FARM BUREAU NEWS

An amusing thing to study is the much used word on people's tongues these days is "flexible" or "trendy." In using the words we dislike the word "flexible," but we talk "trendy." Words flexible as something easily bent or yielding to persuasion, and trend as a tendency or general direction. The word "trend" means almost the opposite.

The central attraction today among us farmers is color acreage and price. Generally speaking, we want acreage flexible so we can get more acres, but of price we want rigid so we can get more. What is your opinion? After putting the two together, what do we have?

Problem or answer role is Farm Bureau member's choice for 1956. Today's farmers and ranchers have a choice in meeting agriculture's problems: they may remain part of the problem or they may become a part of the answer.

At a recent meeting of the county organization a few of the farmers took an interest in the problem, and their actions became an answer to it. The part they took in forming resolutions to the problem will be a part of the answer to the problem. Farm Bureau is only a means of getting an answer accomplished. The answer to the problem will be backed 561 strong in Castro county.

When we dam up a river, what happens to the water? It must run through, over, or around the dam, soak into the ground or be used. The water will take the route of least resistance. The only other alternative is to build the dam higher and higher.

We might ask the question, who benefits from the water from the dam? The purpose of the dam can be many fold. It may be used for keeping the water level for controlled. The control might be for industrial uses or merely sent on its way downstream. Regardless of how it is handled, there is always the possibility that some will benefit while others suffer. This same question arises when we build up farm surpluses. Who stands to benefit and who will suffer for a hardship? Is such a plan good or bad? Somewhere it must have an outlet, yes, like damming up a stream, these surpluses must go somewhere. It is the commodity dam's purpose to control the flow of supply and hold back the excess until needed in our economy. The excess must be used. They must flow through regular trade channels or in some manner be controlled. The control might be a higher and higher dam. Or else the control may be at the source of supply to control the supply before they begin.

In the trend or fixing, there has been a shift since 1952 of 29.4 million acres of wheat to some 25.9 million acres of grain sorghum, oats, etc. Is the right answer the shifting of one crop to another? When do we have to decide on some other alternatives? Eventually, someone will have to make a decision. Do farmers want to continue a program of other commodities? What will these dammed up surpluses be turned loose? When this is done, who will benefit and who will suffer a hardship?

Here Friday and ready to roll!

Army Re-Enlistees Get School Choice

The importance of maintaining a trained and experienced force is not being overlooked today in the modern Army as the opportunities for advancement are being opened wider both for new enlistees and veterans as well.

Special opportunities and benefits for veterans staying in the Army are mounting in number rapidly with one of the latest opportunities offered being the privilege of selecting an Army Service School of his choice, to attend immediately upon re-enlistment. To be eligible a man must re-enlist within a 90 day period following discharge or release from active duty.

Application for this program should be made not later than 60 days following date of discharge or release from active duty to enable approval by the Adjutant General and to accomplish re-enlistment prior to elapsement of the 90 day period. By doing so, the re-enlistee will receive full re-enlistment benefits such as re-enlistment bonus and retention of his previous rank.

Set. Stats, the Army recruit or from Ft. Sill is in Dimmitt each Wednesday from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and may be contacted at the Post Office for information concerning enlistment or re-enlistment in the Army.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM THE State CAPITOL

By VEIN SANFORD

Texas Press Association, Texas, and possibly the nation, may have a new political group—the "moderates."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson started it when he commented that he was neither a liberal nor a conservative, but that he was a "moderate."

Since then the term has cropped up with increasing frequency in comments by leading figures over the state.

Governor Shivers has announced that he plans a tour into other states to urge selection of a "moderate" Democratic candidate for President.

With a Johnson-for-president move gaining momentum, Shivers commented, when asked if Sen. Johnson fitted the middle-of-the-road pattern, that he seemed "more moderate than extreme."

The governor emphasized that he will not be working for any specific candidate on his tour. He also has no view, he said, of trying to form a "coalition" of Southerners as has been suggested. "I hope to get into the West, the Middle West and possibly the East," he said.

Creeping Harmony

Harmony in the Texas Democratic Party moved slowly. Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of the liberals, has demanded a state delegation pledged to support the party nominee.

