NAZIS REEL FROM RED BLOWS

Cisco Housing Situation Has Become Acute

By unanimous vote of the board of directors Tuesday night R. L. Ponsler, N. C. Huston and Nick Miller will serve as president, vice president and finance director, respectively, of the Cisco chamber of commerce for the new year which begins this week. Two new members took their places on the board at its organizational meeting. They are H. H. Tompkins and P. R. Warwick who, with six of the eight retiring directors, were elected to two-year terms by the city commission from a list of 16 business men nominated by the commission by the CoC and two weeks ago.

Mr. Ponsler succeeds J. D. Lauderdale who has served three consecutive terms as president. The directors, on motion by P. R. Warwick, passed an enthusiastic resolution commending Mr. Lauderdale for his excellent service and his leadership of the chamber during the past three years. Mr. Huston succeeds Mr. Ponsler in the vice presidential post. Mr. Miller was re-elected as finance director.

Before going into the election of officers, the board heard reports and discussed various activities of the organization.

Dairy Development.

It was announced that the trip of five Cisco business men and five Eastland county farmers and agricultural leaders to Sulphur Springs to study Hopkins county dairy development would begin Friday noon, with the return scheduled for Friday. The group will spend a full day in Hopkins county inspecting farm-dairy units and milk processing plants and talking with leading dairy farmers and farm leaders in that area. Eastland county farmers scheduled to make the trip as the guests of the Cisco chamber of commerce are Felix Boland of Scranton, J. Webb of Romney, Buck Weston of Carbon and John Love of the Herriman community. They will be headed by County Agent Floyd Stuch. Business men who will accompany them are J. J. Callahan, Edward Lee, Nick Miller and L. Thornton. Mark Buckingham, Hopkins county agent, who has directed the successful dairy program in that county, has arranged an interesting and instructive program for the Cisco group Thursday, Secretary B. A. Butler said.

The trip was planned for the purpose of giving Eastland county farm leaders and business men a practical view of the fundamentals of a good dairy program and its results, with the hope of stimulating an effective interest in farm dairying as the answer to the war agricultural problems of this county. After the trip it is planned to make a careful survey of farm-dairy potentials and conditions in this county and then set into effect an energetic long-range program for developing this industry here. The assistance of leading dairy experts and milk processing companies will be enlisted.

Collector Be At Cisco City Hall Jan. 29, 30, 31

Clyde Karkalits, county tax collector, has notified City Secretary George W. Downie that unless his plans go awry he or one of his deputies will be at Cisco city hall all day January 29, 30 and 31 to receive county, state and poll tax payments. It will be noted that these are the three last days of the month.

Citizens are reminded that those desiring to pay county and state taxes here must bring with them their cards showing the amounts due.

Should it become necessary to change the date of Mr. Karkalits' visit to Cisco, such change will be announced through the Daily Press.

BUSES STILL IDLE.

FT. WORTH, Jan. 17.—Buses of the Bowen Trailways remained at a standstill today as 250 operators continued their strike in defiance of a "back to work" order issued by the War Labor Board. There were prospects that an agreement may be reached at a hearing scheduled at 2 p. m. today before the board in Dallas, whereby the men would be assured of getting their back-pay checks within 48 hours, and thereby would return to their idle buses.

BEST LIVE STOCK SHOW FEB. 24

Plans have been made for the best Eastland County Livestock show that has ever been held in the county when the show is held at Cisco, February 24, the chamber of commerce was told last night.

The show will be held in the new county barns on South D avenue which have been made available through the courtesy of County Commissioner Arch Bint. The large barn and sheds recently completed in the fenced enclosure will give ample space for housing the exhibits.

F. D. Wright was elected president of the show at the organizational meeting in December and the following vice-presidents were chosen: Fred Brown of Eastland, Dr. Bob Hodges of Ranger, Frank Robertson of Rising Star, Dr. George Blackwell of Gorman, Buck Weston of Carbon, Kid Moseley of Olden, Till Wheat of Morton Valley and C. F. Ervin of Desdemona. B. A. Butler was named secretary-treasurer.

Superintendents of the various divisions in which exhibits will be shown have been named as follows: Beef cattle, M. E. Fry; Jerseys, Edward Lee; Hogs, E. G. Damron; Sheep, William Reagan; Goats, L. B. Norvell; Horses, Mart Agnew; Turkeys, John Dunn.

J. B. Pratt will be superintendent of grounds. County Agent Floyd Lynch will be general superintendent.

A meeting of these officials will be called within the next few days to make final plans.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY.

AUSTIN, Jan. 7.—Republicans of Texas must make nominations by primary in 1946, it was indicated when a joint session of the Legislature canvassed general election returns and found that the GOP's candidate for governor polled more than 100,000 votes in November.

Germans Leaving Ardennes as Fast As Is Possible

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Allied troops hammered the Ardennes salient down into a narrow pocket on the rim of the Siegfried line today and swung over to the attack on either flank with two offensive thrusts that staggered the Germans in Alsace and the Netherlands.

