Parade of Horse Back Riders Will Feature Big Show

A horseback riders' parade through the business district of Cisco is planned as a feature of the program of the Eastland County Livestock show to be held here on February 24, it is announced by the show committee.

All horseback riders are invited to take part in this parade. There will be no entry fee, either for entering animals in the show or for taking part in the parade.

Entries may be made with Mart Agnew, horse division chairman and parade superintendent, or to the Cisco chamber of commerce. It is advisable, said Mr. Agnew, for entries to be made early and all prospective exhibitors are urged to contact him or the Cisco chamber of commerce at the earliest possible time in order that suitable arrangements may be made.

The highest type of judges have been secured for each division. The show committee has gone to additional expense to insure that exhibitors receive the benefit of expert opinion in the judging of the entries, thus adding to the educational value of the show.

The show will open at 10 a. m. at the county highway barns on South D avenue, Cisco.

County home demonstration clubs will serve refreshments during the show. The women will also have exhibits of needlework and other household arts.

Entries of livestock are being received from all over the county at a rate promising the largest entry list of any show in recent years.

Ranger College Students to Join Phi Theta Kappa

Dr. G. C. Boswell, president of Ranger Junior college, has been notified by Miss Margaret Mosal, secretary of the National Phi Theta Kappa fraternity, that the Delta Alpha chapter of Hardin Junior college at Wichita Falls will initiate Ranger college into the fraternity Saturday, February 17. A formal dinner and dance will follow the installation. Miss Mary Virginia Williams is sponsoring the Delta Tau chapter for the Ranger college.

Charter members are Calla Mae Deaton, Ranger; Ethleen Dunlap, Gorman; Marie Green, Ranger; Kathryn Britton, Ranger; Roma Jewel Parker, Carbon; Amelia Walker, Ranger; Mary Joy Wilson, Ranger; Eunice Yancey, Eastland; Jo Oyler, Ranger; Cotie Woods, Alameda; Anna McEver, Ranger.

Membership is made up each semester from the ten highest academic students in the college.

Employment Service Office at Eastland Closed

E. J. Berry, area director of the war manpower commission at Okene, informs the Daily Press until further notice recruitment by the U. S. employment service office in Eastland on Saturdays will be discontinued.

As in the past, said Mr. Berry, applicants interested in war work of any kind should contact the Okene employment office at 1141 North Second street, that city.

Boxing and Basketball Drew a Record Audience

The Breckenridge Buckaroos made it clear last night why they are undefeated in District 9-AA competition by trouncing the Cisco Lobos 37 to 24 in a brilliant basketball game.

The Bucks began scoring early when their ace player, Offield, hit the basket on a one-handed shot from the corner of the court. Offield, however, was held exceedingly close by scoring only 8 points. He usually makes from 13 to 30 points.

The Lobos scored only 8 points the first half, but at halftime a new fighting spirit was instilled in them and they came back strong the last half to rack up 16 points. Led by Mac Harelson, who personally counted for 18 of his teams 24 points and captured high point honors of the game, the Lobos played what was probably their best game of the season.

As an added attraction to the basketball game, Coach Binion matched six boxing bouts that were as good as any the local fans have ever witnessed.

In the first bout, Bob Cleveland, 65, outpointed Buddy Seaborn, 65. Next, Roger Henson, 107, who was defending champion from last week, got the best of Billy Tabor, 110. The next fight between Don Johnson and Jacky Milner was stopped the first round, because Jacky got a particle of dust in his eye.

Flournoy Cleveland, 124, who drew a draw last week with Don Johnson, beat his rival, Cotton Echols, 120. Jersey Youngblood, 124, won a close one over Tommy Tipton, 130.

The last and best fight of the evening was between Fred Neuhaus, 147, and Wayne Hayes, 148, who won last week from Elzie Maxwell. Both boys slugged it out all the way through.

The referee was Junior Latson and the judges were Messrs. George Fee, Wesley Smith and Ed Huestis.

The crowd was even larger than the record of last Thursday night.

Cisco Lumber and Collins Hardware Won Last Night

In one game Ed Laminack accounted for 204 pins, with a total of 530 for the evening. However, C. C. Cutting's 541 was high total for the three-game session.

END OF THE MARCH OF DEATH—American soldiers on Luzon (left) bow their heads in front of the huge white cross which marks the burial grounds of thousands of American heroes of Bataan and Corregidor. Now uninhabited, these crude huts (upper right) once sheltered thousands of Americans and Filipinos at Camp O'Donnell. Those who survived the horrors of the March of Death lived here in slow torture, in germ and vermin-infested shacks. Some time ago Japs evacuated infamous camp, taking with them all Americans not already buried in overgrown fields. Two soldiers, (lower right) push back clump of weeds and discover crude crosses marking graves of former Camp O'Donnell occupants. Some crosses have dog tags but most have no identification to tell grim story of what happened here.

