At this meeting it is expected action will be taken to establish the first community playground, under PTA sponsorship. Full attendance is urged.

Following the business session, a special discussion will be conducted by a number of speakers, with J. A. Butler as leader. Among those participating will be George H. Harold Fischer, Rev. C. A. Fadden, R. N. Cluck and Buck Bernal.

Peanut Shelling Plant to Start Rolling Jan. 1

The Cisco Peanut Co., which opened for business here on September 1, still has plenty of available storage space and is calling to all farmers of the Cisco Country to bring their goobers to this market.

Goal: Enough peanuts on hand to keep the plant rolling twelve months in the year.

Installation of modern, automatic shelling machinery is now well advanced and E. B. Johnson, the manager, says he hopes to begin the work of shelling by January 1.

Notwithstanding the use of automatic shelling machinery, the finished product will be hand-picked, hence from the start the Cisco plant will employ some 30 men and women. They will work in two shifts — 10 men and 10 women daytime and 10 or more men at night. If the company can buy peanuts in the quantities desired, many more men and women will be needed.

Ray O. Hill, the superintendent, was formerly superintendent of Portales Valley Mills at Portales, N. M. He has a wife and a three-year-old child. Mr. Johnson, the manager, recently discharged from the army, came here from San Antonio. He is a member of the Methodist church and has a wife and a daughter of five years. The Johnsons are in sore need of desirable living quarters.

Public is Always the Chief Sufferer From Strikes

AUSTIN, Nov. 24. — Some legislation for bus lines and public utilities patterned on the National Railway Labor Act may be the outcome of the strikes of Greyhound Bus Line drivers and electrical workers of Lower Colorado River Authority.

Both strikes made the public chief sufferer. Action by the state legislature would be necessary to put such a plan in effect. The Railway Act provides for a system of arbitration supervision by the government.

Technically right now under the terms of the Texas motor transport laws, it would be impossible for some one to file an application for a bus operation permit over a route where a strike had halted operation of an existing bus line. This application would cost the applicant only $25 and would be based on a showing of public convenience and necessity.

But practically, Col. Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the Texas Railroad commission, pointed out such action would be futile.

For by the time the application for a rival permit could be set down for hearing and be heard, any strike likely would be settled; service would be resumed and there would no longer be a public need.

Another practical matter that precludes such action is that an applicant for a permit must show ability to operate under the permit in a way to meet the public need. One of the requirements is to show ownership or control of buses. No busses now are to be had.

FOLLED HEREFORDS.

CLIFTON, Nov. 24. — The 55 cattle in the Texas polled Hereford association auction here sold for an average of $216, with the 29 bulls making an average of $232 and the 26 females averaging $196.

Jim and Fay Gill, Coleman, had the top selling bull and the top selling female, and also showed the champion bull and champion female in the show that was judged by James M. Brook, Brady.

Episcopal Church Can't Swallow Elliott as Officer

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (U.P.)—Elliott Roosevelt, twice divorced son of the late president, has been barred from serving as a vestryman in the church where his father was vestryman for 35 years.

Bishop William T. Manning disclosed yesterday that he had nullified Roosevelt's election by the vestrymen at a meeting Nov. 13 because he "is not in good standing in the Episcopal church."

Roosevelt, who was a brigadier general in the Air Force when the war ended, was reported staying at the Roosevelt ancestral estate near Hyde Park. The church — St. James Episcopal — is located in the village.

It was from that church that Mr. Roosevelt was buried last spring with acting pastor Rev. George W. Anthony officiating.

Cisco Optometrist Home From Post-Graduate Clinic

Dr. Doralee McGraw returned Thursday from New Orleans, where she attended the annual Optometrist Post-graduate Clinic for the Gulf States, held in St. Charles Hotel, that city.

Dr. A. M. Skeffington, director of Graduate Clinic Foundation, St. Louis, was principal speaker, and Dr. Ralph Barstow of Los Angeles addressed the group on economics.

