Four Cisco High School Students Met on Transport

A handsome 7 x 9 photo of four Eastland county young men, three of whom reside in Cisco and the other on route two, Eastland, has been received by the Daily Press from the U. S. coast guard public relations office, Washington, D. C. The four ETO veterans are shown enjoying their first meeting in four years on board a coast guard-manned troop transport on which they were home-bound after long months and years of fighting the battle of Germany. The smiling faces in the photo, now on display in the Press picture gallery, belong to First Lt. Morris D. White, route two, Eastland; First Lt. Clifford L. Thomas, Staff Sgt. Cornish C. Southland and Second Lt. Cecil Halbert, Jr., all three of Cisco. All four of the men attended Cisco high school.

Humble won Bowling Tournament by 6-Game Margin

In a two-game session at the bowling alleys last night, Humble Oil and Thomas Funeral Home teams took both games from Collins Hardware and U. S. Postoffice, which brought to an end the 36-game summer tournament conducted by the four teams. The fact that but two games were played last night instead of the usual three, was occasioned by threats of a storm one Monday night late in May, when play was called off after the first game. Humble Oil Co. team acquired tournament honors by a fair margin, Thomas Funeral Home trailing the champs by six games. Collins Hardware was third and U. S. Postoffice fourth. The standing: Humble won 27 games and lost 9; Thomas won 21 and lost 15; Collins won 13 and lost 23; Postoffice had 11 wins and 25 losses. High score for a single game during the tournament, 214, was by Guy Morris. Mr. Morris also acquired the high average for the tournament, 171.

U.S. NAVAL TASK FORCE IS NOW WITHIN 80 MILES OF TOKYO; RAZE MORE INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

GUAM, July 17. — A daring American naval task force steamed to within 80 miles of Tokyo tonight (Japan time) and bombed industrial targets around Hitachi on the heels of an eight-hour raid by 1,500 planes from American and British carrier planes in the area of the Japanese capital. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced the bombardment while it was still underway only a few hours after he reported carrier planes had knocked out 374 Nipponese vessels and 120 locomotives in their week-end sweep over northern Japan. The new battleship Iowa with her glazing 16-inch guns led the bombardment group in the closest approach of any U. S. naval task force to the Japanese capital. A curtain of steel from the Iowa and supporting cruisers and destroyers hammered at Hitachi's vital copper smelter and aircraft parts plants, previous targets of Marianas-based Superforts which sent nearly 500 planes lashing at four other Nipponese cities today. The city is north of Tokyo. It was the third naval bombardment of Japan's valuable coastal industries within four days. The Iowa presumably led the bombardment ships in close to shore for the night attack against the industrial plants which lie about a mile off the coast. In a week, Admiral William E. (Bull) Halsey's Third fleet has ranged from Tokyo to the northern end of Japan and back again, smashing with bombs and shell vital important steel, munitions, and oil plants, shipping and rail transportation and airdromes. Japan has taken it all helplessly without offering more than token resistance. Today's unprecedented assault on the Tokyo area was part of a pre-invasion attack involving 2,000 or more Allied planes ranging from stubby little fighters to giant Superforts. Fighters and bombers from the world's greatest armada swept the Tokyo area for at least known today, but it is expected to reach the 300-mark, said Rev. L. H. Clegg, pastor of the Cisco church. The meeting is for both young people and adults and will last through Sunday. The daily program will consist of training classes, lectures, recreation and two sermons, one at 11 a. m. and the other at 8 p. m. Rev. C. B. Fugett of Ashland, Ky., who is widely known as an eloquent speaker and Biblical authority, will bring the daily messages, to which the general public is invited. Rev. and Mrs. Jack Carter, singers from Bethany, Okla., will be in charge of the music. Last night's opening sermon was preached by Mr. Carter, his subject being "If You Will Return Unto Me, I'll Return Unto You." Rev. W. B. Walker of Abilene, superintendent of this district, is attending the encampment.

Mr. Truman and Stalin Lunched Together Today

POTSDAM, July 17. — Premier Stalin conferred with President Truman at the Little White House today in company with their ranking foreign affairs officials a few hours before the world-shaping Big Three conference was scheduled to start. The generalissimo, attired as a marshal of the Soviet union, was accompanied by Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov. They were guests at luncheon of the President and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes. The party talked for an hour. The two Soviet leaders arrived in Potsdam two days ago, it was disclosed. There was no explanation, however, why the opening of the conference had been delayed yesterday. Mr. Truman had seen Prime Minister Churchill informally yesterday when the British leader called to pay his respects.

