Lehman Asks Return Food Rationing to Save Lives

W. J. Johnson, 53 Fell Dead While on Way to Doctor

WHAT'S ENOUGH?

What will John Q. Public pay for what he wants? He will pay every cent he thinks it is worth to him. Ultimately he will be willing to pay more, if he finds out the item is worth more than he first thought. On the other hand he will kick at the price and refuse to pay it as soon as he finds out the thing is worth less to him than the money he paid for it.

These statements are so plain and simple that any schoolboy is able to understand them. You would hardly think anybody could get these facts mixed-up, but they are often used wrongly. Under them is hid the 1946 labor-management problem which is the most serious and the most dangerous one that has ever confronted this nation. What lies behind all the headlines telling about strikes?

Can't Get Together.

In extreme brevity, union laborers are asking their employers for more pay — more wages than the employers (for some reason) are willing to lay out. Why not pay willing men whatever they ask? All trades, especially farmers, want laborers to draw high wages because that's the key to good times. Farmers, whose fields feed the workers, have good markets and prosperity when labor prospers.

The answer is not hard: The workers' wages, just like the owners' profits, come out of what John Q. Public will pay for what he wants. If the price is too steep for John, then there's no sale and no profits and presently no wages. If the price is within reasonable range of John's pocketbook, he buys. That makes profits and wages, better jobs and more of them, and prosperity.

High Wages Popular.

There is such a thing as oppression; I have seen it in China. There is such a thing as exploitation of labor — ignorant labor. But it's foolhardy to mistreat workers in a modern American factory. If an employer should try holding wages down to fatten his own bank account, his customers would all favor high pay for his workers because (in such a case) it could be done without boosting prices.

In most cases, when wages advance prices have to advance to cover the expense. There is no other way to raise wages except by boosting prices unless the prices already in force are fictitious, unfair figures, which competition seldom permits. Customers object to wage increases only when they call for price increases to cover them. Even then, Mr. Public is not always right.

Who Can Say When?

Many a wage increase is appropriate and economically sound even when prices have to be raised immediately to cover them. Lifting prices to pay better wages is good business, up to a point. But what point? Up to the point that John Q. Public gets slow about buying. So long as a volume can stay large, the price is sound. When volume drops off and prices have to be boosted to pay for the blunder, that's unsound.

There are experts in every business who can estimate with remarkable accuracy how many of this-or-that will sell for some stipulated price. They know long before the first one is made. This year, when steady jobs at good pay are so vital to everybody, prices should be set in advance to get volume sales. Labor, as well as industry, should be interested in the right prices.

By United Press.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Mar. 19. — Retiring Director Herbert H. Lehman of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration urged today that wartime rationing of food be reestablished in the United States to permit a more equitable distribution of food throughout the world.

"There will be barely half enough food to go around next year," Lehman said. "Many millions will go hungry — many will starve."

Special Service Marked Start of New G. I. Home

In the presence of members of the board of directors and many of the stockholders, President H. H. Tompkins of Cisco Homes, Inc., Monday turned the first shovel of dirt symbolizing beginning of construction on the first Cisco home to be built by the newly organized corporation.

The ceremony took place on the site for the house at K avenue and Twelfth street, one block east of the grammar school, at 4:15 p. m. Mr. Tompkins turned the first earth after the Lobo band had played a few numbers under the direction of Bandmaster Fred Baumgardner, and Rev. W. H. Cole had spoken briefly, asserting that the building of homes was the laying of practical foundations for good citizenship and good business.

The minister expressed the thought that Cisco owed a debt to its ex-service men in providing homes for them and their families and that in the organization of Cisco Homes, Inc., it had taken the first step, under the leadership of the chamber of commerce, to discharge this obligation.

He also said that statistics revealed that for every group of 11 new homes built, a new business enterprise — employing at least three people — was added to a community, a fact which showed the close relationship of business development with home building.

While the ceremony proceeded, a truck was unloading tile from the first of four cars purchased by the corporation. A large sign, painted by Harry Schaefer, stood on the site announcing that a home for an ex-service man and his family would be erected on the spot.

The house to be erected on the two lots purchased by the company will be a modern, five-room frame. Under terms of the priority required for material used in the construction it will be offered for sale to ex-service men for a period of thirty days after completion. If there is no ex-service man taker, it will be offered for sale to anyone, ex-G. I. or not.

The lots had been graded for the construction by the city street department, whose large new maintainer stood on the site during the ceremony. The shovel used by Mr. Tompkins was furnished the city and painted a bright aluminum color especially for the event.

