JAPANESE ACCEPT POTSDAM TERMS

RESCUE AT SEA—In a dramatic operation which lasted five days, in the China Sea, four U. S. submarines, assisted by the sub USS Growler, since reported lost, rescued 159 British and Australian prisoners of war, and sank at least 10 enemy ships. The prisoners, already victims of three years of Jap captivity, were survivors of the Jap transport Rakuyo Maru, one of ships sunk. Fleet Adm. Nimitz described the running action-rescue, accomplished in face of enemy attacks and a raging typhoon, one of most sensational stories of the war. Above, oil-soaked men are pulled aboard USS Sealion three days after ship containing prisoners was sunk.

Fitzgerald Is Against All of the Amendments

Hon. J. E. Fitzgerald of Stephenville, recent unsuccessful candidate for congress, who earned the reputation of being outspoken and direct in all matters of public interest, herewith submits an article concerning the amendments to be voted on Aug. 25. But this is one time I think we ought to speak up.

"The only suggestion the Daily Press has is for voters to read what Mr. Fitzgerald has to say and then 'let your conscience be your guide.'" He writes: "I thought I would stay out of the argument about the amendments to be voted on Aug. 25. But this is one time I think we ought to speak up."

"To be brief, the first one is the soldier vote bill. It is intended to let a soldier vote without a poll tax. It is funny how, even in our national congress, when some fellows want to put over something they are afraid the people won't like, always start that poll tax argument. I have learned when a fellow starts the poll tax question it is time to look out. This present proposal is a trial to get the poll tax to drag over another amendment. Not over half the soldiers want to vote. In six months most of them will be out of uniform. This proposed amendment is like feeding an elephant with a grain of corn. And they are trying to catch suckers with this bait. That is all there is to the poll tax amendment. It amounts to exactly nothing.

"The next amendment I believe is to pay a larger old age pension. The intention of this is to catch suckers. I claim to have been the first in Texas to advocate old age pensions. They said I was kinder nuts, then. Just the same, we voted a law to give the aged thirty dollars per month. We have that amendment now in the Constitution, and if the men who make our laws at Austin would live up to it, in addition to the federal allotment, the old people would now be getting sixty dollars per month. They have been evading this ever since it was adopted. But they always want to get an amendment on the old age pension voted on—really to pull some other scheme into the Constitution. It is just another sucker bait.

"The proposed amendment will actually reduce the old age pension. 'I am not going to put in any time discussing the amendment about the nine judges. It would give some more fellows fat jobs—that's about the only thing it would do.

"The other amendment is the one that had the hook in the bait. It would give members of the legislature $7,300 dollars per 2-year term. Their main argument in favor of this is that it would give us more competent men for that office. By saying this they admit that they are not competent. Also it would give the present members $4,750 for the rest of their time — no matter if the legislature did not meet the rest of their time.

"I have been an onlooker in both our national and state law-making congress and legislature. It struck me that the thing we need more than anything else on earth is an amendment so that no one could make a speech over five minutes long. Some jackass will get up and bray for half a day, while the others sleep. In this time he does not really say as much as you could write on the back of a cigarette paper and that is all intended for the folks back home. The members do not hear him. Old Ben Franklin never in his life made a speech over five minutes long, and in that time he said more than the average present-day orator can say in a week. Gab never gets work done. They want to reduce old-age pensions to $20. I wonder of that extra ten dollars is what they aimed to use in paying themselves? "With our present centralized

PLANS OF SURRENDER BE MADE AT ONCE; M'ARTHUR WILL TAKE CHARGE ARMY OF OCCUPATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—President Truman announced at 6 o'clock this afternoon that Japan had accepted the Potsdam terms of unconditional surrender and that orders would be issued immediately for Allied forces to cease firing.

It was also stated by the president that Gen. Douglas MacArthur would be in command of the forces occupying Japan.

Arrangements for the official signing of the peace terms will be made as quickly as possible. The answer was addressed to "the government of the United States."

PEACHES $1.30 EACH.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Londoners are paying $1.30 to $1.70 for a single peach in the midst of an English peach harvest—the Daily Express said today. The few available are displayed carefully nested in cotton wool to protect the skins.

Russians Know the Japs and Have No Mercy

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Russia, in broadcasts three hours after radio Tokyo's surrender message, exhorted her advancing Manchurian armies today to overtake fleeing Japanese forces and "show them no mercy."

