

On the Go with Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

Ysleta Ball's birthday was Sunday, so her Sunday School class put together a surprise luncheon after church for the class members and families. The lunch of ham and brisket and all kinds of good salads and vegetables and desserts was served in the Fellowship Hall.

There were about 50 people enjoying the good food and fellowship.

The members of the First Baptist Church who attended the Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference in Fort Worth on Jan. 17, 18 and 19 were Rev. Ken and Roberta Cole, Richard and Colletta Young, E.D. and Grace Morgan, Dorothy Hopson and her daughter, Susan Owens of Hereford.

Highlights of the conference were the preaching of Frank Pollard, Ed Young and Adrian Rogers, president of the Southern Baptist Convention. Cynthia Clawson and the Singing Men of Texas were featured singers.

Part of the fun was seeing old friends again. Some friends they saw were Ted and Shirley Eaton, Frank and Jane Pollard, George and Monette Ray and Jerrie Kay Dobbs Rhoads, Jack and Donna Lee and Charles Higgs.

Ioma Stokes and Tommie Sue Nisbett went with Sue Hawkins to Waco last week. Sue attended a meeting in Austin and Ioma visited her brother-in-law and his wife. Tommie Sue visited her daughter Sherlon Dyer and family.

The icy weather in early January caused another birthday to be celebrated late. Oleta Gollehon honored Billye Wesson with other members of the birthday club on Thursday at K-Bob's. Other members were Geneva Dennis, Hazel Bagwell, Irene Carpenter, Mauzee Youts, Mary Edna Hendrix, Connie Ivey and Wesson's daughter, Wilton Armstrong from Hale Center.

Out-of-town visitors at the museum last week were Gail Nelson from Dimmitt and her sisters, Wanda Roberts of Oklahoma City, and Fahama Holder of Amarillo and her sister-in-law, Mary Ladd of Auburn, Calif.

The Naomi Sunday School class held their meeting at the Museum on Jan. 26. Ettie McDermitt is the teacher and the members present were Louise Mears, Kate Beecher, Willie Mae Edwards, Mary Dove, Gennie Bruton, Winona Bunch, Thelma Moore, and Mary Edna Hendrix. Ettie served a delicious apple cake and coffee.

The Museum board members held their monthly meeting Thursday night at the museum. Lon Woodburn presided over the meeting and Clara Vick read the minutes from the last meeting. Jackie McLeroy, Claudine Langford, Maxine Ballard, and Twila West were there to represent the Quilter's Guild. Others present were Helen Richardson, Mary Woodburn, Madge Robb, Jim Elder, Ralph Lambright, Beral Hance, and Mary Edna Hendrix.

The Plainview Community Concerts Association presented The Gathering of the Clans, a Highland Fling of Scottish music, song and dance in Plainview on Monday night. It was much more than just playing of bagpipes. Several were seen from Tulia, Earth, Hereford and Dimmitt.

Ruth Coleman was hostess to the Friday bridge club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a day of bridge. Polly Holland won high score and Ruth Coleman won second high score. Others playing were Cletha George, Retta Cluck, Neva Hickey, Dorothy Elder, Opha Burks and Betty Renfro of Amarillo.

Matt Howell, son of Jack and Charlene Howell, has arrived in Uruguay safely. He thinks he is "out in the boonies". He is setting up labs, teaching AI and breeding horses.

The Lee Street Baptist Church and the First Baptist Church held a joint worship service at the First Baptist Church Sunday night. Al Webb led the sing-a-long as well as singing a solo, He Touched Me. The singing group "Living Sacrifice" sang Tell me That Name Medley. Richard Young sang Jesus, He is the Son of God and led a testimony time. Rev. Ken Cole led the get-acquainted time and the singing of The Family of God. Walter Maynard and Jerre Schultz furnished the beautiful piano and organ music. Rev. Jim Ritter, pastor of Lee Street Baptist Church brought the inspirational message. This will be a fifth Sunday observance meeting at Lee Street next time.

The United Methodist Church in Paducah observed the fifth Sunday Woman's Day. Frank and Shirley Wise and Ruth Coleman were there from Dimmitt. They had an all women's choir, women ushers and Shirley Wise was the guest speaker. Weldon and Ann Rodgers were there and Ann sang He Touched Me.

