U. S. FIRST CROSSES RHINE

L. P. Kuykendall Died Early Today at Houston Home

L. P. Kuykendall, former president of Cisco and owner and operator of the Ever Ready Transfer and Storage Co. here until he sold to Jesse Reynolds in 1936, died at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mamie Bowers, in Houston. He had made his home in Houston for about five years. Mr. Kuykendall had many friends here and was about 60 years of age.

Funeral arrangements had not been made this morning, because of the serious illness of his mother, who also resides in Houston.

Deceased is survived by his mother, two brothers and three sisters. His wife preceded him in death about 14 years ago and was buried in Oakwood cemetery, Cisco.

Large Crowd Enjoyed Lecture By Australian

A crowd much larger than that which heard Mrs. Fitch in the first of the series of lectures presented by Cisco Rotary club in its institute of International Understanding Thursday night listened with keen interest to M. P. Greenwood - Adams, Australian journalist, in the second of the series at high school auditorium. Mr. Greenwood - Adams, introduced by W. W. Fewell, spoke on Australia, New Zealand and the Islands of the Southwest Pacific.

He sketched the history of the development of the islands as colonies of major world powers and turned then to a discussion of their characteristics, peoples and the parts which they are now playing in the world war and the parts they will play when the conflict is over. The ties between this vast area and the United States were also dealt with by the speaker in his interesting and informative address.

Cisco Rotary club officials anticipate the largest attendance of the series next Thursday night when Samuel G. Rosen, Russian-born American citizen, will discuss Russia's Position — East and West. The great interest in what Russia is going to do will undoubtedly draw many more people to hear this authority on that rather enigmatic land when he is presented next week.

In his address Mr. Greenwood-Adams struck an interesting note relative to Gen. Douglas MacArthur when he pointed out that there is a sentimental link between the general and another MacArthur in Australia. Capt. John MacArthur, founder of Australia's mighty sheep industry, was the builder of the wealth of the nation over a century ago. Now another MacArthur has come to Australia at a moment of great danger and has steered the commonwealth and the United States in their victorious drive north against the Japanese.

CANNING SUGAR BE LIMITED

Issuance of canning sugar rations for 1945 will begin shortly in Eastland county, it is announced. Application forms have not yet been received and the public will be advised when they are ready.

An entirely new system will be used this year. Much less sugar will be available for distribution, and it will not be issued on a flat basis of so many pounds per person, but it will be rationed according to need. Not more than 20 pounds will be issued to one individual nor more than 160 pounds per family unit. The average will be not more than ten pounds per person in the county. This must last the entire year. Rationing will cease on October 31, 1945.

Coupons or checks for the sugar will not be given to applicants at the ration board site. They will be mailed to the applicant, exactly as gasoline rationing is now handled. Applicants may make application at any of the established ration centers, but the application will be mailed to the board, acted upon by it and the ration mailed back to applicant.

The board may issue less sugar than asked, since it must ration the amount allotted the county very severely and can issue sugar for home canning only on the basis of positive need. Hence all applicants must state fully the reasons for need and must be prepared to support these statements. There will not be any second applications for sugar and none will be honored on the plea that "fruit is spoiling." The supply is adequate for only one issuance.

Fort Worth To Handle All Gasoline Rations

In the very near future all gasoline rations will be handled out of a general mailing center in Fort Worth, it is announced by Eastland County War Price and Rationing board. The gasoline panel will act on the applications and a transmittal sheet will be sent to Fort Worth from where the rations will be mailed to the applicant.

No ration will be issued by that center unless the mileage ration record is sent in attached to the transmittal sheet. Since practically 50 per cent of the holders of A rations have lost this sheet or destroyed it, under the impression it was of no value, a serious situation has developed. Holders of A ration books were urged to preserve these mileage ration records carefully. The local boards do not have the personnel to issue a duplicate record on every supplemental application. Unless the ration book holder preserves this record and sends it in with every application, issuance of rations will be held up.

Mainland Japs Must Be Patient Says Adm. Nimitz

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—American invasion forces today were reported invading Mindanao, southernmost of the Philippine islands, as U. S. Marines finally drove a wedge to the northeast cliff on Iwo island, splitting the Japanese forces in two.

Premier Gen. Kuniaki Koiso expressed fears of an imminent invasion of Japan, but Adm. Chester W. Nimitz indirectly assured him that Japan would be hit harder before assault forces land.

Evans Says Wound Slight; Be Back On the Job Soon

A letter from Pvt. Truman Calhoun Evans, who is in a French hospital from wounds received recently, says his injuries were slight and that he will be up and back on the job at an early date.

The young man, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Evans of Cisco and an employee of the Daily Press when drafted, was hit in both legs by shrapnel. However, he was lucky — no bones were broken.

Marrs and Adams Addressed Rotary Club Yesterday

W. R. Marrs, member of the state vocational department of the University of Texas, and Greenwood Adams, native Australian, were program speakers at the Rotary club Thursday.