Governor Shivers, conservative leader, has opposed an advance pledge to support "any nominee." Rayburn, however, has spoken approvingly of Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, recently named national committeeman with the hope of bringing the two factions together.

Meanwhile the conservative Democratic State Executive Committee has launched a drive to get 3,500,000 persons to pay poll taxes or secure exemptions, for a big turnout next year. It expressed hope for 30,000 delegates at the convention at May 26 in Dallas.

Committee Clears Shepherd

In a closed session, a Texas Bar Association grievance committee voted to take no action on remarks Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd made about the Court of Criminal Appeals and Judge Lloyd W. Davidson.

Shepherd frequently has expressed himself as being opposed to closed sessions. He went to the meeting with a marked rule book containing passages on open and closed sessions of grievance committees, and requested that the hearing be open. The committee overrode the request.

Newsman, sent by their respective newspapers to report the committee meeting, were told to leave the room before the committee convened. No previous announcement of the session's being closed was made.

The hearing resulted after the election of Judge Davidson brought an about face in 104 indictments in turbulent Duval county, Shepherd commented that Davidson had expressed an opinion on the cases before they were presented to the court.

Following their four-hour session, the grievance committee said that it had considered the matter and found that "no action should be taken. The matter is closed."

Highways Become Laboratories

Research to determine specific causes of injuries in passenger automobile accidents begins on Texas rural highways this week.

Sponsoring the cooperative program are the Texas Highway Patrol, Texas State Department of Health, and Cornell University Medical College.

Purpose of the project is to discover exactly what kills persons in traffic accidents. The inquiry may lead to a major revolution of car design.

Centex Chiefs Meet

Police chiefs from seven cities and patrolmen from Central Texas counties met in Austin to discuss measures for slowing an area traffic toll which now nears an all time record.

Safe Driving Day, set by President Eisenhower for Dec. 1, will begin this year ten days before that date and extend 10 days after, according to an announcement by Capt. Jim Musick, at the meeting. Musick is manager of the Texas Safety Association.

He called on policemen and patrolmen to be particularly alert and much more severe on traffic violations during the period.

New Secretary of State
Texas' third secretary of state in nine months has been appointed by Governor Shivers, effective Nov. 1. He is 34-year-old Tom Beavley, Jasper attorney.

Beavley succeeds A. M. Muldrow of Brownfield who took the office last February after C. E. Fulghum of Lubbock resigned. Muldrow will return to business interests.

Beavley is a World War II Navy aviator, graduate of the University of Texas and a Harvard law graduate.

Stated, but not yet filed, is a perfunctory appeal on a two-to-six year conviction on the case in which Giles pled guilty. It is desired, according to the defendant's son, Attorney Rogan Giles, to "gain time."

SHIRT SHORTS: Texas draft call estimates total 876 men for the Army and Navy, as compared with 1,006 in November. Texas population has reached an estimated 8,470,000, a 10 per cent increase over the official census report in 1950, according to the latest Federal Census report. A booklet seeking to distinguish right from left in the Texas Legislature is being circulated by state labor groups.

A group of 10 Russian housing experts visiting in Austin, scouted up armfuls of pamphlets at model homes and said principles used in the "Air Conditioned Village" will be used in Russia.

Look! They've put the pump and motor under the water

FAIRBANKS-MORSE DEEP WELL WORKING HEAD

Deliver up to 1600 g.p.h. - pumps efficiently at all depths to 600 feet.

- Costs less to operate - low maintenance
- Balanced work load gives less wear on drive
- Develops rated capacities at minimum pressures
- Smoother power flow eliminates light flicker
- Available also with windmill or engine hookups
- Pump and motor have V-belt drives

Let us help you choose the right pump!

Fairbanks-Morse line of deep well heads offers pump for well casing diameters ranging from 2" to 6". Installing a pump larger than you need is as inefficient and expensive as putting in one that is too small. We'll be glad to come to your home or farm, make an on-the-job check of your needs, and recommend the right pump. This service is free! Or, drop in at our store and ask for booklet on Fairbanks-Morse deep well water systems.

Just a few features of the Fairbanks-Morse submersible!