Inez Lee celebrated her 77th birthday with a dinner at Jack and Charlene Howell's. Helping her celebrate were Dorothy, Carlyle and Dennis Sargent of Hereford, Don, Carolyn, Trampas and Coby Moke, Gaines, Crystal, Misti and Clint Howell, all of Dimmitt.

Don and Ann Ethington and Loranell Hamilton left Dec. 29 for Patagonia, Ariz. The Ethingtons have a winter place there. Dave and Marie Erickson of Patagonia joined them and all packed up with a large travel trailer, boat and the cars and drove to Navajoa, Las Noches, El Fuerte and on through many small villages on beyond the Hidalgo Dam and camped out on Lake Miguel Hidalgo.

They were joined with a dozen other couples with travel trailers and boats from Oklahoma. All of these composed a club of bass fishermen and most of them caught about 40 large bass each day. At night they gathered around a large campfire and discussed the day's happenings.

The five from Patagonia had a guide who took them by boat into the Sierra Madri Mountains to a mining camp and one of his friends. There they got to dig for gold. At the miner's home they saw a one-room school taught by a circuit riding teacher. The school had a thatched roof, three sides and a dirt floor. It was as wide as one blackboard and 12 feet in length. Children have to attend school until they finish the fifth grade. Compared to this, it should be a privilege to teach in the US. The towns of Mexico also have many beautiful and well-equipped schools.

The next day they drove back to El Fuerte to see the historical buildings. The government buildings are over 250 years old and are built around a court yard.

All are in good condition and are very beautiful. That evening was spent driving back into the mountains as their guide was taking them much farther into the mountains to visit another gold mine. After going through many small villages, they stopped and picked up another guide to take them into the wilderness. After hiking many miles and wading across streams, they were met by a group of miners with guards that carried rifles. They let the group join them and they spent the afternoon digging for gold again. Loranell got to use their dry washer and sifted some gold from the sand, dirt and rocks.

After this, they drove to Las Noches and on to Alamos, an old Spanish colonial mining town that is being turned into a historical monument. They stayed at the Los Portales Palacio that used to be the Silver King's Palace.

The Catholic church dated back to 1538. It has been rebuilt on the same location and is very beautiful. They dined and listened to a Mariachi band in a hotel that had been converted. The hotel was over 200 years old.

From there they returned to Obergon and Navajoa. The next day they moved on to San Carlos where they spent several days deep-sea fishing, shopping and visiting other friends from Patagonia.

Ann and Loranell enjoyed a month free from cooking as Marie served as chief cook while they had the job of cleaning up.

After returning to Arizona, many days were spent in Tucson visiting Don's mother and brother. They enjoyed relaxing in the nice warm and refreshing air.

Sheila Ann Wolfe and children flew in to visit her mother, Mrs. J.N. Hamilton for Christmas.

A surprise birthday luncheon and card shower was held for Cleo Forson on Tuesday at K-Bob's. A birthday cake and arrangement of balloons were presented to Cleo. Friends enjoying the celebration were Louise Mears, Alice Collyer, Ferne Dickey, Carolyn Moke, Helen Richardson, Elizabeth Huckabay and Edith Graef.

Several from Dimmitt were seen in Plainview on Sunday including C.J. and Omega Johnson and their granddaughter, Weldon and Irene Bradley, P.L. and Pauline Hoyer, Irene Carpenter and Oleta Gollehon, Coalene Millsap, Gerry Chaney, Louise Cathey, Florene Stafford and Velma Birchfield.

Many get-togethers were held Sunday for the Super Bowl game. James and Joyce Autry served fajitas for their company in Rocky Ford, Colo. I'm sure they were disappointed the Dever Broncos lost.

back for more. Who are those guys? I wondered. They, too, are obviously wise, rosy of cheek and fleet of foot, although their convention badges are different than mine.

So after breakfast I checked out the convention registration booth across the lobby from ours. They were gastroenterologists. Now, what did I tell you?

Small world, latest verse: Liz Murphy, who has been home for the holidays, will return soon to Africa, where she is a medical missionary.

On the way, she plans to stop off at Amsterdam to visit friends, including another young woman missionary she met last year.

The guy who introduced them was ribbing when he told Liz, "I'd like to introduce you to the former Miss Grain Sorghum of the Nation."

