JAP WAR CRIME LIST GROWS

Ben Parker, Retired T&P Man, Buried Yesterday

Ben F. Parker died Sunday at 4:45 p. m. at his home on Humble avenue, Cisco, after an illness of about two years. Deceased was born in Wood county, September 22, 1877, and was section foreman for Texas & Pacific railroad 43 years, retiring three years ago. He had been a resident of Cisco 24 years, but during his railroad service had lived at Dothan, Ranger and other T. & P. points in this area. Mr. Parker, a member of the Baptist church since the age of 14, was married to Miss Mattie Finley in Ranger in 1897. Survivors are the wife, two daughters and a sister, the latter being Mrs. John Bishop of Olden. The daughters are Mrs. Z. T. Franklin, Kenniwick, Wash., and Mrs. C. M. Wilkes, Texas City, Texas. There are also two grandchildren. Funeral was held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at East Cisco Baptist church, officiating ministers being Rev. Evan Holmes and Rev. M. L. Agnew. The body was buried in Oakwood cemetery by Thomas Funeral Home. Pallbearers: Jim Taylor, Grover Taylor, J. T. Waddell, Sr., Homer Smith, Clyde Bailey, M. L. Perdue.

PRACTICALLY ALL AMERICANS TELL SAME STORY OF BRUTAL BEATINGS AND STARVATION

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 4.—Americans freed from Japanese horror prisons told their stories of starvation, brutality and torture directly to Lt. Gen. Robert Eichelberger, commanding Eighth Army occupation forces, and names of Japanese responsible were added steadily to a growing war-crime list. The Navy simultaneously sent a hospital ship, four transports, a cruiser and four rescue destroyers to Hamamatsu, 120 miles southwest of Tokyo, to evacuate other hundreds of Allied prisoners. These ships earlier had helped evacuate approximately 1,500 from the Tokyo area. Due this afternoon were 462 others being brought to Yokohama from the Ashio prison camp, and plans were rushed for release of 3,000 more at Niigata, a west coast port. In northern Honshu and northern Hokkaido and estimated 11,500 await liberation. Eighty per cent of the 2,000 already examined here are in "serious" condition, medical officers said. Carrier planes of the U. S. Third fleet searched Japan for others, and spotted 60 excited prisoners waving wildly from a camp at Hikone village, 50 miles west of Nagoya. Adm. Sir Bruce Fraser, commanding the British Pacific fleet, also was checking lists of his own captured nationals and reported approximately 39,100 British commonwealth internees in camps within his jurisdiction. Including 8,000 Americans, there are an estimated 36,000 Allied prisoners in Japan. General Eichelberger and two officers of the general headquarters war - crimes - branch listened with shocked gravity to stories of the prisoners they interviewed today aboard the hospital ship Benevolence. Virtually all the patients were suffering from extreme malnutrition and other complications — beri-beri dysentery, malaria, tuberculosis and various fevers. All had been beaten, and many had been denied medical attention until now. Eichelberger saw an old friend among the prisoners — Col. Standley Livingston James, who had attended West Point two classes ahead of him, and exclaimed: "I wouldn't have known him!" We questioned Colonel James (wife, San Antonio, Tex.) who was communications officer of the Philippines department until his capture on Bataan April 9, 1942. James said he had been beaten into insensibility and, pointing to a missing front tooth, said: "It was knocked out by a fist." He hastened to add that his treatment had been no worse than that of any other prisoner. "They played no favorites. There was no such thing as rank. We were nothing but a number and we were treated as such. "You had to stand rigidly at attention with your hands at your side while they beat you. But you must understand this: The Japs treated us like they treated their own people. These people don't talk our language and, when you fight people who are like wild animals, you must expect them to fight back their way, not ours."

Ben F. Pillans Northern Luzon Wins Promotion

32ND INFANTRY DIVISION, Northern Luzon. — Benjamin F. Pillans, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Pillans, route four, Cisco, Tex., has been promoted from private to corporal. Corporal Pillans technician and operator in the radio communications section of headquarters battery, a part of the veteran 32nd Red Arrow infantry division, has been in the army since July, 1944, and overseas four months. He holds the Asiatic - Pacific theater ribbon with one combat star for action in the Caraballo Mountains of northern Luzon and the Philippine Liberation ribbon authorized by the commonwealth government of the Philippines. Before entering the army the Texan spent 21 months in England as a civil service radar technician. He graduated from Cross Plains, Texas, in 1940, where he received three letters in football and five letters in basketball.