Other visitors were Arlin Bint of Cisco, W. P. Ferguson of Wichita Falls, J. W. Hooker and M. E. Perkins of Abilene.

J. E. Hays announced three members absent, with two out last week.

Rotarian E. P. Crawford had charge of the program and in preliminaries before introducing his guests, stated that he always had the best programs, which were invariably placed in his lap (funny place for them) without effort on his part. This he attributed to right living. He also read some poems, one of which was his own composition, he claimed. After introducing Mr. Bint, whose guest Mr. Marrs was, Crawford presented R. N. Cluck, who introduced the first speaker, Mr. Marrs.

The speaker's talk concerned local planning for post-war periods, much along the line of the talk at the Lions club Wednesday. Marrs said that his job was known as Conference Leader—not to tell people what to do, but tell them what and how they were doing in other parts of the country.

Mr. Adams was then introduced and told of the customs of people and strange animals of the land down-under.

SITUATION INTOLERABLE.

LONDON, March 9.—Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, chief of staff of the German army, was quoted by the Nazi radio today as admitting in a message to German troops that the strain now has become "well nigh intolerable." Foreign transmissions of the Nazi radio acknowledged an American crossing of the Rhine river, but there was no immediate indication that the German people had been told that their biggest defense barrier in the west was broken.

REDS LIBERATE YANKS.

MOSCOW, March 9.—The United States military mission said today that 1,200 U. S. officers and enlisted men liberated by the Red army from German prison camps had left en route home.

THIRD AND FIRST ARMIES ARE RAPIDLY FORGING TRAP THAT WILL CATCH 50,000 GERMANS

LONDON, March 9.—U. S. First army troops poured across the Rhine today into a secure bridgehead in virtually endless columns and fanned out on the east bank, but headquarters maintained a news blackout on the direction of the attack which momentarily might smash toward the heart of Germany.

"Every road leading to the bridgehead is bringing weapons to extend into the eastern Rhineland the massive power punch the First army began 14 days ago at the Roer river," a field dispatch said.

German broadcasts placed the site of the crossing at Remagen, 12 miles south of Bonn and 277 miles southwest of Berlin.

The Germans said the Americans had captured a bridge intact at Remagen. The Ludendorff span there is a double track railroad bridge capable of bearing tanks, trucks and foot troops. A Berlin military spokesman said the First army troops found the bridge which "by chance" was not destroyed.

Of the crossing, the Berlin radio said: "At Remagen, the Americans succeeded in crossing to the eastern bank of the Rhine. These relatively weak U. S. A. forces could penetrate on the eastern bank of the Rhine. Their advance guards were, however, halted by Germans at positions before the town of Linz." Linz is three miles east of Remagen.

Supreme headquarters continued strict secrecy.

This much was known, however, through the more than 45 shrouded hours since the infantry crossed at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday in one of the greatest military strokes since the invasion of Normandy.

Hodges was pouring troops by the thousands (17 words censored) into the east bank bridgehead which presumably was a good five miles deep and wider than that.

Up to latest reports at supreme headquarters — covering action well into Thursday evening — the Germans neither had been able to rally enough strength for a fighting stand nor to get enough troops to the danger point for serious counter-attacks, although three small ones were mounted.

The crossing was made and the bridgehead was expanded under some mortar and small arms fire. This was neither heavy nor particularly effective.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's aggressive Third army overran two-thirds of the Coblenz plain and seized Miesenheim, 15 miles south of Remagen. With the First army, he was rapidly forging a trap on perhaps 50,000 Germans caught in his audacious plunge to the Rhine near Coblenz two days ago.

HOLDERS OF Gas Coupons Must Exercise Care

Holders of gasoline coupons were advised this week that when they obtain new car licenses they are required to mark through the old license number on their mileage ration record and insert the new license number above it.

They are to draw only one line through the old number—not obliterate it—and write the new number above.

They should not do this on their stamps, but only on the mileage ration record and also on the supplemental ration folder.

New Auto License Plates May Be Secured in Cisco

George W. Downie, city secretary, informs the Press that a representative from the office of Clyde Karkalits, county tax collector, will be at Cisco city hall March 27 through March 31 for the collection of auto taxes and the issuance of new license plates.

All cars in operation must have the new plate on April 1—no foolin'.

Eastland county issued 6,269 auto licenses last year—passenger cars and trucks.

Cost of license is based strictly on weight of passenger vehicles.

Truck license cost is based on weight of car, plus the load said truck is authorized to carry. A new state law raises the maximum load for trucks from 38,000 to 48,000 pounds, trailer included, said Mr. Karkalits.

"Looking Into the Stable After the Horse Has Gone"

AUSTIN, March 9.—The limitations of a state government in regulating the export of natural gas were related by the Texas Railroad Commission to San Antonio Manufacturers association representatives.