Don't let the enemy get away from your crushing blows," the Soviet radio at Khabarovsk told three Red Banner armies clamping a stranglehold on Manchuria.

"The time has come for Japan to pay fully for her crimes. The time has come to avenge the victims of Japanese cruelty and beastliness. Your slogan is blood for blood, death for death. Crush Japanese militarism once and for all.

"Forward men, Forward!" Moscow dispatches said Soviet armies already were driving into central Manchuria from the west, northwest, northeast, and east as fast as their transport will carry them.

LOTS OF JOBS.

DALLAS, Aug. 14.—James H. Bond, regional War Manpower commission director, said here today that V-J Day would not mean mass unemployment for war workers in the southwest. Bond said Texas business was badly undermined and he thought it could absorb the estimated 350,000 persons who may lose jobs when war contracts are cancelled. He said it was possible 90 per cent of war workers might be out off within 24 hours after V-J Day, but that other jobs could be found for them.

E. P. Swenson was a son of the late S. M. Swenson. He and his brother, the late S. A. Swenson, established the vast Swenson ranches in West Texas on land their father had acquired. He was senior member of the New York firm of S. M. Swenson and Sons and president of the Swenson Land and Cattle company of Stamford.

The firm founded the city of Stamford in 1900 and contributed much to the development of the city and West Texas.

U.S. MAKES IT WORK.

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—Munitions Minister C. D. Howe revealed today that, while the United States, Great Britain and Canada share the scientific knowledge upon which the atomic bomb is based, only the United States knows the details of the bomb's manufacture. Howe explained that Canada's role in the production of the bomb was to supply "the essential raw materials," leaving it to the United States to devise its manufacture into weapon form.

This service of praise and thanksgiving will be held at the usual Sunday morning time, 11 o'clock. Rev. G. T. Lobos to Meet Cleburne Here September 14

The Cisco Lobos will open their 45 season against the Cleburne Yellow Jackets Friday evening, September 14 at Chesley Field. Kites for the field will be here in time for installation before the opening game.

This game gives the Lobos their maximum of ten for the season. Coach Harold Fischer said, four of these will be played on the home gridiron.

Cleburne, coached by H. H. Gary, is said to have prospects for a strong team, with a line anchored by two tackles of more than 200 pounds each.

In the old days Cleburne and Cisco staged a number of classic contests, so the opening of the season between these two elevens could revive some flavor of those days when the Lobos were the "team to beat" in the Oil Belt.

The following week the Lobos will go to Big Spring for a renewal of last year's rivalry, when the Lobos defeated the Ciscoos by a 14-0 margin. The Big Spring team is reportedly strong again. Football practice will begin September 1 and Coach Fischer and Assistant Coach Overall are anxious to go. They are getting things in shape to plunge into serious workouts, in order that the Cisco eleven may be in condition for the opening round of the season two weeks from that date.

More Men Needed at Chesley Field at 7 P. M. Today

Nine or ten men reported Monday evening at Chesley Field with hammers, wrecking bars and saws for replacement of decayed boards in the stands prior to painting. A considerable amount of work was done.

Fifteen or twenty are needed tonight. Joe Eddy Hayes, president of the Athletic association, said. They are requested to report at the field at 7 o'clock to work until 8:30. A portable power saw is available for sawing the boards.

The association would like to get this work done as quickly as possible, so the stands can be put in shape for the first game of the season on September 14, when the Cleburne Yellow Jackets come here for a night game.

Junior College, Public Schools Prepare to Open

Cisco Junior College is getting ready to open its doors for its new term coincident with the opening of the public school system, probably Sept. 10, the second Monday, as usual. Enrollment prospects are good and with the ending of the war in the Pacific a considerably increased attendance is anticipated.

