Much in Common Twixt Man and Homely Hammer

Bringing an actual hammer with him to illustrate his subject, Rev. James R. Wright brought a message to Rotarians Thursday night with many practical illustrations to drive home the points he assembled them one by one and then compared them to man's mental and physical reactions.

O. J. Russell said that numerous absences had tumbled the club from its place in the upper echelon which it had steadily held for the past eighteen months, but that perfect attendance last week and this week should place it back in its proper attendance standing.

Pres. J. W. Slaughter announced the date of the Rotary institute for March 15 to 22, stating that night sessions would probably be held.

Displaying his hammer after he had been presented by R. L. Ponsler, Mr. Wright said that, like man, the head was its most important part, although man was valued according to his physical strength below his ears. Pieces of hammers vary according to quality the speaker said, and in its analogy was seen when compared to man.

Compared to the cost of the hammer, the handle is insignificant in price, yet the head of the hammer is useless without the handle.

This man's brain never reaches maximum without a more energetic body—a man must have physical energy and strength, he seldom reaches his greatest abilities, Wright affirmed. The head is most used, such expressions as "use your head," "the nail on the head," "lose one's head," have become common words.

The claws of the hammer are pulled out nails that have been driven or driven in wrong. Thus profit by our mistakes and the claws of the hammer, become valuable in so doing.

Hammers are usually for the building trade, but when employed wrongly as in a murder or for destructive use, they become instruments different from their original purpose; so it means a change in the life of a man as to what he puts his head. How that hammer is directed is the thing that determines its value. A mind directed by God will be for good, but if directed by an evil force, it becomes a menace rather than a blessing.

Concluding his comparison, the speaker said that the world has been directed too much by wrong heads and a world-wide war of destruction has been forced upon nations of the earth by that direction. Rightly directed, we must take control if we are to build a world of peace and accomplishment.

Other guests were M. S. Doss and A. L. Duff of Seminole, and Frank Frost and R. M. Wilson of Eastland.

Scranton Boys Organized 4-H Club Wednesday

The boys of Scranton high school met with County Agent Floyd Lynch Wednesday and organized a 4-H club. Officers were elected and there was a brief talk by Mr. Lynch on cattle culture. Club members, it was stated, look forward to a highly successful year in their important work.

Officers: J. D. Pittman, president; Pete Taylor, vice president; Frank Adams, secretary; Carl Hickey, club reporter.

State's Part of Old-Age Assistance Be Raised

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—House of representatives employees in the $5 a day and loss bracket will get 20 per cent raises.

A further indication of what the Forty-Ninth legislature will be asked to do came in the form of a house bill to add $800,000 monthly to the $1,900,000 appropriation for old-age assistance and to increase the state's permissible grants from $15 to $20 a month. This would be done under a proposed constitutional amendment by Ben Sharpe, Paris, and Mrs. Florence Fenley, Uvalde, and would allow $40 maximum payments with federal funds added.

Sharpe alone signed the $800,000 extra appropriation bill, which is among those filed in the chief clerk's office awaiting formal introduction.

The house probably will not formally introduce bills until next week, but several already were in the hands of the chief clerk. Representative W. O. Reed, Dallas, has one prescribing budget procedure for counties, cities and towns, with the announced purpose of stopping evasion of the existing budget laws. In another bill, Reed would authorize employees of the state, county and local governments to participate in War Bond purchasing through pay-roll deduction plans.

Representative Harley Sadler, Sweetwater, entered a bill to re-district the House, a subject which Gov. Coke Stevenson will submit for emergency consideration to give it precedence. Sadler's bill would reduce the total number of districts from 127 to 117, while keeping membership at 150, of course, and cut from twenty-one to four the number of florid districts which overlap other districts.

A law for summary sale of property to pay delinquent ad valorem taxes is prepared by Representative C. E. Nicholson, Port Neches, establishing an automatic procedure for collecting taxes in such cases without resort to foreclosure proceedings in the courts.

END IS VERY NEAR.
LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Axis defenders of Budapest, decimated by 18 days of violent street fighting, fell back into two narrow pockets on either side of the Danube today after radioing a final desperate appeal for help to two German relief columns stalled 15 miles outside the city.