INDIAN STYLE—Soldiers just back from overseas pause to watch Seminole Indian women making native dolls in heart of Palm Beach, Fla. With traditional reticence, woman at left covers face from camera, while other Indian is bolder. Resort now serves as rest and training center for servicemen and women.

EVICTED—Wife and baby of a soldier who has been serving overseas for 27 months sit on ice-covered street in Chicago with her household belongings. Mrs. Juanita Kerr, 23, claims that landlord gave her 30 days to vacate charging she committed "nuisance." She failed to find a new flat because no one will take her son

FOR FIRST TIME RUSSIAN LAND OFFENSIVE IS DIRECTLY SUPPORTED BY OUR AIR FLEETS

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The Red army hammered to within 68 miles of Dresden today as the Saxony capital and other points in the path of the Soviet advance rocked under air bombardment by nearly 4,000 American and British war planes.

For the first time in the war the powerful land offensive of the Russian armies was directly supported by coordinated air blows from both the American and British strategic bombardment fleets.

The attack was opened by night when some 1,400 RAF planes blasted Germany, nearly 800 of them concentrating on Dresden where they lighted vast fires visible to the advancing Red army less than 68 miles distant at the Queis river. American Flying Fortresses and Liberators took up the assault by day, sending some 2,250 planes over Germany, including 1,350 heavy bombers.

Marshal Konev's forces, meanwhile were pressing against the Queis river, third of the six water barriers before Dresden, on a nine-mile front less than 68 miles from their goal.

A few miles to the north, according to German advices, other Red army forces had bypassed the Queis and the Tschirne river barriers by reaching Sorau, eight miles west of Sagan at the confluence of the Queis, Tschirne and Bober.

From Sorau the Russians were in a position to strike 72 miles southwest to Dresden with only two river barriers, the Neisse and the Spree, to hurdle.

On the Berlin front, First White Russian army forces have established a "major bridgehead across the Oder at Reitwein, 35 miles east of the capital and five miles southwest of Kuestrin, Nazi broadcast said.

The Germans also said street fighting was raging in Lebus, on the west bank of the Oder 33 miles east of Berlin and five miles north of Frankfurt. These forces presumably had cut the Kuestrin-Frankfurt railway at Lebus and were within a half mile of the west bank railway between the two cities.

Northeast of Berlin, Russian forces advanced to within five miles of the Danzig-Stettin-Berlin railway.

Russian armies, meantime, regrouped in Hungary under 73 generals for resumption of offensives aimed at Vienna, Bratislava and Bohemia after completing the liberation of encircled Budapest.

Budapest, ruined capital of Hungary, finally fell yesterday to the two armies following a 50-day siege in which 49,000 enemy troops were killed and 110,000 captured.

Want Name Presidential Candidate on Texas Ballots

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—Names of the candidates for president and vice president would go on the Texas ballot under a bill approved by the house committee on privileges, suffrage and elections.

The committee favorably reported, eleven to one, the bill by Marvin Fertsch of Hallettsville. It sent to a subcommittee for further study a proposal of E. P. Mangum, Greenville, to have a single set of presidential electors in Texas cast the state's vote for the candidates of the winning Democratic, Republican or something else. The electors would be chosen by the legislature.

Trapped Japs in Manila Massacre Women, Children

MANILA, Feb. 14.—Nichols Field and the United States Navy's wrecked anchorage at Cavite were back in American hands today and Gen. MacArthur proclaimed that the end of the battle for Manila is in sight.

With Manila's two main military prizes reconquered, MacArthur's tanks and infantrymen swarmed in from all sides to finish off the remaining Japanese trapped along the flaming waterfront and around Fort McKinley, on the city's southeastern outskirts.

The doomed Japanese were writing off their three-year stay in Manila in a last orgy of fire and blood. Thousands of terror-stricken Filipinos escaped into the American lines with word that the Nipponese were massacring men, women and children indiscriminately in the teeming residential districts still under their control.

Loan Sharks Lose Hard Fought Battle in Committee

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—Loan sharks, truck operators and chiropractors lost in three hard-fought, long house committee meetings here last night.

Reported out favorably that it "do pass," was H.J.R. 4 by Rep. Obel McAlister, Fort Worth. This is the proposed constitutional amendment which would, its author believes, drive loan sharks from Texas forever by bringing legitimate capital into the small loan business.