Actual work of digging the foundations for the start of construction was due to get under way today or tomorrow — or just as quickly as the specifications for the building arrive.

ers should be employed for professional schools if they should be separated from the main Negro university at Prairie View.

The governor likewise declined to speculate upon the unfulfilled provision for establishing at Austin of a Negro branch of the University of Texas. The authorization was made about fifty years ago, but never put into effect by the legislature.

Principal W. R. Banks of Prairie View, who will retire this year after twenty years as head of the Negro college, is expected to present to the board of control a twenty-five-year expansion program drawn two years ago. It would cost $4,000,000, according to estimates prepared then, and provide facilities for 2,500 to 3,000 students, approximately double the present enrollment.

The attorney general said one application constitutes a demand, within the meaning of a law passed last year for directors of A. & M. College to establish at Prairie View any course which is available to white students at the University of Texas.

The governor expressed an opinion that a reasonable time to comply with a demand for law or other professional training would be the first meeting of the legislature after application is made. The Texas legislature meets again next January. Stevenson asserted the Swatt case does not come within the heading of an extraordinary occasion which would require a special session.

Governor Stevenson said one well-rounded lawyer could start a law school at Prairie View. The governor said he is ready to authorize payment of an instructor's salary from the $200,000 deficiency appropriation allowed his office — if there is a good faith application.

Stevenson said he understands there are a number of Negro lawyers in Texas, among them some with good professional standing. But he declined to say whether he thought Negro or white teachers should be employed for professional schools if they should be separated from the main Negro university at Prairie View.

Many Cisco friends were sorry to hear of the death of Joe Hanrahan, former Ciscoan, who died at his home in Ft. Worth Sunday, Mr. Hanrahan, 53, was an employee of the Humble company for 33 years before he retired in 1943. He married a Cisco girl, the former Miss Lucille Rowney and they made their home here for many years. Survivors include the wife and three daughters — Joleen, Frances and Janet — all born in Cisco. Funeral and burial were in Fort Worth today.

Humble company employes present at the funeral included W. F. Guinn, W. C. McDaniel, W. C. Hogue, J. R. Deen, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Rosenthal, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McGowan, Cisco, and D. E. Franklin, Wichita Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keough of Cisco were also present, as well as many Humble employes from the east Texas division and the Houston office.

Mrs. W. P. Lee Laid to Rest in Oakwood Monday

In an atmosphere of soft organ music and flowers, in the sanctuary of First Presbyterian church, last rites were said Monday at 3 p. m. for Mrs. W. P. Lee, revered member of that church, who died Saturday evening at 9:35.

The sermon by Rev. M. H. Applewhite of Corpus Christi, former pastor, consisted of the reading of passages of Scripture she had loved, and only briefly did the minister refer to the life and character of the woman who needed no eulogy. There were no songs — only the music, the flowers and the reading of the Bible.

And afterward, through the hushed congregation, the pallbearers moved with the casket, followed by members of the family, to the cemetery.

Mrs. Lee's death came after two years of illness which began with a stroke whose effect had kept her confined to her home for practically all of that time. The fatal attack occurred Saturday morning.

Death ended for Mrs. Lee and her husband, beloved Cisco physician, a marriage which began in Breckenridge, Dec. 17, 1890, where Dr. Lee had gone as a young physician and his bride had moved with her mother, the widow of a Missouri physician, in 1881. She was born Mary Florence Ewing in Vernon county, Mo., December 17, 1870. Her father died when she was two and a half years of age and her mother brought her to Coryell county, Texas, in 1876, moving to Breckenridge in 1881.

Dr. William P. Lee, a native of Georgia, had selected Breckenridge for his practice shortly after finishing his medical course. After his marriage he and his bride moved to Cisco in 1894, settling in a home upon the lot where the Lee residence now stands. Later this house was moved to an adjoining lot and the present house was erected, so that for all the fifty years of their living in Cisco the family has been upon the same site.

Five children were born to Dr. and Mrs. Lee. Of the five, John (Jack) Lee, the eldest, died at El Paso of pneumonia in March, 1917. The surviving four are Miss Theresa Lee, San Antonio; Fielding Lee, Colorado City; Sarah Lee, Baton Rouge, La.; and Dudley Lee, Cisco. There are three grandchildren — Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Aycock, F. E. Lee Jr., and Mrs. Janet Hamrick, all of Colorado City — and five great grandchildren.

Mrs. Lee was a life long Presbyterian. A grandfather was a minister in that denomination. Active pallbearers at the services Monday were Joe Clemons, E. P. Crawford, Kent Word, William Reagan, Homer Bible, W. F. Watson and Ernest Hittson.

