Effective Cooperation By Breckenridge-Cisco Bands

Cisco Lobo band and Breckenridge Buckaroo band cooperated in a novel and effective pre-game ceremony at the Cisco-Breckenridge football game last Thursday at Breckenridge, when both high school units marched and counter-marched in unison and joined in the playing of the national anthem.

For the "Star Spangled Banner" the two groups marched into position opposite each other and Director Fred D. Baumgardner of the Cisco band, as the visiting director, directed both in the playing. Alton Roan, formerly of Cisco, is director of the Breckenridge band.

After the national anthem the two bands telescoped ranks in marching to opposite sides of the field in a spectacle symbolic of inter-school sportsmanship and friendliness.

Mr. Baumgardner has won high praise for his success in developing the Cisco band during the brief time he has been in charge. Numbering about 40 youngsters, the Lobo musicians have been developed into a remarkably smooth functioning unit in field maneuvering while the quality of their playing has increased to an even more remarkable extent.

The performance of the band at recent football games and particularly at Breckenridge was enough to inspire genuine pride in students and townfolks who were able for the first time in two years to witness a band of their own on the field.

Legion and Country Club Deal Is Helpful to Both

By agreement with the Cisco Country club, John Williams Butts Post of the American Legion will take over and repair the Country club building at Lake Cisco for the use of the Legion and the Country club, it was announced today. Agreement on a contract was made by representatives of the two organizations yesterday, and at a special meeting of the Legion last night the agreement was approved and some 60 members present voted to assist in carrying out the program.

This will give the Cisco Legion Post a home for its meetings and a place for conducting regular dances which will be sponsored as a part of the campaign to raise funds for the future building of a Legion headquarters and community auditorium.

At the same time it is expected to solve one of the knottiest problems which the Cisco Country club faces in taking care of property representing an original investment of about $25,000. For several years this club building has been allowed to stand idle and to deteriorate because, outside of golf, there have been no activities to make use of it.

By allowing the Legion to utilize the building for its meetings and social activities, the structure can be put in good condition and maintained properly. At the same time it will be available for the use of the Country club at times when it is not being used by the Legion. A club room will be set aside for the exclusive use of golf players, and in addition to repairing the building for their use, Legion members last night indicated that they would assist the club players in equipping the club room which they will use.

The agreement entered into between the Legion and the Country club provides for repairing, restoration of plumbing facilities and other improvements. The grounds will be cleaned up, driveways re-graveled and other work required for putting the property in first class condition will be done.

The Legion now has about 100 members and by the first of the year this roll is expected to reach 150. An aggressive membership campaign is now under way. Committee from the post in charge of the Country club project consists of Simon Coplin, E. J. Pross, Jack Anderson, Haywood Cabaness and L. D. Wyatt.

PRICE CONTROLS STAY.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (U.P.)—Price Administrator Chester Bowles said definitely today that price controls will be kept throughout the year to avoid the dangerous cycle of postwar inflation, collapse and depression.

Public Meeting of Athletic Association, Wednesday

A review of the past year's program and a preview of its 1946 plans will be laid before members by the Cisco Athletic association in a meeting to be held at the fire hall Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, President Joe Eddy Hays announced.

He urged full attendance and requested that every member endeavor to bring another who may not be a member, but who should be interested in developing better and more wholesome athletics for Cisco youngsters.

The association was organized last summer to help provide better playing conditions for the high school athletic teams. Through its efforts Chesley Field was lighted for night games and the stands repaired and repainted.

The result of this program is that Cisco now has one of the best football stadiums and playing fields in this section of the state.

This work on the part of the association was reflected in increased interest, larger crowds and an income from gate receipts which left a large balance in the school's athletic fund for financing next year's athletic program.

The influence upon the players was marked in stimulated team spirit and play, a factor which materially aided Coaches Harold Fischer and O. V. Overall in producing the best football record the Lobos have made in years.

Next year the association hopes to further improve existing facilities for high school athletics and to make needed additions to this equipment.

Officials of the association are anxious that there be a full attendance for the discussion of these plans.

COFFEE SHOP TO REOPEN.

The Laguna Coffee Shop will be opened soon under management of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pruitt, formerly of Fort Worth. Due to insufficient labor, the exact date of opening has not been set. Mr. and Mrs. Pruitt and son Frank age 10 are now living at the Laguna hotel. Mr. Pruitt was recently released from the air forces after four years service as radio and radar specialist. Mrs. Robbie Weaver, sister of Mrs. Pruitt, is also here and will assist in the coffee shop. The new Cisco residents are members of the Baptist church.

