BRITISH MARCH INTO HAMBURG

Lieut. Odom Told Lions About Germans, Russians

Lt. O. O. Odom, who has returned to Cisco after having escaped to Russia from Germany, was a guest of the Lions club Wednesday and told something of his escape, treatment by the Germans and Russians and about the food which wasted him away to a mere skeleton while in custody of the Germans.

At the business session, Lion E. J. Pross reported that 17,511 pounds of scrap paper was gathered last week, amounting to more than $78, and Lion Charles Sandler announced that the Lions soft-ball field had been sold for $500. The equipment has been removed—the lights to the high school football field and the bleachers to the Grammar school playground.

Other guests were Mrs. Odom and Mrs. O. L. Stamey. Van Gardenhire was introduced as a Lion cub, while Jack Anderson presented W. C. McDaniel as his guest.

Lieutenant Odom likes the Russians very much, saying they were wonderfully kind to him, feeding him seven times a day when he first made his way into their lines, so that he could regain his strength without danger of over-eating. The speaker seemed to think the Russians appreciate the Americans, who came to their aid in a big-way with lend-lease when they sorely needed a friend.

Answering questions, Odom said the Russians treated their German prisoners much better than the Germans treated theirs, observing that he thought German prisoners were fed the basic diet of Russian soldiers.

Russian tanks and guns are superior to those of America or any other country, and this accounts for their uninterrupted drive to capture Berlin.

Speaking of the Poles, the lieutenant said they were a hard people to satisfy, demanding much, but suggested that the Russians would manage them. He added that it was the policy of Russia to work their people hard and feed them well.

The Russians like to fight and are a happy-go-lucky group of soldiers. They and the United States could whip the world, the Russians seem to think.

Repaving of South D Avenue to Start In a Few Weeks

Repaving of some 10 or 11 blocks on south D avenue and widening and resurfacing Highway 80 west of Cisco to the Callahan county line, are included in a contract let by the Texas highway department yesterday to Arch Bucy of Brownwood.

Work upon the project is expected to start as soon as details of the contract are approved and work order issued, which will be in probably 30 days.

Junior College Outdoor May Fete Splendid Affair

Between 500 and 700 people attended the first May Fete presented by Cisco Junior college faculty and student body on the college campus, Tuesday night.

The open air ceremony, featuring the coronation of Miss Stella Earp of Rising Star, as May Queen, and centering about a May Pole Dance by some 30 college girls, evoked so much praise that suggestion has been made that it be repeated annually.

Princesses attending Miss Earp during the ceremonies were Miss Doris Jean Morris of Rising Star and Billie Jean Hall of Cisco.

The setting for the program was beautifully decorated, with clever lighting effects heightening the effect of the evening atmosphere. Music was provided by a violin octet directed by Miss Wilda Drago. There were several songs and readings by students of the college and Cisco high school and the program closed with singing Star Spangled Banner, the motion picture machine of the Cisco schools being used to flash a picturization of the song as the audience sang.

Among the high schools represented, each of which furnished a princess and an escort, were Eastland, Rising Star, Scranton, Carbon, Moran and Putnam.

Three Cisco Lads Spend Time Together in London

Three Cisco service men recently enjoyed a get-together in London.

Pfc. Albert Purifoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Purifoy of Dallas, former residents of Cisco, and Bill Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Huffman of Cisco, are located in the same convalescent center in England after having been hospitalized from front line duty on the western front.

Through the services of the American Red Cross they located Sgt. Norman Ball, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Ball of Cisco, who was also returned from the western front to a hospital in England. These Cisco boys believe their meeting to have been unusual, because it is rare for as many as three boys from a city of Cisco's size to meet overseas after months of separation in different combat units.

Purifoy, Huffman and Ball obtained leave together to visit London and celebrate their reunion. Their only regret while together was that all other Cisco boys in service could not be present. After a weekend of pleasant recollections of past experiences both in Cisco and in the European theater, they returned to their stations with the hope that the next reunion of Cisco boys would be on a larger scale and in Cisco.

Purifoy and Huffman were together last on Christmas eve, 1943, and neither of them had seen Ball since March, 1943.

Pfc. Purifoy has been overseas sixteen months. He was wounded in an attack on an enemy machine gun nest near Bastogne, Belgium. Purifoy, member of the 101st airborne division, wears the silver wings of the paratroopers, the combat infantry badge, the purple heart with oak leaf cluster, the good conduct ribbon, the ETO ribbon with three battle stars, the presidential citation with two oak leaf clusters, and two gold overseas stripes. He parachuted with his unit to the Normandy beaches on D-Day and also jumped in Holland at the beginning of the Arnhem operation.