NEW 5-STAR NAVY UNIFORM is worn by Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, newly appointed Chief of Staff to Commander-in-Chief of United States. Changes include added fourth half inch stripe and five stars instead of four on shoulder boards and collar insignia worn with summer uniforms.

RUINS OF SAARLAUTERN—Shattered walls and massed debris show havoc of war as it is known in Saarlautern, Germany. With Von Rundstedt's thrusts below the Saar, threatening to take the new Nazi power drive, Saarlautern is only German land head remaining in American hands when photo was taken. Here lies a new wreckage in streets of town. (U. S. Signal Corps Photo.)

SIGN HERE—This 10 by 4 foot 6th War Loan Bond will go to General Ike Eisenhower to let chief know that employees of U. S. Naval Ordnance plant in Forest Park, Ill., are backing him full force. Torpedo makers increased quota of $385,000 to $136,597.50. Autographing big bond are Pat Littlefield, Eobby Hansen, Marge Schaefer, Florence Bergeson, Virginia Brown and Marilyn Wheeler.

Cisco Fell Short In Scrap Paper Drive Yesterday

Yesterday's scrap paper drive sponsored by Cisco Lions totaled 12,500 pounds, said E. J. Pross this afternoon. The poundage was not as great as had been hoped for.

Beginning next Friday the Lions will pick up all scrap paper in the business district each Friday, Mr. Pross reminded.

Hereafter the all-city drive will be made each month on the third Thursday of the month. According to this program, the next all-city pickup will be on February 16.

BAILEY IN COLORADO.
Army air base headquarters, Pueblo, Colo., furnished the Daily Press with the following news item concerning a Cisco boy: "Second Lt. Gayle Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Bailey, Cisco, is completing his training on a Liberator bomber at this base. He is the pilot of his crew and is being fitted as a valuable member of a combat team that will soon thunder into enemy territory. He entered the service in November, 1942." A small photo of the Ciscoan accompanied the communication.

Cisco Cooperates With the War Manpower Commission

Cisco business firms have responded splendidly to an appeal of the War Manpower Commission, Abilene area, for cooperation in helping to solve the labor problem which has caused a lag in war production of 40 per cent in many instances.

This is shown as a result of a canvass now in progress, in which letters explaining the seriousness of the situation and requesting pledges of cooperation with the WMC in the hiring of labor were sent to all businesses in the city.

The program is part of an effort to stop the flow of manpower from war production into non-essential jobs.

"In order to meet this need," says the letter from E. J. Berry, WMC area director, "it is necessary for every available man or woman in every Texas community to accept employment in a war job, if the worker is not now engaged in essential war work."

Following are the business firms which have signed pledges of cooperation received to this date:

Dameron Tire & Supply Co., Ferguson's, Harvey Thurman Service Station, White Auto Store, West Texas Utilities, Charles J. Kleiner, Maner Pharmacy, Western Union Co., O. L. Mason Barber Shop, Homer Slicker, Lone Star Gas Co., Banner Creamery, C. L. Martin, E. P. Crawford Agency, Elliott News and Drug, McCall Cleaners, City of Cisco, Cisco Transfer & Storage, George Christie, C. S. Surlis Real Estate Service, Reynolds Mfg. Co., A. L. Westfall Service Station, The Boss Mfg. Co., Dunn's Produce, Burton-Lingo Lumber Co., Goodyear Service Store, Lee Super-service, R. H. Boon Grocery, Cisco Daily Press.

TEXANS GAVE $300,000.

DALLAS, Jan. 12.—Texas Democrats subscribed $300,000 in campaign funds to insure the fourth-term election of President Roosevelt, W. H. Kittrell, Jr., secretary of the State Democratic executive committee, reported Thursday. Largest expenses reported by Kittrell were a $12,391.41 item for radio broadcasts and $11,043.62 for advertising and printing, including the printing of 150,000 copies of the Texas Democrat, party campaign newspaper. The committee, which met in Dallas Wednesday, praised the fund-raising activities of Myron T. Blaylock, national Democratic committee man from Texas.