Southern Baptists to Fight Juvenile Delinquency Their Way

DALLAS, Sept. 4.—Texas Baptist Training Union leaders rejected with fiery words the interdenominational Youth for Christ movement here Monday. Then they voted to launch a religious crusade of their own to fight juvenile delinquency. At a meeting of the executive board of the Baptist Training Union Convention of Texas at the Baptist Building, the state leaders also backed up their religious convictions on the way in which Texas youth can be reclaimed by asking for a large appropriation to finance the crusade. Directors of the Baptist General Convention of Texas will be asked at a session today to back up the training leaders and open the way for a large budget before the end of the year. Dr. T. C. Gardner, executive secretary of the state BTU department, said "Baptists have plenty of money, all we need for any cause. Why, we are millionaires. We just raised $6,000,000." Dr. A. A. Brian, Brownfield, made the motion to denounce the Youth for Christ movement and its interdenominational backers. He declared that his group must "carry on as Baptists" because of their strict religious convictions, and added: "Southern Baptists are the only ones who have stood out. If Southern Baptists falter now, God pity our nation." Dr. Brian said the Baptists have always been the focal point of the storm because of their strict interpretation of the Bible. He suggested their movement be called "Baptist Young People Crusading for Christ." "We face the alternative of doing nothing or challenging our youth as we should," the Brownfield pastor said. "We will be swamped in the next ten years with insidious school organizations if we do not." Paul Eriggs, San Angelo young people's director, said "Verbal snippings at the Youth for Christ movement are not enough. We must do something." In his condemnation of interreligious undertakings for young people as a weapon to combat juvenile delinquency, Dr. A. C. Donath, pastor of First Baptist church at San Angelo, declared: "In our town the Baptists were asked to co-operate in a youth center that included dancing and a bar. The bar was for soft drinks, but there was soft drinking on the inside and hard drinking on the outside — in the preacher's front yard." Dr. Gardner explained that the Youth for Christ movement was set up July 27 at Winona Lake and not a money-raising agency. The scope of the summer encampment could be widened to be of greater value to Baptists as a whole, if it were in the hands of the parent organization, he said. Mrs. Ocie Wilson, who had conducted a cafe on Eighth street, near the Palace theater, since 1937, died at 11 o'clock this morning in a Ranger hospital, after a short illness. She was the widow of Edward A. Wilson, an Humble employe, who died here in 1935. Mrs. Wilson was born in Tennessee, January 6, 1895. Immediate survivors are a son, Pvt. Thomas A. Wilson of Camp Anza, Calif., two grand children and two brothers — George Farris, Carrizo Springs, Tex., and D. D. Farris, Menard, Calif. She was a member of Cisco First Methodist church. Funeral and burial will be in Cisco, but no arrangements had been made at noon today pending word from relatives. Thomas Funeral Home has charge of the remains. that it had already been financed with a national subscription of $200,000. "The movement is away from the church, however," Dr. Gardner declared, "and Baptists will have to turn their backs because of marching orders from God. "We must sponsor a movement for Baptists and study the juvenile delinquency problem. It is the greatest challenge to our church in thirty years." Dr. Gardner declared the juvenile delinquency problem was everywhere, in the little towns, in country places and at the cross roads. He said that "taverns saturated with everything that was evil were thriving in all places, patronized by boys and girls. The executive secretary announced that the BTU had deeded its summer encampment properties at Palacios, valued at $150,000, to the Texas General Convention, as well as $20,000 in cash. The reason for the transfer of properties was that the BTU was

Ensign Ghormley Gets Bronze Star For Good Service

AMPHIBIOUS FORCES, Pacific Theater. — Ensign Jesse W. Ghormley, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Ghormley of Cisco, Tex., has been presented with the bronze medal in the name of the president of the United States for services as herein set forth: "For distinguishing himself by meritorious achievement while in charge of a survey party during the amphibious attack on Peleliu Island on 15 September 1944. Ensign Ghormley was assigned the mission of making a reconnaissance and survey of reefs off an enemy controlled beach. Although his boat was under continuous sniper and machine gun fire, and subjected to near misses by enemy shells, he coolly and accurately performed the mission, obtaining information which proved to be of great value in a subsequent phase of the operation. His professional skill and courage under fire were in keeping with the best standards of the naval service." T. S. Wilkinson, Vice Admiral, U. S. Navy. Ensign Ghormley was born in Cisco, is 29 years of age and a graduate of Cisco high school and Cisco Junior College. He entered the navy in December, 1942.

