A-Bomb Trainees Must Pass Rigorous Mental Tests

Melvin Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Proctor, who joined the army as a volunteer on January 4, is now at Fort Belvoir, Va., attached to an engineering group for special atomic bomb training. He was born in Cisco and will be 18 years of age in August.

The Cisco lad is one of 75 originally selected from large groups throughout the country, after severe mental and educational tests. Evidence of the thorough "screening" methods used to eliminate all men from this group except the most fit, was contained in a recent letter from the young man to his parents. He wrote: "There is frequently a sizable number of men in this training group one day, and then a few days later most of them are gone."

After completing an eight-week course at Fort Belvoir, Proctor will be sent elsewhere to continue his atomic studies. He graduated from Cisco high school in 1945 and was attending Cisco Junior College when he volunteered.

J. E. Proctor Jr., 21, brother of Melvin, is now enrolled at McMurry College, Abilene. He spent two years and nine months in the Pacific area and was discharged from the navy October 9.

Bowles Slated To Be Truman's No. 1 Wage-Price Boss

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (AP)—Price Chief Chester Bowles is on his way to becoming the administration's No. 1 wage-price boss, government sources said tonight.

They repeated earlier assertions that Bowles had won a complete victory within the administration in his stubborn fight to keep prices under control.

The White House, meanwhile, issued a statement denying that Bowles' prospective elevation meant that he would take over John W. Snyder's post as head of the office of war mobilization and reconversion.

54 Ex-service Men Already Enrolled at Junior College

With fifty-four ex-service men already enrolled — one of the largest enrollments of "G.I.s" in junior colleges in the state — Cisco Junior College continues to attract veterans seeking education under the liberal provisions of the "G. I. Bill of Rights," President R. N. Cluck announced Saturday.

The veterans' education program is under the direction of K. C. McCasland, himself a returned service man and a former member of Cisco high school faculty.

Courses in flying, which will be given under the auspices of the college at Cisco municipal airport, will be ready to start about the middle of the week, Mr. Cluck said. The flying courses for veterans will be taught by Joe Coulter, airport manager. It is expected to prove about the most popular single course offered by the school.

Since inaugurating its veterans' education program, the Cisco college has been going ahead full steam, meeting with a quick and growing response to its invitation to veterans seeking to complete or further their scholastic and collegiate training.

"It is idle to estimate what the final enrollment will be," said Mr. McCasland. "The boys have been back from the armed services only a comparatively short time and they are just now beginning to think in terms of the future after enjoying the relief of being at home once more. We anticipate an increasing demand for courses, both terminal and preparatory, and we are going to do everything possible to meet this demand in the home college of these boys. Many of them will take the two college years here and go on to universities to complete either formal or technical or professional studies."

Pointing out that the response which has been met with from veterans is the most evident proof of the value of the Cisco Junior college as a regional institution in Cisco, Mr. Cluck said that the enrollment of "G. I.s" is not the only increase in the student body. Registration of students other than veterans has also jumped since the beginning of the second term.

"It should come as a matter of pride and gratification to those who put their faith in Cisco Junior college when it was organized and while it was struggling through its first years, made trying by the war, that it is now demonstrating its value," he said. "It is encouraging and by no means fantastic, to anticipate an enrollment next year two or three times the present number."

GM Grants 181-2c Hikes in 4 Electrical Divisions

DETROIT, Feb. 9. (AP)—General Motors Corporation today granted 18½-cent per hour wage increases to striking CIO United Electrical Workers in its electrical divisions.

The settlement was revealed in a joint statement by the company and the union.

Plants involved were Frigidaire and Delco Products, Dayton, Ohio; Packard Electric Co., Warren, Ohio; Delco Appliance Co., Rochester, N. Y.; and Antioch Foundry, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

The employees, numbering about 25,000, have been on strike since Jan. 15. They were expected to return to their jobs as soon as local unions ratified the agreement. Union officials said the locals probably would vote on the settlement over the weekend.

President's Plan For 2,700,000 New Homes Is Popular

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—President Truman's recommendations for the greatest house-building program in history won immediate and enthusiastic bi-partisan support today on Capitol Hill.

Democrats and Republicans alike applauded the objectives of the emergency campaign which has set its sights on the construction of 2,700,000 new homes in the next two years.

Wilson S. Wyatt, the housing expediter and generalissimo of the projected campaign, said it could "move into high gear" by April 1 if congress acts promptly and votes the necessary legislation.

Only one phase of the over-all program failed to click with congressmen. That was the proposal that the 40,000,000 existing dwellings be placed under price control. Major opposition to this developed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Industry and labor sources said tonight that President Truman's delay in announcement of a steel price increase probably would prolong the steel strike at least another week.

Both sides doubted they could negotiate settlement of the 20-day-old strike without government action on steel prices.

Government sources indicated that a price decision was hardly likely before Monday.

CIO President Philip Murray, head of the steel workers, agreed also that the steel industry may have to raise steel prices to cover a wage boost.

Band - Parent Association to Elect Officers, Monday

Cisco Band-Parent association will meet Monday night at 7:30 in the band hall at Cisco high school, says Mrs. Emory Moad, temporary secretary, for the election and installation of permanent officers.