Pfc. Huffman has been overseas seven months. He was injured in front line duty near Monschau, Germany. Huffman, a member of the 99th infantry division, wears the combat infantry badge, the good conduct ribbon, the ETO ribbon with one battle star, the presidential citation and one gold overseas stripe.

Sgt. Ball has been overseas eight months. He was hospitalized from front line duty in Germany. Ball, a member of the 44th infantry division wears the combat infantry badge, purple heart, bronze star, the good conduct ribbon, the ETO ribbon with two battle stars, the presidential citation with oak leaf cluster and one gold overseas stripe.

CAPTURED CASTLE—This 300-room palace at Nordkirchen was built in 1710. It was captured by troops of U. S. 9th Army, and Armored Division, during drive into Westphalia. Prince Arenberg, Duke of Crzy, and wife, Princess Valerie Marie Schleswig-Holstein, great granddaughter of Queen Victoria, were comfortably ensconced in the place. Army vehicle is in front.

Texans Think Bob Hannegan Is Fit and They Like Him

DALLAS, May 3.—Robert E. Hannegan—President Harry S. Truman's first new cabinet appointee—proved to Texans fifteen months ago that he could hold his own in a ticklish political situation against the best of practical jokesters.

Truman's choice for postmaster general, to succeed Frank C. Walker on July 1, is perhaps the only man who ever turned the tables on the expert ribbers of Dallas' famous Bonehead club.

Arriving here Feb. 25, 1944, to address a $25-a-plate Washington Birthday dinner, Mr. Hannegan, serving as the new Democratic national chairman, was invited to the Bonehead club's luncheon. A favorite trick of the Boneheads is to ask a prominent man to speak, then walk out. But the pranksters went serious—they really wanted to hear Hannegan. He got their goat by stating that they could hear him by attending the $25 feed the next night. Hannegan was a good fellow and keen as a whip, the Boneheads agreed. He put on their Big Chief's top hat and laughed as speakers poked fun at him.

A scattering of Republicans were at the luncheon, and Hannegan remarked to them that he believed Republicans were entitled to everything other citizens enjoyed except the right to hold public office.

Texas Democrats already were preparing for the fight over re-nomination of Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term, but Hannegan refused to get out on a limb.

In spite of his aid to the Roosevelt cause, Hannegan declined to make remarks that would leave bitterness. During his visit to Dallas, futile efforts were made to obtain condemnation of Texas Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald, for opposition to Roosevelt. He also was asked to

Texans Kill Popular Secret Vote Bill

AUSTIN, May 3.—The secret ballot bill, supported by many statewide women's organizations, died in the senate.

The measure provided for a ballot from which its identifying number would be detached before it was placed in the ballot box.

Opponents killed it by pointing out that as written there would be no possible way to prove election fraud.

comment on Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, arch new deal foe, but the national chairman merely stated that he knew Senator O'Daniel "only by reputation."

"I'm just getting acquainted politically in Texas," he smiled at the time. "I believe all Democrats should express their views, but after the fighting is over they should work together harmoniously."

But Hannegan already knew his Texas. He played professional baseball—center field—for the Paris, Lamar county, team in the old East Texas league in 1923. His mother, Mrs. Anna Hannegan, and a sister, Mrs. Alice Gorman, are residents of Lufkin.

A remark that meant little to politicians at that time probably had much to do with the Roosevelt victory in the September Democratic convention in Dallas, Hannegan was asked if he would try to make peace among rival Texas Democratic factions. He replied that he would under no circumstances act as an umpire in any dissension that might arise.

APPROPRIATE NAMES.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—Hitler and Mussolini will continue to live in name and spirit at the Philadelphia zoo. Curator Roger Conant announced today that two new-born offspring of the zoo's pet skunk will be the unfortunate heirs to the names of Europe's two ex-dictators.

GERMANY'S GREATEST SEAPORT WITH MILLION AND HALF POP. QUILTS WITHOUT FIRING A SHOT

LONDON, May 3.—The Germans declared Hamburg, their greatest port and the core of resistance in the north, an open city and surrendered it today to British Second army troops without a fight. Prague, Czechoslovakia capital, was declared a "hospital city."

The regime of the new Fuehrer, Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, was thus further hampered in its announced intention of carrying on the suicidal fight.

The British marched into Hamburg at 1 p. m. (6 a. m. Central War Time).

Just an hour before Doenitz, who had exclaimed defiantly against surrender when he assumed Hitler's bloody mantle, indicated a willingness to turn Prague over to the western Allies.

An order of the day later broadcast from Prague by Dr. Karl Frank, German minister of state for Bohemia and Moravia, pledged allegiance to Doenitz and the memory of Hitler, but mentioned no further resistance.

"For us the Fuehrer is not dead," the order said. "The oath of allegiance we swore to him from now on is valid for every German to Admiral Doenitz. We will stand at his side and obey his command. Everyone must do his duty. Long live the nation."