If there be a hell upon earth it is to be found in a melancholy man's heart.—Burton.

M'ARTHUR MEN GO FORWARD 10 MILES ON LUZON; REINFORCEMENTS ARE LANDING STEADILY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel's espousal of the Texas Regular presidential electors in opposition to the Democratic electors cost him the place he coveted on the senate committee on agriculture and forestry.

When his name was placed before the senate Democratic steering committee he received only one vote.

Tom Connally, senior senator from Texas, accepted, given the place under urgency of the steering committee. Connally resigned from the judiciary committee, where he ranked third, in order to take this committee assignment. Connally is chairman of the important foreign relations committee, and on privileges and elections and public buildings and grounds.

Word was sent Connally by O'Daniel, it was learned, that if he could not get a place on the agriculture committee, he wanted Connally to take it, in order that Texas might have representation. No Texan has been on this committee since Earle B. Mayfield, who was defeated by Connally in 1928.

Some of the Democratic committee members were understood to have stated that O'Daniel would have been acceptable if he had not acted the fool by fighting the New Deal Democrats.

O'Daniel retained all of his old committee assignments. These are claims, District of Columbia, irrigation and reclamation, and post offices and post roads.

Latin Equality Urged in Texas Senate Measure

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—Two years ago the Forty-Eighth legislature adopted a resolution expressing its regret that Latin-American citizens, more particularly Mexican citizens, are subjected to discriminations and indignities in places of public resort. A year ago Gov. Coke Stevenson addressed the Texans on the same theme, urged that such practices be discontinued.

Yesterday Senator Franklin D. Spears, San Antonio, proposed to use the pains and penalties of law to effect the purpose which admonition had failed to accomplish. His bill would make it a misdemeanor for any hotel, lodging house, eating place or place of amusement catering to the public for business or profit, to deny to any person because of his or her Mexican or Latin-American origin equal facilities, privileges, accommodations or services in such business enterprise or place of business.

Penalty for violation would be a maximum fine of $500. Additionally those violating the act would be liable, by civil suit, to actual damages plus $100 for exemplary damages.

Among other bills introduced in the senate was one by Penrose Metcalfe, San Angelo, which would put the distribution of textbooks entirely under the authority of the State Board of Education.

American carrier pilots raided the Indo-China coast today and apparently pounced on an enemy sea force speeding from the southern seas to aid beleaguered Japanese troops in the Philippines where the U. S. Sixth army is driving toward Manila.

The Japanese Domei news agency reported about 90 seaborne aircraft made day-long raids on installations around Saigon, on the southern Indo-China coast.

Earlier Adm. Nimitz announced Pacific fleet carrier planes were attacking the Japanese "off the coast" north of Saigon. This indicated an air-sea battle between bold U. S. Carrier units striking against a reinforcement convoy headed for Luzon island or a naval task force coming out for the Tokyo-promised third battle of the Philippines.

One thing was clear from both announcements — that the Pacific fleet has made its most daring and deepest penetration of Japanese controlled waters.

Nimitz' announcement, in full, said: "Carrier aircraft of the Pacific fleet are now attacking the enemy off the coast of French Indo-China between Saigon and Camranh bay."

On Luzon, 850 miles to the northeast, U. S. Sixth army troops advanced in force nearly ten miles on the highways to Manila and Baguio, Philippines summer capital and possible retreat of ranking Japanese officers.

Nearly 100 towns and villages lay behind the Yank spearheads. They have overrun a network of 50 miles of roads and seized 10 miles of the San Fabian-Manila railroads.

Opposition began to develop against both flanks, while the center probed for the Japanese defense line.

The American east flank drove toward Pozorubio, junction point of highways leading north to Baguio and southward toward Manila, over an inland route with relatively few river hazards.

Twenty-five miles to the west, the U. S. right flank drove on Port Sual, which offers harbor facilities and connects with a coastal road leading to Bataan peninsula. Other spearheads drove on Aguilan on highway 13 leading down the western side of the valley, and San Carlos, an important junction in the center.