Dr. Skeffington in his lectures emphasized the difference between visual acuity or standard vision as measured on charts, which is simply the ability to discriminate contour; and visual achievement, which means to interpret or get meaning out of the space world in which we live, said Dr. McGraw.

227,592 Books and Files of 22 Daily Papers in Library

AUSTIN, Nov. 24. (U.P.) — For nine years the only book purchase for the Texas Library was an 18-volume set on the Edinburg Encyclopedia. The Republic of Texas spent $250 for the set.

The Republic had appropriated $10,000 for the establishment of a library, but the new government was short of funds. No additional purchases were made until 1856 when the Republic had become a state and the state legislature made an appropriation.

Today the library has 227,592 books of all kinds to be loaned to the people of the state. It keeps files of 22 daily newspapers and many periodicals. It has 11,000 books for the blind, including 2,000 talking books.

In the archives — a separate section of the library — there are more than 1,000,000 manuscripts. Although documents in the archives may not be circulated, they have done considerable traveling. Gathering of the documents began in 1836, principally for the purpose of protecting land titles. These later were placed in the state land office.

The archives were preserved at various early times in Nacogdoches, San Antonio, Columbia and Houston. In 1839 a fleet of 50 wagons brought them to Austin. They have remained in Austin, though a battle once was fought to keep them.

In 1842, President Sam Houston had ordered removal to Washington-on-the-Brazos, fearing a renewed Mexican attempt to conquer Texas. Aroused Austin citizens resisted the troops and won what is known as the "Archives War."

Welles Says "No Way to Keep Out of War With Japs"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (U.P.)—Former Undersecretary of State Welles said today that this country's only choice in the anxious days before Pearl Harbor was ultimate war in the East, or abject acquiescence in Japanese aggression.

He told the Pearl Harbor committee that he had concluded by mid-September, 1941, that Japan would not give up her career of conquest and that war was inevitable.

Although he was fired from the administration by Mr. Roosevelt in 1943, because of alleged differences with the then secretary of state, Cordell Hull, Welles strongly defended the diplomatic course of action Mr. Hull took in pre-Pearl Harbor negotiations with Japan.

Welles went before the committee today for the second time, after the committee had disclosed that former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill had proposed to the late President Roosevelt on November 30, 1941, that joint or parallel war warnings be sent to Japan.

A U. S. note went to the Japs Aug. 17, warning that if the Japanese took further military action the U. S. would be forced to take all necessary steps to protect its interests and security.

Sen. Homer Ferguson, R., Mich., said the note was not made public until after Pearl Harbor. Welles commented that its publication at the time would have jeopardized the Jap negotiations then in progress.

In his testimony today, Welles described a Dec. 6, 1941, appeal from President Roosevelt to Emperor Hirohito as "a last attempt to avert war." The president in his message asked for withdrawal of Jap forces in Indo-China.

At that moment a Jap task force already was steaming toward Pearl Harbor.

This fact apparently was not known to U. S. officials at the time.

School Board Accused of Wasting Time on Trivials

DALLAS, Nov. 24. — Supt of schools H. W. Stillwell of Texas says the state board of education should cease chasing rabbits and counting chickens and devote itself to policy-making.

Addressing the Texas State Teachers association's executive committee at Hotel Adolphus, Stillwell said: "The TSTA can no longer postpone efforts to get education administration in Texas on a sound basis."

The state board of education, he declared, has changed from a policy-making body to an administrative body.

"The board is chasing rabbits and counting chickens," he said. "The report on the last meeting shows that the board didn't do anything except little things."

He said the teachers are to blame for permitting such a situation to exist.

"Leadership to improve Texas education must come out of the TSTA," Stillwell asserted. "The controversy between the state board and the state department of education makes this necessary."

Reporting for the TSTA legislative committee, he said the increase in financial support of the public schools in Texas since 1935 is phenomenal. In that year the per capita allotment was raised to $16 and has been doubled in ten years, he said.