Russian armies under Marshals Andrei Yeremenko and Rodion Y. Malinovsky last were reported by Moscow dispatches to be massing on the southwestern border of Bohemia for a push toward Prague.

The announcement of Hamburg's capitulation, read over a station which has been the voice of the German high command since the Russians battered into Berlin, said: "It is doubtful whether we will again come on the air with news. We take leave of our listeners. Long live Hamburg! Long live Germany!"

The broadcast was made in the German language in the name of Secretary of State Aehrendt.

"Any resistance by the populace will be crushed by force of arms," the German announcement said. "All traffic on the streets must stop at noon while the British take over the city. Hamburg police will remain on duty."

Sgt. Humphrey of Cisco Tells of Nazi Brutality

WITH U. S. FORCES IN BELGIUM.—Tech. Sgt. Robert L. Humphrey of Cisco, Texas, an infantry platoon leader, was among hundreds of Allied prisoners who were liberated on Friday, April 13, by the 30th Infantry Division.

Sgt. Humphrey was taken to the Allied Military Personnel station, Channel Base Section, where he was given hot food and new clothing and was prepared for return to the United States.

The Texas soldier said he had been beaten severely while on an evacuation march to New Brandenburg, for attempting to pilfer food for himself and fellow prisoners. He said many of the men were becoming seriously ill because of lack of nourishment after having been marched for 12 days with little food or water. He was not seriously injured in the beating, although he was struck several times with rifle butts.

Sgt. Humphrey is a weapons platoon sergeant in the 134th Infantry regiment of the 35th Infantry Division, Third U. S. Army, after joining the unit as a reinforcement. Last January, while leading his platoon in battle in southwest Germany, the platoon was cut off. He and his men attempted to carry on the fight from the shelter of a basement, but were forced into the open by hand grenades. They were captured by German infantry.

He had been evacuated with a prisoner column from a Limburg Stalag to a makeshift Stalag near Madgeburg when the column was cut off and liberated by engineers of the 30th Division.

Sergeant Humphrey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Humphrey of Cisco.

Rising Star Pioneer Is Dead at Ripe Age of 80

RISING STAR, May 3.—R. A. Horton, 80, Rising Star's oldest business man in point of age and service, died of a heart attack at his home here Wednesday afternoon.

Coming to Rising Star in 1897, Mr. Horton founded the Star Drug Co. which he had owned and operated since that time. He was born in Grenada, Miss., in 1865 and graduated from the University of Mississippi. On first coming to Texas, he taught school.

Survivors include his widow, three sons, Robert of Houston, Lowry and Stanford of Rising Star and two daughters, Mrs. O. R. Shults and Mrs. Odell Winters of Rising Star. Four brothers who live in Mississippi also survive.

Sutton Arrives Home

Tech-Sgt. Robert W. Sutton, 31, of the air transport command and a son of Mrs. R. O. Sutton of Cisco, is here after spending two and a half years overseas. Home on a 45-day leave, Sergeant Sutton has been located at a secret base in Sweden most of his time, where he was engaged in office work. He finished Cisco high school in 1932 and was employed in road construction work near Possum Kingdom dam before entering the service. His wife has been making her home in Cisco.

MINES AT EVERY MILEPOST.

The discovery of Germany's gold reserve in an abandoned German salt mine was front page news in this country. Stories of the fabulous treasure read like pirate tales of old. Doughboys and generals gasped at the sight of the glittering metal — tons of it. Each ton was estimated to be worth $1,000,000. And, according to reports, there were approximately 100 tons of the precious metal sealed behind a massive wall in the mineshaft—a hundred million dollars. Here was tangible money wealth that could be touched and understood.

It has been many years since the so-called common people have possessed gold. Governments have gone to great trouble to build up the myth that gold is of no value. They have gone to equally great trouble to see that none of this "worthless" metal remains in the hands of the people.

At any rate a few American soldiers have seen real gold. They know what a hundred million dollars looks like. They don't have to be mathematicians to put two and two together and get a comprehensible picture of the federal debt of the United States. They can see that it would take some 3,000 German salt mines each stocked with a hundred million dollars worth of gold to pay off the federal debt; or, stated another way, a mine at every milepost from Los Angeles to Cisco to New York.

And still the spenders of public money plan to pour out more and more borrowed billions after the end of the war. There are indications that practical-minded President Truman will put a stop to much of the waste by canceling hundreds of useless bureaus and agencies. However, it is up to congress to get rid of the larger and more dangerous domestic leaks.

FRIENDS IN ARMS.

Winston Churchill, the British prime minister, delivering a farewell eulogy of Franklin D. Roosevelt in the House of Commons, called him the greatest American friend that the British people had ever known. And probably that was true. In these last few years our nation, under Roosevelt's leadership, has been associated more closely and helpfully with Britain than at any other time and we can remember in our long history. It is probably true that if it had not been for our wholehearted support given to Britain in the form of men, money and cheer, during her terrible ordeal, she might have gone down to destruction.