"Frankly, I don't know what the remedy is," said Chairman Olin Culberson. "I think we may be looking into the stable after the horse has gone."

All three commission members told the San Antonio group that export of natural gas to another state cannot be prevented by law, even though the gas might be needed here.

Authorizing the federal power commission to grant permission for construction of pipelines removed possibility of interference from the states, said Commissioner Beauford H. Jester.

Col. Ernest Thompson noted that the FPC will hold hearings in Kansas City, Mo., starting May 1 on the question of enlarging its powers over the designation of uses for natural gas and that Texans might register their protests against interstate pipelines at that time.

The commissioners said two bills pending in the legislature would help it control the production of natural gas. One by Representative F. G. Swanson of Tyler would allow for proration of natural gas and restrict production to 10 instead of 25 per cent of its open-flow volume from a well.

The other, introduced in both house and senate, would allow the commission specifically to require pressure maintenance programs in gas reservoirs where it is reasonable and feasible.

Chairman Culberson said the natural gas tax, now 5.2 per cent of market value of gas at the well, might be increased. He did not suggest how much, but said it should be proportionate with the tax on crude oil.

Dr. E. P. Schoch, University of Texas chemical engineer, said a tax of 1c per thousand cubic feet of gas would yield $20,000,000 a year at present rates of production. Culberson said any tax would apply equally upon gas sold in Texas or carried elsewhere.

DOLLARS AND DOUGHNUTS.

The Red Cross asks but once a year. All the year, however, it stands ready. People lucky enough to have neither friend nor relative fighting overseas may not know much about the Red Cross. That is, if they are also lucky enough to live where neither flood, fire nor other disaster has ever struck their community. But there are not many such people.

People who know about floods know the Red Cross. Those who have been in great fires, great explosions and other dire accidents know it well. All the men abroad know it. They know it in time of fun and freedom. They know it in hospitals. They write about it to their folks at home. Blood and treasure are needed to win a war. The Red Cross needs both. Give blood. Give money. Give as freely to the Red Cross as it gives to those who need its help. Give money or make your pledge today. Make your blood appointment today—and keep both pledge and appointment. Then you can hold your head up when your men come home. You will have done your part.

THE RIGHT TO WORK.

Not so many years ago, most of us thought that the Constitution and the Bill of Rights guaranteed to every individual the right to work, political freedom, and protection of minorities from coercion by majorities. We used to reason that if a man signed a contract that infringed on his inalienable rights, it would be declared void as contrary to the public welfare. But we seem to have drifted far from the ideals of the founders of this nation, which made it truly the "land of the free."

The case of Cecil B. DeMille, in asking an injunction to prevent the American Federation of Radio Artists from collecting an assessment for political purposes contrary to his views, may become historic on the right of the individual to work without paying for the privilege in the United States. A lower California court denied the injunction and held DeMille must pay the $1.00 because he agreed to all the provisions of the union's by-laws, which included the right to make assessments. By refusing to pay, DeMille is out of the union and barred from his theater program, and all radio activity.

As DeMille will take his case to the higher courts, he evidently believes that he still has certain Constitutional safeguards, for he is forfeiting a $98,000 salary rather than pay $1.00 in political tribute as a condition precedent to the right to earn a living. Union members should be deeply concerned over the principle involved in this issue. Would the California court permit the forced collection of money from employees by an employer, for political purposes, as a condition to holding a job?

If the right to work can be conditioned upon paying objectionable assessments, we can no longer call our country "the land of the free."

MICROBE CONVENTION.

(SAMUEL PESKIND, M. D.)

Microbes of all sorts are gathered in solemn assemblage. A terrible situation has arisen! The human being is losing his availability as a hunting ground. Protective measures such as vaccines, toxin immunization and chemotherapy have made the human body no happy home for disease germs. Diphtheria, tetanus, small-pox, typhus, cholera, typhoid, and other germ-produced diseases are becoming rarities. What can the germs do about it? A committee reports:

"To all ye germs assembled! We have devised an answer to conquering humans depriving us of feeding grounds. We must develop extra virulence. We can go underground. By developing first in one lower animal and then in another, our virulence will be stepped up with each animal passage. We shall become irresistible."

"Against chemo-therapy we can, by a little adjustment in our own bodies, develop resistance. We can become sulfa-fast, penicillinfast, immune to all their drugs. Thus we hope to regain our power and to nullify the dastardly defense methods employed by those no-good humans against us." Slowly they filed out—and will bear a lot of watching by doctors who guard the human race.

MORE ABOUT THE SAME THING

The abstract, contrary to a rather general opinion, does not cure the title, but rather reveals its condition, good or bad. Three things are strived for in the abstract. (1) To locate the property by field notes and plats. (2) To discover the true ownership as the records may reveal it. (3) To detect the liens and encumbrances, if any. The abstract serves many other useful purposes, but these three are most important.