Only ONE pipe of SMALLER diameter used inside well casing • Never needs priming • Motor and pump operate entirely under water • No jets, rods, or shafts to add to cost • Uses smaller motor - saves power • Impeller and motor shafts of stainless steel • Water cooled - water lubricated • Delivers up to 720 g.p.h. at 300-foot settings - more at shallower settings • PERFORMANCE PROVED • QUALITY GUARANTEED!

Edwin Ramey's Gander at a Goose Set Stage for Lifelong Brotherhood

EDITOR'S NOTE: Edwin Ramey, rancher near Dimmitt, is described as "Brother to the Wild Goose" in an interesting article written by noted Paris-Handle Historian and Lecturer Miss Laura V. Hamner for the November issue of Progressive Farmer magazine.

der gave as a final warning. During the period of incubation, "Goose" did tasks that Mrs. Ramey claimed as her own. Mrs. Ramey was virtually in prison.

The long strain was over at last, and the goose came off the nest with one gosling. To express his gratitude to his parents, Ramey decided to christen them. Connie and Lesser Snow were named.

Nature sometimes conspired against "Goose." In one year of great growth, all the geese left their nests and refused to finish their incubation.

Another year, an electric storm led the germ of life of a nestful of eggs. The goose came off with but one gosling. The gander stood by the nest a little while, apparently bewildered by his wife's defection, then climbed in and sat on the eggs, this being the only case of a gander assuming such duties. Ramey broke up the nest to relieve the gander of his sense of responsibility.

A little gosling, lone product of a mating of wild fowls, died. The parents stayed by the body for three days, talking to each other, talking to their dead child. After "Goose" Ramey buried the body, the pair drifted back to the herd and took up life again.

Early one morning a lesser gander dropped out of the skies, eyed this goose and that, and made a choice, and challenged her mate. A big white tame gander. The fight began immediately. Not only

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Many persons feel that the "whereas," "infereads" and other legal verbiage is used by the lawyer for the purpose of confounding the layman.

Nothing could be further from the truth. In drafting legal documents, the lawyer attempts to draft them in such a way as to exclude all ambiguities. In the last analysis, a legal document means what some court at some future time shall declare that it means.

Such a way that it can mean only one thing. The difficulty with drafting a document in layman's language is that the trained analyst such language is susceptible of several meanings, and consequently is likely to lead to litigation. It is the drafter's purpose to avoid litigation which is usually expensive for the client.

Another reason why lawyers use legal language is historical in nature. Thus most deeds declare that the grant, "by these presents do grant, sell, and convey" the land in question, to the grantee. Each of the words recited have a technical meaning. The words together have frequently been construed by the courts and in using them that their meaning is settled and that they will operate to properly transfer the title.

He would be inviting litigation for his client. If instead of using those words, he devised new language to express the same purpose, he could only say, "While I think the language that I have used will accomplish the purpose, I cannot be sure of it.

As a consequence, the lawyer, in the interest of his client, naturally uses the time-tested language instead of experimenting with new language.

Cotton Maid Contest Open

LUBBOCK, Nov. 3 (Special)—A gleaming new Ford convertible will be awaiting the 1956 Maid of Cotton when she returns to Memphis at the end of her six-month international tour next summer, the National Cotton Council announced today.

Judge J. C. Johnson, West Memphis, Ark., president of the Memphis District Ford Dealers Advertising Committee, has revealed that the dealer group will present the automobile to the cotton industry's fashion and good will ambassador.

South Plains cotton industry leaders are now searching for the "young lady" who will serve as the "Maid of Cotton" for the Cotton Contest will be held at Fair Park Coliseum, Lubbock, on Nov. 14. Deadline for entry is Nov. 8.

Any girl born in a cotton-producing state and who is now an official resident of Texas, who is between the ages of 19 and 25, who has never married, and who is at least 5 feet 5 inches tall is eligible to enter.

When contest finals are held in Memphis, Dec. 28-29, the girl who is selected for the coveted title will receive a certificate of presentation and keys to her automobile. At the conclusion of her tour next summer, she will return to Memphis for a formal presentation of the car.

