Deal "ring" of rich men who organized to throttle liberalism in state colleges in Houston in 1940 by gaining positions on state educational boards was painted by earlier witnesses.

"Can you get the names of the people who attended that Houston meeting, who called it, when and where?" sharply asked Sen. A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris. "I will try, Senator, but I have only a reliable but second-hand report of the meeting and I am not sure I can do so," answered R. L. Bobbitt, Rainey supporter who is himself chairman of the board of Texas A&I.

FARMERS MUST ORGANIZE
WACO, Nov. 29.—Business sessions of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation are being held here today Tuesday the convention heard W. R. Ogg, Washington, director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, say "farmers must organize as well as labor's 12,000,000." Ogg outlined a program for postwar development.

JUNGERSDORF, KOSLAR ALSO TAKEN IN WHAT NAZIS CALL MOST FEROCIOUS OF BATTLES

PARIS, Nov. 29.—American armies today crushed the German hold on Hurtgen, Jungersdorf and Koslar, three of the principal strongholds on the approaches to the Roer river, and plunged across the Cologne plain in what a Nazi broadcast called "the most terrible and ferocious battle in the history of all wars."

Veteran First army troops completed the occupation of Jungersdorf, only 2 1/2 miles northwest of the Roer river stronghold of Duren, largest German city still in German hands west of Cologne, and also crushed Hurtgen, seven miles southwest of Duren.

A Blue network broadcast from the First army front said the First army also had captured Langerwehe, by-passed in the advance to Jungersdorf.

Advance elements drove a half mile northeast of Hurtgen into the outskirts of Kleinhan.

Koslar, one mile west of Julich, also on the Roer, fell to the Ninth army. Ninth army troops already were fanning out along the west bank of the Roer, Germany's projected winter defense line, around Kirchberg, one mile south of Julich.

Lt. Gen. Patton's American Third army drove into or within gun range of Germany along the whole length of its 80-mile front. One column was within eight miles of Saarbrucken, key to the Saar Basin, and another broke into the outskirts of Sarre Union, Saar river communications center 25 miles south southeast of Saarbrucken.

Farther east and south, the American Seventh army cut the Sarreguemines and Haguenau and pushed 14 miles north of Strasbourg to within three miles of Haguenau itself.

French First army troops punched to within five miles to 10 miles from the Alsatian stronghold to Colmar and began chipping up German units cut off in the southern Vosges by their speedy dash to the Rhine last week. At least two enemy pockets were encircled.

In the past two weeks alone, the Seventh and French First armies have cleared 3,600 square miles of east France, liberated 1,150 towns and captured 22,830 prisoners.

HEADING FOR AUSTRIA
LONDON.—Russian armored columns, slashing across the Danube 100 miles below Budapest, were reported battling into the Hungarian stronghold of Pecs today in a new flanking sweep toward Lake Balaton and the Austrian border.

Simultaneously, the Soviet Second and Fourth Ukrainian armies linked up in a solid 80-mile front across the flooded mountain roads of eastern Slovakia and northeastern Hungary and crushed slowly westward against enemy resistance.

Berlin military commentators reported without confirmation that a furious battle was raging on the immediate approaches to Pecs, 100 miles south-southwest of Budapest. The enemy reports said three Soviet tank formations were converging on the city after forcing a new crossing of the Danube 11 miles to the east and capturing the west bank city of Mohacs.

There was no immediate indication whether the Soviets were trying merely to draw off enemy reserves from the Budapest area or were bent on a full-scale drive for the Austrian frontier.

to wipe out the trapped Japanese garrison on Leyte Island, it was disclosed today, as enemy warplanes struck back savagely at Gen. MacArthur's invasion beachheads on the island's east coast and at the new B-29 Super-Forces base on Saipan, in the Marianas.

A Tokyo communique also reported without confirmation that strong Japanese forces landed on Morotai Island, 300 miles south of the Philippines, in an attempt to recapture that American-held air base. Tokyo said fighting was in progress on the island.