But let it also be remembered that this is not the whole story. Let us balance the account. It might well be said, in response to the British compliment, that in this same crisis Britain proved herself an invaluable friend. For Britain, weak as she was at the start of the war, kept the Hun at bay with the little help we could offer, until our strength had risen and we could meet the enemy on equal terms. In that supreme crisis, whose peril most of us failed to recognize at the time, there was glory enough for both nations.

We don't believe that brunettes have any sweeter dispositions than blondes. The wife has been both and we can't see any difference.

By Lillian B. Storms

To any mother with a baby, National Baby Week is one of, if not the most important of, the "weeks" which we celebrate in this country.

National Baby Week helps to focus attention on our babies, how very important they are to our happiness and the future of our country and also helps to call attention to the best ways of caring for and feeding these precious bundles — so dependent on us for their well being.

This might be an opportune time to review the principal changes in infant feeding practices which have been made in the last twenty years. Cod liver was started at two months of age; now it is begun in the first month. It was given only during winter when there is little sunshine. Now it is recommended all the year round. Not nearly as many babies received it then as now. Rickets was common, especially in cities; now it is a rare disease.

Babies on breast milk or raw milk were not given orange juice until the seventh or eighth month; now all babies are started any time after the second or third week. As a result there is now only an occasional case of scurvy. Sterile milk—pasteurized, certified, evaporated or dried, has largely eliminated "summer complaint."

Twenty years ago beef juice was thought to have high values in the prevention of anemia and was begun at nine or ten months of age. Now special baby cereals fortified with iron are started around three months and we do not have the cases of anemia at five and six months which were common.

At nine or ten months, the following foods could be added: half of an egg, toast or crackers, well-cooked and strained cereals and strained vegetables. Nowadays all of these foods are in baby's menu before he is six months old, just because babies were found to do better as solid foods were introduced earlier and earlier.

PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER FOR MISS TABOR.

Mesdames W. P. Guinn, W. C. Hogue, W. C. McDaniel, G. C. Rosenthal, I. J. Henson, H. E. McGewen, J. R. Deen and W. D. Johnston were hostesses with a reception shower Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Guinn, honoring Miss LuDan Tabor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Tabor, whose approaching marriage to Lieut. Paul A. Boscarino of New Britain Conn., was recently announced.

The house was festive with decorations of cut flowers attractively arranged about the rooms. Vases of full-blown roses were placed on the piano, tables and mantel of the living room where the visitors were seated.

Greeting the guests in a receiving line were Mrs. Hogue, Mrs. Guinn and Mrs. Henson, who presented them to Mrs. M. M. Tabor, mother of the bride-elect, and the honoree. Mrs. W. D. Johnston then directed them to the table where Miss Gwen Swanzy of Clyde, cousin of the honoree, presided at the guest book.

Piano music was played by Mrs. Walker Castleman of Breckenridge and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Cisco during the afternoon.

After registration, Mrs. W. C. McDaniel invited the group into the dining room for refreshments. The dining table, covered with an exquisite hand-made linen cloth, held as a centerpiece a pretty fan-shaped arrangement of blue iris in a crystal bowl placed on a reflector, flanked at the sides by tall white tapers in silver candelabra, emphasizing the honoree's chosen colors of blue and white. Mrs. Rosenthal and Mrs. Henson were in charge, assisted by Mrs. J. R. Deen and Miss Gloria Henson. Punch was ladeled by Mrs. John Berry of Clyde from a large crystal bowl. Refreshment plates of heart-shaped sandwiches, cake and roasted pecans were served the guests.

The reception was highlighted by a Tom Thumb wedding. Richard Moore, accompanied by Mrs. Walker Castleman, sang "I Love You Truly" before arrival of the bride party. The Tom Thumb bride was Kay Tabor, little sister of the bride-elect, who was given in marriage by her "father," Ted Triplett. Irving Brunkenhoefer was the "minister" and Buddy Deen the happy bridegroom. Ben Tabor was best man. The couple was preceded to the altar by Lew Allen, ring bearer and Jan Johnson, who scattered flowers in the path of the bride. Bridesmaids were Buzz Henson and Linda Daly.

When the hearty applause evoked by the Tom Thumb wedding had subsided, a large number of gift packages were brought in for the honoree to open. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. D. Johnston and Miss Annette Gibson.

Those present besides the bride-elect, Mrs. M. M. Tabor and the hostesses were Mrs. J. W. Castleman, Mrs. Walker Castleman, Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson of Breckenridge, Mrs. J. L. Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubes or filtes which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with spurring and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