Entry forms and complete information are available from the South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest, P. O. Box 53, Lubbock, Texas. All entries must be completed and returned, not later than midnight, Nov. 8, to the contest director.

715,192 Texans Take Chest X-Rays

AUSTIN, Nov. 3—A new record of public service was established between Sept. 1954 and Aug. 1955 when 715,192 Texans passed before the mobile chest X-ray units operated by the State Department of Health.

Of that number 18,192 showed evidence of chest "abnormalities," the Department reported. The tax-supported mass chest X-ray surveys, limited to persons 35 years of age and over, worked out 225,000 during the period covered by the report.

Among the normal findings were 2,881 cases of "suspicious, non-diagnostic abnormalities," 2,726 cases of other "suspicious" cases, such as tumor shadows, diaphragmatic hernias, etc.

Both tuberculosis and lung cancer are most easily curable in their early stages, the health officials stressed. "But since both are almost asymptomatic in their early stages, early detection is virtually impossible without a chest X-ray."

The health agency adopted the mass X-ray surveys as part of its program of public service in 1946. Five units are in operation, each one staffed by two technicians.

Units are assigned to individual counties only on request of the county medical society. Tuberculosis, heart disease, and lung tumors are the conditions most frequently found. Cases of abnormality are reported to the private physician named by the individual involved.

Specific diagnosis is left to the private physician. It usually requires 4 weeks from the time the X-ray is taken until the report is forwarded to the individual or the physician of his choice.

The usual procedure in cases of chest defects is for the person to visit his family physician for further study. The number of people receiving chest X-rays in mobile units last year was the greatest in the 9-year history of the program.

Last week visitors in the Curtis Tate home were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kay, Mrs. Tom Lockwood and Mrs. Leta Lewis, all from Mooreland, Okla. They are the parents of an infant of Mrs. Tate.

As well as being a successful stock farmer, Willis carries out a good diversified farming program. He has 300 acres in maize, 120 in cotton, 300 in wheat and 100 in sorgho. He deep breaks, summer fallows and chisels for a well-rounded program. Willis uses both commercial fertilizer and barnyard manure for maximum yields and a close cooperater with the Running Water Soil Conservation District.

In 1938, Willis married the former Miss Ouida Byrnes. They have three daughters: Shari, age nine, who is in the third grade; Len, age eight, who is in the second grade; and Kay, age four.

The Willis' are members of the Castro County Farm Bureau and the Church of Christ. He also belongs to the Southwestern Cattlemen's Association.

Extra Points Beat Bobcats Again; Homecoming Tilt Set

Failure to make vital extra points spelled defeat for the Dimmitt Bobcats for the second week in a row as they dropped their conference game to the Littlefield Wildcats by the close score of 35-23. The Cats had been edged by Lockney 21-20 one week before.

strong aerial and ground attack. The Cats led 20-7 at halftime after Backs Jerry Brown and Alton Bates scored on one-yard thrusts in the first period and Quarterback Keith Lowe scored on a two-yard plunge in the second. Bates and Lowe were successful on the first and second conversions but the third try for extra point failed. Littlefield didn't get on the scoreboard until the second quarter when Back James Presley scored on a two-yard run and another back, John Clayton, converted, and Dimmitt held a 27-14 lead.

The Wildcats exploded for three touchdowns in the final period while Dimmitt was able to score only once, that being on a 25-yard pass play from Quarterback Don Mobley to Ed Jimmy Manning. Making TD's for Littlefield in the final stanza were Max Morris on a five-yard plunge; Green on 11-yard run; and Clayton, also on a 11-yard run. All three of the Littlefield conversions were good while Dimmitt's final try for extra point failed.

Book Review and Tea Slated Nov. 9

Mrs. Swan Burkett will review "The Autobiography of Sam Houston" at the regular monthly meeting of the Dimmitt Book Club Wednesday, November 9 in the District Courtroom. The review will begin at 4 p.m. A silver tea in honor of National Book Week will be held immediately following the review in the home of Mrs. Pearl Shetty. This book about Houston, a great American, is edited by Don Day and Harry Ullom. "When most people think of Sam Houston, they remember the General who won the battle of San Jacinto which freed Texas from the yoke of Mexico. Few know that before this victory he had already carved out a career which would have immortalized most men, and that thereafter he had another career even more remarkable. The time has come when Sam Houston should be considered what he really is, a great American and not merely a great Texan."