"Oh, yeah?" Liz exclaimed, then asked the other woman, "What year did you win it? I'll bet I saw you in the pageant!"

"You mean—you've been to it?" the flustered guy asked.

"Sure," Liz said. "It was in my hometown."

The other young woman was Karen Lafferty, Miss Grain Sorghum of 1968—a beautiful blonde from Farmington, N.M., who was a coed at Eastern New Mexico when she won the title here. For her talent act, she accompanied herself on the guitar and sang "Goin' Out of My Head."

Karen has never married, Liz said, and has been living in Amsterdam several years, doing her Christian best among the people there. She's a member of a group called Musicians With Missions. They're based in The Netherlands, sing throughout Europe, and have cut several albums.

Apparently there's plenty for a missionary to do in The Netherlands. According to a recent article in Time magazine, Amsterdam has long been the drug capital of Europe, with heroin sold openly on the streets and "soft" drugs such as hashish and marijuana readily available at the coffee shops, where waiters bring them right to the table. You can even order pastries laced with marijuana (bringing a new dimension to the term, "high tea").

But in recent years, Dutch society has been paying the price for its freewheeling attitude toward drugs and its leniency toward the thieves, prostitutes and deadbeats that the drug culture produces. The theft rate in Rotterdam has increased from 8,000 cases in 1960 to 64,000 in 1986. Prostitution is rampant; krakers (non-paying squatters) occupy buildings and battle with police for the right to do so; and the jails and prisons are so overcrowded that you can commit murder and get off with a two-year sentence.

Public alarm finally led to adoption last February of a $40 million omnibus crime bill and a near-doubling of the number of jail cells in the country. Obviously, the Dutchman-on-the-street is getting fed up with the fallout of the permissive society.

One of the speakers at the Texas Press Association's mid-winter convention in Dallas last weekend was Helen Thomas, White House bureau chief for United Press International.

She began her speech thusly: "I have just come from Washington and the White House. Let us pray."

And Charles Babcock, one of the attorneys on a media-law discussion panel, told us, "We were hoping to have Dan Rather here, too, but he couldn't make it. He's at home working on his book, Ambushed by a Wimp."

The speaker who gave us the most to think about was H. Ross Perot, who told us—in his straight-from-the-shoulder, unvarnished way—what he thinks about the state of the American economy, our educational system and prospects for the future. I've ordered a tape of his speech and will be sharing his thoughts with you.

The issue of plastic handguns is finally coming up in the presidential campaign. Vice-President Bush pulled a plastic pistol on his audience Tuesday to dramatize the problem.

Plastic handguns that fire lethal bullets are now being manufactured by an Austrian gunmaker. Moammar Khadafi of Libya has expressed an interest in buying hundreds of them, according to published reports.

Just as frightening is the fact that an American gun manufacturer also has designed an all-plastic handgun that would be undetectable by present security devices, all of which are metal detectors.

You can imagine who would make up the main market for them—terrorists wanting to hijack airliners, or those wanting to kill a public figure.

A Senate bill (S465) would ban the manufacture or importation of plastic handguns.

The National Rifle Association, believe it or not, is opposing any ban on nondetectable handguns. According to the Washington Post, the NRA successfully lobbied Vice-President Bush and Attorney General Edwin Meese into withdrawing a package of gun-control legislation that included a plastic-guns ban. The package already had been approved by officials of the Justice and Treasury Depts.

As I understand it, it would take years to develop the technology to detect plastic handguns at airports and public buildings.

If we let this new invention slip past undetected, we're pretty stupid.

One big challenge Murphy said she will face in her work will be giving the people hope. She said she hopes her work there as a physicians assistant will give her the credibility she needs to accomplish her real task, which is "to tell people about Jesus."

... virtuoso ensemble to perform Feb. 17

CCCCA to present Linden Quintet Concert

The Castro County Community Concert Association will present the Linden Woodwind Quintet in concert Wednesday, Feb. 17, at 8:30 p.m. in the Dimmitt High School Auditorium.

The Linden Quintet, a virtuoso ensemble formed in 1976, is setting a new standard in the performance of quintet literature.

The group has been widely acclaimed in the music world for lively and tasteful transcriptions of an extraordinary range of music from Bach to current popular songs. Gaining both critical praise and audience appreciation for quality, enthusiasm and invention, the Linden Quintet for the first time provides a woodwind repertoire of the music people want to hear.