Bill Michael at Home After More Than Two Years

William Michael, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Michael and a native of Cisco, arrived here yesterday afternoon on a thirty-day leave from the U. S. coast guard, following his return from England, where he had spent the past 16 months with the amphibious forces. The young man has been in the service four years and this is his first trip home in more than two years. He is a motor machinist's mate, third class. He left New York Friday and found the journey as far as Chicago anything but pleasant — coal-burning engines and packed and jammed trains. After leaving Chicago the trip to Ft. Worth was made under decidedly better conditions. The remainder of the trip was by bus. The Cisco lad is a grandson of the late Z. M. Taylor and W. S. Michael, former county auditor. He was a bit fagged after the long jump from England to Cisco, but seems to be in tiptop physical condition.

FOOD VERY SCARCE. ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 17.—Twenty-five hotel and restaurant owners in the Lehigh valley voted yesterday to close their establishments seven days each month. One proprietor said that lately he has been unable to serve anything for dinner except bacon and eggs. And now, he added ruefully, even the bacon has run out. WITH THE 12TH ARMORED DIVISION, 7TH ARMY, Germany, Corp. John F. Laux, husband of Mrs. Estas L. Laux, route one, Cisco, Texas, is a member of Company B of the 134th ordnance maintenance battalion, which was recently awarded the star to the meritorious service unit plaque by direction of the president. According to the citation, the award was made "for superior performance of duty and outstanding efficiency of operation in supporting the campaign in eastern France and western Germany." Asserting that the "supreme test of the battalion came on March 15 when the division joined the Third Army and plunged into the Saar Region, and continued until May 5 when the division ended its campaign in Central Europe with all enemy resistance at an end," the citation states that "in all of this operation the battalion rendered such continuous and aggressive support that the division could make maximum progress and its combat mission was materially enhanced."

Haskell Co. Commissioner Faces Serious Charge

HASKELL, July 17. — County Commissioner W. W. Griffin of Haskell county, defendant in a case charging alteration of an auto cost bill and a warrant, was on the stand this morning as testimony continued in 39th district court. Griffin testified that it was the custom for commissioners to pay their own bills and that the bill was for repairs on an automobile used for county services. The case, in which 10 witnesses, most of them county officials, were heard yesterday, was expected to go to the jury late today. The state alleges Griffin altered a warrant, raising it from $8.35 to $318.35.

PENICILLIN DANGEROUS.

CHICAGO, July 17. — Penicillin will be released for sale across drugstore counters next month, Sir Alexander Fleming, discoverer of the wonder drug, says. The British scientist urged sound regulations by the government regarding its sale. He told a press conference there was great danger if the public took penicillin without proper precautions or instructions on what it will do.

SOVIET JOCKEYING.

It looks at the moment as though the international quarrel over the occupancy of Berlin had been settled. Apparently the Russians are finally permitting the Americans and the British to take over their allotted portions of the ruined Nazi capital. But it has been an aggravating affair. Even if the delay were not as serious as some newspaper accounts seemed to indicate, the fact remains that distrust of the Russians' intent has again been aroused. If the Soviet authorities have been guilty of nothing else, they have at least, and again, showed a poor sense of public relations. America lent engineers to the Soviets when they needed them. Maybe we should now lend some of the skilled public relations officers with which the armed forces are swarming.

Certainly it is apparent that in the current series of Big Three conversations, it is necessary not only to reach agreements, but to agree that the agreements will be kept. However, it may be that Mr. Stalin is simply a good horse-trader; which is to say that it will be wise to watch him at all times—unless one is prepared to walk.

Sugar Unnecessary to Can or Preserve Fruits

This year's abundant fruit crop is wasting away because of a mistaken idea that fruit cannot be canned without sugar. Sugar aids in retaining the color and holding the shape of fruits but they can be successfully canned without sugar, according to Sue Herndon, home economist for the Abilene division of Lone Star Gas company and well known in Cisco. To can fruits without sugar, Miss Herndon advises following the standard canning methods, using plain boiling water or boiling unsweetened fruit juice as a substitute for sugar syrup. Miss Herndon has been busy the last few days answering request for information on sugarless canning.