RADIO FOR GERMANS.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—The American military government announced today plans to open a new radio station in Berlin designed especially to reach the German people.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (U.P.)—The Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee heard today that Great Britain and Gen. Douglas MacArthur at Manila had more knowledge of secret Japanese messages prior to Dec. 7, 1941, than did Maj. Gen. Walter Short at Hawaii.

Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles, former chief of military intelligence, said Britain was given the means to decode Japanese messages in January, 1941, and that the U. S. and Britain thereafter exchanged information obtained from such messages.

Sen. Homer Ferguson brought out that MacArthur received some of the messages which were intercepted and decoded by the navy at Corregidor, in the Philippines.

Miles had testified earlier that Washington headquarters treated the Japanese messages with utmost secrecy. He had said that for this reason none of the intercepts were passed along to MacArthur and Short. The army didn't want the Japanese to know that their messages — diplomatic and military — were being intercepted.

It also was brought out that—
1. Final Japanese messages indicating war was imminent were at least four hours on Dec. 7, 1941, before warnings were sent to Pearl Harbor.

2. Adm. Thomas Hart, then commander of the Asiatic fleet, sent Adm. Harold R. Stark, then chief of naval operations, a message dated Dec. 7, 1941, Manila time, saying he had learned from Singapore that "we have assured Britain armed support under three or four eventualities. Hart noted he had received "no corresponding instructions from you."

There was no immediate elaboration of Hart's message.

N. Y. Paper Says Red Spy Ring Operates in USA.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (U.P.)—The New York Journal American said in a copyrighted article today that a Russian secret agent in the United States was believed to have obtained atomic bomb secrets from an American scientist in Chicago in 1943, and that other Soviet agents have bribed technicians and engineers to give them blueprints of military equipment, including jet-propelled planes.

The article said that the state department has been informed of these espionage activities but that no action has been taken against a Russian spy ring which, the newspaper said, has been operating in this country for two years, with unlimited funds and skilled agents.

Hitler Did Not Believe Protests of Reds

NUERNBERG, Dec. 4. (U.P.)—Adolf Hitler was told by his Moscow ambassador 15 days before the Nazi attack on Russia that Russian leaders "are doing everything to avoid conflict with Germany," the war crimes tribunal was told today.

The statement was made by Sir Hartley Shawcross, opening the British phase of the prosecution of 20 top Nazi leaders. Shawcross laid the legal basis for count two of the indictment, charging the waging of aggressive war in violation of Germany's treaty obligations.

Shawcross said he would present staff records which would "make it clear the Russians were making no military preparations and that they were continuing their deliveries under the Russo-German trade agreement to the very last day."

Strawn and Baird Clash Here Friday For Championship

Cisco will be the scene and Chesley Field the location of a bi-district football battle when the Baird high school Bears and the Strawn high school Greyhounds collide for the championship of Districts 7-B and 8-B Friday night.

The game will start at 7:30 and admission prices will be 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for school children.

Both Baird and Strawn have strong class B teams and a thrilling grid battle is predicted when the two eleven meet here Friday night. Strawn mastered all opposition in its district with the exception of Moran which was ruled out on the score of ineligibility. Baird lost one game to Cross Plains at mid-season, but defeated Cross Plains in the play-off of a tie in district standings.

Baird rules the favorite to take the game here by reason of a victory over the Greyhounds in a practice game, but Strawn is primed for an upset.

Both teams appear to have strong offenses, and each has a good defensive record. Only two teams scored against the Greyhounds in conference games and only three against the Bears. Baird holds the lead in scoring 144 points against district opponents to 88 for Strawn. Baird, however played seven district games to five for Strawn.

Defensively Strawn allowed 34 points, including 28 scored by Moran, while Baird had 41 scored against them.

The conference record of each team:
Strawn 14—Gordon 0.
Strawn 19—Putnam 6.
Strawn 18—Olden 0.
Strawn 6—Moran 28.
Strawn 31—Morton Valley 0.
Baird 31—May 0.
Baird 40—Williams 7.
Baird 27—Bangs 0.
Baird 7—Cross Plains 48.
Baird 25—Rising Star 6.
Baird 7—Clyde 0.
Baird 7—Cross Plains 0; (play-off).

Kleiner Purchased Bowling Alleys to Keep 'Em in Cisco

Charles J. Kleiner, who purchased the Cisco bowling alleys in late November, when it appeared the successful local enterprise would be bought by Breckenridge parties and moved to that city, today placed George W. McCulloch in charge of the business as manager.