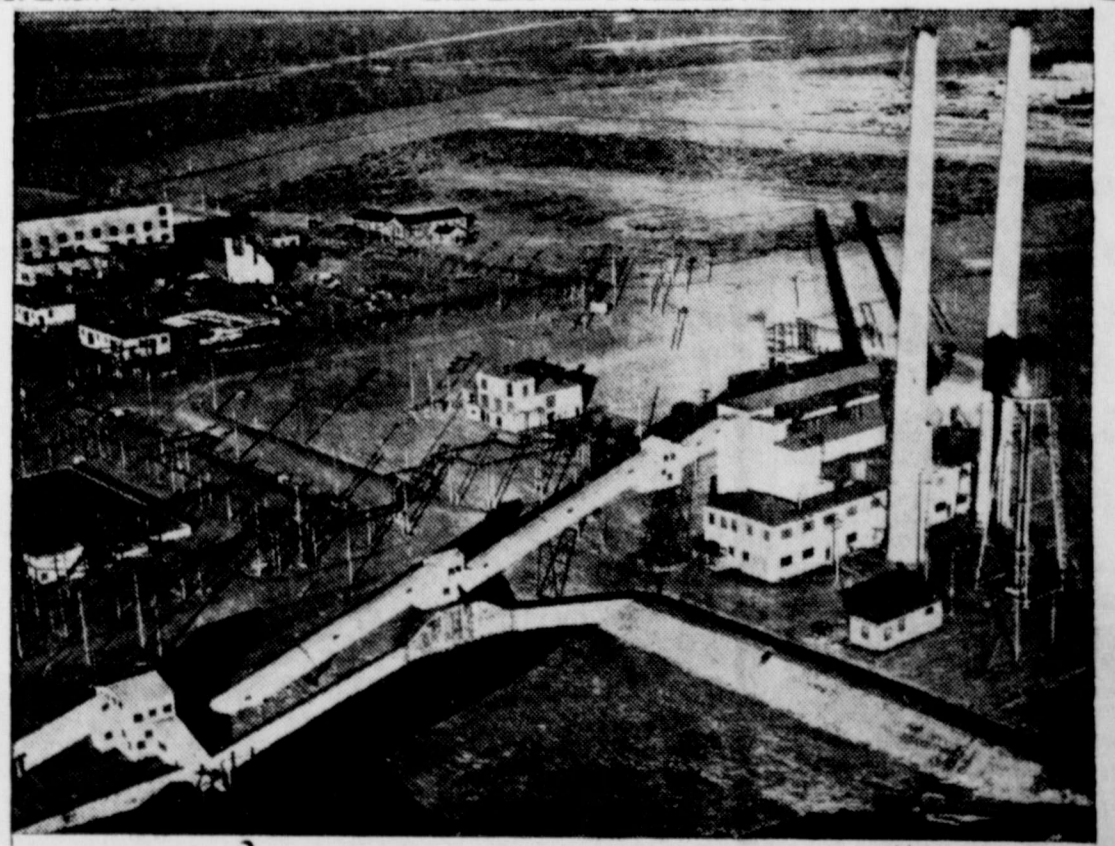

Voting of a 20-cent tax for the support of the college insures its future and the continuance of state aid, and it is the purpose of the school authorities, as quickly as possible, to employ a separate faculty at the college. Shortage of teachers, however, makes this impossible at the moment, even if sufficient funds were available, but with the end of the war and final release of men and women, there will be an increase in available teaching talent.

The Cisco college already has a plant and campus separate from the other schools. This plant, valued at around $200,000 by unbiased appraisal, is all paid for, well equipped and collegiate in appearance and atmosphere.

Cost of attending Junior College is small, and transportation is afforded students in this section.

AFTER WAR -- WHAT?

Does peace come after war? Yes. But not at first. Peace, like war, must be won. It takes long, careful preparation. The cease-fire order is in itself an ineffable comfort. The mere absence of fighting brings joy and relief. But it is not enough. The prospect of safe return of fighting men to their homes, proper work and stations in life is wonderful — almost too good to be true, but not quite. It is true, but it is not enough.

Determination that war must not occur again is the first essential in winning true peace. It must be held fast in all the years to come. There must be a strong, ever-aware will to peace on the part of every individual citizen of all the United Nations. Next must come a high spiritual quality of life and let live, to inspire all international dealings.

Fury and revenge have no place in this attitude.

Neither have weakness and sentimentality. Cool intelligence must be brought to bear on the problems of getting along with all the nations of the world. Intelligence implements determination — sentimentality undermines it.

It is necessary, in the midst of present jubilation and future dulling of consciousness of war, that we remember Pearl Harbor; also Munich, Buchenwald, Nanking, Lidice, Bataan.

