Ice Storm Causes Tremendous Losses To Utilities, Trees, and TV Antennas

ously damaged communications and electrical equipment.

The ice started forming Monday afternoon. The accepted theory of the cause of the ice storm was that storm remaining. a warm layer of air existed several undred feet high causing falling sleet to turn into rain. With temperatures slightly below freezing at ground level, the cold rain yould freeze as it hit.

And it hit trees, television anennas, telephone and electrical viring and anything else exposed. With the heavy weight of the ice bearing down on tree limbs, wires and antennas, it took anly a short while for a high wind to wreak havoc all over town.

An estimated $50-$60,000 in It is doubtful that a single antenna in the path of the storm escaped some kind of damage, Some insurance men estimated that 90 to 95 percent of the homes lost their antennas or towers or both. Hundreds of Chinese Elms-the rain but there was some sleet and

> City manager E B. Noble said Tuesday that the City did not have the equipment to take on the tre mendous limb clean-up job. "We would certainly like to urge everyone to do what they can to get their own tree limbs to the city dump ground (near the sewer plant northeast of town.) We've got one truck and it would take weeks for us to do the job. Also the city does not have the funds for hiring additional help as in larger cities."

According to Edwin (Goose) Ramey, local weather historian, ice storms occur in this area about every twenty years. "We had one in 1911, one around 1920, and the last one was in November, 1940.

News Christmas Edition Mailing Date Wednesday

News staff plans to have its Christmas edition in the mail Wednesday morning before Christmas on Friday. Consequently all advertising deadlines will be moved up one day to Monday noon, where practicable. Any advertisements accepted after this will be by prior arrangement only.

All news copy should be in no later than Tuesday noon, although effort will be made to use everything that is in before press time. Everyone desiring a Christmas greeting advertisement in next week's issue is urged to contact the advertising department either Friday or Saturday of this week. Next week's issue of the Castro County News will contain many Christmas features and greeting advertisements from businessmen and merchants of Castro County. The news features material will cover just about every aspect of Christmas and is recommended especially for reading by youngsters desirous of a thorough ground ing in the principles of our annual

Joseph Proved His Great Love For All Time

In the long history of humanity there have been many love stories.
The literature of the world is full of them. But none approach that of Joseph and Mary!

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES-It took a lot of time, care and patience to produce these beautiful Christmas packages. The ribbon and paper that went into the wrapping was first started in production three years ago. Most companies that produce this type of gift material must work several years in advance.

HERE'S nothing so tempting, so colorful, so tantalizing as a real English plum pudding. For a Christmas celebration they are as sch a part of the scene as holly and the Christmas tree. They're not ade as often as they were in our grandfather's time, but here is pound flour 1 pound stale bread crumbs

1 pound seeded raisins pound minced orange pee

pound brown sugar pound suct chopped fine 1 teaspoon nutmeg 2 teaspoon cloves 1 cup Cognae brandy

1 teaspoon cinnamon 1 teaspoon allspice 1 teaspoon baking soda Grated rind 1 lemon Salt to taste

Clean, wash, and dry currants, Add raisins. Mix all dry ingredient ell. Beat eggs, add Cognac brandy, pour over dry ingredients and ix theroughly. Pack into greased pudding mold and steam for 6 ours. When wanted for use, steam another 6 hours. Serve with Cognac r Hard Sauce and bring to the table flaming. (Makes 6 pounds, rves 24 people.) Keeps for weeks in cool, dry place.

A VERY MERRY

It means so much to us at this time of the year to send you our sincerest wishes for a joyous Yuletide. We hope your holiday will be filled with good health, good cheer and spiritual satisfaction.

Legends Vary About First Christmas Tree

There are many legends about decorating the Christmas tree. One dates back to Boniface, who as England's missionary to Germany in the 8th century, "replaced the sacrifices to Odin's sacred oak to a fir tree adorned in tribute to the Christ child".

Others say that the tree and its candles should be attributed to Luther. Another says the practice dates to the Teutonic practice of bringing trees into homes to appease the god-like spirits that were believed to inhabit forest timbers.

But there is a legend more beau-But there is a legend more beau-tiful than all the rest. According to it, when Christ was born a group of stars looked down upon an olive tree, a date palm and a pine tree which stood over the manger. Seeing that the pine had nothing to offer in His honor while the others gave fruit and dates, they descended from the heavens to rest upon the pine's boughs as an offer-ing—and that was the first Christ-

NANCY thought that she was one of the best cooks in the whole world. Hadn't everyone who tasted one of her meals praised her work in the kitchen? What she was especially proud of was her rice pudding. Even Nancy's mother grudgingly admitted that she couldn't make such delicious pud-

Nancy's secret recipe for rice pudding, which she had discovered one day quite by accident, was safely tucked away in a corner of her brain. When the time came she would use it in her search for a husband.

Nancy's sister Ellen had the same idea about catching a husband. When Ellen began going to ball games and movies with Phil Carson, Nancy found it necessary to guard her secret more jealously than ever. On more than one occasion she'd noticed Ellen peeking through the kitchen doorway just when she was about to mix the

"Nancy, I'd like to buy your rice pudding recipe."

One day, when Ellen could stand it no longer she said: "Nancy I'd like to buy your rice pudding recipe."

"It's not for sale."

"But I've simply got to have it. Phil says he's crary about rice pudding.

"It's still not for sale. But I'll make it for you.

"That would be cheating." "I don't see why," said Nancy.
"You know what they say about all being fair in love and war. And what about some of the tall tales girl to take him seriously on every count, does he?"

Phil Comes To Dinner "Of course not. Now you just invite Phil over to dinner Christmas day and I'll make the pudding." Phil Carson came to dinner and raved about the meal, especially Ellen's rice pudding. Nancy smiled On Sunday Phil came to supper

He said the pudding was great and Nancy smiled again, a bit wistfully this time. It really didn't seem fair to deceive him.

Came New Year's eve and Phil dutifully praised the rice pudding. Nancy actually felt sorry for him. When they were clearing the table, she cornered Ellen and told her so. "But you told me anything was

"Would he go with me?" Nancy asked.

"Of course he'll go with you. He thinks you're cute. And if you talk about eating he won't even watch the picture.'

Phil was sorry about Ellen's headache, but he would be delighted to take Nancy.

"It's too bad that Ellen couldn't go," Nancy said as they climbed into Phil's car.

Phil studied her thoughtfully before answering. "Nancy, you're not a cooking maniac too, are you?"

Nancy blushed. How did he know? "I putter around in the kitchen some," she said.

"That's all? Good! He leaned close to confide: Do you know I've had rice pudding up to here!"