Ahead lay Manila, about 100 miles distant, and Clark field less than 55 miles away. Behind them the 7th amphibious force continued to pour reinforcements and supplies ashore despite wild Japanese claims of heavy damage. An enemy imperial communique asserted nine ships were sunk—an aircraft carrier, three cruisers, three transports, and two cruisers or destroyers—and 13 damaged.

ST. HUBERT CAPTURED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Field Marshal von Rundstedt's forces in the Belgian bulge fell back today toward his announced Ourthe river line while the U. S. Third army hacked doggedly at his southern flank, but in the south the Germans lashed out with fresh armor in the Strasbourg area in an assault which might be led by Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler himself. British and Americans still were locked with German rear guards west of the Ourthe in delaying actions. The Germans appeared to be following the propaganda technique used on the Russian front, announcing withdrawals ahead of time. Only today did the Allied communique announce American entry into St. Hubert, the Germans southwest anchor. The Nazis announced withdrawal from the city two days ago.

WORK OR FIGHT.

There is no bluff about the attitude of congress and the American public in regard to the use of American man-power for war purposes.

Present plans indicate that able-bodied men from 18 to 45 years of age will be expected to engage either in direct military service or in some job essential to the war.

There will be proper exceptions made for those who can be used most advantageously in special lines of war work, or who have genuine disabilities making them unfit for active military service. But choice or rejection will no longer be so casual as it has often been heretofore.

Uncle Sam is going to war, to save himself from great danger and shame, to preserve his honor and save his country from disaster.

There are still a few Americans, here and there, either unable to see and understand the peril, or with alien ties binding them to sympathy with our enemies.

Their situation is lamentable and dangerous, for them and for this nation. Sheep and goats can be separated. Men must be dealt with wisely and sympathetically when they are clearly honest and of good intent, but firmly in cases of deception and hostility.

ENEMIES IN POLITICS.

"The secret of success in politics is to have respect for your own abilities, and to have no enemies, even in the opposing party." Thus William J. Gallagher, new congressman from the Minneapolis district, explains his victory.

As Congressman Gallagher won, he probably knows what he is talking about. Yet this doctrine, like most others, can be pushed too far. A man without enemies may be a man without force and no strong friends. President Grover Cleveland was introduced to national politics with the slogan, "We love him for the enemies he has made."

In the 1916 presidential campaign Woodrow Wilson sent this defiance to Jeremiah O'Leary, an anti-British agitator who had threatened him with defeat unless he was easier on Germany: "I would be deeply mortified to have you or anybody like you vote for me. As you have access to many disloyal citizens and I have none, I will ask you to convey this message to them." This made a mortal enemy of O'Leary. On the other hand, it won President Wilson so much applause that, in view of his narrow margin of victory, it may even have elected him.

Congressman Gallagher does not tell the whole story. Every one, even in politics, should have some enemies—of the right sort.

LONG BRANCH

Funeral services for Mrs. George Ann Anderson, widow of the late H. C. Anderson, were conducted here Thursday by Rev. Otis Caddell, a Baptist minister. Deceased, 83 years of age, was the mother of five children and five stepchildren, two of whom preceded her in death. Mr. Anderson died in 1930. She was a member of the Methodist church and highly esteemed by her friends.

Survivors include Mrs. J. A. Hilton, H. A. Anderson, Sipe Springs; C. D. Anderson, Odessa; Henry Anderson, Mrs. Minnie Caddell, Petrolia; Mrs. Beulah Curtis, Mrs. J. A. Anderson, Cisco; Mrs. W. E. Frost, Fort Worth, a host of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and one great-great grandchild.

Pallbearers were Alfred and Charles Curtis, Estor, Harry, Fred and Jack Anderson, all grandsons.

As a New Year Dawn-- let us again say that it has been a genuine pleasure to have served you these many years. Since Pearl Harbor our services have been somewhat disrupted by necessary war-time restrictions, but you have been patient with us and along with that, grand customers and true friends. If you have not already made that new year's resolution, resolve now never to buy real estate without an abstract. Earl Bender & Company, Inc. ABSTRACTERS Eastland 1923-1944 Texas.