Only a short while before he was to conduct funeral services for Mrs. Lee, Rev. Mr. Applewhite, who had driven all night from Corpus Christi to be here for the services, was informed of the sudden death of a younger brother in San Antonio. The minister officiated at the services here and left immediately for San Antonio.

This training prepared him for entrance into a specialized course where ground crew students receive instruction in maintenance and trouble shooting on particular types of planes.

Former Eastland Countian Dies at La Platte, Texas

Dr. A. B. Leech, 65, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chris Vievkaia, La Platte, Tex., March 11, after ten days illness. The body was taken to San Benito for burial beside her husband, Dr. A. B. Leech, well known Eastland and Stephens county physician, who practiced at Atwell, Sabanno and Moran before going to the Rio Grande Valley.

Mrs. Leech was a most estimable woman and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Vievkaia, La Platte; one son, Ralph Leech, Sweeney, Tex., and three sisters and four brothers — Mrs. J. R. Snoddy, Cisco; Mrs. R. L. Gattis, Scranton; Mrs. Earl Shell, Dallas; C. C. Bradshaw, Mercer; J. C. Bradshaw, Denton; R. R. Bradshaw, Eastland; E. N. Bradshaw, Chicago.

AUSTIN, Mar. 19. — Unemployed veterans receiving servicemen's readjustment allowances will get their checks every two weeks instead of once a week after March 25.

THROUGH TRAINS.

Non-change passenger trains are at last to operate from New York to the west coast. The New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads will run them to Chicago on alternate days. At Chicago the traffic will be pro-rated among the various roads that go to the Pacific. Thus a change which has lately been pushed by the Nickel Plate and the Chesapeake & Ohio will go through.

It is odd that our railroads, usually so progressive, have not done this before. For many years both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National have been running through trains all the way across Canada. And the Russians, whom people formerly regarded as lagging behind in technical developments, have for a long time been carrying passengers on the Trans-Siberian railroad the entire 5,500 miles from Moscow to the Pacific.

Maybe neither Russia nor Canada had a strongly entrenched and determined bus and taxi service in a city governed like Chicago somewhere along the way.

WHY REBUILD BERLIN?

Why try to rebuild Berlin and Cologne on their present, no industry to support the population. Why not start afresh somewhere else?

The answer is given by Anne O'Hare McCormick in the New York Times. The surface, engineers tell her, is only part of the city. Underneath the ruins lie water pipes, gas mains, sewers, subways, perhaps damaged somewhat, but far easier to repair than to build new ones elsewhere.

Also there was a reason why these cities were originally built where they were. Cologne commands the Rhine, and Berlin is at a junction of highways in North-eastern Germany. No other location in the neighborhood would be nearly so good.

Finally even these battered ruins are home. German families move far less than American. Many have kept shop in the same building for generations. So even if it is a travesty on home, the weary and disheartened people will usually stay where they are, hoping ultimately to restore some degree of liveness.

Anticipating the Need for Future Things... and doing the necessary to get them is not only wise but good business in these modern, busy times. Acting under this impulse we register for new cars or an extra tire far in advance of the time we expect to get them. Since abstracting is slow, tedious work and requiring more time than the average person realizes, may we suggest that our customers file their orders in advance of their needs, with our appreciation and thanks.

DINNER IN HONOR OF R. M. BATES. The family of R. M. Bates of the Bates Hotel gathered at his home Sunday to celebrate his 78th birthday. The dinner was brought in by the children and grandchildren and was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Bates was struck by an automobile several months ago and received serious injuries, including a broken hip bone. He has now recovered sufficiently to get about the streets with the aid of a crutch. Those present at the dinner in his honor included Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Elder and children, Mr. and 140

Kate Richardson and the hostess, Mrs. Anderson. SURPRISE DINNER FOR MRS. A. E. HARRELSON. Mrs. A. E. Harrelson was a surprised honoree Sunday when she returned to her home for dinner following church attendance. She had invited her son and family with whom she went to church to remain for lunch and did not expect other guests. But to her great surprise, all her children except one son in Arizona, were awaiting her arrival. The sumptuous dinner, brought in by the children, was then enjoyed by a lovely birthday cake, brought by her grandson's wife, Mrs. Fern Barnett Brown, was cut and passed with the dessert. The afternoon was spent in pleasant reminiscence and conversation. Those enjoying the day together were Mrs. A. E. Harrelson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Harrelson and children, Betty Lou and William and two grandchildren Norman and Tommy Barton, Rising Star; Mrs. Don Miller and daughter Dona, Cisco; Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Harrelson and sons - Philip and Rodney Allen, Nimrod; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Harrelson, and children, Mac and Sue Harrelson; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Harrelson and daughters Doris Jean, Melba Ray and Lavonne Harrelson; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Westerman and children, Cleo, Benny, Betty Ann, Wilbert and Jamie; Pete Burnett, Mrs. Fern Brown and George Brown Sr. 140