Hard fighting still raged in the Houffalize area where a few German Panzer units were struggling to escape envelopment by the American First and third Armies, but the focal point of the Ardennes battle had shifted eastward to the St. Vith area and late dispatches said the Nazis were being squeezed inexorably back across their own frontier.

The remnants of Marshal Karl von Rundstedt's three attacking armies were compressed into a thin band on Belgian and Luxembourg soil extending down about 50 miles along its eastern base from Monschau to the Echternach area and measuring about 12 miles at its widest point.

ENVOY CALLED HOME.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Vygodor Gusev, Soviet ambassador to Britain, has been called to Moscow for consultations with Premier Marshal Stalin pending a new "Big Three" conference, reliable diplomatic quarters said today.

CAPTURE WARSAW, CAPITAL OF POLAND AND ARE NOW WITHIN FIFTEEN MILES OF THE REICH

MacArthur Is Now Within 65 Miles of Manila City

MAC ARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, LUZON, Jan. 17.—Two strong Sixth Army columns have merged near Paniqui, 36 miles inland, and are sweeping south across the Luzon plains toward Tarlac and Manila virtually unopposed, a front dispatch said today.

Tarlac, a provincial capital and strategic communications hub only 12 miles south of Paniqui, was expected to fall without a fight and speculation was growing the Japanese might not even attempt a strong defense of Manila, 65 miles farther south.

H. D. Quigg, UP correspondent with forces on the Luzon Plain, said the two columns joined forces near Paniqui after advancing respectively from Moncada, four and a half miles to the north, and Camiling, 11 miles to west northwest.

Lack of bridges was causing more difficulty than enemy opposition in the frontal advance on Tarlac, Quigg said. He said the Americans may use the roadbed of the narrow-gauge railway running from Moncada as the roadbed for a new highway to Manila.

Five highways merge at Tarlac and its capture would put the Americans only 20 miles from the great Clark Field air center and almost half way from the Lingayen Gulf to Manila Bay.

Non-Texans Want Rainey at Head State University

AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—Texas senators were petitioned today for the reinstatement of Homer P. Rainey as president of the University of Texas by the academic council of the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties.

Bearing 832 names of individuals and organizations, the petition also asked the senators to "insure reorganization of the board of regents to more truly reflect democratic aspirations."

Signed by non-Texans, the petition said: "We sincerely believe that this situation has implications far beyond the borders of Texas. It affects the welfare of the state."

Among signers, many of them educators, were Marc Connelly, playwright and Miss Margaret Webster, noted Shakespearian director.

$50,000 PER BULL.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 17.—Stockmen were agog today over the world record auction price of $50,000 each paid for two Hereford bulls at the National Western Stock Show which is entering its fifth day in Denver, while noting that all prices for show animals were far above former years.

TWIN BABES DIE.

PADUCAH, Jan. 17.—The 14-month-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Lively were burned to death when the family home near Salt Creek was destroyed by fire. An explosion of an oil stove caused the blaze. Mrs. Lively was next door, at the home of a relative, to get milk, when the stove exploded.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The British Broadcasting Corp. quoted the Soviet-sponsored Lublin Radio today as reporting that Russian and Polish forces had captured Warsaw, capital of Poland.

The BBC report of the fall of Warsaw lacked immediate confirmation. Earlier the Soviet High Command had announced the flanking of the city on the south.

The nearest confirmed Red Army positions across the Vistula below Warsaw were about 20 miles from the capital. Russian and Polish troops had been drawn up across the Vistula from Warsaw in the Praga suburb since last fall.

Radio Polski at Lublin, seat of the self-styled provisional government of Poland, was quoted by BBC as broadcasting in Polish at 12:30 p. m. (12:30 a. m. CWT); "Attention. Attention! Warsaw is captured. Formations of the Red Army and the Polish Army occupied Warsaw, capital of the Polish republic."

The broadcast was repeated three times and followed by the Polish national anthem.

Two Russian armies had broken open a 120-mile breach in the German defenses of Poland, outflanking Warsaw and Krakow, and sweeping westward in a winter offensive undermining the German grip on Polish soil.

The greatest land battle of the war was raged on an ever-widening front from the Carpathian foothills to within 20 miles of Warsaw, and Berlin accounts said major Russian forces also were on the attack to the north in a double-barrelled drive to envelop and wipe out the Nazi military base of East Prussia.

Everywhere the Germans were reeling back toward their frontier in a general retreat that at some points was taking on the appearance of a rout. Five days after the start of the Soviet winter offensive, German casualties were running into the tens of thousands, with the enemy sacrificing entire divisions in a desperate effort to slow the Russian advance long enough to permit formation of a new defense line.

Elaborate fortifications that had been building since the Nazi occupation of Poland more than five years ago collapsed in a matter of hours as the whole Soviet front below Warsaw moved westward in giant strides.

Berlin quoted a Nazi military spokesman today as saying that the Russians were at the eastern fringes of Czesochowa, 15 miles from the German border.

111 SUPERS IN RAID.

B-29 HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Jan. 17.—Brig. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell won the Silver Star today for leading 111 Super Fortress over Tokio in the first raid, Nov. 27, and bringing 109 home. His citation disclosed for the first time the exact size of the first force raiding Tokio.