The meeting is a very important one, the secretary stated, and it is urged that the parents of all band members be present, as well as all citizens who feel an interest in the organization.

The purpose of the association is to do everything possible to aid in the work of making the Cisco high school band one of the best in the state.

The band is in need of much equipment and parents of the boys and girls comprising the band organization will welcome financial assistance from the citizenship in general.

A few small checks have already been presented to Mrs. Charles S. Sandler, who was chosen temporary chairman at a recent meeting, but a much greater volume of contributions will be necessary to attain the ends hoped for.

Let's get back of the high school band, in substantial manner. Mail your check today.

Geo. W. Reeves Former Ciscoan Buried Saturday

George W. Reeves, who died in Baylor hospital, Dallas, at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, was buried in Pleasant Hill cemetery at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Rev. G. S. Westbrook of Cisco was the officiating minister and Thomas Funeral Home was in charge of the body.

Mr. Reeves was born in Arkansas, July 3, 1869. He was formerly a section foreman for the Texas & Pacific railroad here, but left Cisco about 18 years ago. He had lived at Ardmore, Okla., in recent years.

Survivors include two sons and two daughters. J. W. Reeves of Cisco is a brother.

Steel Strike May Now Be Prolonged For Another Week

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Industry and labor sources said tonight that President Truman's delay in announcement of a steel price increase probably would prolong the steel strike at least another week.

Both sides doubted they could negotiate settlement of the 20-day-old strike without government action on steel prices.

Government sources indicated that a price decision was hardly likely before Monday.

CIO President Philip Murray, head of the steel workers, agreed also that the steel industry may have to raise steel prices to cover a wage boost.

Senate Vote Kill FEPC chance During This Session

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—The Senate today killed all chances of passing the so-called Fair Employment legislation in this session by defeating an effort to break a 24-day Southern filibuster against the measure.

A motion to limit debate on a bill to establish a permanent Fair Employment Practice Commission failed to win the necessary two-thirds majority.

The vote was 48 for debate limitation and 36 against.

Grant C. Daniels Pioneer Resident Be Buried Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Grant C. Daniels, 76, a resident of Cisco and Eastland county since childhood, died at 4:45 p. m., Friday in his home at 108 west Sixteenth street. He had been in poor health for several years.

Mr. Daniels was born in Erie, Pa., December 11, 1870, and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Daniels, located on a farm near Cisco when the boy was about 10 years of age. Grant Daniels moved into town more than 26 years ago. He was held in high esteem as a good citizen and upright man by all who knew him.

For a time he was connected with the city police department, but was forced to resign because of ill health. He was a nephew of the late George Daniels.

Immediate survivors are the wife, two sons and a daughter—Charles S. Daniels, Cisco; B. C. Daniels, Overton, Texas; Mrs. A. D. Ellington, Houston. There are also four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held at First Baptist church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with burial in Oakwood cemetery by Thomas Funeral Home. The officiating minister will be Rev. Evan Holmes, pastor of East Cisco Baptist church.

Volunteer Workers, Led by Ex-GI's Start Buses

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 9. —Flag-carrying transit strikers clashed with police Saturday as volunteer workers led by ex-GI's again broke through picket lines with trolleys and buses. One picket was arrested.

Club-wielding police guards hustled volunteers through picket lines into Conestoga Transportation Company car barns at 8:30 a. m. and a half hour later five trolleys and seven buses clanged through the main gate.

May Investigate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. — Stories reaching congressional leaders of misconduct in Germany cause increasing concern. Some now believe investigation can't be avoided. Returning officers and GI's tell of widespread practice of intimacy with German women, putting them on government payroll as interpreters, feeding them Army rations. Other stories, told too often to be ignored, concern speculation in currencies, petty but considerable looting. When stories first started coming in, some congressmen hoped situation was temporary.

Dirt was broken for the foundation of the new seven-story Cisco hotel this morning (June 29) when J. F. Brown, construction superintendent, put a force of men excavating for the test holes of the foundation upon which this splendid hostelry will be constructed, and the initial work was commenced that will eventuate in Cisco having a modern hotel, the equal of any hotel west of Fort Worth.

Fourteen of the 37 school precincts within the 15 mile radius of Cisco have been canvassed by the enumerators who took the dairy cow census last Friday, and though some of the owners may have been overlooked, these enumerators succeeded in locating 3,661 head of milk stock, according to J. E. Spencer, chairman of the dairy committee, having this work in hand.

Cooperating with the chamber of commerce the West Texas Utilities Co. has agreed to operate an ice truck along the cream route out of Cisco to supply the patrons with ice to take care of their cream and keep it sweet. The ice truck will make two or three trips each week and be used as an auxiliary truck in the city at other times, said P. P. Sheppard, Cisco manager of the West Texas Utilities Co.

Robert Williams, 10, twice admitted to the Methodist orphanage at Waco within less than a week, was back in Cisco again Tuesday, after his second runaway from the institution. But this time the boy brought two companions with him, two Burney boys, aged 10 and 12, of Center Point, Texas. Police Chief White took the two Burney boys back to Waco Tuesday, but Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, grandparents of the boy, decided not to send him back, and he will remain in Cisco, which he says is a much better town to live in than Waco.