Mr. McCulloch is an experienced bowling alley man, who was reared in Eastland county and is well known here. Under McCulloch's management the alleys will continue to be operated in businesslike manner, with the view of pleasing particular people when possible, keeping the equipment in tiptop condition and maintaining an orderly place at all times.

What is known as the Eastland County Bowling Center was established by N. D. Gallagher and C. C. Cutting, October 2, 1943. In July, 1944, R. H. Cutting bought Mr. Gallagher's interest and the Cuttings — father and son — have conducted the business since. Their strict attention to the venture made it a financial success from the start and also one of the most popular forms of recreation and entertainment in this area.

The alleys have not only been frequented by Cisco men and women, but the standardized equipment and congenial atmosphere has drawn large numbers of people here from practically all surrounding towns.

The Cuttings expect to engage in a different line of business in Cisco, announcement of which may be made at an early date.

YOUTHFUL SANTAS BUILD TOYS—Busy with sanders, saws and power tools, young New Yorkers are making Christmas toys in the neighborhood shop of the Children's Aid Society. Work benches are in great demand after school and during early evenings.

After Many Moons Texas Bounding Visitors Saw All Xmas Lights Come on Bond Failure Performance at Back to Cisco Says Mr. Adams Bowling Center

The first time since 1941, when the United States entered the war, Cisco's Christmas-time streets glowed with the multi-colored lights symbolic of Yuletide when the West Texas Utilities company threw the switch on these street decorations Monday night.

Equipment which the Cisco chamber of commerce owns was strung by the utilities company wire crews without cost to the merchants, the chamber of commerce bearing the expense of the equipment and the utilities company supplying a portion of the wire, erecting the web of light streamers and supplying the current without cost.

Two Christmas trees have also been erected on flanks of the Highway 80 overpass. These were secured by the chamber of commerce and erected by Cisco fire department boys. The trees, two Washington fir cedars contributed by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foxworth, will be lighted up with colored bulbs and should present a very beautiful appearance, in harmony with the general lighting scheme, to traffic through Cisco.

DECLINED INVITATION.

DALLAS, Dec. 4. (U.P.)—Southern Methodist University today turned down an invitation for its football team to play in the Oil Bowl at Houston on New Year's Day.

The man who runs the bond drives in Texas laid it on the line yesterday.

State Chairman Nathan Adams announced that Texas, apparently blowing cold with the cessation of war, now was in last place among the fifty-eight states in the Victory Loan Drive.

"Texas is not even half way to its Series E bond goal," said Adams. "Last place is one position that Texas has never been content to accept in anything." But even though two days are gone in the Victory Loan E Bond Week, there has been only a slight jump in sales.

Urging that Texas not be considered a fair weather warrior and slip on the last of the bond drives, Adams revealed that the state had raised only 40.8 per cent — or $36,723,305 — of the state's ninety million dollar E bond quota.

To put it bluntly Adams, who has headed all of Texas' War Loan drives, commented:

"Our state is bordering on failure — our performance to date has been nothing but sluggish."

FD'S ORDER.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — Dr. Vannevar Bush said last night the late President Roosevelt made the decision to burn out Japanese cities with new type incendiary bombs, but had nothing to do with the decision to drop atomic bombs on Nagasaki and Hiroshima.

Six men exceeded the 500 figure for three games at the bowling tournament last night, with I. J. Henson and Dr. C. E. Paul moving far out in front. The 500 toppers included the following: Henson, 599; Paul, 572; Tut Tabor, 553; R. L. Ponsler, 541; F. Urban, 505; Pete Nance, 501.

CONGRESS ON THE SPOT.

With the labor-management conference in Washington adjourned, its purpose apparently defeated, there is added significance to a letter from the American Manufacturers' association sent to President Truman, the cabinet and the press, urging congress to take steps making unions and union officers subject to the same laws and policies which apply to all Americans. This came out on the eve of the strike at General Motors.

The letter was signed by George Romney, general manager of the AMA, who said a General Motors strike would bring the industry to its knees in a short time, since this corporation was the largest single supplier of auto parts.

The letter attributed difficulties in the automobile industry to "outdated labor policies of our government, mis-uses of excessive moopolistic power by unions, the unions' false idea in organizing workers, such as that endorsing loafing and the perpetual inter-union fights for union control."

The public as well as Mr. Romney is impatient with the constant labor-management strife and not only in the automobile industry. The nation had 470,000 idle men last week. Among them were telephone operators and maintenance men of a New York hospital.

No one, informed even casually on history, disputes the vast good to humanity the unions have brought in their fight against child-labor, 12-hour working days, insufficient wages, poor working conditions and the like.