A new generation of Germans and Japanese may arise which may rightly be treated as members of the family of nations.

But all — they, too — must continue to remember the horrors of war, in order that its evil spirit may never rise again.

PROTECTIVE POWER.

Our government is now committed to a policy of permanent self-protection of American interests throughout the world. To this end, President Truman has announced, the United States will acquire and hold all the bases which American experts consider essential for the purpose. This will be done not arbitrarily, but fifth member of the board was out of the city and could not attend. Mayor J. M. Williamson also attended. The chairman said a considerable sum of money was needed to make the city burying grounds the attractive place it should be and added that additional adjacent acreage should also be purchased immediately, thus guaranteeing that the cemetery board will not be forced to acquire other burying grounds in some other section of the city because of lack of room at the present site. The board agreed to the suggestion and instructed the chairman to procure full information relative to the proposed additional acreage. No action was taken as to the proposed fence, but the plan has not been dropped, it was stated. The city has agreed that city convict labor will be furnished to help clean the grounds and that water mains will be extended immediately in that district, so cemetery lot owners may have water to beautify their lots. Readers of Daily Press Can Render Texas a Service

RUSK, Tex., Aug. 14. — This is an undisguised appeal for help from the people of one small Texas town and surrounding territory to the people of all other similar Texas towns and communities. And to make it as short as possible, here is the story:

For over 75 years the people of Cherokee county have tried to develop their deposits of high-grade iron ore. Shortly before Pearl Harbor, in spite of opposition of the big steel interests, a new attempt was launched which later resulted in the approval of the construction of a blast furnace and chemical plant at Rusk, county seat.

In approving the project as a war industry, Donald Nelson said he was doing so because of its great possibilities in the post-war period.

The plant was about four-fifths completed when work was halted July 13, pending investigation of the post-war need.
There is not space to go into that except to say that this need was already established and to add that Gov. Coke Stevenson immediately came to Rusk to check into the matter and wired his protests to the War Production Board and the Defense Plant Corporation in Washington.

Henry Love, state commander of the American Legion, did the same.
Every Texas representative in congress has pledged his support as have both Texas senators. They are all interested because the development of the natural resources of Texas is not a local matter.
The plant will use vast amounts of scrub oak and gum which are crowding out the great pine forests of East Texas. The Texas Forest Service and the U. S. Forest Service have both brought this fact before the Washington authorities. The preservation of the natural resources of Texas is also no local matter.

The plant will benefit every community in Texas because it will preserve Texas pine forests and thus help to keep down the price of lumber.

It will offer local competition to the big steel interests of the North and East. It will provide labor for many war veterans. And it will do any Texan good to see a Texas underdog win a hard fight.

And so the people of Rusk and Cherokee county are asking the readers of the Cisco Daily Press to flood the War Production Board and the Defense Plant Corporation with letters asking that the plant be completed.
It must be done right away because next week may be too late.

HOW PHILCO RADAR BOMBSIGHT SMASHED NAZI FORTIFICATIONS

Here is how Mickey, the Radar Bombsight—America's No. 1 Secret Weapon—destroyed German coastal fortifications and saved tens of thousands of American lives on D-day!
This lower radar picture, seen by the bombardier, is made by micro-waves transmitted from the bomber's radar antenna. Radar waves are reflected by ships, coastlines, forts and towns, and the reflected signals are converted electronically into this radar picture.
Exactly half an hour before the invasion landings, bombers equipped with the Philco Radar Bombsight smashed German coastal defenses despite heavy clouds over the Normandy coast. High Army officers report this radar bombing "saved many, many thousands of American lives."

A PATRIOTIC VACATION AT HOME

Wartime travel has convinced most West Texans that the only place to get a real vacation is at home. Creeks and lakes in this vicinity are full of fish and some of us are learning for the first time the beauties of our own immediate outdoors. A few days out in the country doesn't disrupt the household as it did some years ago. You don't have to throw out all the food in the house. Now folks just leave their electric refrigerator on "medium" and when they get back—day or night—cold and inviting foods await them.

Servicemen need every bit of travelling space available for the next ninety days, and by your staying at home this summer a little extra room will be left for these returning heroes.

Rediscover the vacation spots in your vicinity. Reddy Kilowatt guarantees that you'll write to your friends, "Having a wonderful time—wish you were here."