Did Pension Law Doom the Dreams of Aged Lovers?

AUSTIN, Nov. 24. (U.P.)—J. H. Taylor of the state comptroller's Confederate pension division wonders if a recent decision he made interfered any with cupid's intentions.

The widow of a Confederate veteran — in her late 70's — wrote she and her "boy friend," also in the 70's, were planning to be married. She inquired if her $50 a month Confederate pension would be stopped.

Taylor advised that she no longer would be a "widow" if she married, and the law provided her Confederate pension would have to be ended. He's never heard her decision.

There are 20 Confederate veterans living, 12 having died since Jan. 1. Seventeen are single and get $100 pension a month. The three married veterans receive $150 a month.

STUARD-CUSTER WEDDING.

Lee Custer and Mrs. Bernice Stuard were married Nov. 21, in the home of his mother, Mrs. Annie Bisbee, Cisco. Rev. C. S. Moad, pastor of the Church of God, officiated in the presence of immediate relatives. The couple will make their home in Cisco.

BULL BRINGS $2,600.

RATON, N. M., Nov. 23.—With sales of $96,125, the third annual northeastern New Mexico Hereford breeders sale established top prices of $2,600 for a Whiteface bull and $2,550 for a female.

ROAD TO PEARL HARBOR—Route followed by the Jap fleet as it moved in to attack Pearl Harbor and then returned to Japan is pointed out on a large map by Lt. Comdr. Robert W. Parker, Jacksonville, Fla. Pearl Harbor investigating committee learned that the Jap fleet was ordered to move toward Hawaii 13 days before attack.

TOKYO, Nov. 24. (U.P.) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur today ordered the Japanese government to levy a 100 percent war profits tax against Japanese war industries to prove to them that "war does not pay."

LONESOME PLUGGER—A lone traffic man, Charles J. Arden, was left on long switchboard in main office of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Chicago as 8700 operators walked out on strike, tying up service in 115 communities in Illinois and Indiana. Issue was a difference of $2 between weekly pay increase offered by company and that demanded by union.

TRYING PAYS.

There seems to be no limit to what human ingenuity can hit on for earning a living. A Louisville, Ky., woman, Ruth Schrader, has opened a shirt-trading center in an office building. Conducting a general mending and repair business, she suddenly realized she was spending increasing time making over shirts for returned GIs. Some had lost weight, some gained it. Finding the supply of new shirts short in stores, they took their old ones in for remodeling. It occurred to Miss Schrader that it would be simpler for everyone if these men exchanged their shirts, she to manage the buying and selling, retaining a small percentage for her trouble and storage.

Miss Schrader's life is an example of what the last few decades have done to small businesses. Going to the city from a small town after World War I, she became a successful office executive, only to lose her job and all chance at a similar one with the depression. With her savings she opened a hosiery shop and did so well she became nationally known. This folded up with the stocking shortage. Always clever with her needle, she changed the stocking store into a mending shop. The growing scarcity of clothing increased her clientele, who were eager to preserve what wearing apparel they had. Shirts have loomed impressively large of late. Hence the shirt swap idea, which is going well.

A person never knows what he can do until he tries.

THANKSGIVING

Again we come with grateful hearts to that season of the year dedicated by Americans as a time of thanksgiving for the blessings received in the past year.

But today Thanksgiving calls upon us to do more than offer our prayers of gratitude!

In giving thanks for the plentitude of our land, we are called upon to resolve anew to cherish our freedom. We must continually guard the security of our nation.

It also calls upon us to share of our material blessings with the less fortunate human beings across the seas, in so far as possible.

Let us show our faith in America and our thanks for her abundance of blessings by buying more Victory Bonds and by our contributions to the Community War Chest Fund.

PREBYTERIANS HAD ANNUAL SUPPER.