Wilton Ivey Guesses Mystery Farm No. 40

Miss Wilton Ivey is the lucky winner of a year's subscription to the News. She correctly identified mystery farm number 40 as that of G. L. Willis, located two miles south of Dimmitt.
Mystery farm 40 [above] has been owned by the Willis family since 1915 when the late G. L. Willis, Sr., came into possession of the farm. G. L. Jr., purchased the farm from his father in 1943. He has been on the farm 25 years.
Recent improvements include a new home, five irrigation wells and four feed lots. The 770-acre farm was first put under plow in 1915.
Willis recently stored 2,500 tons of Atlas Sargo in his silos. He has 500 head of Hereford cattle, and this herd proves very valuable in the winter months as it carries his Leon Schumpert (right) explains his use of three electric stock tank water warmers at his Portales, New Mexico, dairy farm.

Imagine yourself standing alone during a cold, chilly, wintry day. You want a drink. You can't use your hands. Your mouth and nose are submerged in a tank of 30-degree water. Not a very pleasant thought, is it? You'd take only as much water as you would need to survive. And that's exactly what your cows will do. Now, for efficient profit making milk production, the average dairy cow requires up to twenty gallons of water daily. Approximately one-fifth of this amount goes directly into the milk; the remainder goes into the digesting process and for body conditioning. Feed lot steers and calves require twelve gallons a day for top gains. But, there's a way for your cows to get their water ration, even during the coldest winter day. Use an electric, thermostatically controlled water warmer. The cost is negligible compared to the profits that are available during the winter when the prices are highest. Better milk production from the same number of cows is the result.

Armstrong And Randall Irrigation Data Released

The portions of Randall and Armstrong counties within the boundary of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District have been combined on the accompanying map. About 275,000 acres of Randall county and about 99,000 acres of Armstrong county are within the boundary of the Water District. The area within the Water District in Randall county contains about 3,280,000 acre-feet of ground water in storage available for pumping. In Armstrong county the amount of ground water in storage available for pumping is about 279,000 acre-feet. The map in plate 1 shows the thickness of the water-bearing strata between the water table and the redbeds in 1938 before an appreciable amount of water had been pumped from the reservoir. The map in plate 2 shows the decline of the water table from the spring of 1938 to January 1955. The volume of water remaining in the underground reservoir was determined by subtracting the volume of material unwatered since 1938 from the total volume of saturated material in 1938 and multiplying the remainder by the coefficient of storage of 15 percent. These data show about 3,940,000 acre-feet of water was in storage in Randall county available for pumping in 1938, and about 507,000 acre-feet of water, or about 14 percent, had been removed from storage since 1938. The approximate quantity of underground water in storage available for pumping, beneath an individual farm may be determined by multiplying the number of acres in the farm by the thickness of the water-bearing strata underlying the farm and then multiplying the number of acres in the farm by the thickness of the water-bearing strata.

Sunnyside Farmer Makes Milo Tests

Good results have been obtained from a milo testing program carried out on the Noble Howard Farm near Sunnyside. Howard undertook the program for DeKalb Hybrid Seed Company to determine the yields of hybrids against standard varieties. He found, according to tests, that hybrids outyielded the best of standard varieties by 960 pounds and that they are easily thrashed; produce a sturdy stalk and look promising for use under irrigation. The results follow: Martin—5,800 pounds per acre; 7078—5,000 pounds per acre; Redline 66—4,420 pounds per acre; Reliance—2,900 pounds per acre; and DeKalb—4,700 pounds to an acre. Howard, who is DeKalb representative in this county, says that there will be a limited supply of the hybrid seed for the 1956 crop.