Purpose of DDT Spraying Is To Kill Nasty Flies

NEW YORK, Sept. 4. — American families in polio epidemic areas were warned today (yesterday) that the use of DDT in fighting infantile paralysis is still in the experimental stage and that its value, if any, will most likely not be known for several months. In a statement to the press, Dr. Don W. Gudakunst, medical director, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said that "the tremendous amount of newspaper and radio publicity given to DDT makes it important that everyone understand the role of this powerful insecticide in the fight against infantile paralysis." Under the supervision of the Army Neurotropic Virus Disease Commission, of which Dr. John R. Paul of Yale University is chairman, DDT solutions have recently been sprayed over limited portions of four cities: Rockford, Ill., Savannah, Ga., Patterson, N. J., and New Haven, Conn. Purpose of the spraying, financed out of a $25,000 grant by the National Foundation, is to kill all flies in a particular area, study the results with respect to infantile paralysis, and compare with unsprayed areas. The National Foundation, Dr. Gudakunst said, "is participating in these projects in the hope that we may learn whether flies actually do play any part in the spread of infantile paralysis among human beings." He added: "These experiments are being carried out because (1) flies in an epidemic area have occasionally been shown to be carriers of poliomyelitis virus, (2) typical poliomyelitis has been produced in experimental animals artificially infected from these flies, and (3) food contaminated by flies in an epidemic area likewise produced poliomyelitis in the experimental animals. "We do not know, in spite of these findings, whether flies play any part in the spread of infantile paralysis among humans. Our studies may give us information on this point, but it will most likely be months before concrete results have been determined. "It is to be emphasized, however, that the use of DDT is purely experimental." The spray, Dr. Gudakunst said, is a water emulsion of DDT powder dissolved in xylol, or a similar solvent. As far as is known, neither the spray nor the DDT powder itself has any harmful effect on humans, animals or birds.

"He had broken up my family."

GOSPEL OF SCARCITY.

For a generation American wages have been going up and working hours have been going down. The average American workman today probably gets more pay for fewer working hours than any other hand-working group in the world. And labor leaders John L. Lewis and William L. Green make a new demand for higher wages and shorter hours.

arguing that the nation can afford it. And, this, in a way, is true. But broadly speaking, nobody gets something for nothing. It is not argued in these demands that the workers in general are so overworked that their health suffers, or that, in general, they lack leisure. It would probably be fair to say that the average manual worker today is better off than ever before, and has made more progress, comparatively, than business workers have in recent years. But there is a factor in the equation that most of the union workers and their leaders overlook.

By making working time still shorter and leisure hours still longer, all are held down to getting and having fewer goods and less desirable homes than they otherwise would have. And in the present state of the world, such a policy is not very sensible.

MEN WHO TAKE IT.

A great deal has been written about the human relationships of our civilian army in this war—the anguished separation, the years of worry and fear on the part of those at home, the discipline, the dirty and unpleasant jobs of the soldier. But little attention has been paid to those of the regular army.

Perhaps it is felt that their problems are less, just because their business is war and all that that implies. Yet, if the truth were told, it might be a revelation. For it is, after all, the regulars who take the beating: It is they who know, far better than any civilian man or officer, exactly what they are up against, and how unpleasant it will be. And it is they, already trained, who are flung into such breaches

JAP PROBLEM

The same duplicity and subterfuge which have marked every step of the Jap war still exists and will be used if possible to muddle and prevent the peace. It may not be true that the only good Jap is a dead Jap, but just now those who seem to be the more intelligent and humane members of that strange race are saying little, in fear of their own countrymen, perhaps.

Let it be remembered that the Japanese boast of never having lost a war in all their long history. They will naturally use every possible subterfuge and delay to perpetuate that claim. And they are so cunning that even some of our own statesmen might be outwitted in vital matters.

THE UNTRACED TRAILS.

How soon, old friend, shall we be walking
Once more a morning - misted road.
With balanced packs, and gaily talking
Where chipmunks have their field abode?
I think our bright tomorrow's questing
Will start on some peace-glowing day,
And high-moon suns shall find us resting
Where tree shade inks the whitened way.
At dusk our campfire shall be gleaming
Before the yet untraced trails,
And by its side we shall be dreaming
Until the eastern skyway pales.
Yes—soon, old friend, we shall be going
From dawn until the evening star,
With lightened hearts and never knowing
How rough the roadway, or how far.