CONE-NELMS WEDDING HELD FRIDAY NIGHT. Miss Ellajoe Cone, daughter of Mrs. R. A. Cone, became the bride of Lillard J. Nelms, son of Mrs. L. R. Nelms of Cisco, in a ceremony held Friday evening, March 15, at the local Pentecostal church with Rev. Fronia Blackwell officiating. The bride wore a becoming light blue wool suit with patent accessories with hat of flowers and matching veil. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, who served as best man and matron-of-honor. Mrs. Smith wore an aqua color dress and black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Nelms attended Cisco high school and Mrs. Nelms has been employed by Cisco Lumber and Supply company. Mr. Nelms recently received his discharge from the army after spending 11 months overseas. He is now employed by Lone Star Gas company. The young couple will reside at 500 West Second street, Cisco. 140

WHERE IS YOUR NEW HOME NOW? Right now the home you want to build is in the tree, the iron ore pits, the clay banks and the quarry. Legislation, IHH priorities, allocations, preference ratings, will not build a home. Neither will such legal juggling of a meagre supply of materials produce building materials. An IHH priority may mean little more than a license to hunt home-building materials. Lumber and building material dealers and contractors can build all the homes America needs—if building materials are available. But unless production of materials is unblocked, no one can build homes. Whether a house is labeled "Public Housing" or "Prefabricated Housing" or a "Privately Built Home"—all are bidding for the same supply of materials. Here are the materials that must be produced. These are the materials in short supply which are subject to distribution controls through priorities: Lumber Common Brick Concrete Block Millwork Clay Sewer Pipe Face Brick Structural Clay Tile Gypsum Board Cast Iron Soil Pipe Gypsum Lath Cast Iron Radiation Bath Tubs 140

What has happened that all these essential building materials are lacking? Have we exhausted raw material supply? Or plant production? NO! But the irresistible force of industry has run into an immovable body! In the case of Brick and Tile, for example, it took the OPA six months to grant a price adjustment that allowed 125 of 400 closed plants to reopen. This action resulted in a 35% increase in production within the following three months. Similarly, OPA's unrealistic pricing policies blocked adequate production of Gypsum board and lath, cast iron soil pipe, and clay sewer pipe for months. Although price adjustments have been granted in the above-mentioned fields, lumber production still remains under wartime pricing formulas. It is still more profitable for the lumber mill to cut items for export to foreign countries, or to cut logs into sizes used by industry than it is to manufacture lumber for home construction. Premium prices for industrial items have been granted in some instances during the war, but now that peace has come, price adjustments encouraging home construction lumber have not been made by OPA. Price adjustments are needed to obtain maximum production of hardwood flooring, millwork, ceiling, siding, and plywood. Recommendations have been made to the OPA repeatedly, but action is not forthcoming. The Building Industry stands ready to build the homes Americans need. But until the production and flow of materials is unblocked by OPA, thousands upon thousands of homes for Americans and veterans will go unbuild! Any government program that does not FIRST remove the obstacle blocking production of materials will simply add additional difficulties to the problem facing the building industry. 140

How Long Will SOAP SHORTAGES LAST?

ON THE GLOOMY SIDE
There are not nearly enough fats in the country to make all the soaps, soap powders, and soap flakes you want. So short is the supply, the government must decide how much fat can be released to make soap and other peacetime goods.

Besides, the supplies of soaps many of you housewives have had in reserve are running low — and the demand for soaps is increasing.

ON THE BRIGHT SIDE
Most of you housewives have continued to turn in fats. You've helped keep our industrial fat supply large enough to meet minimum needs.

But it's a close race. Any letdown on your part can mean less soap for everybody.

By turning in used fats you're helping to bring back bigger supplies of scarce soaps. Keep on the job, get 4¢ for every pound.

Where there's fat—there's soap

Out for the count - 9...9...7

When you drain dirty, diluted oil and refill with Humble's Balanced 997, "Old Sludge" is out for the count.

But to keep him down and out, you've got to drain, flush and refill at frequent, regular intervals. This is important to old car owners as well as new—even more so, because sludge forms faster in old cars than in new.

Stop at the nearest Humble sign, drain sludge-laden, diluted, dangerous oil and refill with