The annual Presbyterian Thanksgiving supper was held at First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, in the basement dining room. The affair was sponsored by the auxiliary and was a most enjoyable occasion. Supper was served from the long dining room table after Rev. O. L. Savage had requested E. P. Crawford to offer the invocation. When the splendid meal was over a program of violin music was furnished by S. E. Hittson, A. E. McNeely, Harry P. Schaefer and Mrs. Ben Krauskopf, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. S. E. Hittson. A sing-song in which all present joined was then led by S. E. Hittson, following which an informal program of stories and jokes was enjoyed by the group, with Mrs. A. E. Jamison as leader. The meeting closed with group singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Seventy-five members were present at the enjoyable affair.

TURKEY DINNER SATURDAY FOR WEEKEND GUESTS.

Miss Mabel Daniel, Mrs. J. E. Crawford and Mrs. A. T. Boland entertained their weekend guests Saturday evening with a lovely turkey dinner following their arrival at the Daniel home, 908 E. avenue.

The dining table where guests were seated for the meal held a pretty centerpiece of full-blown red roses, flanked at the sides by tall lighted tapers in silver holders. The sumptuous meal was served family style and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Nell Lerner, Mrs. Snowberger, Mrs. Anna Vastine, Miss Fannie Brook, Miss Eva Durham, Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tunnell and daughter, Miss Gwendolyn Tunnell and D. L. Adams, Ranger; Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Daniel, Mrs. Ruby Miller, Mrs. D. E. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morris and son Jackson and daughter Mary Alice, Abilene; Mrs. Mae White, Cisco.

TAYLOR-JACOBS WEDDING.

Miss Elaine Taylor and Vivian Jacobs were united in marriage at the Nazarene parsonage on November 20, the ceremony being performed by Rev. L. H. Clegg. The couple was attended by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foster. Mr. Jacobs, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobs of Cisco, recently returned from overseas service.

BLACKBURN - CAUDLE WEDDING THURSDAY.

Miss Anna Kate Blackburn, daughter of R. F. Blackburn of Cisco, became the bride of Brodie B. Caudle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Caudle of Avoca, Thursday evening at 8:30 in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Anna Thompson, Breckenridge.

Rev. Joel B. Grimes read the double ring ceremony as the wedding party grouped before an improvised altar of autumn foliage, vari-colored mums and baskets of talisman roses, after entering through a hall festooned with pink blossoms and greenery. Lighted white tapers gave radiance to the scene. James Barros, cousin of the bride, played Lohengrin's Bridal chorus as the group entered and "Traumerer" softly during the ceremony.

The bride's sister, Miss Madeline Blackburn was her only attendant. She was dressed in a princess style frock of white winter wool with black accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Rankin Blackburn, wore a seafarer crepe dress trimmed with black sequins with corsage of white orchids. She carried a white Bible on which was placed a single orchid.

The groom entered with E. E. Caudle, who served as best man. A reception was held following the wedding and Miss Dora Lil-

It's Big-It's Beautiful-It's BUICK

THIS, we reasoned, is no time to offer folks a car that stops with artful face-lifting.

It has been nearly four years since our last new Buick was built — it wouldn't be shooting square now to give you less than our honor-bright best.

So we overhauled our whole factory to advantage it with the latest in war-developed machines and processes.

We scoured the country for the stoutest metals anyone can buy today.

We set ourselves precisions that in some cases exceed those of aircraft engine production.

And we eagle-eyed every one of this Buick's 12,000 parts to see if it could be bettered in any way, big or little.

The result is that through every stunning inch of this bright new honey runs solid, dependable Buick character, honest and uncompromised.

It's in swift clean lines. In seats that are three-persons wide. In stout, time-defying frames and underpinning. Above all — in the lift and life of a Fireball straight-eight that's even livelier than in 1942.

The cars your Buick dealer will have are big. They're beautiful. They're Buicks.

In fact — the best Buicks yet!