But on the same count, no one will question Mr. Romney's stand that union members should be judged by the same laws and policies as are all other Americans. Many will agree with him that right now they seem to have the edge on the rest of us as far as government is concerned.

President Truman, in an effort to solve the nation's reconversion labor crisis before the situation gets entirely out of hand, Monday urged congress to pass quickly a law to bar strikes and lockouts during what he termed a 30-day cooling off period. But, before the ink was dry on his 2,700 word message to the lawmakers, organized labor had registered objection to his proposals.

While cautioning congress against adopting "repressive or coercive" measures against either side, the president asked that body for presidential power to establish a fact-finding system patterned after the railway labor act.

He would be empowered to appoint the fact-finding boards to handle disputes in important nationwide industries after collective bargaining and federal conciliation and arbitration had failed, with both unions and corporations required to subject their books to public scrutiny.

All in all, it now seems squarely up to congress to take the bull by the horns and hurry through a law that will protect the American public against both employers and unions.

Just how bad the non-production situation will have to get before congress develops sufficient courage to act, remains to be seen. Its duty to the public is very clear to everybody except a large percentage of the national house and senate.

THE THREE MOUNTAINS.

THE mocking gods on the Olympian height
Are gay with ribald laughter as they see
The vortex of perplexity where we—
Confused mortals—struggle in our plight.
"Man once so proud of all his mind and might,"
The Pagan gods are shouting, "soon may be Less than a monkey clinging to a tree,
Lost in the chaos of eternal night."

But from the mount of Sinai comes a voice
Outsinging the Olympians' taunting mirth:
"Ye sons of men, ye have a final choice.
God's stern commandments still hold true from earth."
While from a Syrian mount, in gentler way:
"Peace through good will can bring the happier day."

CREATIVE SPARK.
Invention is declining in the United States. Between 1930 and 1943 patent applications went down about half at the Patent Office in Washington. To be very technical, the drop was 54 per cent per 100,000 of the country's

"THAT LITTLE GAME"

population. If the total number of patents applied for annually had varied a great deal in former years, this would not be so surprising, but it had not.

From 1900 to 1930 our number of patents increased each year, about like the population grew. Many people played at being inventors. Some original gadget to make living easier could be found in process of development at nearly any wayside wagon shop. Many a housewife cherished what she hoped was a secret. Boys and girls dreamed of wealth from something they might "think up."

All to the Good.
Only few of these formulas or mechanical devices ever reached the Patent Office, but the youngsters who worked with them gained valuable knowledge. And out of this wave of inventive energy came useful things. Patent applications reached an all-time high between 1925 and 1930, and (population considered) granted patents broke a 50-year record, only a few months later.

Invention is the spark of creative thought. It was during America's era of invention that the people of the United States rose up industrially and climbed to the top of the world, in wealth, in education, in health and in living standards. Inventions increase employment, boost wages and shorten working hours. Inventions create infinitely more jobs than they destroy.

Historical Sketch.
F. O. Richey of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the nation's distinguished patent attorneys, informed me recently that the history of invention divides naturally into three periods: (1) Before the 17th Century when there were no patent laws and few inventions; (2) The 17th and 18th Centuries with poor patent laws poorly administered; (3) From early in the 19th Century to 1933, and (4) since.

America's era of invention covered more than a century back of 1933, a period with Ben Franklin at one end and Thomas Edison at the other, in which Chief Justice

John Marshall stood out for fair use of the patent system. Those were the years when inventions and their scientific development were profitable to men of intellect — schools of engineering and chemistry flourished.

Spoils of Hostility.
The Latin who called Necessity the mother of Invention was wrong. Necessity makes people improvise; Invention has better parents — love of achievement and hope of reward for good ideas. The Chinese, having no such hope, invent almost nothing. In America, the Patent Office safeguarded the reward in the 19th Century. Among Europeans, the Swiss have the most freedom and lead in inventions.

In the last dozen years, however, the U. S. patent system has been the target of much verbal attack. Holders of patents have been pointed at as if they were suspected of stealing something.

Moreover the rewards that (by nature suddenly) to inventors are twisted from them by invention. What is the result? Inventors are not inventing. America's creative spark is retarded, or may her inventors be rewarded?

Hold Fast to Your Rights---

... when you are contracting to buy real estate and insist on an abstract. There are two kinds of titles, only one of which is very satisfactory. The title that only gives the owner possession rights may be sufficient if he never expects to sell or encumber, but a good record title is much better and protects against future costs and possible frauds. Insist on a good record title as revealed thru an abstract of title.
