Medical Foundation Fund Nearing Desired Goal

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—The Southwestern Medical Foundation has collected $990,725 in its campaign to raise $1,300,000 to finance the Southwestern Medical College for five years, drive leaders announced yesterday.

Dr. John G. Young, clinical professor of pediatrics at the college, told campaigners that in medical science "Knowledge of the causes and prevention of disease is fundamental. The Southwestern Medical College is furthering this knowledge through its polio research, study of old age, and the cause and cure of rheumatic fever, greatest killer at the Children's Hospital of Texas."

The Dallas area needs a growing, alert medical school of the highest rank, Dr. Young said, and will have it in the Southwestern Medical College.

5 RED STAMPS VALID

OTHER REMNANTS OF A ONCE MIGHTY FLEET PROBABLY BE USED IN ATOM BOMB TESTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Thirty-eight Japanese destroyers and some smaller ships will be distributed among the Pacific Allies, but other remnants of the once mighty enemy fleet probably will be used as targets in a naval test of the atomic bomb.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes announced today that the destroyers and smaller craft will be preserved, but that capital ships left in the Jap fleet would be scuttled.

Pay Boosts on an Industrywide Basis Not the Idea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—President Truman said today that the administration's wage-price policy, calling for moderate wage increases, does not contemplate pay boosts on an industry-wide basis.

Mr. Truman's statement was evoked by news conference questions on the middle-of-the-road wage-price policy which he announced in a nationwide broadcast last night.

Asked what maximum pay increase could be granted on an industry-wide basis under the new policy, he replied — none.

Each case, the president said, is individual, and that is why we must have collective bargaining.

Mr. Truman told reporters that a radio survey indicated about 32,000,000 adults heard his address.

Many labor leaders hailed the address as "a light of hope" for workers. Industry spokesmen generally withheld immediate comment while congressional reaction was divided mostly along party lines.

R. J. Thomas, Detroit, president of CIO United Automobile Workers union, said: "He removed the last excuse of the automobile companies to refuse our proposed 30 percent payroll increase when he offered relief on prices after a reasonable period of production at ceiling levels if fair profit cannot be earned."

US. and Russia to Heart Disease, Let Chinese Fight Cancer and TB it Out, Manchuria Lead at Santone

CHUNGKING, Oct. 31. (AP)—A Central News Agency dispatch from the north said today that the Russians have thrown open Manchuria to the armies of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek for a showdown with the Chinese Communist forces massing there.

Dispatches said Marshall Alexander Vasilevsky, Red army commander in Manchuria, had agreed to the entry of Chiang's troops, who have been pouring northward aboard American transports and planes to recapture the areas abandoned by the Japanese.

It confirmed, it would be the first direct Russian move in the undeclared Chinese civil war. An estimated one million Chungking government troops were reported moving into position opposite an equal number of Chinese Communists.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 31.—General Eisenhower warned today that there was danger of an uprising in the American zone of occupation in Germany this winter.

In a report to Washington as head of the American military government in that part of Germany occupied by the United States, the general said that mounting dissatisfaction among the Germans pointed toward an organized uprising.

Resentment among young Germans over the fraternization of American troops with German girls, coupled with the virtual inactivity of German youth and former soldiers, already has resulted in sporadic outbreaks, Eisenhower reported.

BATTLESHIP TEXAS. WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The navy department said today Secretary James Forrestal had offered the battleship U. S. S. Texas to the state of Texas for use as a shrine. The offer was made in a letter to Governor Coke Stevenson.

Would Clip the Wings of Pac's Election Czars

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—A double-barreled attempt to curtail activities of CIO's Political Action committee and penalize unions which violate contracts shaped up in the House today.

Some members said amendment of the Smith-Connally war labor disputes act proposed by the House military committee would minimize effective PAC action in next year's congressional elections, if not put it out of business.

The military committee started out to repeal the act's provisions for strike votes under federal supervision after 30 days notice, and government seizure of vital plants tied up by labor disputes.

Before it got through it also had approved yesterday, by a closed-session vote reported at 15 to 9, amendments which would:

(1) Ban contributions by National banks, corporations or labor organizations to any political convention, primary or general election involving a president, vice president or member of congress, and soliciting, contributing or assessing funds from members "or subordinate affiliates.

(2) Prohibit strikes by unions having no-strike contracts with employers. The penalty would be loss of collective bargaining rights for one year, liability for damages in a civil action, and automatic release of the employer from further compliance with the contract.

The bill may reach the House in two weeks. The amendments were offered by Rep. Arends of Illinois, House Republican whip, who told reporters they were aimed "at irresponsible unions and not at those who live up to their contracts."

Other Republicans predicted privately the amendments would cut off most of PAC's income and put it in the discard, or at least hamstring any attempt it might make to influence the 1946 elections.

FULBRIGHT.

Who will be the next president of Columbia University? Because the presidency of a great university like Columbia is a magnificent sounding-board for the proclamation of important ideas, this question is important not only for Columbia graduates but for Americans generally. The famous Nicholas Murray Butler has resigned, and the position is open. An interesting suggestion has just come from apparently inspired quarters. In the lead is said to be Senator James W. Fulbright of Arkansas, one of the coming men of the Senate. Fulbright has experience as a university administrator, having been president of the University of Arkansas for two years. He served two years in the House of Representatives, and is now beginning a six-year term in the Senate. He is a leader of the forces backing international cooperation, a movement close to President Butler's heart. Though he is only 40, a university president need not be a graybeard. President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard began his revolutionary administration at 35, and Robert M. Hutchins headed the University of Chicago at 30.

GEESSE GOING.

THE word you scrawl above us now, is, plainly, "Good-bye . . . good-bye" . . . in disappearing script: The awkward body and the neck, ungainly, Pointing to lands less nude of grace, less stripped Of all that made this pleasing in your sight, And made this place a gracious place to know; And so you rose and pointed south for flight Above us, here, who stand to watch you go.

And it is not that we shall miss you, greatly, We saw but little of you, even here; But we have seen too much of going, lately: The leaf, the flower, the warmth out of the year, We see the autumn watch, we are the left, Who see you go, and once more are bereft. —David Morton in New York Herald Tribune.

ATOMIC DOUBT.

Many Americans, after sober second thought, are losing their enthusiasm about that famous atomic bomb. For a little while it did stimulate the American spirit immensely, in a great wave of confidence and power. Hgr.

apparently, was Uncle Sam at his best, tinkering and inventing and experimenting with tremendous things, and apparently bringing the whole world into a new era of unimaginable power. Most of us were sitting on top of the world, and nothing could touch us now. Many, perhaps, still have that glow and pride and sense of safety. But many others have done, and are doing, a lot of thinking since then. They seem to feel their security ebbing away and doubts arising as to the effectiveness and permanence of this new power. It slowly dawns on the public mind that even if we Americans can make atomic bombs, with the tremendous power in them that has been proved, and if we have a monopoly on the great discovery, this monopoly cannot last. Knowledge of the "know-how" spreads slowly but irresistibly, and the impression grows that here is a gadget which might destroy the whole human race, or at least the civilization of our race. So we seem to be drawn back to first principles, moral and religious, and a way of life in which fearing God and obeying his commandments offer the only hope of survival for the civilization we have created.