TEXANS WIN PRIZES.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 17.—Texans captured their share of prize money in the National Western Stock Show Rodeo here Tuesday. Bob Estes, Baird, won first in the bareback bronc riding contest. Louis Brooks, Sweetwater, and Walt Baughman, Archer City, were second and third respectively in saddle bronc riding. Estes and Ralph Collier of Coleman were one-two in bareback bronc riding in the afternoon show.

WHAT IN 1945?

It is time for business forecasts, and one of the best guessers in this line—Brigadier General Leonard P. Ayres, a Cleveland banker—has come forward as usual to declare the nation's economic fate for next year. As he sees it, reasonable expectations boil down to these:

Incomes will be lower—most of us won't make so much money. Production of war goods, already lessening, will drop steadily.

Factory wages, reckoned in hours, will probably continue rising.

There will be more labor disputes. There will be more business failures.

Car loadings will decline—meaning less business traffic.

Some 20,000,000 people will have to look for other kinds of work. This last item is one which may interest the most people.

Mr. Ayres emphasizes two points especially for business men. First, conserve cash and federal securities. Second, avoid extravagance and inefficiency. Obviously these warnings apply to citizens in general. Save money while the saving is good!

BOOK BEQUEST.

Why are non-political public institutions so seldom remembered in wills? Schools, libraries, boards of health, park boards, rarely find tax money enough for all the things they would like to do. Public-spirited citizens rarely leave funds to help them out financially.

All the more unusual is the will of Clement V. Ritter, a Chicago book-seller. He left to the American Library Association $6,000 to be divided in varying amounts among those libraries in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Ohio, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania with incomes of less than $2,500 a year. Awards are made on the recommendation of state library associations. So far checks have been sent to 114 libraries.

Most communities served by small libraries are small themselves, and far from rich. But many of them do not support their libraries as well as they could. The constant and growing needs of a library developing not only in size but in quality and variety of its services are seldom fully appreciated by citizens. Usually librarians are too busy at their own job to talk about library needs.

But any small community may contain a future Abraham Lincoln, eagerly reading books from any source. All contain young people moving toward useful lives. Books help them all. More gifts like Ritter's would be a blessing. But best of all is to have the people act for their libraries themselves.

Farmer's Friend.

Two southerners sat near me in a crowded day-coach recently and carried on a heated and revealing conversation. Both men were farmers, but their similarity ended there. They were not at all alike. One seemed to be about 70 years old. He spoke with a soft "Deep South" inflection. He had attended college, was well dressed and had lived in several big cities.

The other man was nearer 30, spoke with the accent of the delta country and was obviously a practical dirt-farmer with very limited schooling. The conversation was about rice. The older man insisted that rice was not grown in Arkansas. "It would be so foolish," he said scornfully. "So long as Asiatic labor is cheap there will be no money in raising rice in this country."

Young Man Was Right.

The old gentleman almost persuaded the young man that he had been calling something rice that was not rice at all. I didn't intrude to say that I drive through miles of rice fields every time I make a trip from Searcy to Memphis, although I hated to see a man in possession of the truth so crushed under courteous language and ideas that have been out of date for 25 years.

Workers in the Arkansas rice fields are relatively well paid, as farm hands are compensated. They earn more than cotton choppers and pickers; draw wages more like a California orange grove worker. Just the same, Arkansas rice is priced right. Our growers could ship it to Japan in normal times and sell it there at a profit in competition to Chinese rice, Coolie raised.

Custom-Built Economy.

It sounded quite familiar when the cultured gentleman-farmer explained, "The biggest part of the cost of anything is labor." The statement used to be made often and used to be almost true, but America's volume production by machinery has disputed the idea with success for years; longer than the younger man could remember. Rice in Arkansas, a new industry, is tooled up well.

That's exactly why our rice workers are well paid. They produce a lot of rice per man. An American worker, with modern tools, can produce 50 times as much rice as a China boy with a heavy hoe. Allowing liberally for machinery expense, he can earn 30 times as much as the Chinese, and does. At the same time, the rice costs less per bushel and can profitably sell for less. That's America.

Parent of Prosperity.

Shorter hours and higher wages for people who work, lower prices and better merchandise for people who buy, are universally popular ideas. The same people want all four, because working people buy the biggest part of everything that's sold. It is strange however that all four of these benefits come from the same source (investment) which is not a popular idea.

Good equipment costs something. It calls for investment. With good equipment, workers increase production per man and get their pay raised, also increase production per day (or per acre) and shows the investor a profit. Good equipment also increases the available supply per customer and thus lowers prices. What America needs, not to mention China, is to encourage investment.

WITT COMES HOME.

T-3 Erwin B. Witt, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Witt of the Romney area, arrived home Monday after spending 36 months overseas with the signal corps. Most of the time Witt was in China, but he also visited Burma. He came to Cisco from Fort Sam Houston and Cisco friends say he returned in tip-top physical condition, despite his long stay in the war-ravaged orient.