"In sugarless canning," she said, "add just enough water or fruit juice to the prepared fruit to prevent sticking and cook until hot through. Then pack fruit into hot jars, cover with liquid in which fruit was cooked and process in the boiling water bath."

"If you can get them—corn syrup, light and dark, cane syrup, and honey—will help make one cup of sweetening do for two. Light corn syrup is the preferred all round sugar extender; however, it is not always available. Light and dark corn syrups are best confined to dark fruits and butters as they change the color and flavor of the lighter fruits. Honey is sweeter than corn syrup but its use is restricted because it changes the flavor of fruits, a delightful new flavor especially enjoyed by those liking honey.

From three-fourths to one cup of syrup is needed for each quart of fruit canned, depending upon the tightness of the pack. Select the type of syrup desired for fruit to be canned and use the sugar-syrup ratio given below:

Sugar and Corn Syrup:
Thin: Two measures of sugar, two measures of corn syrup to seven measures of water or fruit juice.
Medium: Three measures of sugar, one and one-half measures of corn syrup to six measures of water or fruit juice.

Heavy: Four measures of sugar, two measures of corn syrup, to four and one half measures of fruit juice or water.

This quantity of syrup will fill eight to ten quarts of fruit.

Sugar and Honey:
Thin: Two measures of sugar, measure honey and four measures water or fruit juice.

Medium: One measure sugar, one measure honey, and three measures water or fruit juice.

All honey: One measure honey and one to three measures water or fruit juice, depending on type of syrup desired.

This quantity of syrup will fill four quarts. In case syrup runs short, it is a good idea to have boiling water ready to finish covering fruit in jars. Honey may be used instead of sugar when making apple sauce, peach or pear butter and berry jams. Equal measures of honey and sugar may be used in all jams, jellies and preserves. Equal measures of corn syrup, light or dark, and sugar may be used in making butters and jams. Two thirds sugar and one third corn syrup may be used in making jellies, marmalades and preserves. Many people are freezing their fruits, as the deep freeze method comes more into use. Miss Herndon advised that as a substitute for sugar and syrups in preparing fruits for freezing, corn syrup may be used. Her recipe for this is as follows: "Make a syrup of 1 1/2 cups corn syrup and 2 cups water; cool. Prepare and pack fruits in containers, cover with the cooled syrup. As each container is packed and sealed, put into refrigerator until ready to freeze." Miss Herndon may be contacted

TESTING BREATH OF FRUIT FOR VITAMIN LOSS

Pump (A) sends air into tube (B) through a drying tower (C), then into fruit chamber, where air is pumped to bottom of the jar. Exhaling oranges have their breath swept into (D), (E) and (F) where moisture and carbon dioxide content is quantitatively measured. The air is then passed through gas diffuser (G), where it is scrubbed, before repeating the cycle.

This Respirometer, used in the laboratories of Food Machinery Corporation, collects the breath of fruit and determines what is taken away from it by respiratory action. An orange, for example, has 9,000 pores per square inch of skin surface through which it inhales oxygen and breathes out carbon dioxide and moisture. Goodness is lost in the process. To keep the flavor sealed in, fruit is sprayed with an edible waxy solution which retards breathing.

... are all paid for by the consumer. The farmer sells his bale of cotton for $100.00, and we buy it back in suits of clothes for $1,000.00. Same old cotton except the looks, design, color, wage, transportation, rent, storage, interest, commission, profits and taxes—many kinds of them. Like the bale of cotton, the abstract, too, must bear its myriad of operating costs but well worth it as it is the basis of your title security and your protection against fraud.

PSST—THAT'S YOU!

Were you ever startled by a fleeting glimpse of a face in a public mirror? . . . Then you looked again and sheepishly recognized your own reflection! It was the unfamiliar setting that fooled you.

Same way, you may not recognize yourself at first as having a financial stake in this company. But you probably do—directly or indirectly.

Directly if you hold some of our stock, like many other folks around the state—folks from all walks of life. Sixty per cent of all our stockholders reside in Texas.

Indirectly if you have a savings bank account or life insurance policy as most Americans do. Banks and insurance companies like to reinvest your savings in sound, business-managed electric companies. Some of your money is almost surely working for you here.

You'll be even more pleased with this new view of yourself as a part owner as well as a customer when you remember that your electric company has fought a winning fight throughout the war — to keep the price of your service down and the quality of your service up.