Happy Snaps 8th Grade Win Streak

Dimmitt's eighth grade team, after winning five straight, ran out of gas at Happy last Thursday night as they fell before the Happy team composed of both eighth grade and freshman football players. The final score was 28-18. Though disappointed over the loss, Coach Thomas Harrison emphasized that his crew played a good game and will go all out to win their next engagement against Muleshoe here Tuesday night. The team suffered a number of injuries in the Happy game, but most players will be ready to go Tuesday night. The seventh

A Famous American Ship

With engines made in Germany and an iron hull built in Scotland, the DELTA QUEEN began her career as cargo aboard a freighter bound for California. Rebuilt at sunny Stockton, she there acquired her four passenger decks and an American flag. Years of successful service on the Sacramento river followed for this giant sternwheeler craft. War work as a ferry in San Francisco harbor, and then a period of lay-up set the stage for her sale to the Greene Line of Cincinnati. Her voyage at the end of a tow rope from San Francisco around to New Orleans was a thriller, for her draft was only seven feet. Today the DELTA QUEEN is flagship of one of America's last passenger steamboat lines on our inland waterway system. Our merchant marine does not only include deep-sea vessels, but also river craft such as this fine vessel. River and waterway vessels are again coming into their own as a major link in our transportation system, reports the American Merchant Marine Institute.

graders take on Plainview here the same night beginning at 6:30 p. m. At Happy, a close contest thrilled fans; the best play of the game coming in the first quarter when Back Jerry Hyatt raced 95 yards on a kickoff return to rack up a touchdown for Dimmitt. The Happy team scored first on a two-yard plunge in the opening minutes of play and scored again after Hyatt's long run on a two-yard pass. Dimmitt helped the Happy team to their third score by fumbling on the two yard line. The hosts promptly proceeded to turn the costly mistake into a TD. The locals hit paydirt again in the third period when Hyatt stepped off yardage for six points. The final tally of the evening came on the last play from scrimmage when Happy registered their fourth marker.

Longhorns Lose; To Play Farwell Steers Friday

The Hart Longhorns struck for touchdowns in the second and fourth quarters in their homecoming game with Whitharral Friday night but were unable to overcome the strong Panther team which went on to win 46-12.

It was the fifth conference loss of the season for Coach Paul Boswell's Longhorns and marked their eighth straight loss.

Whitharral jumped into a 13 point first quarter lead on long scoring runs by Charles Dinney and Bobby Davis, Dinney going 72 yards for a score and Davis 35 yards. Davis repeated in the second period on a three yard dash and Jimmy Green raced 28 yards for the other Panther score in the second quarter.

Johnny Hindman put Hart on the scoreboard at the close of the second quarter on a four yard plunge Dinney scored again in the third for Whitharral and Davis tossed a 25 yard touchdown pass to Bill Stewart in the last period. Billy Theford made the last Panther score on a 65 yard sprint. Hart made their second tally in the fourth stanza when Halfback James Holloway bucked across for two yards and a touchdown.

The Hart maroon and white striders take on the Farwell Steers at Farwell this Friday night. The Steers have a formidable club and will be hard to stop. They along with Kress and Bovinn are in the thick of the District 3-B race. An upset win would be mighty pleasing to Boswell and his crew who have gone winless since football was inaugurated at Hart this fall.

Sunnyside HD Club Names Mrs. Axtell

Mrs. R. A. Axtell was chosen president of the Sunnyside Home Demonstration Club for the coming year at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert Duke. Mrs. Jack Ebeling, outgoing president, presided.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Cecil Curtis, vice-president; Mrs. Noble Howard, council delegate; and Mrs. Roy Phelan, reporter.

Mrs. Cecil Curtis presented an interesting program on mental health. The hostess, Mrs. Duke, served refreshments to Mesdames Irving King, Dorothy Washington, Jack Ebeling, Billie King, Cecil Curtis, R. A. Axtell and Rex Jenkins.

Dear Editor:

... the letters start. Then from all over the free world come such comments as these from readers of THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR, an international daily newspaper:

"The Monitor is most reading for straight-thinking people. . ."

"I returned to school after a lapse of 18 years. I will get my degree from the college, but my education comes from the Monitor. . ."

"The Monitor gives me ideas for my work. . ."

"I truly enjoy its company. . ."

You, too, will find the Monitor informative, with complete world news. You will discover a constructive viewpoint in every news story. Use the coupon below.