Denied a favorable report, 10-9, was Rep. Mainer Westbrook's bill to exempt chiropractors from the terms of the Medical Practices Act. Last week a companion measure lost, 10-10, the chairman of the House Public Health Committee breaking the tie by voting to send the bill to the attorney general for an opinion as to constitutionality.

The largest crowd of the evening attended the 1945 renewal of the legislative battle between the truckers and the railroaders. Rep. Arthur Cato's proposal to step up the truck load limit, using a scientific formula for the higher poundages, was turned back by the motor traffic committee, 12-8, after a four-hour hearing.

Rep. William Calvin Montgomery, Houston, moved to refuse the bill a favorable report, and won, 12-8.

Texas U. Regents to Meet Friday For First Time

AUSTIN, Feb. 14.—University of Texas regents will meet here Friday and Saturday for the first session since six new members were confirmed by the senate, Chairman Dudley K. Woodward of Dallas announced.

The meeting will be one week earlier than previously scheduled, because the new date is more convenient to the members, Woodward said. While on a business trip here the chairman conferred briefly with Acting President T. S. Painter. The board is expected to make more detailed plans for administration of the university while seeking a successor to former President Homer P. Rainey. Six of the present nine members voted last month not to re-appoint Dr. Rainey, who was dismissed last November.

Senator Fred Mauritz of Ganado has announced he will ask the legislature to permit a $25,000 annual salary to the next president, $7,500 more than paid Dr. Rainey. The $25,000 will attract the nation's best educators, Mauritz said.

For three regents this week-end meeting will be their first. They are Ed B. Tucker of Nacogdoches, Dr. Walter Scherer of Houston and E. E. Kirkpatrick of Brownwood. The senate also confirmed the appointment of Woodward, Dr. C. O. Terrell of Fort Worth, and David Warren of Panhandle, who went on the board after Dr. Rainey's dismissal.

Three holdover members are Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, Frank Strickland of Mission and Scott Schreiner of Kerrville.

CLOSED SHOP BANS.

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 14.—Two measures to prohibit the closed shop, approved by the South Dakota Legislature, were before Governor Sharpe for action Wednesday. The first makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine up to $300 or 90 days in jail, or both, to discriminate against workers because of union affiliation or lack of it.

HARD, YET KINDLY.

One of the most impressive things about this war is the cooperative nature of it. Government is slowly learning to do its part of the job in a more kindly way. When a man is tagged for service, he has to go, but that isn't the end of it. He gets better pay than he did in any former war, and more decent provision is made for his family.

The latest report shows that, so far, dependents of army men and women have received $7,500,000, 600 in family allowances and allotments. More than half of this comes from the service man's pay, but our government takes care of the rest in a far more liberal way than any other nation.

All this, to be sure, is nothing to brag about. Measured by normal peace-time procedure it is small return for what the service man gives to his country.

But the point is that, in this and many other ways, including the care of wounded men, the mail system, the granting of furloughs and other matters of personal importance, unprecedented efforts are made to humanize war service.

Thus the hardest work in the world is made just a little more tolerable, and civilian consciences are a little easier.

INFANT PRODIGIES.

Adolf A. Berle, Jr., former assistant secretary of state, who has just been appointed ambassador to Brazil, must get tired of hearing himself referred to as an infant prodigy. To avoid this fate, he should not have graduated from Harvard at 18. The brilliance which this feat disclosed has continued throughout his life.

Harvard will probably forever associate him with its other amazingly young graduate, Edward Everett. That governor of Massachusetts, minister to Great Britain, United States senator and secretary of state, got an early start by receiving his undergraduate degree at 17. Now for all his achievements he is chiefly remembered as the deliverer of the formal oration at Gettysburg who was completely put in the shade by a two-minute address by Abraham Lincoln.

Both prodigies justified their early promise. Neither, however, made such a startling beginning as William Pitt, son of the Lord Chatham who stood up for the American colonies during the Revolution. Pitt became prime minister of England at 24. That is a mark for coming centuries to shoot at, probably with complete failure.

Berle, Everett, Pitt are all answers to the popular notion that infant prodigies never amount to much in later life. For one case like that of Boris Sidis, who cracked under the strain of precocity, there are innumerable others to prove that anyone wishing to be brilliant in life should start young. Mendelssohn, for example, and Mozart.

wrong in the code of ethics. It is almost impossible to inflict material punishment as a war penalty without injuring innocent children, or unborn generations. Such oppressive punishment can only lead to unending hatred and future wars; each more horrible than the preceding, and in the end will lead to the destruction of our own posterity.

Victory may end in defeat, if charity is not invoked; for such charity is the foundation of an international harmony, whereby life may be made secure everywhere.