The quintet consists of Lisa Hansen, flutist, William Meredith on oboe, Mitchell Kriegler on clarinet, Wendy Large on bassoon, and Richard Hein on horn.

Hansen is a graduate of the Juilliard School. In 1981, she was featured in the EMMY Award-winning CBS TV documentary "Juilliard - A Life in Music and Beyond." Former principal flutist with the Mexico City Philharmonic, she has won international praise for her 1986 Angel recording of Rodrigo's Concierto Pastoral for flute and orchestra with the London Royal Philharmonic Orchestra.

Meridith made his first solo appearance with the Kansas City Philharmonic at the age of 13 and studied at the Manhattan School of Music. His professional experience includes the American Symphony, New York Pops, New Jersey Symphony and the Caramoor Festival.

Kriegler, is a graduate of the Manhattan School of Music. He has played with the Grand Opera of New York, the New York Choral Society, the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, the Mostly Mozart Orchestra and the New York City Opera. He has also recorded for Columbia, DGG, Vanguard and CRI.

Large holds both a Bachelor and Master Degree in Music from the Eastman School of Music. Her professional experience includes the Savannah Symphony, the New Jersey Symphony, the New Jersey Opera Company, the Garden State Opera Company, and the New Philharmonic of Northeast New Jersey.

Hein has his Bachelor of Music from the Manhattan School of Music. He has played with the Baltimore Symphony, the New Jersey Symphony, the Seattle Symphony, the Chamber Orchestra of New England, the Brooklyn Philharmonic, and the Eastern Opera Company. He has recorded with Grenadilla and EMI.

Bobbies move back into 2-AAA driver's seat

The Bobbies moved back into the driver's seat in the District 2-AAA girls' basketball race Tuesday night, with their toughest challenges coming up—Muleshoe there Friday and Tulia here Tuesday.

While the Bobbies were downing Floydada here Tuesday night, 56-45, Tulia defeated Muleshoe, leaving Dimmitt as the only team without a loss in the second half of district play.

But Coach Richard Wood and his Bobbies can't forget their exhausting triple-overtime win over Muleshoe here, followed by their loss to Tulia there in the first half of play. That loss to Tulia broke the Bobbies' lone hold on the league lead and they finished the first half in a first-place tie with Muleshoe.

Wood explained that under District 2-AAA rules, if either the Bobbies or the Mulettes win the second half outright, that team will get the top seed in the playoffs and will meet the District 1-AAA runner-up in bi-district. Another first-place tie between the two teams in the second half would force a play-off for top-seed rights.

So a lot is riding on Friday night's game when the Bobbies invade the Mulettes' gym.

Free throws were a big factor in the Bobbies' 56-45 win over Floydada Tuesday. Dimmitt sank 12 of 17 charity tosses while the Whirlettes netted only four of 10. That was eight points of the Bobbies' 11-point victory margin. From the floor, the Bobbies outscored the Whirlettes 44-41, with Becky Rodriguez hitting two three-pointers.

The Bobcats cinched a playoff spot again when they ripped Friona, 79-36, to finish the first half of district play undefeated. Tuesday night they put away the pesky Floydada Whirlwinds 54-42, and will face their toughest district-stretch challenge when Littlefield comes to call on Feb. 12.