A force of U. S. destroyers and smaller naval units steamed into the Sulu Sea off the northwestern coast of Leyte Monday night and scuttled the Japanese sea and air base at Ormoc for 90 minutes, without drawing a shot in reply.

The barrage kindled big fires throughout a shore installation around Ormoc, the last important base held by the Japanese on Leyte.

Before and after the bombardment, the flotilla searched vainly for any enemy ships that might be trying to run through the Comoros Sea with reinforcements for their island garrison. On Leyte, torrential rains continued to stalemate the ground fighting, and only small-scale patrol clashes were reported.

HOTEL HEADACHE

One way to get what you want is to steal it. This method, always popular with a certain type of hotel guest, is being adopted more and more.

The hotels of a large mid-western city report that their loss of silverware is a third above normal. "People don't realize," says the manager, "that good silver is practically irreplaceable during wartime."

The lost linen problem is even worse. The number of missing towels is now almost double. Pillow cases, sheets and even bedspreads go. Replacement is hard because the mills are supplying war orders. "Often," said the chief housekeeper of one hotel, "we have had to wait for the laundry to be returned before we could make up the rooms for our guests."

Some objects often stolen are now made too large to carry. Pictures are in this class. Portable radios are no longer stolen since they are now screwed on a large board which will not fit into luggage.

Who are these thieves? Souvenir hunters now as formerly. New sources of theft are the black market for used silverware and linens, and newlyweds who fill their hope chests via the hotel route. Whoever they are, they are contemptible as well as criminal.

AMERICAN CHESS CHAMPION

The greatest American chessplayer of the present generation is dead. Frank J. Marshall, the national champion from 1909 to 1936, might have been so today, had he not voluntarily yielded his title. In international tournaments he took a creditable part, but never became world's champion or even approached it. Probably he lacked enough severe competition in the United States. Countries like Germany and Russia have produced many players of the rank of Marshall, but this generation of Americans has produced only one.

Earlier this was not the case. Harry N. Pillsbury, Marshall's predecessor as the No. 1 United States player, was a formidable match for any European, no matter how gifted. And in the latter part of the 19th century Paul Murphy of New Orleans could, for a few brilliant years, lay claim to the title of the best chessplayer who ever lived.

Americans are not used to taking second rank in any field. But until chess is taught in our schools as it is in Russia, the American champion must have unusual native genius, or he cannot hold his own with Europe's great.

NAZI MONEY

One of the most terrible results of the chaos in Germany after the last war was an inflation which rendered the country's money literally not worth the paper it was printed on. In 1923, at its height, the German mark quotation in Cologne was four trillion to the dollar! The memory of that period, when few could lay their hands on enough paper notes to buy one loaf of bread, was a large factor in the swing of the people to the Nazis, who promised stability, jobs and power.

It is interesting to note recent information on Germany's current monetary situation, twenty-one years after that tragic period, five years after the war the Nazis began, bragging they would bring the Germans the cream of all the world.

The Office of War Information quotes the Munich newspaper Nachrichten as saying that note circulation within the country increased 10 per cent between Sept. 15 and Oct. 31 of this year. Circulation on the latter date was 44,703,073,000 marks, a rise of 1,448,000,000 or nearly three per cent over the previous week. And a dispatch from Stockholm states flatly that the paper Reichsmark is almost worthless.

One wonders what those Germans old enough to remember are thinking today.

LOCKING AHEAD
By GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Jennings College
Seaford, Arkansas

TEAM WORK
Whom does your representative represent? This is a fair and timely question, moreover, not as silly as it sounds. He is supposed to represent you and a few thousand other people in your county and nearby counties, but does he do it? If so, how does he know what the people who elect him think about questions he must help decide?