We thus see that the Path that may lead us as a Nation to an enduring Peace is the same path that leads us as individuals to a life of peace and happiness.

It is our duty to insist that our peace envoys be animated with the spirit of that code of ethics which can lead us to the end of all wars.

SAVE SCHOOL PROPERTY.

(By ROBBIE KATE BERRY)

(Editor's Note—This editorial was voted first winner by the class in journalism at Cisco high school. Miss Berry, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Berry of route 2, Cisco.)

Are you a present day historian? Would you like to know what has happened in the years gone by in Cisco High? It seems that in 1938, John Allen was a senior, in '41, Sam Black was a member of the band, in '43, Bob Hart was in love with Mary North and James White took up sculpturing. How do we know these things? Read the inscriptions put upon the desk, tables and walls of the building by former students.

Why do people do these things? Do they realize that to mark on a desk or to cut their initials on the tables, not only mars their beauty but ruins the surface, making it impossible to write upon?

No, these people do not mean to be destructive. Many people, because of nervousness, have a habit of marking and scratching on the desk just because they have a pencil or knife in their hand. Other people, perhaps bored at a lesson that they did not know to begin with, mar the desk for amusement or for lack of something else to do. They do not stop to think, "just what am I doing?"

Perhaps you did not know that if you put $3.00 in the bank every day for 60 years of your life, that you would have exactly enough money to pay for our school building. If our school is that valuable, then let's not be present-day historians. Why not take care of it?

ENSIGN CLEVELAND WEDS FLORIDA GIRL.

In an impressive candle light ceremony at twilight Wednesday, January 31, Miss Elizabeth Pippin, daughter of Mrs. R. R. Pippin, of Sanford, Fla., became the bride of Ensign Jesse Stewart Cleveland of the naval reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Cleveland of Cisco, Texas, at the First Baptist church of Sanford.

Mrs. Evans McCoy, church organist, played a program of nuptial music, and the traditional wedding marches.

The altar and aisles were covered with white and the marriage vows were spoken by the couple before an arch of lighted wedding candelabra. The altar was banked with native palms and tree ferns, white gladioli, statice, camelias and snapdragons. Arrangements of these flowers interspersed with lighted candles were placed on the organ, baptismal and choir loft.

The bride was given in marriage by Dr. G. S. Selman and wore a wedding gown of duchess satin, fashioned with points over the wrists, sweetheart neckline and full skirt which swept into a long train. Her white veil of illusion fell in three tiers from a coronet of orange blossoms and lily of the valley. She carried an arm bouquet of white superba camellias, centered with two white cattleya orchids shaped in the form of a Delta Delta Delta crescent, the symbol of her sorority at college.

A recreation in the home of the bride's mother followed the wedding. The house was festive with floral decorations of quantities of sweet peas, fern, home camellias and snapdragons.

The wedding party and Mrs. Pippin, wearing a fuchsia crepe dinner dress with shoulder corsage of purple down camellias, received the guests. A three-tier wedding cake centered the bride's table and was cut by the young couple with an antique silver cake knife, belonging to Mrs. H. C. Dubose.

Mrs. Cleveland chose for her wedding trip a slate blue herringbone tweed suit with a fur felt hat and brown accessories.

Ensign Cleveland with his bride will report to Jacksonville, Fla., after spending some time in Texas, at Daytona Beach, Fla., and New Orleans.

Salt is a vital ally in war. Life-saving salt is used in plasma, dressings for wounds, and dousing fire bombs in battle areas.

Salt is serving the homefront, too, in the preservation of foods, in the making of innumerable articles for war and civilian use.

No, Sir! There's plenty of electricity in West Texas to meet your essential needs—all of 'em! . . .

In war plants, in factories, in schools and hospitals—and what's more, in your home!

On February 1st practically the entire United States was placed under "Brown-out" conditions—virtually eliminating the use of electricity for outdoor advertising, ornamental and display lighting—West Texas will be among the very few areas exempt from this governmental order intended to save COAL fuel.

Here's how this Company made ready for any eventuality—
Has its own exclusive gas fields for its three major generating stations.
Has its own exclusive gas and pipe lines.
Has supplemental contracts for stand-by gas.
Has more power in reserve proportionately than any other section of the Southwest.
Has had ample power to care for needs of its own area and, in addition, has been sending all the power to Oklahoma and Arkansas the transmission lines will carry to help win the war.
We have worked hard to see that in good times and bad, peacetime or war—you would have ample electric service at the flip of the switch!
Our employes have done their war job so quietly and well that it's easy to take 'em for granted. We hope you won't, and that you'll remember such results have been accomplished under the American system of free enterprise.