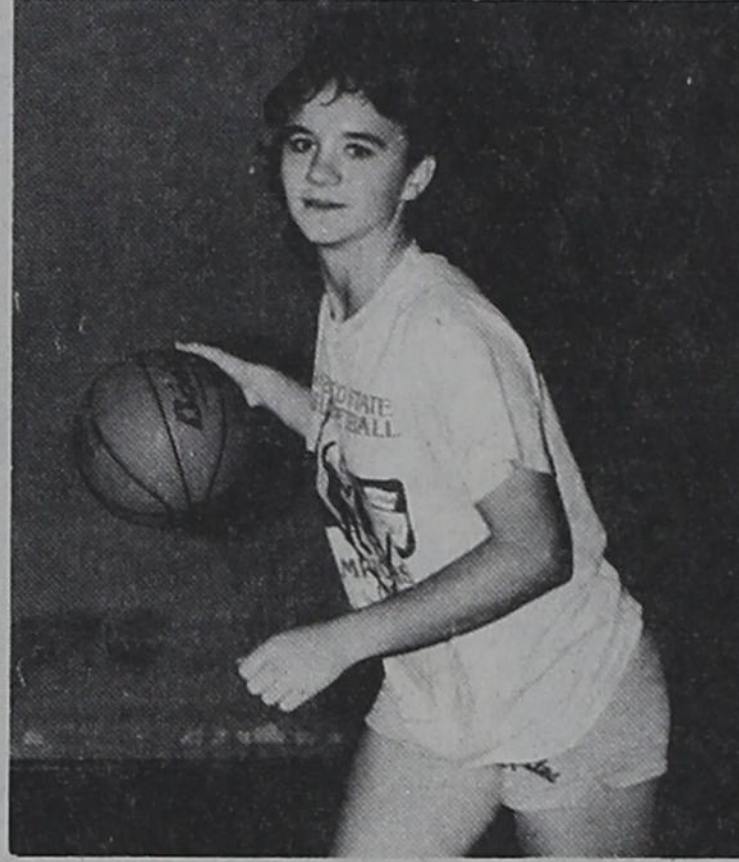

ALICIA SHIPPY goes over the heads of three Floydada Whirlettes to get off a shot during the Bobbies' district encounter here Friday night. Shippy scored 11 points as the Bobbies won, 56-45. Meanwhile, the district's "spoiler team," the Tulia Hornettes, defeated Muleshoe Tuesday night to leave the Bobbies as the only team still unbeaten in 2-AAA second-half play.

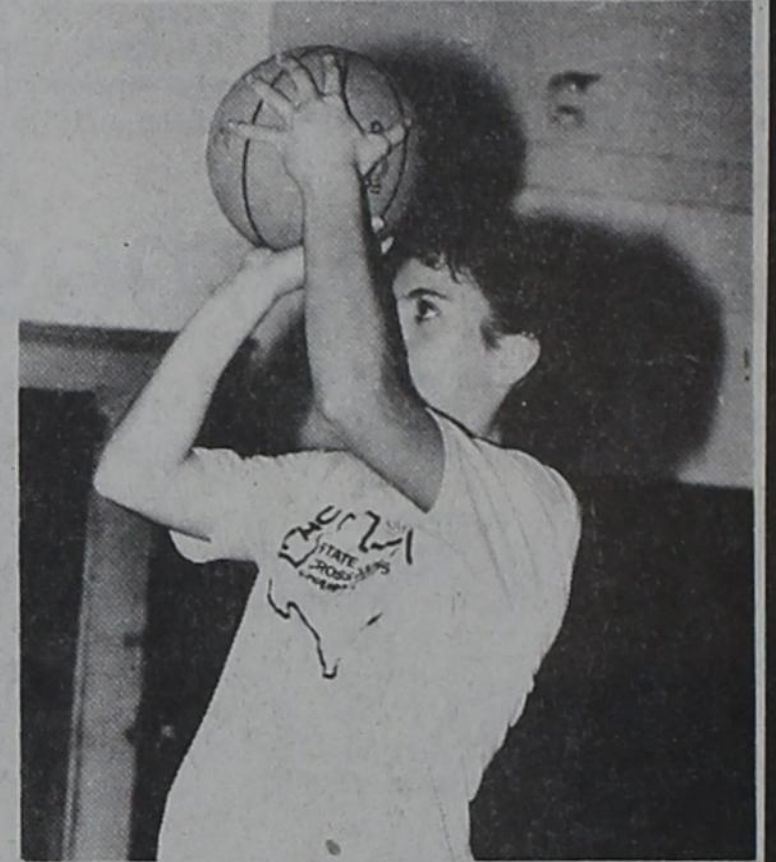

In 1610, Captain Samuel Argall was blown off course near a cape on our Eastern seaboard. He named it for his sponsor, Lord De La Warr. It became the state of Delaware.

In need of a Pull

It is fun to get out and romp with our children, to share in their joy. Sometimes it is even work to pull them on a sled. Afterwards you may be tired and bones and muscles ache, but you think fondly of the laughter, and squeals of delight and the love that shines in a child's eyes. Then you think it's all worth the effort, for they won't be young forever, and someday you will only have memories.

They won't be young forever and now is the time that they need a pull in the direction toward God. Now is the time that you can lead and share in the joys of their worship. Take your children to Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