Of course congressmen all have plenty of people to tell them what to do. Whenever a congressman is appointed to an important committee, he can be sure of one thing: A line will form to the left outside his door; people waiting to tell him which side of his bread is buttered, show him very startling statistics, about scarewords in his ears and shed tears on his desk.

Welcome Callers
Such lines are made up of miscellaneous people, very much like lines that form in canteens or at ticket-office windows; usually nobody is there you know or really want to see. But when the unusual occurs, when somebody from back home falls in line at a congressman's door, he gets admitted to the representative's own private office. Why? The congressman wants to see him.

Representatives are elected and sent to Washington to represent the people back home. I know several of them and, all told, I have known a great many. Every one I ever knew wanted sincerely to do that very thing. They were smart men but there was not a mind reader in Washington and have a very good idea what the electors expected of them.

The Right Approach
In a few words, the average congressman gets plenty of advice offered to him and very little of it comes from the right place. In rare instances when somebody writes or wires him from back home the message represents one man's busy, perhaps impassioned, judgment, or sometimes when they come in big bunches they plainly reflect a frame-up—written by one man, signed by many.

People who know how to walk in crowded streets and build their homes in layers, sometimes make facetious references to Arkansas but we are doing something about congress down here. Just before Thanksgiving a group of sixty important men of Batesville and thereabout held a meeting to consider some national legislation soon to be considered by their representative. At the end of the meeting they mailed him their advice accompanied by a list of those present.

Not an Accident
The gathering was no kind of a coincidence. Somebody called the meeting and made sure that it was conducted in an orderly fashion. Arrangements were made to have some impartial, expert opinion on hand to answer questions, explain technical terms if necessary and speed up deliberations. The matter under discussion was something soon to come up before the committee of which their congressman is a member.

I would like to commend this method to public spirited and patriotic citizens everywhere. It is easy enough for men who don't even know their representative's name to lean against a gate-post (or a lamp-post) and revise Congress. On the other hand, helping out a congressman whom you know wants to do the right thing is loyalty, team work and citizenship of the first order.

November, 1922

(Files Cisco Daily News)

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the First Christian church Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. H. Bascom Watts of the First Methodist church will bring the message. The program follows: Opening Hymn, "Praise the Lord, ye Heavens Above Him," Invocation, Rev. C. G. Howard, Hymn, "God Bless Our Native Land," Scripture Lesson, Rev. Gaines B. Hall, Solo, Mrs. Hockney Sermon, Rev. Mr. Watts, Offertory, Mrs. E. B. Isaacs and Mrs. W. C. Patterson, Closing Song, "America," Benediction.

A thrilling football contest is expected when the Cisco Lobos meet the Eastland high school's matchless Mavericks here in the annual contest. While Eastland has never beaten Cisco, a close study of the dope bucket reveals the fact that the two teams are almost evenly matched and Eastland rosters and players entertain high hopes of victory in this game. The Cisco Lobos are in good trim as a whole although minor injuries will trouble some of their players slightly. It is announced that all regulars will be in the lineup of the locals.

Following the return of Dr. John Brice secretary of the Board of Health of Cisco, from a state meeting in Houston, plans are under way for a campaign of educational and constructive measures for the elimination of the mosquito menace in the community and in the section of which this community is the center. In connection with this campaign Mayor Williamson said today: "I am making an appeal to the people of Cisco to assist in any way possible in this campaign to the end that the comfort and health of our local people may be preserved as well as that of the thousands of summer visitors who will come here when the winter months pass. The mosquito is a menace to health just as he is a pest and inconvenience. I should be glad to see efforts of the Board of Health meet with success in the campaign they have just launched and am heartily in accord with their efforts. In connection with this campaign for civic betterment I wish to call attention to the deplorable lack of paint on a number of the houses and outhouses in the residence section of the city. The business section has been kept spick and span largely through the individual efforts of the local business men, but a sad lack of pride is to be seen in some of the residence parts of the city. Paint is the greatest beautifier in the world and it pays its way by preserving and adding years of service to the property."
